Civic groups name five girls as candidates for Rodeo Queen

Consider the soil

The week of May 22-29 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week and people across the nation will be observing this occasion. The following is taken from a booklet published by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.)

It lies as far as the eye can see. It covers millions on millions of acres around the globe, yet it is a rare thing and cannot be replaced.

This soil is a living thing. Yet it can be destroyed.

This soil is a fruitful thing. Yet it can become sterile.

This soil is God's gift to mankind, given unto our stewardship. Yet it can be despoiled and wasted.

This soil produces crops and verdant grass and trees. Yet it cannot be duplicated by chemistry or physics.

This soil is an intricate house of myriad elements. Yet it is so common-place as to be known as dirt.

It fills the flower pot in Manhattan, serves as a garden in Minnesota, produces an orchard in California—this thing called soil.

It is the spectacle of the Grand Canyon, the flatness of the Plains, and the rolling convolutions of the Shenandoah Valley—this thing called soil.

It is the source of our nourishment; it provides the means of our protection.

God has willed we can live with it; we cannot live without it. Consider the soil. Consider it well.

Local civic and social organizations have been busy selecting their representative for the Queen's Contest which is being held in connection with the Yoakum County Rodeo. The girls are vying for the honor of being named Queen of the 1960 Yoakum County Rodeo.

Votes for the Queen will be tabulated by counting money donated in her name to the rodeo group. The money will go to help finance this year's event. On the last night of the rodeo a lucky voter's name will be drawn and will be awarded a Shetland pony.

Girls named so far include Marsha White representing the Lions Club, Linda Fitzgerald for the Plains Dirt Gardeners, Dianne Bennett for the Fine Arts Club, D'Lynn McGinty for the Roping Club, Sara Kay Field for the Tsa Mo Ga Club. Others will be announced later in the week.

The girl winning the most votes will receive a pair of hand-tooled boots or hand-tooled luggage. The runner-up will receive a belt buckle.

Beginning in this week's paper pictures of the Queen candidates and a write-up will be given.

Miss Marsha White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo White, was selected by the Lions Club as their representative in the Queen's Contest. She is a junior in Plains High School and is active in school affairs. Miss White was the drum major for the Cowboy Band and was on the state winning volleyball team.

She is a member of the FHA and 4-H Club and was awarded the 4-H Gold Star Award in 1959. Her main 4-H project is beef cattle and in 1959 she exhibited the Grand Champion Calf at the Yoakum County Livestock Show.

She was selected earlier this year as the Lions Club Sweetheart and plays the piano for the regular meeting. She has also provided music for several other community affairs.

D'Lynn is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rusty McGinty, Yoakum County rancher. She has been very active in 4-H work for the past eight years and enjoys riding and ranch life.

In the past several years she has entered several riding contests where she has won numerous prizes. In 1959 she won second in a riding contest and in 1958 she won fifth at the Dabbling contest.

D'Lynn is being sponsored by the Roping Club.

Local museum contains old relics pertaining to early ranching days

Remember when? In this day and age of rapid travel, mushrooming growth, and changing times things of the past are sometimes forgotten. Residents of Yoakum County are fortunate in having a museum of local history where many of the articles and items of day gone by are kept and stored for future generations.

Records of the first people in this area are given in the vast amounts of arrowheads and pottery that can be found several miles outside the city limits. The Commanche Indians were found here by the first white men and remains of old camp sites can still be seen today.

Of the earlier families that moved to Yoakum County several still own the original land. The Field property at Bronco was first settled by Mr. Century H. Field who came here around the turn of the century. He established the first store in the county and also served as the first postmaster in that area. Bronco was the first named town in the county and the center of early trading.

Sligo was named by the McHugh's, brother and sister from Ireland, who settled in the south part of the county. Their niece, Miss Annie Armstrong, still lives on the old home place.

Other families that came in the early 1900's include the George Clevelands, the Mason

REMEMBER WHEN this was the Yoakum County Courthouse? The structure was built around 1909 and burned around 1925. This was the first building on the present Courthouse Square but several other buildings had been used previously as a courthouse.

Brothers, Lum Hudson's, R. H. Hurst, the J. S. Webbers, W. J. Lunas, S. J. Dixons, Davis, Tingles, Camp, and others.

Anyone interested in seeing many of the articles used in the earlier days of Yoakum County are urged to visit the museum which was established by the Tsa Mo Ga Club.

