"Being wrong is not a hopeless situation, but, being unable to admit it is a pretty impossible situation." Uncle Zeb--

872 OFFICE MEMO . . . Office employees each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks. Wash windows once a week.

Each clerk will bring in a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's business. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to your individual taste.

Men employees will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go regularly to church.

After 13 hours of labor in the office, the employee should spend the remaining time reading good books.

Every employee should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, or frequents pool or public halls or gets shaved in a barber shop, will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.

The employee who has performed his labors faithfully and without any fault for five years will be given an increase of five cents per day in pay, provided profits from business permits.

(This office memo was written and posted by the owner of a carriage works in the Eastern U. S. in 1872). Boy, haven't times changed. I heard a certain employer in this very town actually ask her employee if it would be alright to take off for the weekend as she, the employer and her husband, had wanted to spend the week-end out of town.

Incidentally, they didn't get to go. Seems the employee already had something all planned for the week-end.

THE GREATEST QUEST Science pushes on At a terrific pace In a titanic effort To conquer space.

Nations press on To claim a place, A distant planet, A military base.

Only budget mars The race for stars, In sky-born cars, That reach for Mars.

Few men take time To stop and face The more serious task Of the human race--

The need for love and heavenly grace To conquer the distance Of inner space Between man and man, Brother and brother, Between each man And the Holy Other.

Cowboys Give Crane Rough Time

Plains Travels To Post

Plains area football fans witnessed a real ball game here last Friday night when the Plains Cowboys had their season's opener against the mighty Crane Golden Cranes. Crane, selected by the sports staff of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal to beat Plains by a score of 28 to 6, found quite a bit stiffer competition than they had evidently bargained for, as Plains held them to only three points. Final score was Plains 0 - Crane 3.

The three points were picked up about one and one-half minutes before the end of the first half on a field goal kicked by Crane's G. Penny from the 11-1/2 yard line. Crane picked up 178 yards rushing and 33 on passes while Plains managed to get 124 rushing and 24 passing.

The game was a hard fought defensive tilt in which neither team was willing to give a foot to the other.

On one occasion in the third quarter the Cranes got to the Plains five-yard line, but some mighty stubborn Cowboys managed to hold them for only two yards on four downs and to take the ball over on downs. Fans went away from the game in a mighty satisfied frame of mind with nothing but praise for the kind of battle put up by the Cowboys.

Terum Perrin was the leading tackler for the Cowboys followed closely by Donald Davis, Jimmy Kerby and Dennis Hick-

Farmer's Gas Tax Refund

Annual claims for refund of federal excise tax paid on gasoline, used on a farm or ranch for farming or ranching purposes, must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service district director by October 1.

According to IRS Dallas District Director Ellis Campbell, Jr., refund claims should be made on Form 2240 for gasoline used between July 1, 1961, and June 30, 1962.

Forms and a helpful booklet, "Farmer's Gas Tax Refunds," are available at IRS, or County Agricultural Agent offices.

man. These boys played a real defensive game.

Offensively, Ronnie Hendricks, Plains scat-back, carried the ball 33 of the 51 times that Plains attempted ground-gainers.

Plains coaches picked Hendricks as the outstanding Offensive Player of the Week and Donald Davis as Outstanding Defensive Player of the Week.

This honor will be awarded to some two players each week.

Dennis Hickman, who received a shoulder injury in practice week before last is not expected to play too much offense this week but will definitely be one of the defensive starters.

Starters for the Post team in Friday's game will be as follows:

Ronald Simpson, RE 125 So.
Billy Shumard, RT 172 Sr.
Lary Guy, RG 139 Sr.
David Nichols, C 173 Sr.
Buddy Moreland, LG 155 Sr.

Pat Cornell, QB 145 Jr.
Teddy Scott, RH 140 So.
Ken Rankin, LH 150 Sr.
Freddie Simmons, FB 148 Sr.

and a mighty able passer and that he has a real fine receiver in 170 lb. 6'4" left end, Danny Pierce. Another real fine and fast back is Ken Rankin 150 lb. left half-back.

