home in Plains this week, as eight confirmed cases of the disease were reported with two other suspected cases at press time. Reaching almost epidemic stages, state and county health officials were seeking the source of the disease. School was dismissed at noon Monday, and Mr. Kennedy, superintendent of schools, had ordered drinking water facilities at the school secured with bottled water brought to the campus buildings for consumption by students and teachers. The Plas school administrator said that he has ordered rest rooms water fountains to be disinfected. This was done as a prutionalry measure. The source of the virus remained unknown at press time.

All cases which have been confirmed have been school age children. Quarintines were in effect where other school age children were in the families stricken.

Health officials were disturbed to find cess pools in Plains which created a health hazzard. They were also concerned about the need of a means to purify drinking water used by the school children of Plains. The school and the county are not on the City system, which is purified. Samples were taken of water sources to determine if the cause could have come from the wa-

The South Plains Health Department distributes a pamplet published by the Texas State Department of Public Health which tells how Infectious Hepatitis spreads. The publication says:

'Since the virus can be found in body wastes of infected persons, it is probably most often spread through the infected body waste productsby direct contact with the patient, and sometimes by soiled fingers, objects, or by food and water contaminated with the virus from infected human feces. However, the virus can also be found in the blood of a patient during the acute stage, so infected blood or obects soiled by infected blood may also be important in spreading the disease from per-

3. Tenderness over the liver or 'heaviness' in the abdomen. Washed-out feeling, like flu or grippe.

5. Yellow (jaundiced) appearance of whites of eyes or skin. (Remember, children with hepatitis usually do not become (aundiced.)

crowded into Dr. Greenfield's clinic in Denver City and were standing in line on the sidewalk out to the street Saturday in order to receive shots of Gamma Globulin to help prevent the jaundice from striking in their homes. Twice on Saturday the supply of Gamma Globulin was expended and residents returned to Denver City on Sunday and Monday to get the shots. The serium will not prevent aperson from taking Infectious Hepatitis, but it will cause the case to be mildre. Hundreds of Plains children and adults had taken the shots at press time. It was estimated that virtually every resident of Plains had been exposed to the disease, and that the eight cases reported had not contacted the disease from each other, therefore authorities were speculating where the source might be.

Health authorities estimated that a number of cases could develope in the next few days due to exposure of most ortant. The publication lists of the children to known cases.

Killed

Special From Denver City Press: Two men were killed and two others were hospitalized last Thursday afternoon as the result of an oil field gassing accident on the Humble Wooten Lease about a half-mile north of Denver Ci-

Dead are. Alton Hunt, 36, and Johnny Mendoze, 21, employees of Two States Service Co. of Hobbs, New Mexico. Hospitalized for treatment of acid burns and effects of gassing was Loyd Vulgamore, jr., 25, of Hobbs, also a Two States employee. Hospitalized for treatment of reportedly soaring blood pressure resulting from his efforts and exertion in attempting to rescue the two victims was Henry Trigg, 55, of Hobbs, a supervisor for Rice Engineering Company. Hunt, Mendoza and Vulgamore were working at a "junction box" on the Humble Wooten lease. Vulgamore drove up to the junction box at about 12:00pm Thursday to find his co-workers collapsed in the four-foot deep hole which contains a juncture of salt water disposal pipes.

The crew had been acidizing a salt water disposal line for Rice Engineering.

Vulgamore immediately radioed for assistance and an ambulance. He, then, raced from his vehicle and jumped into the junction box in an effort to save his co-workers.

The rescuer suffered acid burns about his ankles as he stood in ankle-deep acid-andwater during his rescue attempts.

Vulgamore pulled the two unconsious men almost upright and leaned onto the side of the junction box, holding a man under each arm. It was in this position that Trigg and another man with him found the three Two States men.

Trigg and the man with him pulled the three from the junction box.

conds remaining on the clock, Singleton Funeral Home manager Sam Eudy arrived at the scene in his ambulance and the three Two States men were taken to Yoakum County ing over, as Lewie Bradshaw Hospital where Hunt and Mendoza were pronounced dead on arrival.

