If you have a product you'd like to sell to the national public, you might try running an ad in Life magazine. If you're in good standing and if you'll sign a contract agreeing to buy so much space during the year, you can get a full-page, four color ad for $47,050.00.

Back home---in Western Oklahoma---this is the time of year when everything is buzzing. And this is the time of year I like best.

It's wheat harvest time. Those who have never experienced the spectacle of a great wheat harvest have really missed something. No excitement compares with it.

Kids growing up in wheat communities begin looking forward to the day they're old enough to make a wheat harvest by the time they're 5 or 6. Most of them realize this goal in their early teens.

The wheat harvest hand differs greatly from the boll puller, the fruit picker or other types of migrant workers. He's usually a successful farmer, a school teacher, a high school or college student.

By the hour, his pay is not so hot. But by the day, it is excellent. Seven long days in the field give him a pretty good weekly check. And it's all profit. Board is a fringe benefit and his room, any handy place under the open sky, is free.

Wheat harvest usually begins about June 1 in North Texas or Southwestern Oklahoma. From there it moves to the Texas Panhandle, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, Montana and the Dakotas before coming to an end beyond the Canadian border sometime in September. The combined technical know-how of man and machine does in a day what it used to take weeks to accomplish. Therefore harvest doesn't last long in any one locality.

Modern house trailers, elaborate tents and portable kitchens have taken away some of the ruggedness of wheat harvest, but these conveniences are available to but a few.

Someday, I suppose, they will be available to all. But when this day comes, recruiting of harvest hands will suffer. The adventure will be erased. After all, food tastes best when you're real hungry and sleep is most enjoyable when you're dead tired.

Tiny Lee Opens Restaurant

F. D. (Tiny) Lee was to open Tiny's Restaurant Thursday morning in the building formerly occupied by the Sunshine Cafe.

Lee said the restaurant would be open from 5 a. m. to 10 p. m. seven days a week. Special Sunday dinners will be available for those attending church, he said.

Lee moved to Plains nine months ago from Levelland. Since living here, he has been chef at Alma's. He lived in Levelland about 10 years and operated Tiny's Drive-In there. Altogether, Lee has had 22 years experience in the restaurant business.

In Sales and Income

County Helps Area Lead State

Yoakum County helped the South Plains lead all areas of the state in spendable income and retail sales during 1960.

So says the completely revised consumer market data of Standard Rate and Data Service Inc., Nationally recognized authority on marketing and advertising.

The 8,300 people and 2,300 families of Yoakum County had HORSESHOEING---C. C. Copeland is shown as he mounts a horse upon the hoof of a horse belonging to Gene Phillips. Copeland, this area's only full time horse shoe expert, repeats this performance several hundred times a year.

Shoeing Horses Is No Lost Art

Time was when every little hamlet had one or more blacksmiths, and one of the prime duties of a blacksmith was to shoe horses.

But in recent years, blacksmiths have taken on more technical duties, horse populations have dropped sharply and a horseshoe expert is pretty hard to find.

But living in Plains is one of the few men in the country who is a professional horseshoer. C. C. Copeland, with a portable horseshoe rig which takes him regularly to Lovington, Hobbs, Tatum, Brownfield, Morton, Seagraves, Denver City and a few places in between, is the only horseshoer in this vast horse-loving area.

Although Copeland trimmed his first hoof and shod his first horse when he was a pretty small boy, he's been making a living at the business for only two years.

Except for a horseshoer from Clovis who occasionally visits this area and another from Odessa, Copeland is the only man of his profession operating in these parts. He says he doesn't shoe all the horses, but still has quite a following. A few horse owners still shoe their own and there are two or three fellows who enter the business on a part-time basis.

In a year's time, Copeland says he will shoe between 300 and 400 horses. According to Copeland, horse's hoofs grow similar to a person's fingernails. On the average, a horse's hoofs are trimmed and shod about every six weeks. In a year's time, a horse will grow a completely new hoof. Some go a good bit longer between shoddings and a few get the treatment more often. "Over in New Mexico, horses ridden hard on the rocky soil, go through a set of shoes pretty quickly," he says.

