MOORE Or Less

by Johnnie Moore

Every time I see all the antics and carrying-ons that take place during a big election, I think of a statement that Will Rogers made one time in regard to government. He said, "You'd better thank the good Lord that you're not getting all the government you're paying for."

After all the votes have been counted and all is said and done, I guess the Texas election came off about like everyone expected it to. It's been a straight Democratic party state for a mighty long time, but I personally think its healthy for Texas or any other state for that matter, to take advantage of the two party system. Some goof-off politician made the statement recently that we didn't need two parties in Texas as the full sway from radical left wing to John Birchler rightist tendencies and all the shades of political belief in between can be found in the Demo party in Texas.

In effect, this deluded individual was saying, that their isn't anymore Democratic party in Texas.

I still think the two party system is good, as it gives us a choice of not just candidates but also of political philosophies as well.

I certainly am happy to see that Texans were able to see through a bit of legal mumbo-jumbo in the attempt to pass the "Trial de novo" amendment, No. 14. It was defeated soundly at the polls showing that we are still in favor of having a really constitutional form of government in Texas.

Now, for one bit that'll sound just a little like sour grapes, but I swear I would have said something about it win, lose or draw.

Someone please tell me why, oh why Seagraves star, Sammy Faulkner, was allowed to stay in the game Friday night after openly and intentionally slugging a Plains player.

I have never seen, in any high school or college game, that a player was allowed to remain in the game after he had committed a flagrant personal foul.

I certainly won't say, as I don't have my crystal ball all polished up that the Cowboys would have won without Faulkner in the game. The outcome might very well have been exactly the same.

The point is this, even if we fans sometimes forget it, the point of football, basket, ball and all other sports events in high school is for the dual purpose of physical and character development.

Faulkner's display of bad sportsmanship and especially his being allowed to get away with it, contribute to neither, character building or physical development.

This kind of thing does not belong in school-boy ball.

Honesty Is Best

The following letter was received this week by the Plains State Bank, and we publish it for you verbatim Dear Sir:

"During my recent trip I stopped at an Enco station in your city for gasoline. I believe it was approximately 10 gallons. The filling station I stopped at was located on the highway which goes through your town into New Mexico, however it was in your town.

"If it is possible I would appreciate your assisting me in getting the $3.50, which I am enclosing to the proper station. After the attendant serviced my car I failed to pay for the gasoline. Your assistance will be appreciated."

Sincerely, Nelson E. Jechow, Cashier, The Guaranty State Bank, New Braunfels, Texas.

The money was turned over to W. H. Lattimore, owner of the station in question, who said he thought he'd frame that check and keep it around.

Blair And Henard Receive Gold Stars

Sixty seven 4-H Club members and twenty four 4-H leaders were recognized Saturday evening at the annual 4-H Achievement program held in the Denver City Community Building.

Mr. Carl Lowery, president of the adult leaders organization, presented the Gold Star awards to Sperm Henard and Brenda Blair recognizing them as the outstanding boy and the outstanding girl in Yoakum County 4-H Club work for this year.

Brenda Blair, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barron Blair of the Plains Community. She has completed six years of 4-H Club work with interests mainly in Foods and Clothing. Her work has been exhibited in Favorite Food Shows and Dress Revue Contests. She has also participated in such 4-H programs as safety, electricity, recreation and leadership. At the present time she is vice-president of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club and very active in the leadership work of that organization. She was the 1962 county winner in the Dress Revue contest and represented Yoakum County in the District 4-H Dress Revue. In addition to the Gold Star Award, she was the recipient of the Dress Revue Award Saturday night.

Sperm Henard, 14, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Henard of the Plains Community, Sperm, better known as Oscar, has completed five years of 4-H work in Yoakum County. His main interest is in livestock feeding and he has exhibited champions in lambs, barrows and steers in the County Show. He received the Swine Award last year and the Beef Award this year in addition to the Gold Star. He was president of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club last year, a member of the County 4-H Council where he served on the planning committee for the 1962 Kids and Kayuses 4-H Round-up. In 1961 he was the winner of the junior division of the Kids and Kayuses 4-H Round-up. In the early part of 1962 he exhibited a steer at Odessa and second in the class at El Paso. In February the same steer was named Grand Champion of the Yoakum County Show, a show that he had a strong desire to win. He had previously exhibited the Reserve Champion Steer along with two Grand Champion Lambs and two Grand Champion Barrows. He is the only Yoakum County 4-H member to have winning animals in all three divisions and he has several years of 4-H work ahead of him.

Yoakum County Votes Democratic

Republican candidates for state offices took a severe beating in Tuesday's election. Democrats, whether incumbents or not, swept the entire state in every office. Several instances have been reported where counties, such as Lubbock County, had a majority support Jack Cox, the Republican nominee for the office of Governor.

For the voting results of Yoakum County citizens look elsewhere in this issue for the Record.