Anyone having information concerning the early history of Yoakum County is urged to contact the Review office or Mrs. R. T. Jones. Donations and loans to the museum are also needed and anyone wishing to do so is urged to contact Mrs. C. F. McCargo or Mrs. P. W. St. Romain.

Mr. Joe M. Cheek last rites held at Baptist Church

Joe M. Cheek, 77, passed away Tuesday at 9:00 a.m. in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Hank Goehry, of a heart attack.

Mr. Cheek, a resident of Tokio and Plains since 1923, was born October 13, 1882 in Fort Worth and he spent his early manhood working for the Wichita Valley Railroad, at Stamford. He was married on October 29, 1914 to Miss Lucretia Jones.

He had been in ill health for several years, but was feeling much better when Mrs. Cheek left for work in the County Clerk's office at 8:00, and he went to the Goehry home to visit a while. He was sitting in the living-room visiting with his 10-year old granddaughter when he toppled from his chair. A physician was summoned who pronounced him dead.

Funeral services were held at 10:00 Thursday in First Baptist Church, Plains, with Rev. R. H. Meixner, First Methodist Church pastor officiating assisted by Rev. C. J. Coffman, Baptist pastor. Burial was in Plains Cemetery under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home, with Masonic rites at the graveside.

Survivors include his wife; one son, R. R. Cheek, Corpus Christi; three daughters, Mrs. Louise Goehry, Plains, Mrs. Marie Snodgrass, Morton, and Mrs. Rita Mae Snodgrass, Tokio; one sister, Mrs. Amanda Simpson, Altus, Oklahoma; one brother, H. E. Cheek, Huron, California; thirteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren;

Operations planned for new San Andres wildcat

In Northwest Yoakum County, William A. and Edward R. Hudson of Fort Worth and Midland, are to drill No. 1 Pan American-Googins as a 5,500 foot San Andres wildcat. It is six miles northwest of Plains and 1 1/2 miles southwest of the Sable (San Andres) pool.

Test was made in the formation called Wolfcamp by some geologists and Wichita-Albany by others at 8,340 to 8,420 feet. Zone was tested two and one-half hours with gas surfacing in 35 minutes. The volume was too small to measure.

After the tool had been closed, 1,892 feet of 38.3 gravity oil was reversed out of the drill pipe. There was no formation water. Flowing pressure was between 85 and 470 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure in 30 minutes was 3,265 pounds.

Wildcat, slated for 11,300 feet, is now taking a test at 8,435-8,508 feet. It is six miles southeast of the nearest production in the Wason (Wolfcamp) pool in Southwest Yoakum County.

It is surrounded by production from the San Andres in the southside of the Wason multiple field. However, there is no Wichita-Albany production in that region.

Mrs. Harwell resigns as Yoakum library head

Yoakum County is back in the market for a County Librarian following the resignation of Mrs. Bill Harwell, Denver City, from the post on Monday.

Mrs. Harwell, who has been in charge of county library operations since last July 15, submitted a written resignation to the county commissioners at their regular Monday meeting. The resignation was accepted on motion of Commissioner Vance Brown, seconded by H. C. Cotton, which carried by a unanimous vote.

Commissioners reported that two applications have been received for the position. Mrs. Norrelle Sloan, who has worked at the Plains library since November, 1957, and Mrs. Helen Beal, who has worked as cataloguer at the Plains library for 18 months, have submitted applications.

Contract for lights for the new Pony League and Little League parks in Denver City will be awarded on June 13. An advertisement asking bids on the lights has been printed. Commissioners are also asking for bids on a 250 barrel tank.

An emergency was declared in the sheriff's department to pave the way for purchase of a new automobile for the department. Bid of D. C. Motors, Denver City, to provide a 1960 Ford for $1,368.52 plus trade-in was accepted. Allsup Chevrolet submitted a bid of $1,818 for a new Chevrolet, plus trade.

Commissioners also approved hiring of Punk Culwell, Plains, as a janitor and accepted the resignation of Dr. M. A. Watts, Denver City, from the County Welfare Board.

Jackie Hawkins injures arm in fall Sunday

Jackie Hawkins suffered a double fracture of her left arm just above the wrist in a fall at the Bobby Field home Sunday afternoon. She was brought to the Plains Clinic for emergency aid then taken to Yoakum County Hospital where she remained overnight. She is doing fine.

A group of youngsters were enjoying the afternoon at the Field Ranch near Bronco when she fell from a swing. This lovely ranch is somewhat of a "paradise" to the youth of the community.

