THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1968, NUMBER 1

BANK ASSETS REACH $4,000,000

BEFORE 11TH YEAR

TOTAL ASSETS of the Plains State Bank exceeded $4,000,000 at the close of the business year Friday, December 29, 1967. Assets on this date reached $4,034,895.07 compared to $3,312,066.54 one year ago. Bank deposits also showed good gains during 1967; the bank closed out 1967 with $3,626,592.75 on deposit, compared to $2,931,438.62 at the close of business in 1966. This is a phenomenal growth since the bank has only been open since 1957. We don't know of many towns in the state that have come anywhere near these figures in this short a time. We believe that the bank plays a big part in the growth of our area, and we hope that they will continue to grow and prosper. A special tribute is due the officers and directors of the bank. They are: B. E. Loyd, President; Lee F. York, inactive V. President; Venum Fitzgerald, Cashier. Directors are: A. B. Carpenter, Glenn Cleveland, Roy Fitzgerald, B. E. Loyd, John J. Kindrick and Lee F. York.

Still At Large

A wide-spread search is still underway today for Joe Audon Gutierrez. Gutierrez escaped Christmas night along with four other men who were inmates in the Brownfield jail. The others have all been returned to custody. This fugitive is reported to be armed and dangerous. He is a defendant in cases alleging robbery by assault, burglary and assault with intent to murder.

Beardens In Auto Accident

Two Plains residents were injured about 4:30 p. m., Wednesday, December 27, as four other passengers in the car narrowly escaped serious injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Blackie Beardens, Plains were both injured when their car careened out of control on icy pavement near the city of Opelousas, Louisiana. The car struck a concrete column supporting an overpass on the cloverleaf outside of town. Mr. Blackie Beardens suffered several fractured ribs and possible internal injuries, while his wife sustained a broken wrist. A. C. Beardens, a brother, survived a compound fracture of the arm, a dislocated hip, and severe lacerations. His wife and their two daughters, Charlotte and Nikki, were admitted to the hospital overnight for observation and treatment of bruises and lacerations. The automobile is counted a total loss to the Beardens. They are reported to be improving and should be able to come home soon. As soon as they are released from the hospital in Opelousas, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lowrey, his sister, are going after them. Meanwhile, Mr. A. C. Beardens will be transferred to a hospital in Ft. Worth. The families were on their way to visit the Beardens' sister, Mrs. G. L. Goodman of New Orleans.

ASCS 1968 Program Sign-Up

Sign-up for participating in the 1968 feed grain, wheat and cotton programs will take place concurrently from February 5, 1968, through March 15, 1968. Feed Grain producers participating in the program must divert up to 50%, if they so desire. To participate in the cotton program farmers must divert a minimum of 5% of their effective allotment and may divert up to 35%. A cotton participation data sheet has been prepared for each cotton farm showing the program payments on a 5% and 35% diversion. Farmers may pick these up at the ASCS office if they would like to have one.

payments on small farms (of which we have a few) are figured differently from the large farms and this will be shown on the payment sheets that are available in the county office. Skip Row Patterns: Although the skip row rules for cotton for 1968 have been changed, the skip row rules for all other row crops, including feed grains, have remained unchanged. Cotton planted 2 in and 2 out will be considered 50% cotton, while feed grains planted 2 in and 2 out will be counted as 65% feed grains. For rows in skip row patterns to be counted as diversions (Cont'd. on p. 4)

Mrs. Hudson Dies at 77 On Trip

Mrs. Viola Hudson, about 75, passed away en route to a hospital in Saginaw at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday night. She was visiting a niece at Saginaw and she suffered an apparent heart attack. The widow of the late John Hudson, she had been a resident of Seagraves since 1918, from Plains.

