MOORE Or Less

by Johnnie Moore

Back a few months ago when I was working for the Record on a salary basis, my oldest daughter, Cheryl Kay, asked me one day how it was that just exactly enough news to fill up the paper happened each week. I am sure aware this week that this isn't the case. You know I'm not just real sure how much news that is.

I guess all the parents and kids are real glad to see school off to a full start again this year.

I heard a little boy, a second grader, ask his mother the first day of school this question. He said, "Mom, why do I have to go again this year? I went last year."

Our oldest started to school this year. The other two having to stay at home felt they sure were being mistreated, but I guess they'll make it. After the first full day of school, Cheryl was sitting down telling us, eager parents that we are, all about school. She explained how she had learned to draw and print her name. Our four-year-old John David, sitting there looking for all the world like a tree full of owls said, "Well, didn't you learn any psychology?"

I told Mr. Harvey next day there seemed to be some shortages of curriculum in the first grade.

I sure was glad to see the project out on the highway urging people to slow down over the Labor Day week-end. This project was sponsored by the Denver City Jaycees and Plains Chamber of Commerce. This is the "hands across the border" kind of thing we need a lot more of. This county has as much to offer and has as big a potential as any county in this area, it we would just work together.

Agriculture Survey Announced

Postmaster A. J. Hayes announced today that 1961 Acreage Survey cards will be distributed to patrons of Plains about September 14.

The Post Office and U. S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1961.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Hayes urges each farmer patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to post office or mailbox. Mail carrier working on this project is T. C. Oxford.

A man is a success today if it costs him more to support the government than his wife and children.

Cowboy Band Looks Good

The Cowboy Band of Plains High School cut some very impressive capers on the football field during half-time activities of the Plains-Friona game. Mr. Gene Young, director of the band, made known the fact that about 50 members of the Cowboy Band had attended a band clinic at McMurry College in Abilene this past summer.

The band was instructed in marching and drill techniques which were under the direction of Warren Thaxton, Director of Warren Thaxton, Director of the Abilene High School band and Dr. R. T. Bynum was in charge of the other activities at the clinic in Abilene.

The Plains group is already much improved over last year and according to Mr. Young will become a really first class group this year.

Officers for the 1961-62 school year are as follows: Sam St. Romain, President; Oneta Maixner, Vice President; Betty Hamm, Secretary-Treasurer. Quartermasters: James Cogburn and D'Lynn McGinty. Librarians: Jean Stewart, Dana Bryson and Loretta Taylor. Drum Major: Marsha White. Twirlers are, head twirlers Mary Johnson and Ann Lattimore, others are Carolyn Warren, Betty Hamm, Jane Warren and Tonya Randolph. Student Conductor: Loretta Taylor.

Members of the 64 piece Cowboy Band are; Trombones-Billy Stockstill, Pharon Pharr, Butch Gayle, Myron Goehry, and Jimmy Smith; Baritone-David Johnston, David Lusk and Bobby Stroud; Bass Horn; Kenneth Powell; French Horns-Paula Tidwell, Terry Powell, and Sayla Kerrick; Drums-Jack Lowe, Joe Wagley, Omar Hyman, Richard Spencer, Janith Tucker, Carolyn Warren and Mary Johnson; Cornets; Sam St. Romain, Earnie Anderson, Clyde Lynn, Milton Watson, Donna Nugent, James Cogburn, Jim Tippit, Sidney Pippin, Joe Dan Cook, Rip Walser, Joyce Kissinger, Helen Clanahan and Treta Kay Rowland; Clarinets; Marsha White, D'Lynn McGinty, Dana Bryson, Oneta Maixner, Peggy Ethridge, Sylvia McGinty, Betty Hamm, Brenda Hickman, Betty Huddleston, Linda Hinkle, Patsy Perrin,

FIRST BALE---First bale of cotton ginned in the Plains area of Yoakum Co. sets before the county courthouse. The cotton was grown by Dickie Green who farms on the east side of the Co. near the Terry line. Bale was ginned by Tokio Co-op Gin, managed by Amos Smith.

Portales Rams Footballers Weigh Heavy Again

Plains Cowboys, with a very impressive victory over the Friona Chieftains under their belts, face the Portales Rams this Friday night at Portales. Game time is 7:30 p.m. New Mexico time or 8:30 Texas time.

