NATURAL GAS PROPOSITION PUT UP TO WINTERS C. OF C. LAST WEEK

Last Friday afternoon S. K. Murdock of Rising Star, was in the city representing Messrs. Flannigan, Morton and Falls and put before the Chamber of Commerce a proposition to pipe natural gas into Winters from Cross Cut. He stated his people had several gas wells in that section and that the supply was estimated at some sixteen million cubic feet per day from all the wells.

Mr. Murdock's proposition was that they would pipe the gas into Winters at their own expense and would lay mains over the entire city, the minimum monthly charge to be $2.00 with a rate of seventy-five cents per thousand.

To secure this gas Winters is asked for a 20 year franchise and to secure 350 signatures to use this gas when it is ready to be turned on.

If the proper number of signatures are secured and the franchise granted, Mr. Murdock stated they would put up a bond that they would fulfill their contract and would have gas in Winters ready for use in six months' time. They also proposed to maintain offices and gas fixtures store here.

In the matter of rates it was stated that gas for commercial purposes—running gins, boilers, etc., would be sold at 50c per thousand.

It is some fifty miles from here to Cross Cut and it is proposed to lay an eight inch pipe into Winters. It is stated that with this storage capacity the gas could be cut off at Cross Cut for eight hours without diminishing the supply of gas in Winters.

This is a proposition which Winters should not fail to put over, for it means a long stride in the onward march for a bigger and better Winters.

When this proposition is fully investigated and the time comes to sign on the dotted line, let's fall over each other in the securing of those 350 signatures as gas consumers and keep on "Wining With Winters."

Paint produces a magical effect.

PAY YOUR STREET TAX

The annual street tax of $3.00 is now due and the City Marshal is collecting and receiving for same. No other funds are available for street maintenance for the year, and every resource of the city government will be behind the Marshal in collecting this tax. This money goes for something that is just necessary to the citizens of this town as shoes or clothing and the only concern that need be felt is whether or not it is wasted. I promise to spare no time or trouble in seeing the money is well spent, and that full value is received for every dollar of it. Please pay the Marshal promptly as much work is now being done that must be paid for.—A. F. Roberts, Mayor.

McAdams Re-Elected Director of W. T. C. C.

John Q. McAdams, Cashier of the Winters State Bank, received last week from Porter Whaley at Stamford, the following letter informing him of his election as a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the current year:

Stamford, Texas, May 11, 1925.—Mr. J. Q. McAdams, Winters, Texas. Dear Mr. McAdams: It gives me a great deal of pleasure to advise you that you have been elected a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the current year. I believe that the board elected at Mineral Wells is one of the strongest we have ever had.

I will be getting in touch with President Lee in a few days and he will then authorize me to announce the place and date for the meeting of the executive board.

Assuring you that it is a pleasure to have you on the Board, and with cordial best wishes, I am, Respectfully yours,—Porter Whaley.

Turning Down Legitimate Business

The Enterprise is in receipt of the following letter from a large Department store at Abilene:

"Winters Enterprise, Winters, Texas, Gentlemen:

We are inclosing an ad for the next edition of your paper.

"Please set it up in light type and follow the layout I enclose as nearly as possible."

"Luck to You"

HERE'S OUR ANSWER

Gentlemen:

Ad copy and letter received and we wish to thank you for sending this business, but unless we are forced to change our mind, it will be the policy of The Enterprise in the future to turn down advertising from out of Winters, as we want our paper's every influence directed as near as possible to building up Winters and Winters institutions and we can't see where Winters people can possibly benefit by trading away from home.

Chamber of Commerce Notes

Last week has been one of active work. The Mineral Well's trip was not out of the way till other important things pressed upon us. A representative of certain gas wells of Cross Cut appeared among us and presented propositions that looks very good indeed; we are waiting for further information. The suggestion was an eight inch pipe from Cross Cut here and a twelve or fourteen belt around the business district with loped laterals to all parts of the city using gas. This prospect is fine.

Mr. Fitzgerrald of the West Texas Utilities Co., appeared with a proposition of placing large electric sign around the street. That proposition was most flattering but the directors thought it best to postpone action till the first of July anyway.

The West Texas Telephone Co., has been trying to get suitable housing for its office and equipment that it may give Winters a drop light system in its telephone.

During the week a careful survey of the city was made looking towards the initiation of a free mail delivery to such parts of the town as have the proper sidewalks and the numbers on their houses. The changing of our mail deliveries from the railroad may materially effect this movement.

It looks now like we may soon have a mammoth hatchery in Winters. This is a movement worthy of special note.

All of these things are before us and may be before our people for action any day.

Mean while, a report of the year's work is being prepared and plans are being made for next year.—J. C. Watts, Sec'y C. of C.

Robert Morris, formerly with the Jackson & Holcomb Drug Store, left the first of the week for Tyler where he will enter Tyler Commercial College and take a course in telegraphy.

Bert Low, cashier of the First National Bank, spent several days the past week visiting several points on the plains.

Messrs Galloway and Hill, after a business trip to San Marcos of some three or four days, returned to the city the first of the week.

Winters Man On Board National Organization

The following from Saturday's Dallas News is reprinted because of the honor and recognition accorded a Winters citizen—H. W. Lynn, Manager of the Winters Oil Mill, whose many friends in the Winters Country will take pride in the tribute paid our fellowtownsman:

New Orleans, La., May 15.—With the election of vice presidents and minor officers late Friday the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association closed its annual convention in New Orleans with the most far-reaching program of constructive work ahead of it ever outlined at one of its yearly sessions.

