OUR 35TH YEAR THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1966 NUMBER 33

Its Feed Time

Frank Upton Harvests Year's First Grain

W.F. Frank Upton, long time Yoakum County farmer and Rural mailman, harvested the first load of grain in the county this year, when he delivered the first truck load to the elevator. Guetersloh-Anderson Grain paid a bonus to Mr. Upton, and Wayne Badgett manager of Guetersloh-Anderson Grain was on hand to receive the grain and award the bonus to Frank Upton.

First Blue Lake Bean Crop Here

A new page was begun in the history of Yoakum County Agriculture this week, as the field representative of Del Monte Food Company, Inc. took back signed contracts to the plant in Crystal City, Texas for Blue Lake Green Beans to be grown in Yoakum County and Gaines County. Del Monte is experimenting with their best grade of green bean to see if this area is desirable for production of commercial acres.

In planting the crop, it is found to be a high user of phosphate. The breakdown is 125 pounds of actual phosphate, 125 lbs. of actual nitrogen, and about 30 pounds of potash on the pre plant.

In Gaines County last year, the return averaged about two and one half tons per acre, and proved to be a good cash crop. Mr. Taylor explained that it might be possible for Del Monte to put a plant in operation in this area if the crops can be obtained.

At any rate, the farmers of Yoakum County have seen that the big companies are interested in the area for vegetable production.

Mr. and Mrs. Upton live in Plains across the street from the clinic, and are active members of the Baptist Church. Mr. Upton is also one of the leaders in the L.O.O.F. lodge in Plains.

Wayne Badgett, manager for Guetersloh - Anderson, and Herbie Pickett, assistant manager, were on hand to weigh the load of grain and welcome Mr. Upton to the elevator with the grain which had been cut on his farm.

Mr. Upton expressed his appreciation to Wayne Badgett and Guetersloh-Anderson for the bonus check and the good service they gave him.

Pokes Start Pigskin Practice With High Hopes for 1966

Pigskin talk is in the air as Coach Rip Sewell's defending 5ACowboys run through their workouts in what appears to be tip top shape. The first practice was on Monday of this week, and the squad reported in good shape with determined efforts to be ready for the invasion of Ropes September 9, with every thought of a win to their credit.

Twelve lettermen return to the Cowboy unit which was the pride of District 5A last year. Texas Football Magazine regards the team highly and picks them to repeat their hold on the District title.

Coach Sewell's Cowboys will have depth on the line and in the backfield, but will face formidable opposition from the Seagraves Eagles and from the Coahoma Dozs.

Coach Sewell reported his team to be in the best condition for the starting of practice that he has seen at Plains. He said the boys kept in good physical condition this summer. The Plains football mentor said he is completing arrangements for a couple of scrimmages before season opens. The dates and details were incomplete at press time.

The Plains Cowboy defense should be sound with such lettermen as N. C. Clanahan, 229, Dan Field, 192, Carlton Wilkins, 169, Billy Taylor, 176, Mokey McCrary, 175, Jerry Lowery, 178, and Jim Massey, 173, for an average of 188 pounds.

Backfield hopes will be built on control and speed with Lynn Rollins at Quarterback. Formidable attack variations can be made with such lettermen as Greg Jones, Rickey Elmore, and Alton Raines.

The twelve lettermen returning for the Pokes this year include: N. C. Clanahan, Rickey Elmore, Jerry Lowery, Carlton Wilkins, Alton Raines, Lynn Rollins, Jimmy Massey, Dan Field, Greg Jones, Billy Taylor, Milton Romans, and Mokey McCrary.

Water District Board Holds 1st Meeting

The Board of Directors of the South Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 4 met at the First National Bank of Brownfield on August 12, 1966 and established the boundaries of the District based upon the results of the election held April 26, 1966.

Each area in which a majority of those voting favored the District was included. The District includes land in Terry, Yoakum, Cochran and Gaines Counties. The cities of Seminole and Denver City were excluded from the District since a majority of the voters in these cities voted against inclusion in the District. Land in Lynn, Dawson and Andrews Counties was also excluded.

