Winters People To Observe American Educational Week November 16 To 21 Inclusive

There is only one institution large enough to embrace all the diverse elements of our civilization. The home can't do it, for the home divides us; the church separates us; and the courts of the law drive us asunder. The one big thing in our American life that stands for Democracy is the public school.

The primary object of American Education Week is the enlistment of the people as a whole in a more concerted effort to see that the youth of the land has ample facilities provided for it that it may secure the one thing which really prepares it for useful citizenship and useful living, and that is an education, and included in that primary object should be placed the arousing of the people to a more sympathetic and helpful attitude toward the schools.

Realizing the importance of these things, the Diversity Club of this city is fostering the proper observance of the week here in Winters and will, without doubt, meet with every encouragement in the move.

Below we are reproducing the proclamation of President Calvin Coolidge on "Educational Week."

Education is becoming well-nigh universal in America. The rapidity of its expansion within the past half century has no precedent. Our system of public instructions, administered by State and local officers, is peculiarly suited to our habits of life and to our plan of government, and it has brought forth abundant fruit.

In some favored localities only one, two, or three persons in a thousand between the ages of 16 and 20 are classed as illiterate. High schools and academies easily accessible are offering to the youth of America a greater measure of education than that which the founders of the nation received from Harvard, William and Mary, Yale, and Princeton; and so widely diffused has advanced study become that the bachelor's degree is no longer a symbol of unusual learning.

All this is reason for gratification; but in the contemplation of worthy achievement we must still be mindful that full provision has not yet been made throughout the country for education of either elementary secondary, or high grade. Large numbers have not been reached by the blessings of education. The efficiency of the schools in rural communities, is, in general, relatively low; too often their equipment is meager, their teachers poorly prepared, and their terms short. High schools, notwithstanding their extraordinary growth, have not kept pace with the demand for instruction; even in great cities many students are restricted to half-time attendance, and in outlying districts such schools are frequently insufficient in number or inadequate in quality. In higher education the possibilities of existing institutions have been reached, and it is essential that their facilities be extended or that junior colleges in considerable numbers be established.

These deficiencies leave no room for complacency. The utmost endeavor must be exerted to provide for every child in the land the full measure of education which his need and his capacity demand; and none must be permitted to live in ignorance. Marked benefit has come in recent years from Nation-wide campaigns for strengthening public sentiment for universal education, for upholding the hands of constituted school authorities, and for promoting meritorious legislation in behalf of the schools. Such revivals are wholesome and should continue.

Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do proclaim the week beginning November sixteenth, 1925, as American Educational Week, and I urge that it be observed throughout the United States. I recommend that the Governors of the several States issue proclamations setting forth the necessity of education to a free people and requesting that American Education Week be appropriately celebrated in their respective States. I urge further that local officers, civic, social, and religious organizations, and citizens of every occupation contribute with all their strength to the advance of education, and that they make American Education Week a special season of mutual encouragement in promoting that enlightenment upon which the welfare of the Nation depends.

American Education Week
What is it? What does it mean? It can be made to mean:

1. For Every Child—Appreciation of his obligation to match the privileges of free schooling with good spirit and hearty endeavor.
2. For Every Teacher—A new and challenging call to serve the children of this generation.
3. For Every Parent—A fuller understanding of the great adventure of parenthood; its duties, privileges and opportunities, more especially its part in the education of children.
4. For Every Citizen—Pride in the public school as our greatest collective enterprise, the foundation of our liberties, the protection of the achievements of the glorious past, and the promise of fuller life for tomorrow.

The public school of today is the hope of the nation tomorrow and in the years to come. Did you know that more than one hundred million people have their thoughts centered in and around the public school? Aside from, and in cooperation with the religion of the Christ is the one agency which will save a civilization from the rocks. The public school must prepare the present generation to work out a better world order than now exists, else our glorious Republic may be in danger. At least two things are essential in the public school. Too much cannot be said for and about the teacher and his or her influence outside the classroom as well as within it. Teachers must live good lives because to the children they are patterns of what life should be. There is nothing so important as human life and it is the task of the teacher to develop this human life. Then the cooperation between home and school must not be overlooked. The school is under obligation to exert its influence in behalf of better homes—like wise, the home is under obligation to support the school and help the child to maintain the right attitude toward it.

In the words of another we would say, "Go to school boys and girls. Go as long as you can. Send them there fathers and mothers. Keep them there as long as you can." A Grammar School education is better than none, but it is not good enough. A high school education is much better, and a college education is the thing for when all should strive. It is true that history gives the accounts of many uneducated men who achieved greatness. But these were unusual men, they had unusual ambition or an unusual will. The most of us now are just about average. We are unwilling to admit that that we are below the average and few of us do anything to prove that we are above the average. We are now in a day of specialization. More specialized knowledge is required to reach distinction than ever before. Therefore go to school. Go not merely with the idea of finishing Grammar school, or finishing high school. Go with the intention of finishing everything you can decently afford to finish before you stop. Go as far as your devoted father and mother think you ought to go and want you to go. Go, that is, unless you see that the effort to keep you going is hurting them. Also keep this in mind. This like all other things is a matter of judgment. It may be that a little more sacrifice on the part of many fathers and mothers will make their sons and

A PROCLAMATION

Believing that a more earnest co-operation should be manifest between the public and the schools and that all special efforts having for its ultimate end the fostering of education for the youth of the country, and wishing to co-operate with all efforts along this line, therefore, I, A. F. Roberts, Mayor of the city of Winters, by the power vested in me as such, do hereby call upon the citizenship of Winters to lend every possible aid to the proper observance of "American Educational Week," November 16 to 22. Visit your school next Thursday, which has been set aside as visitation day, and get a more sympathetic understanding of its problems, and learn from close contact the responsibilities which you, as a good citizen of our town, should shoulder.—A. F. Roberts, Mayor City of Winters.
Correct—Attest: Mrs. Roxie Floyd, City Secretary.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK, NOVEMBER 16 TO 20

Thursday, November 19, is officially designated as school visiting day. Take part of a day and visit your school. No programs will be given in school for your entertainment, but regular class work will be maintained in all departments and you will have an opportunity to see YOUR school in its regular everyday working clothes. We want you that day.—The Faculty, By A. H. Smith, Supt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mosley went to Abilene to be with their son, C. P. Mosley, who is in that city with the Wichita Falls Junior College Football team, of which he is coach, who played McMurray College that day. Mr. Mosley said they went to be with their son but, nevertheless, we noticed he wasn't slow in telling us that the game resulted in a 13 to 13 tie.

daughters far more useful to them in the end.

You also do social service, as well as serve yourself, when you make yourself more fit for the world's work. You strengthen the society you live in, you draw a dividend on this strength in addition to the direct benefits your larger efficiency brings you. So every reason, personal and social, selfish and unselfish commands you to stay in school while you are there.

Your life itself is a school. If you neglect its opportunities, fail to learn its lessons, you stay in the primary grade forever. You never "PASS."