Ironically, it was Mendoza's first day on the job. He only recently had moved to Hobbs from Fort Davis. Fellow workers of the Two States men speculated that one or the other of the two victims entered the junction box and collapsed from gas fumes and that the second man was overcome trying to save the first. Funeral arrangements for Mendoza were with the Kelly Funeral Home in Marfa.

Funeral services for Hunt were held at 4 p.m. Saturday at Griffin Funeral Chapel in Hobbs. Burial was in Prairie Haven Cemetery in Hobbs.

Trigg was released from Yoakum County Hospital later Thursday. Vulgamore was released Friday morning.

Teenie Lowe is pictured practicing kicking the field goal, which could be a major weapon Friday.

Dedicates Dorm Memory Of Donnie

In solumn ceremonies recently conducted at the New Waverly job Corps Center in Texas, United States Secretary of Agriculture, Orville Freeman dedicated a dormitory in the memory of Donnie Morris grandson of Mrs. J. H. Mo-rris of Plains, who was killed in action last summer in Viet Nam, while serving his country. Donnie was also the nephew of Mrs. Mabel Camp of Plains.

rl Lowrey Wins Election

According to W. M. Overton, local ASCS office manager, Yoakum county farmers elected Carl Lowrey to serve on the Local ASC Committee board for the next three years.

Mr. Lowrey farms in the east part of the county and will serve with J. B. Ashburn and r. g. hartman who are holdovers from prior elections. . Mr. Ashburn's term expires at the end of the 1968 program year and Mr. Hartman's term expires at the end of the 1969 program year.

Mr. Lowrey replaces T. A.

Plains Talk By Harry W. Cayce

The first quarter of the 20th century is filled with accounts of moving county seats in the mid of night, and at least one state capitol was moved, when Oklahoma City snitched the great seal and records from Guthrie. Plains and Yoakum County didn't bother to move the county seat, but they out did their competitors in a brazen and daring deed which just isn't talked about vet in some quarters. Impending scandal loomed in Yoakum County, as an outside audit was to be staged at the courthouse.

It seems that most of the county officials had repaired to the state line at a place called the Log Cabin for meals and refreshments. While the officials, some who had been defeated for re-election, and were lame duck county officers, were at the tayern in New Mexico, a fire broke out in the courthouse which burned the courthouse to the ground, along with all of the records. We are not implying arson, but be your own sudge in the matter. A controversial legal hasslement went on for months over the fire, but alas, all officials who could be suspect were away at the Log Cabin Tavern with a sound alibi. Only a few records in the clerks office were saved. None in the departments in question escaped the blaze. Just the mention of an outside audit still makes some county officials squirm, so I guess we are much like our forefathers yet.

Another interesting story of this era comes from prohibition days. It seems that law officers would despertly pursue bootleggers to the state line in sometimes frantic chases, only to have the bootleggers speed over the line into New Mexico. Some bootleggers, after gaining sanctuary in New Mexico, would brake to a stop, and get out of their cars and wave at the local sheriff and his deputies. From the report that We get, the pursuits could be compared to the Keystone Cop silent movies. From what I can gather, the bootleggers had quite a few customers in Plains, and at least a few people were on the cheering side of the chased, rather than the chasers. Yoakum County still hasn't changed in that respect, because prohibition is still in effect, and at least once every two or three months Sheriff Heath decends on the Flats in Denver City and nabs several citizens who make their living selling; illegal booze. In fact, I doubt that the teen agers who swill the booze today get it at legal spots across the line. It aint moonshine thats sold in Yoakum County today, because all of the booze confiscated by the sheriff says its bottled in bond. The only thing missing today is the wild chases in the cars to the state line. The bootleggers pay their fines, and are back in business before a cat can blink his eye. Thats life wherever there is prohibition.

