Library Service Offers Book Loans

Last year, Texas library users requested 225,985 items through Interlibrary Loan, a computerized procedure for borrowing and lending books. This free library service utilizes improved computer technology to locate books, magazines, newspaper articles or answers to factual questions that cannot be supplied by local libraries.

By following a pattern of searching first at the closest large library, then in Texas and finally throughout the country, Interlibrary Loan staff can supply almost any informational item.

Funded by the Texas State Library, Interlibrary Loan service absorbs all user fees except those for magazine articles that may need to be photocopied by out-of-state libraries.

Land Management Can Turn Profit

The goal of an irrigation farmer is to manage the land as cost effective and efficient as possible to return a profit.

Information on several options to maximize irrigation impact are available to producers through the Soil Conservation Service, says Charles Oswalt, Soil Conservation Technician.

One of the free services available is irrigation evaluations which offer a detailed study of irrigation systems and pumping units. This tells producers how efficient their systems are, gallons of water being utilized by crops, and water patterns.

Irrigation systems generally can be changed or improved to better the efficiency of the operation. Some items that usually improve efficiency are: Low angle impact sprinkler head installation, replacement of worn nozzles; and customizing the package for the available water.

Farming practices also effect the production and costs. Practices such as conservation tillage helps improve the soil and water usage through the utilization of residue left on the surface. The use of row dikers has proven to be a low cost effective way of controlling irrigation water and rain water. Crop rotation is very important in preserving yields. Crops such as sorghum and wheat rotated with cotton help improve the overall tilth of the soil. Technology had developed several useful tools and irrigator might use to determine when the crop actually needs irrigation; one item is the tensiometers which is installed in the ground at desired root zone depths. In dry soil water is drawn out of the instrument creating a vacuum which is registered on the gauge. An irrigation will reverse this.

Gypson soil blocks are another method which registers the percent of moisture on the ground. The neutron probe measures moisture in the ground by the use of radiation.

Farmers need to use good management on irrigated crops. This includes practical decisions on fertilizers, insecticides and herbicides.

The bottomline on irrigated acres is to make a profit. For further information contact the Soil Conservation Service at Plains.

HEAVY-DUTY BALERS

John Deere's 347 Square Baler offers heavy-duty components for high performance

If you demand high performance from your 14x18 baler, you should check out John Deere's beefy 347 Baler.

Up front, 156 hungry teeth help it gobble up all of today's wider windrows. An adjustable compressor floats with the pickup to give you consistent compression over bumps and dips. A beefy knoller, an optional Category 5 driveline and a fast plungerhead speed make solid bales and increase capacity.

If you want big capacity and durability, take a look at John Deere's 347 Baler. See one at your dealer's today.

Senior Citizens

by Evelyn Smiley

There is a saying, "No news is good news" and we will presume that is the status of the Center this week.

I spoke with Annie Wagley at noon today and she said Plains didn't get any of the nice rain Denver City received Saturday night, maybe they will fare better today.

Mr. Roy Jordan is in Yoakum County Hospital and Bonnie Arnold entered Methodist Hospital for tests Sunday afternoon.

The Friday night crowds are getting slimmer; less than twenty last Friday for Birthday Night. This Friday is snack night.

Those going to Lubbock Senior Citizens Jamboree Friday meet at the Center by 7 a.m. This year it is being held at the Memorial Civic Center.

Norman Carr is acquiring a new grandson the easy way; daughter Dianne's daughter, Carol Link, is getting married Aug. 3. Norman is making plans to go.

LIGHTING...

Significant reductions in energy used for lighting are possible through good management practices and use of energy efficient lamps and fixtures. Timers and automatic controls save additional energy. Too much light for some purposes is wasteful.

Plains Independent School District

From The Superintendent's Desk

This week I would like to talk about the 1985-86 budget building process. The first item to be considered in building the budget is personnel. We have eighty-five employees and their salaries alone make up approximately 55% of the budget. An additional 13% of our budget is reserved for instructional supplies - those items used in teaching children. These instructional items consist of paper, tools for shop classes, projectors, athletic equipment etc. It does not take a mathematician to see that 68% of our budget is directly related to the instruction of students. Maintenance, utilities, and transportation make up the additional 32% of the budget. These are all of the expenditure areas.

Our school district receives operating revenue from three sources, Federal, State and local. Approximately 5% of the total budget comes from State sources and 3% from federal funds, with 92% coming from local sources. Ninety-six percent of the funds from local sources are mineral related, and four percent from local real property. The tax rate for Plains I.S.D. in 1984-85 was $0.36 per $100. value, in comparison to the state average of $0.7679 per $100. value. Plains I.S.D.'s tax rate is half that of the average Texas public school's rate which is very good news for those who live in our school district.

Plains I.S.D. Board of Trustees and administrators continue in their endeavor to use your tax dollars in ways that will be most beneficial to our students.

To Be Held
In Plains Library

Electronic hearing tests will be given at the Yoakum County Library in Plains on Tuesday, July 30th, from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Arthur Wiebusch, professionally trained Hearing Aid Specialist will be at the library in Plains to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing is welcome to have a test, using modern electronic equipment to determine if the loss is one which may be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year—even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them. Only a hearing test can determine if you are one of the many, a hearing aid can help.

The FREE HEARING TESTS will be given at the library from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. If you are not able to come in, call 456-8725 for in-home service.
