DR. D.L. LAVERENTZ OF DU PONT AND CHARLIE MILLER OF BROWN & MCKEE CONSTRUCTION.

New Water System Nears Finish

Construction at the Du Pont Chemical project at Plains is nearing completion. Mr. Charlie Martin of the Brown & McKee construction Company announces that the construction still is progressing on schedule and that providing the material awaiting installation continues to arrive, the construction will be completed this week.

Dr. D. L. Laverentz of the Organic Chemical Department of the Du Pont Company is now in Plains. Mr. Laverentz is the startup engineer and will be in charge of putting the plant into operation. Don is a field-test engineer for the DuPont Company. He had many years of experience in dealing with and researching similar water conditions prior to joining DuPont.

Most of the equipment has been installed and the "permeators" are in shipment and expected this week. When these are installed, the construction work will be completed and the Brown & McKee Company will be moving out. Mr. Charlie Martin, who has been the construction engineer throughout the construction has done a fine job and successfully maintained his schedule.

The "Permacap" Perpeator is an entirely new discovery and definitely in the research stage. The DuPont Company reports that there are tremendous breakthroughs happening constantly, new discoveries are being made in the processing of undesirable water and these are being inculcated in the Plains plant. When the plant goes into operation, it will contain the very latest methods available.

This plant is the largest of its kind in the world. While there are several smaller plants in operation, it will be the operation and discoveries in this plant that will be most closely observed throughout the world, and perhaps make the greatest contribution to the advancement in this scientific field.

It is within these Permeators that the transition in the quality of the water is made. The Du Pont Company, in their own laboratories, discovered a method of manufacturing a membranous tubular membrane and the pure water passes through to the water supply.

Though there is no definite date set for the beginning of operation of the plant, it can now be hoped that around the first of June soft water will be flowing through the water lines in Plains.

MRS. DESSIE SAWYER AND MELANIE MATTOX, NATIONAL POLIO POSTER GIRL, AT THE TATUM MARCH OF DIMES DANCE.

Tatum March Of Dimes Dance

When the Tatum Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was set up in 1938, Mrs. Dessie Sawyer of Tatum was made Chairman. She still holds that distinctive position today. Under the direction of Mrs. Sawyer, the March of Dimes has been one of the most, if not the most important event of the year in Tatum. The Tatum Chapter ranks with the topmost chapters of the nation in the success of their March of Dimes drive. Only a few years ago, the Tatum school had the distinction of raising the greatest amount of money per capita of any school in the United States.

The huge success of the 1969 drive is to be noted by the fact that over $6,000 in contributions were made.

Mrs. Sawyer was given an award for raising more money for the fund than any individual in any county in the United States. Only one time has this year's contribution been exceeded. Many years ago this same Chapter raised something over $7,000 Mrs. Sawyer is to be highly honored for the successful manner in which she has so persistently and efficiently lead this campaign for the welfare of the less fortunate.

The March of Dimes Dance which is held each year in conjunction with the March of Dimes Drive, was also a great success. Between 600 and 700 people including legislators and officials from the State Capital and dignitaries from all parts of the state enjoyed making and renewing acquaintances while dancing and being entertained with music furnished by Tiny Lind and his orchestra from Clovis, New Mexico. The attendance was the greatest number in ten years. The peak of the evening entertainment was reached when the Queen of the March of Dimes, Mrs. Dessie Sawyer, acting as master of ceremony, conducted the drawing for prizes to the holders of the lucky tickets drawn from the wire basket by the National Polio Poster Girl, Melanie Mattox, of Hobbs, New Mexico.

The prizes given and the winners were:

- 1st, Colored TV, Mrs. Vada Pruitt, Crossroads,
- 2nd, and antique Grandfather clock, Mrs. Cecil Joiner, Tatum.
- 3rd, an Ann Mann Oil Painting, E. A. Edwards, Denver City

Editorial Who Needs DeGaulle

Much to-do is being made over the visit of French President Charles De Gaulle to President Nixon. We wonder what ill purpose he may have up his sleeve this time. Only a year or so ago he was making all possible effort to rob the United States of its gold reserve and devalue the American Dollar, coddling Russia for support of his communist factions and, visiting Canada to persuade Quebec to secede from the Canadian government. No one in America could expect other than an ulterior purpose in his visit this time. It might be well for President to keep a watchful eye on his shirt.

