OUR 35TH YEAR THURSDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1965 NUMBER 52

COUNTY CLINIC CLOSES

has asked the County Commissioners Court to void his one year lease. Due to his own personal problems the M. D. will close the clinic and leave Plains.

The Plains physician did not announce his plans and it was not learned where he is going. He said that due to personal problems he is going to rest and relocate.

Dr. and Mrs. Walker extended their thanks to residents of the community and to the County officials. They said that the people and the County Officials had been very kind to them and that they appreciat-ed the cooperation of them during their stay here.

Members of the County Commission and Judge Stanley Duval said that they were very sorry that it turned out this way, but that they would start immediately to locate another doctor for Plains. All fou r commissioners and the county judge assured the Chamber of Commerce officials that they would assist them in any way possible to locate another physician.

The clinic was leased by Dr. Walker during the first week in November and took possession of the clinic at that time. He came here from Amhearst where he had been practicing medicine.

Dr. Walker is a graduate of the University of Texas and holds his M. D. degree from the University of Texas Medi-cal School. The physician is 50 years old.

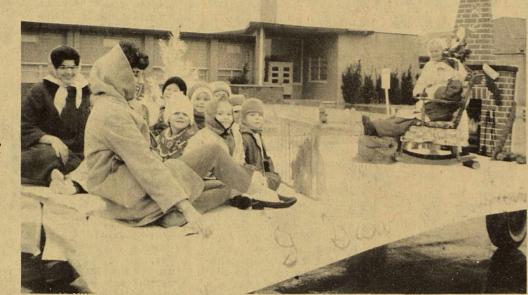

, Xmas Contest

The Walkers lived in a local motel during their stay in Plains, and did not move their children here,

Many Plains people expres-sed shock and dissapointment that the physician's problems force him to leave Plains. It had been several years since a physician had practiced in the well equipped Yoakum Co. Clinic, Rumors were being repeated in Plains and reliable sources in a position to know stated that most of the things which have been repeated are rumors, but that Dr. Walker was suffering from a severe personal problem and could not continue in his practice at this time. The spokesman also said that to dispell rumors that the facts show neither the physician or his wife had run afoul with the law or had been arrested.

Dr. Walker's problem concerned his health and his ability to continue in practice in Plains, the spokesman said.

'Ewas The Might Before Christmas

Dear Santa,

To Santa Claus, I'll see you this week please bring me a bicycle and a gun that is all I want. Love,

"Twas the night before Christmas, when all through Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse; The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there; In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there; denced in their beds; Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house And mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap, Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap, -When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter, I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter. Away to the window I flew like a flash, Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash. The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow Gave a lustre of midday to objects below; When, what to my wondering eyes should appear But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer, With a little old driver, so lively and quick I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick. When, what to my wondering eyes should appear, Dear Santa, Iwant a new doll and a set of dishes. I have been a good little girl. I am 8 years old. Also I want two bicycle tires. Bring somethings for my big sister. Your nice! Love, Brenda To Santa Claus, To Santa Claus, I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick. More rapid than eagles his coursers they came, More rapid than eagles his coursers they name: "Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen! On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donder and Blitzen! To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall! Now dash away, dash away all! " As dry leaves that before the wild hurricame fly, When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky, So up to the house-top the coursers they flew, With the sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too. With the sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too. And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof

And then in a twinking I heard on the roof The prancing and pawing of each little hoof. As I drew in my head, and was turning around, Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound. He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot, And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot; A bundle of toys he had furne on his head. A bundle of toys he had flung on his back, And he looked like a pedler just opening his pack. His eyes how they twinkled! his dimples how merry! His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry; His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow, And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow. The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth, And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath. He had a broad face and a little round belly That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly. He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf, And I laughed, when I saw him, in spite of myself. A wink of his eye and a twist of his head Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread. He spoke not a work, but went straight to his work, And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk, And laying his finger aside of his nose, And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose. He sprang to his sleight, to his team gave a whistle, And away they all flew like the down of a thistle; He spoke not a work, but went straight to his work, But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight, "Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!" What the law does object to is influence so strong that it overwhelms the person's independent judgment.

Thus, a court invalidated a will made by a helpless cripple, under threats by his son and daughter-inlaw to abandon him. Even though the document was labelled "WILL," it was not truly his will at all but theirs. The suspicion of undue influence may arise from various telltale signs, such as a bequest that seems contrary to human nature.

For instance, it was held an indication of undue influence by a man's second wife that he left far more money to her children than to his. Or, in another case, that a father left almost nothing to his invalid son and almost everything to his healthy daughter.

Nevertheless, while eccentricity in a will may justify suspicion, it is seldom enough by itself to prove undue influence. A man has the right to make an eccentric will it he so chooses. The law merely wants to be sure that he freely did so

Thus, to have happy bomb makers, the taxpayers pay out more for these items than for other items that they buy. But this is not the entire story.
