

Cowgirls Win 3rd State Title

The mighty Plains Cowgirls, last weekend won their third consecutive Championship on the State level in girls volleyball.

The girls played a total of 28 games this year and were not beaten in a single game during the entire year.

They won three different first place trophies at invitational tournaments through the year, and it was pointed out that they had this year at either a tournament or in a matched game, defeated every team represented at the state meet in every class of school.

The Cowgirls defeated the team from Grovato at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday morning to gain their third State Crown in a row.

They beat their opponent team in record fashion in just two out of the three game series, making the third game unnecessary, by scores of 15-1 and 15-3.

Six Plains girls were put on the all-state team. They are Sandy Randall, Sarah K. Field, Ann Lattimore, Sylvia McGinty, Betty Hamm and Peggy Ethridge.

Set Junior High Commencement

Tuesday night, May 19, is the date that has been set for the annual Commencement Exercises for Plains Junior Hi. Forty-five members of the class, whose names and pictures appear on page 3 of this issue, will be leaving junior high to go into high school as freshmen next year.

The program as is outlined by Mr. Odus Walsler, Junior High Principal here, is as follows:

The processional and recessional music will be played by Mrs. Linda Wade, elementary music teacher here. Invocation to the program is to be given by the Rev. H. A. Tarkington, pastor of the Plains Assembly of God Church. Music selections, rendered by Rodney Trout and Sherry Kay Miller will include "The Green Leaves of Summer," "Moon River," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "The Exodus Song."

Salutatory Address will be given by Miss Jan Baggett and the Valedictory by Miss Neva Carol Gilliam.

A chorus composed of girls from the graduating class will sing, "I Never Walk Alone." Class History is to be given by Billy Ray Lee and the Class Will by Dan Field. Following the presentation of awards by School Superintendent, G. D. Kennedy, the Benediction will be given by Arley Echols.

RAIN, RAIN COME ON

Although no rain has fallen in Plains during the past week, there have been a few clouds around and the weather man, for whatever that's worth, has at least been saying there is a possibility of moisture every now and then.

Joe Curry and Roy Edwards have been watching the skies with great expectancy as has Record editor, Johnnie Moore because of the deal on a full page ad run in last week's edition.

Curry - Edwards Drug ran the full page advertising for a two inch rainfall between the dates of May 1 and May 15. The deal with the paper was that if the 2-inch rain came within that period, the ad would be paid for by them at the regular rate, but that if the two inches didn't fall within the specified period, no charge would be made for the ad.

Next Friday is the deadline and a lot of cloud-watching is sure to be done between now and the 15th.

Open House Big Success

Two hundred, eighty four guests registered in the open house held here Sunday in connection with the formal opening of the local Plains

Memorial Convalescent Center. Guests came from several places around the area in addition to the very splendid turnout of Plains area citizens. Open house guests were served punch and cookies by Mesdames Elsie Nordyke, R. K. Field, Bernice Bartlett, Norelle Sloan, Oma McCargo and R. M. Jones.

Robert Field played several piano selections as the guests arrived, and a program of vocal numbers by several groups from the local Baptist Church and a duet from the Assembly of God Church entertained the many guests.

Park Election Set 15th

Absentee balloting began yesterday in connection with the proposed Yoakum County Park Bond.

The election, calling for the issuance of $235,000 worth of Yoakum County Bonds has been called and set for Tuesday, May 15. However, local citizens may cast their absentee ballots now either in Plains at the office of the County Clerk or in Denver City at the Denver City Press building on Main Street.

The proposed park, fate of which is to be decided by the voters on the 15th, is planned and to designed to be a very modern and up-to-date facility for Yoakum Countians. Plans call for the proposed park to contain 160 acres of land, which has been donated for this specific purpose for the construction of such a park by Mr. Gene Bennett of Denver City.

Proposed construction site of the park is in the southeast corner of the intersection created by the meeting of Highway 214 and the Wellman Rd.

Heath Nabs Wanted Pair

Following a local tip, Deputy Sheriff Olan Heath and State Patrolman Joe McLaren arrested two fugitives who it was thought were possibly in Plains to add another to the list of burglaries they already are expected of committing. The two men, Eddie Haney and Donald D. Collier, 21 and were reported to have had a number of rolls of coins in their possession which they tried to talk Mrs. Wanda Moore, who is employed at the Shamrock Service Station here into taking to the local Bank to exchange for currency. Because of their insistence

Jana Warren, local Lion's Club Sweetheart, will represent Plains Lions Club in the District 2-T-2 Queen's Contest that will be held in Snyder on May 15 and 16. Accompanying Jana to the contest in Snyder, and also to take part in the District Convention of Lions will be her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cobb and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Loe.

