Popular Styles On School Campus

Summer vacation is almost over and soon the gong will sound out the call to learning once more. Muleshoe pupils will again take their places, many for the first time, and many for the last time in Muleshoe High School. During the remaining days before the official opening, September 2, high school girls are staying busy with one of the most important factors of school days—appropriate styles for all occasions on the campus. Selecting these is of all-importance to the young miss. Models are pictured wearing some of the most flattering creations which will be popular this season.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By REV. J. FRANK PEERY

(An Informative Opinion)

FLAG OF MERCY

The Red Cross was born one hundred years ago in order to humanize war. War has changed a lot since then, especially since 1945, and so the Red Cross must change, too. In Geneva, during early August, delegates assembled themselves from all over the world for the centenary celebration. During an age of nuclear threats, race riots, and subversion the Red Cross must change. The organization faces the dynamic question of where and how the flag of mercy best be flown.

There are, in fact, two Red Crosses. First, the 88 national societies, whose role in peacetime is to provide emergency relief (Skopje is a classic case), coordinated by their headquarters in Geneva. In wartime, each society becomes an auxiliary of its own forces' medical services. Then, much more controversial, there is the International Committee of the Red Cross, which despite its name is wholly Swiss. In a big white building overlooking the Palais des Nations (The U. N.) and the deep blue water of Lake Geneva, this unpaid body of eighteen distinguished Swiss citizens and their staff act as the largely self-appointed watchdogs of the Geneva conventions. Its passport is the prestige of Swiss neutrality. Inspecting prison camp, tracing missing persons, re-uniting families, upholding international humanitarian law, help to war-disabled, and distribution of relief supplies are a few I. C. R. C. duties.

In the summer of 1962, while in Geneva, I visited and talked with I. C. R. C. president Leopold Boissier, a tall, dignified Genevese aristocrat of 70 years. Mr. Boissier made it quite clear that the I. C. R. C. stands on legal precedent and is wary of barging into a conflict unless clearly invited. It goes out of its way to avoid provoking or offending governments, and justifies this on the grounds that to make enemies might spoil its chances of being really useful in a major crisis. The I. C. R. C. is entirely non-religious.

This may be true. But, how much longer can Switzerland go on being really neutral? Her neutrality made sense in an age of European rivals; today in a world of ideological and racial conflicts, she stands out clearly as white, Christian, and capitalist.

In a big classroom-type building behind the main building stands the Central Tracing Agency, a universal information bureau that deals with enquiries concerning missing military personnel of civilians. In 1961 it dealt with 90,000 inquiries and made 20,000 searches for missing persons still related to wars since 1940. This agency has 45 million cards representing 15 million cases examined.

In the next building is the International Tracing Service, which was entrusted to the I. C. R. C. in 1955. There are 25 million cards, and 8 million cases already have been handled. Love ones are still being re-united after years of separation.

FRANKLY SPEAKING — When in 1863 Henry Durant, a citizen of Geneva, founded the "Committee to give relief to the wounded of Armies in the field," he had no thought that the red cross on a white ground would serve the world. May the Red Cross hold its own in today's world. The Swiss are still the best neutrals we have.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor: Like most of our people, I am deeply concerned about the August 28 march on Washington. Sympathy marches are being scheduled for every major city in the United States.

I don't like the fact that a Negro march will be staged in Austin before the governor's mansion and that a newly organized white group are going to march in protest of the negro march. It seems an ideal set up for the worst kind of trouble. Sincere, patriotic citizens in both groups can be misled and incited to riot by communist or communist sympathizing leaders. Mrs. Wills in speaking to the Bailey County Women's Committee and their guests stated that dedicated, patriotic citizens fought to place Tito of Yugoslavia in power. Only after he had gained his goal, did he let his people know that he was a communist dictator.

It only serves the enemy forces for us to war against our own people. Our enemy is the communists within our national boundaries and the communists of the rest of the world. How can we fight the radical strife if communist incited and directed? The stage is being set for a revolution. Every nation on the face of the earth that has become a communist nation has done so by a communist led revolution. No nation has ever voted for communism. Russia had far less communists members when the Bolshevik led communist revolution overthrew the Russian government in 1917 than we have in the United States today. Can we doubt that the communists have the same fate scheduled for our own proud United States?

I sincerely hope that the communists have underestimated the American people. That the American people will refuse to be incited and goaded into supporting and fighting for the clever communist leaders who would lead us in a war against our fellow citizens. Our citizens will need all the patience and fortitude that we possess, and God's guidance to survive the August 28th march without a fatal rift between our Negro and white citizens. We cannot allow this to happen because, divided by communist led revolution, we will surely fall.