Plains Awakens

Business has sure livened up in Plains the last 60 days. The local paper changed hands, name and residence. The former residence was sold to Lea County Electric Company, when the paper moved to the Roy Edwards' building on E street. At least seven houses have changed owners, two additions to buildings and one new construction has been started. One grocery store changed hands when Mr. and Mrs. Hulén Walker purchased the Plains Food Store from Bud Harkey. We're ever sharing our bank president since his purchase of interest in the Muleshoe Bank. We don't have any head start news at this time but you can bet your bottom dollar that Plains has ceased her hibernation and like the many fruit trees and gardens she is starting to blossom forth. Watch for new interest and a livening of business as the weather warms and spring ensues.

But Can You Patent it?

Breathes there the man, with soul so dead,
Who never to his wife hath said:
"I've got a terrific idea for an invention."

A surprising number of inventions do come from sudden, random flashes of inspiration, rather than from the steady, organized search for something better. However, to qualify for patent protection, the invention must include a special element of creativity. It must be "new," as that word is understood in the law of patents.

Suppose, for instance, that you think of a way to combine two products into a single unit for greater convenience. Generally speaking, that would not be considered new—not creative enough to deserve a patent.

One famous case involved the man who first attached a rubber eraser to the end of a lead pencil. Although this was certainly a convenience, the United States Supreme Court decided it was not new—because neither the pencil nor the eraser, when put together, did anything better than they did apart.

By contrast, said the Court, Charles Goodyear did create something new when he combined sulphur with india-rubber. This combination yielded a kind of rubber which, for the first time, could be vulcanized and thereby put to commercial use.

What if your idea is to improve some product by making it out of a better material? If all you add is merely durability, that won't do. Thus, a toymaker who switched from wood to metal, without otherwise changing his toys, was held not entitled to patent protection.

But it is another story if the new material works in a new and different way. Making a garter button out of rubber, instead of metal, was held a patentable invention. The court said this was a truly creative change, because the rubber meant less tearing and better gripping of the hosiery.

Meeting the law's requirements for a valid patent is not easy. But the rewards are so tempting that inventors are obtaining more than 1,000 patents per week.

True, the Patent Office has made the statement that all of the important inventions have already been made. But that statement should not be too discouraging. It was made in the year 1880.

New Family

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Who Has Right To Break Law?

Who can remember clear back to the time when all school-teachers, college professors, and ministers were united behind the principle that laws should be obeyed by all the people?

Now we have the unprecedented situation—unprecedented in this country, at least—that schools have been closed because of teachers' striking in defiance of a state law (in New York); a college has been shut down because of violent protests by students, supported by some faculty members (in California); and a member of Congress feels that it has become necessary for him to say, "When a church states that rioters should not be condemned, we face a cultural security problem."

When, in all our history, has there been a comparable breakdown in respect for the law?

Unsafe to Go to Church?

In Washington, D. C., a church has announced that it is considering moving from its present location because of the hazards faced by its members in attending services.

Women members of the church have been attacked, near the church building. One was beaten and had her purse snatched from her as she was about to enter the building.

Chairs have been stolen from the church and windows have been broken.

Where is this church located? On Capitol Hill, not far from the place where the U. S. Congress meets.

Remembering that some clergymen have been willing to condone rioting and other misdeeds in certain cases, one might be tempted to say that "chickens have come home to roost." But there is no indication that the pastor of this church was engaged in any such loose interpretation of rights and wrongs.

In fact, it is doubtful that any clergyman would approve of the kind of behavior which some of the residents of the area have engaged in.

Break Some Laws?

But, when a man states that it is all right to break some laws, of which he does not approve, isn't it obvious that another man may prefer to break other laws, which he considers inconvenient or undesirable?

The Bible says, "Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake . . . As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God."

