AMEN

The constant drop of water wears away the hardest stone; The constant gnaw of Tower masticates the toughest bone;

The constant wooing lover carries off the blushing maid; And the CONSTANT ADVERTISER is the one who gets the trade.

One big business mogul once very aptly said, "I'm sure that fully half the money I spend for advertising is wasted." But I can never find out which half.

This "Customer Appreciation Day" program being possibly sponsored by Plains C of C, looks pretty good to me.

If the business people of Plains get together and really work at it, it'll be mighty good for the business climate here.

Actually, a program of this kind, when properly handled, doesn't wind up costing anything; it pays.

If your business or mine gets three or four new customers a week from it, it was certainly worth it.

If the chamber adopts it, and accepts the franchise on it, let's really get behind it and dispell some of the misguided notions that a few folks have about not doing their trading at home.

You know, lot's of people, not just in Plains, but in many small towns feel, mistakenly, that they can save money on most items by buying them in other towns. This notion is not only in error, but the salient fact, that if Plains is going to be built up and is going to progress, Plains people are going to have to help it do so.

Trading out of town, to my notion is a rather poor way to do this.

But, I actually know of people in business who shop for goods out of town that can be purchased just as economically here.

I, personally, won't buy anything out of town, that I can possibly buy here, and, that doesn't leave many items with the kind of forward looking Plains merchants have begun.

If we use this program in the right way, just maybe, we can at least tempt some to try trading at home for more and more of their needs.

Polling places where Yoakum County farmers may cast ballots in the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1963 upland cotton crop were announced today by Ray Bearden, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The referendum will be held on Tuesday, December 11.

The polling places are 10-

The polling places are located as follows: Boulsters Farm Supply, Denver City, Texas; Plains Old Courthouse, C. G. & S. Gin; Bronco Gin; New-Tex Gin; Wayside Gin; Pleasant Hill Gin; Tokio Co-op Gin. Polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Any person who does not reside in the county in which he is engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1962 may obtain a ballot prior to the referendum from any county ASCS office and cast his ballot by mail. Also, any producer who resides in the county in which he is engaged in the production of cotton, but will be out of the county on Dec. 11, may cast his ballot by mail. Absentee ballots must be mailed in accordance with instructions available at

ALL-STATE-----Dennis Hickman, outstanding guard on the Plains Varsity team, was named, this week as the All-State Guard selection. There were only 12 players picked for the team, two quarterbacks and one team. Only one other player from district 5-A was picked to the all-state line up. This was Earnest Holloway from Wink. Ronnie Hendricks from Plains received honorable mention.

Traffic Fines Set Garbage Rates Up

Mr. Bob Long, Plains City Secretary, announced earlier this week that the City Council, in their regular meeting this month had decided on a pair of items that should be of interest to all local citizens.

Effective on January 1, and thereafter, rates for garbage disposal will be slightly increased. Residential rates, previously $1 per month, are, as of January 1, set at $1.50 per month. And, rates for businesses, which have varied here-to-fore will all be standardized at $3 per month.

The increase in the pick-up rate, it was explained by one councilman, is necessary to facilitate the possible purchase of new pick-up equipment and to enable the city to pay a living wage to the operator. The city has just recently gone into the business of disposal for itself, as previously the job had been handled on a contract basis.

The second item of interest to Plains residents is the standardization of fines assessed for traffic violations within the City.

A fine of $3 will be due in the case of illegal parking, $5 will be assessed for failure to stop at a stop sign, and the state rate will apply for failure to give pedestrians right of way in the school crossings and in the case of travelling at an excess speed in town.

Polling Places For Cotton Vote

County ASCS offices and must reach the county office for the county in which the producer is eligible to vote by 6 p. m. December 11.

Chairman Bearden explained that every effort has been made to inform farmers fully about the allotment - quota program so that the outcome of the referendum may represent the considered opinion of all the voters. Farmers eligible to cast ballots are all those who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1962. This includes those farmers whose 1962 cotton history acreage is protected by participation in the Soil Bank, released acreage or preservation. If the husband is eligible to vote, the wife is eligible.

Approval by at least two thirds of the growers voting is necessary if quotas are to go into effect.

Issues to be decided in the December 11 referendum are (1) quotas or no quotas, and (2) the level of price support to be available for the 1963 upland cotton crop.

If the vote is favorable, quotas will be in effect for the crop, with penalties on any "excess" cotton produced on a farm, and price support to growers who comply with their farm allotments will be chase of new pick-up equipment and to enable the city to pay a living wage to the operator. The city has just recently gone into the business of disposal for itself, as previously the job had been handled on a contract basis.

