

INDEPENDENCE DAY

MOORE Or Less

by Johnnie Moore

"Most people say no to temptation about once weakly." -- Uncle Zeb.

"People who think twice, usually have only half as much to say." -- Ditto.

Many are certainly viewing the U. S. Supreme Court's decision made this week in regard to public prayer with mixed emotions.

The Court ruled on a case supplied by the State of New York that it was alien to have prayer in the public schools of that state.

There are a couple, if not more, sides to the question, that all of us should consider before completely exploding.

If the prayers had been a mandatory thing instead of, as they are in all schools, to my knowledge, voluntary, it would be a question of a highly different coloration.

But, as is, which I guess we ought to be getting used to it, in my opinion, the Supreme Court of our land has certainly overstepped its bounds.

Basis for the decision, as I understand it, is to make sure that religious freedom for all groups, Christians, Jews, Buddhists, Mohammedans and the many others, is protected and kept in tact.

I see religious freedom somewhat differently, evidently, than does the supreme court. It fails to register on me how in the world religious freedom can be insured for one group by limiting the freedom to practice a portion of the religious necessity of another group.

This country of ours, its schools, its laws and manner of government, are supposedly and purportedly founded on a deep faith in God and in God-given rights of the individual, and now here comes the highest court in the land saying the only way we can protect those rights is by violating them. Since when can't a Christian pray when and where he feels he needs to.

Since when, also, will a restraining order grant and insure freedom.

I guess before long they'll get around to outlawing the whole works. Sounds ridiculous doesn't it. But, honestly now, did you ever think you'd see the day when it would be against the law of the land to offer a prayer?

I heard a speaker at a certain function in Plains a few weeks ago make a statement that somewhat ties in with this, which, as far as I am concerned, it is completely ridiculous. He said, and I quote, "Men who love America, don't criticize her."

This to me is a great deal like saying that if you love your children, you'll never punish them.

I love America, as do most of us.

This is the reason, when I see the basic freedoms that are extended only this completely in America, being taken away, one by one and all too rapid pace, that I become mighty critical and just a little hot under the collar.

I just honestly wonder how long old "John Q. Public" you and I are going to put up with it.

You know the voice of the American people still controls this government of ours, unless that voice just stays silent.

Another matter about which many of us might just become a little forgetful is the Medi-care plan which the Administration has pulled out all stops for trying to bulldoze through the Congress.

Picture federal employees telling doctors what medicines and drugs could be prescribed under a federal health care program for aged hospital patients.

Think of federal employees telling hospitals and nursing homes what services they could offer their aged patients under the program and what they could not.

Federal authority over these matters is a fundamental part of the Administration's proposed health care program for (Continued on page 4)

Salt Water Disposal Plan Investigated

Reports of the possibility of a network of pipelines, storage tanks and disposal wells to do away with unwanted brine-water wastes pumped up along with petroleum oil in Yoakum County were heard in Plains this week. Full details of the proposed plans were not available, but the project, in the case that the Texas Railroad Commission makes a favorable ruling in September, that is that it becomes unlawful to dump salt water in open, unlined surface pits, a Kansas firm, it is reported, is seriously contemplating this undertaking.

Ed Reed, the Midland hydrologist, retained by the Yoakum County Water Conservation Association, has stated previously that, in all probability, the hearing on his findings of the water pollution conditions in the county will be presented to the RRC in September.

If the court rules that surface disposal is doing any appreciable amount of pollution in the area, and rules also that surface disposal must be done away with, about the only alternative available would be the use of injection-type disposal wells.

Out of the first 19 water samples sent to the State's laboratories for analysis, 3 of them showed to have too high a salt content to be fit for consumption or for irrigation purposes.

Cash Give-Away Plans Aired

Chamber of Commerce officials announced here today that the final formulation of plans for "Cash Give-Away" by Plains merchants are rapidly taking place. The plan as outlined tentatively by Chamber president, Frank Whitlock would work something on the order of a weekly drawing for cash prizes.

A suggested level for the prizes was set at First Prize - $50; Second Prize - $25; and Third Prize - $10.

Further suggestions were made to the effect that only merchants active in Chamber of Commerce and supporting the "Cash Give-Away" effort would be entitled to give away the free chances on the money prizes.