Then again education, which is the direct result of staying in school, has a very close connection with the wealth of a nation. A nation, a state, a county, a community, or a city may expect results from its schools in direct proportion to the amount of wealth expended on its schools. The following figures may be of interest to you. Of the nation's income six per cent is spent for insurance—two and eight tenths per cent is spent for education. For every twelve dollars spent for education we spend sixteen dollars for pleasure automobiles. For every two dollars and eighty cents we spend for education we save fifteen dollars and sixteen cents. Which do you think pays the greater dividends—money saved or money invested in boys and girls.

We earnestly hope that every child, every teacher every parent and every citizen will think upon the public school, see what your responsibility is, and then you will be able to render a real service.

Lions Club to Foster Diversification Program

Last Tuesday the local Lions Club met for their regular semi-monthly luncheon at the Methodist church and after a discussion on the proper observance of Armistice day, Nov. 11, and going on record that the school should be closed for the day, R. E. Bacon, manager of Wm. Cameron Co., Inc., was introduced as toastmaster.

Mr. Bacon stated that he had no set program but that an agitation along the lines of diversification in the Winters Country was probably the biggest question that the club could take up and encourage, and called for those present to express themselves along that line.

Many interesting talks were made on the subject by club members present, and it was finally decided that President R. Q. Lee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and other prominent advocates of diversification be invited to meet with the club on Tuesday evening, November 24th, and that as many of our farmer friends as our meeting place will accommodate be invited in to discuss diversification with us in order that some starting point may be arrived at.

To make arrangements for the next meeting, which is to be in the nature of a banquet for the farmers of this territory, President Holcomb appointed the following committees: Entertainment Committee—S. H. Nance, Rev. Gid J. Bryan and Dr. Maddox.

Invitation Committee—C. L. Green, Mayor Roberts and Rev. H. H. Stephens.

Committee to Secure Speakers—Geo. C. Hill.

Toastmaster—Bert E. Low.

Right here we would like to commend the club on the step taken and say that we do not believe any subject could be brought before the people which, if rightly practiced would be more beneficial to the country at large than the one taken up last Tuesday.

Personally, we don't doubt but what there are many people living in towns and cities preaching diversification, who would probably attempt to hitch a pair mules up rear end before, but even these men can look the proposition over from their places of labor and see that something is wrong when the bank deposits—the people's money in our banks have a shrinkage of seventy-five per cent between the peak in the fall and mid-summer.

After electing John Norman and Carl Davis to membership in the club, the meeting was adjourned.

Buck Kornegay Gets $500 21st Birthday

Several years ago C. Kornegay made a remark to his son, "Buck," who is now a student in A. & M. College, which cost him just five hundred "iron men" on Monday of this week. The story goes like this: Several years ago Mr. Kornegay evidently thought that smoking didn't do a young man any particular good, so he said to his son: "Boy, if you don't smoke until you are 21 years of age, I'll place $500 to your credit in the bank," and Buck evidently replied "You're on."

Some years passed and Buck reminded his father that he hadn't smoked yet, so Mr. Kornegay decided to offer him $250 cash and call the deal off, but to this proposition the young man failed to agree, holding his dad to the original agreement.

Well, to make a long story short, Buck stayed with his part of the agreement and as usual birthdays will come, and on Monday, November 9, Buck's 21st birthday rolled around and Mr. Kornegay who always makes good on any proposition he makes, went over to the bank and placed $500.00 to Buck's credit.

We congratulate Buck on winning his part of the agreement and also on his 21st birthday, and hope he will have many, many more such happy returns of the day.

Time Extended on Diversification Contest Articles

In last week's paper The Enterprise announced that it would give $30.00 in cash prizes for the best, second best and third best articles written by Runnels County Farmers on the subject, "How Can and Why Should Runnels County Farmers Diversify," and the time limit set when all articles should be turned in was November 20. Since that time we have decided that there had not been enough time allotted for the writing of these articles, so we have decided to extend the time limit to December 20 instead of November 20th. We are restating the proposition here for fear some overlooked it in last week's paper:

For the best article written by a dirt-farmer on the subject, "How Can and Why Should Runnels County Farmers Diversify?" We will give $15.00 in cash.

For the second best article we will give $10.00 in cash.

For the third best article we will give $5.00 in cash.

Contest Rules

Articles are not limited in number of words, but should be plainly written, on one side of the paper only.

All articles become the property of the Enterprise and will be published, if we deem advisable.

Articles to be judged on merit of proposed ways and means of diversification and not from a literary standpoint.

Disinterested judges to be selected by us to judge the articles.

All articles to be signed by author and must give his address.

All articles must be in not later than November 20th.

This contest is put on with the hope that through a full, free and public discussion of this all important subject may bring out a plan, if adopted, which will help the people to meet such years as 1918 was, and will enable the farmer to have money in the bank in the summer as well as in the fall. It is an indisputable fact that the community whose bank deposits decrease in the summer time more than they do in the Winters territory would be hard to find. Some remedy for this should and can be found and, personally, we believe diversification—chickens, hogs, turkeys, fruits, milk cows (a living raised at home)—is the solution.

If you see this question as we do your co-operation is asked in this contest, in order that the country as a whole may benefit.

We are not advocating the abandonment of cotton. We believe cotton will always be king in the Winters Country but we are advocating a program of diversification which will retain the fertility of the soil and the raising of at least two years' feed supply, in order to successfully carry out a profitable diversification program.

We are not attempting to tell the farmers how to run their business—they know more about that than we do—but we believe a public discussion or agitation of the question might result in spreading ideas which will be beneficial to the people.

Mr. Wm. Lackey Nearly 102 Years Old Passes Away

Wm. Lackey was born near St. Louis, Mo., December 1, 1823, and departed this life Thursday, Nov. 5, having reached the ripe old age of 101 years, ten months and twenty-four days.

Not many months since he left Winters and the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. W. Mosley, and went to O'Donnell to be with his children, Mrs. Lissa Tallant and E. A. and J. E. Lackey, who reside in that city, and many of our people will recall this aged, good man.

Mr. Lackey served through the entire four years of the Civil War, coming through without a wound, and had made Texas his home since that time.

He was a member of the Winters Baptist church, having called for his letter to join the church at O'Donnell, and we are told it worried him considerably when he was taken ill and was unable to join the O'Donnell church. He has led a very attractive life, and his last illness was of short duration, being confined to his bed about two weeks.

Mr. Lackey had twenty-three children, eleven preceding him to the grave. The living are: Mrs. L. W. Mosley, Winters, Mrs. A. F. Sealey, Mankin, Texas; Mrs. Sara Beatenbought; Mrs. Lissa Tallant, E. A. and J. E. Lackey, O'Donnell; Chas. Lackey, Midland; Mike Lackey, Hunt County; Nettie Wilkerson and Jim Lackey, Orange; Will Lackey, Oklahoma; Louis and Alice Lackey, California.

Deceased is also survived by thirty five grandchildren and thirty-eight great grandchildren.