In his syndicated column, David Lawrence asked, some time ago, "Will churchgoers in America have to be armed in order to defend themselves as they go to and from places of worship?"

This may have been necessary in the days of the early settlers of the country, when marauding Indians could be expected to attack a party of colonists going to or from church, but surely it should not be so now.

Let us all stand where the Bible stands on law enforcement—and the land will be safe for law-abiding citizens.

Where do you stand?

Safety Council

HOUSTON-- A Matagorda County rancher and his 19-year-old son have been named recipients of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council's Rural Heroism Award.

J. O. Thompson and his son, Johnnie of El Maton will be honored here March 31 during the 30th annual Texas Safety Conference at the Rice Hotel. The award is given annually to a person or persons in rural Texas who unselfishly risked their own safety while saving others from critical injury or even death.

Thompson and Johnnie are credited with saving the lives of four pipeline workers when a high shift in wind direction that could pressure line exploded on their ranch last December, killing two workmen.

The pipeline crew had not notified Thompson that they would be repairing the line on his land. When he saw them there, he and Johnnie went out to possibly stop work until they had been notified in the proper manner to gain access to his 310-acre Red Angus farm. However, when they got to the pipeline and saw how near finished the repair job was, they decided not to ask the crew to stop work. While at the work site the foreman came by to tell his workers that the line was under pressure. Knowing the danger of explosion from previous experience, Thompson and Johnnie drove back to the house.

Just as Thompson stepped from the pickup, the explosion occurred. He and his son rushed up to 80 miles per hour across the pasture road to give any help that might be needed.

When they got to the scene, flames were soaring some 700 to 1,000 feet into the sky.

Risking their own safety, Thompson and Johnnie managed to retrieve four workmen with clothes afire from the site. The rancher and his son worked in intense heat which destroyed vehicles farther away from the fire than they ventured. The risk was increased by the danger of a have enveloped them in flames. And at the same time, the constant threat of secondary explosions was ever present.

It is often in the quiet countryside, like on the J. O. Thompson farm that persons have the courage to arise and help when their fellowmen are in need.

Tax Man Sam Says

The Internal Revenue Service computer is a meticulous machine. If the computer has to have a schedule or a form to support some statements, it doesn't hesitate to ask for the missing documents. The IRS error report coming from the computer center in Austin points out that many North Texas taxpayers have started an unwanted correspondence session with the computer. The computer needed such forms as Schedule B, Schedule C, Schedule D, Form 2440, "Statement to Support Exclusion of Sick Pay," and Form 3901, "Moving Expense Adjustment."

Most folks don't like to write to a computer, so we recommend that you re-check that tax return. Make sure that all required supporting schedules or statements are attached.

FOR BETTER PREACHING LONDON (AP) — Most of the estimated 50,000 sermons preached in Britain's churches each Sunday would be better if the preachers were properly trained, says the College of Preachers, an Anglican foundation which is trying to raise 50,000 pounds ($120,000) to further its work at Elfinward Diocesan House in Sussex. The parsonic voice is no longer "a universal affliction" says the Rev. D.W. Cleverly Ford, director, who aims to teach clergy to speak simply without manner-isms.

Range Improvement

By Leo L. White
County Agent

In Yoakum County there are approximately 252,000 acres of land still in native state and commonly called range land. Some of this land is not fenced and does not have water available so it can be used for livestock grazing. Most of it, however, is used as grazing land for the production of beef cattle. Some 5,000 head of cattle graze on this range land and in many cases, the cattle are provided with sudan pasture in the late summer and some grain sorghum stubble in the fall and winter.

No one is brave enough to try to estimate the amount of beef produced from an acre of range land in Yoakum County. Most of the land used for grazing is the sandy soils highly infested with brush. There are varying degrees of brush infestation, so the stocking rates vary greatly from one range site to another with the county. Some beef producers run 20 to 25 mother cows per section by feeding supplemental feed during the winter months. Then there is some land so heavily infested with shin oak, sand sage, mesquite, and catclaw that it would not feed ten cows for a six month period.

The latest estimation on cattle numbers in Yoakum County is 5,000 head. Comparing cattle numbers with range land acres, this figures about one cow to each fifty acres.