It was further suggested that names be drawn for Second and Third place prizes until the name of a person present at the time of the drawing was drawn from the drum; and that only one name be drawn for the $50 First Prize. If the person whose name was drawn for First Prize was not present, then the money could be returned to the fund and have an additional amount added to it for the following week's drawing.

A committee of three, appointed by Whitlock will be contacting Plains businessmen this week to get their reaction and possibly their subscription backing the project, effect of which will be, it is anticipated, to get more people to trade at home and come to town on Saturday, the days tentatively set for the drawing if it materializes.

To win it will be necessary for the person whose name is drawn to be present, but tickets (Continued on page 6)

Steer Roping Planned For 4th of July

In addition to the usual array of picnics, family outings, and visits to relatives, Plains citizens are given an added attraction for helping them celebrate the fourth of July this year.

A Steer Roping, team tying (head and heel) event has been scheduled by the Yoakum County Roping Club for that day and is to take place in the local rodeo arena.

A $30 entrance fee has been set by the local club, $3 of which will go to help pay the cost of securing, feeding and caring for the steers, and $27 of which is to make up the jackpot prizes for the contestants.

The event is set to be based on the team ropers' averages on two steers.

There will be no admission charged for spectators to the event which is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. on July 4 in the Plains Rodeo Arena.

Weather Both Good And Bad

Old Man Weather was sure evident in the Plains area in the past week as Plains received from June 20 through June 26, .97 of an inch of moisture, with some outlying areas receiving as much as one and one-half inches.

The rains, of course, were most welcome and added more hopes and optimism for this year's crops, which were all but moisture starved up to the month of June, as during the entire year from January 1 through June 26 Plains received 4.86 inches of rain, of which 3.29 fell since June 1.

Along with this week's rainfall, however, on Monday, some of the moisture falling came in the very undesirable form of golf ball size hail.

Several farms southwest of Plains were very hard hit by the large amounts of hail which fell and crops took a severe beating. Observers point out that many of the crops were insured, but that just as many were not, but that in all probability most of the farmers hit by Monday's untimely act of nature will leave their crops hoping for a favorable fall. They explain that a wet fall will hinder these hard-hit crops from producing very much, especially cotton, but that a dry, quick frost would hold forth promise of the possibility of a fair crop.

Areas of farms not hit by the hailstones are mighty happy over the new moisture, especially dry-land farmers and ranchers.

Week's temperature readings for the seven-day period from June 20 through June 26, areas follows:

READY TO SELL DERBYS -- Three of the four Queen Candidates, left to right, Jane Warren, Sylvia McGinty and Marsha White, are shown modeling the black derby which advertise the Plains Rodeo and which go on sale next week. Price of the bowlers is $2.00.

Golf Course Opens Next Week

If all goes according to plans as they are presently scheduled, "Duffer's Delite", the miniature golf course being constructed behind Plains State Bank at present, will be open for business next week. Actual opening date is hoped to be Monday, July 2nd.

The course will regularly be open from about 3 p.m. to around 10 p.m.

All necessary components of the course, carpeting, clubs, balls, lights, light poles, and other building materials had arrived and were on hand by Wednesday of this week.

Just a matter of finishing up the construction on the retaining walls of the fairways, and the greens, completion of the building and installation of carpets and lights remains to be done.

Proceeds from the well-constructed, 18-hole course will go in their entirety to the Plains Boy Scout Troop, Number 778 for their program and toward the proposed construction of a new Scout Hut.

Several individuals and businesses in Plains and the surrounding area have donated time, money and materials to the project, but a reportedly large amount of money was still needed to complete paying for the project.

Any persons or business interested in contributing to this project are urged to contact either of the Scoutmasters of the local troop 1/2, Mr. Gene Young, or Mr. Johnnie Moore.

Swimming Party Planned

A swimming party for all Plains High School Football players is planned for this Saturday evening at the pool in Plains.

The affair is set to begin at 8:30 p.m. and Jack Pierce, manager of the local pool, announced that all football players and their dates are invited.

Roberts Gets 5 Years

Yoakum County Sheriff, Vester E. Sanders and Deputy Joe Deaton, returned on Monday after leaving on the previous Friday from Eldo, Nevada, where they picked up and returned to Plains for trial, James P. Roberts, who escaped from the Yoakum County jail on March 3, and had been at large since that time.

Elko authorities apprehended him there on charges of hot-checking where he was detained serving out a 30-day jail sentence. During this time Eldo authorities notified local authorities that they had Roberts in custody and stated that he could be picked up when they were through with him.

