Cowboys host Meadow Friday in season opener

Plains Talk

By Wendell Faught

Wow! Any thoughts we might have had nobody reads this column were dispelled before the ink dried on last week's edition. We were informed at least a dozen times before noon Friday that the history of Plains and Yoakum County is indelibly written in the minds of hundreds of our citizens and that even a book on this great subject had been published only two years ago.

We were not aware that such a book existed. But thanks to the pride of a number of our residents we have now been exposed to its contents several times. And in the event there is anyone who has been planning to loan us his or her copy there is no need as Mrs. R. B. Jones, the author, has made us a present of a slick, new copy.

The book answers quite a few of the questions we asked last week and also provides answers to many more just as interesting. We are now convinced that quite a number of people have read the book. But due to the fact that quite a number of people have moved here since 1957, coupled with our belief that old-timers will not mind the repeat performance, we will publish a number of the facts revealed by the book in the weeks to come.

You'll probably live a long time before you see as many cars in town again as were here Monday. With the opening of school and the opening of court, parking places were at a premium most of the day.

We hope you appreciate the picture of the county's first bale of cotton. It was obtained under the most difficult of circumstances. The grower, T. A. Elmore, was on jury duty this week and it was hard to get hold of him for a picture and also for presentation of the cash premium. We finally made contact with him during the noon recess Tuesday. Roger Curry, treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, and Leo White, treasurer of the Lions Club, both just happened to be available.

We don't believe Plains footballers will want for fan support this fall. A number of schools would have been proud of a crowd for their top game like the Cowboys had for their scrimmage session with Seminole Friday afternoon.

The Plains bowling team which made its debut in league competition in Denver City Monday night did quite well, we hear. The locals were third best of eight teams in the initial round. Rod Duff had the highest score and brother Buford registered the best average. We're looking forward to reporting the feats of Roger, Johnnie and Archie.

Have you turned in your idea for a slogan to the Chamber of Commerce? You have until next Friday to get it in.

Seems that Plains isn't the only town bothered by a "spread out" business area. Our recent editorial on that subject became the subject of editorials in two other newspapers we know of. One close by and another several hundred miles away. One quoted us verbatim while the other used several paragraphs of our article.

Jimmy Warren is awarded scholarship to university by Austin radio station

Jimmy Warren was very pleasantly surprised on his birthday (August 21) by a telephone call informing him that he had been awarded a scholarship to University of Texas by Station KAZZ, Austin.

Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Warren, was president of the Student Council and vice-president of the senior class last year. This versatile young man has traveled in most of the Un-

Homecoming is set for Sept. 18

Homecoming for ex-students of the Plains school has been set for Friday, September 18, it was announced Tuesday evening following a meeting of the ex-students association.

Coaches heartily endorsed the selected date, pointed out it was the date of the Plains-Morton football game. The game is to be played in the new Cowboy stadium, beginning at 8 p.m.

Temperature hits 106 here Sunday

If you burned up over the weekend you had good reason for the temperature in the Plains area hit its season's peak. The thermometer rose to a sweltering 106 here Sunday afternoon, besting by one degree the summer's previous high of 105 recorded on June 11.

Sunday's record temperature followed on the heels of a 98-degree scorcher of Saturday, a reading which brought about a great deal of discomfort since the area had been "blessed" with temperatures in the high 80s and low 90s for several days.

It cooled off Monday and got only 95 degrees here but the mercury took another climb of four degrees to 99 on Tuesday. The usual weekly rain made its appearance Friday afternoon. John Hague, local weather observer, reported .01 of an inch of moisture was received.

Reopening of flower shop is announced

Mollie Courtney announced Wednesday she was reopening her flower business, to be known as Mollie's Flowerland. The business is to be located next door west of Tumbleweed Drive In, in the same building occupied by T. C. Hightower, contractor.

Mrs. Courtney operated the flower shop before but closed it a few months ago. She says she will carry a complete line of all types o flowers.

Master Tommy Guy Box spent last week at Welch in the home of his uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Hughes and family.

The special day for ex-students will begin with a pep rally at 3 p.m. Dinner is to be served from 5 to 6:30 p.m., followed by a business meeting.

Tuesday is final day for ASC committee vote

Tuesday is the final date for farmers, ranchers and their wives to cast their ballots in the election of the 1960 ASC County Committee members. W. M. Overton, ASC County Office Manager announced this week.