John Kendrick of Terry Co. Bob Loe of Yoakum Co., Claude Hearne and Joe Anderson of Gaines Co. were confirmed as directors. Doyle Moss of Terry County was appointed as director at large. John Kendrick, Bob Loe and Joe Anderson were elected President, Vice President and Secretary respectively.

The Board reported that it intends to proceed to compile the information necessary to enable area farmers to take advantage of the water depletion allowance established in the recent case, Shurbet vs. United States. However, the Board is advised that the gathering of this information will take some months.

The Board also reported that they will proceed with the promulgation of rules and regulations for use in the District. A public hearing will be held prior to the adoption of any such rules.

Editorial

The City of Plains has proposed to purchase the County water system and the Plains Independent School District water system in the city. An offer of about $26,400.00 has been made for the County system, and $7,900.00 has been made for the water holdings of the school, which seems to be more than fair, after considering investment and depreciation of the systems.

Plains is an unprotected city because of the inadequate facilities offered by the water system. The city council and Mayor Kennedy have retained experts to study our outlay to see what can be done to improve the conditions in order that the health and welfare of the city residents can be assured to be adequate. The water purchase plan is one step in several which is under consideration to make our community a better place in which to live.

Over 700 students drink water at our school, and this water is not purified. We run the risk of endangering the health of the youth of our area because of the water system which is not chlorinated. If the City supplied the water from their system, the water would be purified.

The county system supplies only the county property in Plains. In Denver City the County Offices, the community center, the hospital, and the library have their water supplied by the City, which is only practical.

It seems like sound business for the City of Plains to supply the whole community with water, like other cities in the geographic area. A fair price has been offered for the School and County systems, and the proposal has been made in a joint meeting of the Board of Education, the Commissioners Court, and the Mayor and City Council. The matter has been taken under advisement. We hope the members of the Board and the Court will follow the City plan, and cast a vote for progress in putting the three systems into one efficient water system.

Bobby Moore to Head N.M. Plant

Bobby L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore of Plains, of Hobbs has been named plant supervisor of General Telephone Company of the Southwest's Carlsbad district, according to the phone firm's division manager, H. B. Elam.

Moore, installation and maintenance foreman in General's Hobbs district for the past one and one half years, replaces T. J. Goodnight, who has moved to the phone company's division office in Sherman, Texas as division methods and results coordinator.

Anative of Brownfield, Texas, Moore joined General Telephone as a lineman in 1957. He later served as a construction foreman, then installation and maintenance supervisor in Levelland prior to moving to Hobbs in 1965.

Moore is a graduate of Plains High School. He and his wife, the former Billie Rushing of Plains, have two children, Vana and Wesley.

Moore, in his new position, will supervise installation, maintenance, and repair operations in General's Carlsbad, Lovig and Carlsbad Caverns exchanges.

He attended South Plains Junior College in Levelland, and was an active member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in both Levelland and Hobbs.

D.H. Kerby Hurt In Car Wreck

D.H. Kerby was hospitalized for injuries suffered after his car was struck from the rear late Sunday by a car driven by James E. Petrick, Big Spring. The accident occurred on the Lovington highway near the Town and Country Beauty Shop. Mrs. Kerby and one of the Kerby children were also shaken up in the wreck. The Kerbys own the Town & Country Beauty Shop and Kerby's Barber Shop west of Plains.

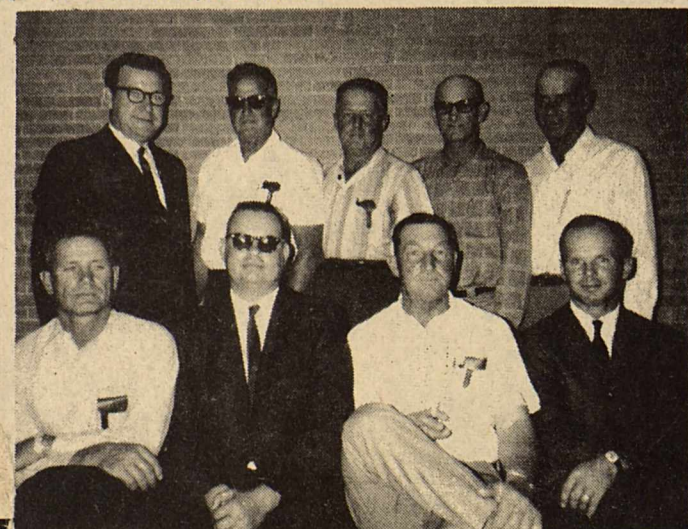

Sheriff Olan Heath reported that Petrick was arrested and charged with Driving While Intoxicated. Petrick was released after posting a $500.00 bond.