The second item of interest to Plains residents is the standardization of fines assessed for traffic violations within the City.

A fine of $3 will be due in the case of illegal parking, $5 will be assessed for failure to stop at a stop sign, and the state rate will apply for failure to give pedestrians right of way in the school crossings and in the case of travelling at an excess speed in town.

Yoakum County citizens selected as possible jurors for this session of District Court are as follows:

J. C. Stegall, W. C. Hurt, Mrs. Jesse Murphy, E. W. New, Mrs. E. O. Winkle, Mrs. Sherm Henard, Melvin Moore, G. W. Russell, A. Y. McElroy, John Malone, L. T. Pate, Earl Benson, Mrs. Walter Olivio (excused), R. W. Thurston, Roy Akin, Jay E. Morgan, Mrs. G. G. Kirby, J. W. Beal, W. L. McCravey, G. W. Brantley, D. L. Blewins, Paul W. Scott, Alton Scoggins, T. H. Grimes, B. L. Black, Jack Cobb, Mrs. Dorman Scott, Mrs. John T. Camp, I. B. Lansford, Mrs. W. R. Shook, L. R. Scott, Mrs. W. B. Shipman, C. A. Roberts, Kenneth Moore, R. E. Dyer, Mrs. M. C. O'Neal, Mrs. Ruth Polston, Claude Maynard, Robert B. White, Rance F. Manning, Pat Henard, Robert E. Jones, J. Earl Matheson, Barron Blair, Mrs. Donald Bookout, Foye Powell and Wallace Randolph.

Yoakum County Grand Jury, also for December, set to begin December 10, is made up of these Yoakum citizens: Ralph Bone, R. S. Faulkenberry, Vennum Fitzgerald, T. J. Miller, J. B. Ashburn, James Warren, Rod Duff, Ray Bearden, E. D. Campbell, U. S. Bullock, Roland F. Braswell, J. D. McKee, Buck V. Fox, W. E. Creech, Jr., John Bednarz and J. H. Corbin.

Customer Appreciation Days Being Planned

Final decision on whether or not to adopt a program aimed at causing a greater degree of trading with the merchants of Plains will be made Friday morning in a special called meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The plan, a customer appreciation days program, has been offered too Plains by a firm from Weatherford, that specializes in it and offers a franchise to any town adopting it, so that area towns can not have the same program to lure away prospective Plains customers.

The franchised area for Plains would likely be, it has been revealed, a thirty-five mile radius.

Original cost of entering the program per business has been set at $20 and the weekly cost would be $3.25 per business firm.

Of this $3.25, $1.25 goes to the cost of operating and promoting the program and the remaining $2 would be put into the "Appreciation Days Pot."

Merchants participating in the program would then, with each sale, give their customers coupons good for the week's drawing.

The amount possible to be won from the pot in any given week would be determined by the size of purchase made. If the coupon drawn in any given week's drawing had the designation that a purchase of from $25 to $49.99 the person would be eligible to win 50 percent of the pot and so forth on down to the point that a purchase of from 25 cents to 99 cents would entitle the person's name drawn to five percent of the pot.

It also is necessary that the person whose name is drawn be present at the time of the drawing.

Plains Area Harvest Good

Despite what at first look to many observers as possibly a pretty unfavorable farming season, because of the lateness of getting the crops into the ground and a pronounced lack of early moisture, the cotton and grain sorghum crops in Yoakum County are, for the most part, far exceeding expectations.

The grain crop is admittedly not yielding quite what some had hoped, but as of late Wednesday, approximately 90,000,000 pounds had been received in the three elevators of Plains combined.

Most observers estimate that about 95 percent of the county's grain has been harvested. The figure received thus far is a little below last year's total, but not a really appreciable amount.

As for this year's cotton yield, the prospects for a crop in excess of 30,000 bales can be seen by the optimists.

To date, despite some pretty discouraging weather conditions to attempt harvest in, the bales count for just the five gins in the Plains area had ginned 10,425 bales (this is through Wednesday noon).

Estimates have it that between 40 and 50 percent of the area crop has been harvested to date.

Teachers Maul Plains Firemen

Last Friday, in the football game in which the Plains Fire Department took on the school teachers, some pretty unusual plays were in evidence.

The weather was not very good, with a light drizzle coming down and the temperature pretty cool, but this didn't seem to dampen the spirits of either the players or the spectators.

Total gate receipts for the game were $147, which was thought to be excellent considering the weather.