At all times, under all circumstances, he walked in the well beaten path of righteousness and when fully conscious that he was nearing the last of earth, he appeared to be fully impressed with the idea that at the end of time eternity began, and that the bright faith which sustained him during those trying hours of suffering would only grow brighter as he journeyed toward the infinite, and the final gloom of death be dispelled by the radiance of God's love. Could all live the just and upright life he lived, and die in His trusting faith, death could no longer be called "The King of Terrors" for he inspired no terror there.

New Store to Open In Jordan Building

We learn that The Crestover Co., Inc., of Anger, who conducts a chain of stores over the country similar in nature to the Woolworth stores, have contracted for the Jordan building on North Main Street and will open a store here on November 21.

At this time the company was unable to secure only a part of the building, but after January 1, their contract calls for the use of the entire building.

Galloway Honored By Genetic Association

W. S. Galloway, cottonseed breeder of the Thorobred Cottonbreeding Industries of Winters, received notification in the mails one day the past week that through its Council at a regular meeting in Washington, D. C. he had been elected as a member of The American Genetic Association.

We looked the word "Genetic" up in the dictionary and found out that it was an organization pertaining to generating, yielding, producing, plant breeding, etc., and in electing Mr. Galloway to membership the association made no mistake for we believe him to be one of the best cottonseed breeding men in the State, and our people will be pleased to learn of the honor which membership in this association bestows on Mr. Galloway.

MINCE PIE

The California State Hotel association will petition the treasury department to grant a dispensation for the employment of alcohol in mince pie manufacture. Mince pie, so our children are taught, is primarily an American comestible, as are all true pies. It was originated by the capable mothers of the young republic, and it has grown better with the improving years.

It is undeniable that in former times a dash or hard liquor was thought to lend a superior zest and flavor to the mince pie, but it is also true that hard liquor was quite generally quaffed in the same period.

In thousands and thousands of home kitchens, where the mince pie flourishes from late Autumn until early spring, there is little or no complaint of the dearth of brandy Mince pie, as an institution, is great enough food and good enough to require no alcoholic inspiration to insure its thorough palatability. It is not a culinary highball and the ordinary consumer doesn't regret the face. We hear no wide and tearful clamor for brandy in mince pies.

INVENTIVE GERM BUSY

The sale by the patent office of 155,000 models of inventions submitted to the government bureau before 1880 calls attention to the inventive genius of this country which has made possible its great industrial development.

Many of the models were only wild, impractical ideas, but in the majority of them was some inventive germ which a more practical inventor later developed.

This country, as it enjoys all the comforts that countless inventions have brought, little realize what a debt it owes to those thousands who had all sorts of wild ideas to revolutionize the country.

SEAL TIGHT KEPT RIGHT

THE CABINET

Only Secretaries Hoover, Mellon and Davis—of the portfolio of Labor—now remain of the Harding Cabinet. The changes have been rather rapid since President Coolidge took command under his own right. The unusual thing is the presence of two chiefs of the same name. The new Secretary of War is Dwight Davis, while James J. Davis heads the Department of Labor. The Davis family has always been at the front in Democratic councils and this is the first time it has shown strength in the Republican camp.

REAL TEMPERANCE

Chauncey Depew fully expects to round out his 100th year and he is still in fine condition to do it. This seems unusual in one who has had the reputation of living high and well. But the fact remains that when the gifted Chauncey went to his numerous banquets he ate mighty little and drank less. He has been temperate all his life in all things.

Oakland Breaks All Sales Record

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 10.—The Oakland Motor Car Company broke all previous monthly sales records during October when 8003 cars were shipped to dealers.

As the factory has not yet caught up with dealers' unfilled orders these figures are practically synonymous with retail sales.

The production at the factory was 8088 cars, a single car more than the production quota set for October. The factory sales for October beat the previous high monthly sales record of February 1924 by 14 1-2 per cent. It also was more than 146 per cent greater than the sales in October of last year and represents a 63 per cent increase over September of this year.

The present daily production will be gradually increased through November, December and January, and to this end three quarters of million dollars have been spent in providing the necessary equipment to make possible the expanding Oakland Six production program.

Particularly impressive records of retail sales were made in the large metropolitan cities of the country where competition is keenest. Among the larger cities, where Oakland enjoys the greatest October retail sales in its history and ranked exceptionally high in new car registrations are included Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Youngstown, Wichita, St. Louis.

Industry is Doing the World's Work

—The people who know most about industry are those who are in industry. In addition to knowing about industry people who are in the public service industry know about the interest that all the rest of the people have in that industry.

—The public utility industry—for instance the service of West Texas Telephone Co., is peculiar in that it can do well only as the people served by it do well. It is an essential service, and experience has shown that an industry which is affected with a public interest serves well only through co-operation between the service and the people served.

—The spirit of co-operation for the benefit of both the service and those served is the spirit that inspires this company to look always to the welfare of its customers and of the community it serves.

County Agent Makes Report

The following is a report of County Agent's activities in Runnels county for the months of August, September and October:

Phone calls requesting information of service 127; days in field, 66; days in office, 13; calls on county agent at headquarters, 134; letters written, 60; farm and home visits made, 160; field schools of demonstrations conducted, 39; meetings held, 25; attendance at these meetings, 1373; demonstrations visited, 27; miles traveled, 2897.

Poultry Improvement Work

The interesting and encouraging fact that the farmers of Runnels County are becoming more interested in better poultry is verified by the eighteen Community Culling Demonstrations that are given during the past three months. These demonstrations were attended by 130 farm men and women.

These demonstrations brought to light the fact that out of the 5137 birds handled 27 1-2 per cent were unprofitable or non-producers. These loafers constituted a liability on the hands of the farmers. They consume their daily ration of feed but return nothing in value received. The educational value of these demonstrations is being appreciated by the farmers.

In connection with this work, proper care of poultry, feeding of balanced rations and poultry sanitation were discussed. Plans for modern poultry houses were also furnished to a number of farmers.

Field Seed Selection Work

One of the most important pieces of work carried on with adults during the past three months was that of field seed selection. Twelve field schools were held. Nine in selecting kaffirs and three in selecting cotton. These schools were attended by 84 adults. Most of this work was carried out in the fields, where the soil, the physical condition of the plants and the natural environment of the plants could be studied and where comparisons could be made between poor and good types.

The interest that was shown in this work warrants the planting of better seed as well as the increased production per acre next year and will mean more money to those farmers who are carrying on this work.

Club Work

Club work during the past three months has made a steady and healthy progress. Sixteen meetings were held with an attendance of 199 members. Nine schools in seed selection were conducted. Five in selecting of kaffirs and four in studying various varieties and types of cotton. Three demonstrations were given in culling and judging poultry. Thirty four club projects were visited and a check made on the progress of the work. In checking up the work it was found that practically all the members have a nice profit on the credit side of their record books this year. Several of the boys carrying on cotton projects are making a splendid record this year.

The club members made a fine showing during the county fair, their total winnings amounting to over $200.00.

Entomology

During the leaf worm epidemic that struck Runnels county this summer a good deal of the county agents time was devoted to fighting this pest. 157 field inspections were made, 15 community demonstrations in applying poison materials were conducted, 186 plans for building home made sprayers were furnished the farmers and 1097 formulas for the proper mixing of, both, the dry and the liquid spray poison were supplied by this office. The agent also rendered all possible assistance in locating and having shipped in the proper poison material to be used in fighting this pest.