A good range improvement program could easily cause cattle numbers to double and the more highly improved range sites could do even better. Some of the cultivated land that has been seeded to grass is furnishing forage for sixty to seventy cows per section.

Range improvement is expensive. Chemical brush control has been costing about $2.90 per acre for one time over. Two sprayings are recommended for shin oak control, a total cost of $5.80 per acre over a two to four year period. Under good management practices following control work, this investment could be returned to the land owner in about five years.

The chemicals used are the same as those that were tested and recommended twenty years ago. The chemical laboratories have developed many new herbicides, but very little research data is available because these new materials have not been properly tested for brush control work. The livestock producer is badly in need of some new information that will let him grow more grass with cheaper control of invading brush. A new trend has come into being during the late fifties and early sixties where the producer who reaps the benefit from research helps to pay for the research work.

An Association has already been formed in Texas whereby livestock producers can get some research work done at a very reasonable cost. The name of the organization is the Brush Control and Range Improvement Association. It was first formed by a group of interested ranchers along with representatives from the Farm Bureau, the Farmers Union, the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers, and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

Mr. G. W. Cleveland is the Yoakum County representative of the Texas Brush Control and Range Improvement Association. Others from Yoakum County who have attended some of the meetings of the Association are: County Judge Gene H. Bennett, Johnnie L. Fitzgerald, Pete Smith, and County Agent Leo White. A local meeting is tentative scheduled for early in April, where local producers will be brought up-to-date on the objectives of the Association.

Under the international grains agreement, Canada will provide over a period of three years some 1.5 million tons of food grains, the second largest contribution from any single country.

The Story Of Papyrus

PAPYRUS

The tall papyrus reed was the raw material of Egyptian papermaking. The first step in making the paper was to cut the 7-to-10 foot stems into shorter pieces. Then the outside rind was removed and the exposed inner pith was sliced lengthwise into thin strips. To form the paper, the Egyptians laid the strips of raw papyrus crosswise in a double layer on a flat stone. A cloth was laid over the strips and the papyrus was beaten with a wooden mallet for an hour or two—until the strips were matted together in a single sheet. This sheet was then pressed out under a heavy weight. Finally a papermaker polished the sheet with a rounded stone, trimmed the edges and pasted several sheets end-to-end into a long roll. The result: a lightweight paper of excellent quality that served as the most convenient writing material available to the ancient world.

YOU Will Vote Saturday, April 5 On Plains 1% Municipal Sales Tax!

Here Are Answers to Some of the Most Often Asked Questions:

- Q: What items are subject to the 1% municipal sales tax?
- A: The 1% city sales tax is applicable only to those sales now taxed under the State Sales & Use Tax Act.
- Q: There is a 2% State tax on automobiles. Would the city sales tax also apply to automobile sales?
- A: No. The 2% State tax on automobiles is an excise tax; the municipal sales tax would not apply to automobile sales.
- Q: Does the city sales tax apply to sales at wholesale?
- A: No, only to retail sales. Goods sold for resale are not taxable.
- Q: Does a person residing outside of the city limits pay the 1% municipal sales tax?
- A: Yes, when he makes a purchase of personal property subject to the tax in city which has adopted the local sales tax. In return, he enjoys the city's street facilities, police protection and other advantages of the city for which city residents pay the major share.
- Q: Is the local sales tax regressive—that is, will it cause a particular hardship for lower-income families?
- A: A sales tax has more elements of equity than any other type of tax, and this is particularly true in Texas, since so many essential items are exempt from the sales tax.
- Q: Why should a city dweller who rents his residence favor the local sales tax?
- A: For one matter, the person who rents enjoys the same services available to the property owner. For another, if it is necessary for the city to raise property taxes, the increased cost of this tax will be passed along in the form of higher rent charges.
- Q: Are city sales tax payments deductible from our Federal income tax reports?
- A: Yes.
- Q: Who can vote on the 1% local sales tax?
- A: Any registered voter in the city. A simple majority is required to put the sales tax into effect.