Adams Discusses Cost, Income Ratio on Cotton

By J. K. ADAMS
COUNTY FARM AGENT

Managing to get maximum income over expenses from the 1963 cotton is going to be a problem to many Bailey County farmers, says J. K. Adams County Agricultural Agent. Due to adverse weather, much of our cotton crop was planted after June 10. This late planting can still give net income, but the skill normally required in getting this net income is greater than cotton planted in earlier June, April or May says, County Agent Adams.

Late-planted cotton will normally take 120 to 130 days from planting to the first open boll. June 10 planted cotton would have its first open bolls around October 8 to October 18. Cotton planted on June 25 would produce open bolls around October 23 to November 2.

Cotton planting studies at Lubbock Experiment Station indicate an average of 739 pounds of lint was received from June 10 plantings, 499 pounds of lint from June 21 planting, and 247 pounds of lint received from June 30 planting.

Faced with this yield potential, our cotton producers must keep close tab on dollars spent to produce late-planted cotton.

Under irrigated conditions, a small return above expenses can be received from June 21 and June 30 planting if and only if constant watch is maintained on timing of cultural practices.

General rules to follow on late-planting June 20 cotton planting are:

1. Don't irrigate cotton during the growing season more than one time.
2. Keep a constant record of expenses in the crop. Don't let dollars spent get so high where you can't possible break even.
3. Plan your crop to be mature around middle of October.

The Veterans Administration pioneered in establishing "half-way houses" for mental patients in the final stage of their rehabilitation.

The object of the Veterans Administration's rehabilitation program is to return the disabled or handicapped veteran to his own community as an independent.

The veterans Administration disburses 170,000 burial flags annually.

Of the 29 million names in the Veterans Administration's master index file, Smith is the most common, appearing 225,000 times. It is followed by Johnson, 149,000; Brown 121,000; Williams and Jones, 109,000 each; and Miller.

Murphy to Speak at PCG Meeting

Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, the high-ranking administrative government official to speak to a High Plains audience in recent years, will address the eighth annual meeting of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium September 12.

The meeting, scheduled to open at 10 a.m. will include the election and installation of officers, a financial report, and a report to the membership on the past year's activities. Lunch will be served at noon and Murphy will speak immediately afterwards.

Door prizes to be given at the meeting consist of two all-expense paid trips. One prize will go to a ginner and the other to a cotton producer, with each having a choice of either a trip to the Ginner's Convention in Dallas or on the tour of Textile mills sponsored by the producer organization each year.

The Under Secretary, who is chairman of the Department of Agriculture and serves as Acting Secretary in the absence of the Secretary, is expected to give those present first hand knowledge of the current thinking in that department. Murphy has been Under Secretary since 1961, and has a general supervisory responsibility for all the Department's activities and agencies in addition to special responsibilities.

He is Chairman of the Budget Committee of the Department of Agriculture and President of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The Veterans Administration's records show that the average veteran who received readjustment allowances of $20 a week while seeking employment, required the allowance for only six weeks.

A total of 7,800,000 World War II veterans—more than half the total of 15 million who served in that war received education and training under the GI bill.

The "big three" benefits of the GI Bill of June 22, 1944, were education and training, GI loans and handicapped veteran to his own the GI loan program is still actively being supervised by the Veterans Administration today.

DO I BELONG TO ME?

In our beloved land we have always cherished the great tradition of individual freedom and initiative. We despise regimentation and coercion. They destroy human dignity. It is a great heritage that is ours when we are able to say, "I belong to myself." I can say what I think or write as I please. I can climb as high as my abilities permit. I can be

"Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief, Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief," for "I belong to me." I can be a Republican or a Democrat, a Presbyterian, Baptist or a Roman Catholic, or nothing if it pleases me better. I can go where I wish from North to South, from East to West. I can dig coal or write books, depending on my talents.

There is a spiritual corollary, however, to the proposition, "I belong to me," and without the corollary the great tradition will be cut down. The other side of the coin is that no man is to be used merely as a means while I am climbing. He, like myself, is an end in himself because he is a child of God.

In truth "I belong to me," but at the same moment, I am responsible both to my fellow men and God. I am not free to exercise my freedom and initiative to the hurt of other men. I am free primarily to do as I ought under the sovereignty of God.

We should be free, but free as men and women responsible to society and to God, and worthy of the life we prize.