George H. Bennett of Dallas, who was re-elected secretary, along with Robert Gibson of Dallas, who was elected treasurer, departed for their homes Friday night, with the other Texas delegates, much gratified that the general officers of the association are to remain in Dallas.

When the new executive directorate meets next February to select the next convention city, it was strongly hinted that one of the leading Texas cities might secure this meet.

John B. Perry of Grenada, Miss., the newly elected president, presided at Friday's session. Vice presidents were elected as follows: W. S. Wilbor, Paris, Texas; K. N. Bridges, Wilson, N. C.; K. E. Bram, Louisiana.

Texas has two members of the new board of directors as follows: H. W. Lynn of Winters, representing North Texas, and Theodore Heycke of Houston, for South Texas.

One of the chief developments Friday was conference of President Perry and the executive committee and it was decided to put through the new program of constructive development, education and advertisement. The executive committee was authorized to select a general manager whose duties will be to uncover new markets, acquaint the country with cottonseed products, and enlarge the organization. Present plans of the association are for the expenditure of between $75,000 and $100,000 a year to explain the uses of cottonseed products to the country.

A silver set was presented to R. F. Crow of Houston, retiring president, by the members of the association as a token of their esteem and in recognition of his services.

Advertising removes risk from buying.

Hardy, president of Baylor Female College, Belton, Texas, will be the principal speaker of this occasion. At this time the following boys and girls will be graduated from our high school.

Winters people are justly proud of the record made by our schools the past term, which has been, probably, the most successful in the history of the school.

The school board, Supt. Smith, the faculty and student body should, and are, receiving the congratulations of the entire citizenship upon the completion of this most successful year's work and we are looking forward to greater achievements the coming school term for, as stated before in these columns, Prof. Smith will again be at the helm and guide the destinies of the school another year.

FAIR ENOUGH

Winters, Texas, May 16, 1925. —Winters Enterprise, City. Gentlemen: The following came to my ears in one of our prominent grocery stores this morning and is worthy of publication:

A lady customer was in the store when I entered buying groceries and while I was waiting to be waited on a friend of he lady's came in with a can of cream to sell the grocer. The two ladies began to converse about prices on groceries and the lady with the cream can replied, "I buy all my groceries from a mail order house. I get much better prices and they are so much higher here in Winters."

The lady finished her purchases, paid the clerk and went on her way. The proprietor walked up to the lady with the cream can and asked if he could wait on her. She replied, "I have some cream here, you don't need to test it, it's the same as you have always bought from me." Not knowing that the proprietor overheard the conversation, she had with her lady friend, the following reply that she got insulted her.

"Ship your cream and produce to your grocery mail order house and see if they will buy it from you." With this reply he turned and waited on me.—"A Believer in Trading at Home."

Chamber of Commerce Notes

Last week has been one of active work. The Mineral Well's trip was not out of the way till other important things pressed upon us. A representative of certain gas wells of Cross Cut appeared among us and presented propositions that look very good indeed; we are waiting for further information. The suggestion was an eight inch pipe from Cross Cut here and a twelve or fourteen belt around the business district with loped laterals to all parts of the city using gas. This prospect is fine.

Mr. Fitzgerald of the West Texas Utilities Co., appeared with a proposition of placing large electric slogan sign across the street. That proposition was most flattering but the directors thought it best to postpone action till the first of July anyway.

The West Texas Telephone Co., has been trying to get suitable housing for its office and equipment that it may give Winters a drop light system in its telephone.

During the week a careful survey of the city was made looking towards the initiation of a free mail delivery to such parts of the town as have the proper sidewalks and the numbers on their houses. The changing of our mail deliveries from the railroad may materially effect this movement.

It looks now like we may soon have a mammoth hatchery in Winters. This is a movement worthy of special note.

All of these things are before us and may be before our people for action any day.

Mean while, a report of the year's work is being prepared and plans are being made for next year.—J. C. Watts, Sec'y C. of C.

Robert Morris, formerly with the Jackson & Holcomb Drug Store, left the first of the week for Tyler where he will enter Tyler Commercial College and take a course in telegraphy.

Bert Low, cashier of the First National Bank, spent several days the past week visiting several points on the plains.

Messrs Galloway and Hill, after a business trip to San Marcos of some three or four days, returned to the city the first of the week.

Winters Man On Board National Organization

The following from Saturday's Dallas News is reprinted because of the honor and recognition accorded a Winters citizen—H. W. Lynn, Manager of the Winters Oil Mill, whose many friends in the Winters Country will take pride in the tribute paid our fellowtownsman:

New Orleans, La., May 15.—With the election of vice presidents and minor officers late Friday the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association closed its annual convention in New Orleans with the most far-reaching program of constructive work ahead of it ever outlined at one of its yearly sessions.

George H. Bennett of Dallas, who was re-elected secretary, along with Robert Gibson of Dallas, who was elected treasurer, departed for their homes Friday night, with the other Texas delegates, much gratified that the general officers of the association are to remain in Dallas.

When the new executive directorate meets next February to select the next convention city, it was strongly hinted that one of the leading Texas cities might secure this meet.

John B. Perry of Grenada, Miss., the newly elected president, presided at Friday's session. Vice presidents were elected as follows: W. S. Wilbor, Paris, Texas; K. N. Bridges, Wilson, N. C.; K. E. Bram, Louisiana.