Spring

"For, lo, the winter is passed, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

Song of Solomon

Spring! Yes, spring is a time when nature renews herself, and as the earth renews itself, so should everyone find it a time for renewal.

Spring is the time of year we give our attention to the resurrection of Jesus; and we should also give attention to our own resurrection, in the sense that everything is new at all times in our lives.

Spring is the time of love, a time of joy for walking over the prairies and counting the many different wild flowers that are springing again into life; a time of trees and grass being resurrected; of fruit trees blooming and sending forth their fragrances; a time of lilies and tulips; a robin on the spring lawn, the daffodils pushing up sometimes through a crust of snow. Spring is also a time for house cleaning and sweeping out cobwebs. Spiritually, the same thing is appropriate for mankind. Spring is a time to take stock of ourselves; to get rid of the fears and misgivings and worries that have haunted us in the dark winter days. It's a time of the year to plant seeds of good hope and good deeds; to think kind and positive thoughts about our friends.

What kind of thoughts are we entertaining? What great imaginings are we having? These questions can be answered only by ourselves. We are the gardeners of our own soul.

Suppose that we start now by being resurrected, and one by one, remove from memory the fears, the morbidities and uncertainties, the hates and the jealousies and the animosities - everything that is vindictive - and resurrect only that which can bring joy and love into life.

Yes, for us the resurrection must leave the corpse of our dead yesterdays. We must live more abundantly in the love of God, awake to God within us this day, then the spirit of the resurrection shall be a memory of love and joy, and adoration and reverence.

The Mediterranean trend in home furnishings in the U.S. is showing no sign of abatement, contrary to forecasts by some design specialists. The Waltham Clock division of the Waltham Watch Company of Chicago, is especially optimistic. It has just introduced its Del Prado collection, a completely new line of several battery-operated wall clocks with classic Mediterranean styling.

I believe in the wistful rays of the climbing sun as it mounts to its throne in the southern sky, being confident that it obeys a higher law than its own.

I believe in the loamy workers, the earthworms toiling in the dark as they set about with sublime confidence to prepare a cradle for seeds.

I believe in the irresistible faith of the buds, swelling with the assurance that great possibilities are wrapped up within their tiny folds.

I believe in the birds and their unerring trust in the instinct that guides them over perilous paths back again to their nests of yesterday.

I believe in the secret springs stirring in the hillsides, where is laid a prayer-carpet of silken grass, that all the world may come and pray.

I believe in the raw winds, chilling the air, thus giving tiny roots a chance to sink deeply and securely into the ground, that they may be enabled to bear the responsibility of growth.

I believe in the miracle of the resurrection everywhere apparent; for it assures me that life is triumphant, and that death is but another phase of life.

And whatsoever more I believe is enshrined in the feeling that I even as all else, am a part of an Unseen Presence that makes the birds sing, the flowers bloom, and the grass grow. The Presence is my God; And so, I will trust with all my heart!

NEWS BRIEFS

BY THE PUBLISHER

Mary June and Clayton Lovelace celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary March 30th. Mary June's sister and brother-in-law, Sarah and Auvie Johnson made all the preparations and invited all who could attend to Junction, Texas, to wish Mary & Clayton a "Happy Anniversary." Mrs. O. H. Clark, Mary June's mother, attended the event and returned home Monday.

Mrs. Judge Young visited friends in Plains Sunday afternoon and spent Sunday night with us. We talked Sunday night and again Monday morning until I was 10 minutes late for work. What hurts about it is that no one missed me those 10 minutes. It reminds me of what Marie Grisham said: "When a person thinks that he is so important that no one can take his place, just stick your fist in a pail of water, then bring it out and see how big a hole is left." Not a very comforting thought, but it is life.

Alma and I are framing up on the editor. We are even thinking about suing him. He has mentioned the new work done on this building and that building, but not one word has he mentioned about the new paneling and papering that she has done in her cafe. After talking it over though, we decided that we best just keep quiet as he has made so many mistakes in his paper lately that we possibly could really get him in "hot water."