Ballots have been mailed to all farmers, ranchers and their wives and the ballots may easily be voted by return mail if

Council purchases half acre land

The City Council Tuesday purchased a half acre land from Roy Fritzgerald across the highway from the Shell station on highway 214. Purchase price was $500.

The property will be used for the gas regulator station.

Councilmen also announced that bids would be accepted on the gas project. Voters approved a $90,000 bond issue in July for improvements in the local gas system. Contracts are to be let after the opening of bids on September 24.

Construction of the new gas line is expected to begin about the first of October and the project should be completed within two to four weeks after that time.

Davies purchases funeral business

Purchase of Davis Funeral Home in Plains was announced Wednesday by G. Kenneth Davies, manager of the firm for the past several weeks.

Davies bought the business from Charles Davis of Seminole who had owned the firm since July.

The new businessman came to Plains the first of August from Hurst, Texas. He is a graduate of Worsham Embalming School in Chicago. A licensed funeral director and embalmer, Davies attended the University of Texas, Trinity University and the Southwest Theological Seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies have recently purchased a new home in northwest Plains.

during the business meeting and old and new business discussed. Members of the 1959 and 1940 football teams will be recognized. The class with the largest instructions sent with ballots are followed. Voters may also vote in person at the local ASC Office before or on September 8th. Eligible voters who did not receive ballots or have misplaced them may notify the ASC Office by telephone or by mail and new ballots will be sent them.

This election is of vital importance to Yoakum County agriculture and is the responsibility of every eligible voter to help select the committee that will be in charge of the administration of the Yoakum County Agriculture Stabilization and conservation programs.

Farmers, ranchers, their wives, landlords and tenants have voted in appreciable numbers in past years and the local ASC office is expecting them to use their voting privilege by marking their ballots and returning them by mail or in person. Each voter may vote for five persons by selecting five of the names appearing on the ballot or they may write in their choice.

The following names were

C-C needs more slogan entries

Next Friday, September 10, is the deadline for entries in the Chamber of Commerce slogan contest. Persons wishing to compete in the contest and become eligible for the $10 cash prize being offered must have their suggestions on the way by that time.

A number of persons have already offered suggestions for the slogan, but Chamber officials have been somewhat disappointed at the lack of response. Anybody is eligible for the contest and may submit as many entries as he wishes.

Persons may pick up entry blanks at the Chamber of Commerce office or from any of the following business firms: Plains State Bank, Plains Beauty Bar, Brown's Conoco Station, Moore and Oden Dry Goods, Curry Durg and Variety, Hawkins Food Market or Plains Frozen Food. It is not necessary, however, for entries to be submitted on entry blanks.

Another big grid year is expected for Plains

"Next year" arrives Friday. Coaches Jack Pierce and Rip Sewell send their practice-hardened footballers against the Meadow Broncos in the curtain-raiser of the 1959 grid season. Site is the new and beautiful Plains Cowboy stadium and kickoff time is 8 p.m.

All Plainsland has eagerly awaited the new football campaign since that bleak Dec. 6 evening of 1958 when the local gladiators were trounced by eventual state champion White Deer in the quarterfinals of the Class A playoffs.

From that time to this very day, the battle cry of the faithful Cowboy followers has been "Wait til next year."

Never in the glorious history of football here have expectations been so great. District 5-A coaches and the area's metropolitan press, as well as the fans, have pointed the finger at the Plains eleven.

Coaches are a little more reluctant to join their own bandwagon. They point to lack of size, thinness of the squad, graduation of several key members and an improved schedule.

Seven starters from the 1958 powerhouse are back. One of the brightest of the lot, however, is halfback Don Williams, whose twisted knee will probably keep him sidelined for half the season. Williams' injury, sustained on the first day of practice, was a terrific blow. He was the team's fastest runner and was second leading ground gainer last season.

Tackle Doug Todd, slated to be one of the bulwarks in the line, is also on the injured list. He injured a shoulder in early drills and is not expected to see any more than limited action Friday. Joe Bob Oats, one of the team's two quarterbacks, sprained an ankle Monday and will probably miss the opener because of it.

Junior Mike Sink who lettered last year as a guard is heir-apparent to the signal-calling chores. He will be spelled by Oats, a senior who was ineligible last season. Both have been impressive in pre-season drills.

Eldridge Tidwell, a junior letterman will probably replace the injured Williams at halfback in the starting lineup. The other halfback will be Ray Faught, 168-pound junior with good speed who was one of the leading scorers last year as a sophomore.