Texas has two members of the new board of directors as follows: H. W. Lynn of Winters, representing North Texas, and Theodore Heycke of Houston, for South Texas.

One of the chief developments Friday was conference of President Perry and the executive committee and it was decided to put through the new program of constructive development, education and advertisement. The executive committee was authorized to select a general manager whose duties will be to uncover new markets, acquaint the country with cottonseed products, and enlarge the organization. Present plans of the association are for the expenditure of between $75,000 and $100,000 a year to explain the uses of cottonseed products to the country.

A silver set was presented to R. F. Crow of Houston, retiring president, by the members of the association as a token of their esteem and in recognition of his services.

Advertising removes risk from buying.

TWENTY-EIGHT STUDENTS WILL GRADUATE HERE NEXT WEEK

The closing exercises of our public schools will begin with the Baccalaureate Service next Sunday, May 24. This service will be conducted at the First Methodist church with Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivering the sermon.

Thursday evening, May 28, the Commencement program will be observed, also at the First Methodist church. Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor Female College, Belton, Texas, will be the principal speaker of this occasion. At this time the following boys and girls will be graduated from our high school.

George Poe, Clifford Rhoden, George Key, J. F. Flynt, Bailey McCaughan, Alfred Lamotte, Oral Toney, Bobbie Godwin, E. F. Edwards, Lottie Ingram, Glee Ingram, Louise Poe, Ruby Nell Roberts, Iva

Jordan, Junita Pentecost, Brazzie Wright, Essie Flint, Ruth Baldwin, Emily Bailey, Emma Baldwin, Louella Adams, Charisie Graham, Truby Mosley, Jewel King, Virginia Pierce, Irene Perry, Willie Perry and Ruby Wimberly.

Winters people are justly proud of the record made by our schools the past term, which has been, probably, the most successful in the history of the school.

The school board, Supt. Smith, the faculty and student body should, and are, receiving the congratulations of the entire citizenship upon the completion of this most successful year's work and we are looking forward to greater achievements the coming school term for, as stated before in these columns, Prof. Smith will again be at the helm and guide the destinies of the school another year.

FAIR ENOUGH

Winters, Texas, May 16, 1925.—Winters Enterprise, City. Gentlemen: The following came to my ears in one of our prominent grocery stores this morning and is worthy of publication:

A lady customer was in the store when I entered buying groceries and while I was waiting to be waited on a friend of the lady's came in with a can of cream to sell the grocer. The two ladies began to converse about prices on groceries and the lady with the cream can replied, "I buy all my groceries from a mail order house. I get much better prices and they are so much higher here in Winters." The lady finished her purchases, paid the clerk and went on her way. The proprietor walked up to the lady with the cream can and asked if he could wait on her. She replied, "I have some cream here, you don't need to test it, it's the same as you have always bought from me." Not knowing that the proprietor overheard the conversation, she had with her lady friend, the following reply that she got insulted her.

"Ship your cream and produce to your grocery mail order house and see if they will buy it from you." With this reply he turned and waited on me.—"A Believer in Trading at Home."

WINTERS, RUNNELS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY MAY 22, 1925

NATURAL GAS PROPOSITION PUT UP TO WINTERS C. OF C. LAST WEEK

Last Friday afternoon S. K. Murdock of Rising Star, was in the city representing Messrs. Flannigan, Morton and Falls and put before the Chamber of Commerce a proposition to pipe natural gas into Winters from Cross Cut. He stated his people had several gas wells in that section and that the supply was estimated at some sixteen million cubic feet per day from all the wells.

Mr. Murdock's proposition was that they would pipe the gas into Winters at their own expense and would lay mains over the entire city, the minimum monthly charge to be $2.00 with a rate of seventy-five cents per thousand.

To secure this gas Winters is asked for a 20 year franchise and to secure 350 signatures to use this gas when it is ready to be turned on. If the proper number of signatures are secured and the franchise granted, Mr. Murdock stated they would put up a bond that they would fulfill their contract and would have gas in Winters ready for use in six months' time. They also proposed to maintain offices and gas fixtures store here.

In the matter of rates it was stated that gas for commercial purposes—running gins, boilers, etc., would be sold at 50c per thousand.

It is some fifty miles from here to Cross Cut and it is proposed to lay an eight inch pipe into Winters. It is stated that with this storage capacity the gas could be cut off at Cross Cut for eight hours without diminishing the supply of gas in Winters.

This is a proposition which Winters should not fail to put over, for it means a long stride in the onward march for a bigger and better Winters.

When this proposition is fully investigated and the time comes to sign on the dotted line, let's fall over each other in the securing of those 350 signatures as gas consumers and keep on "Wining With Winters."

Paint produces a magical effect.

PAY YOUR STREET TAX

The annual street tax of $3.00 is now due and the City Marshal is collecting and receipting for same. No other funds are available for street maintenance for the year, and every resource of the city government will be behind the Marshal in collecting this tax. This money goes for something that is just necessary to the citizens of this town as shoes or clothing and the only concern that need be felt is whether or not it is wasted. I promise to spare no time or trouble in seeing the money is well spent, and that full value is received for every dollar of it. Please pay the Marshal promptly as much work is now being done that must be paid for.—A. F. Roberts, Mayor.

McAdams Re-Elected Director of W. T. C. C.