Plains City officials made it known today that summer water rates will officially go into effect on May 15. The procedure is designed to encourage Plains citizens to water their lawns more so our city will have prettier yards. The watering can be done with the summer rates at a much reduced rate per thousand gallons. The standard 3,000 gallon minimum at $3.00 will still be in effect, and not too much of a price break can be noted on the next 7,000 gallons, which will be billed at 56¢ a thousand. But, after that first 10,000 gallons, the rate begins to drop very noticeably.

The next 20,000 gallons will be billed at 20 cents per thousand gallons and all water used over the total of 30,000 gallons will cost the user only 10 cents per thousand gallons. City Secretary, Bob Long, also made known the fact that Dr. Mabry, Seminole Veterinarian, will be in Plains from 1 to 3:30 p. m. on Saturday, May 16, for the purpose of giving area dogs their annual rabies shots.

More details concerning this will appear in next week's edition of The Record.

Texas and The Civil War

By Allan C. Ashcraft, Ph.D. History Department, Texas A&M University

(No. 9 in a series published in a cooperative program of this paper, the Texas Press Association and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.)

"Manufacturing in Texas" Heavy military demands—90,000 troops, a 2,000 mile frontier and coastline to guard—plus reduced imports, caused fast expansion of Texas industry. Measured alongside present-day factories, the numerous plants and shops in Confederate Texas would be insignificant. But considered in the light of 100 years ago when transportation was geared to animal-drawn vehicles and heavy machinery almost nonexistent, the accomplishments rank with the manner in which Texans have met the production demands of subsequent wars.

The expansion and conversion by private individuals of small plants, blacksmith shops, flour mills, foundries and textile concerns led the way. Early in the war, the legislature created the Texas Military Board, with the governor as chairman, empowered to encourage manufacturing and to acquire necessary military equipment and supplies. Funds could be used to build, buy, contract for the output of or to subsidize by cash or land grants factories and shops. The Confederate government also exercised these powers plus the right to take over operation of essential concerns. Military exemptions and the assignment of troops to work in plants worked to increase production.

Women, children and slaves turned the shops of large plantations to the output of cloth, wagons, harnesses and cured meat. In homes, contract work was done to spin and sew to outfit soldiers.

The cotton and woolen cloth mill in the state penitentiary at Huntsville became the main source of finished fabrics in the Confederate Southwest. In a two-year period, 1,712,328 yards of cloth was produced as were uniforms, yarn, osnaburgs, flour sacks and tent covers. Sales supported not only the 300 inmates but outside labor was hired and for a short time prisoners of war helped. Priorities had to be set up, with state troops, Texas soldiers in Southern service, families of servicemen and general consumers participating. Speculators were shunned.

The old land office building on capital square in Austin was converted into a cartridge factory where women turned out some 14,000 cartridges each day. Machinery in the same place made 250 firing caps per hour. A state foundry was also established in Austin, and cannon tubes were bored and cast out of Mexican copper. At Fredericksburg, two German mechanics used homemade machines to produce firing caps. The salt-peter used came from nearby bat caves, while necessary quicksilver was brought through the blockade at Galveston.

Foundries produced iron goods for cannon balls, skillets, pots, plows and plates for guns at Hempstead, Tyler, Gilmer, Jefferson, Palestine, Rusk, Houston and San Antonio. Guns, rifles and gunpowder were made in Bastrop, Columbia, Lancaster, Tyler, Anderson, Rusk, Houston, San Antonio, Burnet and Waxahachie.

The most famous rifles made were the "Mississippi Rifles" made in Rusk and the "Tyler Rifles" produced in the Confederate Ordnance Works in Tyler.

Earthenware jugs, dishes and cooking utensils were furnished the military from Athens, Henderson, Jefferson and Gilmer. Hats, caps, boots and shoes were made in Gilmer and a number of other places.

Three miles east of Tyler, on "Headache Springs," medicines were compounded. "Medical Whiskey" was distilled near Temple after most of the other distilleries in the state were closed to conserve grain. Glauber salt and coppers were processed in Grayson County for medical use.