In expressing his opinion on the game, Coach Jack Pierce said that in his estimation, the game should be a very good one and that the Cowboys have the goods to wind up on the long end of the score, if they have the desire to. Pierce stated further that in comparing the Rams this year to last year's team, in his opinion, Plains had its worst game of last year's season against Portales.

The Rams are again this year, as last, a very big team. You will recall from last year that the Portales line weighed about four pounds per man heavier than the Red Raider line of Texas Tech. The backfield is some heavier than last year, averaging out at about 165 pounds. The line sizes up this way: left end, 170; left tackle, 200; left guard, 155; center, 155; right guard, 195; right tackle, 220 and right end

125. The two brightest spots in the Portales offense, which is two halfbacks behind the QB and the fullback out as a wingman, with the ends very often going into a split formation, are the right end who weighs only 125 pounds but is mighty fleet of foot, and the left halfback who very often teams with right end in the passing attack. Their passing attack is used a great deal and it is reported the Rams quarterback can throw the ball real well.

According to Coach Pierce our line is as good as the Rams even if not as large and it is obvious that our speed is our biggest asset in this contest. The coaching staff feels that the Cowboys are getting better each time the ball is snapped and that even though Portales has a big team and a good one, Plains should wind up the victors.

Friday's game, of course, will be played according to New Mexico rules which are a little different in a few instances to the Rules for Texas school-boy football. In New Mexico, either team can run with a fumble; the ball is automatically dead in the end zone; and no matter whether the ball is run, passed or kicked, the extra point after a touchdown is only worth one point.

Portales' record for the year is one for two. The Rams beat Ft. Sumner in their season opener 40 to 12 but lost to Clovis last week 13-0. This last game gives very little information actually to us as to the Rams' potential as this is always a grudge game.

"The key to Friday night's game is what the Cowboys think they can do," says coach Pierce.

Plains Exes Announce '61 Homecoming Activities

After a meeting held by the Plains High School Ex-students association in the home of Mrs. Bob Loe Sept. 4, plans were revealed for the 1961 homecoming event. The homecoming activities for the ex-students will be held when Plains meets Wink Sept. 22.

Activities get underway at 3 p.m. with a pep rally in the High School Auditorium. All students and ex-students are urged to attend. The ex-students meal will be served from 5-6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Kenneth Hale or Mrs. Bob Loe. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. This ticket will also entitle you to the Plains-Wink game.

All exes are to meet back in the cafeteria for a business meeting and fellowship following the game.

The morning program will include introductory remarks by Principal Neil Taylor, a welcome by a member of the student body, response by Glen C. Smith, president of the Ex-students Association, an address by Charles Jackson, a 1947 grad who is now vice president of Idalou State Bank as well as several numbers by the high school band, yells from the Pep Squad a talk by a representative of the football team and explanation of homecoming activities.

It has been explained that ex-students living here will not receive invitations by mail, but they of course are invited. This policy was adopted in order to cut down on the expense of the event, the feeling that local ex-students will need no formal notice.

Annual Staff Hard At It

The students of Plains High School engage in many extracurricular activities, and one of the most comprehensive and most difficult of these is the publishing of The Cowboy, the Plains School Yearbook.

It is the job of the annual staff to plan the annual, to prepare it for publication, and to finance this large undertaking. The sale of the annuals pays for about one-half the cost; the other half must come from the sale of advertising space in the yearbook. This space is bought each year by the merchants of Plains, Denver City, and Brownfield. Without these advertisers there would be no Cowboy yearbook.

Working with the two editors, Roberta Snodgrass and Carolyn Murphey, will be Milton Watson,

Plains Record Announces Office Hours

The Plains Record, under new management, announced this week that regular office hours will be maintained from Monday through Wednesday each week. The phone number of the Record is GL 6-4116. Someone may be reached at that number anytime, but someone will be in the office from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and again from 1:30 to 5 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

Local citizens are encouraged and, in fact, urged to call in their items of interest to the paper.

This opportunity is taken to express a sincere desire on the part of the paper to be able to serve this area better and better, but to do this we need your help and cooperation. So, when someone visits in your home, or there is illness, or any of the things that are of interest to us about our friends and neighbors, let us know so we may share it with all our friends.