John Q. McAdams, Cashier of the Winters State Bank, received last week from Porter Whaley at Stamford, the following letter informing him of his election as a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the current year:

Stamford, Texas, May 11, 1925.—Mr. J. Q. McAdams, Winters, Texas. Dear Mr. McAdams: It gives me a great deal of pleasure to advise you that you have been elected a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the current year. I believe that the board elected at Mineral Wells is one of the strongest we have ever had.

I will be getting in touch with President Lee in a few days and he will then authorize me to announce the place and date for the meeting of the executive board.

Assuring you that it is a pleasure to have you on the Board, and with cordial best wishes, I am Respectfully yours,—Porter Whaley.

Former Winters Lady Ill at San Antonio

A message was received Thursday from Mrs. R. L. Labenske, who is in San Antonio at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. T. L. Crews, stating that her sister was still in a very serious condition. Prominent Citizen Dies at Wilmeth

Mr. R. S. Atkins died at the family home at Wilmeth Tuesday, May 12. Mr. Atkins had lived in the Wilmeth community for a number of years and was a very prominent farmer and well respected citizen as was evidenced by the large concourse of friends attending the funeral services.

At the time of his death he was sixty two years old.

Spill Bros. had charge of the funeral and the services were conducted by Rev. Foster of Abilene.

To the bereaved loved ones and friends the Enterprise extends sincere sympathy.

Dr. Fred Tinkle will leave Sunday for St. Louis, Mo., where he will take a post graduate course. Here's hoping the good doctor will have a pleasant and profitable trip.

Two New Records Made by Chevrolet

Detroit, Mich., May 20.—Two new records were established by the Chevrolet Motor Company during April.
 Retail Chevrolet dealers in the United States broke all previous monthly records by selling during April an aggregate of 53,283 cars. The next largest retail sales month was April of 1923, the automobile boom year, when 51,394 Chevrolets were sold.
 The other new record was made on April 30 when a total of 4,064 cars and trucks were shipped from various Chevrolet factories, the largest number for one day in the history of the company.
 During April, Chevrolet retail salesmen obtained 59,396 new orders, the remainder of the delivery total for the month being used to take care of a small portion of unfilled orders carried over from March. At the end of April, 36,512 unfilled orders still were on hand throughout the United States.

A VISIT THROUGH THE LARGEST BUSINESS TRAINING SCHOOL IN THE UNITED STATES.

It is indeed an interesting sight to visit the Tyler Commercial College at Tyler, Texas, and see the work of its students.
 As you enter their halls, you behold hundreds of young men and women intensely interested in their Accounting work. Some have just entered and are, of course, being given the simple rudiments of their work by painstaking and competent instructors. Others, being further advanced, are busily engaged in various transactions with the different miniature business houses, where wholesale and retail merchandising is done where Real Estate is bought and sold, where goods are being shipped. All kinds of bank transactions are made. To make it more interesting and practical, there are Telegraphy stations in all parts of the building where students may send messages, ordering goods, making inquiry of goods shipped, transferring money by telegraphy. All these stations are in charge of the advanced students of their General Railway and General Western Union Departments. This gives both the Business courses students and the telegraphy students a wonderful opportunity to make their work mutually profitable by adding this practical touch to it.
 Then there are the more advanced

Accounting students, who have about completed their course, intent in the desire to thoroughly master their success. One can almost create a disturbance in this department and they will never lift their eyes from the studies—so concentrated are they in the work.
 On the third floor of the large and commodious building, a still more interesting sight greets you. Over three hundred typewriters of different makes are being used to the full capacity all through the day. Here, the Touch Method is taught. Just to the right is another room where Typewriting is taught by music.
 Next, is the Shorthand Department where hundreds are taking dictation from their instructors. It is said that the Byrne Simplified System is the easiest system to learn in use today. They control the copyright of this famous system.
 The Literary Department is in charge of competent instructors. Each student is given a review in their literary subjects.
 The Cotton Classing Department is a revelation to anyone. More than a hundred young men are as busy as bees, pulling, sampling and stapling actual cotton samples. The instructors are as busy as the students. They also have the Government standards for ready reference.

The Telegraphy Department of this great school is a veritable Railway Telegraphy Dispatchers' Office. There are messages flying in all directions, giving train orders, sending and receiving commercial telegrams, making out Railway and Western Union reports—doing everything that is done in Railway or Western Union Offices. The Cotton Belt Railway Company has a telegraph line going through this department. Students receive real messages. The Western Union Company advises their students through the manager at Tyler.
 The large auditorium, with seating capacity of fifteen hundred, is used for their morning exercise. Students hear many valuable talks of interest by professional and business men.
 More than thirty courses and combination of courses are given. Their faculty consists of more than thirty

Idle Tongues Will Wag

There is a romance about a small town, its characters, gossip and daily doings that only those who have lived in one can fully appreciate.

This atmosphere has been transported to the screen in an effective way in Thomas H. Ince's "Idle Tongues," from the novel "Doctor Nye," at the Queen Theatre Monday and Tuesday, May 25 and 26.

The photoplay was adapted from the novel of Joseph C. Lincoln by C. Gardner Sullivan. Lincoln painted a word picture of the little town of Ostable, Mass., in his novel. Sullivan and Lambert Hillyer, who directed the picture, have transferred this picture to the screen in "Idle Tongues," and Percy Marmont, Doris Kenyon and all the others of the cast have caused the quaint characters of New England to step out of the book and onto the silver screen before your eyes.