The fullback position will be in the capable hands of Joe Don Marrow, one of the most widely-acclaimed schoolboy stars in the area. Marrow, a junior, averaged more than six yards per try on 190 carries in 1958.

Graduation left two big gaps in the line. Bill Lattimore, a guard, and Don Cooke, a tackle, have completed their eligibility and Jerry Holbert, a defensive regular, has moved away.

But all line starters will be lettermen. Walt Coffman and Jack Meixner are ticketed to get the starting nod as ends. Tackle starters Friday will be the Donald Todd and Darrell Barron. Harmon Meixner, regular end in 1958, and Dick Cooke will start at guards while Vernon Etheridge will be the starting center.

No decision made on new librarian by commissioners

County Commissioners Monday withheld a vote on the appointment of a librarian after two members of the court indicated they were not ready to vote in favor of Mrs. Bill Harwell.

Commissioners Gene Payne and Paul Loe told other commissioners and the county judge they could not vote in favor of Mrs. Harwell at this time. Both said they were not acquainted with the Denver City woman but would like to find out more about her qualifications before endorsing her for the position.

Mrs. Harwell was appointed first assistant librarian about six weeks ago following the resignation of Mrs. Bert Bartlett from the position. At that time, Mrs. Harwell was not qualified to become librarian as she did not have her certificate. She has now received her certificate. She is an applicant for the position as is Mrs. Bartlett.

Boosters to meet on Monday evening

Members of the Plains Boosters club will hold their second meeting of the season at the Legion Hall Monday evening.

Films of the Meadow game will be shown and the upcoming game will be discussed by coaches.

Meadow returns six starters from good 1958 club

Six starters from the 1958 team which tied Whitharral for the District 3-B title return to Meadow this fall. And the Broncos are big. Their line averages 160 pounds and the backfield averages out at 168½, rather hefty for a Class B school.

The nucleus of another good club is present, but Coach Jerry McWilliams, who replaced Eddie Thompson as the gridiron boss, figures the team lacks the experience and depth to be as strong as last year when the Broncos lost only to Plains and were tied by Whitharral.

McWilliams has made several position changes designed to strengthen the backfield. James Bartlett, the regular center last year, has moved his 179 pounds to fullback and Joe Horton has stepped in at the signal calling position. Horton (150) was a starting end last year.

Horton will be the No. 1 quarterback with end John Howard (147) ready to relieve him.

McWilliams expects halfback Don Warren, a returning regular who tips the scales at 180 pounds, and Bartlett to be his best runners. Geoff Huke, a 140-pound senior letterman, probably will start at the other halfback post when the Broncos take the field against Plains.

Holdover regulars in the line are tackle R. L. Spain (165) and guards Robert Hinson (150) and Darl Walker (170). Keith Tyler (160) ranks as the top center. Gene Finley (160) probably will join Spain at a starting guard position. However, McWilliams expects John Blake, a 205-pound freshman, to see a lot of action at tackle.

Plumbing shop opens in Plains

Opening of a new plumbing shop in Plains was announced this week by Earl Brumley and Dave Warren, partners in the new business.

The plumbing shop is located in the W. J. Hale building, next door to the Chamber of Commerce office. The firm is now open for business.

Brumley has lived in Plains for some time and is former owner of a restaurant here. Warren comes here from Perryton where he has been engaged in the plumbing business for some time.

T. A. Elmore has first cotton bale

Yoakum County's first bale of cotton from the 1959 crop was produced Monday by T. A. Elmore. The cotton was produced from the Lee Brownfield farm, 18 miles northeast of Plains.

The cotton was ginned by the CG&S Gin. W. O. Spencer, manager of the gin, ginned the bale free and also paid Elmore with a seed check. In addition, the gin presented him with $50 for being the owner of the first bale ginned.

Elmore received another $100 from the Plains Lions Club and the Plains Chamber of Commerce. Each organization contributed $50 toward the premium.

The bale of cotton came out of the gin at 1:05 p.m. Monday and weighed 600 pounds. Elmore said it was Lankard 57 variety and was planted on the 27th or 28th of April. It came from a 78-acre field from which he expects to harvest six or seven bales during the first pulling. It was dry land cotton.

The first bale of cotton this year came a little later than usual.

Ledbetter takes oath as new district court judge

Atty. M. C. Ledbetter, of Morton, was sworn in as District Judge of the newly created 121st Judicial District at ceremonies held in Levelland Monday night.

Members of bar associations and groups from Yoakum, Hockley, Terry and Cochran counties attended. Also attending were a number of legislative officials.