Jackie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Hawkins.

Vacation Bible schools plans for summer told

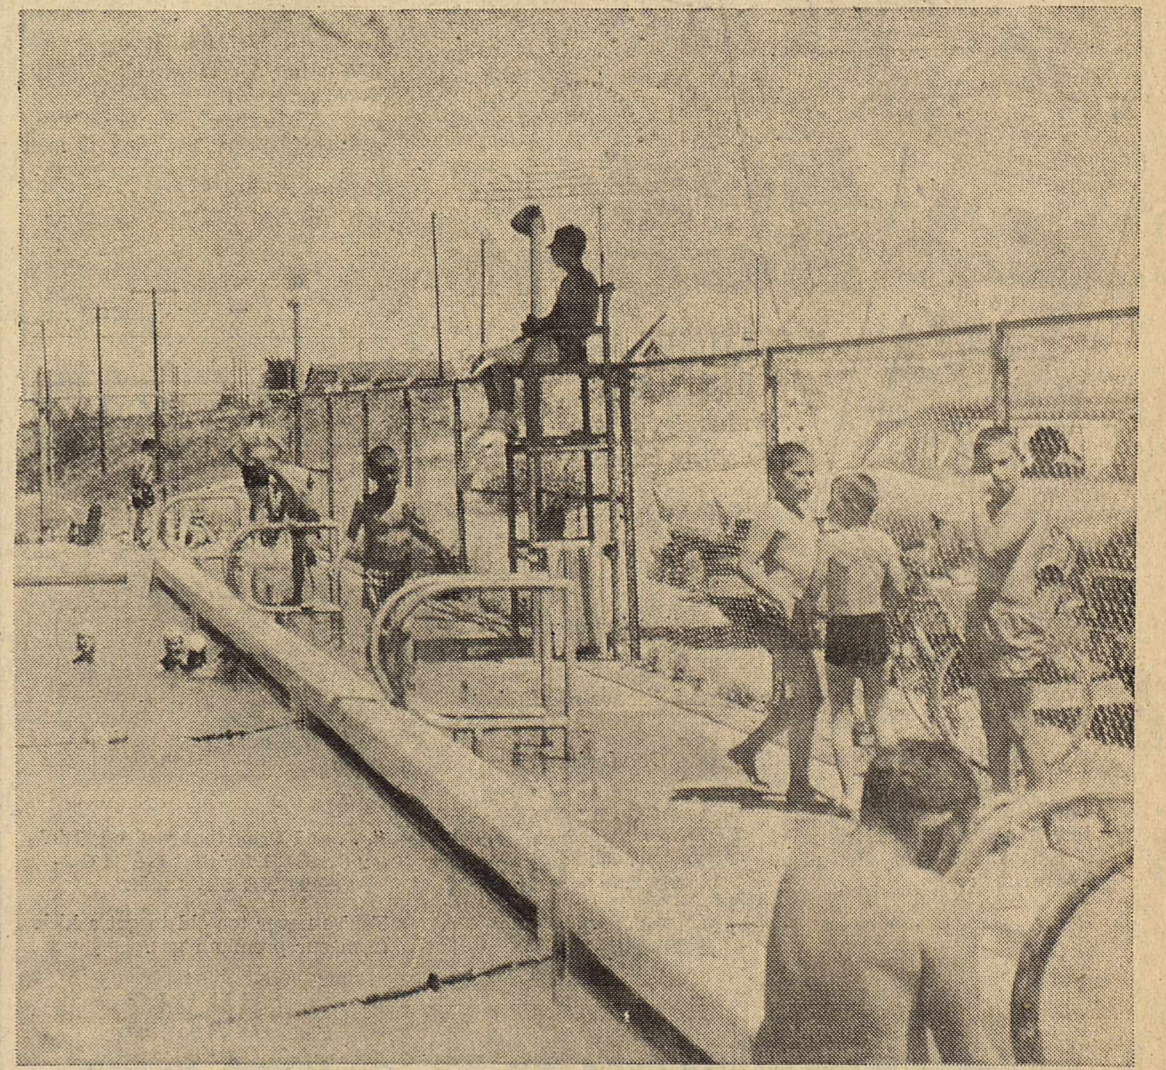

Summer Vacation Bible School time is here. First Methodist Church will hold their school June 6 through 10, in conjunction with First Christian Church who have so few youngsters it would be impractical to have one in their church. No definite date has been set for a school in the Assembly of God Church, but some time in June is a probable time, according to workers. Hillside Church of Christ hasn't conducted a school before, however, they hope to have one during the summer.

