Monument To Boys Celebrates Anniversary

Editor's note: Feb. 7th to 13th is Scout Week. The 50th anniversary of the founding of the world's largest boys movement will be celebrated in Muleshoe with the holding of the annual Boy Scout Banquet in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. Special scouting awards will be made, and Rev. Don Bales will be the guest speaker.

The year that gave birth to Lord Baden Powell's Boy Scouts Movement, was a significant one in many respects. For just fifty-six years ago . . . in 1908 . . . the Federal Bureau of Investigation was established in the United States. In that same year, Admiral Peary set sail for the arctic to find the North Pole and Orville Wright made another successful flight in his flying machine. The manufacture of automobiles passed the fifty thousand mark . . . while in a small English country town, an experimental boys camp was to mark the beginning of a vast, international framework of a boys organization uniting all nations, races and creeds. This non-military, non-political and interdenominational movement was and is The Boy Scouts . . . first developed by a major general of the British Army who was later to become Lord Baden Powell.

Born in London, England, on February 22nd, 1857, Robert Baden Powell was the sixth son of an Oxford professor. He was educated at Charterhouse, and in 1876, began his army career with the 13th Hussars regiments, which served in India and South Africa. Among his many accomplishments, Baden Powell organized the first African constabulary.

It was during his long army career that Lord Baden Powell first became aware of the great need to help and encourage young people . . . particularly boys. And while many people believed that the handling of boys should be done through better schools . . . or through harsher disciplinary measures, Baden Powell knew that there was a better way. To begin with, he did not assume boys to be wayward or delinquent. As a matter of fact, he found them curious, eager to learn and hungry for news of their hero. Every day, Lord Baden Powell's mail was filled with letters from boys wanting to know more about his adventures in India and South Africa. Most particularly they asked for tips on how to survive in the jungle . . . how to hunt and trap and build fires. Soon, boys societies and clubs were also asking for suggestions and messages which could be read to their various groups.

Thus it was that Lord Baden Powell decided to set up a camp where he could talk to the boys en masse . . . where they could put into practice some of the things he had written about to them. Lord Baden Powell's experimental camp of 1907 proved so successful that it was to spread throughout the whole world within a few years. It was in conjunction with this first Boy Scouts camp on Brownsea Island, of the coast of England, that Baden Powell published his "Scouting For Boys" a handbook that came out originally in bi-weekly parts and which was to become the guide book for Boy Scouts for generations to come . . . filled as it was with fascinating material about the work of backwoodsmen, explorers, hunters, seamen, airmen, pioneers and frontiersmen.

Based on a code of honor, and designed to unite boys in active self-expression, Lord Baden Powell's Boy Scouts Movement functioned and grew because it inspired boys to learn for themselves, rather than relying upon passive reception of instruction. The Scout Law, on which the movement hinges and which is binding among Scouts, was taken from the code of ancient English Knights. In brief, this code leads a Scout to be trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, clean.

Teachers' Salaries In Texas Are Below National Average

AUSTIN — Texas public school teachers this year will receive a salary almost $500 below the national average — and Texas will drop to 29th place among the states in salaries paid teachers.

That was the statement today by Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Corpus Christi, state president of the Texas State Teachers Association. She based her statement on an annual national survey by the National Education Association, "Estimates of School Statistics, 1963-1964."

Nationally, the average salary for teachers is estimated to be $5,963 for the current school year. In Texas the figure is $5,390.

This drops Texas to 29th position among the states. It is down from the 24th position Texas held temporarily after the last statewide teacher pay boost was provided effective for 1961-62. There is danger that the state will slide further behind.

The total amount spent for each school child — including teacher pay — is one measure of how well a State supports education. And here again Texas is below average.

All 50 states will spend an average of $455 for each public school pupil in attendance this year, Texas will spend only $387. This puts Texas in a tie with Vermont for 35th.

Muleshoe C of C Invades Dallas In Business Search

Muleshoe invaded Dallas in search of a manufacturing plant last week when Roy Davis, chamber of commerce manager, traveled to Dallas to attend the National Canners Convention.

He went prepared with a special edition of the Muleshoe Journal which featured stories detailing vegetable and other farm product activities here during 1963.

The paper was distributed to delegates to the convention and caused much interest in the area. Davis was contacted by several canners interested in detailed information on the area.

One tomato canner in particular showed interest in the local tomato crop, and may possibly contract some acreage this year. This particular canner has not contracted before in the Muleshoe area, and thought $30 per ton a "good" price.

There were more than 5,500 delegates at the conclave.