Now Two County Cattle Inspectors

In actions taken this week by the Yoakum County Commissioners' Court, Judge Don Hancock reports that attempts are now being made to secure easements so that construction can begin on two separate bits of Farm-to-Market roads in, two different portions of the county.

Six miles of re-paving is planned for FM Road 1780 running north from Yoakum Co. Co-op Gin. And, nine miles of new paving is eminent on a stretch from Bronco north.

Reporting on the situation of the confusion of the position of Cattle Inspector in the County, Hancock stated that evidently there will be two such positions now in the county.

Charlie Waddell of Denver City who was elected to the position in the November 6, General Election, will be duly sworn in as inspector of hides next month.

Pat Henard will, however, retain his position as appointed County Cattle Inspector, and will still receive the salary of $87.50 per month as he has for several years.

From Column 6 Teachers--Firemen

Scoring in the game was somewhat one-sided, in that it was all done by the teachers. Final score was teachers 25 and Firemen 0.

Scoring in the entire first half was just six points in the first quarter on a 35 yard pass from Jack Pierce to Rip Sewell.

In the third stanza, the teachers managed for 13 points the first TD coming on a short pass over the middle from Pierce to Sewell. Then Sewell on a reverse run play ran 60 yards for the touchdown and he also kicked the point after.

In the fourth period of play Sewell intercepted a Fireman pass on the 10 and raced 90 yards for the final TD of the game.

On December 13, at 7:30 the Senior Class will present their play for this year. The Play, Goodnight Ladies, is a story about college students in which two boys, played by Earnie Anderson and Kenneth McGinty, dress up as women to fool the Dean of the college. This three act farce promises laughs galore. The rest of the cast include Betty Stewart, D'Lynn McGinty, Marilyn Jones, J. B. Wilson, Dana Dyer, Janith Tucker, Linda Elmore, Dennis Hickman, Tommy Payne, and Mary Johnson. Directors are Miss Laura Lamb and Robert Gentry.

GOOD FISHING-----Mr. and Mrs. Perry Anthony and O. V. Hill travelled to Guymas, Sonora, Mexico, recently for some deep-sea fishing and had some real fine luck. Perry caught the Grouper pictured above. The grouper he explained is of the sea bass family. This specimen weighed 73 lbs. They also caught many red snappers, yellow tail tunas and shark. Perry received a certificate for the largest day's catch and will receive, as soon as it is inscribed, a trophy for the largest catch of the month. Someone asked Perry how long it took him to land the big one and he replied that for about the first fifteen minutes of the 45 it took he was trying to keep the fish from pulling him in.

great deal of mighty good basketball this season from a very determined group of Cowboys from Plains. The improvement noted in just these three opening games is plenty to cause all the other 5-A teams plenty of worry about trying to get by Plains in the District competition.
Plains "B" team has so far stacked up a pretty fair record with two wins and one loss. They defeated Levelland 23 to 20 and Tatum 24 to 19, and their single loss was to Eunice 39 to 25.
High pointers for the "B" squad have been James Hampton, Jack Lowe and Bruce Long.

Department of Agriculture officials have pointed out that, while the Administration plans to recommend new cotton legislation early in 1963, it is anticipated that such legislation would supplement, rather than to substantially change the basic program choices in the December 11 referendum.

Name New OIC Chairman

Tom Johnstone, Area Petroleum Engineer for Texaco, Incorporated, is named new Oil Information Committee Chairman for Yoakum County for 1963. Mr. Johnstone replaces Jim Kent with The Western Company - Seagraves Texas-OIC Representatives of 1961 and 1962.

Tom is from South Pasadena, California. He is a graduate from New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, a resident of Denver City since May, 1961. He holds the position as District Area Engineer with Texaco.

Mr. Johnstone is eager to work with the school officials and any persons desiring information of oil field methods and products. OIC is sponsored by the Texas Mid Continent Oil & Gas Association of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Marie and Wanda, spent Friday night in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Neal, in Odessa. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson went on to Alpine Saturday to visit his brother Albert. They enjoyed sightseeing at Old Fort Davis and were in rain, snow, sleet and hail within a few hours while in the Davis mountains.

SHOP EARLY

How many of us would get our Christmas shopping completed early if we had to wear a string around a finger until the job was done? Why kid ourselves? We'd be seeing string on some fingers right up to Christmas Eve.
That's why the variety and quality of merchandise in local stores is something to be thankful for. When "Last-Minute Lou" gets ready shopping can be done in apple pie order.
But for those folks who don't wait until the last minute may we advise that the selection in local stores is best NOW. And, while service is the trademark of the local store, it just makes plain sense that clerks can give you more time, can be more helpful—and even more appreciative if you shop NOW, leisurely, before the last-minute rush.