Transportation equipment production shops were set up to make and repair ambulances, wagons, harnesses and saddles in Bonham, Waco, Dallas, Mount Pleasant, Tyler, Hempstead and Paris. Because so many of the state's mechanics worked in these shops, they were also used as centers for the repair of worn or damaged agricultural machinery.

In a dozen houses, workers fabricated wagon and harness repair parts.

Near Jefferson, a military meat packing works slaughtered contract beeves, rendered the by-products and preserved the meat for shipment in 300 pound kegs of brine. A packing plant was also operated in Matagorda. A tannery in Seguin made leather goods with a never-before-used tanner made from the bark of mesquite trees.

Printer's ink and paper were made in Houston in limited quantities. A plant was chartered in New Braunfels to make paper from corn shucks, but the war ended before the machinery arrived from Europe. Cloth was turned out by textile mills in New Braunfels and Hempstead. Cotton cards, used to prepare cotton for spinning, were made near Georgetown.

Salt works produced salt from wells, lakes and creeks near Albany, Jacksonville, Palestine, Lampasas, Llano, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Matagorda, Grand Saline, Edinburg and Raymondville. Several additional works were located from time to time along coastal inlets.

Salt was the only known way to preserve meat at the time and was also in great demand for the large number of horses and mules used by the cavalry, artillery and quartermaster. It was used to preserve hides for making shoes, harnesses and saddles. When the government levied a meat tithing on farmers, the demand for salt increased. These works supplied the military and most of the civilian uses in Texas.

How to help keep freedom ringing from every mountainside

High up on a mountainside in South Dakota, there's a famous tribute to American patriots who did much to mold the shape of freedom.

But even if there were no Mt. Rushmore, we'd remember men like Washington, Jefferson, Roosevelt, and Lincoln. For the landscape of freedom is shaped by what they did, not by the mountainside that pays tribute.

Even today, freedom is shaped by the work of individuals—men and women, like you. Of course, only a few Americans will ever have their faces up on a mountain. But millions of Americans are playing a real part in the defense of freedom today simply by buying U. S. Savings Bonds.

When you invest in U. S. Savings Bonds, you put some money to work for your country right now. At the same time you're putting it to work for your own future. Aren't those good reasons to buy one soon?

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Mrs. Moore became suspicious and called Heath. After the call Heath and McLaren investigated and found, in addition to several rolls of coins several cigarette lighters, a set of burglar tools, a .38 Colt revolver, a .25 Beretta automatic and 300 rounds of ammunition.

After finding these items the pair was placed under arrest and placed in jail while possibilities as to their being wanted were checked out.

It was ascertained that they were wanted in Hobbs on suspicion of 5 felony burglaries said to have been committed on Tuesday night. Further, it was learned that the pair is on probation in Lubbock County in connection with a burglary conviction in which they reportedly took narcotics from the office safe of a Lubbock physician.

The pair is being extradited to New Mexico so that they can undergo trial.

The arrest was made in and just outside Curry-Edwards at about 12:30 p. m. on Wednesday.

TWO INJURED IN BUTANE FIRE

Plains Deputy Olan Heath was called to investigate an accident in which a car driven by Mrs. Homer High had hit a cow. Damage was reported to have been slight to the car so Heath remained with the animal whose leg had been broken until the owner could be found.

