She said applications are still being accepted in her office at the courthouse or at her home at 405 Austin after 5 p.m. Mrs. Merriott commented, "The sponsors carry most of the financial burden and a debt of gratitude is due them and our heartfelt appreciation. There have been many individual donations of money, time and labor to provide this worthwhile activity for the boys of our community and the surrounding area."

She added that it is hoped to have the District Little League Tournament in Muleshoe this year but it will be necessary to have more bleachers at the minor park before the tournament would be held here.

Cloud Seeding Opinion Poll Is On Ballot

A question will be posed in conjunction with the Tuesday election in Bailey, Hale, Lamb, Floyd, Briscoe, Cochran, Hockley, Motley and Hall counties.

The question "Weather modification by cloud seeding" is one of the amendment ballots in each of the above counties. There is a box to answer 'for' or 'against'.

The referendum was requested by members of the Farmers and Ranchers Association for Natural Weather, Inc. who maintain that the 1970 hail suppression program is responsible for decreasing rainfall.

The vote will not be legally binding, but the group is seeking the opinion of the public to the cloud seeding program.

H. M. LaFont, the attorney representing the group opposing the cloud seeding program said if the voters oppose cloud seeding operations, "then we'll take this permit thing to the courts."

He was referring to a permit issued to Atmospherics, Inc. by the Texas Water Development Board allowing the Plainview-based cloud seeding firm to seed potential storm clouds to dissipate hailstones.

Officers Honored By Local Group

A number of Muleshoe and area residents were at the Coral Restaurant Thursday night to help honor Bailey County's Law Enforcement officers and their families. The banquet was held during National Law Enforcement Week and was sponsored by the Muleshoe Support Your Local Police Committee.

Mistress of Ceremonies at the dinner was Mrs. Gene Lowe, president of the local group, who welcomed the guests and gave the principles of the Support Your Local Police Committee. She commented, "We are especially proud of our law enforcement officers in Muleshoe."

Mrs. Lowe read from the principles, "We believe that the first and most solemn responsibility of all public officials is to protect the lives and property of the citizens in the community. Our local police, who have been entrusted with this fundamental obligation, have fulfilled their duties admirably, justly earning a reputation as 'the thin blue line' protecting the law-abiding citizen from the lawbreaker."

Nearly all the officers in the county attended the dinner, and all officers and dispatchers at the dinner were introduced, including Texas Highway Patrolmen Joel Young and Gene Sisemore; DPS Driver's License Clerk, Mrs. Eugene Black; Sheriff Dee Clements and Deputies, Pete Black, Mrs. Howard Splawn and M. Four Amendments Will Be Considered

A light vote has been predicted Tuesday, May 18, when Texas voters go to the polls to vote on four proposed amendments to the constitution.

Some organized opposition has been noted for the amendments, especially amendments two and four and many organizations have come out in strong support of the amendments to be voted.

Polls will open in Bailey County at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Polling places for the Tuesday election are, All Voting Precinct One, Bailey County Courthouse; Voting Precinct Two, West Camp Baptist Church; Voting Precinct Three, American Legion Hall; Voting Precinct Four, Three Way School; Voting Precinct Five, Fellowship Hall, First United Methodist Church; Voting Precinct Six, Bula School; Voting Precinct Seven, Needmore Community Building and Voting Precinct Eight, Old City Hall.

Each of the four proposed amendments is briefly outlined below:

AMENDMENT ONE
The first amendment on the ballot will be to approve or disapprove the formation of a state ethics commission, whose assignment would be to help clean up the lawmaking process. The commission could, in addition, provide a pay raise for legislators and its presiding officers.

Approval would mean that a nine-member state ethics commission would be appointed, three each by heads of the Texas Supreme Court, Criminal Appeals Court and Judicial Qualifications Commission. One senator and one representative would serve ex-officio.

The commission could order each elector-appointed state official to file a complete confidential financial statement within 10 days after taking office. This statement could be used later for comparison if the commission considers an ethical violation incurred during the officeholder's term.

The commission would also recommend salaries and expense allowances for legislators, plus higher compensation for the lieutenant governor and speaker.

the principal objector to the Ethics Commission amendment, and view the amendment as an effort to get Democrats in the state office off the hook politically.

They also point out the resolution does not require the legislature advice about ethics or compensation, further that the commission would be appointed by judges whose pay is set by the Legislature.

Backing Amendment One are the Texas State Teachers and Texas Public Employees Association. They contend that it is the best arrangement that can be made for the foreseeable future to correct two things—ethics and pay—that are recognized as needing amending.