Open Letter to President Kennedy

RICHARD KILBOURNE

Attorney at Law
Clinton, Louisiana
October 2, 1962

The President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I am prompted to write this letter by recent events in the State of Mississippi.

The historical facts which I propose to relate are so well known that their repetition may appear to be redundant. However, the pious self-righteousness with which you and your brother, the Attorney General, have accompanied the brutal suppression of the people of the State of Mississippi has led me to the conclusion that these facts cannot be too often repeated.

The excuse for the invasion of the State of Mississippi by federal forces is a court order. The excuse for the court order is the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States or, more precisely, one portion of the Amendment which says:

"No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of Citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor deny any person within its jurisdiction of the equal protection of the law."

With the exception of the treatment accorded the American Indians, I doubt if there is a more shameful chapter in the history of the Republic than that which contains the history of the Fourteenth Amendment.

The history of the 14th Amendment began in the United States Congress on June 8, 1866. The Confederate States of the South had surrendered and were once more a part of the Union by having lost the war to secede. The legislatures of the several states, including those of the Southern States of Louisiana, Alabama, Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Arkansas and Georgia, among others, had ratified the 13th Amendment which abolished slavery.

At this point, the firm and charitable hand of President Lincoln had been stilled by an assassin's bullet. A despotic and ruthless majority in the Congress took control of the government. By an unconscionable use of provisions in the Constitution which allow each Congress to be the judge of the qualifications of its members, this majority refused to allow the Senators and Representatives from the ten Southern States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas to be seated. This was done in spite of another provision in the Constitution (Article V) which guarantees each state an equal vote in the Senate.

The purpose of this device was simple. It was to enable the rabid South-haters in Congress to secure, under color of law, the two-thirds vote necessary to submit the 14th Amendment to the legislatures of the states for ratification.

In this situation, a "rump" Congress, composed of Senators and Representatives from twenty-seven States of the Union, instead of from the thirty-seven States then in existence, passed resolutions proposing the Fourteenth Amendment.

The legislatures of the ten Southern States whose Senators and Representatives had been excluded from voting on the resolutions proposing the 14th Amendment in Congress, promptly rejected it as did the legislatures of the border States of Kentucky, Delaware and Maryland.

By the Spring of 1867, it had become apparent that the Fourteenth Amendment was doomed insofar as its passage depended upon the free will of the South. It had been rejected by the legislatures, still free, of thirteen states, leaving only twenty-four states to ratify. Inasmuch as three-fourths of thirty-seven states, or twenty-eight, were needed for ratification, a new approach was indicated in order to "move forward" with the Fourteenth Amendment.

The rabid majority in Congress was up to the task. The same "rump" Congress which had excluded the Senators and Representatives of the ten Southern States above mentioned, enacted the Reconstruction Act of March 2, 1867. Again, no senator or representative from ten of the Southern States was allowed to vote. The Reconstruction Act dealt with the ten excluded Southern States as "rebel" states and declared that no legal governments existed in them. It placed these states under military rule under domination of army officers appointed by the President. By means of the Reconstruction Act, these ten Southern States were completely deprived of all power of government.

The most amazing or, shall we say, the most "extreme" feature of the Reconstruction Act was a provision to the effect that in order for the so-called "rebel" states to regain the status of statehood of which the Reconstruction Act deprived them, each of them had to ratify the Fourteenth Amendment.

President Johnson vetoed the Reconstruction Act in an able message, stressing its harsh unjustness and its many obviously unconstitutional features. He denounced it as a "bill of attainder against nine million people at once." Nevertheless, the same ruthless and rabid "rump" Congress passed the measure over his veto.

Military rule took over in each of the ten Southern States which the Reconstruction Act had designated as "rebel." Puppet governments, under military domination, were set up in each state and, literally at the point of bayonets, these puppet governments were alleged to have ratified the Fourteenth Amendment.

The prostrate and helpless "rebel states" of the South appealed again and again for relief from the Reconstruction Act to the United States Supreme Court. Each time, that august body, so quick nowadays to protect the minority from the ravages of the majority, found excuses to avoid ruling on the constitutionality of the Reconstruction Act and the Fourteenth Amendment. It has not done so to this day.