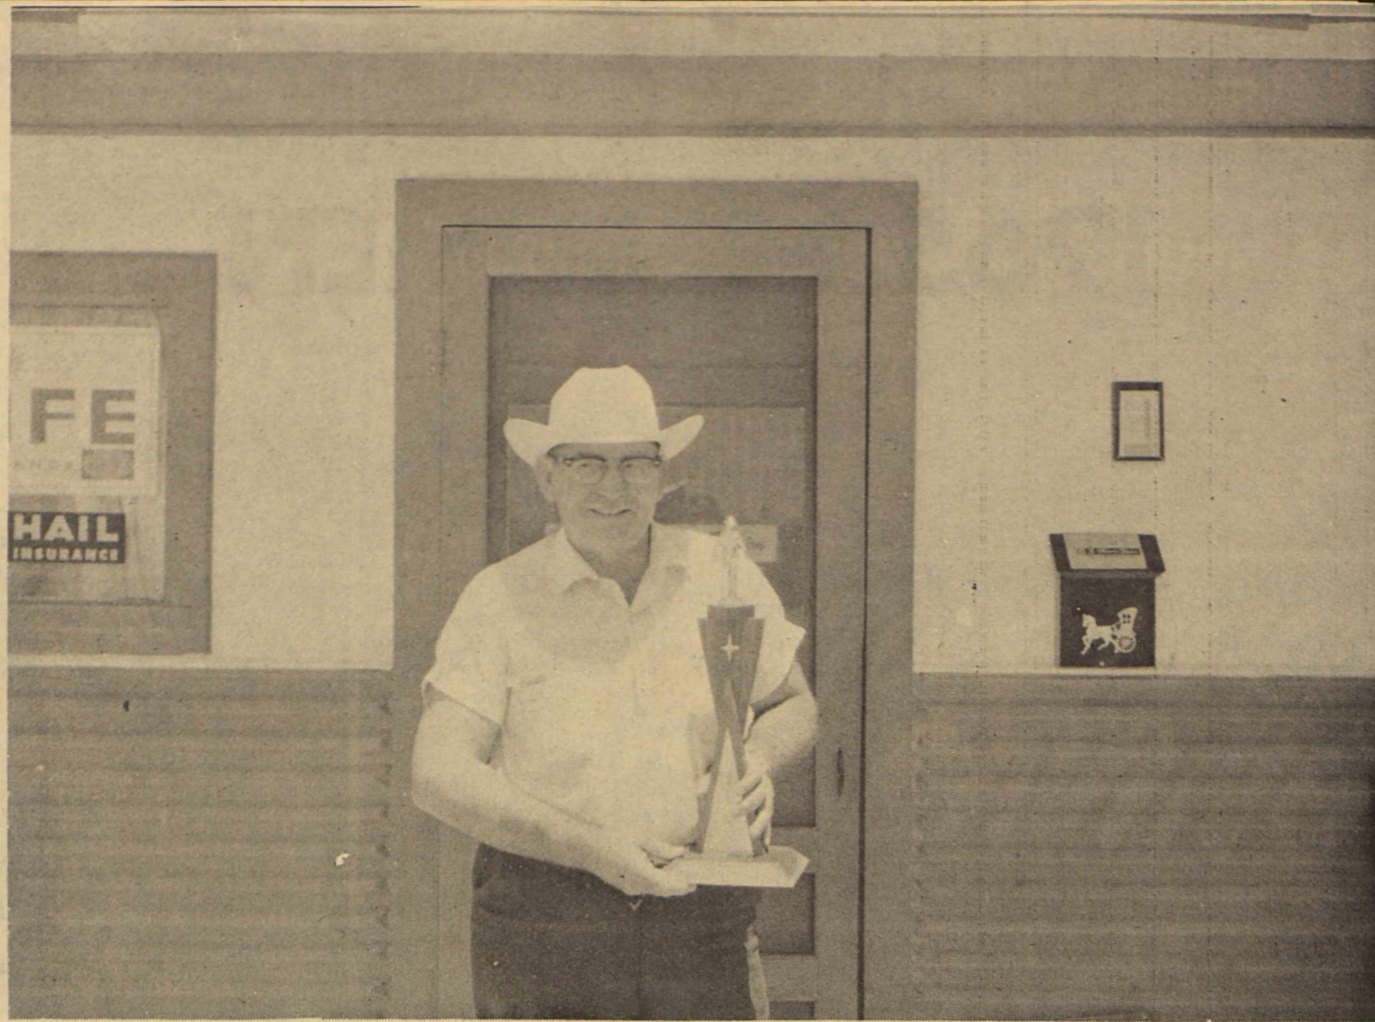

Mrs. High continued to the destination to which she had been following a butane transport truck driven by her husband at loading site of Bronco Gas Company where he was to unload 9,000 gallons of butane.

In about ten minutes, said Heath, he saw brilliant flames shooting high into the air from the direction in which Mrs. High had gone. He immediately went to find the cause of the explosion and met Mr. and Mrs. High both in their car. Mr. High had been burned in the flash fire of the butane installation as had Mr. Doyle Sudderth, a Bronco Gas employee. Sudderth was treated and released at Yoakum County Hospital as was High at Seminole Hospital.

The fire, which caused authorities to barricade U. S. 380 for 9 hours, could be seen for about 12 miles each time a release valve let a part of the overheated butane escape. Fear was that the storage tank would explode and Plains firemen had to watch the fire in something of a helpless condition. Their fears did not come to pass but the blaze burned from about 8:30 p. m. Friday through most of the night.