You see lovable Doctor Nye, just as you imagined him in the book. There is winsome Katherine Minot, his sweetheart; prompt Judge Copeland; funny old Henry Ward Beecher Payson who likes his little nip; Althen Bemis, the village boot-legger, and all the other interesting types of the Cape Cod country.

Their problems, trials and their fun, too, make up this story of sacrifice and love; hatred and revenge; and the struggle of a disgraced village doctor to "come back" in the eyes of his fellow citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Boyd of Ballinger were visitors in the home of Rev. H. H. Stephens Tuesday of the past week.

Mrs. G. E. Hamm left Sunday for a few days visit in Merkel.

Beauty and Old Age at the Queen

Blushing, of course, is out of fashion; but so is it out of fashion to grow old. The woman of forty-nine no longer draws the male attention from all corners of the ballroom and leaves the seventeen-year-old debutante to be a wall-flower, as she did in Kipling's ballad. Youth is at a premium today. The fresh bloom of late teens or early twenties, or the simplification of these years, is the target at which every woman shoots her arrows.

Hence hundreds of thousands of women throughout the country hie themselves to beauty parlors, where they undergo with Spartan courage a myriad little tortures unknown to the Spanish Inquisition. They have their faces "peeled," their hair is wrapped in searing hot irons, and through various cunning incisions their faces are "lifted" to restore that beauty which they so desire.

All in the name of Youth! Now science goes even further, and through miracles of modern surgery which the layman can only dimly understand, the myriad minor tortures are done away with and the subject goes through just one delicate and dangerous operation, to emerge from the hospital literally and figuratively a "new woman," with the years rolled back as if by the sweep of some all-obliterating curtain.

Woman has an infinitely greater capacity for suffering than man. Perhaps it is this heritage of her sex that permits her to take chances with Science and dare almost anything to recover that youth by which she sets such store. Certainly in "Vanity's Price," Wednesday and Thursday, May 27 and 28 at Queen Theatre, a woman went the limit to turn back the hand of time. And the R. William Neill production, an F. B. O. picture of the most dramatic and intense sort, deals with just this situation.

It is a picture no woman can afford to miss. A big, powerful treatment of a theme that is so new as not to have lost its flavor; a theme of particular interest to woman whether they believe in "growing old gracefully" or in grasping every modern invention to halt the advancing years.

Rev and Mrs. Alvin Swindell and daughters of Ballinger were visiting Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Stephens Wednesday.

Mrs. J. W. Patterson returned Wednesday from Memphis, Tenn., where she has attended the Southern Baptist Convention.

Rev. H. H. Stephens who returned Tuesday from the Southern Baptist Convention reports that it will meet next year in Houston, Texas.

S. T. Proctor, living on route 1, was a business visitor in Winters Saturday. Mr. Proctor paid the Enterprise office a call and renewed his subscription for another year.

Mr. Guy Mullins and family, Con Benson and family and Mr. Roe and family went to the Concho river fishing last Saturday. They caught lots of fish and report a fine time.

Brownwood, San Angelo and Bbiline have all lost to Manager Chapman's fast Winters team. Looks like we must have some ball team. If you appreciate a hard working winning club, come out and patronize them, they want the support of the town.

We expect to have a fast team here in the future. Ballinger will be after us in a few days.

CHURCHES ARE GROWING

Since 1891 the nation's population has increased 80 per cent. In these 34 years our church membership has increased 130 per cent.

Figures may or may not mean much. The mere fact that a person is a church member doesn't evidence good behavior or good citizenship.

So church growth is an index to national decency and well-doing. It evidences order and stability, and at least a desire to do what is right.

A SEVERE LESSON

Generally non-advertisers are also non-readers. If any of them do read, here is a lesson from Champaign, Ill.

THE REAL DANGER

Horses and mules are still so necessary to the economic life of America that no one is likely to be alarmed just because the Department of Agriculture asserts that there is danger of an acute shortage in a few years.

TURNED A TRICK

Stamp-collecting enthusiasts have turned a trick on the Postoffice Department and got away with it. A few of them have used a half of a one cent stamp as half cent postage under the new postal regulations that call for prepayment of that amount.

MONEY TO BURN

Henry Ford's company swelled its surplus last year the trifling matter of 100 millions and now stands at something less than 550 millions, of which 300 millions is virtually cash.

DO YOUR BIT

If you have made up your mind to live in Winters then stand up for it. If you know positively no good about your home town, then silence is golden.

The National Woman Suffrage Association has disbanded. Success, its leaders say, has made continuance unnecessary.

Social Activities

Mrs. Bert Low Entertains Seniors and Faculty

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Low was opened Tuesday night to the seniors and faculty of the high school, Mesdames Dixon, Hawkins, Jones, Owens, Ingram and Smith serving as hostesses and Mrs. Bert Low. Games followed one after another throughout the evening, culminating with refreshments of Sherbit and cake. Mr. Low, who was away on business, added additional happiness to the event by sending a telegram of congratulation and good wishes and a promise to the seniors of a gift of flowers by mail.

The Low home was lovely in its own beauty together with the decorations of blue and gold, senior colors and with flowers and beautiful lights. The receiving line which was made up of members of the P. T. A. welcomed the guests at 8:30. Being led straight to the dining room where little Misses Low and Hickman were serving punch, the seniors and faculty immediately found themselves in a world of fun and play.