The County Sheriff reported that the Kerby car suffered ed severe damage and the Petrik car was also demolished. The Yoakum County law man said it was fortunate that all of the Kerbys were not killed in the wreck.

The County Sheriff also reported that he arrested Guadalupe Tames, Route One, Post, for Driving While Intoxicated. Tames was jailed in lieu of posting bond. Sheriff Heath showed several large blades taken from Tames. One resembled a meat cleaver, and the other two were bolo blades.

Yoakum County's chief police officer said he is patrolling the roads constantly because of the traffic from the tourists at this time of year.

Members of the Board of the Yoakum County Co-op Gin are pictured with manager Bob McCrary and Aggie Prof at Bar-B-Q.

School Time

Mother's Little Dears

The morale of the mothers has begun to rise this week as August 29th approaches. That little song dances through their minds saying 'School time, school time,' and they look forward to dolling up little Penelope and combing Leander's hair and sending them off to school.

The story isn't quite the same for little Penelope and dear Leander. The doll games will be replaced by the spelling book, and Leander can forget about tadpoles and hunting rabbits and learn his arithmetic. The little ones for the most part hate to see summer draw to a close.

But then dear reader comes the third party involved in our story. Those people who need the patience of Job, and the wisdom of Solomon. Yes, the teachers. The pay is less than a truck driver, far below a plumber, and the investment on their training would amount to about $32,000. We the public say Penelope and Leander are yours for the next nine months. Teach them their books, their morals and their social graces, but under no circumstances should you lay a hand on them or give them less than an A, because they are the most perfect things this side of the Garden of Eden.

Yes, our teachers will find that the parents will already know that Penelope and Leander know more than teacher, and that the little dears are always right and the teacher is wrong, so just avoid all disagreement with sweet Penelope and fair Leander and we will have a first rate year.

Then all fathers are positive that Leander should be the first string quarterback and the starting center on the basketball team, even though he is only 12 years old and is a dried up little runt, because he is advanced for his age, and the quicker the poor coach learns this fact, the faster the public relations will improve, with one exception. The exception is for coach to take Leander and win every game and if he should lose one, Cont. on page 6

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Coaching The Witness One of the oldest tricks in the courtroom is to fire this question at a witness: "Have you talked with anyone about this case?"

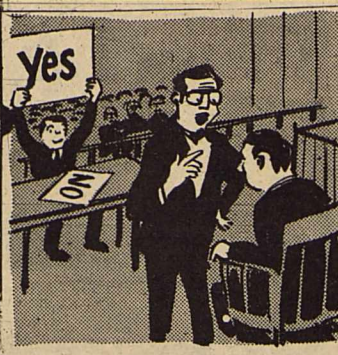

The following article was sent to us by Mr. B. T. Rucker, surveyor for Lubbock County and thereabouts, along with a warm, friendly letter.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

It is doubtful that anyone, following a heated argument with the wife at the breakfast table, rushes out and throws rocks through the windows of all the houses down the block.

Unless this basic right is reaffirmed, the Great Society could well turn into the Disastrous Society.

For another thing, he may give the witness some hints on courtroom etiquette, like "Don't chew gum on the witness stand" or "Better wear something a little more conservative."

He can perform all these functions better—more clearly, more speedily—if he has gone over the matter first with the lawyer. In fact, the lawyer may even put him through a "trial run" of his testimony, including a mock cross-examination by the opposition.

pure jackass. The change would be sweet music to my ears. Here the country is all kivered with bricks and concrete and the hearts of many of the people are as hard and flinty as the sidewalks.

I want to go back where there is nothing like daylight saving time; where you get up at three o'clock in the morning and go to bed at seven except special occasions where you stay up till eight.