First Baptist Church school is in full swing this week with a daily attendance of well over 100 youngsters. The children and faculty members of the school march into the church promptly at 8:30 each morning, forming two lines as they follow the Christian and American flags. After the placing of the flags, Rev. C. J. Coffman, Bible School principal, leads the group in a call to worship and the school motto is given in unison.

Following salutation to the flags and the Bible the nursery, beginners and primary children march to their departments. The older groups have a scripture reading, singing of the National Anthem, mission offering and character story before going to their departments. In the junior department the day is started with a Bible story and discussion with numerous scripture pertaining to the story given. Each boy and girl is furnished a handbook and scripture memory cards which they memorize each day. Then a character story is read and discussed prior to the refreshment period. The remainder of the morning is spent doing handwork, which consists this year, of mesh-wire wall plaques that have plastic flowers attached after they are baked in an oven.

Commencement exercises for the school will be held Wednesday, June 1 at 7:30 p.m. with the all departments taking part in the program. All work will be on display for parents and guests to see. Workers expressed appreciation for the opportunity to work with children of all the churches in the city.

ENJOYING THE SWIMMING POOL are the youngsters of Plains residents. The pool opened Saturday and pool manager, Foye Flood, said approximately 175 turned out for the occasion. Pool hours are daily, 1:00 to 6:30 with exception of Monday, 1:00 to 3:30 and Sunday, 1:30 to 6:00. Lifeguard is Olan Smith.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. Price Daniel's money raising proposals indicate that many of next year's tax battles will be fought on familiar terrain.

Basic program submitted by the governor to the State Finance Advisory Commission is the same as the one he submitted in 1959. Even the total goal is nearly the same.

In 1959 the Legislature passed a bill aimed at raising $185,000,000 in new money. Governor Daniel estimates 1961 new-money-needs at $193,000,000. This is to cover an expected deficit of about $68,800,000 and increased annual spending of about $62,527,000.

To raise this money, the governor suggests revising the corporation franchise tax formula and increasing the liquor tax, gross receipts tax on utilities and the auto sales tax. He also suggests passing the abandoned-property act (allowing the state to take over unclaimed bank accounts, property, etc.) and putting a tax on beer and cigarettes sold on military bases.

Governor Daniel also told the Commission of four other tax ideas which he said had been suggested by others.

These include:

1. A 10 per cent increase on all items in the Omnibus Tax Bill except cigarettes, tobacco and franchises.

2. A 1-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax.

3. A tax of 1 cent per thousand cubic feet on the processing of natural gas.

4. A 3 per cent tax on gross receipts of gas pipeline companies.

Governor Daniel said he knew his proposal would be criticized as "riding the same old horses." But he said the affected tax sources would not be taxed any heavier than those in neighboring and competing states.

Finance Commission is to begin committee work this month and hold another joint session of its 34 members — all leaders in their fields — in June.

TAX EXEMPT SALES JUMP

Texas apparently is losing some tax revenue through sale of tax-exempt cigarettes on military posts, reports State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Calvert told the State Finance Commission that since the state tax increased to eight cents a pack last year, cigarette sales at federal installations have jumped almost a million packs a month.

He said sale of tax-exempt cigarettes in March, 1960, was up by 1,500,000 packs over what it was in March, 1959. Military officials denied that non-taxed cigarette-selling-privileges had been abused.

DEMO HOUSING PROBLEM — Austin hotel and motel facilities will be stretched beyond capacity when an estimated 5,000 came here June 14 for the State Democratic Convention.

It's more people than Austin can accommodate. To ease the problem a little, the State Democratic Executive Committee has ruled that no room reservations will be made for persons living within 75 miles of the Capital City.

Also in preparation for the big day, SDEC has named a credentials committee whose job will be to decide which delegates shall be admitted.

Four counties had "rump" conventions and will send two rival delegations to Austin. Governor Daniel, pooh-poohing the "rump" groups, said they were all too small to be a threat to the official delegations.

"There is more harmony in the Texas Democratic Party now than ever before," said the governor.

BEAUTIFUL MAPS READY — Texas' new 1960 official highway map, illustrated with 11 dramatic full-color pictures, now is available for the asking.