The first game was a contest in winding and unwinding thread, Miss Barber's group proving victor over Mr. Robertson's by several yards of thread. The "guessing game" followed. Then the most interesting of all—the game of "Seniors," played on the same plan of "Hearts." Going from Bradshaw to New York City was the chief interest in this game, little paper suits cases with candy in them making the journey more interesting.

In the midst of the jollity a telegram from Mr. Low arrived expressing his regrets that he could not be at home on such occasion and congratulating the senior class on its years achievements.

An enthusiastic applause of 15 raps, led by Bailey McCaughan went up from the happy party at the close of the social hours, for Bert Low, for Mrs. Low and for the P. T. A. Altogether the social was one of the happiest of the year and the seniors as well as the faculty deeply appreciated Mr. and Mrs. Low's hospitality and warm hearts.

Every-Ready Class Enjoys Outing

The Ever-Ready class of the Baptist Sunday School enjoyed a picnic last Tuesday evening on the grassy banks of Bluff creek in Mr. Howell's pasture. After wading and hunting for sometime a delightful lunch of sandwiches, ice cream and angel food cake was enjoyed by those present. The trophies of the evening were a red bird and a bull-bat. At the spread Mrs. Frank Pumphrey, teacher of the class, presented in behalf of the class a beautiful Bible to Miss Nellie Jordan, who is soon to leave Winters for her home in New Mexico. Miss Jordan expressed her appreciations and spoke of how she had enjoyed working with the class. We feel that not only the class will be looser, but that Miss Jordan will miss the class and its faithful teacher. Those enjoying the outing besides members of the class were: Mrs. E. Clements and Baby Clements, Miss Josephine Pumphrey and Mary D. Taylor, Mr. Frank Pumphrey, Myron and Maurice Pumphrey.

Literary and Service Club

The last study and business meeting of the Literary and Service Club was held with Mrs. Paul Holcomb as hostess.

Owing to there being much business to attend to the lesson was made brief, only a paper by Mrs. Shepherd and a short round table discussion.

Interesting reports from the sixth district meeting of Federated Clubs which was held at Alpine were given by Mrs. Brophy and Miss Heavenhill. Also a report from the National Convention of Parent-Teachers' by Mrs. H. O. Jones.

Miss Heavenhill retiring president then expressed her thanks and appreciation for the loyal support which each officer and member had given her during the year, and in response Mrs. Holcomb told of the love and appreciation of the club members for their retiring president. Mrs. Brophy as new president then ask for the same loyal support of each officer and member, and thus—has ended one of the most successful years of the Literary and Service Club.

Mesdames Charles and Marshall Chapman Entertain

Mesdames Charles and Marshall Chapman entertained the members of the Literary and Service Club, their husbands and escorts with a "tacky party" Friday evening at the home of the former.

Mesdames Gaston, McAdams and Horace Hawkins entertained the guests with unique readings, duets and solos.

The prize offered for the tackiest couple was awarded to Mrs. Harris Mullin and John Q. McAdams.

Red soda pop was served during games of "42." Following the games delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream and angel food cake was served to Messrs. and Mesdames L. R. Gaston, R. T. Thornton, J. H. Rhoden, T. V. Jennings, Horace Hawkins, J. M. Skaggs, Harris Mullin, U. S. Heavenhill, W. E. Hickman, Paul Holcomb, J. Q. McAdams, H. O. Jones, A. H. Smith, E. A. Shepherd, Luther Owens, F. J. Brophy and Bill Carlisle, Misses Gladys Oliver and Loye Kornegay.

Winters Steam Laundry A Home Institution

Few towns the size of Winters can boast of an up-to-date Steam Laundry. In Winters Steam Laundry this little city has one, and is all that the name implies.

Mr. C. E. Woodrow is owner and Elmoe Hood, Manager.

Mr. Hood is an experienced Laundry man, and has given much time and thought to ways and means by which this institution may better serve the citizenship.

Faith in Winters caused Mr. Woodrow to establish the Winters Steam Laundry the latter part of last year, and since its opening has been very satisfactory. When they first started it was in just a small way, but soon enlarged the plant to a modern little laundry in every way. They wash everything here, and are careful with all clothes trusted to them, and especially do they want family trade.

Concerns of this kind are what will push Winters to the front rank. The service and price given here blended with municipal pride in such enterprises should be sufficient incentive to cause you to place your business with this laundry.

Murder Trial On At Angelo

Gratton Davenport, charged with the murder of Sam Rodgers, son of W. H. Rodgers, and a Winters boy, was arraigned for trial at San Angelo Monday. Davenport is alleged to have shot and killed Rodgers on the streets of Mertzen on February 3rd. of this year. Rodgers being shot down without a moment's warning, and for an unknown cause, it is stated. Following the killing Davenport was placed in jail and no effort has been made to get bond. He was transferred from Sherwood to San Angelo for trial, on account of the feeling in Iron county, and the prisoner has been in the Tom Green county jail awaiting trial. It is reported that Davenport has been acting queerly since being put in jail and the defense, it is said, will be a plea of insanity. Doctors have been summoned as witnesses to testify for the defense. Several citizens from Winters and Ballinger will attend the trial.

E. F. Edwards and Mr. Wright were business visitors in San Antonio, New Brunsfels and Austin a few days the past week.

PLAIN STATEMENT OF FACTS FROM W. P.
HAWKINS & CO.

