Be Sure Your Joke Is Lawful

In the spring a young man's fancy, so the saying goes, turns to love. And on April 1 or All Fool's Day one's fancy turns to harmless pranks.

The day has been rushed here in Plains for it seems that pranksters were busy last week. The only catch—their prank could have turned out to be a serious offense.

It seems that a group of young men decided to take a foreign car from the school grounds, without the owner's permission, drive it to Stanford Park where they broke limbs from the trees to conceal it.

As it was explained to me by Olan Heath, deputy sheriff, the law does not excuse ignorance or pranks when they are in direct violation of state and local statutes. Here in our small town we sometimes make allowances but I feel that the youths involved in the "hidden car mystery" were not aware of the law.

The law states that taking an automobile—no matter if it looks like a toy or not—without the owner's permission is car theft. Car theft can get you from two to ten years in the state pen.

Another offense overlooked was concealing "stolen" property which can get you from two to five years in the state house. Third—there are fines for destroying public property and hte trees in Stanford Park are public property.

All Fool's Day is fine when the practice of jokes is carried within the law.

Big Easter egg hunt planned for April 16

Plans are underway for the giant Easter egg hunt to be staged in Stanford Park for the youngsters of the Plains' area. The hunt is being sponsored by the Plains Chamber of Commerce, the Iota Pi's, and the Yoakum County Review.

Tentative plans are set for Friday afternoon, April 16. The hunt will be given in three stages, the first hour for the toddlers up to the first grade; the second hour for the first grade to the fourth grade; and the last hour for the fourth grade to the sixth grade.

Among the 400 or more dyed eggs to be hidden will be several prize eggs which will enable the finder to go to the sponsoring store and receive their prize.

Egg hunts have become very popular in the larger cities and the traditional egg rolling is held annually on the White House lawn. The egg hunt is an old American custom who's origin is lost in history.

Legend says eggs became associated with Easter originally because it was forbidden to eat them during Lent and on Easter Sunday they were served. They were dyed to suggest joyousness but according to another theory the color was symbolic of the blood shed on Calvary.

