Plains All Stars Meet Seagraves Tonight

The Little League all stars from Plains face the all star team from Seagraves tonight at Denver City in the District Tournament. The Plains boys are being coached by Dub Nelms, manager of the pennant winning Indians and Jack Lowe, head umpire during the regular season.

Nelms said that Plains will have 14 boys on the all star squad. The Yankees placed six, the Indians three, the Cubs three, and the Giants two on the all star team.

The boys have been looking good in practice, Nelms said, and he and Lowe are hopeful that the local baseball team will sweep to victory in the District Tourney. Nelms also said that if the team wins the tourney, that he is sure that they will be a strong contestant for the state crown.

The team has been working out for the past 10 days and the manager has worked out the starting line up. The boys in batting order will be Rickey Burke, 2nd base; Larry Massey, shortstop; Mike Lowe, 1st base; Robert Riojas, left field; Tug Duke, right field; Erasmo Barrientez, center field; Tommy Beal, catcher; Earl Kreig, 3rd base; and Ronnie Teaff, pitcher.

The list of the 14 boys who are on the team and their parents are:

Larry Massey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clois Massey; Mike Low, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Low; Mike Duke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Duke; Erasmo Barrientez; Ronnie Teaff, son of Mrs. Dorothy Teaff; Robert Riojas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Riojas; Rickey Burt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Burt; Tommy Beal, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. "Bugger" Beal; Ace Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hamm; James Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stewart; Lee Murph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Murph; Earl Kreig, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kreig; Mike Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cox; and Robin Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Walker.

Coach Nelms said he will start Ronnie Teaff as his pitcher, and that he has strong pitching to back Teaff up. Massey, Lowe, and Riojas were all ace hurlers during the season, and Nelms said that if the first game is won that Massey will probably play in the second game.

On Thursday at 2 p. m. Sundown - White Face meets Ropesville. At 4 p. m. Levelland meets Morton. At 6 p. m. Plains plays Seagraves, and at 8 p. m. Denver City meets Brownfield.

On Friday at 6 p. m. the winners of the Sundown-White Face and Ropesville game meet the winner of the Levelland and Morton contest.

At 8 p. m. the winners of the Plains and Seagraves game will play the winner of the Denver City and Brownfield contest.

On Saturday at 8 p. m. the winners of these two games will play for the championship. In Plains the Little League season drew to a close Tuesday night with the final make up games being played. The Indians won the pennant, having clinched the title last week.

THE PLAINS ALL STARS ARE PICTURED WITH THEIR COACHES AND WILL FACE THE SEAGRAVES TEAM IN DENVER CITY TONIGHT IN DISTRICT PLAY.

Road News

The Highway Patrol investigated one rural traffic accident in Yoakum County during the month of June, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for an estimated property damage of $300.00. The rural traffic accident summary in Yoakum County for the first six months of 1965 shows a total of eight crashes resulting in no persons killed, one persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $4,635.00.

"As of the first of this month, there had been a total of 1,040 fatal crashes in Texas taking lives of 1,261 persons," the Sergeant stated. This is approximately two percent less than for the same period of 1964; however, if past trends continue, we will in all probability exceed the all time record high of 3,006 persons killed in traffic crashes experienced in Texas last year.

Texas was fortunate over the 4th of July weekend in that the predicted number of persons were not killed, but we cannot brag, as 25 persons were killed over the holiday while in the rest of the nation we experienced a great increase over last year, and set a new all time record for deaths over the 4th of July holiday just as we did during the previous Memorial day holiday.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor concluded that with the vacation season well underway more vehicles will be traveling streets and highways, and he called on all motorists to become more thoughtful in regard to complying with traffic laws in an effort to reduce the rising trend of traffic crashes.

Rodeo Nears

Final preparations are being made for the Plains Rodeo which is scheduled the first week in August. The contestants are selling their tickets for the Queen's contest. The sponsoring organizations are urged to help these girls sell their tickets. The aspirants to be Rodeo Queen are Sue Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cooke; Marilyn Gohree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Gohree; Suzane St. Romain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. St. Romain; and Rheanell Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Strickland.

The organizations which are sponsoring the young ladies are the Chamber of Commerce, The Young Farmers, The Lions Club, and The Roping Club.

Dick McGinty, chairman for selling the advertising for the Rodeo Program extended his appreciation to the merchants who bought the space on the programs. The events in the Plains

Rodeo will include saddle bronc, bareback, calf roping, team racing, bull riding, barrel racing, bull dogging, junior team roping, quadrill exhibitions, and the big parade. The parade is scheduled at five p. m. Thursday August 5th. The rodeo will run August 5th, 6th, and 7th.

The Plains Rodeo is the oldest event of that nature in Yoakum County. In next week's addition the names of the donors of the prizes and beefs will be printed. The entry books will open Monday, August 2nd and will close at noon on Thursday the 5th. The office will be at the City Hall.