Farm Engineering

In farm engineering we are just getting ready for the season's work. Seven farms have been looked over during the past month with a view of terracing them during the winter months. Irrigation ditches were surveyed on one farm and pump sites located on three others.

A good many applications for farm engineering work have already been filed and judging from the interest displayed in this work so early in the year there will be a great deal of soil preservation work done this winter and early spring.

Fairs

A good deal of the county agent's time during September and the early part of October was devoted to matters pertaining to the county fair.

Farm crops, canned goods, fruits, vegetables and other materials necessary for a complete exhibition were gathered from all sections of the county. Out of the materials thus gathered a selection of quality products was made properly wrapped and stored.

On September 20th, in co-operation with the local Chamber of Commerce, these materials were carried to Abilene and put up as a county exhibit at the West Texas Fair. Although competition was very keen, out of eighteen competitors, Runnels county was given first place.

Eighteen community meetings during September and October for the purpose of stimulating interest in the Runnels county fair. Twelve demonstrations in the proper selection of farm crops and other materials for exhibition purposes were given. As a direct result of these meetings the spacious Agricultural Hall was filled to overflowing with agricultural exhibits during the five days of the fair.

Fourteen community booths, displaying, in a most creditable manner, the agricultural products of their respective communities, attracted the attention and the praise of the thousands of visitors daily thronging the hall.

The entire center of the building was given over to the general display of farm exhibits or to the open class. Every inch of available space was taken up. The cotton collection display attracted a great deal of attention and favorable comment.

The livestock exhibits were splendid. The sheep and Jersey show deserves special mention. The poultry show was one of the best we have ever had. Throughout the various departments "good quality" was predominant.

The spirit of co-operation and good fellowship that predominated throughout the entire fair was simply wonderful. In spite of the unpleasant weather the fair was a grand success.

At the conclusion of the Runnels County Fair the prizewinning materials were gathered from the various booths, the general display as well as the Womens' Department, these supplemented by materials the County Agent had on hand from the Abilene Fair were taken to San Angelo and put on display as a County Exhibit at the All West Texas Exposition. In putting up the county exhibit at San Angelo the county agent had the wholehearted co-operation and active assistance of Mr. J. D. Motley, Secretary of the Runnels County

At San Angelo the Runnels county exhibit won first place over all competitors by 98 points. Thus old Runnels county is staying at the top and getting better all the time.—C. W. Lehberg, County Agent, Runnels County.

Mrs. F. S. Kilpatrick, who had been a guest in the home of her son, E. R. Kilpatrick, the past week, left for her home in San Angelo Wednesday. She was accompanied home by Mr. Kilpatrick and family who spent Armistic day in Angelo.

An Open Letter

To Men Who Must Buy Christmas Presents

Last year I bought my wife's Christmas present the day before Christmas, and I did the same thing the year before, and, in fact, for a good many years before that.

I always did keep putting it off, and, as a consequence, I never have been satisfied with what I bought her. It was selected in haste, after everything was picked over, and I always felt a little bit ashamed of what I finally selected, almost at random.

This year it's different—my wife's present is already selected and laid away for Christmas—and I feel proud of myself. I know she is going to like it for I gave a good deal of thought to getting something I knew she would like.

Can you say as much? Why not make this year an exception to your usual habit? Why not take the time this week instead of at the last minute?

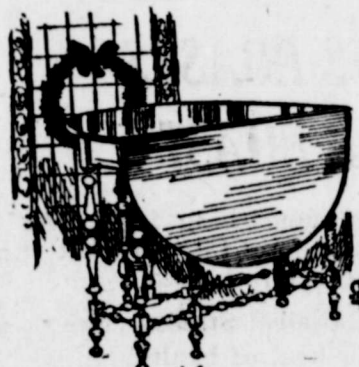

There isn't any present more appreciated by the average woman than a piece of furniture—you know that, of course.

Thinking of just such men as you and I are, this year I ordered all of my Christmas stock of gift specials earlier than usual, and they are coming in every day. I have arranged a "Gift Section" in my store and you can see a mighty interesting display of things your wife will like if you drop in soon.

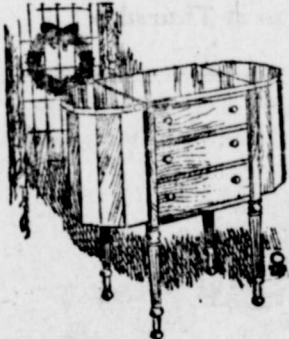

Then, of course, I will pack up carefully and put away what you select, and deliver it when you say so—and I won't send you the bill until after Christmas either.

Don't you think it's a good plan? And may I look for you before long? Your Assistant Santa Clause.

Cattlemen Kings In Hoot Gibson's Photoplay

The West as it was in the days when the cattlemen was king, but a king nevertheless who had enemies in plenty, and who maintained the kingship by virtue of the ability of his retainers to shoot first, is brought back to realism in "The Saddle Hawk," Universal Production which will be shown in the Queen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, November 13 and 14.

The entire action of the picture story takes place in the cattle country, and Hoot Gibson and his supporting company journeyed, from Universal City to the wide ranges of Eastern Oregon to obtain the necessary background. As a result, country never before photographed for screen purposes will be seen in this story.

"The Saddle Hawk," was written especially for Gibson by Raymond L. Schroek and Edward Sedgwick who have collaborated on a number of stories in which Gibson has been starred under direction of the same Sedgwick. And in the writing the authors created many opportunities for Universal's famous Ranch Riders to contribute to the thrills with which the picture is replete.

Marian Nixon is Gibson's leading woman in the picture.

The opening of the story finds young herder of sheep, employed by an aged Mexican. By a series of strange developments the young sheep-herder becomes known far and wide as a man of desperate determination. Entrusted with the duty of escorting a beautiful young woman to her father's ranch, the young rider kills a man in a duel, but the girl is captured by the leader of a band of outlaws.

With a price on his head, sought by the sheriff and distrusted by the girl's father, the young horseman scorns danger to himself and sets about to rescue the girl, a task which necessitates among other hazards

The picture is said to be replete with thrills, including a desperate hand-to-hand fight between two men on galloping horses and a battle between outlaws and a sheriff's posse, that of heading the outlaws in their own headquarters.

OLIVER HORSE AND PONY DIC PLOW

Oliver disc plows do good, clean plowing. They cut an even depth furrow and cover all weeds and trash. Even in the hardest soils these plows stick to the ground and cut a full width furrow.

The disc scrapers pulverize the furrow slice so that the plowed surface is in ideal condition for the next step in seed bed preparation. The strong, well braced frame of heavy flat bar steel gives sufficient rigidity and strength to withstand the twisting stresses to which a disc plow is subjected.

"The Air Mail" Paramount Film

The once little thought of air mail now pioneering the way in commercial aviation and demonstrating that it is practicable to operate cargo carrying planes on schedule time over vast distances, day and night, winter and summer, becomes a screen thriller at the Queen next week in Paramount's "The Air Mail," produced by Irvin Willat from the original screen story by Byron Morgan, who wrote "Code of the Sea" and others.