It's not only handsome, but informative. It shows the 1,933 miles of multi-lane divided highways not completed. Also, 26,378 miles of state and U. S. highways and 20,000 miles of farm-to-market roads.

Lakes, state parks and roadside parks are indicated. Texas' history, geography, and present opportunities are summarized.

In line with the state's tourist-seeking policy, it is headed, "All of Texas Welcomes You."

To get the map, write the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, or drop by a highway district office and travel bureau. County tax offices have cards on hand to request maps.

OIL ALLOWABLE UP — Texas Railroad Commission retained the eight-day producing pattern for the Texas oil industry for June, but because June has one day less than May, daily permissible production will be slightly higher.

State allowable for June will be 2,643,516 barrels a day, a 47,108 barrel a day increase from May.

Several major oil companies asked the Commission to set nine producing days in June, indicating they expected an increase in demand for Texas crude within the next month.

REPAIR FUNDS OKAYED — Legislative Budget Board has approved transfer of $75,000 for repair work at the Big Spring State Hospital, Abilene State School and Mexia State School.

Board also heard a report that a state job classification study, detailing requirements for 1,225 different jobs, is nearing completion.

MED SCHOOL MONEY SOUGHT — A new money request awaiting the Legislature next year will be that of the University of Texas for $100,000 for the planning of a new medical branch in San Antonio.

UT Regents said the money would be used to get specialists in medical center planning to estimate what would be required. With this information the board could draw up plans and a request for funds for the center itself from a later Legislature.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

"THE KING CAN DO NO WRONG"

How could anybody ever say: "The king can do no wrong"? (When we know of kings who did do wrong.)

The idea looks simple: As absolute law maker, the king could hold himself above his own law. He was under no law and could therefore do no legal wrong.

Anyway, when King George lost the thirteen colonies, the American states took over the doctrine of Sovereign Immunity: Nobody can sue a government agency without the state's permission, when the agency is doing government work. (Of course if the agency is doing "proprietary functions" like running street cars or making electricity, it may often be sued much like any other business.)

Thus suppose for lack of due care a private bakery truck should harm your child who had done nothing to bring on the accident. Well then, most likely you could sue the bakery in the child's behalf and collect damages.

But not with government agencies unless the legislature gives you lawful permission.

Thus in the old days, if an army jeep harmed your child, you could collect only if Congress passed a special bill awarding damages.

Recently this doctrine has been attacked: Why shouldn't the government pay like any other organization? So during the last war the federal government in response to public opinion passed a "tort liability" law. It gives the people much more power to sue to be sold. It is usually because they have a tendency to bloat which is always a problem with cattle on full feed for a long period of time. There are four calves that cannot come to the Yoakum County Show because of the two calf limit. Four of our feeders are starting out with three calves each. That would leave 46 head eligible to come to the show and probably 42 or 43 of them will make it.

There is a wide range between the heaviest calf and the lightest one but this is unavoidable. Good quality animals of the right size and age are hard to find. The general quality of the calves is very good and some of the better animals will likely get a chance to compete in area shows like Odessa, El Paso and Lubbock. There was not a single calf that would not turn into a well finished steer of good conformation provided the owner will give him the feed and care that is necessary to make a feeded calf into a top notch steer. The calf division of the show next year will be a dandy.

than before the last war. And the courts much more often than Congress now set the damages in many kinds of cases.

In Texas, the Legislature by a proper action may permit certain general types of suits to be brought against the state, under various conditions and restrictions. Then, if a specific situation arises which is not covered by the general rules, the legislators are authorized to pass a special measure to permit suit to be brought.

* Therefore, any person seeking to enforce a claim against the State of Texas through the courts must petition the Legislature for the necessary permission, unless his claim falls within some general category or type previously recognized by our lawmakers. During each session, the Legislature passes legislation allowing suits to be brought against the state in a variety of cases.

Sometimes, however, suits may be brought against individuals holding office under the State of Texas and acting as agents of the state, but where the state itself is not the principal party to the suit, without first gaining consent to sue. There are numerous situations in which an individual officer may be sued with regard to the duties and functions of his office, and in which the state is not directly or substantially a part in interest.

Suppose you do obtain legislative permission to sue the state. What happens then?