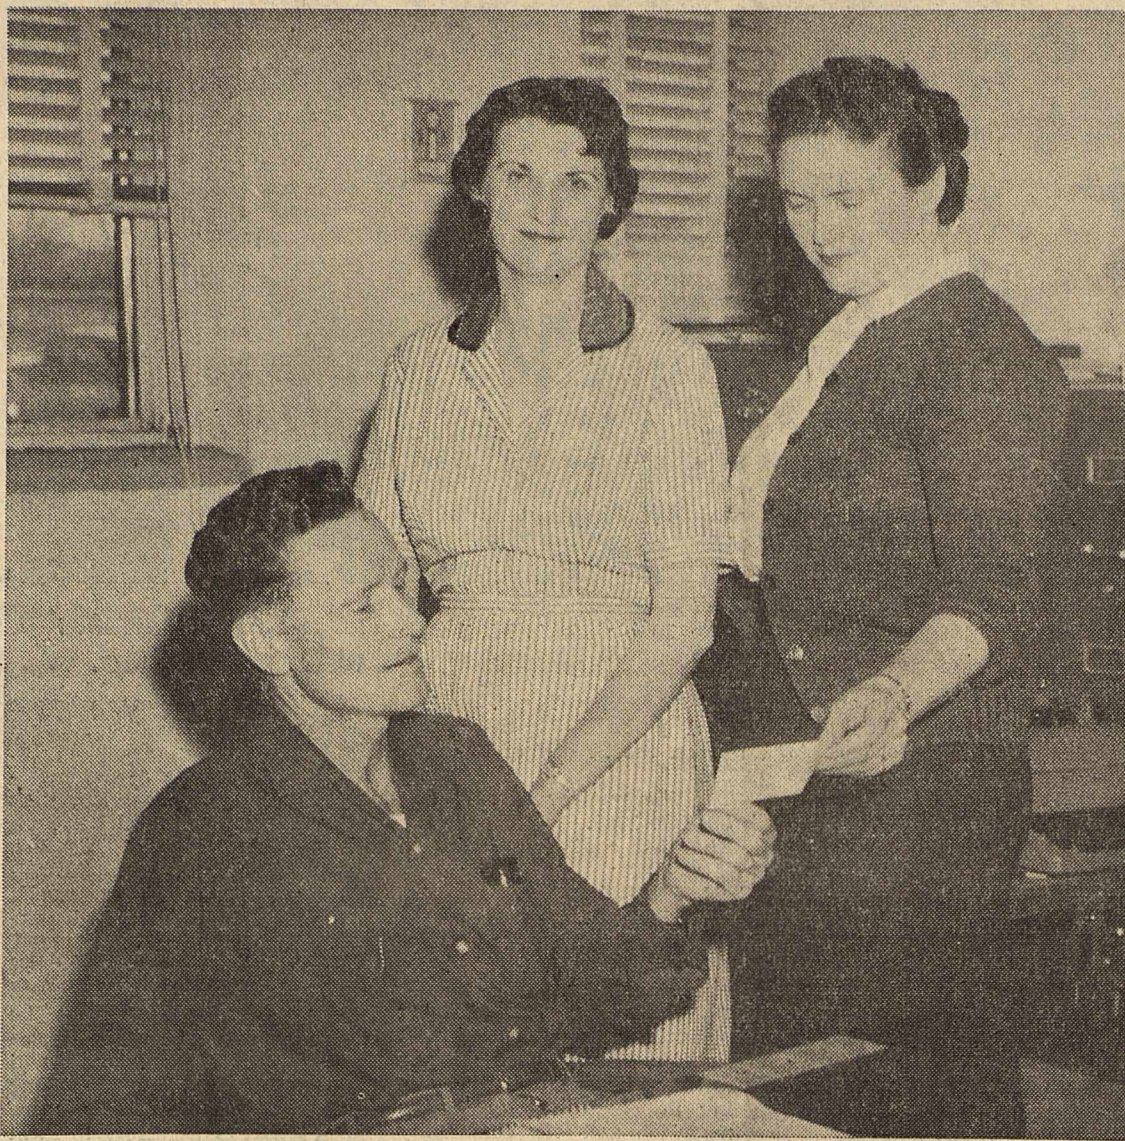

The egg, however, as a symbol of new life is much older than Christianity. And the coloring of it is recorded during the spring festivals of the ancient Egyptians and Persians. During these festivals it came to be regarded as symbolical of new life as it holds the seed of a new life.

Local Cub Scouts to hold auto race

The Indianapolis Speedway has nothing on Plains. Friday night in the American Legion Hall the two Cub Scout Dens will hold their Pinewood Derby. The boys have been busy the past weeks whittling, sanding, polishing and painting their midget cars which will be weighed in Friday night. The pine-autos cannot weigh over 5 ozs.

The public is invited to attend the Derby which begins at 7.

Cubmaster Boots Nelson said that they have had to turn down boys wishing to become Cubs due to lack of Den Mothers. At present there are only two Den Mothers supervising boys where four mothers are normally used. If any mother who has a son Cub age and has the spare time and would like to become a Den Mother please contact Mrs. Ben Liles at GL 6-3793 or call the Review office at GL 6-8888. With school vacation coming up the need is even more urgent.

ROGER CURRY, mayor of Plains, accepts a check from Mrs. Garland Swann and Mrs. Jo Brown, members of the Iota Pi Club for Little League uniforms. The Club will sponsor one of the teams this summer and the check will go to buy uniforms for their team.

Tsa Mo Ga Club takes 34 trophies at district

Twenty-one members of the Tsa Mo Ga Club attended the 39th Convention of 7th District of Texas Federated Women's Clubs in Lubbock March 22 and 23. Registration for the last convention of the district began Tuesday, March 22, at 8:30 a.m. at First Methodist Church, Lubbock.

Delegates and visitors assembled in the church sanctuary at 10:00 a.m. where placing of the flags was given by the U.

