To write a column in advance is hard to do at times and trying to write it at a beauty shop during a Saturday rush is even worse; in fact, it's pure bedlam!

Anyway, that's where this weeks column got its start so forgive me if you can't tell heads or else about it. We learned one thing, though while at the beauty shop - Sue Randall was high bowler last week with a 183 and didn't fall a dime!

Of course we learned a lot of other things too but Barbara and Joan were assured by Sue that I was discredited enough not to put it in print! Thanks for the confidence Sue.

I could have written a book this week on how things went for five girls trying to get ready for a week's trip to McAllen and trying to help serve the Terry Co. Farmer's Co-op Gin Bar-be-cue Saturday!

Everything went smooth tho, even after Sonny Stephens discovered at 11:30 Saturday that she had left the bread for the noon bar-be-cue at home in her freezer and Maurine Smith had left all of the paper ware for the meal in Plains.

A quick trip to the grocery store and a good response to phone call got us back in line tho. The Turner Home Demonstration Club received their pay for services from gin manager Forrest Spencer with compliments for a fine meal and being so organized.

I hope you haven't read anywhere this week where Pat Curtis, Serena Elmore, Sonnie Maurine and myself were hospitalized for a complete nervous breakdown - you will know we are in McAllen today - and I figure it might be truthful to add in advance that we're having a ball.

Such affairs as the Bar-be-cue always bring a lot of visiting and I enjoyed seeing the Dennis Lilly's of Brownfield there. The Overton's and Roy Perkins made it over from Plains also, and many others. Last week brought some coffee and lunch breaks with the good company of Archie Glover, Faye Nelms, Vicie Hinkle, Melba Duke, Joe Curry, Linda Holland, Sudie Thompson Alma Bean, Bobby Harrison, Ann Rezer and Lois McGinty.

A reminder again to the women of the area - be thinking about the upcoming Sew It With Cotton Contest set for Oct. 5. Rules and regulations should be out this week. This came from Ferne Lowry, Women's Cotton Club President.

Altho the Cowboys have lost their first game, we'll be rooting for them this Friday night. Hope all the fans make it out to back the cowboys again and to give our band a boost. See you all around the square next Tuesday with the hope that we will have a good report and pictures on the Stamford Valley, State Line and Turner Home Demonstration Club delegates attending the meet.

Mr. C. C. (Champ) Perkins, area farmer, delivered the first bale of cotton for the 1968 harvest year to the Tokio Gin Co-op this week to become the first Yoakum County farmer of this season to gin a bale of cotton. It was an excellent bale of cotton, according to Mr. Amos Smith, manager of the Tokio Co-op gin. It weighed in at 520 pounds from 2200 lbs., and made 900 lbs. of seed. The first bale of cotton was taken to the square of the Yoakum County courthouse.

