OUR 36TH YEAR THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1966 NUMBER 1

Joe Dan Makes All State Team

Head football coach Rip Sewell announced that Joe Dan Cooke has been named as all state fullback for class A schools in Texas. Joe Dan was most deserving of this honor, the Cowboy coach said, and Sewell further stated that Joe Dan is one of the finest ball players that I have ever seen. The Plains pigskin coach said that Joe Dan was one of the best blockers on the field and that he was aggressive and sure of himself. He was tops on defense, averaging 9.7 tackles per game and recovered 4 fumbles.

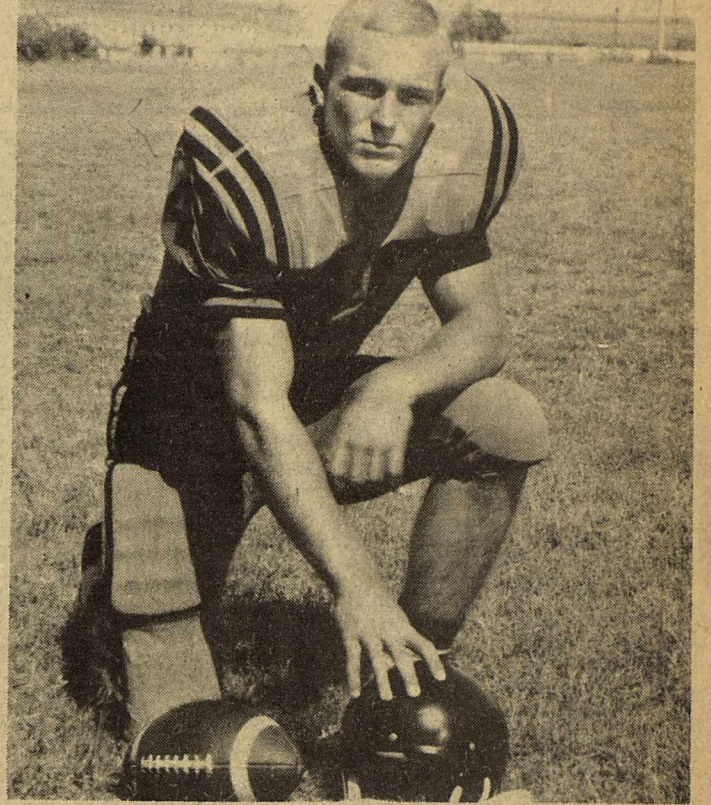

Cooke returned 10 kickoffs for 288 yards and one touchdown for 34 yards. During the regular season Joe Dan carried the ball 165 times for 1,487 yards setting a school record. This averaged 9.1 yards and his longest run was for 88 yards. During the regular season Joe scored 26 touchdowns for 156 points. During the bi-district game, Joe rushed for 70 yards on 15 carries. He made eight tackles, returned five kickoffs for 158 yards. He scored 14 points on two touchdowns and ran for an extra point. For the season Joe Dan scored 170 points and gained a total of 1,557 yards. This was one of the most outstanding accomplishments that any player could have made in 11 games said Coach Sewell. Joe Dan not only was an outstanding football player, but he was one of the best students in his class. He is a great leader on and off the field, said Coach Sewell.

Rip Sewell

Joe was all district on both the defensive and offensive teams. He made All South Plains in class A, and All South Plains in all classes. Joe caught only two passes but they were for 47 yards and a touchdown. He intercepted two for 29 yards.

M.D. LEASES COUNTY CLINIC

Dr. A. M. Reynolds, Rusk M. D., was given a lease on the Yoakum County Clinic in Plains last Friday and announced that he will be in Plains by January 10 to establish practice. The Yoakum County Commissioners Court voted to give the Clinic to Dr. Reynolds. Dr. Reynolds is a graduate of Baylor University Medical School in Dallas.

Dr. W. A. Walker signed a release on the County Clinic last week and Dr. Reynolds met with the Commissioners Court to request the Clinic. Mrs. Paul Lee made the motion to let Dr. Reynolds lease the Clinic and the motion was seconded by Commissioner Raymond Bookout. The motion carried with a unanimous vote.

Judge Stanley Duval had checked references on Doctor Reynolds and reported to the court that the references were excellent. Dr. Reynolds had practiced in DeLeon for over 20 years before going to Rusk. The new Plains physician was an army doctor during the depression days and was called back to serve during World War II.

learning that Dr. Walker would possible leave. Dr. Reynolds had been contacted about 60 days ago and had been asked to consider Plains as the place for his relocation.

Dr. Reynolds does not come to Plains a stranger. He and Mrs. Reynolds are friends of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayce and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGehee.

Mrs. Reynolds is a nurse and a lab technician. She will assist the physician in the clinic.