In earlier days in the county, some of the bootleggers were barnstormers, who flew their jenny into a cow pasture unloaded the contraband. I guess un-employed pilots after the World War needed work, and just flew anything anywhere. A S C S Those were pioneer days for aviation, so we shouldn't be too hard on the boys. I have read where more than a wagon or two took fire water to the Indians. Rum running has always been popular with some people. At least we get the fines in the county today. Some pay regularly.

CORNER

Plains people almost pushed the panic button this week concerning the epidemic of Infectious Hepatitis which has beseiged the little community. I counted 72 people in line at one time last Saturday who were at the office of Dr. Keller Greenfield in Denver City waiting for a shot of Gamma Globulin. It really wasn't a humorous sight, but one little incident happened which is worth reporting in this column. Dick McGinty was one of the first people there. He seemed to be celebrating old home week. He enjoyed his visits so much with everybody who came along, that he forgot to register with the nurse. Of course Dick and Alton Earl were the last two names called and there was only one shot left. Alton got it, and Dick came home without having received his shot. I don't know what this proves, unless it could be that sometimes it is better to be seen and not heard. What about it Dick? How fast does a rummor spread, and by What extent does it grow? I can't really say, but I do know that sometimes the speed of sound would be overtaken by those who repeat something they have listened to with sealed lips over a back yard fence, or while drinking a cup of coffee. Several of my friends were having coffee Monday at a popular spot when I cassually recalled that my daughter Paris had come home from school last week not feeling up to par. Within 20 minutes after getting back to the office, I had a host of telephone calls asking how Paris was getting along, and inquiring when she would be discharged from the hospital. I tried to reassure one lady that Paris was in school, and that she probably tricked her teacher into getting to come home. I really doubt that I convinced the lady making inquiries about child Paris's state of health. From the sound of some of the rummors, Which have circulated in Plains, Mr. Barrett should be doing a booming bu-

Astronaut Walter M. Schirra, Ir. Captain (U S N), of Houston, the newly appointed 1968 Texas Crusade Chairman for the American Cancer Society, will address delegates at the Twenty-First Division Annual Meeting of the Socitey, October 11-12 at the Rice Hotel, Houston.

Unfortunately, none of the Yoakum County unit members are able to attend this meeting in Houston.

Our regular monthly County unit meeting will be cancelled for October due to the fact that our District Director, Mr. Bill White of Midland will be attending the Houston meeting.

The next session will be held November 14th in the Yoakum County Clubroom in Plains, Texas.

In the September meeting a certificate to operate as a unit for the ACS was received by the county unit. Members attending were: Mrs. P. W. St. Romain, Mrs. Harold burton, Mrs. Cecil Bickley, and Mrs. Ed Hunter.

Another mother is alledged to have sent her daughter to school with a jar of water. Of course the story has it that the jar was dropped in the hall and glass and water went in a tidal wave over the floor.

I personally saw a prosperous merchant getting his bank deposit ready, and he was wearing gloves to count his money. Cross my heart, this couldn't be rummor.

Another rummor has it that Banker Bill told a farmer who had a past due note to come in next month when the epidemic ended, and that no interest would even be added.

needs and aims.

Mrs. Seay stressed that the Democratic way of life and the maintainence of our conception of morals has to be protected and nurtured in our homes. With the Supreme Court ruling on What constitutes obscenity, there is no legal way to prevent this kind of literature and other material from being circulated.

Two of the major Federated club sponsored projects have been completed. The Cultural Resourses Survey for the State of Texas with more than 550 towns and every county in the state being reached in the comprehensive survey. This far exceeded the hopes of the Texas Fine Arts Commission and resulted in its establishment as a permanent organization. Also concluded was the successful campaign for the passage of Traffic Safety Legislation.

One excellent project voted by the Executi ve Committee and District Presidents for 1967-68 is to place historical markes to outstanding women.

This is a joint project with the Texas Historical Society Committee and can honor a woman in many categories. The goal is one marker per county. The goal is high. but Mrs. Seay reminded us that "the essentials of life are: some task to do, someone to love, and something to hope for."

