OUR 35TH YEAR THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1966 NUMBER 48

Cotton Money Forecast Slated for Yoakum County

Yoakum County allotments could boost the Agricultural economy in the county by a half million dollars in 1967 according to ASC reports received this week.

Under the 1966 cotton program Yoakum county farmers collected through their local ASC office approximately $1,777,489.00 and should they, in 1967 reduce their cotton by the same percent as in 1966 the payments would be approximately $2,275,186.00 or approximately $500,000.00 more than the 1966 payments for complying with the cotton program.

The local ASC office does not have at this time the official payment rates and price support loan rates, however, according to news release the loan rate will be reduced from $21.00 down to $20.25 and the payments will be increased from $10.50 to $10.78 Diversion payment and from $9.42 to $11.53 price support payment.

The cotton program as announced will depend on the outcome of the cotton farmer marketing quota referendum to be held December 5th through 9th. If farmers vote 'Yes' by 2/3 or more percent the program will be in effect and if more than 1/3 of the farmers vote 'No' the program will not be in effect, but there will not be any marketing quota penalties and farmers may plant all the cotton allotments would still be in effect and farmers that stayed within their allotment would be eligible for a price-support loan of 50% of parity. All farmers eligible to vote in the cotton marketing quota referendum are urged to vote in this most important election.

The Plains Cowboys made it two wins in a row Tuesday night in trouncing Morton 55-36 on the Tribe's home court. Last week the Pokes edged powerful Eunice, New Mexico 49-48 in a real thriller in the Land of Enchantment, and brought the victory back to the Lone Star state.

At Eunice the Cowboys high man was Calvin Smith with 17 points followed by Ricky Elmore, 7; Mike DeVries, 6; Jim Massey, 6; Billy Taylor, 5; Dan Field, 2; Lynn Rollins, 2; and Gregg Jones, 1.

In Morton the Pokes played a perfect defensive game the first half by keeping the Indians from scoring a single field goal. At halftime the score was 29-9 in Plains favor.

High point man for Plains in the Morton cage contest was Calvin Smith followed by Billy Taylor with 13 points. Others scoring for the Cowboys were Ricky Elmore, 7; Mike DeVries, 4; Lynn Rollins, 4; Jim Massey, 3; Butch Gaines, 2; and Gregg Jones, Dan Field and Ashburn with two points. All of the Cowboys got into the act of scoring.

The B team lost to Eunice 52-26 with Billy Kennedy being high point man with 8 points. Morton downed the B team 45-25.

The Cowboys invade Mustang Court in Denver City for their next game. The Ponies have not played this year and will open against Plains.

The Junior High teams both won their games with Morton. The 7th grade downed the Braves 24-21, the 8th grade won 32-29. High point men for the 7th grade were Barry Fisher with 10 points, followed by Andy Ruiz with 8, and Tommy Beal with 6 points. Gary Randall scored 12 for the 8th grade followed by Mike Loe with 10 points.

Plains is expected to put up stiff opposition to Denver City and will be a slight favorite to win.

The annual Tsa Mo Ga Bazaar was opened to the public at 6:00 p.m. Monday night, November 28th in the clubhouse.

The Bazaar theme was western and the serving tables were laid with striped ticking cloths centered with red bandana kerchiefs. The social committee, Mesdames; Tom Warren, Polly Rushing, Darrell Lindsey, Kenneth Hale, and Wayne Chadwick with Mrs. Garland Swann as chairman served pie, cake and coffee.

The long display tables were loaded with many useful and decorative items. Buying was brisk and visiting plenty was carried on. Pies, cakes, bread, jellies and such were offered for sale in another area. Such a display called to mind that Christmas is just around the corner.

At 9:00 p.m. the drawing for the 'Chest o Plenty' was held. Mrs. R.K. Field mixed the tickets and Joe St. Romain drew. The lucky ticket he drew had Mrs. Polly Rushing's name on it and was she a surprised and happy gal.

Many useful gifts were donated to the Veterans box that is sent each year to the hospital at Big Springs. These gifts are put in the hospital store and the veterans in the hospital are privileged to shop there for the gifts they send their families at no charge to them.