Local Farmers Union sponsoring pie supper

Yoakum County Farmers Union are sponsoring a pie supper and candidate speaking Saturday night, April 9 at 8:00 p.m. in the County Clubroom, according to Union president Wallace Randolph.

S. Marine Color Guard. They were royally welcomed to Lubbock by a minister, the mayor and the president of the Chamber of Commerce. A second welcome was extended by Mrs. Clarence Whiteside, chairman of the 7th District Convention.

A minute by minute report of the meeting would take pages so the highlights are given only. At the morning session two resolutions were read and approved. The Lela B. Mundy Scholarship was given to West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon as a student loan fund; the fund raised by 7th District for Coronado Route Markers will be held intact until a ruling is handed down by the Attorney General as to the legality of State erection of markers. If the state can erect the markers the fund will go to T. W. F. C. headquarters in Austin for maintenance.

In her talk Mrs. Ben W. Boyd, T. W. F. C. President said "The areas of work and opportunities for improvement of the nation's domestic and international problems present a challenge to all clubwomen."

Following her talk, a portrait of Mrs. Boyd by Icie Harrah was unveiled. The lovely tribute from the 7th District will be hung at headquarters at Austin.

The Vogue Pattern contest was given during the luncheon hour followed by a beautiful style show presented by Dunlaps of Lubbock. The awards were announced during the afternoon session.

Mrs. Ray McQuatters presented her Texas Heritage awards impressively by having each chairman dressed to represent her division.

A marvelous treat was the review of Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest's Autobiography "Green Grows The Ivy" by Mrs. L. E. Dudley.

Three-minute reports were heard at 4:00 p.m. followed by a dinner in the church banquet hall at which Mrs. R. B. Jones of Plains presided. Several love-

Big suit filed against sheriff by Ray Riddles

Sheriff Robert Chambliss and Western Casualty and Surety Co., Kansas City, Mo., have been named defendants in a $130,000 suit filed in District Court in Plains at 11 a.m., Thursday.

Plaintiff in the suit is Ray Riddles, Plains. Basis for the action is an incident which allegedly occurred in Plains on March 25, 1959.

According to Riddle's petition, he was driving in an easterly direction on Highway 380 at about 8 p.m. on March 25, 1959, toward the city of Plains.

He claims that when he was about five or six miles west of Plains he noticed a car behind him that started to pass his vehicle. As the car got even, Riddles claims, he noticed a man and woman in the car and "they were honking and waving" at him to get to the side of the road.

Riddles says that he speeded up in an attempt to stay ahead of them, not knowing who the parties were. He says he stayed ahead until he reached a restaurant within the City of Plains and the other car turned on a red light and he realized it was an officer of some type.

Riddles claims he left this restaurant and went to another where there were more people for the safety and stopped his car.

The plaintiff claims that as the other car stopped a man alighted and Riddles recognized him as the Sheriff of Yoakum County. Petition says the sheriff walked up to the car of the plaintiff, opened the door and had his pistol drawn and hit the plaintiff on the side of the head with his drawn pistol.

As Chambliss struck him, Riddles claims, the pistol discharged "with a tremendous roar and shot a hole in the door window of the car on the opposite side of the plaintiff." Concussion of the pistol being discharged, Riddles claims, broke his eardrum and caused "severe damage."

Riddles also contends that the sheriff made him get out of the

In spelling Naomi Maynard and Ivy Beggs working as a team scored 5 points for their school. In girls' poetry reading Leta Stewart and Donna Borland both placed in their division. Billie Jean Coke gave the school another 15 points by taking the girls' extemporaneous speaking event.

Farm income down in 1959 says USDA

This will certainly not come as news to many Texas farm families who have been well aware of the situation for months, but the U. S. Department of Agriculture has now officially confirmed that total farm income dropped 16 per cent in 1959 below 1958.

The decline in the average farmer's spendable income was a little less, the USDA reported, falling 14.5 per cent in 1959 below what the farmer had to spend in 1958. The average spendable income per farmer in 1959 was $2,364, being figured on the basis of what the farmer has left after paying all production expenses.