Opponents also argue that it would plant an inadequate system in the constitution, beyond reach of voters, and would result in pulling judges further into the political realm.

AMENDMENT TWO
The second amendment on the ballot would allow the legislature to submit constitutional changes at any time, including special legislative sessions.

Presently, the legislature's power to submit amendments is restricted to biennial regular sessions—140 days every two years, such as the current session which ends May 31.

One of the arguments used by proponents of Amendment Two is that Texas' constitution is too rigid and that more flexibility is needed for changing it.

On the other side, opponents contend that the increasing demand for revision is one of the best reasons for retaining the traditional system of amendment—to keep legislators from acting impulsively in attempting to change the constitution.

A number of the supporters of Amendment Two say times have changed, and that two years is too long between the seasons for offering changes in the constitution.

AMENDMENT THREE
If approved by voters, Amendment Three on the special ballot would hike the welfare aid ceiling and put an additional $80 million ceiling on state spending in four welfare categories.

The proposed amendment would remove the state-fund ceiling on old age assistance, aid to the blind and to the disabled, leaving only the aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) category under a new ceiling of $44 million.

The first welfare provisions were written into the Texas constitution during the 1930s, and the first ceiling was added in 1945. Recently, the welfare limit was changed in 1969 when Texas voters approved an amendment raising it from $60 to $80 million a year.

The Aid to Dependent Children rolls are growing approximately 11,000 children a month since June, 1970, and welfare officials said several factors have contributed to the increase, including law changes and court decisions, liberalizing eligibility, rising cost of living, unemployment and increased public awareness of the assistance available.

According to opponents of the proposal, spiraling welfare costs result in increased tax burdens on Texas. They say it might be better to seek cost-saving reforms in public assistance programs instead of authorizing larger expenditures.

The opponents also contend that while there are many genuinely needy on the state welfare rolls, there are also far too many 'freeloaders' and no more funds should be permitted under the Texas constitution until welfare reforms remove undeserving recipients.

Also against the amendment is that the federal government is preparing to take over the welfare program, and that defeat of the proposed amendment would be a step in the same direction, according to opponents of the amendment.

Those supporting the amendment contend that assistance grants may have to be cut off if the amendment fails, working an extreme hardship on those who have little or no other means of subsistence, and that the amendment would remove inflexible limitations on spending for the aged, blind and disabled.

AMENDMENT FOUR
Perhaps the most 'popular' and most discussed of the four amendments is the last amendment on the ballot. It is the so-called 'Clean Water Amendment' which would authorize the water development board to offer interest rates up to six percent on bonds and authorize $100 million in state bonds for 'water quality enhancement'!

The backers of the amendment say Texas communities would be helped in building adequate sewage treatment facilities, under a federal-aid program.

Two years ago, Texas voters narrowly defeated a proposed $3.5 billion in bonds for a comprehensive long-range water development program. Mainly responsible for the defeat of the amendment two years ago were voters in the Houston area, who now find themselves with a severe water shortage due to drought conditions. However, opponents of the proposed amendment on May 18, say the amendment is a backdoor approach to implementing a state-wide water development plan, although no such plan is indicated on the ballot.

It is expected Harris County (Houston) voting attitudes to be slightly different toward proposed Amendment Four this year when they go to the polls next Tuesday.

Backers of amendment four contend that its adoption is essential to abate the pollution of Texas waters.

The proposed $100 million of state bonds would become available for grants or loans to cities for waste treatment facility construction. Federal assistance on these projects would be increased from 33 percent to 55 percent.

Arguing against the amendment, the opponents say that local communities are increasingly shifting financial responsibilities and state government fiscal problems are mounting rapidly.

In three earlier constitutional amendment elections, Texas voters authorized a total of $400 million in water development bonds. The money can be used for loans to communities seeking to develop water supplies and for the state to buy additional storage in reservoirs where the government is financing the main dam. State bonds in the program must be repaid from future water sales.

a lot of people that we're out there to protect them, and hard for the motoring public to understand that we have their interests at heart, we are trying to save their lives," he continued.

"Lots of times there's a breakdown in communication and just because we talk doesn't mean we communicate. We need to let the public know our objective, why we're out on the highway. We are charged to enforce a law that is not our law, and the public is our stop valve, it means that if they don't like a law, change it, but as long as it is a law, uphold it and obey it."

"Only you can govern what the policemen do," added Freeman, and he spoke about the recent Texas legislation to upgrade officers and make them professionals, much the same as attorneys, doctors and other professional people.