Mesdames; Ty Field, M.W. Luna, Wayne Davis, L.D. Hamm headed by Mrs. R.B. Jones as chairman planned the Bazaar. The thanks of the club members goes to these ladies for a successful Bazaar and from the entire club the community for their loyalty in supporting our efforts each year.

County Clerk elect Ruby Heald, county treasurer elect Wilda Hancock, county judge elect Gene Bennet, and Commissioner elect Johnnie L. Fitzgerald will take office the first of the year.

No changes in office and precinct personnel have been announced, but several are expected.

County Auditor Charlie Gillis reported that the overall fiscal picture looks good, but said that receipts at the hospital were less than expected. He further stated that the hospital will probably finish the year in the red by more than $30,000.00.

The call for jurors will be sent out this week. Both the Grand jury and Civil Court will be held this month.

Others who will be leaving the courthouse scene the first are long time county clerk J. W. O. Aldridge, who did not seek re-election. Mrs. Vicie Hinkle will also go out as county treasurer.

Anita Field Wins, Judge Warns Jail

In District Court in Plains yesterday judge Ledbetter dismissed contempt charges against Anita Field after a motion was made by her lawyer, Sen. Owens of El Paso. The motion to dismiss was made on the grounds that a former agreement between opposing counsel was not in writing.

Judge Ledbetter said there was nothing he could do but dismiss the action against Miss Field; however he added that if there is another action and there is no reason why she doesn't appear she will go to jail. Judge Ledbetter continued in saying that he felt the motion was a mockery of the court but that the records did not show in writing and that there was nothing that he could do but to dismiss the action. The judge continued by saying that if another court order is issued and she fails to appear that 'you will go to jail. That is as plain as I can put it.'

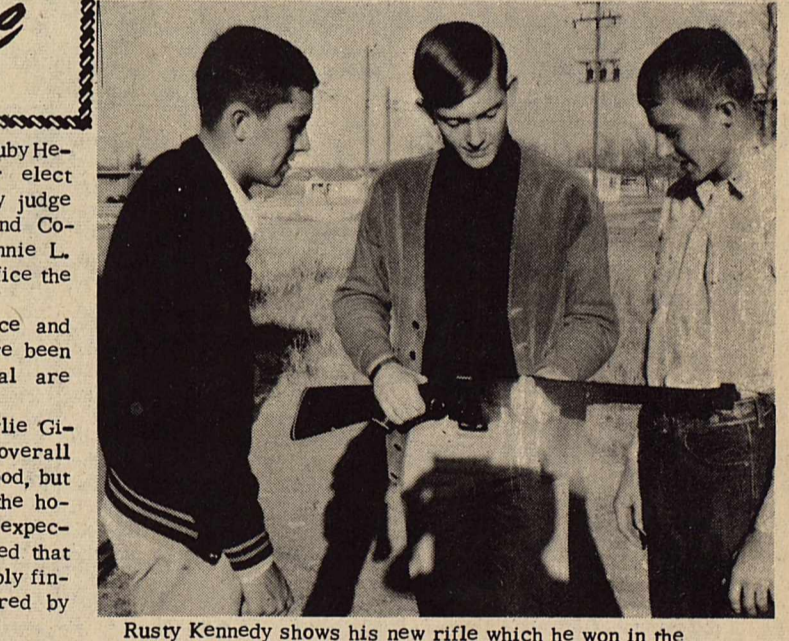

Sen. Owens assured the court that he meant no mockery in his motion since he had only taken the case recently and had only written the motion for dismissal this morning.

Judge Ledbetter warned Miss Field that she is not to harass Gene Schoenrock, who is leasing farm land from Miss Field, and who brought the action against Miss Field. The judge told her lawyer to make this clear to Miss Field.

The judge also instructed Schoenrock to cooperate in the matter.

Judge Ledbetter also said that he wanted to clear that Miss Field could not run off to El Paso to avoid appearing in his court.

Cleatus Phelan represented Gene Schoenrock in the action which was dismissed.

Rusty Kennedy shows his new rifle which he won in the football contest to Reg Trout and Morris Rushing.

Kennedy Wins Gun

Billy Kennedy, son of Mayor and Mrs. Billy Ray Kennedy of Plains, won the 30-30 deer rifle which was given away by the Plains Record this week. The free rifle was the climax of the football contest which was run in the Record.