After being returned to Plains, Roberts was given a trial Wednesday morning on charges of a theft over $50, as he admitted stealing the pickup "Old Blue" which belonged to the Plains Schools, in which to make his getaway. Roberts drove the pickup to Lubbock, where he stopped at a business establishment on the Amarillo highway and talked the proprietor into accepting a $25 check.

The story put forth by Roberts to the proprietor was that he was working for a certain trucking firm in Lamesa and that he was on his way to Amarillo to pick up a new truck for them. He further said that he had just left home without enough cash to see him through to Amarillo and back. He told the proprietor that he wanted to leave the pickup there and catch a ride on into Amarillo.

The proprietor evidently thought that it would be safe enough to take the check for only $25 as he would have the pickup there for collateral, nev-

Prizes Offered In Child Photograph Contest

The time is almost here for the opening of this newspaper's Big Child Photograph Contest, and we're urging all our readers to have their children ready for the big day.

Winston B. Lucas of Irving, Texas will be in Plains on Thursday 12 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. for the purpose of taking pictures in this vicinity. In addition to having their pictures printed in this newspaper, the children will be competing for $20.00 in prizes, which are being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

The photographs will be made absolutely free of charge, and there is no charge for their publication in The Plains Record. Proofs will be shown and from these you may select the picture of your child which you would like to appear in this newspaper. If you wish extra photographs they may be purchased, but no purchase is necessary in order to compete for the prizes. It is entirely up to you, whether you buy pictures or not.

There is no age limit on the contest, and every child's photograph in this section is wanted so that they may all appear in The Plains Record. However, it is necessary that all pictures must be of uniform size, so they must be made by Winston B. Lucas on Thursday July 12, 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Don't wait until little Mary gets married or baby brother is elected to some political office to see their pictures in the paper-make plans now to have these photographs made on Thursday, July 12th. Tell your friends and neighbors - the more, the merrier.

Republicans Meet Monday

Yoakum Citizens are once again reminded that a meeting of County Republicans has been slated for Monday, July 2, in the conference room of the Yoakum County Library in Denver City.

All area Republicans are urged to attend reports Mr. Leon Moore of Denver City, the County Republican Committee Chairman.

More especially pointed out the importance of having at least a representative from each of the voting precincts of the county.

July Fourth Document Reflects Basic American Principle

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 186 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. "That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; . . ."

Some five years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Our courts, day by day guard these rights for us.

NOTICE

BRUCELLOSIS TESTING OR VACCINATING WILL NOW BE REQUIRED AT LIVESTOCK MARKETS - THE TEXAS ANIMAL HEALTH COMMISSION HAS ADOPTED REGULATIONS THAT WILL REQUIRE THE TESTING OR VACCINATING OF ALL CATTLE CONSIGNED TO LIVESTOCK MARKETS IN THE STATE OF TEXAS, EXCEPT THOSE CATTLE THAT ARE SPECIFICALLY EXEMPTED BELOW:

CATTLE THAT DO NOT HAVE TO BE TESTED OR VACCINATED

- (1) Steers, spayed heifers, calves under eight (8) months old, and officially vaccinated animals under thirty (30) months of age;
- (2) Cattle originating from Certified Brucellosis Free Herds;
- (3) Cattle originating from non-quarantined herds within Modified Certified Brucellosis Areas;
- (4) Cattle consigned on a health certificate or certificate of test showing a negative test to Brucellosis within the past thirty (30) days;
- (5) Cattle sold for immediate slaughter; cattle may not be moved untested to another market.
- (6) Cattle sold and delivered to approved feedlots;
- (7) Young bulls that will not be sold for breeding purposes. IT IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE CONSIGNOR TO PROVE THAT HIS CATTLE ARE EXEMPT FROM TESTING OR VACCINATING UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF (2), (3), and (4) ABOVE. The Livestock Inspector representing the Texas Animal Health Commission has the authority to require evidence of such exemption and shall be the person responsible for making the final decision as to whether the cattle shall be tested or exempted from the testing requirements.

Should the owner or consignor of the cattle so desire, he may declare his cattle to be sold for breeding or stocker purposes, in which case they will be tested or vaccinated before the sale at seller's expense. Cattle not tested before the sale shall be tested at buyer's expense before they will be released from the market, UNLESS THEY ARE EXEMPT FROM TESTING AS OUTLINED ABOVE.