Yes, I want to go back where they drink sassafras tea to thin their blood in the spring-time, and churn in the old up and down churn.

I want to go back to the country and get my fill of cracklin' bread and where folks eat three meals a day — breakfast, dinner and supper, — and where the word "lunch" will never be heard again.

It seems high time that the Congress recognize Congressman Hosmer's effort to establish that there are no excuses for violating law and order.

PUBLIC NOTICE Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ELEVEN ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1966. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 19 proposing an Amendment to Section 49-d, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, declaring state policy regarding optimum development of water reservoirs; providing for the use of the Texas Water Development Fund under such conditions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law in the acquisition and development of storage facilities and any system of works properly appurtenant thereto.

Law, including the requirement of a permit for storage or beneficial use, for the additional purposes of acquiring and developing storage facilities, and any system or works necessary for the filtration, treatment and transportation of water from storage to points of treatment, filtration and/or distribution, including facilities for transporting water therefrom to wholesale purchasers, or for any one or more of such purposes or methods; provided, however, the Texas Water Development Fund or any other state fund provided for water development, transmission, transfer or filtration shall not be used to finance any project which contemplates or results in the removal from the basin of origin of any surface water necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable future water requirements for the next ensuing fifty-year period within the river basin of origin, except, on a temporary, interim basis.

which the Texas Water Development Board has financed in whole or in part. "Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law, the Texas Water Development Board may also execute long-term contracts with the United States or any of its agencies for the acquisition and development of storage facilities in reservoirs constructed or to be constructed by the Federal Government. Such contracts when executed shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as state bonds issued under the authority of the preceding Section 49-c of this Constitution, and the provisions in said Section 49-c with respect to payment of principal and interest on state bonds issued shall likewise apply with respect to payment of principal and interest required to be paid by such contracts. If storage facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the state's investment.

The money received from any sale, transfer or lease of storage facilities or associated system or works shall be used to pay principal and interest on state bonds issued or contractual obligations incurred by the Texas Water Development Board, provided that when moneys are sufficient to pay the full amount of indebtedness then outstanding and the full amount of interest to accrue thereon, any further sums received from the sale, transfer or lease of such storage facilities or associated system or works may be used for the acquisition of additional storage facilities or associated system or works or for providing financial assistance as authorized by said Section 49-c. Money received from the sale of water, which shall include standby service, may be used for the operation and maintenance of acquired facilities, and for the payment of principal and interest on debt incurred. "Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character."

Taylor-Brooks Vows Repeated

Miss Loretta Ann Taylor became the bride of Kenneth E. Brooks, Jr. when double ring vows were read July 29, at 7:00 p.m. in St. Michaels Catholic Church in Levelland, Texas. The Rev. R. H. McClellan of St. Michaels performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Taylor of Route 1, Tokio, Texas. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Brooks of 1006 South Grinnell, Perryton, Texas.

The ceremony was performed before an altar flanked by two candelabras and two white baskets of large yellow mums. Music preceding the ceremony and nuptial selections were given by Mr. Gene Young of Lubbock.

chantlance, designed in a straight silhouette skirt and a tight fitted bodice. An over jacket of lace with a florentine neckline and tapered petal point sleeves completed the brides attire. From her crown of roses, sprinkled with frosted sequins and aureolis bourelais, a three tiered veil of silk illusion was held. She carried the traditional white orchid with long white satin streamers. She wore a blue garter and for something borrowed and old she wore her Grandmother Murphy's wedding band.

The matron of honor wore a formal floor length gown of yellow chiffon over yellow satin, designed in a straight silhouette skirt with an empire waistline, banded with tiny pearls. Her headpiece was a small circlet of yellow velvet with matching color veil. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Parrish Hall of St. Michaels Catholic Church.

yellow background. The three tiered wedding cake featured white icing and fresh cut yellow rosebuds on each tier and topped with miniature bride and groom. Hostesses for the reception were Mesdames Frank Veretto, Leroy Delashaw, Truett Jones, Edward Smith, John Fitzgerald, and assisted by Mary and Rosa Costillo.