In Muleshoe, the few officers who do not meet the new qualifications for a certified officer are attending school in Plainview, Lubbock and Levelland. Chief White, Sheriff Clements, Pete Black, Forrist Williams, Joe Albro, Mrs. Splawn and the Texas Highway Patrolmen are certified and Buddy Black and Bud Street are attending school and have nearly completed requirements for certification.

A question and answer session concluded the banquet.

Police may be unnecessary in the perfect world, but in the meantime, law and order depend upon police.

Muleshoe Hospital Auxiliary Has Annual Spring Meeting

At the annual spring meeting of the Muleshoe Hospital Auxiliary, held Wednesday, May 12, at 2:00 p.m. at the West Plains Hospital, the group voted to purchase a wheelchair for use in the Nursing Home. It was bought with money from the memorial fund, given in memory of Mrs. Lula Johnson by her grandchildren. The group also voted to give a scholarship of $250.00 for R.N. nurse's training to some worthy high school senior, who will return to Muleshoe to be a nurse. The recipient of the scholarship will be announced at a later date. Mrs. Paul Poyner and Mrs. Haney Poyner are co-chairmen.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. J.E. McVicker, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Royce Turner. Mrs. Harold Allison opened the meeting with the reading of the Auxiliary prayer. It was announced that a Bennett machine had been purchased for use in the hospital and Nursing Home, and a wheelchair for use in the Nursing Home. Money used to buy these items were made through the Christmas Card sponsored by the Aus-iliary at Christmas. The Christmas Card Project encourages people to make donations to the auxiliary instead of sending cards locally, and the names of donors are publicized the week before Christmas. The Auxiliary will sponsor this fundraising project again this December.

The annual Bridge Tournament, the Christmas Card Project, and the vending machines provide most of the revenue of the Auxiliary to buy equipment for the hospital and Nursing Home. The group voted to continue these projects again this year. The Christmas Card Project is headed by Mrs. Haney Poyner; Mrs. Gary Miller is in charge of the vending machines; and chairmen of the Bridge Tournament will be Mrs. Travis Bessire and Mrs. Doyce Turner.

Mrs. Gary Miller, a member of the nominating committee, read the following slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. J. E. McVicker, president; Mrs. Calvin Embry, first vice-president; Mrs. Paul Poyner, second vice-president; Mrs. Haney Poyner, third vice-president; Mrs. Johnie Prater, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Allison, corresponding secretary. Mrs. McVicker appointed the following committees; publicity, Mrs. Dick Chitwood; membership, Mrs. Robert Hooten; telephone, Mrs. Gene McGuire; volunteer service, Mrs. Clarence Mason, chairman, Mrs. Harold Cowan and Mrs. John Watson; historian, Mrs. Mabel Caldwell; newsletter, Mrs. Gordon Wilson; nominating committee, Mrs. Harold Allison, chairman, Mrs. Gary Miller, Mrs. Haney Poyner and Mrs. Willard Tibbets; hospitality chairman, Mrs. Charles Flowers; and memorials, Mrs. Charles Lewis.

An installation and salad luncheon is being planned for later this month. Mrs. Charles Flowers and Mrs. Royce Turner are in charge of arrangements. Being a member of the Hos-

Eighth Annual MHS Awards Assembly Held

Students Observe Shock Demonstration

Nobody is safe from electric shock, so don't let your body complete an electric circuit. This was the suggestion brought out by Joe Smetana, Safety Director for the Texas Farm Bureau, in a graphic demonstration held Monday, May 10, in the Muleshoe High School.

He illustrated this point and many others in the 45-minute demonstration using a variety of materials.

A model home, complete with special visual effects was used to trace electric current from the generator, through transformers, transmission lines, service entrance and "oversized" wall outlets.

Using special props, such as demonstration models of an "electro-graphic" man, electric drill, and toaster, Smetana pointed out where hazardous accident producing situations occur both inside and outside our homes as a result of using "faulty electrical equipment."

Junior Class Slave Sale Is 'Successful'

The annual Slave Sale was held Tuesday, May 4, by the Junior Class of Muleshoe High School. Each class selected four slaves and they were auctioned off by Coach George Washington.

HELLO, PLAYMATE--Speech II and Thespians honored one of Muleshoe High's "unlucky students", Jan Jinks, this past week with a practical joke. So-called lucky numbers were given to students for a special prize drawing. The lucky number "37" was owned by Jan Jinks. Her prize -- a picture in the Mule's Tale as "Playmate of May."

having "special lighting effects," Smetana warned his audience of the hazards associated with failing to unplug the toaster before cleaning, using an aluminum ladder near electric lines, flying a kite with wet or metallic threads in the string near electric power lines, and the dangers of a broken electrically charged line which has fallen over or near a wrecked automobile.