Dr. Casey Looks at Local Clinic

Members of the Chamber of Commerce and County Commissioners Raymond Bookout and Mrs. Paul Loe met Dr. J. G. Casey, Post M. D. Monday night and showed him the Yoakum County Clinic and extended an invitation to the physician to relocate in Plains.

The Post physician was shown the clinic and points of interest in the community. Dr. Casey said that he would bring his wife to Plains to inspect the city soon. He also expressed his desire to visit the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City when his wife comes to Plains.

The two county commissioners have been working with the Chamber of Commerce to bring a physician to Plains. Mr. Bookout and Mrs. Loe told Dr. Casey that they were certain that an arrangement can be worked out with the court at the Doctor's convenience if he is interested in coming to Plains.

Dr. Casey visited the Plains Memorial Convalescent Center, the air port, and looked at the homes in Plains.

Members of the Chamber and the County Commissioners expressed hope that the physician will come to Plains, and they are hopeful that an early reply will be given on the question of the re-location of Dr. Casey.

Girls to AG Meet

Two Plains youth have been designated as delegates to the third annual Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime, August 20-22 in Austin.

The Conference will attract over 1600 outstanding youth to study projects for the prevention of juvenile delinquency and crime in Texas communities. Many programs have already begun as a result of the first two conferences, including youth juries, programs for tutoring students to prevent dropouts and various other community service projects.

Miss Rita Jo Snodgrass and Miss Georgia Faye Gray were selected and sponsored by the Turner Home Demonstration Club to attend the Attorney General's Youth Conference. Mrs. Amos Smith is president of the Turner Home Demonstration Club.

Rita Jo Snodgrass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Snodgrass, is a Junior and secretary of her Sophomore Class in 1964-65, member of the Science Club, Future Homemakers, and Volleyball team. She also participated in the 1965 University Interscholastic League state meet in Prose Reading.

Georgia Faye Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Gray is a Junior and a member of the Future Homemakers Club. Both girls are outstanding students of Plains High School.

This news item was released from Dr. Wm. R. Grubbs, Optometrist from Denver City, who is the area director for the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime.

Notice

There will be a meeting of the Cemetery Association July 29th at 8:00 p. m. in the Club Room. Dues are payable now. See W. M. Overton, Norelle Sloan, Oma McCargo, Bessie McCravy or Mrs. George Cleveland.

Judge Stanley Duval cast the deciding vote to break a deadlock when commissioners Vance Brown and Doc Cotton voted for re-districting and Mrs. Paul Loe and Raymond Bookout cast votes opposing the measure. The Yoakum County Judge voted with Mr. Cotton and Mr. Brown to re-set the precinct boundaries in the county.

The County Judge stated prior to the vote that he would cast his vote after studying the business reasons and that these reasons were more important than the sentiment of the people living in the areas concerned.

Commissioner Brown made the motion and received a second from commissioner Cotton at the special Thursday meeting last week. Mrs. Loe and Mr. Bookout opposed the measure, but it carried after the Judge cast the deciding vote. The judge can only vote in the event of a tie.

The re-districting went into effect immediately. The measure means that the boundary will be moved southward about four miles. About 200 voters will be shifted to new precincts.

Mr. Bookout and Mrs. Loe will pick up the additional votes in their new territory and Mr. Cotton and Mr. Brown will lose that amount.

Mrs. Loe gained about 20 miles of roads in the shift and Mr. Bookout about 30 miles of roads.

Feelings were reported to be running high concerning the measure in the Plains area where most of the electors to be shifted lived. Many of the residents in the area had voiced opposition to the move.

Young Homemakers Name Top Members

Members of the Young Homemakers and their husbands attended that club's annual awards banquet at the Plains High School Cafeteria Friday night.

Martha McGehee and Jo Ann Barron shared top honors when they were named the outstanding Young Homemakers of the year. The selection had ended in a tie and both ladies were named as the recipients of the award. Mrs. Tom Barron Senior, and Mrs. John E. Fitzgerald presented the two ladies their awards, which were engraved plaques.

Mrs. Jo Ann Barron served as master of ceremonies during the banquet. Robert Field played an arrangement of variety tunes for the piano for the dinner music, and was presented a nice gift for his playing at many public and social gatherings. The gift was presented by the local president.

Mrs. Doris Weil, Hale Center, who served as State President for the Young Homemakers presented the main address of the evening. She spoke of the importance of the home in our modern society. Attending the banquet with Mrs. Weil was her mother Mrs. Hiton also of Hale Center.

Mrs. Faye Newsom, Brownfield, and State Vice President gave the response after the introductions were given by Jo Ann Barron, local president.

Mrs. John E. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Tom Barron Senior, honorary members, were given an award for their support of the Young Homemakers. Ann Cannon of the Plains Record, and Lucille Moore of the Denver City Press were given an award for news coverage. The former sponsor of the Young Homemakers, Mrs. Carol Lockett was also given an award.

Mrs. Tom Box stated that the State Line Home Demonstration Club prepared the banquet. Mrs. Box said that her group is raising funds to send State Line members to their State Convention in Austin in September.