It's Jelly Making Time

With the skins of the Concord grapes fairly bursting with ripeness you know it's time to get out the jelly making kettle. To preserve as much of the fresh flavor, color, and aroma and save you plenty of time and energy, make these batches of Grape Jelly the modern short-bolt way. By using Certo Fruit Pectin, jellies can be sealed in their glasses within 15 minutes after the juice is prepared.

GRAPE JELLY

- 4 cups prepared juice (about 3 lb. fully ripe Concord grapes* and 1/2 cup water)
- 7 cups (3 lb.) sugar
- 1/2 bottle liquid fruit pectin

*To use wild grapes, Malagas, or other tight-skinned grapes, use only 3-1/2 cups prepared juice and add 1/4 cup lemon juice. Concord grapes give the best color and flavor.

First prepare the juice. Crush thoroughly about 3 pounds grapes. Add 1/2 cup water; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jelly. Thoroughly mix sugar into juice in saucepan. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover at once with 1/8 inch hot paraffin. Makes about 10 medium glasses.

Check Labels When Shopping

By Sudie Thompson
Good labeling helps you when you go grocery shopping.

The labels you find on federally inspected meat and meat products are clear and accurate. This accuracy is assured by the United States Department of Agriculture's stitches taken in his forehead after a swing accident in a park at Seminole Sunday. He is doing fine now.

The Joe Burks are visiting in Abilene for a few days.

Consumer Marketing Service. 'Cured hams,' for instance, are traditionally associated with the 'dry' cure method and slow smoking and long drying which was standard in Colonial times. Today, all hams marked 'country style' must thereafter be 'dry' cured in much the same way, and always require further cooking before eating.

Additionally, these hams may be marked as to regional origin, Virginia, Georgia or Texas, for example. When processed under Federal inspection, C&MS inspectors make sure they are actually produced in the region marked on the label.

Modern meat processing techniques produce good hams, tender and mild in flavor, in far less time today. If a ham is marked 'hickory smoked' C&MS meat inspectors make sure that it is. Hams labeled 'smoked only' are heated to an internal temperature of 140 degrees Fahrenheit, and require additional cooking before eating.

Hams labeled 'fully-cooked' are heated to an internal temperature of 150 degrees Fahrenheit and require no additional heating before serving.

Federal meat inspectors check hams produced under their supervision to make certain that they are processed as marked. They check original weight of meat, amount of curing mixture injected, length, of curing time, smoking time and final week. This, the round mark of Federal inspection is your guarantee that the label is accurate.

Cooking on the Trail by Betty Crocker

So you're going to rough it this vacation and do your cooking over an open fire? Well, don't forget the can opener — and don't forget the Bisquick! That handy metal opener is top priority equipment. Your "open sesame" to a welcome feast of chili or baked beans after a long day on the trail. (To heat canned foods, be sure to remove labels and cut lids almost all the way around.) And with Bisquick in your knapsack, think! — flapjacks under the sky, maybe even made with wild blueberries. OR fluffy, bubbling dumplings in a stew. OR wrap-around dough for pigs in a blanket. For more tantalizing thoughts for cooking in the out-of-doors, read on.

BISCUITS-IN-A-SKILLET

1/4 cup butter
Onion salt
Garlic salt
Paprika
2 cups Bisquick
1/2 cup milk

Melt butter in 9- or 10-inch skillet. Sprinkle with onion and garlic salt and paprika. Mix Bisquick and milk with fork. Beat vigorously 20 strokes, until stiff and slightly sticky. Knead 8 to 10 times on lightly floured board. Pat out 1/2 inch thick and cut into 12 biscuits. Dip biscuits in skillet to coat with butter. Arrange in skillet; cover with heavy duty aluminum foil, tucking ends underneath. Bake over grill about 15 minutes or until done. Invert to serve so crisp browned side is up.

Serve 'em hot with Pocket Stew — the camp cook's delight because it's an outdoor meal in a dish complete with its foil server.

POCKET STEW

Make 4 hamburger patties from 1 pound ground beef. Place each patty on 12-inch square of double thickness heavy-duty aluminum foil. Top each with a slice of onion and slice of raw potato. Add two carrot strips. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Seal foil securely. Place on hot coals 25 minutes, turning twice during cooking.