Billy, who is called Rusty, is one of the key men on the basketball team and was an outstanding baseball pitcher in the Babe Ruth league.

The Plains High School sophomore seemed delighted in winning the Marlin 30-30 lever action saddle gun. He was a faithful player of the contest each week, and the youth expressed his appreciation to the merchants who sponsored the contest, saying it was fun to play. Rusty posed for pictures with his new rifle and admitted that he was a little shocked to be the winner of the gun. The Marlin 30-30 was purchased at White Auto in Plains. Besides the gun $10.00 in cash prizes were given each week in the contest.

Postmaster Jack Hayes was the big winner in the cash contest, having won three first places, two second, and two third places for a season total of $25.00. Other winners included Bill Green, Calvin Smith, C.A. Stewart, Bo Stephens, John Richey, Rip Sewell, Bobby Blundell, A.C. Jones, Little Bob McDonnell, Vennum Fitzgerald, Doc McCargo, Marcene Phillips, Colis Massey, Jess Baldwin, and Charles Didway, editor of the Post paper who played by mail each week.

Hawkins In Viet Nam

Airman Hawkins, a 1963 graduate of Plains High School, is an aircraft electrician. He attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

His wife, Kayla, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark of Plains, Texas.

Butch Hawkins was home on leave before shipping out for Viet Nam. His father owns Hawkins Food Store in Plains.

EVEN SANTA HAS HEADACHES

From a Lame Duck Congressman who didn't make it in the election last month. Dear Santa:

Come January I will be unemployed and since I have been a politician most of my life it will cause quite a hardship on me to think that the folks back home said no to another term.

I guess a chance for an easy job will be pretty slim if I go back to Hickville. So Santa I have a priority request to make of you. Please deliver a message to Lyndon saying that I can get into the poverty program and remain a part of that wonderful 'Great Society' which I have become so accustomed to living in. Dear Santa I have abided by the Golden Rule...I voted for all of the appropriations in the poverty program...and have truly done unto others as I would have them to do unto me. Yes dear Santa, I know that you have the ear of nearly everybody, and remember, I played Santa myself for a number of years and never hesitated in handing out the plums and goodies even though it was seldom at Christmas. Finally old friend, just a whisper in the ear of your know who could make my Christmas a joyous and splendid one which could have a wonderful effect on my personality for years to come.

Your obedient servant,
 C. A. Leach,
 Member of Congress

Dear Santa:

I am a local merchant and each year am overjoyed at the thought of your annual visit. You not only were good to me last year and all of the past years, but you have been considerate to my competitors likewise. For this I say thanks. We (the business men in our town) all sent you a greeting card last year and enclosed our letter asking for many many customers. Not only were you quick in delivering the order, you did it in untold numbers. There was only one small problem involved. We forgot to include the work CASH before the customer, and it was most unfortunate indeed that all but two of my customers purchased the easy pay as you go plan. Well they went alright with the goods, but payment has been slim. Even the cash customers paid by check, and one wrote it on the wrong bank (she said) and took six months to make it good. The other cash customer didn't even make an excuse and found the whole matter to be one of hilarious extremes since she said the merchandise was shelf worn and wasn't fit for a lady of her standing in the community to wear as she returned a pair of shoes which had been worn so thin that they looked like the mesh type instead of our best shear ones. She demanded her money back!

The merchants around town join me in asking you to be nice to all of these wonderful people who are our customers by sending them to Homebase Loan Company before calling on us. The other merchants stressed this request, and I was the only one who didn't want to ask this favor, because they would just take the cash and head for those out of town stores. As for me, I will take pot luck on my customers, so please have them shop at home.

B. L. Broke

Dear Santa:

It has been a whole year since I wrote to you, but I have thought of you often, and have looked forward to letting you know that I appreciate your efforts in filling my request for last year, even though I didn't know what I bargained for when I asked you to take care of me. Remember Santa...I asked you for a knight in shining armour, and waited with keen interest for him to pop the question. Everything came off as ordered and you really took care of me.