The 16 per cent decline in Church of Christ to hold gospel meeting

A gospel meeting is planned at the Hillside Church of Christ beginning Monday, April 4 through Sunday, April 10. The speaker for the revival will be Mr. B. C. Stapleton minister of the Colgate Church of Christ of Lubbock. Mr. Stapleton is a former minister of the local church.

The evening services will begin at 8 p.m. Local talent will lead the singing. Mr. Travis Boyd, local minister, invites all residents to come hear the word of God during the meeting.

Spring on the Plains

In other parts of the country one can tell spring is there when the young girls pose with umbrellas for newspaper pin-ups or house-hold hints are given on the woman's program on the morning TV.

One can tell when spring is here on the Plains when the ranchers round-up their calves for the branding and cutting and all the neighbors gather to help, to talk, and to feast.

The branding parties are probably the last of the old time neighborly gatherings which played such a large part in the social life of the early settlers.

Nothing much has changed, basically from the earlier days. The spring calves are still rounded-up by horsemen, the 5 o'clock morning is still chilly, and there's still the smell of singed hair and the bellow of the calves.

Here you'll find the men dressed for work, dressed in boots and spurs and faded jeans and topped with a sweat-dust stained Stetson.

Instead of a mesquite branding fire there's now a butane blue flame, orderless, heating the irons with a roar. Lysol is used to clean the cutting knives and long-needed hypodermics to help guard against black-leg.

There's still the big feed put on by the women - roast, potatoes, beans, coffee, and pie. Instead of Mason jars the vittles come from a well-stocked deep freeze along with the store-bought avocados from California, and cantolopes from the Valley.

There's still the same stories told - of the big snow of 30 years ago, the time blowflies killed the calves during a early hot spell, the big sale just made or missed.

Nothing much is changed - the range lands are slowly disappearing in a maze of irrigation ditches, oil wells break the horizon, and trucks now cart the cattle.

There is still one thing that has not changed from the earlier days - the Plains cattleman is mighty proud of his brand.