Here is an interesting anecdote that shows the value of knowing your words. One day P. T. Barnum became exasperated because the visitors stayed too long at his museum. They kept drifting from room to room and preventing others from coming in. He therefore placed the following sign over one of the doors: TO THE EGRESS.

The patrons who read the sign, expecting to see a new and fascinating curiosity, went through the door in droves and found themselves out on the street.

It was only then that they learned the meaning of the strange word.

for space in Texas' 66 State Parks. Superintendents in Falcon, Lake Corpus Christi, Bastrop, Huntville, and Martin Dies State Parks report full camping and trailer sites and heavy traffic over the weekend despite less than ideal weather in all these areas.

It is generally agreed by the superintendents reporting that the entrance fees have not hurt park attendance. In fact, attendance figures for February, 1969 show that 253,152 cars visited the State Parks compared with 240,343 cars for the same period in 1968.

Spring Turkey Eating

Sudie M. Thompson, CHDA

Select a plump, well-rounded bird if turkey is on your Easter menu. Large Size turkeys 18 or more pounds, usually cost less a pound and also provide more meat in proportion to bone.

To cook the turkey, follow directions on the package, checking for doneness during the last hour of roasting.

The temperature of the turkey when it goes into the oven, the oven temperature, the pan used and the shape of the turkey all influence the roasting time.

If you use a meat thermometer, check first to be sure the thermometer is still in the correct position after the bird has cooked. The temperature should read between 180 and 185 degrees for doneness.

Without a thermometer, use the pinch test. Protect the fingers with a paper towel or cloth and pinch the thickest portion of the thigh. If the meat is soft, the turkey is ready to take from the oven.

Once served mostly at Thanksgiving and Christmas, turkey now gets year-round attention. You may want to serve turkey as the focal point of your Easter Dinner. Turkey parts are especially good for the outdoor grill - and we're approaching the season when outdoor cookery is in full swing.

Oven-Barbecued Turkey also is a treat the family will enjoy during the spring months. Place turkey quarters or halves, skin side up, in roasting or broiling pan and add Southern Style Sauce to depth of one-half to one inch. Bake uncovered in slow 325-degree oven. Turn occasionally and baste each time, leaving sauce in rib cages when halves are turned up.

As the turkey cooks, sauce will thicken into rich gravy. If sauce becomes too thick, add hot water. Cook 2 to 2-1/2 hours, depending upon size. Turn heat to 450 degrees to brown the last 2 or 3 minutes.

To prepare South Style Sauce for 12 pounds of raw, unboned turkey, use the following ingredients:

- 1-1/2 pounds grated onion
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/4 cup dry mustard
- 1/4 cup salt
- 1 tablespoon black pepper
- 1-1/2 teaspoons cayenne
- 2 - 5 oz. bottles Worcestershire sauce
- 12 cups tomato juice
- 1 quart plus 3/4 cup vinegar
- 3/4 pound butter or margarine or 1-1/2 cup salad oil
- 4 cups of water

Measure the ingredients into a pan or kettle and heat to boiling. Keep hot.

These men know cotton... ...and they know what Paymaster's Certified Lint Block Program means to all High Plains Cotton Growers.

Dr. L. L. Ray
Associate Professor, Texas A & M University
South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock

"The Texas High Plains has made tremendous progress in upgrading the quality of cotton fiber. This was accomplished by planting better varieties, using better quality seed and marketing through lint blocks or similar programs. The image of this area is greatly improved and it has meant millions of dollars to growers. I am concerned that we do not lose ground. We must (1) plant varieties that will produce fiber the mills want and can use; (2) plant the best quality seed; (3) do a good marketing job."