Dairy type calves can be vaccinated between the ages of 4 to 8 months, after which time they must be tested only. Of course, as outlined above, calves under 8 months old are exempt from these requirements; they will sell better if they are vaccinated. Beef type calves can be vaccinated between the ages of 4 to 12 months and those over 8 months old must comply with these regulations.

When cattle are consigned to a market, but are not presented for sale, or if they are presented but POED, they must still comply with these testing regulations prior to release. This includes cattle "traded" outside the market, on the street, or parking lot.

All cattle reacting to the Brucellosis test will be branded with a "B" on the left jaw, put in the QUARANTINE PEN and sold FOR SLAUGHTER ONLY at the end of the sale. Brucellosis reactors will not be permitted to move from one market to another (except to a Public Stockyard) nor can they return to the premise of origin. The owner of any DISEASED ANIMAL from the Quarantine Pen has the right to PO his animal, but he must get a permit to move the animal. The Livestock Inspector will issue such permits for movement only to Public Stockyards or to approved slaughtering establishments. A copy of permits for movement only to Public Stockyards or to approved slaughtering establishments. A copy of the permit is mailed to the inspector at destination, and diversions will be identified and prosecuted.

The bill of sale and pass out MUST BE RUBBER STAMPED in the livestock market office before the buyer can load his cattle. The shipment must comply with these regulations before it can be released. Violations of these regulations are subject to prosecution under the Livestock Market Act, and the fine is from $25 to $100 per head in violation.

A COLOR CODE will be used to identify cattle that do not have to be tested. All cattle (outside of a Modified Certified Brucellosis Area) that are exempt from these requirements will either have a BLUE paintmark or a BLUE test or vaccination tag on them. Calves obviously under 8 months old, steers, and yearling bulls that will be castrated, will not be marked, but buyers will know that they are exempt from testing or vaccinating from their physical characteristics.

The purpose of putting these regulations into effect is to protect from reinfection, those counties that have become Modified Certified Brucellosis Areas, to prevent the many clean herds in the rest of the state from becoming infected and to pinpoint the infected herds and help them get cleaned up before the county petitions for a Brucellosis Control Program. Besides the fact that Brucellosis causes a direct economic loss to the Texas cattle to these states will be a serious problem. Texas exports a large percentage of the cattle it raises and cannot afford these restrictions. The rest of the nation is 85% Modified Certified Brucellosis Free, and the pressure is already being felt.

Brucellosis, or Bang's disease as it is commonly called, is an infectious disease spread from cow to cow by direct contact, especially just prior to and after calving time. Contrary to popular belief, bulls are not a major spreading factor. The vaginal discharges from an infected cow will contaminate the pasture and watering places, and the discharge may be licked by another cow directly off the hair of a newborn calf from an infected cow. (The calf itself, even from an infected cow, will not catch Bang's disease until it is sexually mature.) When a cow catches Bang's disease, she will usually abort (slip) the next calf, but thereafter will have live calves, unless she becomes completely sterile. Every time she has a calf (either a dead or live calf) she will spread millions of Brucella germs and contaminate other cattle. She will have, in her lifetime 40% fewer calves than a cow without Bang's disease, simply because she spreads her calves apart further (18 to 20 months apart) by becoming a shy breeder. She will produce 20% less milk, and in a dairy cow there goes the profit. In a beef cow, 20% less milk means a 15% lighter calf at weaning time. NOTE - These are hidden losses, as the cow does not die, and since she produces fewer calves, the reactors are often the fattest, finest looking cows in the herd. There is no CURE for Brucellosis. People who drink raw milk, or handle cattle (especially at calving time) or newborn calves from reactor cows are in constant danger of catch-

ACROSS the DESK

From the Seville Chronicle, Seville, Ohio: We are disturbed by the growing tendency of legislative groups to seek taxes by methods not under direct control of the voters.

And we're more disturbed over the apparent enthusiasm of many voters when such actions are considered.

When voters turn down a bond levy, our elected representatives regard it, not as a desire for economy in services and government by a concerned citizenry, but rather as a defect of the democratic form of government.

We have a campaign, augmented by policy meetings at all levels, and a propaganda program well supported by our most conservative news media, for income taxes to replace voted assessments for both operating funds and building programs.