The County Court approved a request for several items of equipment to be bought for the Clinic. Dr. Reynolds requested that a medical microscope and a urinalysis testing machine be purchased. The members of the court approved the request.

Dr. and Mrs. Reynolds were in Plains last Friday and have purchased a home here. Mrs. Reynolds came back to Plains this week to make preparations for the move.

Mrs. Reynolds stated that they are members of the Methodist Church and will move their letters to Plains as quickly as they settle here.

The Reynolds have three children. Their children are married and the physician and his wife have two grandchildren. Dr. Reynolds said their children and grandchildren live in West Texas, and that he is happy to be able to relocate near them.

The County Judge and all members of the County Commission have worked in unison to secure the services of a Physician for Plains after

Cleatus Phelan Enters County Judge Race

Cleatus Phelan, Plains attorney, has announced for County Judge in a statement to the paper today.

Phelan is married and has one daughter. He is a veteran of the Korean Conflict and the Phelans belong to the Methodist Church in Plains.

Mr. Phelan is a graduate of Sul Ross College in Alpine and took his law degree from the University of Texas in Austin. He moved to Plains from Denver City in 1965 and is practicing law here. Phelan is also co-owner of the Yoakum County Abstract Company in Plains.

He is a member of the Plains Volunteer Fire Department, president of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of the I. O. O. F., and is active in the American Legion in Plains.

Phelan was born in Levelland and graduated from high school there. He married the former Janice Schoenrock of Levelland. The Phelans own their home at 1403 Third Street in Plains. Both Cleatus and Mrs. Phelan are active in civic affairs in the County.

Cleatus Phelan

The Plains attorney said that he has no axes to grind and intends to enter the race on his own merits.

Phelan stated that if he is elected that he will represent the people of the entire county to best of his ability. The Plains lawyer further stated that he believes his law background is one of his best assets.

1965 Had Ups & Downs But Finished Strong

The people of Plains have much to be happy for in looking at the old year in retrospect. In 1965 the dark clouds did have a sliver lining on many occasions.

First of all, the drought which was one of the most severe in the history of modern times in West Texas was broken. When all looked hopeless, and even the New York Times carried caustic accounts of how the country had literally blown away, the rains came. The farmers replanted and even though most will tell us it was just a so so year, it was really one of the best in the area's history. U. S. Cotton reports show that it was the third best year in history. The feed was average and the alfalfa was good. For the most part, when the rains came, the plague was lifted.

It is true that most of the business people ran behind the first six months, but business picked up and most of them finished the year with slight gains over the past year.

Business people and farmers are notorious for being pessimistic, however 1965 proved to be a better year than 1964 from any angle that they want to look at it.

The new year seems to hold many questionable factors, but the experts predict a good year for businessmen. It is true that inflation has hit the country hard the past several months, but unemployment is at an all time low and the salaries are at an all time high. There is no reason why the American public will not buy more goods in 1966 than they did in 1965.

As the New Year of 1966 came into being, there were a number of vacant houses in Plains. As the year progressed, the desirable ones were all rented or bought. From the real estate view, the old year was a sound one, and there are bright hopes for the new one.

The city of Plains had a financial statement, finishing their fiscal year well in the black. The School also enjoyed a good year. The county tax assessor reported that the per cent of taxes which were paid last year was very high, and the city reported likewise. Generally speaking, the year was a good one for the business and farm people. The ranchers saw their almost dead pastures blossom again, and some of the best grass in years is now on the plains. The price of cattle came up, and those few farmers who raise hogs in the area enjoyed one of the finest price years in history.

As we look at the old year we have far more than economics to be thankful for, because the residents of our city have received just about all that they can hope for in one year. The people of our county wanted a nice park. The park and golf courses are near completion. They wanted a physician in our town. The Clinic now has a doctor.

Honors galore have been brought to our little city. The girls won the state crown in volleyball. The Cowboys gave us one of their best seasons in history by winning the district honors. In the Interscholastic League events, Plains walked away with top honors. We are to be proud of our youth.

Our Fat Stock Show was a big hit and the Old Settlers Reunion was enjoyed by many and was termed as one of the finest yet.

In looking forward to the new year, we will indeed be fortunate if 1966 will repeat itself in many ways for us.

Judge Duvall

Judge Stanley Duvall Bids For Re-Election

County Judge Stanley Duvall, a resident of Yoakum County since 1939, has announced for re-election as County Judge of Yoakum County. Judge Duvall is seeking his second term. He first was elected as County Judge in 1962, assuming office in 1963.

In making his statement, Judge Duvall said to the citizens of Yoakum County: I appreciate very much having had the opportunity to serve you as County Judge. I enjoy working with people, and the association I have had with individuals and groups in different projects has been a

Mrs. Milton Lowe New Home Manager

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lowe have assumed their duties managing the Plains Memorial Convalescent Center here. The couple started their duties the first of the year coming to Plains from Palestine, Texas, where they have been in similar work. Mrs. Lowe has 12 years experience working in nursing homes, and her son owns a nursing home in Palestine.