Like everything else, the horseshoe business has changed a lot in recent years. The old "hot fire" process has been replaced by a modern "cold shoe" simplifying the operation and giving greater and more consistent protection.

Horseshoeing is not too much of a seasonal business. Copeland says that business is a little better in the summer, but that's because horses are used more then.

Where do the customers come from? Practically every horse owner is a potential customer. Some horses still don't wear shoes, but most of those which are ridden a lot cannot get by without them.

Three New Stores To Open; Three More Plan Moves

Plains' ever-growing business district is due to undergo another wholesale change within the next few days when three new businesses open and three others move to new and larger quarters.

Within a short time, those who haven't been to Plains for awhile will almost need the services of a guide to find their way around. New faces in old locations and old faces in new buildings will be commonplace.

Opening Saturday will be Barker's Variety. The new business is located in the Clark building, next door to Roger's and the Tumbleweed.

Jerry Hale plans to open a drive-in grocery and service station in the building west of Glover's Cleaners.

The new White Auto Store has set June 24, two weeks from Saturday, as the date of the opening of the business in the Curry-Edwards building.

Two big changes will be noticed this weekend and early next week. Curry-Edwards Pharmacy will be open in the brand new building on the north side of the square this weekend. Fixtures are being installed and all merchandise is expected to be moved by Saturday.

Also moving to the new building is Dortha's Style Shop. This firm will be open for business there Monday morning.

Glover's Cleaners is planning to move into the building vacated by Dortha's. Owner of the new variety store is Cecil Barker of Morton. He will be moving to Plains within a short while. Although a formal opening is planned later, Barker said he would be open for business Saturday.

The new store will carry a complete line of variety goods, including notions, sewing supplies, cosmetics, etc. Barker, who has lived in Morton for 30 years, has been engaged in the real estate, income tax and bookkeeping business there. Before moving to Morton, he taught school in Oklahoma for 24 years.

Hale is not sure when his business will be open, but he hopes to have it going within two weeks. The store will be open seven days a week.

As announced in last week's issue of The Record, the White Auto Store will be opened by Frank Whitlock of Plainview.

Quarters of the new drug store will be 30 feet by 90 feet. The building constructed by T. C. Hightower, is owned by Ty Field. Another 20 by 90 foot section of the building will be occupied by Dortha's.

By Plains Dirt Gardeners

Fix-up, Paint-up, Clean-up Set

By MRS. CLIFFORD ANDERSON
The Plains Dirt Gardeners have proclaimed the week of June 18 as "Fix-up, Paint-up, Clean-up Week."

This is the second year the garden club has sponsored this campaign.

Why should we fix up, paint up and clean up? What does it do to each of us? What good does it do our town and community?

If our property is kept up with small repairs, minor paint work and kept picked up and clean, it takes a much smaller amount of time, effort and money to accomplish this. If these things are left undone it is a major task entailing a much larger expense to finally take care of the property and put it in good shape.

June is a good time for such a campaign. The sand storms are about over and the weather as a whole is quite good. Children are out of school and so the whole family can take part in this effort.

With each member taking part and doing a share, each can enjoy the satisfaction of a job well done.

Children need to learn to take pride in the things that are theirs. So how better can they do this than by joining in and having a part in taking care of their house and yard?

If all of us take care of our property and do our best to keep it up, we will do a great deal to beautify our town, Plains and our community. It will take only a little effort on the part of each of us to have a place to live in which we can all be proud.

Plains Dirt Gardeners make a special plea to property owners of renthouses and trailer spaces to make an effort to see that these places, as well as the property on which they live, are fixed up, painted and cleaned. Renters can do a lot on their own to keep their places clean and in order.

Property in Plains that is owned by people who do not live here should be put in good order.

The value of property automatically goes up where there is an active garden club. How much more value it will have if it is kept up with repairs, paint and the property as a whole kept clean and neat!

Plains Dirt Gardeners invite everyone to come to a kickoff coffee Monday, June 19, at the Clubroom, between 10 and 11 a. m. The coffee will start the work activities.