Fisherman in the crowd? Turn a big day's catch into a fisherman's feast. Coat all sides of fresh fish with Bisquick. Dip in milk; roll again in Bisquick. Sauté in small amount of fat till brown.

Remember! Douse the fire like a good scout.

then he isn't any coach at all and needs to be replaced by somebody who can see how to get along with Leander.

Oh yes, mom won't forget that Penelope is the most beautiful girl in her class and should have been the class favorite if it hadn't been for 'Old Lady Primrose' needless interference.

Alas the teachers will surely understand that everybody in the community knows their jobs better than they do, and if they want that contract next year, then take the advice of John Q. Public.

But in reality, we know that for the most part that next summer when school is out, sweet Penelope and dear Leander will have developed and progressed on the ladder of life, far better off, because some dedicated teacher did his or her job and taught them some valuable lessons from the book of life.

By Harry Cayce
The re-accion to the recent statement by one of the Beatles stating that 'We're more popular than Jesus now,' has caused thousands of words to be put into print and to be spoken in conversations on more than one continent. Many people have spoken out about the controversial musical team with feminine hair dos in no uncertain terms. In talking to some of the people in our little community, the writer has found a general feeling of disgust and a feeling of moralistic nausea to be directed towards the teen age juke box set who wear the odd hair arrangements and have made sport of what most Americans accept as the basis of the religion.

Even though the fans of the Beatles remain unaffected by the rancor of such a statement, the parents who have bothered to read about the English entertainers recent statement share a universal feeling that the troop of so called singers should be deported as undesirables. It is true that the Beatles have tried to back track and worm out of the intentions of the statement, but anybody who has the intelligence of a dullard can interpret for himself. The real quote in fuller detail said, 'Christianity will go. It will vanish and shrink. I needn't argue about that; I am right and I will be proved right. We're more popular than Jesus now. I don't know which will go first—rock'n'roll or Christianity.'

'Jesus was alright but his disciples were thick and ordinary. Its them twisting it that ruins it for me.'

The interview appeared in the London Evening Standard, and was picked up by the American magazine 'Date--book.'

Without exception, each person interviewed locally shared the same interpretation.

Each person took the statement at face value as it was probably intended this way by the Beatles the deluge of bad press reports backfired and the Beatles came under fire from editors, disc jockeys, politicians, and members of the clergy.

As far as this writer is concerned, he believes such statements that run down another person's personal convictions or sacred beliefs are nothing but garbage and rot. He also believes that the Beatles are undesirables true to the word and should be shown the next boat home. He further believes that the immigration authorities could give them a G.I. haircut and a one way ticket home and tell them that they are not needed in what we believe to be a decent society.

As for the disciples of the Beatles, the writer would advocate a real genuine de-lousing and some shaved heads. We might even recommend the same treatment for the parents who don't care what their youngsters pick up, and offer them nothing in the way of religious, literary, or artistic appreciation in the home. If our children are in the real gone set, then we need not blame the Beatles or any other group; instead we can blame ourselves for offering them nothing of value in the way of things worthwhile.

Many historians have written that can be judged by its literature and music. If this is true, then it is time that we look into the mirror.

The national news media would launch a drive to stress the importance of our American Heritage which was based upon a common belief in working for God and Country, to the extent that they have devoted to rock and roll, sex, violence, and freedom of expression at the expense of others, then perhaps some of their efforts could be seen in the homes of our nation. Our nation is as strong as the people who make up the population. You be the judge of our strength when a large majority of our population is in the age group of under 30 years of age, and ask yourself what will 1970 bring for my country?

Attends Workshop

Abilene, Texas--Cecil Williams, a resident of Plains, is one of more than 500 delegates attending the third annual Herald of Truth Workshop in Abilene, Texas, Aug. 17-18.

The workshop was designed to make a progress report on the growth and activities of the internationally-broadcast radio and television program over the past year and outline new opportunities that have developed for the program.

A special emphasis was placed on the importance of color programming on television. Since the Herald of Truth television program adopted full color filming, demands for the program have exceeded the supply available.