All in all the Post team ought to furnish some real first class competition for the Cowboys Friday night in Post. Game time has been set at 7:30.

Cowboys will start the same team against Post that they did against Crane. They are as follows:

C Ty Powell 180
RG Dennis Hickman 186

Area Demos Set Meeting

Plans have been announced for "one of the largest Democratic Party get-togethers in West Texas history" at the Fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock Sept. 20.

Yoakum County Democratic Chairman R. B. (Woody) Woodward said "All the Democratic nominees on the ticket from the state level through the county level in the 19th Congressional District and the surrounding territory have been invited to be on hand."

Heading the list will be gubernatorial nominee John Connally, Lt. Gov. nominee Preston Smith, Atty. Gen. nominee Waggoner Carr, State Sen. nominee H. J. (Doc) Blanchard and many, many more. U. S. Congressman George Mahon will also be on hand, if his legislative schedule permits him to leave Washington.

Woodward said tickets for the event will be $10 each, with part of the proceeds to be retained by the Democratic Party of Yoakum County.

"This isn't going to be the same old political program with a bunch of speakers and a formal dinner gathering," he said. "This is going to be an informal, elbow-rubbing affair with the candidates and their friends having a real chance to sit down together and get to know each other better."

Woodward said the Lubbock County Democratic Chairman Ralph Brock and Democratic District Committeeman Travis Shelton are coordinating the event.

Shelton pointed out that "we're going to unite as Democrats for this rally with all past differences over this candidate or that candidate within our own party forgotten."

"This meeting is strictly a Democratic Party function for all West Texans to get to know the candidates better. They'll all be there, including our own two West Texans, Preston Smith and Waggoner Carr."

"I think it should be obvious how much is at stake for West Texas with Smith and Carr on the ticket, so it's up to all of us to show up and give them and the rest of the party nominees solid backing," Shelton added.

Tickets may be obtained from Woodward, or by writing to Democratic Headquarters, 1118 Texas Avenue, Lubbock.

The event will begin at 7 p.m.

Farm Labor Group To Meet Sept. 20th

A meeting of the Yoakum County Farm Labor Advisory Committee will be held at 2:00 p.m., on Thursday, September 20th, in the Commissioner's Courtroom of the Yoakum County Courthouse.

At this meeting, current supplies of and demands for Farm Labor will be discussed, along with plans for meeting farm labor shortages for the next twelve months.

This meeting is open to any persons interested in the Farm Labor Program in this area.

Besides the committee, Mr. Garvin C. Wilkes, Office Manager of the Lamesa office, Joe B. Spears, in charge of the Brownfield office, and representatives of the District and State Office of Texas Employment Commission will be present.

Lions Hear Of Perils To Water

Plains Lions Club at their regular first-Thursday meeting heard a very informative program presented by a spokesman from the South Plains Health Unit.

Topic of the program was to do with our water supply and some of the threats that are at present facing it.