Next week, the club will have an article on plans for Fix-up, Paint-up and Clean-up Week. Also we will emphasize some things we can all do.

SNAPPED---This 4x4 post supporting a highway sign was snapped in two by Wednesday's twister which passed just east of the city limits. Here, Venum Fitzgerald inspects what is left of the post. In the background is the Roy Fitzgerald home. The tornado cut its path west of the Fitzgerald home.

Just East of City

Twister Strikes in Area

A vicious tornado came within a stone's throw of downtown Plains Wednesday afternoon before taking off on a southward course.

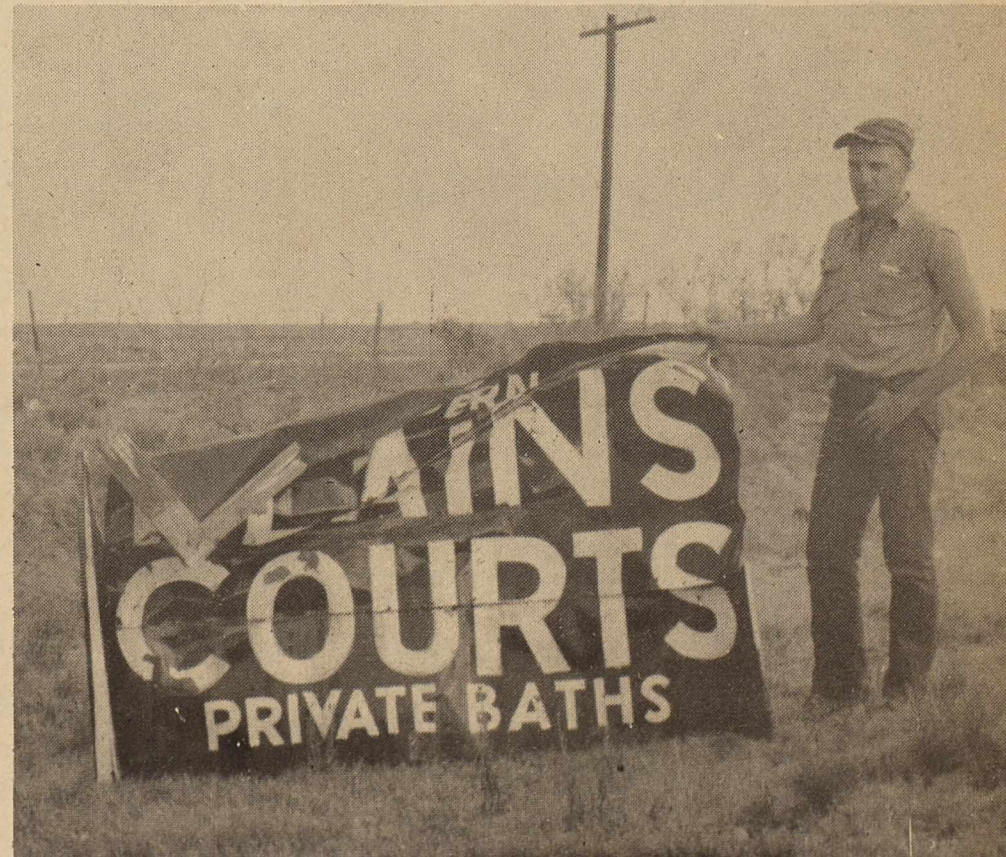

Although no serious damage was done, the twister left its mark. A sign was vaulted 150 feet into the air, tumbleweeds were deposited atop high line wires and a mesquite bush was "picked."

Eyewitnesses to the twister were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fitzgerald and their daughter, Mrs. Melvin Walser. The trio stood in the yard of the Fitzgerald home and watched the tornado move in from the northeast.

According to Fitzgerald, an unidentified motorist traveling east had to stop and let the funnel cross the highway in front of him.

After the twister demolished the sign, it headed straight for Allen Wagley's building, Fitzgerald related. But, according to the witness, it changed courses and zig-zagged back east before heading south and going out of sight.

Fitzgerald said the tornado came within about 200 yards of his home, which is located just east of the city limits. The storm occurred about 4:20 p. m., just as a rain began.