If suit is brought against the State of Texas, and the action is successfully prosecuted, you will be awarded a judgment against the state. Then, it's back to the Legislature for more legislation to appropriate the necessary money with which the state may pay off the judgment.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and children of Morton visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cheek Thursday morning and were dinner guests of her aunt and family, Mrs. Amos Smith. Mr. Wilson, a driller in the oilfields, expects to be transferred to Montana.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

This is the third in a series of articles on the soils in the Yoakum Soil Conservation District. This article will discuss the deep limey soils of the area. The term "deep" means that a chalky-white caliche is usually found at 25-30" or deeper.

These soils usually occur in small areas, but are found throughout the Southern High Plains and Eastern New Mexico. In this District, large amount of these soils are found in the vicinity of Bronco.

The most important deep limey soil in the Yoakum SCD is the Portales Soils. Some farmers call this soil a "blue soil." In lower lying areas, the darker, heavier soils are the Zita Soils.

The Portales and Zita soils both have mixed land and hardland textures. The mixed land texture is that of fine sandy loam and the hardland textures are clay loam and loam. The vegetation on these areas is Buffalo grass and the grammas.

The Portales and Zita soils are located in large flats or slightly sloping areas. These soils have a dark brown color with scattered gray spots. The Portales soils often have small rocks scattered on the surface.

There are a number of problems involved in farming the limey soils. In this area, supplying adequate moisture is the chief problem. When irrigated, these soils will produce fairly good yields. The Portales and Zita soils are not good soils for grain sorghum production. Cotton, legumes, and grasses are recommended on these soils. Legumes will supply both nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. (Organic matter will help release the plant nutrients such as Phosphorus which are tied up in the limey soils.) On the Loren Gayle farm near Bronco, Madrid clover is growing well on these soils.

In South Texas, soils similar to these produced better with the addition of cotton burs. In this area, the cotton burs are being composted to prevent any spread of blight.

Fertilizers that are acid in nature are best on these soils. Also, frequent light applications are better than one or two large applications of fertilizer.

Sulfur is helpful to these soils but the cost would not permit applying sufficient amounts.

The Portales and Zita soils are very susceptible to erosion due to the large amounts of fine soil particles. A cover of grasses or legumes will help reduce the erosion hazard. These cover crops could be rotated with cotton keep yields up and retain good soil structure. When there is no cover present, the surface of these limey soils should be as cloddy as possible.

In conclusion, the deep limey soils are not good for dryland crop production. When irrigated, they will produce suitable yields. Good management should be exercised to prevent severe wind erosion of these soils.

Civil War custom leads to Memorial Day rites

The observance of Memorial Day as it is more commonly called dates back to almost one hundred years ago when a group of women from Columbus, Mississippi laid flowers on the graves of both Union and Southern soldiers.

In 1865 a group of women from Vicksburg led by Mrs. Sue Landon Vaughn, a descendant of John Adams, placed flowers on the graves of soldiers killed in battle. Almost at the same time a group of women formed the Stonewall Memorial Association in Winchester, Va., with the purpose of decorating the graves of Southern soldiers laid to rest in the Confederate Cemetery.

In the North the observance was begun with an order from the Adjutant General for the Army of the Republic to honor their dead comrades by decorating their graves with flowers.

The first official and formal observance of the day was held at the Arlington National Cemetery with General James A. Garfield the orator of the occasion. Though the custom originated in the South, New York was the first state to make it a legal holiday followed by Rhode Island in 1874, Vermont and other Northern states.

The holiday was made into Army regulation when Article 516 was adopted. The Article called for all army posts and stations to display the national flag at half mast and for a salute to be given and a gun salute to be played.

The naval regulations call for a suspension of all drills and exercises and for a 21-gun salute to be given at noon. As it is impossible to decorate the graves of the men of the Navy who died at sea it has become the custom to construct little ships of flowers and set them afloat on the water. For many years the celebration in the North was devoted to an oratorical glorification of the victory of the Northern armies but as the years passed the note of triumph died out from Memorial Day oratory.

The day established to honor the memory of those that died in the Civil War has come to be observed in memory of the dead in the succeeding wars.

The custom of decorating the graves of the dead with flowers is of great antiquity and it was adopted as a matter of course for Memorial Day. The use of flowers for such occasions dates back to the Greeks and Romans who used wreaths and garlands to decorate the morned ones home, grave and funeral carriage.

Work underway on new chiropractic hospital for Boyd

Work was started Wednesday on a new clinic and home by Dr. W. B. Boyd, chiropractor. Site for the structure is the 100 block of Avenue G, in Denver City.