What I am really writing you about is to inquire what your policy is on refunds and exchanges...Not that I am ungrateful, because I do appreciate your answering a girls request, but George just won't

The Yule tide season approaches and Cayce has once more been appointed to receive Santa's mail. Just drop little Penelope's letter into the post office addressed to Santa in care of The Plains Record and we will print it so that the jolly old elf will be certain to see it. In fact we received some early mail this week and started our Santa column on page one which we trust will have some real messages for Santa next week.

My little brother Dick and his wife Sylvia were home over the week-end. I asked him why he didn't come Thanksgiving day and he said who wants to come to your place when they can go to the Cotton Bowl and see the Cowboys Play. I guess he does have a point at that.

Baby brother (who incidentally is bigger than yours truly and a former all state football player himself) will take his state exams in March. He and Sylvia say that they are looking forward to that time when he can work in his profession. Poor Pappa must have really raised a couple of nuts...one an editor...the other an undertaker. I told Dick not to worry because he can bury his mistakes and that is more than an editor can do. He didn't even find any humor in the statement. O well...to each his own...it takes all kinds to make a world.

I take great pride that my eldest son participates in sports of any kind. With the pride of a father watching his son in the game I watched as Mike made the prettiest field goal of the day Monday evening...yes, I said prettiest...but it was just after the half and his mind must have been still in the second quarter because after a perfect steal he poised for the throw and what do you know...it was a sunk ball and a two pointer for Morton, because it was their goal instead of ours. It was Mike's only sink of the day, but son it didn't really matter...the thing that did matter however was the fact that you were out there competing with other boys. As long as anybody tries it is what really counts. It matters little what anybody else thought because you were trying your best, and that pleased me more than you can realize.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Hidden Ears

Inside the olive of a martini, under the handle of a briefcase, behind the knob on a dashboard, within the cavity of a tooth—in all these places, electronic "bugs" have been hidden for the purpose of eavesdropping.

The startling sophistication of such devices has lent new cunning to both the spy and the counter-spy, to both the law violator and the law enforcer.

It has also raised one of the toughest legal issues of the day: should the information obtained in this manner be valid evidence in the courtroom?

Since the circumstances vary so widely, there can be no simple answer. However, certain basic principles are already pretty well established.

Thus, eavesdropping evidence is not acceptable if it was gotten by unlawfully breaking into a person's home.

In one case, police broke into the home of a suspected bookie and planted an electronic bug under a chest of drawers. Sure enough, the recordings indicated that the man was guilty.

But a court rejected this evidence, because the police had ignored the constitutional ban on unreasonable search.

Guest Editorial

Guest Editorial on Cotton Research and Promotion Program Endorsed by the Farmers Union.

Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, described the need for the Cotton Research and Promotion Program in his speech at the recent convention of Texas Farmers Union in Mineral Wells.

Congressman Poage said that "of all major crops, cotton is in the deepest trouble." He pointed out that the surplus is at an all time high and that synthetics, although higher priced, have moved into the cotton markets. Today, according to the Waco Congressman, cotton supplies only a little more than one-half of our textiles because of the inroads of synthetics. "If all textiles were made of cotton, we would have no surplus at all."

While the synthetic industry finances its research and promotion at a level of $200 million annually, cotton producers are only spending $4 or $5 million.

Poage went on to say, "I think it is perfectly clear that unless we, as cotton producers, are willing to make some substantial effort to promote our own product, that we are going to continue to lose more and more markets to synthetic fibers—and I greatly fear that if farmers should show, by rejecting the referendum, that they are unwilling to finance any serious effort in behalf of their own product, that we may well lose the government help which we are getting in connection with our cotton prices."

"I am afraid that too many of our farmers overlook the fact that the average cotton producer is getting almost half of his returns in the form of government payments of one kind or the other. I am afraid that if cotton farmers were to reject this referendum, that a great majority of the Members of Congress, who come from cities, not rural areas, will throw up their hands and say that cotton isn't worth saving. On the other hand, if farmers agree in the referendum to put up the dollar a bale, they will show by their votes that they are trying to help themselves, and I believe that the Congress will continue to provide substantial assistance over a reasonable period of time. With this much involved, I feel that sound business requires that we approve the referendum on cotton research and promotion by an overwhelming vote."