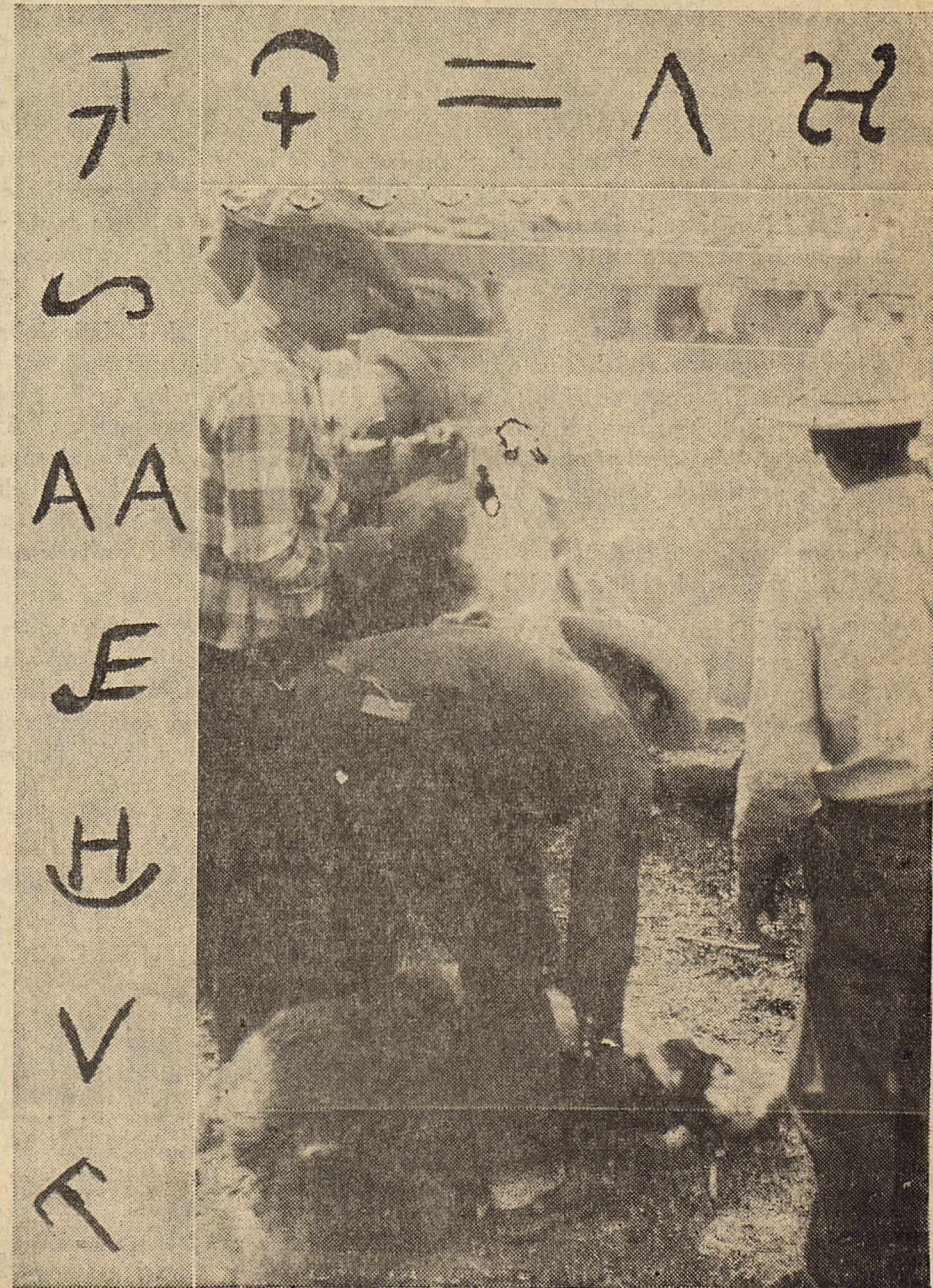

Brands as we know them today have their origin traced back to the ancient Egyptians who used them not only to mark their oxen but also their human slaves.

The Romans used the nicked ear to mark slaves and fugitive slaves were branded with an "F". The French galley slaves under the reign of Edward VI were branded with a "TF", and in our own country in the Plymouth Colony religious and political offenders were marked with a scarlet letter sewed on their garments. If the letter was removed the offender received the brand on his face with a hot iron.

Cattle, horses, sheep, goats and hogs are branded throughout the southwest but in recent years hogs are being marked by slitting the ear. Paint is being substituted for the branding iron now to mark sheep and goats.

Brands shown bordering the pictures are just a few of the old brands of Yoakum County taken from the records in the Court House by members of Tsa Mo Ga Club. The Club gathered the material and presented it at Local area farmers visit Purina Co.

Residents of this area who are pictured above in the Ralston Purina Company offices in St. Louis were among approximately 300 farmers from this section who visited the Purina Research Farm at Gray Summit, Missouri, last Monday, and spent the following day seeing the company's research laboratories and general office.

Thousands of farmers from all sections of the United States and many foreign countries visit the Purina farm each year to see results of experiments conducted in livestock and poultry feeding and management. The 778-acre farm is devoted entirely to farm research projects. Pictured above, from left to right are: 1st row: Paul J. Yancy, Brownfield, Texas; J. C. Meeks, Jr., Tokio, Texas; W. H. Thomas, Brownfield, Texas; W. L. Clananhan, Tokio, Texas; and Mr. R. E. Rowland, President of the Ralston Purina Company. 2nd row: Clyde King, Jr., Lubbock, Texas; W. K. (Speedy) Lindsey, Brownfield, Texas; Robert Becker, Brownfield, Texas; Grady Davis, Brownfield, Texas.

