THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Kill the Umpire!"

For verbal pyrotechnics, few events can equal a hard-fought game of baseball. As a rule the sound and fury signify nothing serious. But at times, matters do get out of hand.

Suppose, for example, that the fan who yells "Kill the umpire!" really takes a swing at him. What are the legal consequences?

For one thing, the umpire may hold the fan liable for the damage he inflicts. The law draws a sharp line between violent words and violent deeds.

But there may be further complications. Take this case:

An umpire, slugged by an irate fan, decided that the real villain was the home team's peppery manager. Suing the manager for damages, the umpire argued in court:

"He kept heckling me all through the game. He knew perfectly well that he was getting the local fans all worked up against me. Therefore, he was responsible for my injury."

But the court refused to pin legal liability on the manager. The judge said it would be unfair to blame a manager for the antics of "every emotionally unstable person who might arrive at the game spoiling for a fight."

Furthermore, merely by taking on such a job in the first place, an umpire assumes a certain amount of risk.

In one case a college student, volunteering to umpire in a practice game, took up a position close behind the netting of the batting cage. A fast foul ball thudded into the netting and struck the student in the eye.

In due course he sued the school for damages, complaining that there was too much slack in the netting. But the court ruled that this was a risk he himself had assumed by standing in such a vulnerable spot.

CROP RESIDUE MANAGEMENT: Grain sorghum stubble used to catch and hold snow last week on the farm of Director E. W. New of the Yoakum Soil and Water Conservation District. This job of Soil and Water Conservation being done with crop residue does not just happen. The plans for holding both soil and moisture was started last fall at harvest time. Each year over 200,000 acres of grain sorghum are harvested in this District Yoakum County. Some of the land may need to be plowed for various reasons but every acre that can remain unplowed, ungrazed and protected can be a field protected from Wind and Water Erosion. Both soil and water are precious.

HD Clubs Attend District Meeting

Thirteen Home Demonstration Club Members represented Yoakum County at the District II Texas Home Demonstration Association in Tullia, March 30. Yoakum County Judge, Gene Bennett was also present for the morning session. He gave an invitation to the District to meet in Yoakum County in 1969. The program began at 10 a. m. with the presentation of the flags. After the laying of the flags, Mrs. Roland Lacey, Swisher County Sec., led the group in singing the Star Spangled Banner. Rev. F. Pollard, First Baptist Church in Tullia, gave the invocation. There were greetings, song, and introductions.

Mrs. Maynard Gaines, State T. H. D. A. President, brought a message from the State Board. She said that people who join clubs should be a well informed active member and for the contribution they can give not just for what we can get out of being a member.

Mrs. Wilmer Smith, National Pres., discussed the National meeting to be held in Puerto Rico, Oct. 20-25.

Mrs. T. Box gave instructions to the voting delegates. After the noon meal, which was provided by the ladies of the First Baptist Church, the group assembled again and two 4-H Club boys from Swisher Co. entertained the group with several songs.

Youth Council Plans Program

The Plains Youth Center Council has held several meetings the past few weeks to plan a program for the month ahead.

Members of the Council are, Kenneth Hale, president; Mrs. Roy Perkins, secretary; Mrs. W. P. Turner, reporter; Mrs. Pete St. Romain, Mrs. James Warren, Mrs. Roy Strickland, Roy Perkins and W. P. Turner.

Mrs. Wallace Randolph will remain as sponsor. The Council feels that she has been very efficient in being on the job.

seeing that the rules are observed, and has the interest of the Plains youth at heart.

The center will be open Friday and Saturday nights of each weekend and will always be properly sponsored. Among other rules which will be published later are the following:

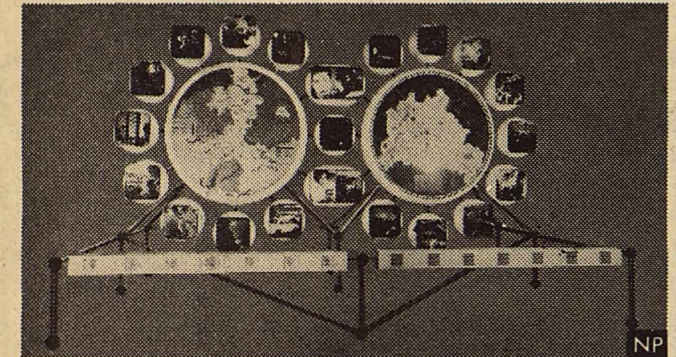

You must be 13 years old before you can become a member of the center and cannot be a member after a first year of college. A year membership fee is three dollars.

There will be no drinking or loitering inside the building or on the grounds outside the building. These rules have been enforced in the past and will continue to be.

It is the wish of the committee to keep our youth in Plains as much as possible. The Council would appreciate any suggestions from parents and the youth of Plains as to how the Council might help to accomplish this.

Interested persons are invited to call Mr. Hale or other members of the Council.