The new Plains couple extended an invitation to the public to come by the center and get acquainted. They said that the coffee pot is always on and that the residents of the home always enjoy company.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe stated that they would welcome visitors any day, but that on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 2:30 and 4:00 p. m. that refreshments would be served to all visitors of the nursing home.

The center celebrated its first birthday last spring and is one of the most modern in West Texas. It has 30 beds and the staff offers 24 hour nursing care for the residents.

If anyone desires additional information about the center they can call Mrs. Lowe at the nursing home, or stop in to see her. She stated that she would be happy to answer any questions about the home.

Blanche Dyer Announces Re-Election Intentions

Blanche Dyer, incumbent District Clerk, has announced her intentions of seeking re-election in the coming election.

Mrs. Dyer is married to Charles R. (Pete) Dyer and lives at the state line on the Lovington highway. The Dyers own Dyer Grocery Store and Pete operates the business. Mr. and Mrs. Dyer are long time residents of the county having lived in Denver City and for the past 4 years in the Plains area.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer have two children and five grandchildren. Their son Gary is an employee of a credit union in Canyon, and their daughter Dana is married to Larry Don Williams. They live in Lubbock.

Blanche suffered a fall in a home accident recently, and her leg and arm are still in a cast. She stated that she will be able to come to town soon, but invited her many friends to drop in for a visit and coffee while she is confined to her wheel chair.

Mrs. Dyer extended her appreciation to the many people who supported her in the last election, and stated that she will continue to serve the people to the best of her ability if re-elected.

During the interview for this story at Mrs. Dyer's home, the editor added his autograph to the many that are on her casts. Mrs. Dyer said jokingly that she hopes that the cast isn't an indication of how she will run in the race, and added that she will have a real boost in the next few days when she is able to get around again.

Mrs. Dyer has kept in close contact with her office during her recovery from the broken arm and leg, and she says that she didn't know how good it was to walk up three flights of stairs to work until she was unable to do so.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Dead Letter Laws

Over a period of 42 years, the crime committed most often in Washington, D. C., was selling ice cream cones.

It seems that in 1921, as a health measure, the sale of ice cream in less-than-pint containers was forbidden. Yet, through the years, millions of less-than-pint cones were sold in brazen defiance of the law. They were licked in plain sight by residents, tourists, Congressmen, perhaps even Supreme Court justices. Not until 1963 did Congress finally end the scandal by repealing this obsolete law.

In Elko, Nevada, crime ran even more rampant. A 1918 ordinance, passed during the great flu epidemic, required everybody to wear a flu mask in public places. Not until 1964 did the city council let people breathe easier by revoking the ordinance.

Hundreds of such laws remain on the books in various communities around the country. How does this happen?

The reason is simple: there is far more incentive to put a law on the books than to take it off. As the original stimulus for a law fades away, people gradually lose interest in it. No one obeys, no one complains, no one prosecutes.

Yet, these dead letter laws may do real harm. For one thing, they may breed disrespect for law itself.

For another thing, they may give law enforcement officials too much leeway. If not probable, it is at least possible that a person might suddenly be prosecuted for doing something which he has been doing, in all innocence, for years.

Accordingly, as part of a broad drive to modernize criminal law, bar associations and other attorney organizations are trying to clean out these legal anachronisms.

It is not an easy job. Some laws are plainly useless. But others, while rarely invoked, may still have a useful deterrent effect. Still others might represent a kind of gentleman's agreement whereby the community salutes a moral standard in principle while ignoring it in practice.

But it is a job well worth doing. No law should remain on the books for no better reason than that it has been forgotten.

Happy New Year Everyone. . . . Sitting here behind our battered old typewriter it doesn't seem easy to think of any new thing to write about a new year. . . . It seems that most everything has been said over and over again. . . . We always write about new resolutions, and then later we can tell about breaking each one. . . . Right off we can think of many, many things that would seem wonderful to do in the new year. . . . It also seems that sixty-six, as a year, should carry some special significance along with it. . . . Naturally, we want to meet new friends and new people throughout the year. But, something seems to be tugging at our heartstrings and sort of pulling at the two fingers that play havoc with the typewriter keyboard wanting to be written down. . . . Even though the thoughts seem a bit hard to put into words on paper, but it has something to do with taking more time out to enjoy our old friends. . . . Taking a bit of time to cut away the weeds of neglect from along the paths that lead to each other's home. Perhaps even spending a few moments mending the wires of misunderstanding that become tangled so often and mar our friendship fences. . . . Along the walk if we could only make the kindness flowers grow a little more beautiful, and if we could make the welcome light on the gate a bit brighter perhaps 1966 could mean more to each of us along our way. . . . Again, Happy New Year Everyone. . . .