One addition has been made to the Record this week, in that the photo processing is now being done at the paper office. This is in an attempt to give the best possible coverage through pictures to the patrons and friends of the Record.

Harvest Getting Well Started

E. O. Winkles, manager of the local Goodpasture Grain and Milling Co., has announced that the milo harvest seems to be getting a pretty start this week.

Winkles stated that about four and one-half to five cars are being received each day. He said, however, that the moisture content is still very high, in that it is averaging about 18%.

Grain prospects for the county as a whole are much better than average for this season.

Wife: "Albert, the butcher won't give us any more credit. What's to become of us?"
Hubby: "Vegetarians."

Q. Two men were named Ben Day; which one of them invented the Ben Day shading process? A. Benjamin Day the younger (1838-1916). In the 1860's he worked as a designer for his father (Benjamin Harry Day, publisher, 1810-1889) and about 1878 he invented the Ben Day process. He surely belongs in printing's Hall of Fame.

Eighty pages of print can be photographed on one side of a 3x5-inch "Micro-card." They are virtually invisible until seen through a powerful magnifier. Wonderful? Yes. But still more wonderful is the fact that in Chaldea, thirty centuries ago, they wrote tablet inscriptions too small to be read by the naked eye, and to decipher them they used thick lenses made of quartz.

After a very trying day at the office, the husband was enjoying his pipe and reading the evening paper. His wife, who was working on a crossword puzzle, suddenly called out, "John, what is a female sheep?" "Ewe," replied her husband. . . And that's how the fight began.

SOIL Conservation NEWS

New applications for assistance in the Great Plains Program are Roy A. Cox and son Jimmy, J.W.O. Allridge and Daniel Nelson. Work continues on new revised Conservation plans over the district.

Interest by absentee land owners seems to be increasing. This past week representatives of the Randall estates west of Denver City were out from Tulsa, Okla. They plan some development of their land and are receiving help from the Soil Conservation Service, in studying their Standard Soil survey before and plowing is done. Work on improvement of the grass on the range land also is planned.

Cover crops are really taking a big boost this year. Implement dealers report more demand for new or used grain drills than ever before. Talk on the street and at all types of meetings may be heard about what kind and how much cover crops are being planted. Sam Richardson writes that he and Henry May are planting small grain, Vetch, Black Medic and Peas for cover crops and soil improving crops.

With the good top soil moisture now is the time to plant a cover for the land that otherwise would be bare next spring. The addition of organic matter as well as cover by planting crops is no small item.

Make that extra effort now, plant for cover next spring.

Midland Bermuda grass planting is the main conservation work being done this week. Robert Chambliss, J. C. Stegall, James Wasson and many other district cooperators are using Bermuda not only to hold their soil but to provide many cow months of good grazing.

New District and Great Plains Conservation plans are being written each week. This past week Leon Simpson completed his plan to plant a lot of his land to grass over a period of the next three years. Arnie (Pete) Todd, Charles Rosenberry, Leroy McCravy, T. A. Hicks, Jim Pharr and several others are in the process of working out conservation plans on land they own or operate.

W. M. Nelson who recently received his Great Plains contract has begun work on 2500 feet of 8 inch underground irrigation pipe. The use of this pipe will help Nelson move his cotton in a crop rotation, save water and do a more efficient job of watering his crops.

Brush control work in the form of aerial spraying is not only resulting in brush control but a lot of grass growing. Pastures sprayed and rested on land of Johnnie Fitzgerald, Chesley Bedford, Ty Field, Rusty McGinty, Charles Williams and Clyde Coke all are doing real well.

ADVANCE PLANNING PAYS OFF

Sept. 16, Your City Power And Light Co. Is 4 Years Old

We are extremely pleased with the growth that has been made in this short time. The city power system now serves more than 80% of the electric users in the city.

For the year ending June 31, 1961 the electric department shows a $17,670.39 excess of operating receipts over operating disbursements. Of this figure $15,717.47 went for capital improvement to expand the system to many new customers, and the balance went into the general fund to help pay off sewer bonds.

With the installation of the second 500 kw generating unit within a year you have tripled the original capacity of the plant, and now have a utility system with book value of $253,334.73.