Mrs. Jo Ann Barron served as master of ceremonies during

Drive Ends

The Record subscription drive has ended, and the paper's circulation has been increased by 183. The publisher of the paper extends appreciation to the children who participated in the drive and to the Cogburn-Young True Value store for sponsoring the advertisement and supplying the bikes and watches which were won in the contest.

Many winners in the contest are enjoying their new bikes and watches and lesser prizes which were won by selling the subscriptions.

Four young people won bicycles and watches were presented to four others. The latest winners were Mike Blount and Neil Bearden who were the proud new owners of bikes, and Randy Haines who won a watch.

Debbie Thompson won the first bike by selling more subscriptions than anybody who entered the contest. Miss Thompson sold 38 subscriptions.

Contestants were required to sell at least 25 subscriptions to qualify for a bike and at least 10 to win a watch. Those who sold under 10 were also given a prize.

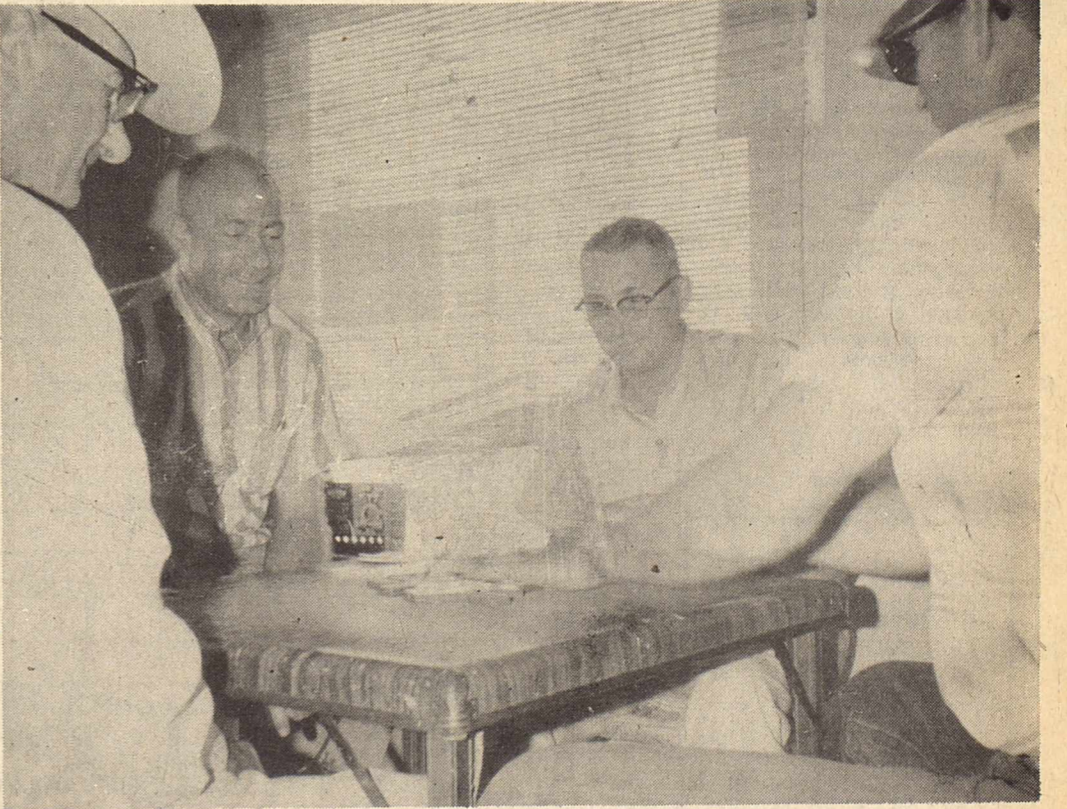

All of the prizes were won at the Cogburn-Young True Value Store.

CAYCE'S CORNER

A person could probably give heavy odds and win in making the statement that there were more people in town and more vehicles parked on the streets of Plains last week during the big sales at Moore and Odens and Curry-Edwards Drug Store than in the times when a real honest to goodness red hot murder trial was in progress at the old courthouse.

Cayce didn't know that the area had that many people who still come to town at one time. Coming to town on a particular day seems to be a thing of the past in the last half of the 20th Century. When I was a little tike, I remember the people who flocked to town on Saturday and stood on the sidewalks and enjoyed a visit with all of their neighbors.

In fact at DeLeon, where I was born, we called the street Rat Row, and no disrespect was meant by the term either. All of the farmers would bring truck loads of watermelons and vegetables to town and sell them on the streets. A person could buy anything from a peck of peaches to a sack of pecans on the street every Saturday afternoon. We all realize that with the super markets and other modern businesses, the need has been removed for such operations. Even though the trends have changed, it was fun to go to town in those days.

Many people find the sales in Plains just such fun. Not only do they find a market full they relax a little bit, and let the old world take a couple of spins and have some enjoyment talking to their friends. They might miss "As the World Turns," or some other soap opera on T. V., but it probably was the most enjoyable time that any of these people have spent in a long time.