Small wonder most of the modern ailments are called a virus. Who could either spell or pronounce the official names for them all.

Sign in a doctor's office: "Don't put on an organ recital in here. Other patients may not like that kind of music. . . ."

Some folks don't appear to be doing anything and get up early and stay up late doing it.

Dear Uncle Zeb:

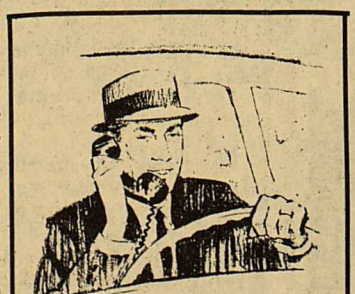

Some of the TV commercials "make me sick." . . . What do they think the American housewife is, a moron? . . . They even give that come-hitherish approach to the smelly old detergent ads. . . . I doubt if my husband would even wash dishes with the model, much less their product, and this sexy line of sweet talk surely wouldn't appeal to the housewife.

Signed: Irritated Somewhat.

Dear Mrs. Somewhat:

Don't underestimate the soap ads just because the approach is a bit slippery. Ask your hubby to bring home a pack and watch out for the brand.

The following is for those of you who, through the years, have enjoyed the writings of Miss Laura V. Hamner and would like to buy one of the few remaining copies of her book "Light & Hitch." . . . Last week we received a letter from Calloway S. Crews of the American Guild Press, who was the publisher of her book. As long as the copies last he would like to ship you a copy for $6.00 and as a special deal to help Miss Hamner, he would send her one-half of the total price. If you would like to have full information on this offer, drop Uncle Zeb a card and we will send you the address of both Mr. Crews and Miss Hamner who is in poor health in a hospital in Birmingham, Ala.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

This session of the Congress the nation will undoubtedly face one of its severest tests as a democracy.

The issue will be over the proposed repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits states to pass laws barring the closed shop, or the so-called "right-to-work" laws presently in force in 19 states.

Public opinion polls show that the public is substantially against repeal of Section 14-B. The nation's independent business proprietors, voting through the C. W. Harder National Federation of Independent Business, strongly oppose this repeal. And, as was presented to the Congress, about one-third of the union members oppose repeal.

In fact, the hard core of the drive to make every worker subject to union control stems from the union leaders who want to be able to collect dues from all. Their desire is aided and abetted by those who made political campaign promises to the union leaders.

Thus, the attempt is to disregard majority will in order to pay off a political debt.

In ancient Rome political debts were often paid out by providing free spectacles in the Coliseum with captive gladiators. In modern America it is sought to pay off a political

It is probably impossible to find at any time prior in American history where naked power has been so unleashed to negate the will of the majority, and at the same time deliver a large segment of the population into bondage. For essentially, there is little difference in saying to a man that you shall not eat without paying tribute to the union bosses and in saying you shall not eat unless you are chained to a galley oar. There is some difference in degree, but none in principle.

It is not inconceivable if the American people submit to this political power play, especially since Supreme Court decisions have now made it possible for unions to be run by communists, that the shades will be drawn even more closely to blot out the shining light of American liberty and freedom which was such a beacon of hope to the entire world.

There is of course, a last ditch recourse the majority of the people have before the curtains are closed.

That is to write or wire Senators and Congressmen, expressing their views.

At Bunker Hill the destiny of the American people rested with the common people who were both dedicated and indignant.

The destiny of American freedom again rests with the American people. If the people write their views to their members of Congress and their senators, the light of freedom can still be preserved.

Linda Blair, Debra Thompson, and Georgia Gray winners in the local essay contest last year are being presented prizes by supervisor A. J. McGinty.

Each year the Yoakum Conservation District encourages the local high school students to enter the Fort Worth Press essay contest. Prizes for first, second and third place essays are given and then all essays are sent to the Fort Worth Press.

Last year Georgia Gray, Debra Thompson and Linda Blair won first, second and third in the local contest and then Georgia won seventh place in a regional contest. Other winners were Sharron Pierce who won first place in the State contest in 1963, Sarah Kay Field, Dana Bryson, Leta Stewart, Mark Barron, Carolyn Loyd, Sandra Romans, Mike Field, Marsha White to name a few winners of past years.

This year the title of the theme is "Conservation the Key to Plenty". Students are asked to write 300 words or less on the subject. Tell what you think about ways conservation can provide food, shelter and clothing for present and future generations.

The local District Board will give appropriate prizes to first, second, and third place winners locally and encourage all interested students to contact their teacher or high school principal, D. N. Taylor for further information.

A total of 10 land owners and operators completed their Great Plains Conservation Program contracts and let them expire on December 31, 1965.