Another feature of the workshop was the adoption of the goal to place the Herald of Truth Radio Program on an additional 1100 stations in towns of 500 population and over that do not presently carry the program.

This workshop is another landmark in the amazing growth of the Herald of Truth Program. When the first broadcast was made on radio, February 10, 1952, it was carried on 31 stations of the ABC Network. Today, the programs are carried on almost 600 stations in 14 different countries.

Reading Hour

The Pre-Schoolers and Library Personnel wish to thank Nita Chambliss, Phyllis Krieg, Carolyn Wilmeth, Pam McDonnell, Sherrie Bookout, and Minnie Anderson for their interest shown in the reading hour held this summer in the library every Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. All pre-schoolers are invited to come and listen to the stories read and the records played for them. The workers plan their story hour and make it a very interesting session. Also, the reading program for the school age reader's seems to have been enjoyed by a large number this summer. There were 128 readers joined the club. The library had an average of 84 books checked out each day during the month of July. It seems the Plains area is enjoying their library and taking advantage of this privilege offered by the tax payers of the County.

Texas Draft Call

Austin, Texas.--State Draft boards will be called upon to furnish 2,671 men for the armed forces in October, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

This is the biggest monthly draft call received by the state since May 1953, when the monthly quota was 2,823. This was during the Korean conflict. Colonel Schwartz also announced that the September quota for Texas has been increased from 1,585 to 1,890. These monthly quotas compare with 1,837 for August, 1,381 for July, 879 for June, 1,927 for May, 979 for April, 1,068 for March, 1,373 for February, and 1,475 for January.

The state director of Selective Service said that he could not say at this time how many men would be sent for pre-induction examinations in October. A total of 6,600 will be forwarded for the examinations in September.

Calls on the local boards for October, with quotas for both induction and pre-induction examination, will be sent out by state Selective Service headquarters on or about September 9.

The Texas quota of 2,671 for induction in October is the state's share of a national call for 46,200 men. Registrants inducted from Yoakum County now serving 2 available, residential construction has dropped sharply--in some places 30 percent--in reaction to both increased costs and the credit contraction. Homebuilding last month hit a five-year low.

And, in the face of these ominous trends, the Administration is operating with a budget sure to run a deficit of between $5 and $10 Billion or more, the largest budget and possibly the largest deficit in our history.

We are now faced with this deteriorating situation because of federal insistence on following a policy of "administered inflation." Inflation, which some bureaucrats hoped could be tolerated and controlled in small doses, has not been contained. It has grown beyond all safe proportions and has turned from threat into reality.

Tower Reports 'Tight Money'

We are suffering an attack of what is called 'tight money.' Let's take a look at some of the pressures inflation has forced upon us:

--Consumer prices have risen alarmingly to their highest point in our nation's history. On a 100-point index based on 1959, consumer prices have risen to 129.

--The current annual rate of cost inflation is between four and five percent. In only six months the cost of food has risen 2.5 percent. Commodities have risen 1.6 percent. Services are up 2.5 percent.

--The 1933 dollar is now worth 40 cents. The 1940 dollar is worth 43 cents. The 1959 dollar is worth 88 cents. Never before has the value of our dollar been so low.

--Higher taxes and higher prices more than wiped out whatever additional income Americans earned in April, May and June. The average American had $10 less purchasing power in those months than he did during the first quarter of this year.

--Interest rates have risen to their highest point, and bank liquidity has fallen to its lowest point in 36 years. The prime rate for bank loans is now 5 3/4 percent. Home mortgage rates are averaging over six percent, and rates of seven to eight percent and climbing are reported.

--The U. S. Treasury's national debt managers are borrowing money at the highest interest rate the government has paid in 45 years.

--Interest rates on automobile loans and installment credit have increased in many areas.

--A general credit contraction has occurred. It has become increasingly difficult for both businesses and individuals to obtain loans.

--The nation's savings and loan institutions are, for the first time in their history, facing a serious outflow of funds. In April alone they lost $1 million in deposits to other higher-interest investment opportunities. W.S. News quotes a Houston savings and loan executive as saying, "We're a $50 million loan operation, and we have not made a single new loan since May 1st."

--Because loan money is not