By C. WILSON HARDER

The possession of a Social Security Card is not a guaranteed passport to a future of abundance and carefree living. Most workers consider deductions for Social Security to amount to money in the bank, and the greater the withholding the better, since the money will return home some day in the form of increased old age benefits.

working, children inherit none of the dead parents benefits.

A widow is limited to 82½ per cent of the deceased husband's monthly benefits if she is 62 years of age. If younger, she gets considerably less.

Do these benefit amounts appear stingy considering a worker has had Social Security deductions subtracted from his paychecks all his working life? In all cases, unless the retired worker outlives his contemporaries, Uncle Sam will pocket a substantial portion of his Social Security savings. And, unless beneficiaries meet the rigid inheritance requirements, the Government will completely appropriate the account for its own consumption.

When Social Security was introduced by the Roosevelt Administration in 1936, a tax of 1 per cent for both employee and employer was placed on the first $3,000 of earnings. In 1966, the same tax has leaped to 4.2 per cent for both on the first $6,000.

Nor will a deceased's beneficiaries receive guaranteed payment of his Social Security insurance, except under special circumstances. If a parent dies, children can receive only 75 per cent of their deceased parent's Social Security benefits if they are dependents under 18, or completely disabled. THE WINTER MENU
 What fish can you expect to catch during winter? To those who actually get out and try, the answer is, "the same species you caught last summer." While certain fish are considered prime fare on the cold weather menu, there are hardly any game fish that fall to show up in the catches of devoted winter fishermen, claim the fishing experts at Mercury Outdoors. You can run down the list of summertime favorites - pike, lake trout, muskies, walleye, perch, bass, pickerel and whatever else is legal - and suddenly realize that fishing really knows no season. The big difference is in the method used and in the fish themselves. Techniques and equipment used in ice fishing bear little kinship with those employed during fairer weather, except for the hook. Artificial lures take a back seat to natural, baits, and elaborate decoy setups lure the quarry into range. Even the controversial spear comes into play at this period of year. However, the big difference is noticed in the response of fish. Spectacular fighters under summer conditions often become quite sluggish in frigid

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery Stops Itch-Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain - without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all - results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "It's like a magic" "It's a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) - discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in a proprietary or patented form called Preparation H®. At all drug waters. Bass, in particular, exist in such a state of semi-hibernation that they are reluctant to seize the bait. Pike, on the other hand, manage to retain a lively appetite. In many regions, winter fishing holds special charms that are unavailable at any other time. West Coast anglers eagerly await the biting cold and driving rains that herald the arrival of steelhead. Eastern fishermen get ready to load up on tasty smelt. Where whitefish prevail, home smoke-houses start smoking. Winter is hardly a time to stop fishing, claim the Mercury lads. In fact, there are a lot of folks throughout the land who sincerely feel it's the time to start.

Editorial

By Harry Cayce

Since Odus Walser left Plains the junior High has not had a full time principal, because D. N. Taylor is having to act as both junior High and High School principal. The move to eliminate the office was an economy measure, but sometimes other things are more important than economics. We believe in this instance that it is more important that a principal be hired as quickly as possible by our board of Trustees.

When our twelve year olds are put in the same classrooms with teenagers approaching 18 years old some pretty nasty things can cause a bad situation at the best.

Our board members should realize no matter how efficient a school administrator may be, that he can become bogged down with entirely to many places and to many students to handle. We believe our principal is both efficient and is a good administrator; however we do not think he or anybody else could begin to cope with some of the problems which are reported to have deep roots in our junior High, therefore we urge the board of education without delay to hire another principal for our school system in order that we may have a principal in both buildings at the same time.

Even under strict supervision it is a sorry situation when 18 year olds have to be in the same class with 12 year old boys and girls. The situation is not just cafe talk, because we are dealing with the community's most precious asset, our children. Perhaps nothing serious would happen for a number of years, but then with lightning speed one of our daughters could become a victim of a serious sex crime. We can all afford to run the risk! If money is the problem, then let us find a way to raise the money in order that our children can be given what is due them.

Sooner or later, that day comes, the day when a woman feels she's changing. It's not a good feeling either. And she could use a good old-fashioned medicine then.

Could be you feel a little edgy, or maybe cross. You might even have what we call hot flashes and feel sad and slightly off-balance.