Joe Curry's Hootenanny was a howling success, and the public enjoyed it. Moore and Odens put on a hum dinger sale which the people came in droves to see the merchandise, and I'll stick my neck out and add, to see their friends, Marie Tidwell and Mrs. Streetman had put on big sales before Moore and Odens and Curry-Edwards with just as much fanfare and success. We tip our hats to these fine merchants who have lured us out of our ultra modern habits to enjoy what grandpa and grandma thought was worth loading the kids into the wagon and driving many miles just to get to come to town and maybe buy some calico for mom and peppermint candy for the young'uns. Those who came to town couldn't have been sorry. The next time that you have a chance, drop down town, and who can tell, you just might enjoy yourself!

The straight and narrow path even gets the most wear along the edges.

The world may forgive you for making an error if you will bat out a home run now and then, but it will forget the winning run again just as soon as you make another error.

One thing in favor of falling fair — it doesn't ache, and you don't have to pull it.

Nature does work in our favor — the more we eat the further we have to sit from the table.

Our attitude toward the trip can well change our vacation from a treatment to a treat.

We don't have to spend very long out with mother nature and God's beautiful creation to know that there is nothing wrong with the world except where man has messed things up by his own re-doing.

The more productive the present the security we will find in the future.

Wisdom is knowing what to do with what you know, and success is having the get up and go to do it.

Easy credit can ruin a fellow even quicker than easy money.

We should always finish what we start, unless we started something that shouldn't be finished.

If we don't know where we are going it won't do any good to be in a hurry.

A good politician knows how to take credit for the programs that go over with a bang without taking the blame for those that go boom.

Bring em back alive is a good slogan for us all during vacation time.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Act of God

Ask an atheist what is an act of God and he will say: "Nothing."
Ask a fundamentalist and he may well say: "Everything."
But in law, the phrase "act of God" has nothing to do with religion. The law sits in judgment only on the acts of man. Calling an event an act of God is merely the law's way of saying it is not an act of man. This distinction can be important indeed.

Suppose, for example, that a bolt of lightning strikes a tree in your back yard, toppling it onto the neighbor's garage. Obviously you did not hurl that lightning bolt. Nor could you have prevented the harm it inflicted.

Having played no role in the event, you are not legally liable for the damage. "Act of God" is a good defense.

But suppose the tree fell not only because of the lightning but also because it was badly rotted. Although you had known for some time that it might fall, you had neglected to take any precautions.

Surely, if God caused the lightning in the first case, He caused it in the second case as well. But now your own negligence played a key role in the outcome. Therefore, "act of God" is not a good defense. You could be held liable.

When should a force of nature be foreseen and guarded against? There is no easy answer. Thus, precautions fair to expect in a tornado belt might be unfair to expect in an area where tornadoes are unknown. A careful person makes due allowance, under all the circumstances, for the likelihood that nature will kick up a fuss.

Most act of God cases involve weather. But not all. In one instance, a farmer sued his neighbor for crop damage caused by water leaking from a drainage canal. The neighbor replied:

"My canal did leak, but only because of holes dug by gophers. Since I didn't cause those gophers to dig, I am not to blame. This should be considered an act of God."

But the court held that, even if the digging could be called an act of God, gopher damage was common-enough to have been foreseen and prevented. The court might well have reminded the defendant of Milton's admonition in "Paradise Lost."

"Accuse not Nature! She hath done her part;
Do thou but thine!"

FOR THE RECORD

The County Commissioners have met and have re-districted the county. The vote ended in a tie, as was expected, and Judge Duval broke the tie vote making the change effective immediately. We of The Plains Record opposed this measure, because we were of the opinion that the people who lived in the area involved were opponents of this measure in overwhelming proportions. We still believe that this is true.

The action has taken place and the best thing that can be done now is to accept the change and to acquaint ourselves with the new geographical boundaries and hope that the change was for the best.

Certain problems will arise soon because of the re-districting, but we are sure that these will be worked out as quickly as possible by the members of the County Commission. Some of these problems will be the re-distribution of road equipment. If the Commissioners have not planned to re-allocate the equipment, then they should do this at once. Mr. Bookout and Mrs. Loe have acquired many more miles in roads to maintain, therefore it is only right and fair that Mr. Brown and Mr. Cotton should release some of their equipment to the commissioners from the northern end of the county. It would be foolish to buy new equipment when under the old boundary adequate equipment was available for all four districts.

Business like operation of County Government, "was given as the major reason for the re-districting of the county. Since the re-districting has been done, then we urge all of the commissioners to work as a team and to give the county sound administration with fiscal responsibility.

But most of all, let us all remember that the administration of our county is not for Plains or for Denver City, but rather should be for the county as a whole.