The new judicial district was created by the recent session of the Legislature, carving two counties from the 72nd District and two counties from the 106th district, in which Yoakum County was formerly located.

A brief address relating some of the humor which can be found in courtrooms was given by Judge Joe Greenhill, Austin, an associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Morgan Copeland, Brownfield, will be district attorney of the new judicial district. He will be filling the same position in this district that he formerly held in the 106th Judicial District of which Terry County was a part.

Hunters welcome dove season start

Local hunters welcomed the opening of dove season at noon Tuesday and looked forward to a fruitful season. Doves are rather plentiful in most sectors. Hunters were warned of the following violations which are most often committed:

1. Shooting before 12 noon or after sunset.
2. Exceeding the bag limit which is 10 a day.
3. Shooting from a road or from a moving vehicle.
4. Shooting at doves on electric power lines.
5. Hunting on private property without owner's permission.
6. Shooting quail instead of doves.

Hunting laws are set out by the Texas Game and Fish Commission. They are basic and are for the protection of everyone.

Yoakum County residents hunting outside the county must have licenses. No license is required for those hunting in the county in which they reside. And persons over 65 years of age need no license.

... and every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labour; for we are labourers together with God." Those lines from Corinthians, might well be the inspiration for the holiday America observes... a special day set aside to pay respect to those who labor to make our nation great and, consequently, keep it free. This is

Labor Day... when each man and woman whose work helps keep the bulwark of Democracy strong, receives "his own reward" in the satisfaction of a job well done.

It is not just another day for looking back on past accomplishment — this Labor Day. In a strange new scientific world which taxes comprehension, it is a time for looking ahead... for rededicating ourselves. We must need those Corinthian lines which asks us all to be "labourers together with God."

Damage suit verdict may be reached Friday Wedding shower honors Barrons

Final arguments and Judge Truett Smith's charge to the jury were expected to culminate Yoakum County's largest civil suit in history on Thursday afternoon.

A verdict in the suit, brought by Violet O'Keefe in her own behalf and in behalf of her five minor children, against a Dallas businessman and a company bearing his name, may be reached by a jury of nine men and three women on Friday.

The defense rested its case at 11:53 a.m., Thursday. Judge Truett Smith planned to recall the jurors at 3 p.m. to begin delivering his charge, to be followed by closing arguments by opposing attorneys.

Testimony in the trial against Higginbotham Brothers Co. and John L. Higginbotham was continuing Thursday morning with an expert witness for the defense on the stand.

The $231,000 damage suit against Higginbotham opened Monday afternoon with selection of the jury. Testimony from a host of plaintiff witnesses consumed all of Tuesday and half of Wednesday's court session.

Defendant's attorneys called their first witness to the stand at 2:10 p.m., Wednesday, after one of the original co-defendants in the suit had been removed from liability because only circumstantial evidence could be found against the company.

James Melton, Norman, Oklahoma, resumed the stand on Thursday morning for further examination after he had presented "expert" testimony involving an automobile accident on January 29, 1959, in which the husband of the plaintiff was fatally injured.

Melton is an associate profesor of theoretical and applied mechanics at University of Oklahoma. He holds a master's degree in engineering from OU and is also a research engineer for the University of Oklahoma research bureau.

The professor says that allegations contained in Mrs. O'Keefe's complaint about circumstances of the crash are incorrect on the basis of his reconstruction of the accident.

Melton gives his testimony concerning the accident on the basis of photographs which have been entered into testimony showing the three vehicles involved in the collision. In his observations of the vehicles on the photographs, Melton formulates mathematical conclusions which he claims show that the accident "couldn't have happened" in the way it has been claimed.

Mrs. O'Keefe claims in her complaint that a Buick being driven by Higginbotham struck her husband's Ford from the rear and forced the Ford into the path of an oncoming pickup truck driven by Travis Brewer, Jal, N. M.

Earlier testimony on Tuesday and Wednesday reported that Higginbotham was drunk at the time of the accident and that his car had struck the rear of the O'Keefe vehicle as the woman claims in her complaint.

When testimony began on Tuesday, the plaintiff's attorneys called the defendant to the stand as an adverse witness. Higginbotham denied all of Mrs. O'Keefe's allegations about the accident, and although he testified that he had had two drinks during the hours preceding the fatal crash he denied that he was under the influence of alcohol.

Higginbotham said that his vehicle did not strike the O'Keefe Ford, but that the Ford after the collision with the pickup truck flew around and struck the Higginbotham car.