Whatever you feel, we have something for the day you need a little comforting. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. They're made with gentle, natural ingredients that work to give you a better sense of well-being.

With an old-fashioned problem like this, couldn't you take an old-fashioned medicine?

Senior class girls in the high school here will be among more than 500,000 throughout the nation who will sit in classrooms Tuesday, December 6, to take a written knowledge and attitude test dealing with homemaking.

One of these may go on to earn a $5,000 college scholarship from $110,000 in scholarships available. National runners-up will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively. State winners will be awarded $1,500 grants with $500 awards going to state runners-up. Their schools will be presented sets of Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. Local winners will be presented specially designed silver charms and will have their test papers entered in state competition.

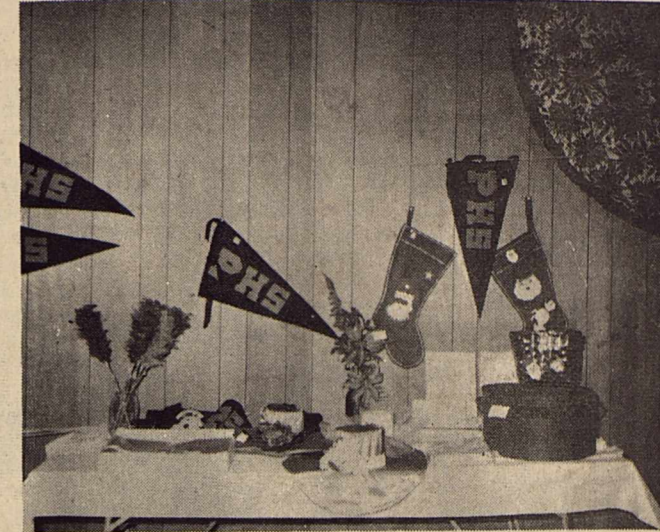

The girls here are among those in approximately 15,000 public, private and parochial schools which are participating in the 1967 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. The program is sponsored by General Mills, Inc.

Next spring, State Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow, each accompanied by a school advisor, will be guests on an expense paid educational tour of historical shrines in Washington, D.C. and Colonial Williamsburg. The trip will culminate with a dinner at which the 1967 Better Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and her runners-up will be announced.

Judging for national honors is on the basis of the original test scores plus personal observation and interviews during the tour. The program is the only national scholarship competition exclusively for high school senior girls.

General Mills, Inc., launched the program in 1954 to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. The Betty Crocker Search is on the approved list of national contests and activities of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. Science Research Associates, Chicago, prepares the test and also has charge of scoring and judging.

Wax Program Given To Dirt Gardeners

Candlelight is symbolic of many pagan and Christian Customs. Among them is Jesus the Light of the World and the Creation when God said 'Let there be light . . .'. Mrs. Roger Harvey told the Plains Dirt Gardeners Garden Club at the November regular monthly meeting held in the Clubroom of the Courthouse. Displaying many candles she had created that were used in various ways, she gave an interesting and informative demonstration on the procedures to be used. Stressing safety precautions she urged the group to:

Use extreme caution at all times.

Melt wax in double boiler, NEVER over direct flame as wax is almost as highly volatile as gasoline and catches fire very easily. Don't splash water into hot wax. Do not heat wax above 150 degrees. Never pour melted wax down drain, unless you would like a completely clogged pipe. Cover all areas with newspaper for quick and thorough clean up.

Members answered roll call with 'A native treasure for which I am most thankful'. One especially interesting was 'I am most thankful for West Texas sandstorms, because if we did not have them our wonderful climate would draw so many well-to-do people there would be no room for people like me.'

The Texas State Lighthouse for the Blind Christmas wrapping paper and ribbon was on display for members to purchase and sell to anyone desiring distinctive wrappings of good taste.

Announcement was made that the Cemetery entrance plantings was completed and the bill of $306.50 was above the $247.00 realized from the 1965 'Operation Christmas Card' project. Plans were completed to sponsor this again for improvement of the Cemetery.

A committee was appointed to select a place for the white fluff Christmas tree owned by the Club.

Hostesses Esther Chesshir and Mrs. Bill Overton served cookies, dips, sandwich crackers, coffee and cokes from an attractively decorated table.