Warner Baxter, Billie Dove, Mary Brian and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., have featured roles in the production, adapted for the screen by James Shelley Hamilton.

We can't imagine anything more fascinating or thrilling than the pictured flights of the fearless air mailmen as they "carry on" in all kinds of weather to bring the mail—some even going so far as to give their lives in the service.

The picture has to do with Warner Baxter, in the role of Russ Kane, master-mind crook who becomes a mail pilot to rob the planes and winds up by routing his former cronies and marrying a beautiful girl.

Scenes of the picture take place at Sacramento and Reno, two big stations along the air route and in a "deserted city" where Billie Dove and her father, victims of a poor real estate deal, live. Kane is forced down near Bill's home during a storm. He meets her, and from then on they are the very best of friends.

Later, Kane is "winged" by two bandit planes and vol-planes to earth on the desert, where with Billie Dove and Fairbanks, Jr., he gives the crooks the fight for their lives. The picture comes to a close with the arrival of a sheriff's posse and capture of the thieves.

"The Air Mail" comes to the Queen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, November 18 and 19.

Saturday night. All former members of the church are invited. The dedication service will be the third Sunday in November. The Baptists at Drasco rejoice that their nice church is clear of debt.

Mr. Allen and family from near Lubbock are visiting Mr. Hugh Baker and family.

Mr. Nelson Crow has returned from an extended visit to relatives in Oklahoma.

U. S. Army Uses Chevrolet Car

The latest addition to the Army transportation service is the Chevrolet trans-continental auto car.

The machine as used by the Military is the regular Chevrolet chassis without the passenger top and body. It is fitted with low, cushioned seats. The fenders and running board are the same as are used on the passenger cars of the Chevrolet line. The car carries front and rear bumpers and the wheels are of the steel disc type.

The Chevrolet Army car is used principally for the rapid conveyance of officers during maneuvers or other military operations. The combination of balloon tires, lights, stripped chassis and powerful engine enables it to leave the roads and travel over rough country. Attached to the tops of the rear fenders are metal hand rails which the occupants of the back seats may grasp when the going is bad.

General John A. Lejeune, commander of the United States Marine Corps, used one of the Chevrolet Army cars recently while inspecting a sham battle staged by the "Devil Dogs" at Camp Meade, Md. He was accompanied by Generals Feland and Williams and Colonel O. S. Eskridge. The latter drove the car during the maneuvers.

A. W. Fuqua of Westbrook, Texas, but a former citizen of Winters and at one time an employe of the Winters past week-end transacting business and renewing old acquaintances.

J. W. Monroe of Lockney, Texas, was in the city the past week-end attending to business and greeting his many old friends here. He says he is well pleased with his new home and is doing fine.

Ford Produces 9,017 Cars and Trucks in Day

Exceeding all expectations for daily output, Ford production went to a new record of 9,017 cars and trucks on Friday, Oct. 30, it was announced at the general offices of the Ford Motor Company Saturday afternoon. This remarkable industrial achievement becomes more important when it is recalled that sixty days ago assembly of cars had halted while materials for the improved types were being shipped to branches. Since that time production has steadily risen from practically nothing to record breaking heights.

Every week for the last three weeks, as the company's thirty-two domestic assembly plants swung into production, new daily records have been created. October will go down as a record breaking month, for with Saturday's assembly, production for the month will run in excess 200,000 cars and trucks, exceeding any similar period in the history of the company.

ARMISTICE

The eleventh of November is here again, with all its tidings. Tidings of peace and the thought of liberty, yet, with its memories of death moaning, and agony, of those dying for the sacred cause of liberty and justice on the bloody battlefields of Europe.

Do not our hearts leap with patriotism, when we recall the long shrill of the whistles, the shouts of voices and the prayers of mothers, as it was proclaimed "The World's At Peace." The thought of seeing the boys in kahaki march from the bloody battle fields of war, back to their peaceful homes, beneath the Stars and Stripes of America, to take up the common toil of life, is one of the grandest and most glorious events to be recalled in the history of man.

As our hearts beat fast at the thoughts of it all we must not forget that there are those who moan in memory of the tragedy of the last day of the war. For then were those who fought from the first till the last, and then fall as heroes in the trickling blood of the roaring battle field and lived not to see the glory their bravery had brought the world.

This donation is appreciated very much by the school and we thank Mr. and Mrs. Skaggs for their co-operation and interest in our school work.

Snapshots were made of the club for the annual. Refreshments were served and were enjoyed by all. The O. I.'s. were entertained that night with a Theatre party.

THE LOW SEVENTH ENJOYS A HALLOWEEN PARTY

The home of Judge and Mrs. A. O. Strother was beautifully decorated Friday night, October 30, 1925 when their son, Archie entertained his classmates and friends with a Halloween party. Many interesting games and jokes were enjoyed and time passed all too fast. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and everyone left declaring they had enjoyed the frolic. Those who were present are: Misses Anna B. Faulkner, Denzil Barnhill, Fannie Lou Stokes, Clara Nitsch, Irla Fairrey, Virgil Dean Patterson, Altus Shipman, Annie Mae Rainwater, Anice Faulkenberry, Cordellia Paxton, Helen Spill, Mildred Polk, Frances Johnson, also Master Leeshen Henslee, Roscoe, Bartlett, Foy Unsell, Stuart Williams, Harold Stooksberry, Francis Smith, Eugene Williams, Clarence Spill, Otis Lankford, John Q. McAdams, Ralph Eason and J. Norris Hinds.

O. AND D. GIVES SPLENDID PROGRAM

The O. and D. club gave an excellent program in the chapel period last Friday. Benton Neely delivered a splendid original oration. This was followed by patriotic readings by Christine Barnett and Marie Hill. Lavera Neely and Truett Barber gave "Flanders Field." At the close of the program "America" was sung by the student body (this included Mr. Robertson.)

"WHY I AM GOING TO COLLEGE"

The following article written by L. G. Mosley, a former student in the Winters schools, who is attending Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, where the family recently moved, from Winters route 5, is taken from the Jack Rabbit, the college paper. The article was one of the two best turned in on the subject and is reproduced here because the many friends of the family will be glad to hear from them:

"Why am I going to college? Some might say to learn how to make money; others, to get out of work, while others might say to have a good time or to see how much money they can spend. None of these answers suit my case, so that I am going to tell you just why I am in college. The first thing I think of is to learn to speak and write correctly. In my life's work I shall need to speak good English and use words fluently in order to interest my hearers in what I am saying. Another reason for my being in college is that I want to get a thorough knowledge of the Bible, so that when I preach I shall preach the truth. If I do not go to some college and learn and think, speak and write clearly I shall be out yonder in life as a ship in a deep fog—lost, helpless—because I cannot see far enough around me to be able to reach the shore or avoid the rocks."

THE SENIORS IN SESSION

As I entered the study hall, There sat the Seniors one and all. Everyone in his own place, With a dumb look upon his face. There was Turney in the president's chair.