As regards the 14 proposed Constitutional amendments, Yoakum County citizens defeated No. 's 3, 5, 6, 9, 10, 12, 13, and 14, and stamped O. K. on the balance. On the state level, as in Yoakum County, eight of the 14 proposed amendments failed to carry, but some were not the same as those defeated in the local election. State-wide, proposed amendments 1, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 12 and 14 failed while the other 6 received the affirmative nod of the state's voters.

A summary of the content of the 14 amendments follows:

1. Workmen's compensation.
2. Welfare increase.
3. Hospital Districts, (4 counties).
4. Water storage.
5. Hospital Districts, (Authority).
6. Retirement benefits.
7. Emergency succession.
8. Disability payments.
9. Hospital districts home for the aged.
10. State employee consultants.
11. Veterans land resale.
12. Coastal zoning.
13. Dallas school dist's.
14. Trial de novo.

Report Cotton Quality Improving

Lubbock Cotton Classing Office reported 28,500 samples classed for the week ending November 2, and had a carry-over of 3,500 samples. The Lamesa office classed 7,600 samples with a carry-over of 1,000 samples. The Brownfield office classed 9,200 samples with a carry-over of 1,500.

To date 142,800 samples have been handled in the three offices. Last year at this time 473,000 samples had been classed and the three offices had a total carry-over of over 50,000 samples.

There was a slight improvement in the quality of the grades classed this week. 46 percent of the samples were white qualities as compared to 41% last week. Middling Light Spotted accounted for 45% and Strict Low Middling accounted for 25 percent of the cotton classed.

Average staple length was the same as last week, 30.4 thirty seconds of an inch. Movement of cotton on the Lubbock market continued to increase this week, with the Lubbock Cotton Exchange reporting 16,800 bales purchased for the week. This was 5,800 bales more than the previous week and compares with 33,600 bales reported for the same week a year ago.

Spot cotton quotations remained the same this week with Middling 1 inch quoted at 32.30.

Tax Receipts Progressing

Mr. E. W. Craig, Yoakum County Tax Collector, reports that collections on the state and county property taxes, as well as the sale of poll taxes is progressing at a very good rate.

The tax roll, as assessed, amounts this year, to a total of $980,045.57 and the amount collected to date totals $734,985.44.

Of this amount $111,847.64 is the amount owed by just two oil companies, which leaves the balance owed by all other citizens and companies at only $133,212.49.

Percentage-wise, property taxes are approximately 75 percent collected as of the end of October, the first month of collection.

Name Football Contest Winners

First Place in the Record's Football Contest was won this week by Jackie Bass.

Four people then tied for second and third places with only five misses. These were Eddie Tingle, Buford Duff, Dennis Hickman and Dick McGinty.

Duff edged out the others by missing the tie-breaker by only 14 points, while McGinty and Tingle tied for third place with a total of 16 points off on the score.

to 20 and Plains score was six to eight.

With such an even record, and each team with a really explosive scoring punch, the tilt Friday night should, and likely will be, one for the book.

Seagraves Edges Cowboys 8-6

In what could only be termed a heart-breaker, the Plains Cowboys dropped their only conference game in this season's slate to the Seagraves

Eagles last Friday night at the Plains Homecoming game.

It was truly a close one, played right down to the wire by both teams.

Final score in the contest, with the Eagles winding up on top was eight to six. Just to illustrate the closeness of the contest all the way through, the game statistics are pretty revealing. The two teams tied on penetrations at two a piece; Plains made 13 first downs to the Eagles' 10 and the Cowboys scrambled for several more yards rushing than did the Eagles. Plains netted a total rushing yardage of 296 and Seagraves only managed for 172, while neither team managed for any net yards passing.

The lone Seagraves score came in the third period, after a scoreless first half.

Clyde Keltner, a mighty impressive Eagle halfback, scored on a 61 yard run around his own right end, and fullback, Sammy Faulkner, added the final touches by racking two extra points in a drive off left tackle.

This was all the scoring that took place in the third stanza of play.

In the final period of play, a mighty game and aggressive Cowboy eleven scored on a really outstanding play that had the fans on both sides of the field on their feet.

The Cowboys, after suffering some losses, were on their own nine yard line, with 4th down and eighteen yards to go for the first down. About four minutes of playing time remaining in the game. They lined up in punt formation, with Ronnie Hendricks slotted back and to the right of the center. Instead of the center giving the ball to the Punter, J. B. Wilson, he centered it to Hendricks, who, with some outstanding blocking and his dazzling display of broken-field running, scampered the distance, 81 yards, for the lone Plains TD. Try for points after failed and this ended the scoring for both teams.

On the Kickoff following the touchdown, Plains made good an on-sides kick and recovered the ball on their own 45 yard line. Despite some really valiant attempts though, they were unable to score in the remaining two minutes of play, and the final score wound up Plains 6 and Seagraves 8.