Such proposals, along with "federal and state" aid, are popular with property owners who must dig up real money twice each year to pay real estate and personal taxes. They seem to think money from above will not be taken, thrice-fold, from them.

But this is beside the point. When your legislators must come to you and ask, every two or five years, for a renewal of existing levies, or for proposed new ones, you control the purse strings; you decide how much and, to an extent, for what, money is spent.

With income taxes, once authorized, the increases are almost automatic, and beyond taxpayer control. Legislators, safe in Washington or Columbus and faced with the need of money, can and will increase income taxes indefinitely. You as an individual will have no voice. You may be so busy worrying about Elizabeth Taylor and the important things that you won't know there has been a tax increase until it is taken from your wages.

Never plan on meeting trouble half way. It can travel a lot faster than you can.

Mabel -- It took eight sittings. Tillie -- What? Have you been having a portrait painted? Mabel -- No, learning to skate.

Ducks may be dumb, but they don't pay fancy prices for guns and equipment so they'll have an excuse to sit freezing in dreary marshes in the fall watching men fly south for the winter.

You think you

EVERYONE HAS

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

"Boy, take it from me, leading a dog's life ain't no bowl of cherries. It's always get offa this and that, and boy, what happened to me, when I turned over the lamp!"

Our life may not be a dog's life, but everyone does have problems and always will. God does not promise that even his good and faithful children would be without problems, but He does promise strength to bear our problems. Attend church Sunday, renew and strengthen your life by leaning on the Lord.

Cooke-Sudderth Vows Exchanged

Miss Annette Sudderth became the bride of Dick Cooke in a double ring setting at 6:00 p.m. Sunday in the First Christian Church in Brownfield, with Rev. Jack Garrett officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sudderth of Tokio, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cooke, Plains.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace, designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long petal point sleeves. From the fitted bodice flows a voluminous skirt featuring a cascade of alternating ruffles of lace and tulle. A scalloped lace cap, embroidered in seed pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

The bride carried a white orchid nestled in a cascade arrangement of feathered white carnations atop a white Bible showered with satin ribbons.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Brenda Powell, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dixie Sublett, cousin of the bride, and Miss Sonnie Smith. They wore matching street length dresses of light yellow silk organza over taffeta with basque bodices featuring scalloped necklines and short scalloped sleeves. Circlets of net fastened to yellow taffeta served as their headpieces.

Each carried a colonial nose-gay of white feathered mums with yellow bows and streamers.

Best man was Joe Dan Cooke, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsman was Don Cooke, brother of the groom.

Candlelighters were Ricky Elmore and Susie Cooke.

Flower girl was Cynthia Jones, and ringbearer was John David Moore.

Jeanine St. Romain, organist, gave traditional wedding marches and accompanied Viva Hale as she sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Bless This House," and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church.

For a trip to Colorado the bride chose an apricot linen suit with beige accessories and a corsage from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will live at 1910 B. Gary, Lubbock. The bride and groom are both graduates of Plains High School and will be sophomores at Tech this fall.

The bidding:
 West North East South
 1 ♠ 1 ♥ pass 1 ♠
 3 ♠ 4 ♠ pass pass

Opening lead: Ace of clubs.

South trumped West's opening lead in the dummy. Returned the nine of spades from the dummy and let it ride to West's queen. West returned a low heart which South took with queen. South then cleared trumps in one round, led king of clubs and discarded in the dummy. South led queen of diamonds. West covered with king, and South captured the trick with the ace. Diamonds were thus established, making a small slam.

COMMENT: West made a bad opening lead. On the other hand, South was not firm in bidding. Should have gone to slam.

This hand was played by a bridge group that has been meeting regularly for 12 years. Although not professionals, all of the players are above average. How would you have bid and played this hand?

AMA Health And Safety Tips

The biggest picnic day of the year is approaching -- July 4. There will be company picnics, church picnics, lodge picnics and just plain family-and-friend picnics. Parking and table space will be at a premium in every picnic spot in the United States.

With the picnics will come bruises and cuts and scratches and strains and sunburn and sore muscles the next day. These are "occupational hazards" of July 4 picnics and usually aren't serious.

What might be more serious will be food poisoning. The weather is hot on July 4 and foods spoil quickly. If a few of the staphylococcal bacteria that are the most common cause of food poisoning are present, only a few hours of time, combined with warm temperature are needed to cause real trouble.