A very thoughtful birthday gift is being sent this week that will be a nice reminder each week all year. Mrs. Loyd Yowell of near Tokio sent a year's subscription of The Review to her father, G. W. Henson of Brownfield, who celebrates a birthday on March 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Faught and daughters, Kim and Rhonda, of Brownfield visited friends in Plains a Sunday afternoon and were supper guests of the Amos Smith family. Wendell, former managing editor of The Review, is sports reporter of the Brownfield News.

Mrs. Shorty Coke is a medical patient in Yoakum County Hospital, Denver City.

Wanda Anderson returned home last weekend after spending a week in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Neal in Odessa.

ASK THE MEN WHO USE IT . . . THEY SAY:

Liquid Fertilizer

Is The Best . . .

Dan and Don Day, identical twins, farm four sections of irrigated land—as well as overseeing nine sections of ranchland, 25 miles northwest of Brownfield. This is their second year to use Liquid Fertilizers. Between the two of them they have approximately 1,000 acres of cotton—with the balance of their land in Milo. In questioning them about their farm operations, they had this to say about Liquid Fertilizers:

Dan: "We have been farming long enough to know that we have to do everything possible to lower the cost of production. We compared the cost of Liquid Fertilizer to its equivalent in dry and we found that we could save about $2 per acre on the initial cost, plus the savings in labor, time required to put it down, and we like the easy way Liquid Fertilizers handle."

Don: We are using two 5-row applicators equipped with 12-hole John Blue squeeze pumps. With the addition of 1-row over the conventional 4-row equipment, we are getting more Liquid Fertilizer down (up to 80 acres per day) and at the same time we are cutting down on the pneumatic packing of our land. We do all of our planting and cultivating with 6-row equipment and we are satisfied to make about a bale-and-a-half per acre. We feel that we could possibly increase our production, but at the same time it would increase our cost, and maybe not increase our net profit" (Don is the one in Levis and Dan has on khakis.)

Don and Dan said: "Last year we used Liquid Fertilizer, and at the end of the year the savings amazed us. This year we are applying (pre-planting) 40 lbs. of Nitrogen, 40 lbs. of Phosphate and 20 lbs. of Potash. This will only be the starter—we will side-dress at least once and possibly twice. We are of the opinion that it is better to apply plant nutrients as the plants need or can use them, than it is to try and feed the plants all at once time," the twins added, "Liquid Fertilizers are one of the best things that has come along to help farmers increase their production and at the same time lower production costs. We're sold on them!"

total farm income showed a total of $11 billion in 1959, compared with $13.1 billion in 1958. The USDA attributed the drop to lower cash receipts and higher production costs, which are an old familiar problem to most Texas farmers.

Cash receipts went down in 32 states, including Texas, and crops showing the sharpest decline were hogs, eggs, wheat, broilers and soybeans. In contrast, production expenses were higher in 43 states, also including Texas. Most of the increase in production expenses was due to depreciation charges, cost of repairs and operations, livestock purchases, fertilizer, hired labor and taxes.

car and stand with his hands on top of the car while the sheriff's wife went for a local policeman. Sheriff Chambliss is accused of using foul language and ordering the local policeman to place the defendant in jail.

The plaintiff says he called the sheriff's attention to bleeding from his ear but the "sheriff disregarded this" and placed the plaintiff in jail where he stayed the entire night, the following day and the following night for a total of some 75 to 80 hours.

Riddles claims the sheriff was negligent in not letting the plaintiff know he was an officer of the law by failing to turn on his red light or in some other means informing the plaintiff of his official capacity, and that such negligence was the reason for Riddles' continuing without stopping.

Chambliss is also accused of negligence in having his pistol in a position where it could be fired, and that his actions in striking the plaintiff "were malicious" because the plaintiff had given the sheriff no cause to strike him and had not resisted the sheriff.

Riddles seeks $5,000 for pain and suffering caused by the incident, $75,000 for loss of hearing and reduction of earning capacity because of impaired hearing, and $50,000 exemplary damages.

Insurance Company is joined in the action as bonding agent in the amount of $5,000.

Suit was prepared by Atty. Jerry Paquin, Denver City.