The defendant said that the deceased man had been leaning over his steering wheel and "appeared to be looking in the glove compartment" when the O'Keefe machine began to drift to the wrong side of the highway. Higginbotham said his car was a good distance behind the O'Keefe vehicle when this occurred.

Second witness on the stand on Tuesday was Highway Patrolman Jack Sims, Brownfield, who testified that Higginbotham appeared to be drunk when he was questioned during the investigation of the accident.

Sims also said there had been two impacts, the first on the west side of the road between a Buick and a Ford and the second on the east side between the Ford and the red pickup.

The highway patrolman said Higginbotham talked with a "thick" tongue and his speech was "blurry." Attorney Paul New then asked the officer, "Based on how he (Higginbotham) walked and his motions, breath, talked in your opinion was he drunk or sober?" Sims answered, "Drunk."

Later on Tuesday a Brownfield patrolman, Doyle Williamson, who was riding with Sims on the investigation, corroborated Sims' testimony as to the condition of the defendant.

Only other witness during the Tuesday session was Odus Kelley, Jal, N. M., a passenger in the pickup driven by Brewer. Kelley testified that he remembers very little about the accident.

Denver City Chief of Police Woody Sullivan and Officer A. J. Fowler were among witnesses on Wednesday, and they also corroborated testimony presented by Brownfield officers that Higginbotham was drunk at the time of the accident.

Wayne Anderson, chemist and toxicologist for the Department of Public Safety, Lubbock, testified as to his findings in a blood test taken from Higginbotham at 3 p.m. on the date of the accident.

Anderson said the blood sample he received in Lubbock contained .19 percent alcohol content. Asked if this meant that Higginbotham was intoxicated, Anderson stated that .15 percent alcohol content is the point of intoxication and "He would be intoxicated." The chemist also said that under normal oxidation, the alcohol content three hours prior to the test would have been .23 percent alcohol.

Next witness for the plaintiff was Yvonne Overton, an employee in the court house in Plains, who said that Higginbotham had appeared to be under the influence when he was in the court house several hours prior to the fatal accident.

Other witnesses called by the plaintiff's attorneys included a former employer of O'Keefe, a co-worker of the deceased, his widow and his mother. All testified as to his earning power, physical condition, etc.

Plaintiff's case was rested after these witnesses had appeared. Judge Smith then granted a motion that Higginbotham and Higginbotham Brothers Co. be removed as co-defendants because insufficient evidence to show any liability on the part of the company had been introduced.

Three defense witnesses, including two garage mechanics, testified prior to introduction of a deposition from Jim Willis, an alleged eye-witness to the fatal accident.

In his deposition, Willis claims the Higginbotham car did not strike the O'Keefe vehicle. Willis also corroborated the facts as related on Tuesday by

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank each of you, especially the Fire Department who worked so diligently to remove our belongings and extinguish the flames in our recent fire. A million thanks for the many gifts presented us and other ways you have helped.

We still always love you and remember you in our prayers.
Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Brian and family.

Higginbotham.

Melton's testimony concerning the reconstruction of the accident with photographs concluded testimony when court adjourned on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. O'Keefe filed the suit as the result of an automobile accident six miles north of Denver City on January 29, 1959, in which her husband, W. T. O'Keefe was fatally injured.

Mrs. O'Keefe alleged that Higginbotham had operated his automobile in a negligent manner in striking the rear of a car operated by her husband, driving the O'Keefe machine into the path of a pickup truck operated by Travis Brewer of Jal, N. M.

The accident occurred near the intersection of highways 214 and 356, shortly after noon.

Opposing attorneys consumed all of Monday afternoon in the selection of a jury, with a total of 26 prospective jurors being questioned. Each attorney had six automatic "cuts" while the other two prospective jurors were dropped on grounds that one had passed the scene of the accident and another claimed to have formed an opinion about the suit.

Mrs. O'Keefe filed the suit in her own behalf and in behalf of her five minor children against Higginbotham Land Cattle Company and others, with John L. Higginbotham named specially as co-defendant.

Higginbotham was joined in the case as the operator of one of the cars involved in the collision. Complaint said that he was acting as the agent of the land and cattle company when the wreck occurred.

Suit is believed to be the largest of its kind to ever be filed in a Yoakum County court.