On every issue in a democracy there must be a minority opinion as well as the majority opinion. This is essential if we are to remain a democracy. When the majority opinion is registered by democratic voting methods, then it is up to the minority to accept and abide by the decision of the majority. We accept the fact that our opinion was that of the minority decision of the County Commissioners Court. We therefore will do everything within our power to inform all of the residents directly concerned with the re-districting areas of their new boundaries and who their commissioners are. We also hope that the new plan will work for making a unified county and that if bitterness exists that it will soon mellow into acceptance.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Now that a drive is definitely being made to repeal Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act so that no state will be permitted to outlaw labor contracts which force workers to pay dues to a union, there is being unleashed a lot of high flown oratory in favor.

However, this is all pat nonsense and even those who spout it do not believe it. For stripped of all sham and pretense the essential issue involved is money.

At the present time, union membership is down to some 17 million. What this figure would be if in most states union membership were not required to hold a job is a subject for conjecture. But even with present membership, and setting a low monthly dues average of 50¢ per month, the unions even now have an income of some $85 million per month, tax free.

Now while unions are not supposed to employ their funds in carrying on political activity, it is no secret that this law is violated, or circumvented.

The labor leaders themselves have been quite upset that despite the means they have to force workers to pay dues to them, union membership is still less than 25% of the present working force.

There are 19 states with right to work laws. The total population of these states is about 50 million, or equal to a third of National Federation of Independent Business.

Homemakers

Eighteen Yoakum County Young Homemakers met July 12 at 5:00 p. m. to begin a tour of local homes. The first home visited was the Bobby Field home near Bronco. Hostesses were Mrs. Sarah Jane Field and her daughter, Sarah Kay. After touring the spacious and unusual home and enjoying a cup of punch the group said their good bys and drove the five miles to the Roy Guetersloh home. There they were greeted by Mrs. Bobby Guetersloh and were shown through her lovely home. Joining the Young Homemakers for this visit was Sarah Kay Field. Mrs. Guetersloh was unable to join the group in the remainder of the tour as they returned to Plains. There, the group was welcomed into the R. D. Romans home by Mrs. Lois Romans, her daughter, Virginia, and son Billy. After admiring this very attractive home they invited the Romans family to accompany them to the last home of the tour, the C. C. Perkins home. Mrs. Perkins was called out of town, and acting as hostess was a neighbor, Miss Sherry Heald. Mr. Perkins was also on hand to extend his welcome. This home, too, proved to be of great interest to the group. Each home owner was very gracious in opening her home to the club and explaining any unusual features. The Yoakum County Young Homemakers are very grateful to all of them for their kindness.

Following the tour a business session was held in the club room. Among activities under discussion were banquet and rodeo plans. The group is going to enter a float in the parade and all members will take food to the Old Settlers Bar-B-Q. All members are urged to support Miss Strickland, the Young Farmers Queen candidate. Miss Strickland's riding outfit was designed and made by Young Homemaker Mrs. Tom Barron, Jr.

Votes were cast to select an outstanding member to be honored at the banquet. Honorary member, Mrs. Tom Barron, Sr. was in charge of the vote counting.

Last order of business was the election of officers: President, Mrs. Kent Welch; Vice President, Mrs. Tom Barron, Jr.; Secretary, Mrs. Bob Mason; Treasurer, Mrs. Cordell Huddleston; Reporter, Mrs. Roy McGehee; Historian, Mrs. Jerome Head; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Harry Richardson; Program Chairman, Mrs. Jim Barron; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Darrell Hobbs; Photographer, Mrs. Vaughn Culwell; Social Chairman, Mrs. Venuum Fitzgerald. Mrs. Studie Thompson was elected an honorary member and on her committee are Mrs. Alex Cross and Mrs. Eldridge Tidwell. Installation of the new officers will be during the September meeting. Following the meeting refreshments were enjoyed while the members discussed points of interest on their tour of homes.

Pamper Your Personal Prosperity with Growth Vitamin $

Every drop of water, every bit of fertilizer that you put on a growing plant is returned to you in value ... increased many times.

And every dollar spent at home instead of in some other community ... promotes the growth and luxuriance of your own little personal prosperity tree.

We don't expect the neighbors to water and weed and fertilize our gardens so that we won't have to put out any effort on them. But a lot of us expect somebody else to do all of the trading at home that it takes to support and improve our jobs, our businesses, our schools and churches and other community helps to a richer life.

Trouble is ... a lot of them are looking for us to keep the ball rolling while THEY go city-shopping.

Let's ... every one of us ... remember that loyalty to our home community is merely loyalty to our own economic welfare ... that scattering our buying power leaves our own personal prosperity plant with less nourishment.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynes)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

The State Line Home Demonstration Club cooked and served the banquet Friday night for the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers. Those helping were Mrs. Lee Roy Box, Mrs. Tom Box, Mrs. R. G. Hartman, Mrs. Don Young, and Mrs. Roy Perkins.

The Dress Revue will be held at the Community Building in Denver City, Friday, July 23rd. Be ready for the judging at 1:00 p. m. and the show will be at 3:00 p. m. In this way you will have to make only one trip. If you cannot get your clothing record in on the 21st be sure to bring it with you Friday when you are judged. DON'T FORGET!! Come dressed to be judged. I will be looking forward to seeing you. THE PUBLIC IS INVITED.