Funeral services are pending at Webb Funeral home in Seagraves. Arrangements were incomplete at press time. Mrs. Hudson was widely known in Gaines and Yokum Counties, as was her late husband. No further information about Mrs. Hudson's illness could be obtained at press time. Mrs. Hudson was an active member in the Church of Christ. Survivors are two sons, J. T. of Hobbs, N. M., and Wendell of Lansing, Mich.; two brothers, Paul Kincaid of Swink, Colo. and Alvin Kincaid of Cisco, three sisters, Tennie Benton of Calif., Hattie Whitaker of Coleman, and Thelma Stewardson of San Saba, eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

New Year's Traffic Toll Below Estimates

The New Year holiday weekend traffic death toll fell below that for a nonholiday weekend and below advance estimates. A National Safety Council spokesman gave credit today for the improvement to bad weather and good driving. The death toll reached 372, compared with 484 on a nonholiday weekend of identical length. The count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday. The safety council had predicted from 460 to 540 persons would die in traffic accidents over the 78-hour period. "There is nothing immutable about the death rate," a spokesman for the council said. "We don't have to just accept it." "The major reason we believe is that the behavior of drivers must have changed," the spokesman said. "How it changed, we don't know." "Weather certainly was a consideration, too," he said. Record-breaking cold and heavy snow in some sections apparently kept some persons at home. During the final hours of the weekend a car-truck crash in Chicago claimed four lives and injured five others. Earlier, three persons were killed and eight injured when a station wagon carrying members of a Dallas, Tex., family and another auto collided northeast of El Dorado, Kan. The death toll was below that of a nonholiday period of equal length. For a comparison, The Associated Press counted traffic deaths for the period from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 15, to midnight Monday, Dec. 18. There were 484 deaths. The traffic death toll during the last three-day New Year holiday was 469. The highest toll for any New Year period was 564, compiled during a three-day celebration at the start of 1966. The lowest total for a three-day New Year observance since World War II was 269 in 1949.

Would-Be Bank Robber Sent To Springer

A would-be bank robber was committed to Springer Boys School today by District and Juvenile Judge Kermit Nash. Rejto Vlasana, 14, was ordered to Springer after his mother waived appearance before the court today. His sister Kathie Maruffo, 15, was also committed to the Girls' Welfare Home in Albuquerque. She is married and has a 6-month-old child. Both will remain wards of the court until they are 21. Both young people were given the sentences following breaking and entering at the Lovington National Bank, the post office, a service station, and Office Supply, over the Christmas holidays. Vlasana was captured inside the bank and later admitted the other thefts. His sister was involved in the post office pilfering.

Banquet To Be Held

A banquet for all young families who have been doing business, presently or recently, with the 19th Congressional District has been planned. The banquet will be in the Old Gym, South Plains College, Levelland, Tex. January 5, 1968 starting at 6:30 p. m. Congressman George Mahon will be the principal speaker with a question and answer period following his speech. Mr. Howard Bertsch, Farmers Home Administration Administrator, Washington, D. C. and Mr. L. J. Cappelman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, State of Texas, will also be in attendance at this meeting. It is anticipated that Yokum County will be well represented by the ticket sales now made.

TRAIN UNION SKIT

"Who Cares, Anyway?", a drama by Dorothy Russell Muphree, will be presented at 7:00 p. m., January 7, at the First Baptist Church. This is our special Training Union program for the month of January. The skit will be a pantomime with sound, under the direction of Sue Parker, High School English teacher. The scenes, music and the narration will challenge you to do your best for your fellow-man in 1968. The public is invited to attend this drama, which will be followed by a brief message from our pastor.