Destroyed in the blaze was the transport driven by High and the bob-tail delivery truck driven by Sudderth.

Don Clark of Lubbock, who is District Life Insurance Manager for the Farmers Union. It was pointed out that the award is given to the agent who writes the most life insurance premiums. Cooke was in competition with 35 other agents in the Lubbock District. It also was pointed out that Cooke is one of the newest agents in the district.

Star-spangled savings plan

THANK YOU SINCERELY

Most of us think about the future in terms of paying off the mortgage, educating the children, providing a retirement income.

But with the world the way it is today, it's almost impossible to make plans for your own future without considering the future of your country, too.

When you buy U. S. Savings Bonds, your money takes on both jobs. It grows to build your financial strength.

At the same time, it helps Uncle Sam watch over our peace and security.

Why not give your savings dollars this double assignment? You'll be joining millions of American families who are investing in their country's future—and you'll probably feel pretty good about it.

It's easy to buy Savings Bonds on the Payroll Plan where you work. A $50 Bond costs $37.50, a $75 Bond $56.25, and you can buy them in installments for only a few dollars a pay day. Or buy them outright at any bank. No charge for the service.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks The Advertising Council and this publication for their patriotic support.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

Rural Economic Gains Help War On Poverty

By U.S. Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.)
 Chairman, House Banking and Currency Committee

The march of technology has created a strange paradox in our land.

On the one hand it has created a standard of living for many which was undreamed of a generation ago. On the other hand it has damaged the economic base of hundreds of rural areas.

In 1961, per capita farm income was $1,373, of which $474 came from non-farm sources. In comparison, per capita income of the non-farm population for the same year was $2,345, or 41.4 per cent greater than the average net income of farm people.

Some prominent economists and business leaders believe that the solution to the rural problem is to move unemployed and under-employed farmers and rural people to the cities.

Generally, our cities have more problems than they can handle now, including unemployment, housing, and schools.

In my opinion, it makes better sense to help rural people develop new opportunities at home. And this can be done through the cooperation of government and people.

We have made a good start in this direction.

The results since early in 1961 when the administration and Congress launched a nationwide rural redevelopment effort are impressive. More important than Federal assistance, however, is the amount of funds and effort that local people have invested in rebuilding their communities.

A survey by the Rural Electrification Administration of the activities of rural electric systems in rural area development shows that rural electric helped launch 402 projects between July 1961 and December 1962. These projects involved more than a quarter-billion dollars in financing, of which more than 90 per cent came from non-Government sources. These projects are providing 30,000 new jobs plus another 20,000 indirect jobs.

As a result of these new programs, there are millions of dol-

Tsa Mo Ga Club Ends Year

Tsa Mo Ga Study Club will end the club year with a Salad Supper and Garden Party honoring the senior citizens of Plains. Members of the Social Committee are in charge of the supper, and every member is to bring a dish of their favorite salad. The party will be held at the clubhouse, and Mrs. L. D. Hamm is chairman of the social committee. Other members of this committee are Mesdames C. F. McCargo, Wayne Chadwick, Joe Curry, E. W. Craig, Don Hancock, and J. E. Cooke.

Members of the club are to present a short musical program. There is to be a report from the district convention delegate. Mrs. Bill Loyd was the convention delegate. Mrs. M. W. Luna, past president of Tsa Mo Ga will install the officers for the next club year. Mrs. R. B. Jones will be program director for this meeting.

Clean-Up and Fire Safety

Five times an hour, 120 times a day, an American home is destroyed or damaged by fire starting in and feeding on rubbish.

These figures, from National Fire Protection Association studies, add a compelling reason for making Spring Clean-Up a time for vigorous action.

Maybe you don't have anything you would call "rubbish" or "trash" around your place. But go up into the attic and take a good, calculating look at any old mattresses, stacks of papers and magazines, discarded draperies and lampshades, and broken-down furniture. Check closets for old clothing. Go over the basement for near-empty paint cans, workbench scraps and oily rags. Don't miss the garage either.

Whatever you call it — rubbish, trash or clutter — it's all fuel for fire.

Get rid of it, and stay rid of such accumulations. Then you and the house will likely be around much longer to enjoy that new paint job and spruced-up yard you worked so hard to finish this Spring.