Juicy melons-watermelon, cantaloupes, and honey dews are so colorful--so refreshing--so satisfying--and so easy to serve. And what ever the occasion--picnic, family dinner--or formal dinner--there's a place for ice-cold melons. These are some ways that melons may be served.

For a special party dessert, an appetizer, or a dressy salad this USDA idea, Chill Watermelon thoroughly. Then just before serving time, cut into 1-inch crosswise slices and press fancy designs with cookie cutters. Hearts are especially attractive. Remove seeds carefully. Melons may be cut in cubes sticks or fashioned into balls with a measuring spoon. When served as an appetizer, simply insert wooden picks and arrange attractively on a serving tray. For dessert, combine with other fresh seasonal fruits and serve in a compote with a topping of sour cream. As a salad, melon designs are radiant atop cottage cheese, pineapple rings, or simply in a bed of salad greens.

HONEY DEW RING FRUIT SALAD:
Take 2 cups of watermelon balls, with seeds removed; 6 slices of peeled honeydew melons; 2 cups fresh raspberries or other small berries; 2 cups seedless grapes; fresh mint; 1/4 cup salad oil; and 1/4 cup lemon juice.

Place one melon ring on each salad plate that has been generously covered with shredded salad greens. Add the melon balls, grapes, and raspberries. Combine the lemon juice, with salad oil and serve as a salad dressing which is added just before eating. Top with fresh mint.

MINTED MELON BALL SALAD:
Prepare lemon-flavored gelatin. Place in refrigerator until slightly thickened. Have watermelon and cantaloupe balls that have been rolled in finely chopped fresh mint or parsley. Grease the inside of a salad mold (or individual salad molds) with salad oil, to make unmolding easier. Spread enough of the lemon gelatin in mold to cover the bottom. Add a layer of minted melon balls. Cover with gelatin. Repeat so there will be at least three layers. Chill until firm. At serving time, unmold atop a bed of lettuce and add a wreath of melon balls. For a meal-in-one salad, spread creamy Cottage Cheese atop the salad greens and then top with the minted-melon gelatin salad.

Peanut butter must now contain 90% peanuts according to a revised food standard just announced by the Food and Drug Administration.

There was no standard regulating the peanut content of products marketed as peanut butter until this revised ruling. In the past it has ranged as low as 78% FDA officials have announced.

The new standard allows 10% for optional ingredients which, with proper label declarations, may be used to create products with eating qualities acceptable to a wide variety of consumers. Such ingredients include seasonings and hydrogenated peanut and cotton seed oils to reduce oil separation and counteract the tendency of peanut butter to stick to the roof of the mouth.

All optional ingredients used, however, must be declared on the label.

This new standard will become effective around September 8, unless there is a request for a public hearing based on legally valid objections.

In the event that the peanut butter is made from unblanched peanuts, the label must bear a statement such as "Prepared from unblanched peanuts (skins left on)".

The standard also provides that the common names of suitable optional ingredients shall be set out on the principal display panel so that they will likely be read and easily understood. The label information about the hydrogenated vegetable oils when used shall include the work "hydrogenated" or "hardened".

Picnics is on the rampage now, but beware of uninvited guests--certain insects, ants, flies and mosquitoes have a reputation in this regard, and in some sections ticks and chiggers can be troublesome.

But the bugs which doctors worry about the most inhabit contaminated food and water, causing such decidedly unbenign and definitely unpleasant conditions as food poisoning, gastroenteritis, and others the AMA tells us.

The most common of the bugs which appear as undesirable at a picnic are the staphylococci, which form a toxin stable to heat; the salmonella family and the streptococci, both can cause trouble. Large numbers of these organisms, or their toxic products are required to produce illness. But under proper conditions of moisture and warmth, growth and multiplication can produce millions of organisms in a single gram--about a thimbleful of food. This can occur within 4 to 6 hours, more frequently 12 to 24 hours.

Rayfoods, with the exception of ground meat, do not offer conditions hospitable to the rapid growth of bacteria. Ground meat, since the grinding has distributed any organisms uniformly throughout it, offers a rich breeding ground unless it is kept refrigerated below 50 degrees.

But hamburger is not the most common villain in food poisoning--potato salad, cream filled pastries and cured meats, including ham are more likely to be bad actors. If food is cooked thoroughly at the picnic site, most bacteria present will be destroyed, although if too many of them are present--particularly staphylococci--they may leave behind toxic chemicals.

Symptoms of food poisoning include nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal cramps, and in rare cases low blood pressure and shock. When the symptoms will hit depends on the amount present in the food, and also the organism. Staph poisoning usually appears 2 to 4 hours after eating, salmonella poisoning 7 to 72 hours, and others from 6 to 48 hours.

Prevention and avoidance are the keys to picnic safety.