4 D.E. Students Enter San Angelo Competitions

County Must Act Soon Or Lose Bookmobile Chance

The question of whether or not Bailey County will have improved library facilities will come to a head within ten days.

Bailey County Friends of the Library Association Friday asked County Judge Glenn Williams to either call a special meeting of the commissioners court or make room on the agenda of the regular meeting for a discussion and vote on the matter.

The judge stated he was unable to set a day for a special meeting without consulting the commissioners, but would check with them and advise the group of when the meeting might take place.

The meeting is expected to be of great interest to observers as the commissioners court is sharply divided on the matter, according to public statements made by the various commissioners.

However, a decision must be made at this meeting one way or another because only so many bookmobiles are available under the state plan. There will be one available shortly which is scheduled to be used in Bailey and another county if the commissioners act favorably.

If they fail to act or vote down the $80,000 state plan, library hopes in Bailey County go down the drain as the bookmobile will be used elsewhere in the state.

It is expected that bookmobile service will start in Bailey County in early March if the commissioners heed the request of the over 300 strong members of the library association. Presently the state is processing new books with which to stock the library. According to Charles Gholtz of the Texas State Library over 6,000 books have already been processed and earmarked for Bailey County.

If the commissioners vote in favor of the bookmobile program here, it is expected that another county will follow suit immediately. Because those commissioners look upon it favorably.

The program will provide for two years:

1. A bookmobile and all expenses for its upkeep.
2. A balanced stock of between 8,000 and 10,000 books
3. All other necessary supplies
4. A bookmobile librarian and salary.
5. A bookmobile driver and his salary.
6. A clerk and his salary.

None of the above will cost the county anything for two years. At the end of the two year trial period the county is expected to (See Library Page 4)

Plainview Provides A Casebook Study On How To Obtain Plant

The High Plains Sugar Beet Growers Association has a definite procedure to get beet sugar acreage allotment for this area and a sugar refinery constructed in Plainview.

Ruthardt Announces Candidacy

Floyd B. Ruthardt has announced his candidacy for the office of county commissioner precinct no. 1.

Ruthardt first moved to Bailey County in 1949 and has farmed near Muleshoe for the past six years.

He attends the Nazarene Church and has three married children, one in Muleshoe Junior High School. He is a property tax payer and is 49 years old.

Ruthardt has had experience in working county roads and state Hi-ways. He was in the grocery business for 10 years.

Ruthardt states he believes he has sufficient business experience to handle county finances properly.

Brown & Root of Houston, one of the Southwest's strongest engineering and construction firms, submitted an economic survey showing the project is feasible.

The plan envisions that capital would be obtained by a loan. Growers would be required to take some equity from their beet payments, owning an interest in the refinery in return. An arrangement would be made to obtain a management and operation contract.

Representatives of the growers, using the Brown & Root report, and accompanied by its representatives, were in Denver to seek an accord with President Frank Kemp of Great Western Sugar Company to manage and operate the plant.

Next step they will be to present the area's case in Washington before the sugar division of the USDA, which allocates sugar quotas.

More than 100 farmers and businessmen meeting Friday morning heard George Darnelle of Brown & Root, Inc. He said the plant is feasible up to $21,000,000 under conditions of acceptable management, and local growers contracting to grow beets and acquire an equity in the plant.

"We don't think the plant will cost twenty-one million," Darnelle told the group, "but we want funds enough so that we won't run out of money before the job is finished."

Starting Friday representatives in communities all over the region solicited farmer commitments for beet acreage. Within a week Plains farmers will have to commit themselves to grow 25,000 acres of beets for a ten-year period, beginning when a mill is ready for operation.

The commitments are to be presented to the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., within the week before it will consider making acreage allotments for this region.

TIPS ...

FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT By JEAN MARTIN Co. Home Dem. Agent

Buying furniture on credit? Have you stopped to think how much you're going to pay for the privilege of using that furniture before you actually own it?

Family economists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture say that most people have only a vague notion about the cost of installment credit. They do not realize that interest may be computed in several ways — with considerable difference in the overall cost to the borrower.

Three methods are in general use. They are the add-on, the discount rate, and interest on the unpaid balance.

Now, say you need $360 for that furniture you are planning to buy. Let's see what it would cost you under each of the three methods if the interest rate is 9 percent and you pay off the loan in 24 monthly installments.

With the add-on method, you would pay 2 years' interest on $360 even though the amount you owe would become smaller with each payment. In all, you would pay $424.80 and your monthly payments would be $17.70.

If you get a discounted loan, you will need to borrow $439.02 to get $360 cash, because all the interest on the loan is subtracted before any money is turned over to you. Monthly payments would run $18.29.