The accident, one of the worst in county history, resulted in the death of O'Keefe, injury to Brewer and a passenger in his truck, Odus L. Kelley, also of Jal, N. M. Truck operated by Brewer was owned by El Paso Natural Gas Co. Brewer's injuries were reportedly serious and Kelley's were of a minor nature. Higginbotham was not injured in the crash.

Criminal charges of murder without malice against Higginbotham are pending in Yoakum County court. He was indicted on May 25th by a grand jury and is now free under $20,000 bond.

Members of the jury are as follows: C. L. Gayle, Bronco; Bill Middleton, Plains; Raymond Talley, Joe Nevarez, Denver City; Mrs. Glyn Cleveland, Louise Cobb, Mrs. John T. Camp, Plains; Jim Burt, Derooy Anderson, T. A. Elmore, Tokio; Y. L. Wright, Denver City; and M. E. Pickens, Denver City.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Barron, Jr., who were married August 15th in a ceremony at the home of her parents near Lamesa, were honored with a wedding shower Saturday, August 29th from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. in the Activity Room of the Old Courthouse in Plains.

Guests registered at a table covered with an imported hand-drawn linen cloth and an arrangement of white and yellow daisies. A lovely lace cloth covered the serving table which was centered with an arrangement of dainty golden colored sun dahlias in a crystal bowl and golden colored ribbon streamers with the honorees names, "Margie" and "Tommy," imprinted with metallic glitter. Corsages were fashioned of the dainty golden colored sun dahlias with metallic glitter edging on green nylon net and white ribbon and presented to the honoree and the honoree's mother, Mrs. Tom Barron.

Mrs. Faye Lusk entertained during the evening at the piano with a number of selections. An arrangement of giant dahlias decorated the piano.

The punch bowl featured a pink frozen island, topped with tropical fruit and miniature mint trees, floating in a sea of golden punch.

Out of town guests registering included Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Hayes of Santa Rosa, New Mexico.

Hostesses for the event were: Mrs. J. W. O. Aldredge, E. W. Craig, Bert Bartlett, Charles Dyer, Robert Chambliss, Mollie Courtney, Perry Anthony, H. C. Powell, Wayland Powell, R. E.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

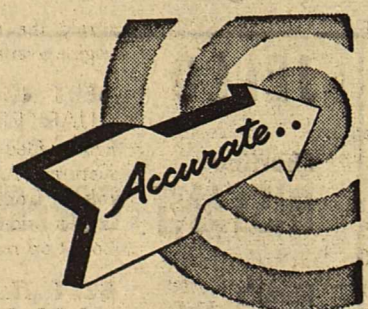

by LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

The production of silage crops in Yoakum County has increased steadily for the past four years. It seems that farmers who can use silage in their farming operations are making it pay them more dollars per acre than they could get from grain sorghum on the same land. The farmer who does not own his land is handicapped to a certain extent because it is almost imperative that you feed silage if you are going to grow it. The tenant farmer cannot afford to set up the necessary feed pens and other equipment necessary for feeding livestock in a place that he does not own. There are times when the land owner and the tenant can work out a satisfactory agreement on the equipment and the rent.

There is one case, not in Yoakum County, where the landowner and the tenant seem to have a satisfactory arrangement. On this particular farm there is some pasture land and there is a small herd of beef cattle. The calves raised on the place are fed out to market weight. The breeding cattle get silage at any time during the Farmer should supply ASC necessary information when wanting reserve rate

Farmers should bring along the necessary information when they file a request for a basic conservation reserve rate at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, according to T. A. Elmore Chairman of the County ASC Committee.

Deadline for requesting that a basic annual rate per acre be established for land offered under the 1960 program is September 10.

The county office has regular forms to be filled out when farmers apply for a basic rate. Information needed to complete the form includes a description of the acreage for which the basic rate is requested and the crop production history of the land. For each field, details will be needed as to the kind of crop and the yield per acre for the 5-year period 1955 through 1959.

After the basic rate for a farm is established, the farmer will have an opportunity to file an application for conservation reserve contract.

Elmore also reminded farmers that land for which a basic rate is requested must be "eligible" land. To be eligible, land must have had a crop harvested from it or must have been in a regular rotation during 1959.

Farmers who have questions about the conservation reserve can get the answers at the county ASC office.

Attention is called to a change in the regulations. A wire from the Deputy Administrator, Production Adjustment is quoted in part: "Paragraph 181 of 1-SB is being amended to provide that a to reject any or all bids, and to award the contract to that bidder or bidders, who, in the opinion of the Owner, offers the proposal to the best interest of the Owner.