Folks, we have made up our minds to quit business. Everything must have an ending and this announcement, surprising though it may be to the many thousands of loyal friends and customers, is to say that our plans, after months of careful consideration, have all been changed. So we have positively made up our minds to close out the business now known as W. P. Hawkins & Co., and do it in the shortest possible time. We have been in the mercantile business in Winters for fourteen years and our business has been built on the principle of fair and square dealings with every customer and selling quality merchandise at prices as low as could be found elsewhere. W. P. Hawkins' word has been his bond and when we make the above statement you know every word of it is true. Many people, no doubt, will wonder why, just at the time of our greatest success, we are quitting business, but the many years of serving the public and close confinement has taken their toll and it is imperative that we take a long and well needed rest from the everyday strain that close confinement with a large business necessarily imposes upon us. We wish to impress upon every one's mind the fact that perhaps you will never see prices as low again in your lifetime as you will find them here. We mean business and EXPECT TO CLOSE out our stock in the next 30 days, and we are making prices that will be sure to move it in that time and it will be to your advantage to shop early and buy for the future. Buying in large quantities and being able to discount our bills, has been a large factor in our being able to give you lower prices, and when you see how we have slashed all former low prices you will want to buy your entire year's supply of Merchandise during this monster Quit Business Sale.

"WINTERS THE HUB OF THE WEST"

(Auburn Spencer Neely)
I've heard them talk of "The Golden West"
And of the capitals dome,
But when my thoughts search for the best
I find them wandering home:
To Winters, O, mine, that home of mine,
A beautiful place of age and time,
I've read about the rock mountains
And of the deep blue sea,
And of the bubbling water fountains
But give old Winters to me:
That home of mine, city of mine,
A beautiful place at any time,
I've dreamed about the western lands
Where the valleys are deep,
And the rising mountain bands
Makes the hill sides steep;
But that fills not the place of time
Like Winters that busy home of mine,
Where in the east is laying low,
A shady running creek
And music of birds are floating low,
The rhythm of water to break,
Community of mine, home of mine,
A beautiful place at any time,
Western lands are stretching far
And only distance hides,
And the fading western bar
Looks like the ocean tides,
Community of mine, home of mine,
A beautiful place of age and time,
If you are searching for the best,
Then you must come along,
Out to "Winters, the Hub of the West,"
And help us sing this song,
On this land and over the sea
None is dearer than Winters to me

Senior Days

On Tuesday morning, the seniors of the high school gave a very interesting senior day program. The stage was very attractively decorated in the class colors "blue and gold."
With Mrs. Smith playing an accompaniment the class marched in and sang the opening chorus, "School Days." Following this, Clifford Rhoden gave the opening address of welcome to his fellow students, and the teachers.
A number of poems entitled, "Rhymes of High School Times," were given by the following students: Virginia Pierce, Louella Adams, Trubie Mosley, Ruth Baldwin and Emma Baldwin. Clifford Rhoden, the class president then gave a "Presentation Address," and presented the various members of the class with some small token. Willie is still wondering why he gave her the "switch," for she doesn't intend to be a school teacher. George Poe says he is "four cents" better off than he was before the program.
J. T. Flynt then gave the "statistics of the class of '25," and many interesting facts were disclosed thereby, as to the likes, dislikes, future occupation, ancestry and ambitions of the class.
Glee Ingram then gave the Key address, in which the "Key of Knowledge" was presented to the junior class. A very appropriate response was given by Auburn Neely, a member of the junior class, in which they pledged themselves to use the key to help them hold up the standard set by the present senior class.
Following this a very unique and interesting class prophecy was given. The prophecy was a two act play. The first act disclosed three members of the present senior class reading a Winters Enterprise of the year 1950, in which it was stated that Supt. A. H. Smith was holding a home coming for all seniors who had graduated during his administration in the Winters high school.
The second act represented a railroad coach. The various members of the class were on board the train, going home to Winters. Recognitions ensued from time to time, as new members came aboard, each one told what he was doing, and reported what other members had accomplished.
The program was concluded by the poem, "Farewell to Winters high school," given by Willie Perry. This poem being followed by the class,

"Our High School Days are O'er"

Immediately after the program the seniors left school to celebrate senior day by a picnic down on the creek. The bunch arrived at a very pretty spot and all climbed out of the car and began to explore the creek. Juanita was very unfortunate and while trying to cross the creek on some rocks—fell in—luckily for her the water was very shallow, and she suffered no inconvenience save, having to remain in the sun for an hour or so.
J. T. tried to fish but didn't have much luck, so we didn't have fish for dinner, but while the lunch was spread we saw that fish were very unnecessary.
After a very enjoyable day, the class started back to Winters so as to be ready for the reception to be given by the P. T. A. at the home of Mrs. Bert E. Low.
The class were delighted to have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Elmo is so economical that if he were choosing an American poet to go walking with, he would choose Amy Lowell (for he says she would furnish the verse free. (She wrote free verses.)
Henry believes in protecting himself. He carries a fly swatter in his hip pocket to all his classes, hoping thereby to save himself from being waylaid by the flies, or—something.
Miss Adah Barber visited with the high school Monday.
Graduation from high school is one of the greatest events in a person's life. It ought to be classed along with his birth and death or his getting married. Nor would we say that there is another graduation as great or as full of electricity and thrills, why, the joy of college graduation cannot be higher, though, of course, the value of it is far higher. Graduation from high school is the greatest, because it is first. It opens the closed gates of a boy's and girl's life into finer feelings and aspirations. Indeed, it is a commencement, giving a beginning to a student's real personality and ideals and dreams.