So you see, Mr. President, the Fourteenth Amendment was conceived in hate, born in infamy and nurtured by vengeance. The tragedy in the State of Mississippi, which we are now witnessing, is only a part of the bitter fruit of the unnatural union which spawned the Fourteenth Amendment.

Blinded by hate and thirsting for vengeance upon a fallen foe, the "rump" Congress of 1866 could not have foreseen that, in less than one hundred years, their places would be taken by a despotic judiciary, abetted by a ruthless executive department, unhindered by a subservient Congress, a combination which has made it possible for powerful forces to subvert the powers guaranteed the people by the Tenth Amendment of the Constitution, under what is commonly known as States Rights, and to use these powers for their own selfish ends, all in the name of the Fourteenth Amendment.

In the climate where you live, Mr. President, I am confident that these sentiments will be regarded as "unsophisticated." I do not expect my words to influence the course which, by your lights, is necessary. I can only hope that these words may be seen by some who still believe, as I do, that might does not make right.

Respectfully,
Richard Kilbourne

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER
THE PLANET MARS

IT MAY be significant of the Russian character that they have now left the mild moon behind and are sending a rocket toward Mars, who was named for the classic god of war. For doubtless they would learn, while ostensibly seeking peace, all that is possible about making war. And they will need all the knowledge they can acquire if they take on the United States.

JUST A THOUGHT:

Those who are interested in finding some reward in the hereafter will always find time to turn their footsteps in the direction of good works and charity.

To turn to less tragic things. It is beyond us to imagine how much good could be done if the billions of wealth now spent in space exploration could be used in feeding the hungry millions of earth. Also in projects that would make the earth a better place to live, with obstructions spanned and causing the desert to stir with new life and blossom as the rose.

This is written without desire to detract from the glory of astronauts who have ridden satellites around the world. Their fame is secure in the annals of the ages. But it would seem that billions spent on earth, instead of space, would bring a greater blessing to mankind than a larger knowledge of the sun and moon and stars. It is recorded that when the sons of men were building the tower of Babel, from the top of which they hoped they might look into heaven, their tongues were confused and they left off building. Perhaps the men of the present are seeking to know too much.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank each of the many of you who sent the flowers and visited during our recent hospital stay.

May God bless each one of you for your many acts of kindness.

Tsa Mo Ga Club Seeking Gifts

It has been known that Tsa Mo Ga Club of Plains is participating with the rest of this district of TFCW in his year's district project, that is supporting the South Plains Boys Ranch near Tahosa in whatever way they can. A gift box from the local club to be sent for Christmas is being made up at present, and anyone wishing to have a part in it may do so by taking the items to be sent to Moore and Oden Dry Goods no later than Monday afternoon. The ranch is now helping 11 boys and it will take any child age 9 through 17 who is not in trouble with law violations. Most anything can be used by the ranch and the boys, and some suggestions as to the possible items to be included in the box are games, toys, books, clothing, bedding or money.

ITEM: Cut flowers can be made to last longer by using preservatives now available from retail flower shops and greenhouse supply companies. When used at recommended concentrations, flowers are not injured by the chemicals. The preservatives have been found particularly useful in extending the life of cut roses and chrysanthemums. They last two to four times as long at room temperatures as they would otherwise.

ITEM: When there's leftover cooked chicken and gravy, refrigerate or freeze as soon as possible. Use covered containers for storing. Remove stuffing from roasted whole chicken, put stuffing and meat in separate containers and refrigerate. Use refrigerated chicken and stuffing within two or three days.

ITEMS: Mothers have more influence on clothes their teenage daughters buy than they may think. It's not true that teenagers are influenced more by what other teenagers wear. A study of freshmen and senior high school girls in a midwestern state shows it isn't so. The opinion of mother, or mother and one other person, outranked that of girl friends, boy friends, or a combination of the two. Mother was listed as the girl's most frequent shopping companion and had more influence on large items, such as coats than on skirts and blouses.

FHA Hosts FFA Boys

The local Chapter of Future Homemakers of America met Monday night at 7:30 in the school cafeteria. The program was a panel discussion on the problems that Plains teenagers face today. The panel members consisted of Earl Powell, Dana Bryson, Larry Thelliams, and D'Lynn McGinty. Rip Swell acted as master of ceremonies. One of the problems brought forth was the lack of recreation in Plains. The Plains Chapter of FFA boys were guests Monday night. Following the program we had a regular business meeting. It was decided that December 18th would be the date for our annual Christmas Party. The girls may invite dates to go caroling afterwards. Letha Watson was elected girl of the month.

