OUR 34th YEAR

Editorial School Crossing?

"Why isn't there a policeman being stationed on our school crosswalks every day?"
"What are we paying City taxes for if it's not for the protection we have a right to expect from the City, that would most certainly include the protection of our children going to and from school, most especially as they so often have to cross the highway?"
"For what possibly more important purpose are our tax dollars being spent, that there aren't enough to go around so that a patrolman can be placed at our school crosswalks during the busy times of the day?"

These are but a sampling of the questions and comments, some not so strong and some much stronger, we have received this week, both verbally and many through them all.

One thing is definitely quite evident. People are really concerned about the situation and are asking for some answers.

We contacted the City officials this week and posed these same questions to them.

Most of the concern and the uproar, of course, has been brought about because of a Plains third grader who was struck by a vehicle last Friday morning while crossing the highway, in one of the crosswalks on his way to school.

The questions asked the city officials, including the Mayor of Plains, Buddy Hanna, revolved around this line of thinking, "We, up until a short time ago had a City Patrolman, who carried out the responsibility of guarding the crosswalks during the times of their greatest use every school day." "We no longer are getting that particular service." "Why?"

Mayor Hanna pointed out that within the framework of our present tax structure and tax rate, it is not possible to provide this service as it was because there simply is not enough money to do it. He stated that to provide a city policeman, with a patrol car was costing the City a great deal of money. He said that the car payments, its upkeep, the salary for the policeman, and the rest of the incidentals were costing the City in the neighborhood of $800 per month, and that the City just doesn't have that kind of money to spend, when all its many fiscal responsibilities are taken into their proper consideration.

One other very important fact was pointed out in this regard also, that certainly needs to be taken into the consideration and thinking of all who are concerned in this very vital matter.

Even if their had been a patrolman on the job at the time of the accident which occurred on Friday morning, it might just very well have occurred anyway. One person can only be at one crosswalk at a time, and when we did have a policeman actively on the job every day, he usually was at his post near the crosswalk near the Tumbleweed, as this is where the greatest pedestrian traffic occurs every day, so that he would not have been near enough to the scene of the accident to probably do prevention or be able to help prevent that accident.

We certainly believe that if we wait until one of our youngsters has been killed by a vehicle to take constructive action, that we have then certainly waited too long.

We also believe that we have a really fine City government that wants to know what the will and the wishes of the people really are.

There are several possible ideas that could be put to use to aid in this very real problem. Let the City know what your wishes and ideas are. They'll listen and be very happy to know your opinions.

One thing that will be carried out very soon, Odus Walser, Plains Junior High Principal, reports to us is the special marking of the highway with giant white S's to better demark the School Zone. This is good and needs to be done. We feel certain the proper steps will be taken.

March Of Dimes Drive Scheduled

Plains Chapter of the National Foundation (The March of Dimes) today named Mrs. Oma McCargo as their 1964 Funds Campaign Chairman.

Mrs. McCargo pointed out that some people are under the mistaken impression that the National Foundation might possibly no longer be of as great a use since the battle to overcome polio has about been won.

She stated that there is still a great need for this organization whose already-established and proven facilities have been mobilized to combat some other also very serious national health problems.

The national foundation now lists its programs as being directed toward trying to do away with birth defects, arthritis, polio and support for the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

The programs are directed toward research and dissemination of information to person and agencies who can use and implement the results of their findings.

Locally, the campaign is to consist of three main parts. One part is to be handled by the Chamber of Commerce and is to be a road-block on main street in which cars will be stopped and their occupants asked to contribute.

Another phase of the local campaign will be the solicitation of funds from Plains businesses. It was reported that both the Tsa Mo Ga and Iota Pi Clubs will participate in this and the third part of the local drive, which is the annual Mother's March.

The Mother's March is set to be held on the night of March 31.

Local residents who wish to contribute are asked to turn on their porch lights so that the ladies in the Mother's March will know to stop.

CROWD PLEASERS---TexAnns of South Plains College were a part of the big program sponsored by Plains Lions Club here in the High School gym on Monday evening. Other program features were the Plains High Stage Band and the Harlem Stars, a comedy basketball team who had as their opponents the outsiders of both Sundown and Plains. Receipts from the evening were reported to be very good.