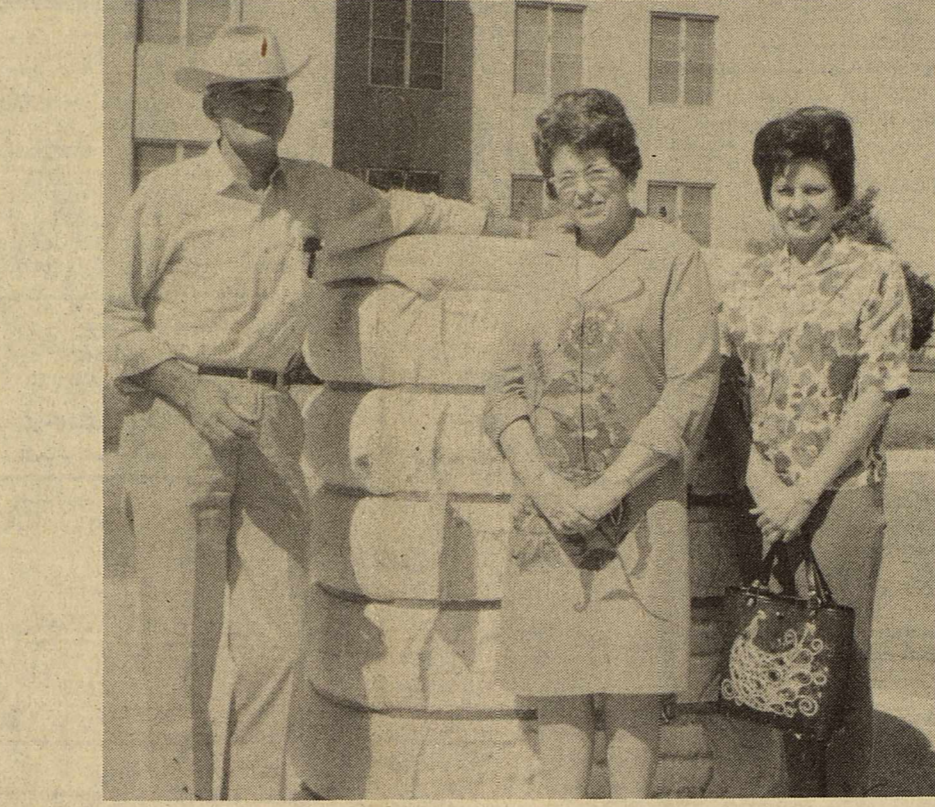

He is expected to receive the customary bonus check from the Chamber of Commerce.

Perkins raised the cotton on one of his farms which is located about ten miles from Plains.

Perkins is widely known throughout the area for his varied and constructive work in agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins are both active in civic and social activities in the area. Amos Smith, longtime resident, and progressive manager of the Tokio Co-op Gin, announced that the latest in modern equipment has been added this year to accommodate the scores of customers who patronize the Tokio Co-op Gin. Amos Smith said that it was an honor and a distinction for his gin to receive and gin the first bale of cotton again this year.

Smith further stated that the staff and management at the Tokio Co-op Gin looked forward to serving the agricultural needs of the entire farming community this year. The Tokio Co-op Gin has grown from a tiny organization into one of the most respected business cooperatives in the entire area. Smith spoke for the entire community when he said,

'Cotton is still King in Yoakum County, and its results are still felt by every business here. The first bale of cotton was raised on the Clanahan estate which belongs to Mrs. C. C. Perkins. The cotton weighed 2200 lbs. and the bale made 520 lbs. and 900 lbs. of seed.'

Late Comers May Vote

County Clerk Ruby Heald has issued a reminder that new residents of Texas who wish to vote in the presidential election this year must apply for a ballot at the county clerk's office by 5 o'clock next Friday, Sept. 20.

The reminder is for voters who will have lived in Texas more than 60 days but less than a year on next Nov. 5, general election day. This is the first time that residents of less than a year will be able to vote in a Texas presidential election. A law passed in 1967 allows a new resident to vote if he will have lived in Texas for at least 60 days on election day, possesses all qualifications required for voting in Texas elections except the normal residence requirements, and was either a qualified voter in another state immediately prior to his removal to Texas or would have been eligible to vote in the presidential election in the state of his former residence if he had remained there and complied with the state's legal requirements for voting.

Mrs. Heald said that if the voter was registered in the state of his former residence and has a voter registration certificate or other document to prove his registration, he should have the document with him when he applies at the clerk's office. Otherwise, it will be necessary for the clerk to contact the appropriate election official in the state of the voter's former residence to verify whether he would have been eligible to vote in that state if he had not changed his residence. New residents whose applications are accepted will be notified of that fact and will return to the clerk's office between Oct. 21 and Nov. 1 to cast their ballots. They will not be permitted to vote on anything except President and Vice President. Persons voting under this law are not required to register with the county tax assessor-collector.

Voters who will have lived in Texas more than a year on election day must be registered with the tax assessor-collector in order to vote, Mrs. Heald said. Persons who became residents of Texas on or before Oct. 1, 1967, had to register by last Jan. 31, the regular registration deadline, but those who became residents after Oct. 1, 1967, may register any time up to 31 days before the election. The deadline to register for the general election will be Oct. 5.

If a registered voter will have lived in the state more than a year and in the county more than 6 months on election day, he will vote a full ballot in the ordinary manner on election day at the polling place for the voting precinct in which he lives. If he will have lived in the county less than 6 months, he will be able to vote on statewide issues and office, including President and Vice President, but not on local offices and issues, by applying to the county clerk for a ballot during the period from Oct. 16 through Nov. 1.

Cowboys Ready for Sundown Roughnecks

The Plains Cowboys went down in defeat to the Morton Indians 44-13 this past Friday. The Cowboy team is a young ball club and made mistakes that will be corrected by District. On our starting team last Friday night, we had only one starter back from last year's offense and two starters on defense. The rest of our experienced people are manning new positions and this will take a lot of getting used to. After viewing the films of the game, we found that most of the boys did a fine job and we are looking forward to a good ball game with Sundown this week.