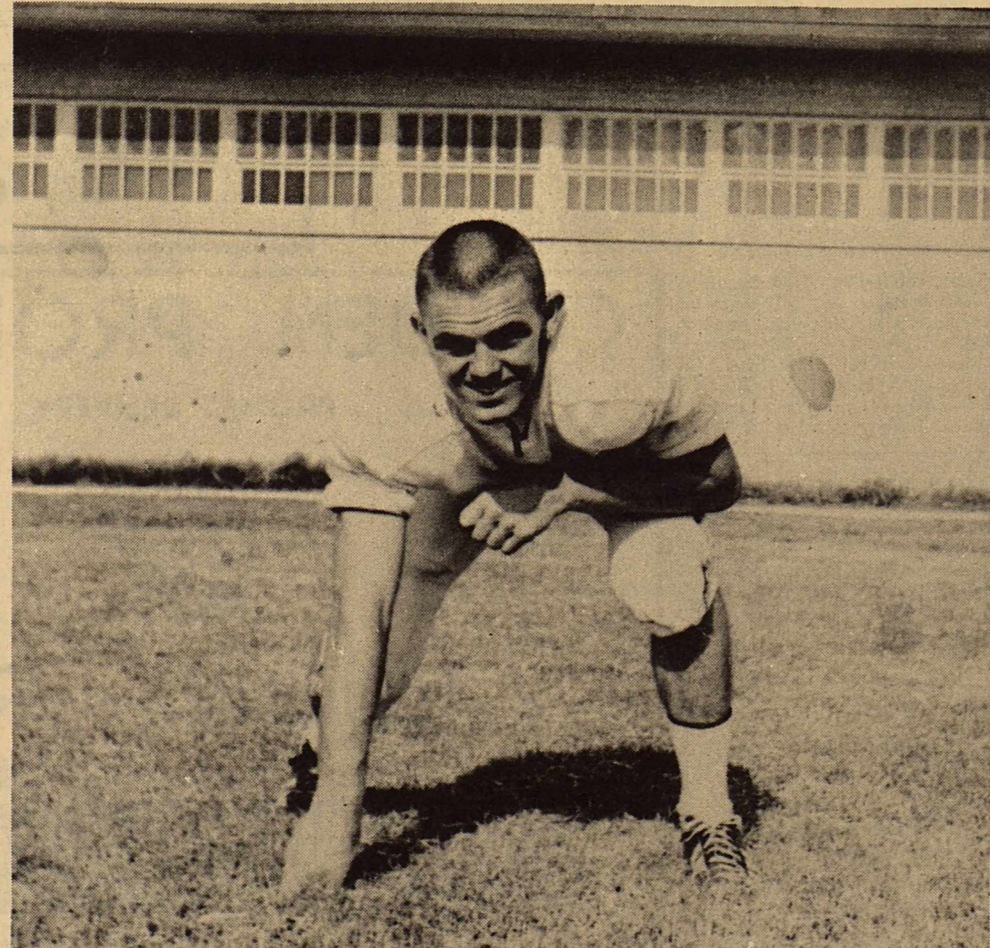

The speaker emphasized the fact that undoubtedly, much of the good drinking water and water that should be used for irrigation and cattle raising purposes has been polluted to a very great degree by the promiscuous dumping of the salt-water refuse that is pumped daily from our oil wells.

As most area citizens are aware, this threat has been recognized at least to some degree by a group of local and area citizens known as the Yoakum County Water Conservation Association, at whose invitation Mr. Ed Reed, a well-known hydrologist from Midland, came into the county and has to date done a great deal of work in water sampling and measuring saline densities and other matters pertaining to seeing just how serious our problem is.