The Review had a note from Lawrence M. Mize, former Plains businessman now living in Carlsbad, inviting his friends to stop to see him when they are over that way to visit the caverns.

"Pappy" gets irrigation

Mr. J. H. Daniel ("Pappy" as he is affectionately called by close friends) proved that age doesn't limit anyone to new ventures, new horizons or enthusiastic endeavor when he had an irrigation well drilled on his 35 acre tract of land three-quarter miles west of Plains on the Lovington highway.

Drilling was finished on the well by T. R. Nordyke just one day before this energetic and loveable youngster celebrated his 86th birthday on March 20.

"Pappy" Daniel stays active and walks around in town some each day usually stopping at the "bureau of information" as he calls the barbershops. He has a keen mind and keeps abreast of timely topics and activities. He never complains and says he is glad to pay taxes in a country such as we live in.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel came to Plains in June 1944 and have won the respect and admiration of everyone from the tiny tot to those who act much older than this wonderful couple. They have three sons, Rank and Virgil of Brownfield and Wayne of Salem, Oregon; and a host of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The 35 acre tract that Mr. Daniel has wanted to have irrigated and farmed for a number of years has been rented to Foye Powell and sons, Kenneth and Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass returned home Saturday from a two-weeks vacation spent with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Snodgrass in Corpus Christi, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hays in Dallas, relatives at Howe, Texas and longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Acker in Sang-

Additional books were received during the month with 25 being donated by one member. New books received totaled 42.

Among the new books are the following:

A new book entitled "The Touch of the Masters Hand" by Marlow, this is a book with helpful ideas on how to remake old furniture over again. "Denhof's New Complete United States Stamp Album" by W. C. Denhof and Robert D. Denhof. This book gives a picture of the different stamps and information on each of these stamps.

One of our latest books which has been on the best seller list for some time is "Advice and Consent" by Allen Drury. This is a novel of Washington Politics.

The Library is still trying to find some good material on arrowheads, being there is a great interest for arrowhead collection and hunting among the people of Yoakum County.

They enjoyed a picnic spread at 6:00 and conducted their Youth Fellowship out in the open before returning to Plains for evening services at the church.

Among those reporting a "most wonderful time" were: Oneta Jo, Jack and Harmon Meixner, Roberta Snodgrass, Jerry Jones, Lanny Smith, Karen Randolph, Marsha White, D'Lynn and D'Lois McGinty, Mary Johnson, Jerry Bob Warren, Dick Cooke, Carolyn James, Weldon Spencer and Sharon Sikes.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our appreciation to everyone for the visits, flowers, calls and many things you did for our son and brother during his long illness. He often expressed his gratitude and loved you dearly.

We want to say "Thank You" for the food sent, for the cards, flowers and many kindnesses shown us after his death. May God richly bless you with his mercy and love.

These new pledges bring the total for all three W. S. C. fraternities; Kappa Delta Mu, Tau Kappa Epsilon and Theta Chi, to 81 for the 1959-60 school year.

WINNING ESSAY

"Code for Teenage Drivers" by Ty Powell

Teenage drivers are very important in today's driving because they are the drivers of tomorrow. They are the ones who have made the drivers license minimum go up from 14 to 16 in some places and from 14 to 18 in others. They did this because of the many wrecks they have had between these ages.

The Drivers Education Classes over the United States are training students in the best, correct and only way. In most schools there is a trained teacher that has not more than 12 students in each class.

At the beginning of the first semester you are given a book that has five parts. Part I is the "Driver".

It explains "The Automobile and it's Driver," the eyes of the Driver, Physical Fitness and Safety, Stopping Distances and the Driver, and the Psychology of the Driver."

Part II is "Learning How to Drive." This consists of Before you start the Engine, How the Automobile runs, Action in Cars with Automatic Transmissions, and Manuevers, Gearshift and Automatic Transmission cars.

Part III is "Traffic Laws". This is traffic laws made by Nature, Traffic Laws made by man and Observance and Enforcement."