Steps have already been taken to correct our mistakes and new faces will appear in the starting line-up. The boys are working hard to improve each day and they understand that building a good ball club with only nine lettermen returning and two starters from last year's club will take time and a lot of hard work. Sundown is a tough team. They're rated very high af-

The boys have been working hard and are ready to hit a roughneck.

Also, try to attend the B-team here at 7:00 PM Thursday against Tahoka.

YSCD Activities

Activities in the Yoakum Soil Conservation District the past week has been many and varied. Beginning with a farm tour on Friday the 13th and the start of grain sorghum harvest in some areas of the district.

A review of all Great Plains Contracts was made and it was found that 23 contracts have been completed and will expire December 31, 1968. This means that all cost share practices such as underground irrigations pipeline installation, pasture, planting, brush control and such has been completed in these contracts. There are about 75 other contracts with local farmers and ranchers that still have cost share practices to be carried out that will not expire until practices are complete.

Cover crops on clean tilled or summer fallowed land are also sharing the spotlight on many farms in the district. A few of the farmers that have planted small grain for cover are: Buster Graham, Leon Thompson, Gene Phillips, Polly Rushing, Pep Turner, and others.

Revisions of soil and water conservation plans on farms and ranches in the district also came in for its share of attention. This generally occurs when there is a land use-change on a farm or ranch such as cropland to grass, cropland to hayland or dry land to irrigated land, which necessitates updating the plan to make it current.

Many trips were made on the farm tour and a lot of good conservation practices were observed along with seeing some excellent crops.

Many thanks to Burch Moore for buying the drinks for everyone on the tour.

Leathernecks Have Brush With Death

Five times last month our young marine from 'K' Co., 3rd Bn., Twenty-seventh Marine Regiment has had bouts with enemy booby-traps.

Five times, he walked away from them.

Cpl. David E. Hill, 19, Scenery Hill, Pa., during a platoon size mine sweep was going up a trail to blow a dud 105 mm artillery round when he stepped in a foot trap and ignited a Chinese communist grenade.

'When the grenade exploded it blew off my left boot and peppered my trouser's legs, but I just received a few scratches,' Hill said.

Two weeks later the leathernecks were checking out a village when Hill stepped in the same kind of trap while entering a vacant house. This time the concussion from the grenade blew him backwards. He walked away without a scratch.

A few days later during a squad-size patrol, Hill was walking point when he spotted a booby-trap about three feet from him.

'Luckily for me I stopped because after I stood there for a few seconds I felt something under my right foot. I didn't move my feet as I leaned over and ran my finger under my boot.

The hard object turned out to be an M-26 hand grenade without a pin, and I was standing on the spoon.'

'The twine that some Viet Cong had placed over the spoon was broken, so I carefully edged a rock over the spoon and got out of there.

'Later we blew both of the booby-traps in place...Hill commented.

A week later Hill was walking along the bottom of a small knoll when he stepped on a trip wire, glanced up to an embankment, and saw a grenade rolling down at him.

He took cover behind a rice paddy dike and once again walked away from the blast without a scratch.

Towering over seven feet, you'd think he could never have slipped through the Marine lines.

'He was attempting to recon the battalion command post area', said Capt. T. A. Williamson, Mosco, Idaho, commanding officer, 2nd Bn., Seventh Marine Regiment. However, the commander was not the first one to spot his lieutenant.

The battalion had just set in security as dusk approached in the dense jungle. Gunnery Sgt. Feafua Napoleon, San Diego, Calif., was checking his men as the intruder watched from an overhanging branch. From 50 feet up the stranger scanned all activity, friendly positions, strength and ammunition supplies. What he missed was Napoleon's deft movement. In one motion, the leatherneck had picked up his weapon and drawn a bead on the stranger's head.

The trespasser never heard the shot, and as head and body separated, he fell to the earth where his torso writhed for several minutes.

'That python was the largest snake I've ever shot', stated Napoleon.

When an eight man outpost came under attack by enemy soldiers, the last place Pfc. Ralph E. Sharpe, 18, South Bend, Indiana, wanted to go was over the cliff...a straight drop down the mountain.

The Marines from 3 rd. Bn., Twenty-seventh Marine Regiment, were manning their 106 mm recoilless rifles when a satchel charge thrown by a Viet Cong exploded in the area but they had just left. Another satchel charge destroyed the ammunition bunker and put Sharpe's radio out of order.

'I didn't hear anymore firing. I found out later the enemy had retreated shortly after I was knocked out.

'I waited until dawn then I yelled for a rope to get me back on the hill. When I was almost at the top one of my buddies saw a VC trying to plant a booby-trap, and after an exchange of bullets he killed the VC', Sharpe recalled.