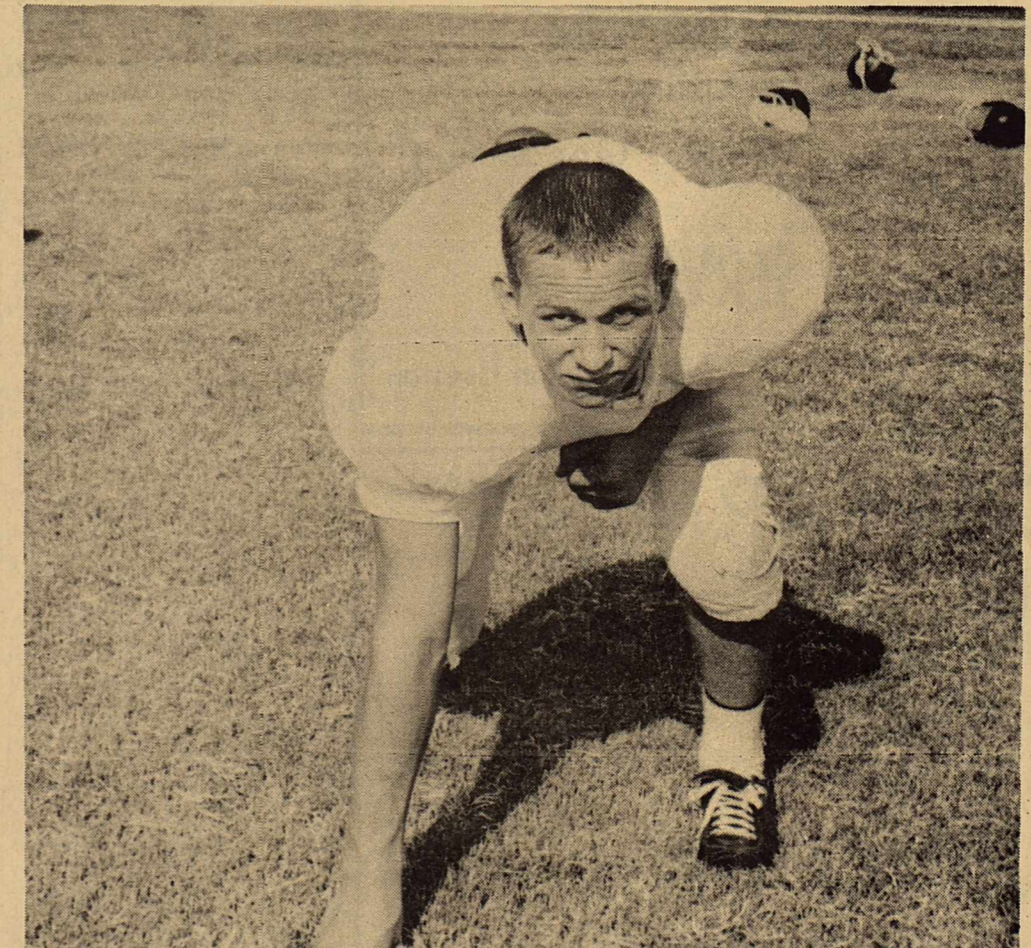

Recently in a paper on the subject issued by the State of Texas, Yoakum, Terry and Gaines Counties were listed as being the three areas in the entire state of Texas in which the greatest dangers were believed to exist as far as brine water pollution of fresh water supplies was concerned.

The hearing to see if dumping salt water in open pits can be stopped is due to come before the Texas Railroad Commission the latter part of this month.

The outcome is considered by most area observers as being very critical to the future growth and development of the County.

RONNIE HENDRICKS -- was selected by the Plains coaching staff as Outstanding Offensive Player of the Week.

DONALD DAVIS -- was selected as Outstanding Defensive Player of the Week.

Familiar Faces On Tech Varsity

LUBBOCK, Sept. 10 -- Although the headliner is a West Texas State halfback from Lynn, Mass., Texas Tech's season opener with the Buffaloes here Saturday night, Sept. 22, will see a number of high school standouts from this region in action.

Pistol Pete Pedro, the nation's leading touchdown maker, is the Massachusetts resident participating in a game pitting former teammates against each other.

Dumas residents, for example, can root for tackle Bill Shaha and center Jim Wells wearing the Scarlet and Black of Tech or for end Quinton Eppinette in the Buggs' Maroon and White.

Sundown High is represented by Tech's Robert Foster, a guard, and West Texas halfback David McInturff. From Spearman are Tech half Sam Cornelius and West Texas end Benny George.

Other former regional schoolboy stars at Texas Tech are fullback Carl Taylor of Anton, guard Glen Koch of Brownfield (injured), tackle Tommy Hayes of Electric, quarterback Johnny Lovelace of Farwell, end Tommy Doyle of Lamesa, guard Larry Carlisle, quarterback Doug Cannon, fullback Gary McMillan, end Don Burch, and end Jerry Garrison, all of Levelland; guard Ronnie McWilliams of Littlefield, tackle Bill Malone of Phillips, backs Joe Don Marrow and Ray Faught of Plains, center Dennis Grimes of Seagraves, guard Jimmy Walker of Seminole, and center Jerry Elbert of Wellington.

Waste Not, Want Not

The thrifty homemaker has been using vegetables as they matured all summer long, but there comes a time, just before the first killing frost, when only odds and ends of vegetables are left in the garden. While there usually are plenty of green tomatoes, there may be only a few green peppers, half a dozen big cucumbers, a few handfuls of onions. One excellent way to use these leftovers is to make End-of-the-Garden Chow-Chow. This recipe uses small amounts of various vegetables and is delicious.