We extend a most sincere invitation for you to visit the plant since the installation of this new unit, and solicit your questions and any suggestions which you may have for service improvement.

"TooMuch---TooLittle" Rain New Insurance Plan Announced

The Pluvian Insurance Managers, Inc., in association with K. T. Martin Company of Dallas, Texas, announced that they now have the facilities to issue insurance to farmers that will guarantee a maximum or minimum amount of rainfall in their area.

With the addition of this plan, the American Farmer is rapidly approaching the day when he can have complete coverage to insure a fair and equitable profit from his crop, regardless of the perils involved. K. T. Martin, acknowledged crop insurance expert in the United States, has this to say: "With the issuance of a good workable rain insurance policy, which we now offer, about the only perils the farmer can't insure against or control are temperature and wind--and we're working on those."

The "Minimum or maximum guarantee precipitation policy" came about after years of statistical research and study.

According to Mr. Martin: "If a Farmer or Rancher has property in an area serviced by a U. S. Department of commerce first-order weather station he can make application for a policy of insurance which will guarantee him that not less than, or not more than a certain amount of precipitation will fall at the named station in a given amount."

Mr. Martin went on to say: "With coverage such as this offered by the Pluvian Insurance Managers, Inc., of Dallas I feel certain that in the future farmers will be able to have as secure a business venture with no more risk than the average type business."

Little Boy: "The people next door sure must be poor."

Mother: "What makes you think so?"

Little Boy: "Because they made such a fuss about their baby swallowing a quarter."

Feed Questions Answered

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Chamber of Commerce of Plains has joined those of Denver City, Seminole and Seagraves in working out plans for a two-county cattle feeding program. Following are some questions and answers dealing with the proposed program.)

Q--Why a cattle feeding program for this area?

A--Feeders come into our area, buy cattle to ship to Iowa or California. They also buy our maize and ship to those far-away places. If they can ship both cattle and feed and make money, we believe we can do it better here at home.

Q--Who is sponsoring this cattle feeding operation?

A--The Denver City Chamber of Commerce initiated the program, and realizing that the project was too large for a small area, invited the Chambers of Commerce from Plains, Seagraves and Seminole to participate and make it a two-county program.

Q--Why not encourage individuals to feed cattle instead of a group enterprise?

A--The cost of the equipment for feeding is too great for the small operator. The cost of hand labor makes it mandatory that feeding be mechanized. Equipment for a larger enterprise is less costly per unit than for small operations.

Farmers who have no interest in feeding have surplus maize that should be marketed through livestock. For the average farmer, cattle feeding is a sideline business and he cannot give it the time needed for a successful operation. Cattle feeding has become a highly specialized business and the average farmer cannot keep up with the latest successful practices without interfering with his other farming operations.

Q--How large a program is planned?

A--A study is being made for a capacity of 2,000 head and a feeding period of 140 days so that if a year-long operation is carried out, a total of 5,200 head could be fed.

Q--What will it cost to set up this operation?

A--The Texas A&M Extension Service has estimated that the cost for land, feed lots, feed bunks, silage pits and other equipment will amount to approximately $100,000.

Q--How will this operation be financed?

A--It is proposed that 200 shares of stock be sold at $500 per share to raise $100,000. It is also proposed that each share holder put up 25 tons of maize or its equivalent in cash.

Q--Will this operation be handled as a company, corporation or a cooperative?

A--The people who buy the shares will determine which type of organization they want.

and nothing for Friona's Chieftains.

Friona threatened twice more, once in the third quarter, when they advanced to the Plains 10, and again in the fourth period to the Cowboy eight yard line.

As for statistics, Friona gained 187 yards rushing, 69 yards passing and made 10 first downs. Plains was able to advance 400 yards rushing, 68 passing and 16 first downs. 325 of the Cowboy yards rushing were made by the first-team backfield.

Ranza Boggess, number 44 and number 30, Tommy Baxter made very impressive showings on the Chieftain defense.

The Cowboy's much improved defense was sparked by the outstanding efforts of Dennis Hickman, Sam St. Romain and Butch Sims.

Q--Who can buy shares?

A--It is intended that farmers would buy most of the shares but any individual, whether he is a businessman, professional man or a private investor, may buy shares.

Q--How much can a farmer expect to realize out of his maize over market price?