Berlin, Germany at HemisFair, Texas

One way to see West Berlin and the rest of the free part of Germany this summer is to visit the Germany-Berlin-Alemania Pavilion at HemisFair '68 in San Antonio, Texas, Apr. 6-Oct. 6, 1968. Once there, you will be eligible to enter on-the-spot contests that may win you a fine German camera or even a real 7-day expenses-paid trip to Berlin for two.

One of the many eye-catching exhibits in the German Pavilion is the "Informator" shown above. The two large maps of the Federal Republic of Germany and of the access routes to Berlin are encircled by viewers that show historic as well as current aspects of life and activities. The electronically controlled 4-minute program includes a commentary in English and Spanish, heard through loudspeakers in the base.

In line with HemisFair's theme of "The Confluence of Civilizations in the Americas," the two-story pavilion also contains examples of the cultural and technological contribution by Germans to the present knowledge and skills on this continent.

Other ties that link Germany and the Americas include the first use of the name "America" on a map by the German cartographer Martin Waldseemüller in 1507; the arrival in Philadelphia in 1683 of the Concord, the German Mayflower, with 13 families from the Rhineland; and General von Steuben (1730-1794), an organizer of the Continental Army in the American Revolution.

Also portrayed are John Meusebach, who negotiated the peace treaty with the Comanches in 1847, and Carl Schurz, the Senator from Missouri who later became U.S. Secretary of the Interior (1877-1881); and so on, to Dr. Werner von Braun, "father" of the Saturn V., and Prof. Hubertus Strughold, scientific head of the School of Aerospace Medicine in San Antonio since its founding in 1949.

Mix in a saucepan 6 cups shredded red cabbage, 1 1/2 cup light corn syrup, 3/4 cup vinegar. Add a pat of margarine, a dash of salt and pepper, and a pinch of cloves. Cover, and simmer about 45 minutes, adding water if necessary to prevent sticking.

Livestock Group Names Directors

The annual membership meeting of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Ass. was held Monday night, March 25, in the Yoakum County Courthouse. Approximately 200 people were in attendance to see the slide pictures taken at the 1968 Jr. Fat Stock Show last month. Mr. Pat Henard presided at the meeting and asked for volunteers to donate animals and trophies to be presented at the 1969 show. Mr. G. W. Cleveland will give a heifer to the exhibitor of the Grand Champion steer, of the 1969 show. Mr. K. Blount will donate a gilt to be the exhibitor of the Grand Champion Barrow of next year's show. A ewe lamb will be given for each of the Champion Lambs. Gary Stowe will give the mutton ewe and Bruce Bennett will give the fine wool ewe.

Mr. J. L. Fitzgerald will donate the award for showmanship in the Beef Calf Division; Dr. Berry Squyres-donor in the Swine Div. and Anderson Grain-in the Sheep Division. The Beef Calf Grain Contest will again be sponsored by Mr. G. W. Cleveland and Mrs. Alma McGinty and girls will sponsor the Rusty McGinty Memorial Award for showmanship. Five directors were elected to fill the vacancies on the board. They were: Gene Bennett, Dr. Berry Squyres, Bill Gray, K. Blount and Virgil Kelly. The six directors who complete the eleven man board are: Pat Henard, Jim Barron, Ty Field, Johnnie Fitzgerald, Darrell Lindsey and Jerome Head.

The Plains State Bank was represented by Mr. C. Hubbleston, who presented a check to every exhibitor present at the meeting. Each year the Bank gives a cash donation to every exhibitor at the meeting as a portion of their prize money. They gave $5 for beef calves, $3 for barrows and $3.50 for lambs. Each exhibitor is paid for only one animal, so the prize money he receives is for the animal which pays the highest amount. The number of exhibitors continue to increase and this year the Plains State Bank paid a total of $259.50 to the 81 exhibitors.

The new board of directors met in a short session after the membership meeting to organize the board. G. Bennett was elected president, Pat Henard is the new vice president, Darrell Lindsey is the secretary and K. Blount is the assistant secretary-treasure. They set the date of April 8 as the first meeting of this board so they can make any needed rule changes for the 1969 show before the exhibitors get their animals.

DIFFERENCE NOTED

Why do some labels specify orange juice, some orange drink? There is a difference. Only when a product is 100 per cent orange juice may it be sold as juice. When the product has less than 100 per cent it must be sold as drink.