Food can be handled safely on picnics in warm weather if the family chef keeps in mind a few precautions. Leave the sandwich ingredients, including bread, in the original wrappers and containers and make up your picnic sandwiches on the spot, just before mealtime. Ham spoils quickly at warm temperatures and if you favor ham sandwiches, take the ham along in a can and open it just before serving.

Potato salad is another favorite picnic food. It also spoils quickly. Take the hard-boiled eggs, boiled potatoes and mayonnaise (in its sealed jar) and mix the salad at the last minute.

The picnic icebox, properly insulated, is an excellent food saver. It should have a tight lid and there should be plenty of ice. Items stored in the refrigerator should be well chilled before placing in the picnic box.

Be careful about pies. Cream-filled bakery goods spoil quickly on a hot day. Take fresh fruits for dessert. Stick to canned stuffs and sealed jars and bottles that can be opened just before using.

The July 4 picnic is one of America's great traditions. It is a time of great fun for all. Don't overdo the strenuous games and sports in the July heat and safeguard your picnic foods. Don't let food poisoning spoil your outing.

Moore or Less--

the aged under Social Security.

The concept represents a radical departure from our present system. For since 1935 when Social Security started, benefits have been paid wholly in cash.

Under the Administration's proposed health care program, the government for the first time virtually would be telling people that at 65 they are incapable of judging how best to spend all their Social Security benefit money, that the government must spend some of it for them.

The wisdom of continuing to permit the aged freedom of choice in spending their own money is self-evident. It is the success, not the failure, of our present free choice medical system that has created this problem of paying for health care for the aged. People are living longer, 10 to 15 years, they are just healthier. If freedom of choice was good for them before age 65, it should be just as good afterwards.

In fact, records show that the aged themselves are rapidly helping to solve the problem of paying for their own health care, that they don't need federal employees to make decisions for them. More than 50 per cent of the aged needing and wanting health insurance now have it.

This country does have an obligation to help provide health care for the aged who need help. It is, though, already meeting this obligation.

Less than two years ago Congress passed the Kerr-Mills Act to aid medically needy persons at age 65, including persons who own their own homes and have small incomes but might be pauperized by a major medical bill. Under this Act, aged persons can get help which would pay 100 per cent of their health care bills; they can keep their homes; liens are forbidden; they can enjoy whatever incomes they have; and when their illnesses are over, they are financially back on their feet.

States administer the Kerr-Mills program within our present medical system. Already 25 states and 3 territories have set up Kerr-Mills programs. Six out of every ten of the aged live in these states and territories.

Given time to work, the combination of private, voluntary insurance and the Kerr-Mills program, both of which are rapidly growing, can meet the needs of the aged.

A permanent compulsory federal health care program depriving the aged of some of their freedom is not an acceptable solution for a problem which is only temporary.

By J. Edgar Hoover-- -Fourth of July

ENDURANCE IS A TEST of greatness. For our Nation, the test began 183 years ago in Philadelphia when 56 American patriots signed the Declaration of Independence. From that historic moment on, the bells of freedom in our land have rung loud and clear -- a triumphant message to a troubled world that America is indeed a beacon of hope for oppressed, freedom-loving people.

On the anniversary of that auspicious occasion we should give humble thanks to God for the spiritual heritage won by these men of destiny. Our freedom, prosperity, and stature as a world power are attestations to their far-reaching efforts. We should rededicate ourselves to the constant support and eternal preservation of the self-evident truths which were so dear to them.

Unfortunately, in some circles today the apologetic approach to patriotism is becoming fashionable. The faith and principles which withstood the ravages of wars, subversion and crime over the years are almost passe. Any exhibitions of national pride and reverence for the American flag are merely by rote. The burning zeal of patriotism which was in the hearts of the Men of '76 in many instances has turned to selfishness, apathy, and indulgence.

To my mind, this is a dangerous trend. It is a departure from the ideals which typify the American way of life, and it is a grievous example for our impressionable youth. The seeds of doubt germinate quickly in their fertile minds. Recently, one precocious high school editor is said to have proclaimed that "patriotism has outlived its usefulness" and that to be patriotic in our time "is to be a blindly stupid human being." God forbid that

Effort Due To Reduce
July 4 Accidents

The same Statewide traffic safety team that brought the Texas traffic mileage death rate to its lowest level in history during 1961 will be back in action for the Fourth of July one-day holiday in an effort to hold the toll below the eight deaths predicted.