STREETMAN'S OPEN FRIDAY

A new store is scheduled to open in Plains tomorrow, Friday.

Streetman's, a variety and department store is to be located on the east side of the courthouse square in the Spencer Building.

Owners and operators of the new store will be Mr. Foy Streetman and Mrs. S. Streetman.

The store will carry a full line of clothing for children and for men, including shoes. Also, sundries, notions, and variety items, especially toys are to be on the shelves for sale to the public.

Streetman said that he certainly invites the public to come by and look over the store, and states that it will definitely be open this Friday and Saturday although all his items of merchandise have not as yet arrived.

He went on to say that in the near future announcement will be made concerning his Grand Opening.

SCOUTS GIVING HALF OF BEEF

Members of Plains Boy Scout Troop 778 are actively selling tickets this week. On the face of the ticket it reads that a one dollar donation to the local troop has been given by the person whose name is written in at the bottom of the ticket.

The ticket also entitles the purchaser to one free chance on a full one-half beef to be given away on the evening of February 17 at the Scout Hut.

Credit Union Annual Meeting

Fourteenth Annual meeting of Yoakum County Federal Credit Union was held here on Monday night, January 20, in the clubroom located in the old Courthouse.

It was reported that the meeting was quite well attended with 46 members and their guests on hand.

Reports of the past year's activities were given and the main event of the evening was reported to be thoroughly enjoyed by those present. It was a presentation given by Mr. Wayne Hilton, a State Credit Union official, of slides and comments on the advantages of belonging to and borrowing from your local credit union.

An election of officers was held and all those whose terms were expiring were re-elected. They were P. W. St. Romain and Mollie Courtney as directors and Joe Curry as a member of the credit committee.

It was underlined that again this year the local credit union is paying a four percent dividend.

The following facts also were pointed out:

"Membership in Yoakum County Federal Credit Union is limited to persons residing within a radius of 15 miles of Plains. Membership fees are 25 cents per person, shares are $5 each, and a shareholder has one vote, (regardless of the number of shares owned), in Credit Union business affairs.

Junior High Tourney Here

The annual Plains Junior High Basketball Tournament is scheduled to get underway Saturday morning at 8 a. m. See page three of this issue for the bracket and the teams that will be participating in the affair.

Twelve games will be on tap for the day and trophies will be awarded in three categories to first, second and consolation places.

Admission prices for two sessions have been set at 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults for each session. See "Sports" on page 3.

Cowboys Here

Plains Cowboys took on two more conference rivals this week when they met the Wildcats of Wink here on last Friday evening and the Eagles of O'Donnell there on Tuesday of this week.

In the Wink game the Wildcats jumped out to tie and go ahead of the Cowboys at the half game time by a total of only three points in a game which to that point had been pretty much of a neck-and-neck affair.

The Cowboys then came along and managed to get five points ahead at the end of the third quarter of play, but were unable to hold that edge as the Wildcats came back and beat Plains by a total of five points, the final score 44-49.

Danny Smith was the high point man for Plains with 15. In the O'Donnell game, the Cowboys had a mighty rough time getting started as they scored only five points in the first period while O'Donnell was tallying a total of 24. The Cowboys, however, came bounding right back and led, in the rebound department by Mike Field with 15 and Larry Williams with 10, controlled the boards most of the game.

In the last two and one-half quarters Plains scored 46 points while O'Donnell was able only to tally 23.

Final score was Plains 51, even though the O'Donnell scoreboard only showed 48, to the Eagles' 56.

High pointers for Plains were Danny Smith with 14 and Larry Williams with 9.

On Friday night Plains will meet Tahoka there and then on Tuesday night Sundown will be hosted here.

CAR OVERTURNED---Mrs. Bill Bell, 32, and her son Mark, 2 years old, both of Lovington, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Robinson and their daughter, Mary, all of Old Glory, Texas, were in the wrecked car shown above when the right front wheel bearing locked and the car overturned twice six miles west of Plains on the Lovington Highway. All were taken by Deputy Olan Heath and Barrett's Ambulance to the Denver City Hospital, where Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were listed as critical.