The average modern home has 120-volt or 140-volt, 60-cycle alternating household electrical current with a capacity of over 100 amperes. Electricity is constantly seeking "ground." Unfortunately the human body can complete the circuit.

Medical authorities agree that if the amount of current required to light a 15-watt bulb, which is only 1/10 of an ampere, should flow through your heart, death might result in just one second.

Smetana offers these prevention and protective methods: (1) make sure that your electrical system is "grounded" - connect the white neutral wire, or circuit-breaker box on the panel board, to a metal rod buried in the ground. Make sure that the green "ground" wire is connected throughout the building to each outlet or wall plug; (2) if you purchase the latest type portable electrical tool with the three-prong plug, don't clip-off that third prong.

Continuing with the props "fauly electrical equipment," Some of the accident producing situations graphically illustrated, included standing on damp ground or wet concrete, using or touching a grounded tool or appliance, or in contact with any piping system and allowing ordinary household current to pass through your body from defective equipment or accidental contact with conductors.

ing element, such as a radiant heater, some broilers, and a toaster; (5) consider the safety benefits of installing a "ground fault circuit interrupter." The GFI's complicated electronic circuitry senses trouble the moment any current greater than 5/1000 of an ampere (5 milliamperes) starts to flow to the ground through a person or any object not intended to carry it. Then with snapshot speed (as little as 25/1000 of a second) GFI snaps off the power. A flow of more than 15 amperes is necessary to blow the average household fuse or circuitbreaker.

The Silver Lining "Johnny, I am rather shocked. I have had a note from your schoolmaster in which he tells me that you are last in a class of thirty boys. What have you to say about that?"

Drug Education Workshop Attended

giving me the opportunity to attend the Drug Education Organization in Lubbock on April 28 and 29. The administrators, principals, and students who attended these meetings received a wide range of information and ideas from other area members. During the two days of the meeting the participants asked to preview films on drugs and to give their opinions on the age level which should see the films.

PUTT-PUTT-PUTT--Tuba player James Guley hitched a ride with Marilyn Pool at Six Flags over Texas. The young musicians, members of the Muleshoe High School Band visited the big theme park between Dallas and Fort Worth during a break in competition at the Six Flags Over Texas Concert Band Festival.

Band To Six Flags For Competition

The Muleshoe Mighty "M" Band returned from their trip last Sunday, May 9. The band left Thursday, May 6, at 6 a.m. They arrived at their motel in Euless around 6:30 p.m. After eating and unpacking the band went to La Mar High School in Arlington for their Thursday night band rehearsal.

Friday morning the band competed in concert at the Six Flags Inn. All the bands that participated were first division bands. To be eligible for the Six Flags contest they had to make a division I the year before at their concert contest. Some of the bands came from the surrounding states. The judges were: Paul Yoder, composer and arranger; George Wilson, Director of the National Music Camp and the Interlocken Arts Academy, and Wayne Walker, Director of Bands of Colorado State College. The Mighty "M" Band played two of the selections they played at UIL contest. They received a division II rating.

Friday afternoon the band returned to contest to listen to some more bands play. That evening they ate at the Bonanza Steak House, and afterwards went to Six Flags and had a good time.

Saturday morning the band went back to contest to listen to some more bands. In the early part of the afternoon Mr. Harvey took some of the members of the band shopping at the Six Flags Mall. The others stayed at the motel and took advantage of the great weather and went swimming and some caught up on their sleep. Saturday evening the band returned to Six Flags.

The buses were loaded at 6:30 a.m. Sunday morning. The band ate breakfast and had a devotional given by the band president, Mark Dillman. They headed home around 7:30 a.m. They arrived home around 9:00 p.m. after a short delay of fixing a flat on one of the buses in Abilene. All members of the band thoroughly enjoyed the trip. Everyone was a little tired out after the trip and were glad to be home. The band will present their Spring Concert May 18. They wish to invite everyone to attend. Tickets are going to be sold at the door. This money will be put into the uniform fund which is being supported by the Fine Arts Boosters. The band also wants to thank the Fine Arts members and everyone who has supported the band throughout this year.

Water, Inc. Supports Amendment Four

Directors of Water, Inc., have given strong backing to the "Clean Water Amendment," one of four constitutional amendments up for voter action next Tuesday (May 18). The "Clean Water Amendment" will be listed as proposition No. 4 on the ballot.