Governor Price Daniel said Monday that the estimate of eight traffic deaths for the Fourth, issued Sunday by the Texas Department of Public Safety, was the lowest on record. "I hope everybody in Texas will do his best to see that the Fourth of July toll is also the lowest on record," the Governor said, "and I believe this can be done if as many Texans give as much attention to safe, sober and legal driving as they did last year."

The 1960 one-day Fourth of July toll of six lives lost represented a reduction of nearly 50 per cent over the estimate that 11 lives would be lost.

The Governor added: "The fact that estimates of traffic deaths for the one-day Fourth of July holidays have been coming down in recent years is an indication of the cooperation and understanding given the safety program by a great majority of Texas motorists. I have, therefore, asked the Department of Public Safety and all of the sheriffs, chiefs of police and other law enforcement officers to keep a close check on those comparative few who will not obey the law. I have urged the officers to maintain steady pressure on the two violations which contribute most to Texas fatalities -- speeding and driving while drinking."

Both the Fourth of July and Labor Day Traffic Safety campaigns will tie in closely with the nation-wide "Slow Down and Live!" campaign, which opened Memorial Day and closes Labor Day. This special summer-time traffic safety project is coordinated in Texas by J. O. Musick, general manager of Texas Safety Association.

On the Fourth and over Labor Day, Texas Association of Broadcasters will again promote its "Drive Lighted and Live!" campaign, in which motorists will be asked to burn their headlights during daylight hours as a signal that they are driving safely and legally.

Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Trucking Industry announced that some 750,000 trucks will join in this phase of the holiday observance. Governor Daniel said the "Drive Lighted and Live!" idea, originated by Victoria Businessman R. B. Roos in 1959, had attracted such wide attention that he was glad it was being continued.

The Governor's Office has mailed many thousands of pieces of traffic safety material to several thousand Texas traffic safety supporters, newspapers, radio and TV stations in preparation for the holiday campaign. Texas radio stations will broadcast special Fourth of July messages from the Governor.

One-day Fourth of July death tolls since 1946 include seven in 1946, seven in 1950, eight in 1951, 12 in 1956, 15 in 1957 and six in 1961.

"I am anxious that every Texas motorist will drive in such a way that the 1962 Fourth of July will be the safest and happiest in Texas history," the Governor concluded.

Men tend to blame fate for most accidents, but feel personally responsible for shooting a hole-in-one.

 New Conservation plans both District and Great Plains Contracts continue to be processed.

Dick Ham who farms S. W. of Plains has a new Conservation plan, C. B. Poindexter's place S. W. of Plains has an up to date Conservation plan now. R. G. Hartman farms this place. Other plans being revised or brought up to date are Helen McClure and Virginia Moore farms east of Plains operated by Leon Huff.

New Great Plains contracts are J. D. Jones west of Denver City, W. G. ("Bill") Gray, N. E. of Plains and H. W. Nelson S. W. of Plains.

Jones plan to plant both irrigated and dry land pasture grasses along with a regular conservation farming program. Bill Gray plans to plant about 310 acres of dry land pasture grasses such as Weeping-Love and Side - Oats Grama, H. W. Nelson of Brownfield and his operator Hayden Box plan to plant several kinds of irrigated grasses including Bermuda.

Grass planting is really getting under way this week. Bill Gray is planting Weeping Love grass, C. A. Stewart is planting Switch grass and the following are planting Bermuda, M. R. Newman, Clifford Anderson, Johnny Sims, C. O. Head, W. T. Patman, Kenneth Burns, Leo Holmes, E. C. Hatton, C. C. Copeland, Paul Cobb and several others. Curly Tauton and Rod Duff have planted 10 acres of Woodward Sand Blue stem. This grass did real well the last two years. It is very close to our native big or Sand Blue stem and should not be overlooked as a good grass to plant.

J. D. Jones, Bobby White, Bruce White and J. W. McCann are all planting dead litter to provide a cover in which to plant grass next year. This is the best way to insure getting a stand and cover of grass when planting seed of almost any kind.

After saying his usual bedtime prayers, little Johnny was heard shouting out this petition: "And, dear God, I pray that I will get a new bicycle for my birthday and an electric train for Christmas, if it isn't too much trouble."

"What are you shouting for?" asked his mother. "God isn't deaf."

"I know," said little Johnny, "But grandma is!"