Stock Show Set For Feb. 21-22

The 12th Annual Yoakum County Junior Fat Stock Show is only four weeks away. The show is sponsored by the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association, a non-profit organization created in 1962 for the purpose of sponsoring fairs and shows in Yoakum County.

County agent, Leo White and vocational agriculture teacher, Calvin Helm, have determined that 59 boys and girls will take part as exhibitors and there is a possibility of having a total of 146 animals for the judges to place. Preliminary estimates show that 34 beef calves, 39 lambs and 73 barrows will be entered by 4-H Club and FFA Chapter members.

The directors have selected Mr. Calvin Holcomb, County Agricultural Agent of Seminole to judge the calves and the lambs. The barrow judge will be Mr. Paul Gross who is the Assistant County Agricultural Agent at Seminole. The lambs and barrows will be placed on Friday afternoon, February 21st. The Calf judging will be Saturday morning and the sale of all livestock will be on Saturday afternoon. Clarence (Hank) Matthews of Anton will again be the auctioneer.

Two important changes have been made for the 1964 show. Entry fees must be paid on all animals before February 1.

The 4-H exhibitors are to pay their entry fees to the county agent and the FFA exhibitors will pay the vocational Agriculture teacher. The second change for 1964 is the lamb division. There will be a champion and reserve champion mutton type lamb and a champion fine wool lamb but no grand champion lamb will be declared.

Water District Meet Monday

On Monday, January 27, a meeting that will quite possibly have far-reaching implications and that could quite conceivably be one of the most important discussions held in this area has been scheduled for on that evening in the District Courtroom in the new Courthouse.

The purpose of the gathering is twofold, the main one being to ascertain and evaluate the amount of interest in the County in the establishment of a water district for all of Yoakum County, with the possible inclusion of Gaines Co. as quite a bit of interest in this project has been displayed in Gaines County.

Many have expressed views to the effect that such a district with powers and responsibilities along the lines of those being exercised by the High Plains Underground Water District, is needed here for much the same purpose, especially to enforce the recently enacted no-pit order issued by the Texas Water Pollution Control Board relative to brine water disposal in Yoakum County.

The meeting will be held within the frame work of the already-existing Yoakum Co. Water Improvement Association, for which officers may also be elected during the evening.

Some representatives of the High Plains group will be on hand for discussion and to answer any questions relative to the establishment of such a district locally. Also, George McKleskey, the attorney who represented the local association in the recent hearings in Austin will be on hand.

It was erroneously reported in last week's edition of The Record that the time of the meeting scheduled to be held would be 8 p. m. The correct time, however, is 7:30.

It was pointed out that the purchaser need not be present to win on that evening, but that the general public is invited to attend as there will be a display of several scouting skills on that evening.

Scouts, it was reported, will from now until the drawing date be out selling the tickets.

Card Of Thanks

The Plains Dirt Gardeners wish to express their appreciation to everyone for their splendid cooperation in the "OPERATION CHRISTMAS CARD" project.

They wish to express special thanks to Mrs. Mollie Courtney for serving so efficiently as chairman of the project and to Johnnie Moore, Editor of The Plains Record, for handling the publicity.

As the gradual improvement of the Cemetery continues, we know it will be a daily reminder to everyone that "Operation Christmas Card" sent them Christmas and New Year's Greetings in the most sincere manner possible.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Bill Overton

HOWARD RAGLAND

Howard E. Ragland, a life-long resident of Hockley County, has announced his candidacy for election as representative of the fourth county 90th Legislative District. Ragland, 24-year-old graduate of West Texas State University, South Plains High School, is a candidate subject to the May 2 Democratic primary.

He is seeking the position of representative for Hockley, Cochran, Terry and Yoakum counties, a post vacated Dec. 31 by Olen Ray Petty.

Ragland, who graduated from WTS with a bachelor of science degree in 1963, is owner of Texas Entertainment Service, which has charge of live entertainment at the Canyon college and which also holds an entertainment contract for the government, serving more than 5,000 military personnel.

At West Texas State, the candidate was elected the first junior college transfer to the student senate. At SPC, he was a class officer both years.

Ragland was instrumental in locating residents missed on the 1960 census count to help push Level-land over the 10,000 mark.