A resolution given unanimous approval by the Water, Inc. board notes that the amendment passage will reduce the local tax burden in providing adequate sewage treatment facilities, will help prevent improperly treated sewage from ruining public waters, will help avoid serious health problems

Mrs. Damron's Pupils To Have Piano Recital

The piano and organ pupils of Mrs. Sam Damron will be presented in the annual spring recital Thursday evening, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church. This will be a public recital and refreshments will be served in the church parlor following the recital.

Pupils participating in the recital and their program of music are as follows: Marilyn Black, Introduction and Rondo by Diabelli and Prelude in E Minor by Chopin; Genton Glaze, Icicles by McHale; Shannon Sowder, Sonata No. 2 by Al-lison and Minuet by Handel; Kelly Grogory, In the Eighteenth Century, Mozart, and Louisiana Bayou by Dungan; Tyree Wagon, Ballet School by Gill-ock; Mike Hunt, Tarantella by McDowell and Preludio by Bach; Laurie Young, Let's March by Glover; Lissa Brown, La Fleurette by Ward and Aria by Handel; Brent Gunter, The Big Bass Singer by Rolfe and The Moon by Allison.

Laurie Seay will present Tune Twisters by Eckstein; Brent Blackman, Sixth Viennese Sonata, Mozart, and Invention No. 14 by Bach; Kim Small, Wood-chopper's Song by Burnam and Argentina by Gillock; Linda Middlebrooks will play Invention No. 9 by Bach on the piano, and Canyon Walls by Clokey and Prelude and Fugue in G Minor by Bach on the organ; Karen Mayhugh will present Prelude in G Minor by Rach-maninoff and Toccata in D Minor by Bach; and Marshall Cook will present Postlude by Es-lava.

The amendment will provide $100 million in water develop-ment bonds earmarked for as-sistance to local governments in financing needed sewage treatment facilities, raise the maximum allowable interest on water development bonds from four to six percent, and extend programs for which the bonds may be used beyond 1982.

Bill Clayton, Executive Di-rector of Water, Inc., explained that passage of the measure is of vital importance to the continuation of the state's systematic development of its water resources. Singling out the increased interest rate lim-itation, Clayton said the move would "put us back in the bond market" with the almost $300 million bonds which already have voter approval, but have been unsalable because of bond market conditions. "Aside from the new $100 million which are earmarked for sewage treat-ment facilities, water develop-ment bonds are used primarily for development of municipal water facilities," he said. "Although most of these pro-jects will be in other parts of the state," Clayton said, "we must give them strong support in West Texas if we in turn seek support from other parts of the state for our projects of the future."

Many of the proposed pro-jects to be financed in part with water development fund bonds include provisions for storage space for water that will eventually be moved to more arid areas of the state such as West Texas.

Singling out the portion of the amendment calling for $100 million bonds for sewage treat-ment facilities, Gaston Wells, Dumas, President of Water, Inc., called the measure a "boon" to cities and towns. Proceeds from the bonds would be used for loans to local governments for the construc-tion of needed facilities, alleviating the heavy initial local financing load. At the same time, such state participation triggers additional federal as-sistance. Under present pro-cedures, local governments must come up with 70 percent of initial costs for sewage treat-ment facilities with the federal government supplying 30 per-cent. If the state participates, as it would after passage of the amendment, the federal gov-ernment furnishes grants tot-aling 55 percent of the cost, the state loan provides 25 percent, leaving only 20 percent to be financed through local money sources.

"Rivers and streams throughout Texas are being pol-luted through discharge of im-properly treated sewage," Wells said. "The Clean Water Amendment" passage will be a positive step toward cleaning up these public waterways," he added.

"Strong opposition to the amendment has developed down-state, particularly in the Hous-ton area," Wells said, "making it doubly important that West Texas turn out a heavy favor-able vote."

Vote For Amendment Four

Texasans will be going to the polls next Tuesday (May 18). Up for voter decision are four proposed constitutional amendments. One, Constitutional Amendment No. 4, could well be one of the most important measures West Texans will be called to vote on in many a day. The so-called "Clean Water Amendment" besides providing $100 million in water development bonds for assistance to local governments in construction of sewage treatment facilities, raises the maximum interest rate the state can pay on all water development bonds from four to six percent. This provision alone should insure overwhelming support.