Salt Water Hearing In Progress

Rod Duff and G. W. Cleveland the President and Secretary - Treasurer of Yoakum County Water Conservation Association, travelled to Austin on Wednesday of this week to be present there when the hearing on salt water pollution in Yoakum County is heard before the State Water Pollution Control Board.

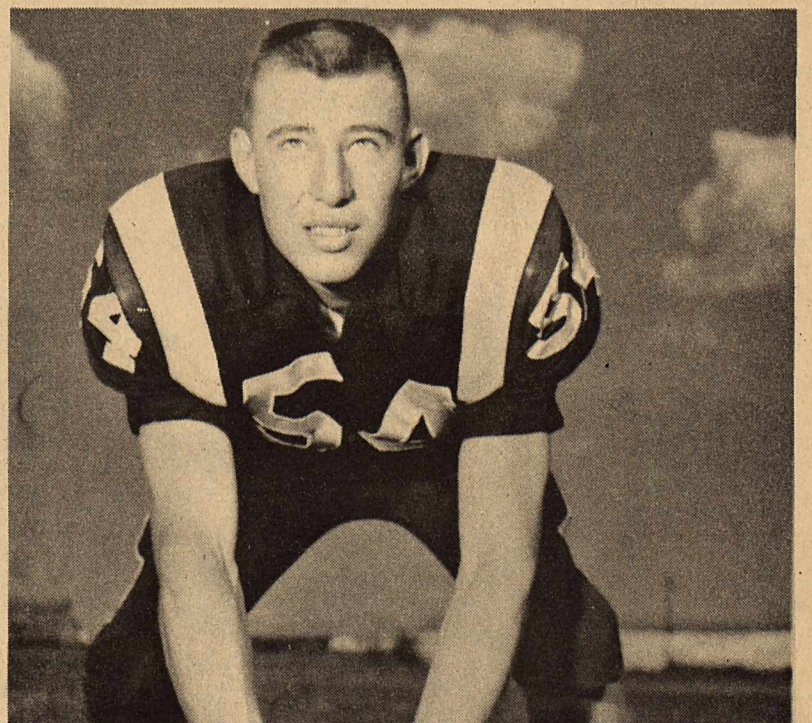

Mr. Ed Reed, consulting hydrologist from Midland, has been the individual doing the actual field work in the country to determine the presence and the extent of pollution in various instances in the entire county. His finding lead to the local county group asking the state board to demand a cessation of the dumping of brine wastes in open unlined pits in Yoakum County.

A decision on the endorsement of the Pollution Control Board from the Texas Railroad Commission is expected to be forthcoming by the middle of December.

Animal Health Group Meet

Livestock owners have two main issues to discuss Tuesday night when they meet in the District Court Room. Mr. G. W. Cleveland, chairman of the County Animal Health Committee, will have information concerning the Screw-worm Eradication Program and the Brucellosis Testing Program.

The Brucellosis Testing Program is scheduled to begin on November 10th and at this meeting Dr. Zerkel, Veterinarian in charge of the testing work, will be present to make any needed explanations. Cattle owners are urged to be present at this meeting to help plan the work and get the testing done with the least amount of delay and confusion.

A set of slide pictures will be shown to help acquaint livestock producers with the screwworm program now in operation. Sterile screw-worm flies are now being distributed in sufficient numbers to give the desired control. All livestock owners are being asked to keep on the alert for possible screwworm cases, treat them early to prevent any of the worms from reaching the adult stage, and collect a sample of the worms to send in to the laboratory for conformation. This program will not achieve the desired results without the close cooperation of livestock producers.

The Tuesday night meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. The general public is invited to attend and all livestock owners are urged to be present.

India Has 335 Million Illiterates In a Population of 400 Million

NEW DELHI (UPI) — As many as 335 million of India's total population do not know how to read or write.

This was revealed by Census Commissioner A. K. Mirra, who recently announced the final total of the 1961 headcount as 439,235,462 persons, including 226,293,820 males and 212,941,462 females.

Of these, he said only 77,828,182 men and 27,505,118 women are literate.

Mirra gave the following additional information:

—The best educated of India's 15 states is the communist stronghold of Kerala where 50 per cent of the people are literate.

ate. The literacy ratio between men and women is 60/40.

—Another strongly communist state, West Bengal, ranks second with 30 per cent.

—The most thickly populated state is Prime Minister Nehru's home province of Uttar Pradesh. But here, only 1/6 of the people are literate.

—The most backward states educationally are disputed Kashmir and Jammu and the former princely state of Rajasthan. Less than 1/7 of the population can read or write in these regions.

Mirra said India's population had increased by about 21 per cent in the past 10 years. He warned that serious danger was in the offing if this "phenomenal" increase was not checked.

He said population was growing because of "elimination of famines, epidemics and wasting diseases like malaria."

The commission placed India's average life expectancy at 45. Under the British regime it was 32.

He said the statistics indicate girls in the first few years of life suffer from greater neglect than boys.