Cotton News

BY W. M. OVERTON

STATEMENT BY ORVILLE L. FREEMAN, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY:

This is in response to numerous inquiries on cotton legislation received by the Department of Agriculture as a result of my testimony before the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry last Thursday, and as a result of the approval by the House Agriculture Committee of the Farm Bill, H. R. 9811. It is essential that the public be fully aware of this important bill.

The major provisions of the House Bill are:

A The cotton law would continue the one-price approach that has increased the use of cotton in the United States this year and give cotton farmers greater freedom of choice.

B The feed grain program which has added $3 billion to farm income the past four years would be extended, and improved.

C An improved wheat program would boost wheat farmers' comes by $150 million a year while reducing government costs and providing more freedom in the marketing system.

D A new cropland adjustment program would help farmers shift a part of their allotted acreage out of crops into conservation and recreation uses if they wanted to, and be paid for it.

E In addition, the Wool Program would be continued.

In order for farmers to have the benefit of any one of these programs, congressional approval of H. R. 9811 will be required. It is already late in the season, and there is much opposition from non-farm, anti-farm, and some farm groups.

The proposed cotton legislation, if passed by the Congress, would not only extend the one-price idea that is in effect this year, it would help the Government to bring under control the high costs which otherwise could wreck the entire program. We have too much cotton for our markets, our 16 million acre allotment will produce from 3 to 4 million more bales than it produced when first established by law in 1959. Growers would have maximum freedom of choice in making use of the new program.

A Farmers could plant within the farm domestic acreage allotment 65 percent of the regular allotment and receive a higher per pound income from cotton than they are getting this year. In 1966, this return would be made up of a 21-cent price support loan and payments to bring the total price to 35.65 (higher if market price above loan).

B Other farmers might choose to plant in excess of their farm domestic allotments, either 75 percent or 85 percent of regular allotment, and be eligible for loans and smaller payments which would average 32.30 or 29.73 respectively for cotton produced (again, higher if market above loan). These rates are all in excess of the 1965 guarantees.

C Or, if a farmer chose, he could plant all the cotton he wanted without having to pay penalties. He would simply do without price support loans and payments and would depend on the market price.

The cotton community would not suffer damage or be destroyed. Actually, cotton income would be maintained. All-otment transfers would be permitted within a county; also within the State if producers agree to such transfer in a referendum. The Cropland Adjustment program would assist local and area economies. It is expected that very little cotton acreage would go into the Cropland Adjustment Program, only 628,000 acres of cotton allotment nationwide were enrolled in the conservation reserve of the Soil Bank at its peak in the late 1950's. The new program would have a number of safeguards to minimize the impact on any one community.

If the farm bill fails to pass, we would go back to the 1958 law on cotton, with price support at 65 to 90 percent of parity and continued overproduction. There would be no effective feed grains, wheat or wool programs. A continued rise in stocks of cotton would threaten the whole program, while the unfairness of the two-price system would drive American textile mills into still greater use of man-made fibers. (The use of Synthetic fibers on a cotton equivalent basis already exceeds the use of cotton.) The two-price system could eventually eliminate a substantial portion of our domestic market.

The program proposed in the omnibus bill (H. R. 9811) would make U. S. cotton competitive both in the world cotton market and with synthetics here at home. The administration is in favor of a strong cotton economy and would oppose any limitations on payments. The bill provides ways to support the income of cotton farmers through other means if limitations on payments are prescribed by the Congress.

Farmers have more at stake in this proposed program than does anyone else. The problem facing cotton farmers is more critical than it has been at any other time since programs started in 1933. I hope that the vast majority of growers who stand to benefit substantially from a farm program will give serious thought to the cotton situation and the need for a sound cotton program.

The cotton provisions of the omnibus bill, H. R. 9811, as reported by Congressman Harold D. Cooley, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, are not necessarily the final answer on all counts, but they do provide the foundation of a good program. Without this bill, we will return to a discredited program that can only damage grower incomes, give comfort to the competitors of American cotton, and threaten destruction of the entire program.

The above are statements made by the Secretary of Agriculture, Orville L. Freeman last week before the Senate Committee on Agriculture. We hope all farmers will read carefully the testimony. The big change in this bill is of course that there would be no penalties on cotton and any farmer could plant any amount of cotton, harvest and sell any amount of cotton for any price he could sell it for without any penalty. It would bring the loan price of cotton down to near the world market price of cotton.

Notice

The Yoakum County Farmers Union will meet in the Plains Club Room, Monday, July 26th, at 8:00 p. m.

New conservation plans are J. V. Been ranch, Tommy Billings and Bill Smith. The District board approved new plans on Johnnie Layton, E. E. Palmer, A. G. Brambley, Dr. Don Kennedy and Paul Williams at their regular meeting last week. Continued interest in conservation plans and in many instances Great Plains contracts to help carry out is being shown. At present we have 14 operating units that have shown interest in the Great Plains program. S. L. Tingle has completed his under ground pipe installation and reorganization of his irrigation system.