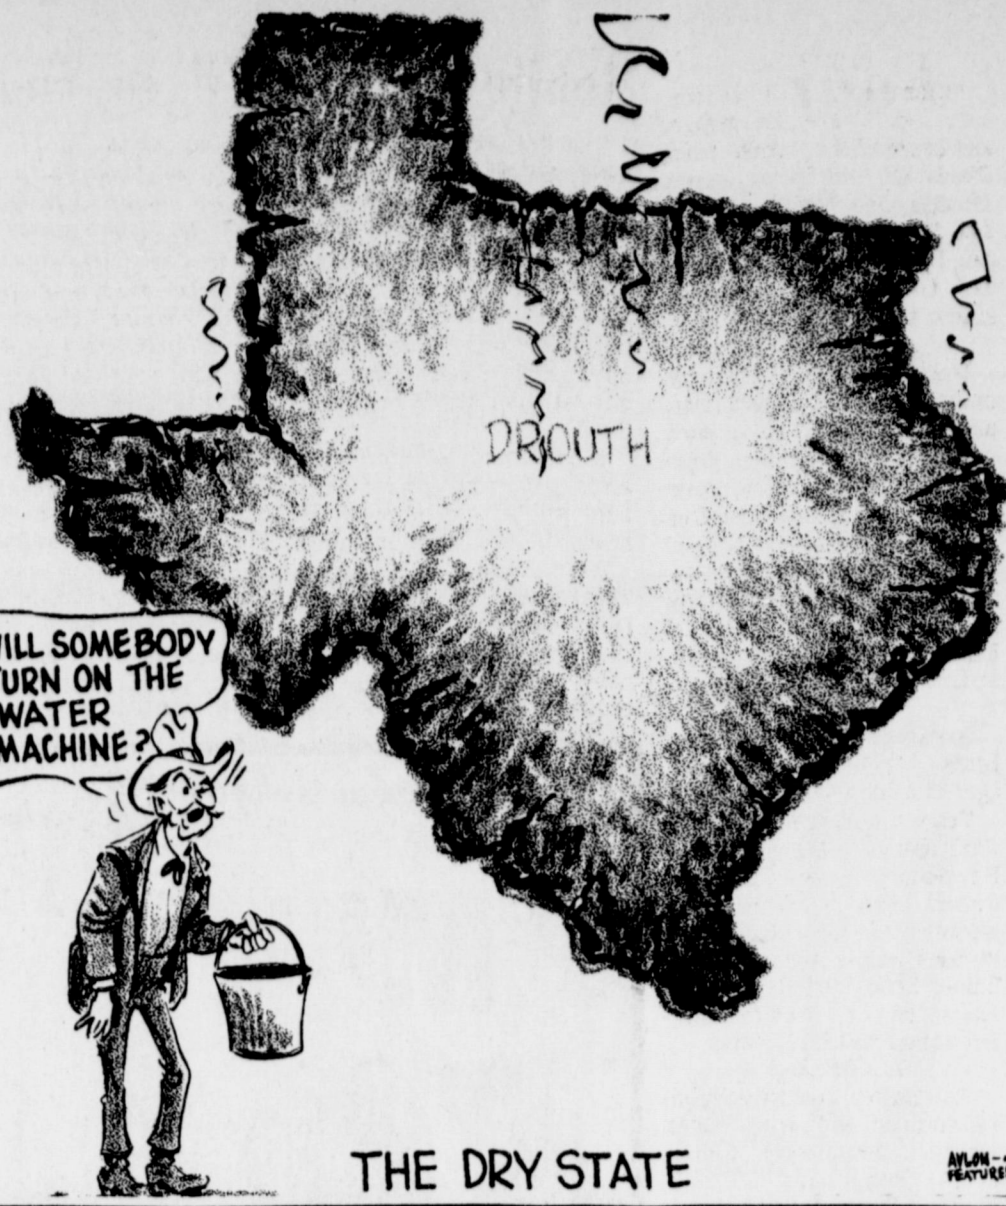

Water development bonds previously approved by Texas voters, almost $300 million of them, have been unsalable on the bond market, thanks to the unrealistic four percent interest ceiling rate. A hike of six percent provided in the amendment opens the way for use of the bonds, principally for construction of reservoirs for municipal water supplies. Storage space for surplus waters will be provided in many of the reservoirs, surplus waters that eventually will be used in part to feed a canal across Texas for bringing water to this arid area.

It's not enough to favor or be in agreement with planning for the future. We must back our convictions with action, in this instance by casting our votes for Constitutional Amendment No. 4.

ON LOCKHEED PAYMENTS
Deputy Secretary of Defense David R. Packard says government payments to the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. from a $200-million contingency fund to maintain production of C5A super transports will start next month. All 81 planes are expected to be delivered by February 1973.

POISONING & U.S.

The United States may be poisoning itself, the President's Council on Environmental Quality has warned. It urged passage of legislation proposed last February to fight "this growing national problem of potentially toxic substances."