He financed his college education as an entertainment agent and worked at a number of part time jobs during his elementary and secondary school years.

"It is imperative that we have a capable, honest and sincere representative for this district, and if I am elected it will be a challenge to guide our district as a leader and not as a follower," Ragland declared. "I feel the biggest asset I have to offer the voters of this district is my keen understanding of human nature, which has developed and matured by working with the people of this district," he continued.

"I will stand for a strong agricultural program," he asserted. "If the farmers are prosperous, the district prospers."

"If elected, I will do my best to continue to upgrade education, not only in this district but in the entire state," Ragland continued.

Ragland is a member of First Baptist Church.

STRETCH MARKET EXPANDS

As 1963 drew to a close, textile men estimated that total production of cotton and cotton-blend stretch fabrics would reach the 20-million-yard mark, Rhea Boyles, Extension clothing specialist, reports.

More consumer products of 100 percent stretch cotton may be seen soon, industry leaders predicted.

The Extension specialist points out that more and more manufacturers are entering the stretch fabric field. Mills are able to work out the technical and practical details for making the new fabrics as rapidly as chemists can devise new ways of creating finishes for stretch development.

Prior to the time of chemical finishing techniques, stretch properties were created by knit construction. Later, blends of cotton and synthetics provided stretch. Cost advantage of chemically finished cotton is the ability of stretch finished to team with wash and wear finishes in cotton. Chemical finishing is the leading method of imparting wash and wear properties, according to research.

The popularity of stretch fabrics is shown by this market research information. Wider use of stretch fabrics is noted principally in sportswear, active work clothes and children's clothes and children's garments.

The USDA reports that scientists have worked hard to improve wash-and-wear and fire resistance for cotton; and shrink-proof wool. A process was worked out to produce hats, undergarments, shoes, and other consumer items by permanently molding cotton fabrics.

1964 MEAT SUPPLY UP OVER PAST YEAR

Meat supply experts have taken a head count to see what the meat prospects are for 1964. Their findings should be of interest to consumers, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service Consumer marketing specialist. Domestic supplies along with large beef imports point to a record year. Estimates are that there are 107 million head of cattle on the nation's farms and ranches, according to the American Meat Institute. This means that more beef than last year will be appearing at meat counters.

Per capita consumption of beef is expected to be 97 lbs. per person, and all-time high. Although beef is a year-around favorite, heavy, well-finished beef reaches the market after the first of the year and continues in good supply through June. In September, the supply increases, with the year's peak coming usually in October.

The outlook for pork production will be about the same as for 1963, or about 64 lbs. per person. Although seasonal peaks in pork production have been smoothed considerably in recent years, pork should be in especially good supply from October to May.

Veal supplies for 1964 are expected to be about 4 percent less than a year ago. Generally, the supply of veal does increase during March, but drops off over the summer. Peak supplies of veal for the year are usually available in October.

YOU MAY WANT TO BEGIN PLANNING A MEAT PROGRAM FOR YOUR FREEZER AROUND THESE SEASONAL SUPPLIES, Mrs. Thompson says.

HOMEMAKING IS A TEACHING OPPORTUNITY

Management can be creative, says Mrs. Eula J. Newman, home management specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service. Homemaking is a teaching opportunity, she says, emphasizing that the homemaker's job is more than housework, cooking and helping a taxi for the children. The homemaker has the challenging job of trying to bring out the best in people, and this calls for: (1) Thinking ahead, Regular planning helps, and most people find written plans a boon when new things are attempted. A time plan can help provide leisure for family activities by pointing to time and energy saving ways. (2) A place for planning. This may be a desk or table with a calendar, records, lists, cookbooks, papers, pencils and telephone--Here weekly menus and shopping lists are made. A bulletin board is helpful for assignments. (3) A time for everything. Jobs to be done at a special time alternate different kinds of work--heavy and light--and leave time for family and friends. Plan what will be done, who will do it, and when it is to be done. Learn and teach efficient ways of working.

THE SUGAR SITUATION

For housewives who may be wondering what the sugar situation will be like in 1964, here is some information from the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported by your Extension home demonstration agent.