Grass planting on irrigated land is going along and several acres are being planted to Switch grass and Bermuda grass. Some of those who are planting are W. C. Wilmet, W. C. Patman, C. O. Head and J. B. Ashburn. It is one thing to work out a conservation plan and put it on paper and another to actually carry it out on the land. We are always encouraged when we see a cooperater that has a plan and is carrying it out. Good examples of this are the pictures showing conservation on the land and then cooperaters know how it got there.

"LET US WALK BY THE SAME RULE"
There are not many people who have not played some type of game. Anywhere from Hide-and-go-seek to Football, or from Old Maid to Chess, whatever the game might be it is always necessary that rules be known and followed. No one playing the game has any right to change or tamper with the rules. If a thousand people "struck out" at a baseball game that would not change the rule to four strikes instead of three. Rules cannot be changed to suit and please any and every one. If we do not agree with the rules, it is understood that we are at fault. And if we continue to disregard the rules of the game, it becomes more difficult to play and enjoy the game. These suggestions are common to all of us. Little Children learn them early in life. Their ethical moves are carried into everyday living and should be observed even in matters of religion. Paul admonished the church in Philippi, "... Let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same things." (Phil. 3:16) A similar statement is given in 1 Cor. 1:10: "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment." As far as I know there is only one rule by which we all can agree in matters of religion, and that is the Bible. Casting aside all human creeds, traditions, and manuals of faiths, let us be governed by the same rule and speak the same things. Those who fail to walk according to the rule cannot play on the team. The official kicks them out of the game. Jesus said, "He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day." (John 12:48)

There were many people in the days of Christ who wanted to follow, but did not want to follow the same rule all the way. Such we find in John 12:42, 43: "Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him lest they should be put out of the synagogue, for they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God." On another occasion, "Many of his disciples went back, and walked with him no more." (John 6:66.) There are untold numbers of such people living this day. The words of the New Testament would be no stronger if the Lord Himself stood before us proclaiming these same words. Who will follow Jesus all the way? Who will be governed by His rule no matter what others may say or think? Let each of us turn to Him, speak the same things, be of the same mind and the same judgment. Let us walk by the same rule. "I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified." (Acts 20:32)

Views From County Agent

BY LEO WHITE

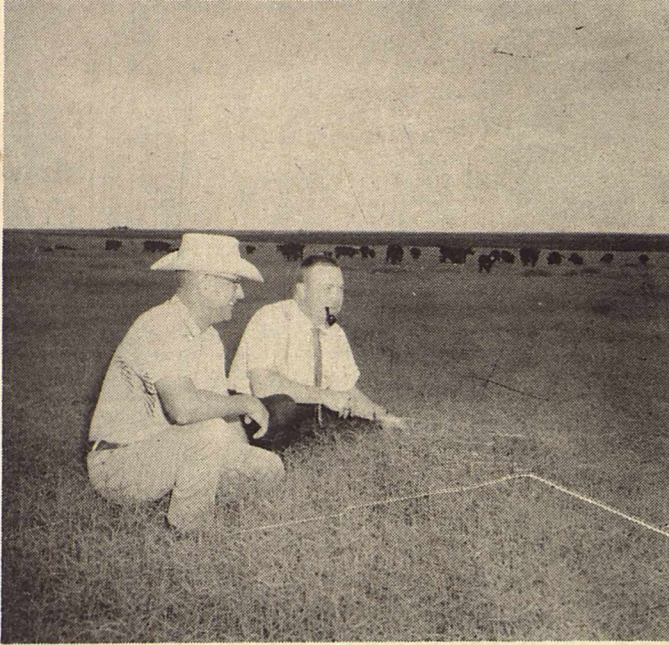

Each year there is a field day held at the South Plains Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock. The 1965 Field Day has just been announced by Superintendent Charles Fisher. The event will be held this year on the afternoon of September 21. All interested people are invited to attend and will be given a complete tour of the station and facilities.

There are many things of interest at the center and every farmer and landowner in Yoakum County could profit from this field day. The general theme of the Field Day will be "Today's Six Keys to Lowering Crop Production Costs". Mr. Fisher says they will discuss research results producers can use to make decisions about water, fertilization, timing operations, agricultural chemicals, mechanization and varieties.

Yoakum County farmers might profit by learning something about soybeans. This crop has been grown for several years on the center. Soybeans may be an important crop in Yoakum County in 1966. The new farm program is likely to take cotton acres out of production and not allow grain sorghum on the retired acres so a different crop will have to be grown on this land if farm income is to remain at near the present level.

Sub-irrigation with plastic pipe is one of the newer lines of research being carried on at the center. This practice will have a place in agriculture where water is limited and high yielding crops such as vegetables are being grown.

There are many points of interest at the center and farmers should be making plans to be present on the afternoon of September 21.

Paul Cobb and Bill Loyd (Banker and land owner) are shown in a 30 acre field of Midland Bermuda grass that is almost knee high. Paul says his cows always do better on tall grass. We saw in this pasture that the cows were eating the tallest grass first. Tall grass (5" to 8") has more leaf surface, better root system, will produce more grass and make better use of water and soil.