Facts On Amendment Four

1. Constitutional Amendment No. 4 would provide for $100,000,000 in Texas Water Development Bonds earmarked for state assistance to local governments in construction of waste water treatment facilities, thereby clearing the way for increased federal matching funds.

a. Disposal of improperly treated wastes is causing a serious threat to the quality of the water supply in all parts of the state.

b. Approval of the bonds could reduce local moneys needed to provide new and improved waste water treatment facilities from 70% to 20%. (Under the present local-federal matching program for construction of waste water treatment facilities, the federal government supplies up to 30% of the cost of the facilities with the local governments financing 70% of the project financing. By bringing the state government into the financing program, and with the proposed facilities complying with both federal and state standards, the local share would drop to 20% of construction costs; the federal share rises to 55%, with the state bonds providing 25%.)

c. Assuming all Water Development Board bonds are sold, Federal construction money is available at the present formula rate, the state would be eligible for more than $180 million in Federal funds.

2. Constitutional Amendment No. 4 raises the maximum interest that can be paid on all Texas Water Development Bonds from the present 4% to 6%.

a. This provision applies to the $100,000,000 included in this amendment and earmarked for waste water treatment facility assistance as well as to about $300,000,000 previously approved and unsold bonds which are to be principally used for assistance in the form of loans for development of water supplies for cities and towns.

b. These previously approved bonds would be made available to cities and towns and other governmental entities whose financial situations would preclude needed financing through other sources.

c. Since most of these previously approved bonds would go into the construction of reservoirs, the state will be obtaining reserve storage space, thus providing a concrete beginning of implementation of the Texas Water Plan.

3. Constitutional Amendment No. 4 removes the 1982 cutoff date for assistance through the Texas Water Development Fund.

a. Under a continuing plan for total water resource development, a cutoff date cannot realistically be applied.

b. Because the 4% interest rate ceiling on water development bonds previously approved has rendered these bonds unsalable under existing market conditions during the past two years, the previously anticipated assistance program has been immeasurably delayed.

4. Constitutional Amendment Number 4 effectively binds water quality and water quantity together, paving the way for future cooperation between ecologists and the environmentalists on the one hand, and those who realistically support the full development of our water resources on the other.

5. A large turnout of eligible voters at the May 18 election is considered of paramount importance to the passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 4.

a. Because of other issues appearing on the ballot, it is presumed that many voters may be going to the polls to register a protest, making it essential that those who support Constitutional Amendment No. 4 go to the polls and register that support.

b. The last constitutional amendment involving water development—the amendment that would have provided financing for implementation of the Texas Water Plan—went down in narrow defeat, not at the hands of those who opposed it, but rather because those who supported the issue failed to go to the polls.

Legislature is specifically authorized and empowered to prescribe such limitations and restrictions and enact such laws as may be necessary in order that such federal matching money will be available for assistance and/or medical care for or on behalf of needy persons. "Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, modify, or repeal Section 31 of Article XVI of this Constitution; provided further, however, that such medical care, services or assistance shall also include the employment of objective or subjective means without the use of drugs, for the purpose of ascertaining and measuring the powers of vision of the human eye, and fitting lenses or prisms to correct or remedy any defect or abnormal condition of vision. Nothing herein shall be construed to permit optometrists to treat the eyes for any defect whatsoever in any manner nor to administer or to prescribe any drug or physical treatment whatsoever, unless such optometrist is a regularly licensed physician or surgeon under the laws of this State." No Regular Session shall be of longer duration than 140 days. In addition to the per diem, the members of each House shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed Two Dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for every twenty-five (25) miles, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel, from a table of distances prepared by the Comptroller to each county seat now or hereafter established; no member to be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after adjournment of the Regular or Called session. "(10) The commission is further authorized to recommend to each Legislature changes which will update, improve, and effect economy in the legislative process." Sec. 2. (a) The Texas Water Development Board shall upon direction of the Texas Water Quality Board, or any successor agency designated by the Legislature, issue additional Texas Water Development Bonds up to an additional aggregate principal amount of One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) to provide grants, loans, or any combination of grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature. The Texas Water Quality Board or any successor agency designated by the Legislature may make such grants and loans to political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas, including municipal corporations, river authorities, conservation and reclamation districts, and districts created or organized or authorized to be created or organized under Article XVI, Section 59, or Article III, Section 52, of this Constitu-of funds and without regard to the provisions in Section 49-c that such financial assistance shall terminate after December 31, 1982. "(e) Texas Water Development Bonds are secured by the general credit of the State and shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas. "(f) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character." Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on Tuesday, May 18, 1971, at which election all ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes, providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program, and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6% per annum."