Part IV is "Sound Traffic Practices". It talks about "Solo Driving, Driving on the open Highway, City Driving, Driving under favorable or Special Conditions, Keeping the car in Safe Driving Conditions, and the Pedestrian."

Part V is "You and the Motor Age." This explains "Your Automobile, Highways for the Motor Age, and Managing Modern Traffic."

At the end of the first semester you take a test on Highway signs which is written and one on your eyes. If you pass these, you pay $2.00 and get a restricted license saying you have to have a licensed driver in the front seat with you.

To start the second semester off, the instructor takes you out on the road and lets you practice driving. Every three or four weeks you take a test under his supervision for your six weeks grade. Then if you have an average above a certain point you may take a test to get the restriction removed. If you pass this test then you have your real license. However, the ones that failed the test the first time or didn't get to take the test, will wait and take it at the end of the year.

So I feel any teenager taking this course can never fail to be a good driver.

Essay contest winners
announced at meeting

Mrs. R. B. Jones directed the program on "Opportunities For Health and Security" at the regular meeting of Tsa Mo Ga Club Monday evening in the clubhouse.

The club recently sponsored an essay contest which was conducted by the teacher of Driver Education in Plains High School. Winners of the essays on "Code For Teen-Age Drivers," all freshmen students, are: Ty Earl Powell, 1st; Bily Stockstill, 2nd; D'Lynn McGinty, 3rd; and Clyde Lynn Jr. 4th. The essays were read and each was a remarkable masterpiece.

In Mrs. Ty Field's topic on "Making Good Drivers of Your Children," she pointed out the necessity of training our children to be good, safe and thoughtful drivers and expressed pleasure for Driver Education being taught in our schools during youngsters' freshman year in high school. Surveys were made throughout the United States and it showed that there are more accidents among untrained than trained students. Modern transportation has changed thus our youth must be trained, she said.

"The Truth About Cancer" was given by Mrs. Marion McGinty who reported that research is working as they have never worked before to find out more about this dreaded disease. She described cancer and its many forms and warned about "quack doctors" and their cures for cancer. Mrs. McGinty stressed regular examinations be made by reputable doctors.

cent moisture or ground dry grain.

The sorghum grain, RS 610, was harvested successfully at an average moisture level of 25 to 30 percent with a standard self-propelled combine. This was accomplished by slowing the ground speed and maintaining the cylinder speed at that used for threshing small grains. The moist grain was then stored successfully without spoilage or loss in an air-tight, glass-lined silo.

Steers fed the moist grain required 18 percent less dry matter from the grain and 12 percent less total dry matter per 100 pounds of gain than the steer fed ground dry grain. Additional work is now being conducted at A&M to determine if cattle consistently will perform more efficiently on high moisture sorghum grain.

Both types of ground grain were palatable and intake was essentially the same. No difficulty was encountered in grinding the grain or keeping the steers on feed. Selling price was the same for both groups of steers fed ground grain and dressing percentages and carcass grades did not differ significantly.

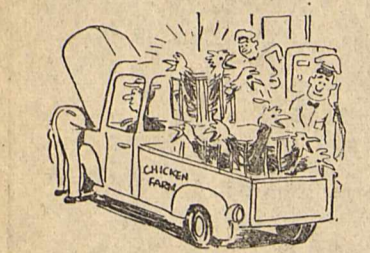

the club at the convention. Refreshments of Chocolate Tartes, mints, nuts, coffee and tea were served by hostesses Miss Ozella Hunt and Mrs. Wayne Chadwick from a table laid with a lovely cut-work cloth centered by an arrangement of rose-colored tulips and various smaller yellow flowers dotted with peeping Eastpr-Bunnies.

Steers gained more when fed sorghum grain containing a high moisture level than steers fed dry grain of the same quality in a test conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Steers fed the wet ground grain at 23 percent moisture, made gains of 2.42 pounds per day compared with gains of only 2.29 pounds for those fed dry grain.

It was also found that un-ground grain sorghum containing 23 percent moisture would not produce as high gains as either ground grain at 23 per-