As of December 24, approximately 745,000 short tons of global sugar had been subscribed by 15 countries. The remaining 255,000 tons of the one million tons authorized for purchase and importation next year will be allocated on a first-come-first-served basis.

Of the total quantity of sugar subscribed, about 53 percent is scheduled to arrive in the U. S. during the first seven months of the year, and the remainder on or before October 31.

Total foreign allocations as of now for 1964 amount to 3,211,684 short tons, raw value. The domestic allocation is 5,700,832 short tons, says the USDA.

Jimmie Sherrin In Land Development

Young farmers too often have a struggle to get started farming due to high cost of land, equipment, and allotment. Farming better, deeper or doing a good job of conservation farming has been the answer to several local young farmers and in particular to Jimmie Sherrin who farms with his father south of Tokio, Texas and the Mozelle Fitzgerald farm 9 miles east of Plains. Jimmie has been using cowpeas for a cover crop in the summer on his diverted acres. He follows this crop with deep tillage leaving the ground rough to control erosion until the next crop is planted. His experience this past crop year with cotton following cowpeas on dry land, poor sub-soil moisture and 6-7 in of rain fall during the growing season still gave good production. Jimmie planted the 30 acre of land where cowpeas had been grown and 54 acres both where cotton had been grown to cotton the rows extending across both fields. He harvested from the entire field 69-500# bales of cotton. The cotton after cowpeas showed a better stand, grew off faster, grew taller and was easier to plow than the cotton following cotton. Production was a little over 500# lent per acre following the cowpeas and a little under 250# on cotton after cotton land.

This is a good example of conservation farming being done by a young farmer in this area. Jimmie has other good practices being applied in his farming such as the use of a chisel plow on low residue crops. He believes in doing a good job of farming by doing conservation farming to produce more at a lower cost and maintain and improve our soil so future young farmers may have a field to farm.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

About 200,000 young Texans attending high schools and colleges will learn how to prepare their income tax return through Internal Revenue Service's "Teaching Taxes" course during the next few weeks.

The schools and colleges throughout Texas teach this simple course to help our young taxpayers avoid the mistakes that older taxpayers have been guilty of over the years. Dad, you may want Junior to give you a little help.

Chiseling Land Now Popular

Moisture conditions grow worse and, especially the land grown in cotton last year, is becoming a serious problem. There are many areas where plowing with disk or moldboard is out of the question because the soil is too dry and leaving the residue on top commonly called chiseling is gaining favor. New type chisel plows are being introduced and old ones fixed up and put into use. It takes 2500# of stubble to control wind erosion in 40" rows but only 1750# where the residue is broadcast or in narrow rows.

The lack of moisture may stop the plows but it has not phased the number of operators and land owners who are coming to the local Soil Conservation District office for assistance in soil and water conservation. Soil Conservation Service personal have been quite busy this past writing new, revising old conservation plans and helping work up Great Plains Conservation contracts to help carry out these conservation plans.

New plans on T. J. Redman, Jr., C. E. Boley owner and W. M. Bundick operator, H. E. Northcutt, revised plans on Forrester Reeves, Johnnie L. Fitzgerald, D. V. Phipps, A. L. Pace, and new S. C. D. plans on Fred Lowery and Billy Rex Webb, Tom Barron operator, are some of the new plans worked out this past week.

Many operators who have irrigated pasture are watering now. If pastures become dry, real dry deep down, much of the plant vigor is lost and from 10 days to 2 weeks grazing is lost in the early spring. Grass like a cow that eats it, will revive is you almost starve it but it takes it a while to regroup its forces and make a come-back. Water grass now and fertilize with 30-40# actual nitrogen and 80-100 actual phosphate in late March and chisel in if possible.

CARDS NET ASS'N $330

The Plains Dirt Gardeners Garden Club proudly presented Mr. Bill Overton, newly elected president of Yoakum County Cemetery Association, a check for $330, Thursday night, January 16 at the close of their regular monthly meeting. This check was the result of "Operation Christmas Card" sponsored by the Plains Dirt Gardeners during the Christmas Holidays.

This project diverted funds usually spent by concerned citizens for local Christmas greetings to the Cemetery Association to be used in maintaining and improving the Cemetery.