A--It is impossible to give an answer to this question since so many factors are involved. A farmer who sold maize to the feed lot would receive market value for his feed. If he is a share holder, he would share in the profits from the feed pen.

Q--Who will manage the operation?

A--The share holders will elect a board of directors who will hire a manager.

Q--Where will this feed lot be located?

A--The Board of Directors will determine the location. The Texas Extension Service points out that one of the most important considerations is good drainage.

Q--Can a farmer or rancher bring in his own cattle to be fed out?

A--Yes, this could be done by charging a fixed rate for feed, labor and yardage. However, the final decision would be made by the directors.

Q--Why not bring in a commercial feeder to put in a feed lot?

A--The commercial feeder would buy your grain at the open market price and you as a farmer would get no more for your grain than any other grain buyer would pay. If there is a profit in the operation, the profits would go to the share holders.

Q--Where can I get more information?

A--Leo White, county agent at Plains, and Calvin Holcomb, county agent at Seminole, are working with the Chambers of Commerce at Denver City, Plains, Seagraves and Seminole. Talk to these men or see any official of your Chamber of Commerce.

"Brothers," said the preacher, "The subject of my sermon today is liars." "How many in this congregation have read the 35th chapter of Matthew?"

Nearly all the hands in the congregation went up.

"You are just the people I want to talk to. There is no such chapter."

Last Friday night saw the Plains Cowboys bounce back from a stunning defeat at the hand of the Golden Cranes to a very impressive victory over the Friona Chieftains, another Class AA team.

Plains was able to find success in each of the four game periods, scoring 30 points to the Chieftains zero.

In the first period of play Butch Hawkins raced 13 yards for 6 points and Ronnie Hendricks kicked the extra point making the tally 7 - 0 for the Cowboys. Friona seriously threatened in this period by advancing the ball to the Cowboy five yard line. Plains was able, though, to tighten up their defense and hold.

The second period saw quarterback, Mike Fields, drive hard on a quarterback sneak making the yard necessary for the second T. D. Hendricks was again successful in the kick attempt, bringing the half-time score to a substantial 14-0.

Third quarter play was highlighted when Steve McGinty charged 15 yards for the third Cowboy score. Hendricks, successful on each of the two kick attempts, ran the ball over for two points, leaving the Cowboys with an impressive 22-0 lead over Friona.

In the final period of play Hendricks, already responsible for points in each of Plains' scoring situations, galloped 35 yards for the fourth and final T. D. Hawkins then carried for the extra points making the final score 30 for the Cowboys

Fashion Resolutions
 It's that time of year again. Most of us are looking back on the old year and resolving new ways to improve '61. One area that's almost always forgotten is clothes - not ours, of course, but how about that man in our lives?
 With a little extra thought and planning in the new year a wife can do much to improve her husband's appearance and help him become that well-groomed, well-dressed escort - the most flattering asset any woman can have.
 Start at the beginning and be sure that he has a good supply of shaped coat hangers to keep the built-in contour of his suits, and an equal supply of clamped trouser hangers to help prolong the center crease and hang out the folds.
 Check to be sure your husband is wearing the correct shirt size. Very often a man will continue to wear the same size regardless of pounds gained or lost. To fit properly a collar should fit comfortably but securely around the neck and cuffs should end at the wristbone, showing about 1/4 inch beneath the suit sleeve.
 Probably the most important feature of a man's appearance is his collar. According to the makers of Arrow shirts, always choose the collar to suit the face type of the wearer. For example: a long thin face looks best in a short spread Glen type collar whereas a heavy face needs a medium point, medium spread collar such as the Drake.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