OUT-OF-PLACE---This sign, advertising the Plains Courts was whirled about 150 feet into the air Wednesday afternoon when a twister struck just a few yards east of the city limits. Looking at the damage is Venum Fitzgerald, whose father, mother and sister stood in their yard about 200 yards away and watched the tornado.

Indians on Top

The Indians won two of three games during the past week to take over undisputed leadership of the Little League.

Action of the past week was highlighted when Smith of the Yankees hurled a no-hitter on Thursday to hand the Indians their only loss, 4-3.

Other scores during the week were Cubs 14, Giants 8; Yanks 4, Giants 4; Indians 11, Cubs 6; Indians 16, Giants 1; Cubs 14, Yanks 6.

Passenger cars, $332,000.

While Yoakum County failed to rank high in these areas, when compared to other South Plains counties, the gross farm income here of $8,997 from 1,000 farms was one of the highest anywhere. Only Castro, Crosby, Floyd, Hale and Farmer topped Yoakum in per farm income.

Broken down into different categories, retail sales went like this for Yoakum County:
Food, $2,252,000.
DDrugs, $288,000.
General merchandise, $574,000.
Apparel, $216,000.
Home furnishings, $438,000.
Automotive, $2,200,000.
Filling stations, $1,049,000.

a consumer spendable income of $11,121,000, an average of 4,835 per household. Retail sales came to $8,380,000 or $3,643 per family. Neither of these figures was quite as healthy as most counties of the South Plains. Retail sales, for instance, amounted to about $1,000 per capita. Only sparsely settled Kent and King Counties showed less per

Meixner Boys At McMurry

Harmon and Jack Meixner, sons of the Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Meixner, enrolled Monday for the summer term at McMurry College in Abilene.

Harmon, a 1960 graduate of Plains High School, was a freshman at McMurry during this past year. Jack, a 1961 graduate of PHS, will attend McMurry on an athletic scholarship.

Shower Set for Miss Shobert

A bridal shower honoring Miss Karen Shobert, sister of Mrs. Gene Smith, will be held Friday, June 16, from 3 to 5.

The shower will be in the home of Mrs. L. O. Smith. All friends are invited to attend. Gift selections may be found at Coggburn-Young, the Elsorita and Moore and Oden.

Miss Shobert is the bride-elect of Jim James of Albuquerque.

Faye Worsham and Richard Shores were married in a home wedding recently with the Rev. Charles Logue of Turlock officiating the double ring rites.

The bride chose a floor length gown of white lace over satin for her wedding. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place with a rhinestone tiara and she carried an orchid bouquet.

Kathy Wine was matron of honor. She wore a blue satin street length gown and pinned on a white carnation corsage.

Dillard Worsham, brother of the bride, stood with the groom. The bride's mother donned a sheer nylon, over navy blue satin with white accessories and a white carnation corsage pinned at the shoulder.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the Worsham's home. The two-tiered wedding cake centered the table which was covered with a lace cloth, with punch and coffee service on one end and a pink floral arrangement at the other end.

Lavina Bisceglia served the cake and Kathy Wine served the punch and coffee to more than 30 guests attending the wedding.

The new bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Worsham. She attended El Capitan School in Delhi and will graduate from Livingston High in June.

The groom attended grammar and high school in Cowles, Neb. and is employed in Turlock by the post office.

For their honeymoon trip, the bride donned a white brocade dress, with white accessories and pinned on the orchid from her bouquet.

The newly-weds are making their home on 5th street in Delhi, following a honeymoon in Los Angeles.

Soil Conservation NEWS

By C. MURRELL THOMPSON

Sodding of Bermuda grass, underground pipe for irrigation and cover crops in which to seed grass next year are some of the conservation jobs being applied this week.

New applicants into the Great Plains Program and regular Soil Conservation District work are T. A. Hicks, Brownfield, Mrs. Paul Loe and J. C. Stegall of Plains.

Sam Richardson and Henry May are installing about 2,500 feet of underground pipe this week. This will put irrigation water more uniformly over the land, save water and allow for a better conservation crop rotation.