Mayor Signs Proclamation For P H & T

PROCLAMATION The youth of America, on so many occasions in the recent past, have been maligned by undue focus on the controversial acts, albeit sometimes justified, of a few of their numbers. Rather than condemn, either their generation or their isolated acts, those who condemn might be wise to consider more persuasive and constructive approaches. The paths to such approaches, by which youth is guided, encouraged, challenged and served, are many and diverse. One such program, dedicated to the development of pre-teen boys, is the Official Major League Baseball Pitch, Hit and Throw Competition (PH&T). It offers to all boys, aged nine through 12, the opportunity to benefit from many types of experience that will contribute to their development and maturity. PH&T needs and deserves the support of all people and institutions of the City (or other jurisdiction) of Muleshoe. Now, therefore, I, L. I. St. Clair, Mayor of the City of Muleshoe do hereby proclaim the period of May 15 through May 22 as PH&T Week in this City and I urge all eligible boys to register to take full advantage of its potential for bettering their lives and the future of all our citizens.

Bailey 4-H'ers Will Assist Texas Center

Bailey County 4-H members will be calling on local citizens to purchase a bar of World's Finest Chocolate, May 7-21 as part of a statewide effort to raise funds for a Texas 4-H educational center. Joe Harbin local 4-H leader, who is heading the county sales campaign, says the county sales goal is 15 bars per 4-H member. The bars will sell for a dollar each. A State 4-H Center is badly needed says Harbin; since the Texas 4-H program does not own any type of training or camping facility. The proposed center is being developed by the Texas 4-H Foundation, says Harbin, and will cost approximately one million dollars. It will accommodate about 175 people. The center will be a focal point for camping-type programs, 4-H leader training, citizenship seminars, leadership training labs, international 4-H activities, project training and other Extension Service activities. When not in use by 4-H, the center will be available to other groups with educational programs. While the 4-H'ers themselves make their contribution, a statewide development council composed of business leaders will help raise the balance of the funds, Harbin concluded.

Mobile X-Ray Will Be Here To Make Tests

The Christmas Seal Mobile X-ray unit will be in Muleshoe in Tuesday, May 25, and Wednesday, May 26, sponsored by the Rotary, Lions and Jaycees. It will be in downtown Muleshoe from 2 p.m. - 6 p.m. on May 25 and on May 26 it will be at Muleshoe High School from 7:30 a.m.-11 a.m. and 12 noon until 5 p.m.

Members of the three civic clubs sponsoring the x-ray unit here will be working during the hours the unit is in operation. West Texas area of Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association has begun the concentrated campaign to have as many citizens as possible x-rayed by the Christmas Seal Mobile Unit.

The chest x-ray program discovers many other abnormalities other than tuberculosis. In the past year, it has located emphysema cases, lung cysts, and cardio-vascular abnormalities.

WTA bears the cost of having the film read and reported to each person in the survey. There is a fee of $1.50 for the film and developing. A post card is mailed to those having a normal chest film. The ones who have an abnormal reading are notified by first-class letter which urges them to contact their private physician, or the local health officer for further information. Everyone is urged to keep the card with the number of his x-ray film and the date taken. These films are stored at the office of the association, and can be valuable for comparison purposes if some trouble develops in later years.

Disaster Loans Now Available

Farmers Home Administration State Director J. Lynn Futch announced that Bailey County has been designated by the Secretary of Agriculture for the making of emergency loans to farmers and ranchers who have sustained substantial losses on account of the drought. This designation will continue in effect through June 30, 1972, and will authorize emergency loans to be made to those persons who suffered substantial losses from any adverse weather conditions, such as high winds, hail, or floods, that have occurred or might occur during the period of this designation, said Clinton Kennedy, manager of the local FHA office. Funds are available and applications for such loans may be made at the FHA county office located at 115 East Avenue D, Muleshoe.

We extend our heartfelt congratulations to all the young men and women of this area who will be graduating this year. You have achieved a worthy goal and are to be commended. Follow The Signs

Imagine yourself in a train depot in a foreign country, and the signs are in a language unfamiliar to you. You know that the signs are there to direct you, and you try to figure them out, but despite your best efforts you are not sure of your interpretation. The natural thing to do then, is to check with an attendant and have him explain things to you.

The Bible is a sign given to us, and directs us in a pathway of living. Interpreting these directions is not always easy, so the natural thing to do, should be to seek someone to help us. Our churches have many trained personnel who are familiar with the language of the Bible. Attend Church this week and follow God's way of life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