AT TIMES SUBLIME, AT TIMES RIDICULOUS

'Twas a Memorable Year in Sports

NEW YORK — The ridiculous intruded on the sublime to a jarring degree in the sports world to bring enlivening elements of uncertainty to the rich drama of a memorable year. The height—or depth—of absurdity was reached when the United States was eliminated from Davis Cup play by tiny Ecuador. It was not the only strain on credibility. The Boston Red Sox, 100-to-1 shots in the winter book, won the American League pennant while the World Series foes of the previous season, the Orioles and Dodgers, plummeted to the second division. Jack Nicklaus, ousted from the Masters in April, bounced back to win the Open before setting a record in earnings. Cassius Clay twice defended his heavyweight title but lost everything when he refused to accept induction into the Army. Damascus, later horse of the year, met with rare defeat in the Kentucky Derby because the huge crowd gave him stage fright. Things were not too orderly. But let's look at them in more detail. JANUARY — The Green Bay Packers squeak past the Dallas Cowboys, 34-27, to win the National Football League championship while the Kansas City Chiefs massacre the Buffalo Bills, 31-7, for the American League crown. . . . The winners meet in the first Super Bowl extravaganza and the Packers dismantle the Chiefs, 35-10. . . . Emile Griffith retains his middleweight title against Joey Archer. FEBRUARY — Cassius Clay has no trouble in defending against Ernie Terrell before a record indoor crowd of 37,321 in the Houston Astrodome. . . . hot dog at Westminster is a Scottish terrier, Bardene Bingo. . . . Red Ruffing is elected to baseball's Hall of Fame. . . . Mario Andretti streaks to victory in the Daytona 500. MARCH — The Flamingo is won by Reflected Glory. . . . with Lew Alcindor continuing to intimidate all opposition the unbeaten UCLA's gain the college court crown. . . . Cassius Clay knocks out Zora Folley in the 7th in what could be the last fight of Clay's career. APRIL — Horsemen go on strike at Aqueduct and not even the horses dare race past the picket line. . . . Gay Brewer edges out Bobby Nichols in the Masters as Nicklaus fails to survive the cut. . . . the pro basketball title is won by Philadelphia and hockey's Stanley Cup by Toronto. . . . Clay balks at induction into the Army and boxing commissions strip him of his title. MAY — Damascus breaks out in a cold sweat before the Kentucky Derby and Proud Clarion wins the race. . . . Damascus wins the Preakness. . . . Whitey Ford bows to the inevitable and formally retires from baseball. . . . a controversial turbine-engined car poops out and A. J. Foyt takes the Indianapolis 500. JUNE — Damascus, no longer jittery, scores an impressive victory in the Belmont. . . . with a record 275 Nicklaus captures his second U.S. Open championship. . . . Jim Ryun blasts his own world mile record, clocked in an astonishing 3:51.1. . . . Ecuador eliminates the U.S. in the American Zone final for the Davis Cup. . . . One-half of Buckpasser — which half was not specified — is sold for $2.4 million. JULY — John Newcombe and Mrs. Billie Jean King are tennis victors at Wimbledon. . . . a marathon all-star classic is settled in the 15th when Tony Perez of the Reds crashes out a homer for a 2-1 triumph by the Nationals. . . . the British Open goes to Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina. AUGUST — An elimination tournament for the vacated show in the clubroom at the old heavyweight title begins as courthouse building. Those in Thad Spencer ride the show of charge of this film showing are the 7th game. . . . Gil Hodges and Mrs. Pete St. Romain. All

Terrell and as Jimmy Ellis, erstwhile Clay sparring partner, knocks out Leotis Martin. . . . Charles O. (for owner) Finley of the Athletics petulantly fires Alvin Dark and gives away a $75,000 ball player, Ken Harrelson, for free. SEPTEMBER — As the American League pennant race tumbles into the home stretch, four teams are in a virtual tie for first place — White Sox, Red Sox, Twins and Tigers, as the order keeps changing. . . . Intrepid sails away from Dame Pattie, the Australian challenger, to retain the America's Cup in four straight. . . . Damascus beats Buckpasser by 10 lengths in the Woodward. OCTOBER — The Red Sox defeat the Twins on the final day of the season to take the pennant. . . . Heroics by Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Lonborg stretch out the World Series before the Cardinals win in the Mets. . . . Finley moves his Kansas City franchise to Oakland and the American League commits itself to expansion in 1969. NOVEMBER — Injuries continue to deflate those Super Bowl rivals, the Chiefs and Packers. . . . Kansas City drops out of contention while Green Bay hangs on by its teeth. . . . Oregon State upsets Southern California, 3-0, but the Trojans win the heralded duel with UCLA, 21-20, to take the national championship. . . . the big leagues determine to dehydrate the spit ball. DECEMBER — Jimmy Ellis eliminates Oscar Bonavena in a semi-final of the heavyweight tournament. . . . Bill Bradley unexpectedly joins the Knicks but the dawn of a new era is not immediately evident. They continue to lose. . . . the horse players begin their winter of discontent as Aqueduct finally closes. Cancer Film Shown By Iota Pi A film entitled "The Other City" will be shown to the public Monday night, January 8th at 7:30 p. m. This film will be shown in the clubroom at the old courthouse building. Those in charge of this film showing are Mr. Roy Guetersloh and Mr. and Mrs. Pete St. Romain. All women are urged to put forth every effort to try to attend this film showing and should be especially interested due to the terror of cancer. The Iota Pi will be host to the occasion and Mrs. Wilson Duke and Mrs. Billy Kennedy will serve coffee and cookies after the film.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Watch Your Coat!