Well it was back to the 'ol Grind' for everyone at school Monday. All hated to see the holiday come to an end. The kids are all anxious for our next holiday.

The band students are all excited about their banquet, which is Friday, December 2. They have all been looking forward to it. I'm sure it will prove to be quite a treat. The band really deserves the best for they have really worked hard. Let's bring home Sweepstakes kids.

The stage band is underway. It was started this week. I'm sure it will prove to be very successful.

Also in the plans of P. H. S. there is to be a football banquet, December 13. The boys have worked hard and really deserve it.

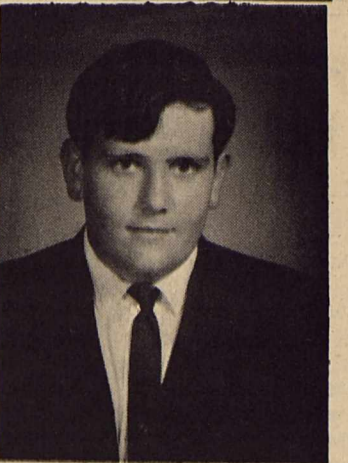

The students have all made the same old 'new resolutions about their grades. We wonder if these resolutions will work out better than those of last six weeks. We all hope so.

Basketball is underway. The boys are all busy after school working out. I'm sure everyone is behind them all the way. Cowboys are no. 'I'.

By the way, 'Has anyone seen our guy?'

It seems to me that people always have an excuse for things but never reasons. Here are just a very few that are commonly used in High School.

1. We've always done it that way.
2. That's what I thought you wanted.
3. How was I to know?
4. That's what I was told to do.
5. I thought someone else had done it.
6. Nobody told me.
7. I'm not a mind reader.
8. I've done it that way for years.
9. I didn't have time to do it.
10. That's the way we did it in review.
11. I wasn't there then.
12. I'm sorry.

I hope none of my readers are guilty of these excuses. Let's try to quit using excuses and start using reason.

Protect Your Land

Cotton harvest is about over and to some land owners and operators that sometimes means it is time to start plowing. We are not totally against plowing, however we just don't think plowing just for the sake of plowing or to keep a hand busy is always good business or conservation.

Actual results here in Yoakum District have shown in the last six years that plowing can cause soil to blow, lose moisture and cost money that otherwise could have been saved. What are the reasons for plowing? To supplement the residue with clods, bring clay to the surface, loosen a hard pan or break a plow sole. If you have a need for one of the above then you need to do some kind of plowing. If not then why plow? In some areas the soil needs to be plowed to let air enter but this is where there is a lot of rain fall and the soil is much heavier than our sandy soil.

There was a time when a farmer was thought to be a real farmer if he had all his land plowed by January 1st each year. Now many believe he is in real trouble if he has destroyed all his residue and must depend totally on clods to keep his soil from blowing.

Would you believe that as much as 1 1/2 inches of moisture and 8 to 30 tons of soil can be held per acre with crop residue management. The moisture alone could mean the difference in being able to plant and get a stand or waiting late for a rain.

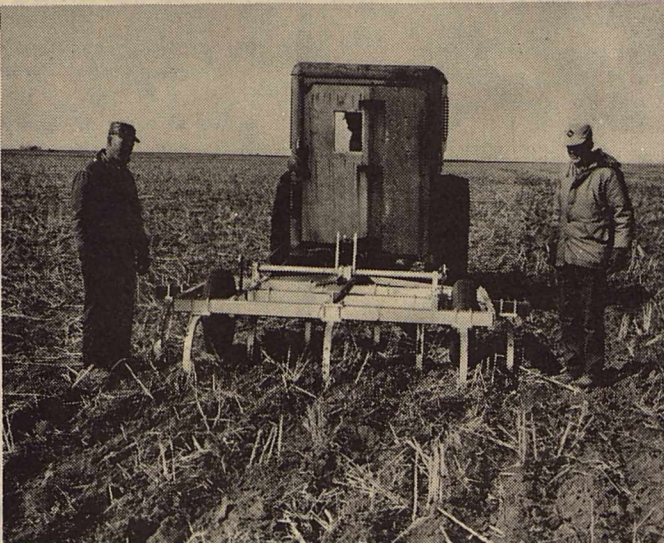

There are any number of good conservation farmers such as R.M. Jones, Lee Roy McCravy, Truitt Jones, Dickie Green, Emmitt Campbell and Bobby Chambliss and others, who regularly use their crop residue to save both moisture and soil for the next crop and the years to come.