And secretary Bendena was also there.

Elmo Low who was bold and young, Started an outburst in a profane tongue.

Turney at him began to swear, And told him to shut up or get out of there.

Elmo shut up but ground his teeth, And stamped the floor that lay beneath.

Then Bendena, the secretary did declare,

As if she knew just how to swear. That noise could go—

Oh well, you must know, To where they don't shovel snow.

Then I left and shut the door, So I could not hear any more,

Of that awful profound uproar.

Mrs. L. E. Low was called to Temple last Thursday to be with her sister, who will undergo a major operation at the Temple Sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norman spent Armistic and the day after visiting with relatives and friends in Killeen.

SOCIETY

MARTHA CLASS HAD SOCIAL MEETING

The members of the Martha class enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. P. M. Davis last Tuesday, when they met in business and social meeting at her lovely rural home, with Mesdames Davis and Corwyle as hostesses.

The reception rooms were beautifully decorated in the class colors of pink and green. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. H. H. Stephens, using Jeremiah 33:3 as her subject, bringing a very inspirational and helpful message to the class. Prayer was led by Mrs. Hickman followed by a talk by Miss Laura Coupland on China and also a piano solo which was very much appreciated and enjoyed.

Following a short business meeting delicious refreshments of chicken salad, sandwiches, hot chocolate and cake and salted nuts in dainty little nut cups were served to Mesdames Hickman, Cleveland, Harrison, Benson, Burton, Alexander, Stephens, Thornton, Meeks, Davidson, Curry, Brian, Spear and Misses Coupland and Mitchell.

METHODIST W. M. S. OBSERVE WEEK OF PRAYER

The Methodist Woman's Missionary Society met in the basement of the church at 10 a. m. Monday, November 9, and had an all day meeting, observing the week of prayer.

The meeting opened with quite a number of members and friends present with Mrs. T. V. Jennings presiding, and conducting the devotional service. Her talks were very much appreciated throughout the day.

An interesting program was carried out in the morning on the following subjects: "Moving Forward Through Prayer," Mrs. Bryan; "Facts about Carolina Institute," Mrs. Walter Neely; "Story of Josephine Campbell," Mrs. A. H. Smith; Piano Duet, Mesdames Chapman and Smith; News Items from Missionary Bulletin, Mrs. Stevens, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Swartz, closing the morning session.

An elaborate and delicious meal was spread, which was enjoyed by all.

One of the most interesting features of the afternoon program, which began at 2 o'clock, was a talk by Miss Laura Coupland on China and her work there. Other interesting papers for the afternoon program were: Interesting Facts about the Bennett School, Mrs. Chas. Chapman; Piano Solo, Mrs. Buford Owens; Missions and Prayer, Mrs. T. V. Jennings; Prayer for Our Country, Mrs. W. A. Pace; Praying for the World's Family, Mrs. Strother; James looked to Jesus and Lived, Mrs. Garrett; Praying for Our Church, Mrs. Swartz.

"Where Your Dollars Has More Cents"

MAKING A VAGRANT SPRING GO TO WORK FOR IRRIGATION

(By Wellington Brink, Special Writer for Farm and Ranch.)

Arresting and Imprisoning Hillside Waters Near Winters, Texas

ONE of the best recipes for making money that I have come across runs like this:

"Take one earthen tank of suitable dimensions, pour into it the clear waters of a hillside spring, wait for dry weather and thirsty crops, use as needed, and watch results."

Simple, isn't it? So many ambitious little springs over Texas and other parts of the Southwest are idling their time and energies away for want of opportunity! In many cases they are potential fountains of wealth, wasting their worth for lack of farmers who will make basins for storing the fabled treasures.

It is a strong statement, but true: "Land that will sell for $100 an acre has been made worth $75 an acre annual rent irrigated."

I know that that is so for I saw such land, walked on the embankment of the tank used for irrigation, and photographed a fine specimen of two-bale-per-acre seed cotton being held in the embraces of an admiring pretty girl.

Enthusiastic for Irrigation

Dr. J. V. Jennings owns this farm near Winters, Texas, and rents it to the Thoroughbred Cottonbreeding Industries, Inc. W. S. Galloway, registered cottonseed breeder, in charge, recited the glories of irrigation, and viewing its fruits, I could well participate in his enthusiasm.

This firm of cotton breeders has, altogether, 4,000 acres under cultivation. One hundred of these acres, the premier producers, are irrigated. And of the 100, this little tract of eight, fed by the stored-up waters of the hillside spring, are entitled to the garland crown of championship.

The pond was simple to construct. Sitting in the lap of the hill, it is held by a two-walled dam of earth piled eight feet high with a scraper. The spring was ten days in filling this one-acre reservoir to its usual depth of seven feet.

Perch and frogs now make this lakelet their headquarters, and it is but a matter of time, according to my guide, until large species of fish shall be carried in these waters for the profit and sport they will afford.

A Profitable Crop

"I have been told," I remarked, "that one of the most profitable crops per acre that a farmer can raise is a tank well stocked with bass, catfish or other good fish. I have heard of red-end-reef enthusiasts coming out to such a place and paying so much per pound for fish they are permitted to take on their own hooks."

Irrigation is done strictly by gravity. Pipes lead through the dam, and valves control the passage of water.

"We had a dry winter," stated Mr. Galloway. "The tract was wet after planting time and again following fruiting."

"Irrigation is especially advantageous in this locality by reason of our being above the boll-weevil line. Irrigation with us, contrary to irrigation in many places is not an open invitation to insect pests to 'Come and do your worst'."

The eight-acre plot has been irrigated two years with outstanding success. Next year it is planned to put fifty acres under the magic influence of water.

Marked Difference in Yield

This relatively ordinary land of mixed-sandy loam, almost worn out by thirty years of steady cultivation, suddenly brought to life and reanimated by irrigation and the application of some 200 pounds of commercial fertilizer to the acre, this year produced two bales to the acre in marked distinction from the three-fourths bale it otherwise would have made.

And what cotton! It was magnificent, of the Mebane type.

At my suggestion we stripped a few sample bolls from their burs and weighed them on a delicate apothecary's balance. Careful measurement and calculation showed that it required just 35 1-8 of these marvelous bolls to make a pound. This is remarkable when it is remembered that sixty bolls to the pound is good cotton.

It is little wonder that these several choice watered acres should rent for $75 a year, while being but a part of a larger tract that has been on the market at $100 for an outright, inclusive sale!

"That clearly shows the value we place on irrigation," said Mr. Galloway.

Other Tracts Irrigated

Several other tracts, under the same management, some of them making as high yields as this, are irrigated—these by pumps lifting the water from a spring-fed creek.

Across the way is the large profitable truck farm of J. S. Neely, all under irrigation from an artificial lake covering several acres of ground. This lake catches the water from a large watershed, and gravity principles are largely used in getting the water to the growing crops. Not only truck, but eye-opening cotton and milo maize, thrive under the skillful hand and the watchful eye of Mr. Neely and his assistants—and under the wizardry of well-directed water.