'I was lucky. I just got a few scratches. I'm really thankful for that tree being there', Sharpe concluded.

A first Marine Division motor transport company Leatherneck has been awarded a three day, all expense paid stay at the famous Harold's Club in Reno, Nev., through his company's 'Marine of the Month' program.

Lt. Col. Sam L. Lohbl, 20, Dover, Ohio, July Marine of the Month for 'A' Co., Eleventh Motor Transport Bn., was presented the vacation package to be used when he goes home in December.

The Company, through the sponsorship of manufacturers, and companies in the States, began the program to give recognition to a Marine each month whom they feel is worthy of the honor.

The idea was originated by the company first Sgt., R. R. De Vasto, Winter Park, Fla., who developed the program to its present state with help from the Company Commander, Capt. B. H. Dobbs, Atlanta, Ga.

When he was getting the program underway, De Vasto wrote to a number of companies and resorts telling them of his plans. He received favorable response from many in the form of promised gifts or free vacations for his Marines of the Month.

The 'A' Co. Marine of the Month of June, Cpl. Tony D. Kunz, 20, Toledo, Ohio, was presented a top quality rod and reel fishing outfit from the Zebco Company, Tulsa, Okla.

Each month, the three platoons in the Co. select a man they think deserves the honor of Marine of the Month. Then a committee consisting of the commanding officer, executive officer, platoon commanders, first Sgt., and staff non-commissioned officers vote on the nominee.

The nominees are selected on the following criteria: safe driving record, violation-free driving, maintenance of vehicle, vehicle appearance and personal attitude.

Since the program has been underway, many companies offered their products or services as awards and several resort areas are offering expense paid vacations. Some awards coming up include a cruise on a Swedish Ocean liner and a week's stay at the Grand Bahama resort.

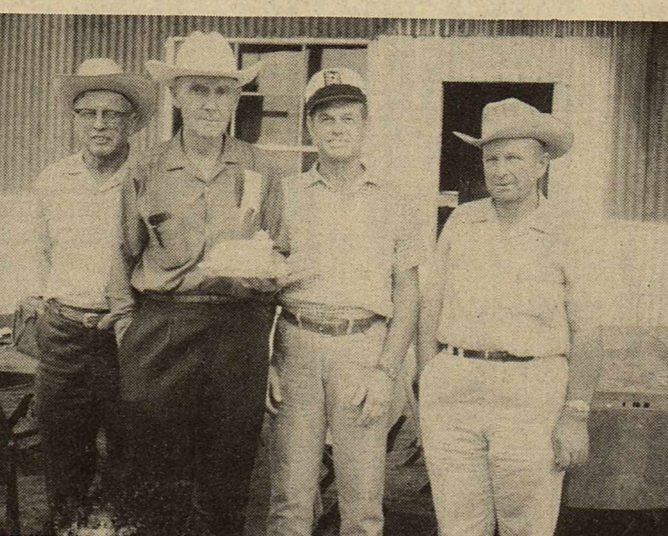

In addition, a Marine of the Quarter and a Marine of the Year will also be chosen, with the award varying with the title.

Members of the board and the manager thanked the many friends and customers of the gin for coming to the big Bar-be-cue last Saturday, and Clyde Trout to replace Maurice Thompson and Forrest Spencer.

Winning door prizes were Joe Trout, an electric knife; Jeff Davis, an electric oven; Mrs. Charles Upton, tools and chest; and Mrs. Dale Curtis, socket tools.

Yoakum County Farmers Union is holding its annual Meeting Monday evening at 8:00 p.m., Sept. 23rd. The meeting will be held at the Club Room in the old

CCC Grain Loans Begin

FOR 1968

According to Mr. W. M. Overton, local ASCS Office Manager, C. J. Erwin, farmer in the southeast part of the county, obtained the first CCC grain loan on 1968 grain sorghum produced in Yoakum County. The grain graded No. 2 Yeg with storage paid through 12-28-68 and Mr. Erwin netted $1.51 per hundred. The local ASCS Office has received many inquiries about the 1968 loan program and it appears, unless the grain sorghum market price advances, much of the crop will be placed under CCC loan. The loan rate for eligible grain stored in approved warehouses in Yoakum and other nearby counties in Texas is $1.63.

All persons interested in the grain presented for a loan, including lien holders (if any) must sign the loan documents. Farmers that have landlords may want to have their grain divided at the elevator with the tenant and landlord each receiving a warehouse receipt for his share of grain. By doing so each may obtain a separate loan without obtaining the other's signature on the loan document.