Mix a quart each of very small cucumbers, large cucumbers cut in chunks, green tomatoes sliced, small onions, large onions sliced and cauliflower. Add 4 green peppers, chopped. Cover the vegetables with salt water, using a cup of salt to each 4 quarts of water. Let stand for 24 hours, then heat the brine slowly until the vegetables are well scalded. Drain. Mix a cup of flour, a cup and a half of sugar, 6 tablespoons of mustard and 1 teaspoon powdered tumeric to a smooth paste with a pint of vinegar, then slowly add an additional quart of vinegar and heat all of this in the top of a double boiler.

Todd Boys Have Hardest Luck

By Dick Collins HSU Sports Pub. Div. ABILENE -- The pen has proven to be mightier than the sword for Don Todd, a 1961 starting football guard for Hardin - Simmons University who will be missing from the Cowboy grid camp when workouts begin next month.

Todd is one of four athletic brothers from Plains and the medical case histories of the quartet of injury - prone brothers would have even Ben Casey scratching his worried brow. Don, the eldest of the Todd clan and a junior - to - be at Hardin - Simmons this fall, has overcome a series of knee operations and minor injuries to play football. But the latest incident will prevent the 6-1, 190-pound athlete from playing for the Cowboys this fall. He has been declared scholastically ineligible.

Between the four Todd boys, no less than two dozen accidents have had them on the sidelines in recent years. Younger brothers include Doug, a sophomore at Hardin - Simmons; Clarence, a senior at Plains High School; and J. E., a Plains freshman.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Todd of Plains, have spent almost as much time visiting their sons in the hospitals as they have on their Terry County farm in the Tokio community. Don was almost injury-free while competing in athletics at Plains High School, other than an occasional knee that had to be put into place almost every day before practice. He underwent a knee operation after high school graduation and prior to his enrolling at Hardin-Simmons in 1960. Don was unable to play his freshman year at HSU and he had the other knee operated on before the 1961 season. This summer he fell three stories off a scaffold during construction work.

Doug, a year younger and 10 pounds heavier than Don, is the real hard - luck brother of the group. His latest in a series of injuries will prevent him from playing for the Cowboys this fall. A near - fatal automobile accident this spring has probably ended his athletic career and doctors credit his perfect physical condition following spring football practice with saving his life.

Doug's accidents started when he was a junior in high school. He fell off a horse and broke a shoulder blade, missing most of the football season. During the summer of his senior year Doug reinjured the shoulder and sustained a neck injury in practice. He sprained an ankle during the second game of the football season. Doug returned to the line - up, but two days before the fourth game he re-sprained the ankle. While recovering from that incident he broke the other ankle. Clarence, the high school senior, has had his share of injuries also. He sprained an ankle early last football season and just as that wound was healing he received a knee injury in a ball game and later underwent surgery.

J. E., the youngest of the bunch, has had his share of troubles. He broke both arms in a swimming pool accident while in the seventh grade. And just this summer he drove his motor scooter into the back of Doug's car and broke a leg. The medical profession will lose four of its steadiest customers when the injury jinx abandons the Todd brothers.

Cover Crops Needed Says S.C.D.

By WILSON DUKE
Now is the time farmers must decide how they are going to protect their land from wind and water erosion through this winter and spring.

It has been determined by experiments, as well as by the experience of local farmers, that crop residue left on the surface is one of the best means of protecting the land. A growing crop such as a small-grain will also provide a satisfactory cover to protect the land.

Residue cover causes the soil to absorb water more rapidly and this will reduce the total runoff. It also reduces the amount of soil lost by either water or wind erosion.

The amount of protection afforded by crop residue depends on a number of conditions. Some of these conditions are:

The amount of residue on the surface.

The extent to which residue is anchored in the soil.

Length of pieces of residue. Type of plant from which the residue came, and the extent of decay of residue.