Joe Crump, Jack Crothers, Donald Bookout and L.E. Pruitt, all have cover crops of small grain that are needing a rain but are making growth that will help hold our soil next spring.

New plan maps were ordered for the Grady Terrill and Bob Loe farms. These are to be new conservation plans. The land was formally owned by Grady Perree and operated by Bob Loe. Also 160 acres owned and operated by T.J. and A.O. Bearden located 4 1/2 miles east of Plains.

M. E. Welch and hand are shown looking at chisel plowing at 45° angle on cotton stalk land to control wind erosion, and conserve moisture and soil.

J. C. Chambliss and Bobby Chambliss show a good example of Chisel Plowing.

Fun and Flavor

Nothing Like a Christmas Taffy Pull

Let the children share the joy of helping to prepare holiday goodies and at the same time experience the delights of an old-fashioned candy pull. Sorghum is the ingredient that gives the old-fashioned taffy taste to this Christmas treat of long ago. A favorite of Grandmother's day, sorghum's tantalizing taste is new to many modern-day cooks. A pure golden syrup that is milder than molasses, its flavor blends companionably with that of other ingredients to give a mellow richness to cookies, cakes, candies and puddings.

Try Old-Fashioned Sorghum Candy soon, and hang on to the recipe. It isn't often that you find candy that tastes this good that is so much fun to make and so inexpensive, too.

Old-Fashioned Sorghum Candy

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup Waconia Sorghum
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

Mix sugar, cornstarch, and salt in medium sized saucepan; add Waconia Sorghum, water and butter; heat slowly, stirring until sugar is dissolved, then bring slowly to a boil and cook to hard ball stage, 260°. Remove from heat; add vanilla; pour onto buttered platter. Lightly butter hands and pull as soon as the candy can be handled. Pull until it becomes light in color; twist; cut into pieces and wrap individually.

Confidence

There's a strong relationship between confidence and trust. And, confidence has a way of growing with each new experience. In the world of business, the reputation of an established company is built upon continually satisfying performances. Consumers, on the basis of personal experience, have confidence in the quality of a brand name. And in the reliability of a Company name.

Farmers Union Endorses Referendum

The Yoakum County Farmers Union met November 28th for their monthly meeting. Carl Lowrey, President, called the meeting to order. There were 22 members and 1 guest, Mr. Bill Overton, present.

The Farmers Union decided to give $25.00 to Girls Town to help buy food for their Christmas.

The group will not have a regular meeting in December. The next regular meeting will be January 23, 1967.

A membership drive was planned for December 12. Starting with a breakfast at Alma's at 8:00 a. m. All members are asked to take part in this drive. Carl Lowrey gave a short report on the State Convention.

The program was turned over to Mr. H. W. Taunton, who gave an interesting talk on Cotton Research and Promotion. Mr. Taunton said if the cotton farmer wasn't willing to help themselves that they might lose their cotton. Cotton farmers should vote for the Cotton Referendum. Synthesis is taking the place of cotton more all the time. There should be more research and advertising done with cotton.

 "From The Kitchen Of . . ."

Gifts that you make in your own kitchen are unique and can't be duplicated. If you like to cook remember that cookies, cakes, candy or some special festive dish are always welcome for taste as well as thought. If you'd like to give more than your chef's creation, present the food gift in a container that can be used again for something else. For example, cookies in a stainless steel mixing bowl, or a set of three bowls with different cookies in each. These bowls, which are good looking, but not expensive, are versatile enough to serve, not only for mixing, but to hold fruits, flower arrangements and even as refrigerator storage containers. Some of the bowls have rings on them for easy wall hanging to save valuable storage space. Canisters are always a welcome gift and no matter what the kitchen decor, stainless steel food canisters will fit in. Fill a canister or two with the cookies or candies you've made for an added surprise.
 Present your candy or cake on a stainless steel serving plate. Cover candy with plastic wrap so that both goodies and plate are visible. Gifts of stainless have an heirloom look and require only soap and water care and never a dab of polish.