Mrs. Seay told of the plans for the International Friendship Garden and Pavilion to be built between Brownsville and Matamoros, Mexico. A grant of $125,000.00 has been made from the state. Hopes for same federal grant is held and the balance to be raised by club women by August, 1968.

Although pleased with progress made and grateful to the people who have made it possible, the theme of her message left little doubt that we can be complacent and

Members of the Yoakum County Cotton Club have scheduled a "Sew It With Cotton" contest to be held in the Plains School Cafeteria at 3:00 PM November 18.

Horace McQueen, farm news director of Lubbosk's KLBK television station, will be guest speaker. Prizes will be awarded in each division and entertainment will be provided by Yoakum County 4-H mem-

General rules of the contest include: models must be five years of age or older; all materials must be of 100% domestic cotton ( not imported); rhinestones, sequins, etc., will be accepted as trimming; no bonded cotton allowed ...100% cotton lining must be used; inner linings and inner facings do need to be all cotton; appropriate accressories may be used; items of entry must be made especially for this contest; and one may enter more than one division.

The five divisions include (1) juniors, ages 12 to 18 years, dress up dress; (2) juniors, ages 12 to 18 years of age, school dress; (3) adult, dress up dress; (4) adult, casual or school dress made by an adult and modeled by someone else; (5) adult, tailored garments such as suits and coats.

The contest is limited to members of the Yoakum County club. All women of the area who are interested in the promotion of cotton may become a member whether they live in Yoakum County or not When a club is organized in their home county, they may transfer membership if they wish. #### Let's Cook Peanut Butter

By Sudie M. Thompson Home Demonstration Agent

Men have dug into the depths of the earth and soared into the realms of outer space - and all in search of energy. Energy can be yours by merely lifting the lid off a jar of peanut butter. Does this sound fantastic? Well, it's true. Peanut butter is a quick. whilesome source of unharnessed energy. Once you get a taste of this creamy delicacy, you will find yourself craving more and more of this protein-rich food. Take time out to acquaint yourself with peanut butter.

Children are already familiar with the newer crunchy styles. This warehouse of energy is as much a part of a child's life as playing cowboys and Indians. Make sure that you have plenty on hand for him to crunch. Don't limit peanut butter to sandwich combinations. It's spreadability has a hankering to spread to desserts and even to main when peanut butter is used. Here's how you prepare PEANUT BUTTER TURKEY STUFFING.

Turkey stuffings are chocked full of crunchy surprises

You will need: 3 1/2 quarts day-old bread cubes

c. finely chopped onion tbsp. salt

1/4 tspn. pepper chopped giblets 2-1/2 c. milk

1 c. crunchy peanut butter 1/2 c. raisins

Combine bread cubes, onion, salt, pepper and giblets in a large bowl. In a sauce pan, heat the milk, peanut butter and raisins, stirring constantly until the peanut butter is soft. Pour peanut butter mixture over the bread and toss lightly with a fork. Stuff turkey or other fowl lightly, taking care not to pack stuffing too tightly. This yields stuffing for a 12 to 16 lb. turkey.

WHERE IN THE W

will our school students to build careers for themselves?

WHAT PART CAN YOU PLAY IN ANSWERING THIS QUESTION?

Right now it's back-to-school for the book-toters of our town. Before you know it, they'll be graduating! Many will go on to higher learning. Ultimately all of them will have a decision to make, as to WHERE they can best build their careers.

You have a definite stake in the future of these young people. Your taxes help pay for their education. The more of them who stay HERE to contribute to the progress of THIS community, the better for all of us!

It takes a GROWING community to provide adequate scope for the rightful ambitions of young people. What can YOU do about this? One very important thing: You can spend MORE of your shopping dollars at home, where they will stimulate local trade and business, spark expansion, help create more employment opportunities, help maintain first class schools and other civic services that will attract new residents and new industries. You help our young people, our town, and YOURSELF, when you . . .