Dr. Boyd reported that the clinic will contain 1400 square feet, while the three-bedroom home will include a total of 2800 square feet. It will be of brick and asbestos siding construction. Wayne Reior is general contractor, and plans call for the completion of the structure within 90 days.

The clinic will include a reception room, office, X-ray room and laboratory, and seven treating rooms with physio-therapy and chiropractic equipment, most of which will be new.

Dr. Boyd is currently in his ninth year of practice all in the same location at 120 North Main. For the past four years however, he has been in a new building which replaced the former frame structure.

The clinic will known as the Boyd Clinic.

County drilling activity boosted

Rotary rig drilling activity, which has been alternating between six and seven in Yoakum County during the past five weeks, continued its pattern last week and increased in line with a general increase in the Permian Basin.

According to a survey conducted by Reed Roller Bit Co., Midland, there were seven active units in the county on May 20. This compared with six during the preceding week.

Throughout the Permian Basin area rig activity increased from 268 during the week ended on May 13 to 276 rotaries working in the latest survey.

The current figure is somewhat below the figure for May 22, 1959, however, when a total of 401 rigs were reported in the Basin.

Gaines County increased from 17 rigs on May 13 to 19 in the latest survey, and Terry County dropped from two on May 13 to only one last Friday.

Lea County, N. M., with 35 rigs working continued to lead the Basin area with Eddy County, N. M., in second place with 28. Andrews County was in third place in the latest survey with 27 rigs working.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvaire that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvaire's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the illustrious Pikes Peak car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvaire (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvaire is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

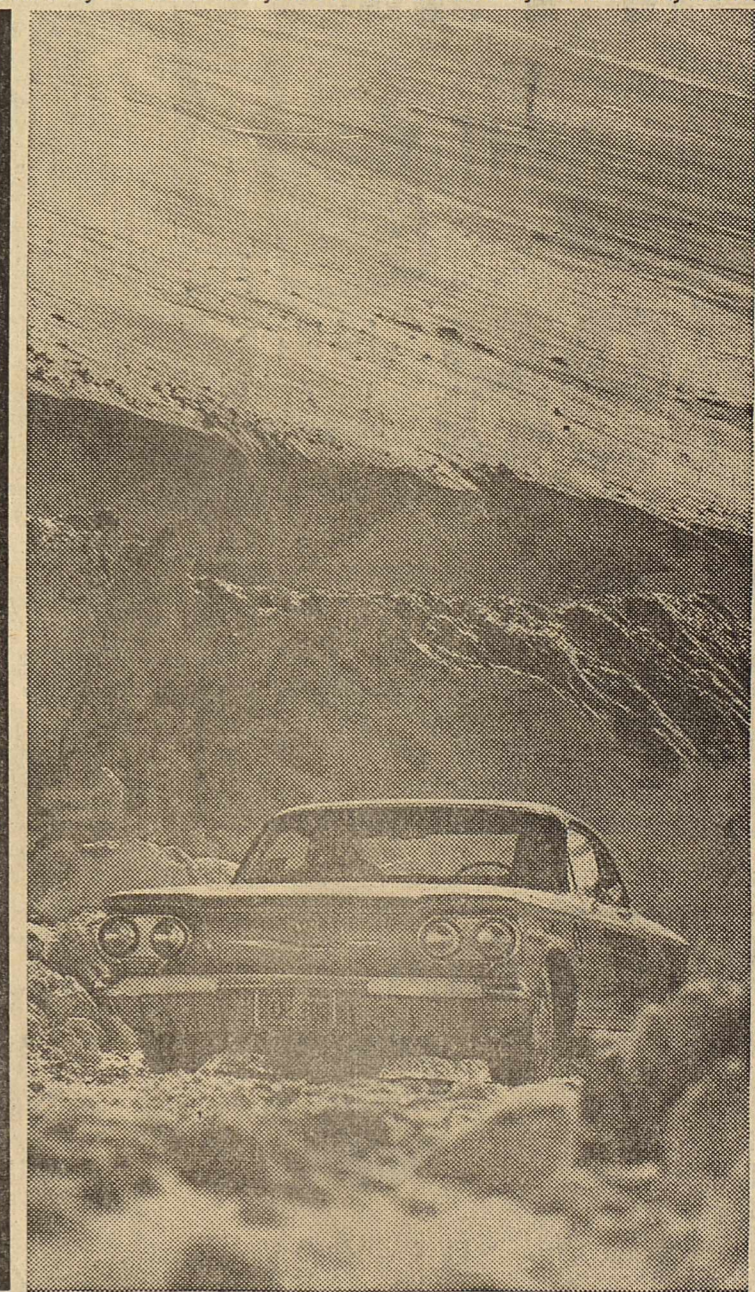

Try the remarkable Corvaire at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's

MEMORIAL DAY - 1960

By Vern Sanford

We look to the event of spring as something beautiful. But it's more than that.