One development which may prevent camping from being robbed by modern mechanization of its age-old charms is the advent of boat camping. With a boat the wilderness is never out of reach, suggests Willard Crandall, Boats Editor, SPORTS AFIELD Magazine.
 Of all the kinds of camping, boat camping is the most versatile. You can drive to your launching place trailing your boat, or go to a wilderness campsite or boat with a fleet of friends. Whichever you choose it will always be with a maximum of camping convenience; for in your boat you can carry all your outdoor gear without strain and you will have more time and energy to explore the wilderness.
 Although it is said that roads go everywhere these days, there are many waterways from Maine to California that still take you where no roads lead. Not only are there the wilder shores shut off by marshes, cliffs or back country, but the waterways are dotted with wooded, uninhabited islands which are perfect for camping.
 Boat camping can be just as luxurious or primitive as you want it to be. You can sleep on spring-filled mattresses and take a portable refrigerator for drinks. At the other end of the scale, you can drink from a spring at the head of a creek.
 A portable boat, ultralight motor and its small fuel supply will get you there.
 For shallow-water camping there's nothing like a canoe. No other portable boat will carry a camping load the way a canoe will. Light utility boats are good for shorter trips where little or no portaging is needed. However, sleeping aboard is seldom practical with these shallow-water craft. The larger utilities are perfectly suited to deep-water camping trips. They're large enough to carry a camping load and still give the extra margin of safety you need when making a long trip in strange waters. The larger size of course makes sleeping aboard or even afloat safe fun, not cramped-up roughing it.

Who Is Alice?

Who is Alice? Alice is a Duroc gilt owned by Royce Chance, a local Plains FFA member from Tokio. The gilt is to be Royce's project for the coming year.

On Wednesday, Aug. 30, I visited projects east of Plains. It was getting late when I picked the boys up. Jerry Jones, Don Davis, Olan Smith, Johnny Pippin, Sidney Pippin and Royce Chance all play football for the cowboys. We waited until after practice to look the projects over.

Royce told us all about his project on the way to Tokio. It seems that Royce had no place to keep his project but had arranged to keep it at Kenneth Thompson's place in the pen with a full sister, Letha.

When we arrived, we could hear the hungry squeals from the little barn that houses the swine in. We walked around the corner of the barn to see Letha standing on her back hooves happily anticipating a big meal. Royce looked somewhat puzzled that Alice was not to be seen. A search of the barn failed to produce his project. At this point, the Arkansas hog calling contest began. We searched the milo and cotton field without success. Since the barn is next to the Brownfield Highway, we had visions of stealing, of trucks or cars hitting the gilt and numerous other possibilities.

It was getting late so we continued the remaining four miles into Tokio still wondering about Alice. When we arrived Royce's father informed us that he had moved the gilt during the day, putting an end to our frustration.

Alice is still happily growing on the cheapest feed available, scraps from the cafe in Tokio.

The thirtieth day of August was a very interesting and amusing day for this Ag teacher and I will long remember.

Respectfully Submitted,
Jerry Stockton
Vo. Ag, Teacher

In a small town a judge fined a prisoner $10 for breaking a window. The prisoner tendered him a $20 bill in payment. The judge searched his own pockets in vain for bills to change the twenty and then came up with a solution. "The Court," he ordered, "having no change for a $20 bill decrees that the prisoner go out and break another window."

And then there's the Hollywood star who never forgets his humble beginnings. Every year he goes back to the New York slums--to visit his wife and kids.

PLAINS, TEXAS

Remember The Dogs

Hunting dogs, especially setters, have a mighty hard time in hot weather. So don't forget to give yours plenty of shade and water at all times. Many sportsmen are inclined to neglect the pooch during off-season.

Check Trotlines Often

When running trotlines at night be sure to check them at least every three hours. Rough fish take a good toll of trotline bait—and empty hooks catch no fish. Keep those hooks baited by frequent checking.

Warning Bells

A turkey bell rigged on the shoe line, dangling from your trotline, will save many trips running hooks. The bell will ring when your bait is tampered with. No ring, no rebaiting.

Retrieve in Spurts

Your retrieve should be more or less erratic when spinning for bass.

This is especially true when using a spoon, as the steady twinkle of a spoon looks most unlife-like when viewed by a fish. Let the spoon dip and rise, slow down and speed up, for life-like action.

When glue dissolves in blood, pour mixture in a shallow bowl or pan and let cool until thick. Cut into short, bait-sized blocks or strips and then go bait your lines.

Make A Hit With Misses

When a bass strikes and misses, wait a spell before casting out over that spot again.

This is especially true of bait-casting. But even fly fishermen can profit by this advice.

Improving Cheap Flyrods

Avoid buying cheap flyrods. Among obvious drawbacks is the fact that they do not have enough guides to control the line properly.

But if you already have such a rod, it can be improved by re-spacing its guides and adding a few of your own. These can be bought at any sporting goods store for about the cost of a cigarette each.