I may fail to judge a group of students correctly who are yet working toward higher school graduation. But show me a group of graduates and let me discern their feelings toward that attainment and their ambitions to go on or their satisfaction to stay on that level and not go further, and I will tell you what that boy's or girl's success will be in the future.
We are proud of our seniors this year. We are proud of their type of girl hood and boyhood, proud of their ability, and of what they are and will be. And it will be a regard to us all, if they do not go on higher and reach our expectations for them.
There's a great deal of joy about graduating. Concretely we learn, among other things, that though it is more blessed to give than to receive, still its mighty fine also to receive.
With its joys, there is always a bit of sadness about graduating both to those who graduate and to those who are left behind. Who has not felt the awe of it? Who has not felt a strange combination of feeling when a group of students walk down the church aisle to the melody of your own school anthem?
Here's to our seniors of W. H. S. then—we love them. We urge that they tie their hopes and destinies early to the higher life and higher ideals and help to save the youth of our fair nation.

Smith and "Sonny." "Sonny" seemed to enjoy the day really more than anyone for each senior tied with each other in entertaining him. He especially enjoyed wading in the creek, and watching the boys throw rocks across the water.
Twenty-two members of the class accompanied by Mrs. Smith and Miss Stephenson, the class sponsor, enjoyed this delightful outing, and each one declared that "senior day" was a wonderful day.
Mrs. W. L. Mosley of Santa Ana is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hickman. Mrs. Mosley is the grandmother of little Miss Anna Lee Cobb
Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Sears of Whitewright, Texas are spending the week visiting their children, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Gaston.

Bradshaw Selecting School Faculty

Bradshaw, May 18.—The Bradshaw school board elected Miss Elizabeth Coulter as fifth literary teacher and Miss Thelma Bradshaw expression teacher, for the next school year.

Miss Coulter, a resident of Ballinger, holds a permanent teachers' certificate and has had three years experience in teaching. She has been successful in getting her pupils, entering interscholastic literary contests, to win their way to Austin in final competition for State honors.

It can be truly said Miss Bradshaw is a genuine "Bradshawian," as that is not only her name, but she was born and reared in the Bradshaw community. After completing school work here, she attended Abilene high and McMurry College, specializing on the subject of expression. Her instructors say she completed the required work with high honors. Unlike many students who after qualifying in a particular field of work leave home and give other communities the benefit of their talent, Miss Bradshaw since returning home has been active in all community work. She is unquestionably capable to teach expression.

With two teachers added to the same faculty the school has last year placed the Bradshaw school in the front ranks with all first class high schools of the west. No one from southern Taylor County or northern Runnels county need to leave home to get the benefit of a high school education.

On May 25 an election to determine whether or not bonds shall be issued and a new school building shall be built will be held. Very little opposition to this project is expected as nearly the whole community realizes the need of better and bigger school facilities, and the patrons and business men are anxious to get the building completed in time for school next September.

After a very successful year's work, the present year's school came to a close last Friday. This year's course of study included to the tenth grade, only and as the eleventh grade has been added for next year, there were no graduates for this term, and consequently no graduating exercises. However a good program was given on the last night.

Spoony lovers may make a stir in public.

All those interested in pecan work of any kind are urged to come and see the work. Individual instruction will be given to those who wish to learn how to bud their own tree.

The demonstration will begin at 9 a. m. and will close at 4 p. m. Bring your lunch and come prepared to stay all day.—C. W. Lehmburg, County Agent, Runnels County.

Lady Says Her Back "Hurt Night and Day"—Least Noise Upset Her. Better After Taking Cardui.

Wintfield, Texas.—"My back hurt night and day," says Mrs. C. L. Eason, of R. F. D. 1, this place. "I ached and ached until I could hardly go. I felt weak and did not feel like doing anything. My work was a great burden to me. I just hated to do up the dishes, even. I was nervous and extremely nervous."

"My mother had taken Cardui and she thought it would do me good, so she told me to take it. My husband got me a bottle and I began on it. I began to improve at once. It was such a help that I continued it until after the baby's birth."

"I took eight bottles and I can certainly say that it helped me. It is a fine tonic. It built me up and seemed to strengthen me. I grew less nervous and began to sleep better."

"I can certainly recommend Cardui to expectant mothers, for to me it was a wonderful help. ... In every way I felt better after taking it and I think it is a splendid medicine."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs.

The "Win" is Still In Winters

The Winters Blizzards ended the athletic season of 1924-25 Thursday afternoon by defeating the Ballinger high school baseball nine 6 to 2. This season the team made a score for Winters high school and themselves that they should be proud of.

The Blizzards have the following record for this school year: Football-Winters 33, Ballinger 13; Basketball, Winters 34, Ballinger 7; Tennis, Winters 2 sets, Ballinger 1; Tract, Winters 79, Ballinger 62; Baseball, Winters 10, Ballinger 4; Winters 6 Ballinger 2.

Not a contest has a Winters high school athlete dropped to Ballinger during this school year.

Babe Edwards represented the Winters High school for his last time and crowned himself with glory by striking out 12 of the Lions and allowed only 3 hits and two runs.

Capt. McCoughan, three letter athlete of Winters high school, ended his career as a representative of the white and blue playing his best game of the season. He made the first score for the Blizzards and made two of the 6 scores that brought victory to Winters again.