Rod Duff and Curley Taunton are sodding some Midland Bermuda on the Duff farm southwest of Plains. They already have some Woodward Sand Bluestem, Sideoats Grama and Weeping Lovegrass as well as native range land.

Bob Loe says he is well pleased with the Blue panic on dry crop land as a soil holder, builder and grazing crop. Right now it looks real green and has a lot of cow feed ready to graze.

Aerial spraying of Shinoak by Ty Field, Johnnie Fitzgerald and Chesley Bedford the past week totals over 10,000 acres. Early spraying looks good on Mesquite, Oak, Sage and Turpentine weed.

To set the brush and weeds back by spraying and giving the grass a chance by resting is a complete reverse of the way we usually handle our range. Generally the cows graze the grass off and rest or favor the brush and weeds.

Showers Evade Plains Area

Threatening showers continued to evade the Plains area this week, causing some alarm among farmers and others dependent upon the agriculture industry.

Still unplanted is about 10 per cent of the county's cotton crop and approximately 40 per cent of the feed. County Agent Leo White said Tuesday that there still is plenty of time to plant feed, but the cotton planting season is about to run its course.

There has been no appreciable moisture of general significance since the snows of last winter, making this probably the driest season in more than 30 years.

But despite the lack of moisture, the county's agricultural conditions are not too gloomy. Irrigated cotton and feed are in reasonably good condition and dryland crops are not yet big enough to be suffering badly right now.

Helping the overall picture is the fact that northern sectors have received some moisture.

Most farmers seem to agree that a good fall harvest is possible, provided the drought is broken soon.

Meanwhile, the county's small grain harvest is underway. Wheat, barley and oats acreage is meager, but production has been encouraging. One farmer reported a yield of an estimated 60 bushels per acre on both oats and barley.

Baptists to Hear Guest Preacher

Filling the pulpit Sunday at the First Baptist Church will be the Rev. Jim Bozeman of Frankel City.

The church is without a pastor at the present time since the Rev. C. J. Coffman resigned to accept a position with the Parkview Baptist Church in Littlefield.

Church officials here now are in search of a pastor. A decision is expected soon.

BUCKET SEATS ALONE DO NOT A MONZA MAKE

■ Gee! ■ Little did we know, when we introduced the Corvair Monza last year, that we were starting a Big Thing. We just thought it would be pleasant if you could buy a car that treats you, the driver, like you want to be treated. ■ The bucket seats, of course, are the most obvious evidence of our desire to please you. But they're not the most important thing. No sir. What's really vital is the way a Monza handles—something nobody in the U.S. has yet copied. Or can copy. Because Corvair is the only rear-engine car made in this country, and you know what that means: steering light as thistle-down. (You even park this one more easily, it steers so briskly.) Beautifully balanced braking—the car stays level even under panic braking, which we hope you'll never have to do. Traction and more traction, so you don't become a stick-in-the-mud. The kind of cornering that's sheer joy to experience. ■ You get more: a fully independent suspension that blots out road shocks before they can run you. Clean, crisp styling. Thoroughgoing economy, from purchase price to operating cost. ■ You're not going to be satisfied with bucket seats alone, are you?

State Delegates Named

Miss Roberta Snodgrass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Snodgrass of the Tokio community, has been selected by the American Legion Auxiliary and the faculty of Plains High School to attend the annual Bluebonnet Girls State to be held in Austin June 14-23.

This talented young coed has been the recipient of numerous awards of achievement and scholarship while a student in the local school.

She will be sponsored by the local American Legion Auxiliary and the Tsu Mo Ga Club. These two patriotic organizations wholly endorse the purpose and program of Girls State.

Purpose of American Legion Girls State is to educate young women in the duties, privileges and responsibilities of American citizenship. Its purpose is to awaken within the youth of the nation a sincere conviction that a well-informed intelligent, participating citizenry is most vitally needed to protect and preserve the American institutions.

It is a mythical 51st state, where for a period the citizens of Girls State organize their own city, county and state governments. They choose their own officials in accordance with regular election procedures. They learn the duties of the various city, county and state offices. They introduce and argue their own bills in a legislature.