Only grain grown on a farm participating in the feed grain program is eligible for a CCC loan. Loans will be available through May 30th and the maturity date is June 30, 1969.

If a producer wishes to redeem his grain at any time through June 30, 1969 the interest is 30 cents per hundred dollar per month or approximately 3 and a half percent interest.

Students Exhibit Work at Fair This Year

For the fourth straight year, work of junior and senior high school students will be displayed in industrial and creative arts exhibits at the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

The two shows will be set up in the childrens Barnyard building. All exhibits will be judged on Sept. 21, according to show officials.

Alvin A. Seher, Monterey High School, is Superintendent of the industrial arts show, sponsored by the South Plains Industrial Arts Association, and Clay Hendersen, Evans Junior High School, will head the Creative Arts events.

The creative arts show is open to all students of accredited secondary schools. Students will demonstrate methods of making pottery in coil, drape, pinch, slab and wheel class.

Rosettes will be awarded for first, second and third places in each class.

Industrial arts is taught in nearly 100 classes in Lubbock junior and senior high schools. Students gain basic skills of industry although they do not become experienced carpenters, metal workers, plastics workers or electricians.

The teaching program is integrated with English, reading, mathematics, social studies and speech.

Exhibits competing for rosettes and ribbons must be certified as having been made in regular Industrial Arts classes.

Projects for both junior and senior high include wood-working, metalworking, drafting, electricity and crafts, including leather, plastics, jewelry, etc. Senior High students may also enter architectural drafting projects.

The 51st annual exposition, scheduled Sept. 23-28, will feature the Pat Boone Show on stage in Fair Park Coliseum.

Also on tap for an expected 250,000 fair patrons are the 15th annual West Texas Twirling Festival, dozens of new attractions, the second annual Quarter Horse Show, an Appaloosa horse show, tropical fish and rabbit shows, the ever popular Children's Jarmyard and the junior parachute jump.

Farm Tour

Thirty-three interested people rode the bus last Friday, Sept. 13, to see the crops along the sixty-mile route. With the entire group on one bus, everyone was able to see and hear from their seat and participate in the discussions.

The first stop was at the L. C. Heath farm where the group observed a planting of Weeping Lovegrass used for diverted acres under the Agricultural Act of 1965. At this point, they also saw an underground pipeline installation where more efficient use was being made of the irrigation water.

The next stop was on the W. M. Taylor farm where seven varieties of cotton are being produced. This year the varieties in the demonstrations are: Stripper-Cala-S; Lembright X-15-3; Dunn 56 C; Paymaster III; Lankart 38-40; CA 788-64-15; and CA 788-64-24. It was pointed out at this cotton variety demonstration that producers would be changing varieties very rapidly during the next few years, and that fiber quality is becoming more important with each passing year.

Those on the tour saw that Bob Loe was doing a good job of producing organic matter and cover to protect the land from wind erosion on diverted acres. They saw the dry land grain sorghum field where Mr. B. E. Loyd is in the third year of a long range program to demonstrate the use of commercial fertilizers on dry land grain sorghum.

A stop was made on the

The picture was made on the farm of Robert L. (Buster) Graham. The group is looking at weed control work done in the grain sorghum by applying about one pint of low volatile 2-4-D per acre. There was very little damage to the adjacent cotton. Graham said that the drift is kept to a minimum when the spraying machine is set to deliver 15 gallons of material per acre using 18 to 20 lbs. pressure.

Personnel Decrease

Senator John Tower, a member of the Armed Services Committee of the Senate, reported today that during the last fiscal year (1968) Texas was host to 254,175 national defense personnel (civilian and military) who earned a 1.6 billion dollar payroll. The fiscal year 1968 totals represent a decrease over fiscal 1967 of 26,534 defense personnel and an increase of $100 million in payroll.

The personnel decrease reflects added manpower demands in Southeast Asia; the payroll jump is because of pay increases voted during the past year.

The Army, had 13,884 fewer military and 1,077 more civilian personnel compared with 1967. Any military payrolls were down $14.8 million; civilian payrolls were up $14.9 million.

The number of Air Force personnel in Texas declined by 16,349 during the year, but the Air Force military payroll was up $1.2 million. A total of 811 Air Force civilians were added with a $18.5 million payroll increase.

The Navy added 635 civilian personnel with $1.9 million more payroll; Navy uniformed personnel increased by 998, and the Navy payroll was up $2.0 million.