Clear Water Fishing

Clear water is hard to fish. Even old pros have trouble with it.

You can help matters a lot by using patience. Cast out your plug. The fish will scatter. Let the plug sink to the bottom. Leave it there—three-four-five-six minutes—then start your retrieve.

By that time the fish will have forgotten the original splash of your plug and may go for it.

New Use for Tin Shears

Pack a pair of small tin shears in your duffle bag next hunting trip.

They are excellent for chopping off the legs, wings, heads, etc., of any game you might be dressing.

Saves dulling your knife on bones.

Be Alert for Snakes

Watch out for snakes when in the field, or wear snake-proof boots. Don't think there are not snakes about just because of the calendar. A warm sun on a cold day often brings out the reptiles.

Also, remember that rattlers don't always rattle before striking. So don't depend on your ears.

Look for moccasins around water and in damp places. Rattlers usually inhabit rocky or timbered country.

Always carry a snake-bite kit, to be on the safe side.

"Seasoned" Hunting Clothes

Smoke those new-smelling hunting clothes over a campfire. This will prepare them for the hunting season so they won't scare off game, or get ribald comments from your fellow hunters.

Color and Deep Fishing

The deeper you fish the less important color becomes.

Colors on your lures tend to lose individuality the deeper they sink. Red is the first to lose distinction.

So concentrate on plug action in deep water, and never mind the color of your bait.

On the surface, however, color does count, with red and white the most popular. Contrast of the two colors seems to please (or displease) bass especially.

Summer Fly Fishing

Small wet flies usually are thought of as early spring bait. But it is surprising how often they work in dead summer when the water is sluggish and clear. Fish 'em deep and slowly in the pools.

Stretch Trotline Tight

How you stretch the main line of your trotline is very important. Market catfishermen know this and their catches are generally big.

Stretch line tight, so that when a fish bites, the hook will set at once.

Patching Holes in Boots

An enduring emergency patch for that hole in your rubber boot can be made by heating (not too hot) enough common tire tape to do the job, and applying to the dried surface of the boot. It lasts!

A Few Hunting Don'ts

Never say anything against your hunting partner's dog. Also, don't pat it or feed it. And don't give the dog orders.

If you kill a bird, tell the owner . . . not the dog.

Follow these don'ts and you'll keep the respect and friendship of your partner.

To Clean Ducks Easily

Next time you scald ducks to remove the feathers, try using a home detergent in the water.

B And Jr. Hi Games Thursday

Plains seventh and eighth grader football team will meet the O'Donnell Junior high team in Plains. Game time is 4:30 p.m. on Thursday.

The high school B team will play O'Donnell at the same time in O'Donnell.

Bob McDonnell hospitalized in Marlin, Texas. Expected to be there about 2 weeks. Seems to be feeling some better from back trouble.

Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass of Tokio is in the Brownfield Hospital and is feeling better. Mrs. Snodgrass is the grandmother of Latrell McDonnell.

In a Paris cafe at an early morning hour a guest sat at his table. One waiter said to another, "Now I've seen you waken that fellow five times. Why don't you send him on home?"

"Do you think I should?" replied the other. "Each time

I wake him up he asks for the bill and pays it."

"Let's not go to that restaurant."

"Why not?"

"No one goes there anymore. It's too crowded."

If at this moment I could wave a magic wand throughout the realm of the organization and my wish be granted, it would be that every club woman become a 'round table' discussion group." This year we are following Mrs. Ozbrin's suggestion," said Mrs. Field.

Postman and dog stood eyeing each other at the gate when the lady of the house came to the door. "Don't be afraid of the dog," she said. "She's a female, you see, and she likes you."

"Madam," countered the fellow with the sack on his shoulder, "the mere fact that she's a female does not assure me that she had any affection for me. I'm a mailman, not a male dog!"

in with normal operations for Fall Out protection. The greatest need is a survival kit-fitted to sustain life for a week or ten day period." AUSTIN, Tex.--Radioactive fallout is under close scrutiny at Texas' two testing stations in Austin and El Paso.

Resumption of nuclear testing by the Soviet Union brought on the 24-hour-a-day shift atop the State Health Department building in Austin where sampling devices, working like vacuum cleaners, pull jet streams of air through a filter to measure fallout.