Every hour of the day is carefully planned so that each girl will have a definite and integral part in the function of Girls State and the opportunity of learning for herself that her government is what she makes it. A visit to the State Capitol will be included in the program which offers the girls an opportunity to assemble in the halls of the legislative bodies and meet state officials.

Lions Plan Pancake Supper

A pancake supper and a white elephant bingo party will be held in the school cafeteria Friday, June 16.

Sponsored by the Lions Club to raise money to promote the Little League and Boy Scout programs, the pancake supper begins at 6 p. m. Admission to the pancake supper will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. The menu will include also bacon and drinks. Following the supper, the white elephant bingo party will get underway. Fifty cents buys a card good for the night. Prizes will be articles donated to the club by various persons of the area.

Anyone having articles around the house which they wish to contribute to this cause should contact P. W. St. Romain.

Nita Williams, Don Williams Pledge Nuptial Vows at Tokio Baptist Church

Miss Nita Louise Williams of Tokio and Donald Ray Williams of Plains pledged nuptial vows at 7 p. m. June 1, in Tokio Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bearden of Tokio and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williams of Plains.

The Rev. Calvin Beach, pastor, read the twin-ring ceremony as the couple stood beneath an arch of greenery flanked by standing baskets of gladioluses.

Otus Walser, accompanied by Jerry Yates, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Bless This House."

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a gown of white net over satin with French lace featured in a highneckline outlined in scallops. Long tapering sleeves came to points over the hands. The fitted bodice came to a point at center front, emphasizing fullness of the floor-length skirt.

A tiara of tulle embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls held a veil of silk illusion. She carried a white orchid surrounded by feathered carnations.

Miss Ruth Hinkle of Plains, maid of honor, wore an orchid dress in combination with matching organza, designed with puffed sleeves and full skirt. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Joe Roberts of Welch, sister of the bridegroom, and Dortha Gray of Plains, wore dresses of like design but in orchid and white checks. Each carried a bouquet of white gladioluses.

Larry Murphy of Plains was best man and ushers were Roberts, brother-in-law of the groom, and Bill Gray of Plains.

Donna and Debra Bearden scattered rose petals for their sister's entrance. The groom's sister, Sharon Williams, and Peggy Hinkle lit the candles.

Parents of the couple and Mrs. Ruth Hinkle assisted in receiving guests at a reception in Fellowship Hall of the church following wedding rites.

Focal point of the table was a four tiered wedding cake with bride and groom. An improvised wedding bell of glass balls was tied with orchid ribbons complemented a white eyelet cloth over orchid.

For a wedding trip to El Paso the bride wore an orchid organza dress over a floral print with orchid velvet belt and a white orchid corsage.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Plains High School, she in May and he with the class of 1960.

They will make their home near Plains where he is engaged in farming.

Union Jumps Insurance

Members of the board of directors of Yoakum County Federal Credit Union voted at the May meeting to increase the insurance on savings from $1,000 to $2,000.

Several members of the Credit Union have expressed desires to buy shares in excess of this amount.

By taking this action, the board has insured that all savings are now insured dollar for dollar up to $2,000. The increase is expected to take care of the Credit Union needs for some time.

At the present, the maximum loan is $1,000. The feasibility of raising this limit has been discussed by the board and action probably will be taken on the matter in the near future.

It has been noted that the Credit Union reached an all-time high in shares this past April and an all-time high in loans in May.

FATHER'S DAY FOR A GOOD SPORT...

Tired of the annual task of deciding what to give Dad on his day? Well, we have good news for you. Dad and you both will appreciate it. Of course we also have some new and different merchandise etc., but we have the usual gifts such as socks, shirts, ties, which is sure to please while removing you from the same old rut of giving Pop the same thing you gave him last year and the year before. Included in this list are attractive paper weights, places for pictures of the children, fancy trouser hangers, cute and useful rulers, manicure sets, jewelry and numerous other items. So let us show you what we have. We'll be glad to assist you in selecting a different kind of gift that Dad will really appreciate.