Now consider a loan on which the interest is three-fourths of 1 percent a month on the outstanding balance. This is 9 percent a year. Your total payments would add up to $393.75. Your monthly payments would be $16.41.

and the loser will be barbecued for the annual meeting in October.

the group. "But we are sure you can do the job."
"We need about 500 pieces of paper signed by next Wednesday," Garrison told the gathering. Community representative assignments were to be made and community meetings planned for an afternoon meeting.
Economic Evaluation
Darnelle told the gathering that Brown - Root had completed an economic evaluation of the Plainview region as basis for borrowing funds for the sugar mill.

"Sugar processing is a sound industry, but it is not one to give monetary returns in proportion to the cost of mills which are tremendously expensive," Darnelle pointed out.
"Sugar processing mills are more beneficial to the farmers and to the economy of their location than to investors," Garrison told the group in urging that farmers come through promptly with commitment to grow enough beets to operate a mill.
Garrison urged that farmers accepting responsibility of signing up their neighbors sign commitments before they started out to "sell" the proposition.
"If you don't want to grow sugar beets we have rather know it today than later," Garrison said.

In making the commitments farmers will agree to "invest an amount not to exceed two hundred dollars per acre" out of proceeds of the beets. It is estimated that on this basis farmers after ten years, maximum time they will commit themselves to take equity in the project, would have a $5,000,000 equity in the mill.
"The sugar mill would belong to you farmers," Darnelle told the group.
The group was told that individual allotments would be decided by a board elected to parcel out the acreage to farmers.
The question "What if we sign up 40,000 acres?" was asked from the audience.
"The more the better," was the reply from Garrison.

Graddy Tunnell, attorney for the beet growers organization, presented the acreage commitment form which after some changes was adopted by vote.
This is the form growers are asked to sign:
I, _____ own or operate _____ acres of irrigated farm land in _____ County, Texas. As if the United States Department of Agriculture will allot sugar beet acreage to the "PLAINVIEW, TEXAS AREA" I will grow _____ acres of sugar beets on an industry standard sugar beet contract for a term not to exceed ten years with a responsible sugar processor. I further state that I intend to invest an amount not to exceed two hundred dollars per acre of allotment granted me in an acceptable equity financing plan in the company formed to process sugar beets produced from my farm.

In 1910, Lord Baden Powell retired from the army after receiving many honors from his own country and foreign governments. He was then able to devote all his time to the mushrooming Boy Scouts Movement, which by then numbered over 123,000 members throughout the expanding British Empire. Meanwhile, in this country, as far back as 1905, an American magazine editor by the name of Dan Beard, had issued a book similar to Lord Baden Powell's "Scouting for Boys." Titled "The American Boy's Handbook," Beard's guide gave tips on camping out and woodcraft, Beard's interest in the boys of America led to the formation of a group known as "The Sons of Daniel Boone" . . . an organization which, in 1910, joined with many others to form the Boy Scouts of America.
By 1918, Boy Scouts groups were being organized in almost every country in the world.
Then, in 1920, the first international meeting or Jamboree of Scouts was held in Olympia, London. Scouts of twenty-six different nations took part. Out of this meeting the first international council was formed.
January 24th marks the 56th Anniversary of the first public description of Scouting for boys in England . . . a movement that spread throughout the world with in a handful of years. Why did this Movement spark the imagination of boys as well as their parents? The answer can perhaps best be found in Lord Baden Powell's original concept of boys and what they wanted of adults. For when Baden Powell began answering letters from boys around the world, he discovered that they wanted to learn things . . . and that they wanted to share their enthusiasm. Today, the Interna-pay its share of the bookmobile's operational cost. It is expected the cost will be approximately $7,200.

During the two years period the county would provide a headquarters building, utilities, air conditioning, telephone, janitor service and shelving for the books.
The county commissioners and Judge Williams have taken the stand publicly that they agree we need improved library facilities but can not afford the cost without a raise in tax evaluations.
Many members of the Library association believe the county might be able to afford the cost if some areas of the county business are put on a business-like basis.

reasons that TSTA will ask the 1965 Legislature to provide a $45 per month increase in the minimum salary for teachers," Mrs. Little pointed out.
Such a salary increase could not be effective before the 1965-66 school year, the TSTA president noted. Meantime, other states will continue to make improvements and it is probable that Texas will again be near the 24th position it held on teacher salaries before the Texas Legislature acted in 1961.
"The $45 for 65' program will not solve the problem completely," Mrs. Little, a first grade teacher, said. "But it will prevent Texas from falling farther behind in the race for excellence in education."
Harvard won the 1963 Eastern hockey title with a 4-3 victory over Boston College.