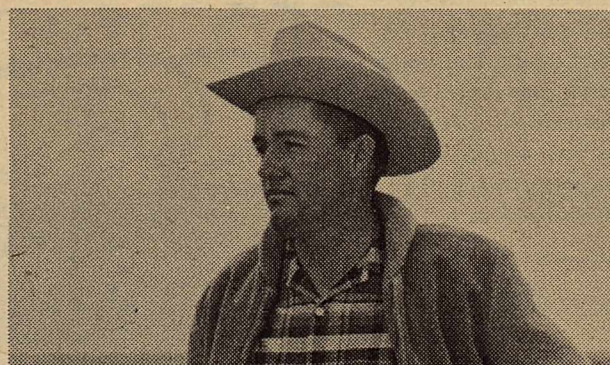

Harry E. Arthur
Assistant Director, Textile Research Center
Texas Technological College, Lubbock

"A planting program wherein Certified seed is used is certainly a great step toward production of a more uniform fiber. A Certified lint program would help to assure the mills of a reliable supply of quality cotton from which they could choose to produce a given fabric."

James Pendergrass
Pendergrass Gin
Wellman

"We've been in the Paymaster Certified Lint Block Program for three years," Mr. Pendergrass says. "Our acreage has increased from 1,200 the first year to 4,700 last year. Paymaster Certified growers consistently make more cotton, more profit per acre . . . and that was true even last year when the weather was bad. Paymaster Certified 111 is in demand by mills because of uniformity and good spinning qualities. For the grower, 'Certified' could be the difference between selling and not selling this year."

Burkey Slaughter
Grower
Brownfield

Burkey Slaughter has been in the Paymaster Certified Lint Block Program for the past three years . . . will stay with it this year. "It makes me money," he says, "and that's what I'm after. I get about $10 to $15 a bale more by being in the Certified Lint Block Program. Even with last year's depressed prices, I had better quality and got a higher price, so I feel I came out ahead. The market's for quality . . . and Paymaster Certified lint is what it takes to satisfy the demands of the mills."

March Of Dimes Hugh Success

The 1969 drive for the March of Dimes in the North Lea County, New Mexico Chapter has just completed a very successful campaign as reported by the Chapter Chairman, Mrs. Dessie Sawyer.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., was founded by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938. The purpose of which was to lead, direct and unify the fight against infantile paralysis. Its program now includes birth defects and arthritis in addition to polio. Funds are raised by contributions to the annual March of Dimes. There are more than 3,000 chapters that join in a nationwide program of patient aid and also contribute to research and education. By 1962 there were more than 50 March of Dimes supported medical centers for study and treatment of birth defects. Arthritis and polio are now in operation in many parts of the nation.

The National Foundation contributed to the building fund and supported the establishment of the Salk Institute for biological studies in San Diego, California. Since the drive was started by the National Foundation, polio epidemics have been eliminated and it is now thought possible that it will be exterminated in the United States.

Texas Original Garden Of Eden? New Mailing Address

The Lone Star State is now and always will be the greatest state in the union to a true Texan. But here is a new idea. Did you know that it also could possibly be the original "Garden of Eden"?

Recently charcoal recovered from prehistoric pits near Lewisville have been dated by the latest measuring techniques of Scientists, and the charcoal has been given dates of older than 37,000 years. That's more than twice the age of anything ever recovered from any archaeological site.

First indications that Lewisville might be "the cradle of world civilization" came in the 1950's during excavation of a Trinity River dam. Workers uncovered 21 fire-scarred hearths near the junction of Hickory Creek and the Elm Ford of the Trinity. Material recovered has proved to be the oldest ever found. Now the site is covered with a large lake.

Did you know? Texas is so big that it could accommodate 15 of the 50 states within its borders and still have 1,000 square miles left over?

Northern Texas employers filing wage and excise tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service should now send them to Southwest Service Center, 3651 S. Interregional Highway, Austin, Texas, 78740 instead of the district office.

Envelopes addressed to the service center are included in the tax-forms package mailed to employers.

Mr. Ellis Campbell, Jr. District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas said that mailing tax returns directly to the service center will save the government several million dollars a year in shipping and handling costs.

In Vietnam today, approximately 75% of all officers on duty have Army Reserve commissions or warrants.

THE U.S. ARMY RESERVE

The nation's working force includes about 40 per cent of the population. The remainder are too young to work, retired or handicapped.

About 13 per cent of the nation's workers in 1967 were employed by a federal, state or local government.

There are 363 fire protection districts in California with power to levy taxes and incur bonded indebtedness if approved by the voters.