All contributors names were published in a community greeting card in the Christmas issue of The Plains Record.

Members of the Cemetery Association were guests of the Garden Club for refreshments and were presented with the "Operation Christmas Card" funds.

Crippled Boy Wins Sports Letters With Assist from March of Dimes

A boy who can scarcely walk because of arthritis wins a letter in athletics.

Impossible, you say. Not if the lad has the grit of Tim Ewald.

Even though this 17-year-old from Minneapolis can barely "inch" along with the help of a cane, he wears the monogram of Golden Valley High School in both football and track.

How come? How is all this athletic activity possible when it takes this likable youngster as much as 15 minutes merely to tie his shoelaces?

You must look back seven years to find the answer. As the second-oldest of five sons, Tim at the age of 10 could outrun all his brothers and even his parents, Graydon and Diane Ewald.

At touch football, no one could lay a hand on him. Tim dreamed of a high school and college career in football and track.

Then, at the age of 10, came disaster. One night the boy was struck by the indescribably severe pains of rheumatoid arthritis throughout his body. His temperature soared. For long months he had to be hospitalized in body casts and treated with cortisone.

Aided by March of Dimes

Now, after seven years of the disease, Tim is slowly regaining some mobility—thanks in great part to physical therapy given him at the March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center in the University of Minnesota Medical School. This treatment is conscientiously repeated at home.

Much as the boy yearned to play such strenuous sports as football and track were not for him. It was all he could do just to hobble from class to class. But in his freshman year at high school he resolved to be as close to sports as his crippled condition permitted.

Tim made a private vow that he would become a team manager.

He made it in his freshman year as manager of the football squad. He made it again in his sophomore year. Last year, his third, he managed the track team. He won his letters in two sports.

To continue working in the field of sports, even though he can't join actively because of crippling rheumatoid arthritis, Tim Ewald, 17, hopes to become a sports cartoonist. Here he outlines caricature of a sports personality. His doctors at March of Dimes Arthritis Center say this is good therapy for his hands and wrists.

Tim won't talk much about what his duties are. He's an excessively modest youngster but, even if it does embarrass the boy, his father says:

"I looked into this with some care because it would be dangerous for Tim to overdo. I found out that these manager-ships aren't snap jobs given by the players to a classmate they feel sorry for. The work is tough—Tim goes along in the team bus to games all around the state, he checks equipment and keeps the players' records, he's a timekeeper, and so on. But he thrives on it—and it's far better therapy than gnawing his nails because of no contact with sports."

Even with his heavy schedule of classes, homework, team management, home exercises and weekly visits to the March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center, Tim finds time to draw, chiefly cartoons and caricatures for which he seems to have promising talent. He thinks that someday he might like to be a sports cartoonist.

Faces Surgery

Will he walk again normally?

It's quite possible. This year, after graduation from high school, he may undergo hip surgery. Dr. Keith N. Drummond, assistant director of the March of Dimes center, explains that Tim's hips are now locked in a bent position caused by contraction of the tendons and muscles and by inflammation of the hip joints. Under favorable circumstances, surgery could release and lengthen these shortened tissues.

Whether crippled for life or on his feet again, which now seems likely, Tim is determined to continue working actively in sports. That's about all he'll say. But you know that this quiet and resolute youngster means it.

ATTENDED DALLAS MARKET

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Moore, buyer for Moore & Oden, Inc. will attend the annual January Fashion Market to be held January 26-31 in Dallas.

During this Market, buyers from all over the Southwest select summer fashions from over 7000 lines, assuring their customers of up-to-the-minute fashion-right apparel.

Sponsored by the National Fashion Exhibitors of America the American Fashion Association, and Texas Fashion Creators, Dallas Markets are one of the top three fashion markets in the nation. Four major markets are held there annually, with the January Market featuring clothing and sportswear for the summer season. Merchandise selected at this market will be on sale in retail stores in late spring and early summer. Fashions this year follow the theme, "Summer Festival of Fashion", with emphasis on play and informal wear, as well as dressy summer ensembles.

The Dallas Market normally held in advance of New York and West Coast Markets, is one of the most complete fashion displays in the nation.