The Plains Chapter named Ann Latimore as their Sweetheart Monday night. Ann will go to Post on the 10th of December to compete against other Chapter Sweethearts at the District FFA Banquet. The Chapter Farmer Pins were given at the meeting also. Those receiving the pins were, Ronnie Hendricks, Kenneth McGinty, Ty Earl Powell, Clarence Todd, Larry Newton, Erine Anderson, Coy Lowery, Jimmy Kirby, Robert Tauton, Cote Trout, J. B. Wilson, Fred Blount, Donald Davis, Johnny Pippin, Jimmy O'Neal, Olan Smith, Dennis Hickman, Charles Tucker, Don Scott, and Tommy Payne.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

New conservation plans on the W. C. Wilmeth, Lloyd Allsup and E. L. Nicholson farms were completed this week. The Lloyd Allsup plan is also a Great Plains contract. Other plans were revised on the H. F. Barnes farm operated by Tom Box. Roy Keller signed his Great Plains contract this week. He plans to plant 52 acres of grass for pasture and install 2,350 feet of eight inch underground pipe, along with regular conservation practices. New plan maps were ordered on which to work out plans on the Jim Barron, J. W. Rainey, Jim Bearden, A. W. Turner and R. C. Young farms. E. E. Harbin, Jr. made application for a Great Plains contract on his farm operated by O. G. Lewis. He plans to plant about 80 acres of grass. Maps were received on the Kenneth Owen, Bill Powell, Forrest Reeves and Jack Compton plans this week. These are to be used in writing district plans.

Designs were completed for underground pipelines on the Ray Bearden and S. L. Tingle farms. H. W. Tankersley, from Tahoka, plans to drill another irrigation well, plant about 80 acres of grass and install underground pipe as a part of his program on the section of land he owns southeast of Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Billingsley accompanied their son, Neil and Family, to Tulia last weekend to attend the Dell City - Happy Regional Football Game. Neil is coach of the Dell City mentors who lost the contest.

Plains unit of the American Legion will meet in the Legion Hall on Thursday, December 13, at 7:30 p. m. All members and those interested in becoming members are urged to be present. A report from the Plains delegate to Boys State will be heard.

Christmas Safety Practices Urged

The Texas Safety Association today advised Christmas shoppers to keep safety in mind when selecting toys for children. J. O. Musick, General Manager of TSA, advised selecting toys that are sturdy and well-made. "Cheaply constructed or breakable toys may come apart or be broken under strenuous child play," Musick said. "Broken or jagged edges from toys can cause cuts and infection."

"Inspection of toys and play equipment periodically is important. Check wooden toys for splinters, wagons for loose wheels and baby's rattler for cracks which may free the little stones inside. If satisfactory repairs can't be made, discard toy immediately." He noted that toys can be hazards not only for children at play, but also for adults. "Serious falls may result from toys left on steps, stairways, walks or in the yard. Have a place for toys and teach children to put them away," he concluded.

FU Prexy Urges To Keep Quotas

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman today urged that "eligible cotton farmers accept their responsibilities by voting for the continuation of marketing quotas and acreage allotments on December 11th which is the day that has been set for the national marketing referendum."

"A large vote for this program, that has meant so much to cotton farmers, will reaffirm farmers' support for wise supply management programs and reject any contention that farmers do not want marketing quotas and acreage allotments in return for a fair price."

"The cotton producer will be in a better position to present his case for a long range cotton program including such tools as direct payments, already approved for wheat and feed grains, if he will register a large affirmative vote in the referendum."

"The Cotton Advisory Committee has recently recommended an increase in cotton acreage contingent on the passage of a cotton program that will enable, through deficiency payments, the present overproduction to be moved into consumption without adversely affecting farmers' income. This does not relieve cotton farmers from the duty to support the program by voting, but rather intensifies it."

"Many Congressmen will be watching the results of the referendum to determine the attitudes of farmers toward the continuation and broadening of farm programs designed in their best interest."

Danila Services Held Thursday

Funeral Services for Mr. Charlie Danila, age 69, who died Tuesday while working on the Charles Trout farm, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. in the Plains First Baptist Church.

The Reverend Alberto and Johnny Castro officiated at the services.

Mr. Danila had lived in the Tokio Community for about five years.

He is survived by his wife, Carmen Danila, two daughters Mrs. Mary Alvarado and Mrs. Lena Barrentas all of Tokio, and one son, Pedro, also of the home.

Burial was in Plains Cemetery, under the direction of the Huffman-Barrett Funeral Home.