During the four year nuclear test ban, radioactivity got progressively lower. Before the tests were stopped, engineers said it was 50 to 100 times higher. They expect results of Russian shots to begin showing up here within the next few days.

Meanwhile, Gov. Price Daniel announced a survey is being launched in Texas to make fall-out shelter space available over the state. He said Col. R. Paul West of the U.S. Army Engineers at Fort Worth, who has been assigned to survey, will work in coordination with the State Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Division and local civil defense officials.

to find ways to relieve the current "disastrous poultry prices which are at the lowest point in the history of commercial broiler production."

"This is not just a local situation in Texas," White said. "The entire national broiler industry is suffering from a price depression."

He reported poultry prices dropped in the past week to as low as 10.5 cents per pound, or as much as five cents below cost for many producers.

Meanwhile, the Attorney General's Department is studying the record of a special court of inquiry to determine if anti-trust violations are involved in the price decline.

Witnesses testified the trouble is overproduction. Actually the overproduction is not in Texas but in the 21 other broiler producing states.

Phil Friberg, manager of the Western Hatcheries in Gonzales, said 50 per cent of Texas' broiler producers will be out of business if something doesn't happen.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson wants to determine if "there is any effort to price the Texas poultry producer out of business." PAPER BACKS IN SCHOOL? --State Board of Education has launched a study into the question of how much could be saved by using paper-back books in schools, and whether it would be worth it.

"We can't say what the savings will be until the study is made," State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar said, "but it appears the initial savings will be considerable." He pointed out the principal cost of some books is what's inside, rather than the materials used.

Board authorized the Texas Education Agency to start by asking bids on both soft cover and hard cover editions of one textbook -- Vocal Music for seventh and eighth grades. It also authorized the agency to have a qualified laboratory test the wearability of paper backs against hard covers and submit findings.

DEMOCRAT TURNS REPUBLICAN--Jack Cox of Breckenridge, former member of the Texas House of Representatives who ran as a democrat for Governor in 1960, announced he is enlisting in the Republican Party "as a buck private."

"I can no longer support nor be a part of the Democratic Party under its present leadership and political platforms," he said. "And I shall immediately exercise my constitutional privilege of pledging my efforts and dedicating whatever abilities I may have to assist the Republican Party in its fight to restore constitutional government."

He said he will gladly serve the party of his new choice "in any capacity, no matter how small."

But he left the door open to run for Governor again. He polled some 620,000 votes in a two-man race that Governor Daniel won with 909,000 votes in 1960.

ROAD MAINTENANCE FUNDS NEEDED--State Highway Commission is asking more flexibility in use of funds for maintenance of Farm-to-Market roads.

Problem today is adequate maintenance, improvement and reconstruction of roads already built. Therefore, a portion of the total F-M earmarked funds must be spent for maintenance.

Governor Daniel vetoed the earmarked construction funds for the second year of the new biennium as a step in this direction. The Highway Department expects legislation to be introduced at the coming special session to finish the job.

SHORT SNORTS
About a nickel a day --that's what tax experts figure the new sales tax will cost the average Texan whose income is figured in the three-to-four-thousand-dollar bracket.

State Treasurer Jesse James reports a slump of $57,746 in August sales of cigarette tax stamps.

H.S. (Hank) Brown, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, predicts the Texas sales tax "will retire more legislators than ever before in history." He predicted "Texas will not take this tax."

State draft quota for October, calling for 911 men, is 201 less than September call. State Selective Service Director Morris Schwartz reports 6,002 men will be given pre-induction examinations in October.

Daniel joined independent producers in pleas for action to stem the tide of falling Texas crude oil prices.

"In view of rising equipment and operating costs, crude purchasers should be thinking of some price increase," he said. "Domestic crude oil is long overdue for more realistic prices if needed exploration is to be stimulated. Lower prices, combined with a stringent law allowable pattern in Texas, will continue to aggravate the problem of the domestic oil producing industry. This, together with excessive foreign oil imports, some of them by the price-cutting companies, will hamstring the domestic industry and the producing states."

"I hope these and other purchasers will consider the plight of the domestic industry in their future actions," he concluded.

The president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, James F. West, said a personal appeal is being made to the heads of purchasing companies "in hope that common sense will assert itself."