Ducking out of the rain, George entered a luncheonette, hung his raincoat on a hook, and ordered a cup of coffee. By the time the coffee was gone, so was the raincoat. Could George make the management pay for his loss?

A court said no, on the ground that he could not prove any "bailment" of the coat. That is, he had not entrusted possession of the coat to the management. Questions of this kind may arise any time a customer deposits his personal belongings—temporarily—in a place of business. In case of loss, the customer is ordinarily entitled to compensation only if there was a bailment relationship with the management.

The law's logic is that if there is no transfer of possession, then in all fairness that should be no transfer of responsibility either. Coat-watching was more reasonably a job for George, who had hung the coat up, than for the management, which had not touched it.

On the other hand, if the customer delivers his garment to a checkroom and it gets lost there, he is usually in a position to demand payment. Unfortunately, it is not always easy to tell whether possession has really been transferred.

Consider the case of a woman whose fur coat was stolen from her dentist's waiting room while he was working on her teeth. Had the dentist accepted possession of the coat?

A court said yes, he had—by implication, and held him liable for the loss. The court pointed out that the dentist knew the woman had brought a coat, that there was no other place for her to put it, and that she obviously could not wear it during treatment.

What about the contents of a garment? They may or may not be included in the bailment, depending mainly on whether they are items "normally to be expected" in such a location. Thus:

A customer in a clothing store, trying on a new suit, left his old one in a poorly protected dressing room. During his absence at the mirror, his pockets were rifled of not only $41 in cash but also a valuable diamond ring.

When he sued the store, the court

STRICTLY FRESH

The hillbilly and the dude had adjoining bunks at the army post. The dude was inspecting his toilet kit. Suddenly he asked, "Did you take my toothpaste?"

"No, I didn't," replied the hillbilly. "I don't need no toothpaste. My teeth ain't loose at all."

Truck driver: "We are now passing the largest brewery in the United States."

New helper: "Why?"

Judge: "If I hear any further disturbance in this court, I shall have the person causing the disturbance thrown out of the door."

Prisoner: "Yippee, hooray whoopee!"

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Wade's son,

And a poem, written by a World War II soldier, could well be applied to the draft card burners today:
A STRIKING DREAM

Last night I had a shocking dream, that filled me with dismay.
Our fighting men had gone on strike, demanding higher pay.

They wanted overtime it seemed, for dying in the mud.
And shorter working hours, for the shedding of their blood.
"How dare they strike," the home front screamed, "when we give up so much—Like candy bars, and pleasure cars, and cigarettes and such?"

The foe broke through the picket line, and left a trail of graves.
And overnight our people all were changed to fettered slaves.

I woke to find our boys still fought, and that the end seemed near.
They weren't striking over there — the strike was over here!

Isolation Deadly

Isolation is deadly for humans. Banishment was the worst the Greeks could conceive. Solitary is still the ultimate punishment. And too often TB patients have suffered painful seclusion. Unnecessarily.

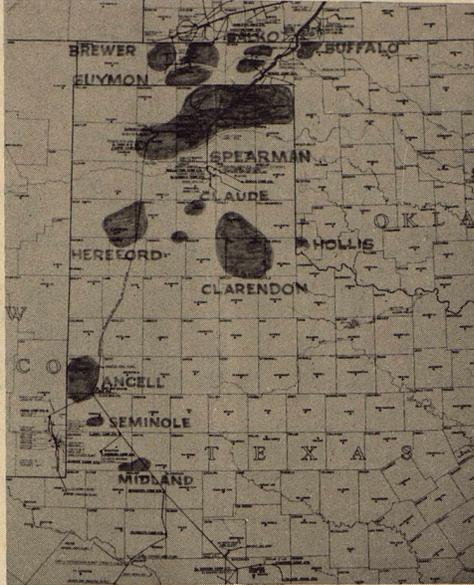

Today, treatment for TB takes place more and more in general hospitals and homes. Patients are seldom surrounded by masked figures in surgical gowns.