Simmons University Homecoming

Abilene, Texas, Nov. 3.—Thursday, November 26, Thanksgiving day, will be homecoming day for the thousands of alumni and ex-students of Simmons University now residing in every section of West Texas.

The occasion will be the annual "Turkey Day" foot ball game between Howard Payne College and Simmons University. The game this year will be played on the Simmons gridiron. The Howard Payne team will come to Abilene by special train, accompanied by hundreds of students and friends. The train will be met by the eight hundred students of Simmons and by hundreds of ex-students who will be present to once again help boost the purple and gold cowboy team to victory. The football game in the afternoon will be a battle royal between these two rival teams for the championship of west and central west Texas, and perhaps for the championship of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association for this year.

The Simmons homecoming program will begin on Wednesday afternoon, November 25. Visiting alumni and ex-students will register in the afternoon at the business office of the university. At this time homes will be assigned the visitors. On Wednesday evening a reception will be given at the home of President Sandefer. On Thanksgiving day a Irriation gets a unanimous vote of confidence in this Winters, Texas section. And it is a well merited endorsement. These people know irrigation's advantages by close contact. In their experience is a message long awaited by many farming districts of the Southwest which are now and then literally dry for want of rainfall, and figuratively thirsty for want of irrigation knowledge.

turkey dinner will be served on the university campus. Following the game in the afternoon, a banquet will be given the football team by the "S" Association of the athletic department of the institution.

There are over ten thousand ex-students and alumni of Simmons University in West Texas and hundreds of these are expected to return to their alma mater for the Thanksgiving celebration.

If Broadway does have a day Thanksgiving it probably will not be very thankful.

Says Cotton Should Be Held for Better Price

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 30, 1925.—To those interested in the price of cotton: The Government has made another guess at the crop and the decline in price amounts to more on the unsold portion of the crop than the reported increase will sell for. From reports the recent freeze will destroy twice as much as the reported increase, but advocating the price is in the hands of the owners of the unsold cotton.

The 1925 crop should have sold for 30 cents. Some have sold for much less. The leaders of Cotton States Protective League have been leaders in such work among farmers organizations which have produced results for the past 25 years and is trying to aid the owners to get 30 cents for the balance of it. From the continued increasing sales of cotton goods, the spinners say all that has been reported will be need ed.

The slumps in price and the low price before them could have been prevented if the South had been organized to resist them. Likewise the price can be advocated with proper effort.

From reliable reports there is enough cotton being held to advance the price to 30 cents if it was publicly known it was not for sale for less.

Then why not let it be known. Just holding without letting the public know what it is held for counts for but little to the price.

Two of the best posted, oldest and most reliable cotton factors in the South, W. L. Moody Cotton Co., of Galveston, Texas, and R. M. Gordon & Co., of Houston, Texas, fully agree with us that the sale of cotton should cease in order to advance the price, in this connection R. M. Gordon & Co. says: "A general holding movement of sufficient magnitude would exert a greater influence in sustaining the market than any other factor. "We can heartily commend the movement of the Cotton States Protective League in its campaign to assist the producers of cotton in obtaining a fair margin of profit on their product, and the aims and purposes of the League are worthy of the endorsement and support of all interests which are concerned in the prosperity of this entire country."

Some of the better-known of the cotton factors announced that, in order to help the work of The Cotton States Protective League to get fair prices for cotton to the producers, they will advance as much as 75 to 80 per cent of the market value of cotton at a low rate of interest, for which shippers may draw with bill of lading attached; cotton so consigned to be held for account, and subject to the instructions of the shipper, with reasonable charges for shortage for storage, insurance etc.

In addition to such facilities, the banks of the South report ample funds to be loaned on stored and insured cotton. With these facilities at the command of the owners of cotton, and they knowing it is well worth 30 cents, and can get it by the asking, they have no one to blame but themselves if they do not price it and protect their interest. Of course the people must be reached for them to act in unison, for which we must depend upon the friendly press to publish.

Public meetings should be held in every community and committees appointed on holding cotton and the reduction of acreage for next year. The present acreage and a fair yield over the belt with no well established organization to care for prices, would mean disaster to the entire country. Announce the results of such meetings to the local papers and send copies to the city dailies. Let your act be known.

We asked 30 cents for cotton in the fall of 1917 when it was selling for 15 cents and received 30 cents for it. We asked 35 cents for it in 1918 when it was selling for 18 cents and received 35 cents for it. We asked 40 cents for it in 1919 when it was selling for 22 cents and received 40 cents for it. We asked nothing for it in 1920 when it was selling for 35 cents, just sold "slow" or "orderly", and received 15 cents and bankruptcy. Will we profit or lose by past experiences? It is for the owners of cotton to say.

If The Cotton Protective League is notified of actions taken at meetings or by individuals it will gladly render all aid in its power. Respectfully, —CHAS. B. METCALFE, President, San Angelo, Texas. W. B. YEARY, Secy.-Treas. 3113 Live Oak St., Dallas, Texas.

What's Doing In West Texas

Cisco—The most unique fish hatchery in the world is to be built at Lake Cisco by the State Game Fish and Hatchery Commission. Contract has been let for the first unit and when complete the hatchery will represent an investment of $30,000. The unusual feature rests in the fact that the hatchery is to be built inside the big dam in the world and it will enable the plant to turn out millions of fish. Rainbow trout, yellow cat, bass, beam and crappie will be propagated.

Aspermont—The Stonewall county Chamber of Commerce held a business and social meeting here. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce was represented by E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager who made an address. J. H. Squires special agent for the Westchester Insurance Co., of Dallas also spoke. H. F. Grindstaff is president and Bob Robertson is secretary of the Stonewall county organization.

Plainview—The highway from Lubbock to Canyon a distance of 115 miles is to be oiled by the State Highway Department. The entire road will be graded and rolled and treated with special asphalt oil by a method similar to that employed in Illinois. Cost of the work is estimated at $1,000 per mile and will be paid for with road maintenance funds. If this proves successful a number of Panhandle highways will receive similar treatment.

Robert Lee—Preliminary steps looking toward the great Colorado river irrigation project in this county were taken at a meeting here. Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Gib Gilchrist and J. Nagel prominent engineers and a committee of Coke county citizens spoke on the subject. An extended discussion was held and another meeting to be held here Nov. 14, when Frank Kell, C. M. Caldwell, A. Lincoln Fellowes, Porter Whaley and R. Q. Lee with other prominent builders will discuss the project thoroughly with Coke county property owners and a definite decision will be reached as to whether the project will be pushed. Littlefield—Lamb county has been granted three hundred thousand dollars for highway construction on highways No. 7 and 28. This sum must be reached with county funds. Agitation is under way for a bond issue for highway construction in the county and it is likely that an election will be held soon.

Quanah—A solid train load of cement plaster was shipped from a local plaster mill this week. The commodity will be sent via train to Savannah, Georgia from where it will go via steamship to Florida. Florida is at present buying enormous quantities of cement plaster and west Texas gyp mills are reaping great benefit from the building boom in Florida.