Residue left standing has proven to be the most effective means in providing protection against wind erosion.

When there is insufficient residue for a cover, some type of emergency tillage will be needed to prevent blowing.

Emergency tillage should start as soon as it is evident that the soil will start to blow. Don't start sooner than this, but don't wait too long. Considerable moisture is lost from the soil when it is worked before necessary for wind erosion control or for seed bed preparation.

Remember! There is no substitute for a good cover of growing crops or crop residues.

Keep the land covered all year.

Good rains, good plans and early planting of cover crops means good soil protections next spring when the wind blows.

Roy McGhee says he is starting to plant rye and oats as cover crops this week. Roy farms the H. M. Edwards place North West of Plains, C. C. Copeland says he will plant oats for cover crop because he can sell all the oats he can produce.

A feed company in Lovington, N.M., is hauling oats from Kansas. D. V. French has already planted several acres to rye and vetch and has a stand. Others planting cover crops are Rollin McCord, Wallace Randolph, Robert Chambliss, J. M. Tippett, C. O. Head and Dunk Bryan.

New and revised Conservation plans along with Great Plains Conservation program contracts continue to be written with local land owners and operators. H. B. Price is the latest to revise his conservation plan and sign a Great Plains conservation program contract. L. O. "Pete" Smith has revised the conservation plan where Lanny lives and included a lot of grass planting in it.

A new conservation plan on the Bill Gray place N. E. of Plains was completed last week. A new application was received from R. A. Revis for assistance under the Great Plains program last week. He plans to seed grass on 80 acres that is now in cultivation.

A revised conservation plan on the Tommy Winn place was mailed to the area office for typing this week.

Glen T. Jones reports he has 400 acres of Cowpeas as summer cover crops and soil improving crop. Jack Stegall has 70 acres of cover crop on his Cisco place.

J. D. Beasley long time rancher N. of Plains plans to revise his ranch plan and enter into the Great Plains Program to do some brush control and grass growing on his ranch.

Boosters Number Said Growing

The Cowboy Booster Club had its regular weekly meeting in the American Legion Hall last Monday evening at 8 p. m.

There was a very good crowd on hand, most of whom signed up as regular members of the club.

It was decided to order hat bands and identifying badges for each of the members, and during the business meeting it was also decided to buy some metal stickers with Plains Cowboys and the cowboy emblem on them that can be placed on the cars etc. The idea is to raise money for the booster club to be used toward such things as the annual athletic banquet and the possibility of buying a second movie camera for the Cowboy games.

All area football fans are invited to meet with the booster club on each Monday night through the season to hear reports of upcoming teams that the Cowboys will face and to see the movie each week of the previous week's game.

In addition to the regular program this week, members and visitors were treated to a technician furnished by the Humble Oil and Refining Co., which was narrated by the very famous football announcer, Kern Tippis. The film was a showing of the really high points in Southwest conference football during the 1961-62 season.

Canning Tips

Canning in a pressure cooker, the only method recommended for non-acid vegetables and for meats, is easier, quicker, and safer than the waterbath method. It also uses less fuel.

When removing jars from boiling water, use a jar lifter made for the purpose or a pair of kitchen tongs. It is a very poor idea to lift jars out by the lids.

Use one teaspoon of salt to each quart of vegetables and one tablespoon of vinegar to each quart of beets. The vinegar helps the beets keep their color.

Jars with jar rubbers and vacuum-seals should be partially sealed before processing; should have lids screwed down tight just as soon as they are removed from the processing vessel. Self-sealing jars should have had lids tightened before processing. Lids should not be tightened afterwards.

The surest way for a father to lose all his marbles is to play for keeps with an eight-year-old expert.

Discovery May Aid In Boll Weevil Fight

Cotton boll weevils will feed on almost anything that has been dipped in a newly discovered extract of the cotton plant. According to the USDA, the substance that makes the cotton squares appetizing to boll weevils was found in a water extract for the first time by two U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologists.