ROOM PAINTING

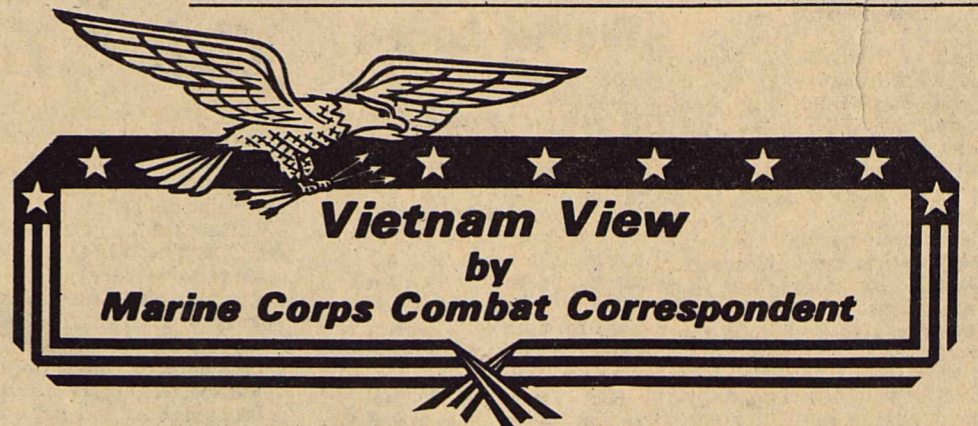

Don't overlook details when painting a room. Remove all fixtures and hardware before you plunge in. This saves the bother of cleaning off paint splatters and also will help you cover completely the hard to reach areas.

School Menu

Monday: Sandwiches, pea salad, potato chips, tossed salad, orange slush, mince cake, milk.
Tuesday: Barbeque beef, beans, turnips and greens, pickles, onion rings, cornbread-butter, plum cobbler, milk.
Wednesday: Fried chicken-gravy, buttered rice, green beans, salad, rolls-butter, jellotopping, milk.
Thursday: Hamburgers, potato salad, buttered cream peas, tomatoes and lettuce, fruit cup, chocolate chip cookies, milk.
Friday: Turkey-dressing, corn, asparagus, stuffed celery, milk, cranberry sauce, hot rolls-butter, Easter cake.

Menus subject to change.

WHITTENBURG UNDERSTANDS... ELECT HIM GOVERNOR
Pd. Pol. Adv. Means for Whittenburg, Robert Mahone, Chi.

North Vietnamese forces and the Viet Cong resorted to using Vietnamese civilians as "human shields" in a last ditch attempt to overrun Hoi An defenders in the two day battle, Jan. 30-31.

The arrival of Korean Marines to bolster the beleaguered Vietnamese Army units ended the two days of terrorism in the Quang Nam provincial capital. Elements of the 51st ARVN regiment drove the estimated 400 NVA/VC force from the city as the Hoi An defenders manned well-fortified positions in preparation for a large-scale counter attack.

Following a night of sporadic street-fighting and heavy mortar attacks launched by both sides, the NVA/VC troops launched a massive push through the city, early Jan. 31, using Vietnamese civilians as shields from small arms fire. The villagers, realizing their predicament, quickly scattered. They left the enemy exposed to withering ARVN machine gun and rifle fire.

As the battle continued, the South Vietnamese forces received unexpected reinforcements from the 3rd Company, 1st Battalion, 2nd Republic of Korea Marine Brigade.

The Koreans, supported by three tanks from the 1st Marine Division's 1st Tank Battalion, were on a routine search and destroy patrol when called to Hoi An to bolster the already rolling ARVN offensive.

By evening ARVN troops had completed the sweep of the city to eliminate enemy resistance. A count revealed more than 100 North Vietnamese Army and Viet Cong dead. Most of the enemy were found clutching their weapons in firing positions, indicating a last-ditch effort against the accurate and well directed fire of the Hoi An defenders.

Some areas of Vietnam have a sparse population. This makes it difficult to find enough villagers to form a human shield, but then the Viet Cong are known to be resourceful.

In one case the Viet Cong recruited a large number of milk cows as assault troops. As Marines of Combined Action Platoon Golf-7, near Da Nang, settled in for another night of Viet Cong harassment and sniper fire they heard strange noises around their perimeter.

Within seconds an M-60 machinegun was loaded, an M-79 grenade launcher sighted-in, and grenades and small arms readied for action. Then, silently the Marines waited.

Suddenly large forms charged in the darkness. The Marines held their weapons ready. Then someone yelled, "They're cows!"

"We all laughed," said Lance Corporal Edward L. Zielonko of Medina, N. Y., "and fired over the cattle to frighten them away. We thought they were just excited about something and we were afraid they were going to get hurt in the barbed wire."

As the Marines fired high, the cattle dispersed, revealing several armed Viet Cong guerrillas hidden among them.

"The VC had taken the cattle from a nearby hamlet and driven them toward our compound," Zielonko continued. "They were attempting to get close to our perimeter without being observed."

This time the Marines opened fire in earnest. The Viet Cong mingled with the panicked cattle and fled.

"It might have worked," Zielonko concluded, "if only the cattle had cooperated."

A Sweet-Sour Sauce
Give an Oriental flavor to fish, pork, duck or chicken with a sweet and sour Imperial Sauce. The classic, clear look of the sauce comes from the corn starch used to thicken it.

Imperial Sauce
1 tablespoon corn starch
1/2 cup water
1 (8 1/2-ounce) can crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
3 scallions, diagonally sliced
1 medium tomato, peeled and cut into thin wedges

Blend corn starch and water in 1-quart saucepan. Add pineapple, soy sauce and vinegar. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Add scallions and tomato. Cook 3 to 4 minutes. Serve over fish, pork or poultry. Makes about 2 cups.