There are reasons why. For one thing, much more is known about the TB germ. It is not transmitted by ordinary breathing. Lodged in tiny droplets of moisture, the germ is spread by the explosive force of coughing, sneezing and laughing. Anti-TB drugs drastically reduce coughing, bacteria and the amount of sputum. They reduce the chances of the TB patient infecting others. In fact, there's evidence that with drug therapy, some patients become non-infectious very shortly -- within a few weeks.

TB patients today are treated like human beings with social needs. But there are still too many thousands of people who are infected and do not know it. Some of these people are probably spreading their infections. Seeing that TB-infected persons are found and treated will be a major purpose of your tuberculosis and respiratory disease association in 1968. The association slogan sums the need: "It's a matter of Life and Breath."

If you haven't remembered to mail in your Christmas Seal Contribution, try not to do it today -- and start the new year off right.

Work Nears End

Map of Peoples Natural Gas projects

Nine pipeline projects furnishing natural gas to irrigation farmers from Seminole to Elkhart, Kansas and Hollis, Oklahoma to Herford, Texas have been started or are nearly finished, a year-end report from Peoples Natural Gas of Amarillo shows. Bob Callan, Sales Manager, said three projects will be finished about January 1. They include Balko, Okla., Tyrone, Okla., and Herford, Texas.

Construction on four projects, all in Oklahoma, will begin about Jan. 1, and include areas around Gates, Guymon, Turpin and Hollis.

"We're still actively signing wells in the Turpin, Okla. area and as soon as enough are signed, we'll begin work there," Callan said.

Roads and fences are being constructed in the Hollis area and testing of four gas wells has been completed. Callan said the laying of steel pipe should begin shortly.

The Claude system has been completed and gas is moving through the pipeline.

"The West End Gas Co., in Yoakum County, Texas was purchased by Peoples' Natural Gas, and we have gas going into a portion of our Bronco system in that area. We are about half finished with the project, and have completed arrangements with State Line Gas Co. to serve gas to them," Callan added. The Peoples Natural Gas sales manager said that farmers in any of the areas can contact company representatives any time for information concerning the firm's well-side gas and agriculture programs.

"Taps can be made any place along the lines in, now," he said.

To assist irrigation farmers, answering services have been established in Canyon, Olton, Dumas, White Deer, and Plains Texas, and in Boise City, Elkhart and Balko.

Peoples personnel and the areas served follow:

Roy Monk, district manager; Bill Pippetoe and Roy Black, sales representatives, Guymon; Don Tanner, local representative; Bill Hancock, sales representative, Dumas and Dalhart; Garland Ruthart, sales representative, Hereford; L.W. (Dutch) Snelleman, sales representative Amarillo; Doug Maupin, local manager, Clarendon; and Larry Starnes, local representative.

COTTON FARMERS!

There is an old saying, "If you want a thing done right, do it yourself" and this is why farmer co-operatives were originated. No one is in a better position to know the farmers' and ranchers' needs more or better than the farmer or rancher himself. Farmers' Co-ops are operated by the farmer for the farmer.

Morton Co-op Gin, located at 518 N. Main in Morton, Ph. 266-5342, has served the farmers of our area faithfully and honestly for years. This fine cotton gin is capably operated, placing the welfare of the customer above all else. Honest weights, efficient handling, & modern methods combine to result in the best and fastest service to the cotton producer. We, in this Record, salute this co-op for its great contribution to the welfare of our area.

Local Hunters

Hunting was good on the clear fork of the Brazos last week, reported the outdoorsmen who hunted there last week. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson and Deborah, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of Lubbock and Gregg Black of Denver City spent three days hunting about 16 miles north of Albany, Texas, in the wilds of that beautiful country.

The "wilds" consisted of a ne cabin with electricity for blankets, a fireplace, and all the conveniences of home. "It just ain't what it used to be, huh?" They reported seeing seven deer and killed one nine-point buck. It fieldressed 109 Lbs. The family hunted in the same place last year, where they came home with an eight-point buck and a doe, plus several wild turkeys.