Trees that bloom in the spring also produce food and shelter.

Much of Texas is rolling plains with some desert and mountainous areas. Fortunately for the outdoorsman, we still have millions of acres of trees throughout the state. And this timberland is as important to wildlife as are our mountains and our plains.

The average person doesn't realize the vast forest resources within the boundaries of Texas.

For instance: Texas' forest lands cover 22,033,900 acres, more than 55 per cent forested. Commercial forests in the state reach the staggering total of 12,171,900 acres, with a saw-timber volume of 27,239,300,000 board feet.

These Texas timberlands grow wood for some 1,000 mills and factories that provide full-time jobs for 43,000 persons. They earn in excess of $138,000,000 per year and the goods they produce are valued at over a half billion dollars.

These are values in cold dollars and cents. Trees are a renewable resource. They continue to grow and new forests can be brought along to take the place of those consumed by the industry.

An interesting feature of this tremendous forest area is that Harris County has more than a million acres of forest land. Yet the largest city in the South — Houston — the county seat of Harris County, has more than a million population.

Houston County, in East Texas, is second in forest area with 88,400 acres.

Thus we have the picture that forests unfold in the economy of Texas. Too few, however, realize the great benefits to our wildlife, which also is a renewable resource.

The East Texas forest land once was a haven for wildlife. There were plenty of deer, turkey, bear and smaller game. The Indians didn't destroy it. The white man did.

There were game outlaws throughout the forest lands of East Texas. They poached. They killed game out of season. They killed more than the bag limit and were responsible for many other outrages against wildlife.

However, their's were not the only sins.

Many of the land owners, looking first to the dollar, with no eye on posterity, cut down hardwoods, to raise more pine.

As a result the crop of most disappeared on thousands of acres of land. There was no food for the wildlife.

Unfortunately, some of these land owners were some of the major ones. They could see no possibilities in anything but tall pines.

And they weren't too particular about polluting the streams, either. They were responsible for the killing off of many fish.

It has been only within the last few years that many land owners have been sold on the idea that hardwood and pine can grow in the same area, without harming each other. Now there is a comeback in much of the hardwood area.

This is a result of work being carried on by the U. S. Forest Service, the State Forest Service and the Game & Fish Commission. None of it would have been possible, however, without the full cooperation of all the land owners.

More than two-thirds of all the forest land in Texas is held in tracts of less than 5,000 acres.

Farmers own some 21 per cent of all the forest land in Texas. The governments, state and federal, own only about 7 per cent. Forest industries own another 27 per cent. All of which means that some 45 per cent of the forest area is held by other private owners.

Another tremendous hazard to wildlife of Texas forests is fire.

Experts estimate that more than 99 per cent of all forest fires are man-made. Man will burn off thousands of acres of timber each year and in turn destroy a great deal of wildlife.

Unfortunately many of these fires are caused by carelessness. Others have been set by responsible persons, for one reason or another. Whatever the cause — wildlife suffers most.

It is much easier to grow a tree than it is to reproduce wildlife.

We can go to other areas and buy a thousand seedlings and restore a piece of property. They will stay there and grow. But with wildlife it is entirely different.

The stern Puritans of New England, who frowned upon the celebration of Christmas as a pagan rite, went so far as to enact "blue laws" banning the making of mince pies. World Book Encyclopedia reports that mince pies are associated with Christmas because they were originally baked in the shape of a manger.

The return above the cost of materials and application of in-the-furrow fungicides at planting time for the prevention of cotton seedling disease should average from $15 to $20 an acre, says Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist. Cotton growers are advised to contact their local agent for details on the new method.

This is a day for remembering the supreme sacrifice made by brave American fighting men so that we might enjoy the liberty that is our most precious possession. This is a day for rededicating ourselves to the principles for which so many gave so much.

Steve McGinty returned home Monday after undergoing leg-surgery in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, last Thursday. Scars were multiplied following a leg injury quite some time ago necessitating minor surgery. He will be "fit as a fiddle" very soon. He was accompanied to Lubbock by his aunt, Mrs. R. B. Jones.
