OUR 35TH YEAR THURSDAY. MARCH 17, 1966 NUMBER 11

 223 Register to Vote Under Special Free State Plan

At press time 223 voters had been registered in Yoakum County under the new registration law which went into emergency effect a few days ago to comply with a mandate of the Federal Courts. Plains area voters registered in greater numbers under the new registration drive than did Denver City. The breakdown follows: Plains 124, and Denver City 95.

A total of 2086 voters had paid poll tax, but with the new registered voters the total has grown to 2309. Denver City has almost two times the amount of voters as the Plains area with a total of 1549 to 756 from Plains. Before the new registration drive the count stood at 1454 for Denver City to 632 for registration system.

The new registration plan has been given to much criticism by candidates in the state election and by political scientists. The Political Scientists have charged that it still will be the same type plan as would the poll tax, because under the new law a person wishing to vote must register each year. Most states have a permanent registration file which do not compel a voter to re-register each year.

The political scientists state that the plan is expensive, with the advantage to the political bosses and the party faithful, because many people will pass the deadline in which to re-gister, and will not be able to vote, while the party faithful and the pay rollers will al-ways be there to vote with their solid minority.

One state candidate says that a permanent plan should be adopted in order to cut the expense of re-registering the electorate each year. Under the poll tax a person paid to vote when he registered. Un-der the new system the tax payers will foot the bill.

Proponents of the plan say will be elected. Campaigning is under way in the school district to fill the posts.

G.I. Benefits Explained By U.S. Rep. Mahon

Approximately 9, 000 veterans in Texas' 19th Congressional District are potentially eligible for benefits and services under the new GI Bill just signed by President Johnson.

The new GI Bill provides education and training programs generally patterned after the highly successful GI Bills of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

In the first year alone, over 1.100 veterans are expected to take advantage of the educational benefits, according to statistics from the Veterans Administration. This educational provision is expected to provide the veterans in the District almost $723,000 in direct benefits in that first of the new bill go into effect June 1,1966, giving the veteran ample time to plan his schooling program. In addition to the educa-

CAYCE'S CORNER

It seems that we have another Orville Wright in our little city. Hank Goehry started from scratch with the wreckage of an old piper plane and built himself a dandy little two seater which made its solo flight last week-end. Hank stayed with his project and succeeded in building himself a plane. Those who know Hanksay that it is a fine plane and one veteran pilot said that he would feel safer flying in the local product then he would in a new one from the factory, because Hank is a first rate mechanic and was sure that the bugs were out of the craft before he took it up in his flying machine. We enjoyed going to the open house at the school last week, and want to compliment the students and classroom teachers for their fine exhibits. We also enjoyed Mrs. Cook's music program.

Handle With Care

To clean her rugs, a housewife made use of a powerful cleaning fluid. But, working in a closed room, she inhaled so much of the lethal fumes that she died. Was the manufacturer of the cleaning fluid legally liable for her death?

After a court test, the company was indeed held liable-mainly because of a misleading label on the can. The brand name, in large letters, strongly implied that the product was safe to use. As for danger, the only warning was small and inconspicuous.

Damage suits are rising with growing frequency in the field of "product liability." One key issue is the responsibility of a manufacturer to warn the consumer of possible danger.

Sometimes the matter is covered by specific statutory requirements, such as marking poison with a skull and crossbones. But even without any specific requirements, a manufacturer generally has a duty to give warning, when needed, of dangers inherent in his wares.

For, in this age of synthetic and complex products, the consumer is often unable to detect those dangers for himself.

"Such a dependent society," said one judge, "must exact greater care than in more simple days and must require from manufacturers or producers increase I integrity and caution as the only protection of its safety and well-being."

Nevertheless, the law will not blame the manufacturer for every mishap in which his product plays a part. He need not warn the consumer of hazards that should be obvious.

For instance, the manufacturer need not place a HANDLE WITH CARE notice on a hammer, just because it can mash your thumb. Or on a needle, just because it can puncture your skin.

Nor is the manufacturer liable if his warning, although properly given, is not properly heeded.

Thus, a man who was burned by an inflammable adhesive was held not entitled to damages from the manufacturer. He had used the product near an open flame, even though the container carried a plain and pointed warning not to do so.

A Report on 1965—And a Look Ahead:

El Paso Natural Gas Company is on the move-with record sales and earnings in 1965

Profits and revenues of El Paso Natural Gas Company were at all-time highs in 1965. Gas sales reached a record volume of 1.44 trillion cubic feet during the year, and earnings from diversified activities outside the interstate pipeline business showed a marked increase.

More important: We expect continued improvement in 1966.

Today, El Paso Natural has a proposal before the Federal Power Commission to increase substantially our deliveries to southern California. These additional lowcost supplies will be made available, if the project is approved by the FPC, for smogcontrol or any other purposes regulatory authorities find to be in the public interest.

Our diversification program is also moving ahead-in fertilizers, synthetic fibres, plastics and other petrochemicals.

El Paso Natural's Annual Report describes the company's accomplishments during 1965 and some of our plans for the future, including service to markets that are growing 21/2 times as fast as the rest of the nation. We'd like to send you a copy.

For a copy of the 1965 Annual Report, write: El Paso Natural Gas Company, El Paso, Texas 79999.