The extract, when applied to cork stoppers, green beans, wood, and other unlikely substances attracted the weevils that normally feed on only cotton squares and bolls. The scientists call the substance an "arrestant" and say that though it will not draw weevils a long distance, they feed on anything close to them containing the extract.

Tests are now underway to see if the substance can induce the weevils to feed and to lay their eggs on plants other than cotton. If this can be done, it may be possible to substantially reduce the boll weevil population, because weevils have rarely been known to survive on any plant except cotton.

Also, chemists are carrying on research to identify the arrestant chemically which might make it possible to produce a synthetic substance or breed cotton which does not contain the substance.

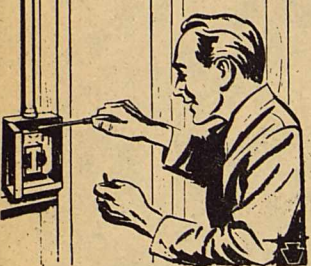

Scientists believe that this discovery could lead to a new method of controlling this insect that annually adds 5 to 7 cents per pound to the price of producing cotton. The number one pest of cotton, it has caused an estimated $10 billion worth of damage since it first entered the U. S. in 1892.

Farmers Reminded To File For Federal Tax Refund

Want to add a nice chunk of cash to this year's farm income? Farmers who do are reminded that they may now submit claims for federal gas tax refunds, according to C. H. Bates, farm management specialist, Texas A&M College.

The refund may be received for all gasoline used for agricultural purposes on a farm or ranch, Bates says. Claims should include fuel used by the operator himself or by custom operators working for him, he added. However, fuel used in vehicles on roads and highways is not eligible for refund.

The claim for federal refunds must be made from July 1 to September 30 on gasoline used between July 1 of 1961 and June 30 of 1962. The procedure is simple and all farmers who filed claims last year will receive Form 2240 in the mail this year. Farmers who did not file last year may obtain the forms from their county agent or from the Internal Revenue Service, according to Bates. He also suggests that a copy of Publication 308 of the Internal Revenue Service may be of help to the applicant.

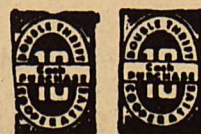

The federal gas tax refund should not be confused with the state refund which is for a shorter period of only six months, explains Bates. This refund involves a more complicated process and additional information should be obtained from the State Department of Avenue in Austin.

Also, Bates reminds that any points that are uncertain should be checked on before the claim is filed and that farmers should keep their records to verify claims submitted.

What makes us so bitter against people who outwit us is that they think themselves cleverer than we are.

The soil in which lawns were to be grown in front of houses was pure sand, so soy beans have been grown green manure crop. Here they are being cut before tilling into the soil.

Never push a heavy piece of furniture across the floor. If the furniture is too heavy to lift, fold pieces of heavy cloth or old carpet and put a pad under each leg, then push across the floor. This will avoid marks or an actual gouging of the floor itself.

To avoid burns, use tongs to put food into hot fat when frying it.

Blot fresh water spots on a tie. If dry, rub the spot briskly with the fabric itself or a clean tissue.

In the cornfield, where they were planted to save valuable space, the pumpkins have turned golden orange — ready for pies.

In the kitchen the pies are made. Cookbook recipe reads: 1 1/4 cups cooked and strained pumpkin, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons molasses, a teaspoon each of ginger and cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs and 1 1/4 cups of scalded milk. Soon delicious odors will arise from the oven. Yum! Yum!

All the housings of a line of vehicle lamps distributed from Chicago are made of neoprene rubber. These rubber housings absorb shock and vibration and reduce lens and bulb breakage, while at the same time forming a self seal against dirt and moisture. The lens snaps in and out easily. The lights have all-brass sockets, socket-holders and (if needed) mounting eyelets. In some units, a hole in the mounting accommodates conduit and inside connections. Some also feature a snap-mount that eliminates mounting screws. Thus, the overall design cuts the costs on installation, maintenance and replacement.

The line includes: Class A Type I double- and single-face and flush-mount turn signals; Class A reflector; Class B stop, tall and turn light; license plate lamps; two clearance lights, and a three-in-one lamp.