Lubbock—A whirl wind campaign for six thousand dollars is being waged by the local chamber of commerce. This money is needed to pay off outstanding debts and continue operations to January 1st. An election will be held before Jan. 1st to vote an amendment to the city charter providing for a board of city development.

Abilene—The Abilene Chamber of Commerce is preparing a booklet giving the names of all contributing members of the organization and naming those citizens who have been active in putting over civic programs. This is intended to stimulate Chamber of Commerce activities and support as well as give proper credit to the workers.

Sweetwater—The Texas Hereford Association held its annual auction sale of registered Herefords here. A total of 28 head were sold at an average price per head of $293.64. Top was $725 for a bull consigned by D. L. McDonald of Hereford and bought by Mrs. H. C. Meriwether of Alpine. All cattle offered were entered in the Nolan county fair.

The turkey crop is said to be very scant, while the cranberry crop is heavy. What consolation is there in that?

DIVERSIFIED FARMING PAYS

Col. C. C. French, Industrial Agent for the Fort Worth Stockyards, and County Agent R. O. Dunkle of Hereford, in their diversified farming campaign over Deaf Smith County found one man who is a real diversified farmer. The following story obtained from J. F. Cockrell, a Deaf Smith County farmer, recently while French and Dunkle were doing extension work in this section:

Those doubting the value of the "Live at Home Plan," for the farmer whether he actually owns his own home or is a renter should be convinced of its vital importance after hearing the story of J. E. Cockrell, living seven miles northeast of Hereford in Deaf Smith County. Cockrell has six in the family and rents his farm. The fact that he is a tenant doesn't keep him from carrying out diversification with the live at home plan in its fullest meaning.

Last winter when many of his neighbors were buying practically everything they ate, Cockrell was feeding a family of six and a school teacher who was boarding there, at an average cost of $12.50 per month. Those who know the Cockrells will stand behind this statement, that the family has just as much to eat as anyone family in Deaf Smith County.

The same menu that was used throughout the winter, bought at any grocery store would have averaged $75 per month. Practically everything that was used to feed the family was canned during the summer before. Here is where the Live at Home Method came in handy.

It doesn't take a very good farmer to practice the plan during the summer months, because garden products, chicken, butter, eggs, etc., can be obtained in abundance. But the man who can provide enough stuff for the winter months is seldom found. Such a man is J. E. Cockrell.

All the canned products that were used last winter were produced on the farm and put up by Mrs. Cockrell during her spare time. Beef, corn, beans, tomatoes three kinds of peas, sweet potatoes, cabbage, beets, fruits and preserves were the canned goods used for the table use. In addition to these the Cockrells had cured pork, lard, eggs, poultry, butter and milk. Cream is sold the year round. How many city folks have such a variety of goods for the cold winter days?

Those who have visited in the home since the Live at Home Plan was adopted predict that Mr. Cockrell will not be a tenant farmer very long, because with such a plan he can soon own his own farm and be independent financially.

Of course, Mr. Cockrell's barns are kept well filled with feed stuffs for no man can profitably raise a living on the farm and buy his feedstuffs in town. It can't be worked that way. A man had better be a one-cropper than attempt to diversify without raising an abundance of feed stuffs to carry him over the drought year, which comes sooner or later.

Football games enable the American people to let off a lot of steam that might cause trouble if turned into the wrong channel.

The President has appointed the week beginning Nov. 16 as Educational Week. Cheer up! That leaves 51 weeks for ignorance.

Milt Brasher on the Reformers

(By Joe Sappington)

Some men can never adjust themselves to the new order of things and regard all social and political changes as innovations and subversion of their God-given rights and liberties.

A few days ago I met Milt Brasher, an old boyhood friend of mine, whom I had not seen for many years, and was not long in finding out that he was living in the past and opposed to all things modern. "Joe," he began, when our greetings were over, "the world has come to an awful pass since me and you was boys, and its gittin worse and worse all the time. The dern reformers has took all the joy out of a feller's life. Joe Sap, we ain't got any more liberties today than a meek eyed rabbit. Puoar and undefiled religion lack old Parson Medors used to preach on Cave Creek when we was boys, is no longer hearn in this land of sorrow and tribulation. When me and you was boys, Joe, people shouted when they get religion, but they have quit shoutin now. I'll bet if a feller was to forgit himself and shout out the glad hallelujahs of a redeemed soul in one of our tall expensive city churches, he would be arrested for disturbin public worship and placed under bond to keep the peace."

"Speaking of modern preachin, I got a dose of it a few weeks ago while visitin my daughter, who lives in Sent Louis, when I went to hear her pastor preach. He wore a long tailed dress, parted his hair in the middle, probably wore a corset and read his scripture with his back turned to the congregation. Joe, if that blame sissy had any influence with the Lord, don't you know that old Pastor Medors must have been a power with Him. I shore wish you could have been with me an seen and hearn that little feller strut and elocute. But what got my goat the wust of all was the choir what done all its singin in a fureign tongue. A little cock-eyed feller sung a piece all by hisself, but I couldn't understand a blame word of the song, and it was the same thing over when the young lady dressed in a bathin suit came forward and squealed and goed till she lost her breath.

When me and you was boys, Joe, they worshipped God in sperit and truth and sung His praises in plain English so it could be understood by the most ignorant sinner."

Realizing that Milt was getting wrought up over the modern religion and remembering some of our early fishing trips, I changed the subject to that topic by asking him if he still enjoyed the sport. "Speak in of fishing, Joe, that reminds me that the dern reformers has took all the joy out of it the same as they have out of religion. Some of the most pleasant hours I ever spent was playin poker durin fishin trips. In the glare of electric lights and settin in a upright position at the side of a tall varnished table, I'm a poar poker player; but way off on the banks of some lomesome river fur from the strife and turmoil of this world and surrounded by a few friends, I'm one of the best poker players this glorious republic of ours ever produced. But as I said at the start, Joe, the dern reformers have took all the pep and vigor outen ever thing, includin fishin. The last fishin trp I went on there was nothin cheerful or inspirin about it, nothin stronger than soda water to cheer the droopin spirits. All we done on that trip was to ketch fish and eat and sleep. Since the wimmen has got to holdin office thar's nothin left in politics for a he man lack me and you. In the county adjinin mine a woman was elected sheriff by a big majority over a feller that had killed five train robbers and hung four horse thieves by his self. All these things, Joe, is fulfillin the prophecies of the good book. Don't it say thar will be strange things to happen in the days precedin the destruction of the earth? All these things is signs of the quick comin of that awful day when the world will go up in flames and the wicked will flee the wrath to come. But goin back to the good old days, Joe, when ever body was religious an honest—back to them grand old days before we had prohibition and woman sufferg we shore—" But I was called away at this juncture and didn't return until I was assured that Milt had departed, so I will have to be excused from quoting him further on the degeneracy of this age.

I want your turks. Will pay you for them.—W. B. Barrett Cash Grocery, S. Main.

Mr. W. B. McCaughan left Tuesday in Dallas to be with his son, Bailey, who had two severe attacks of appendicitis and may have to undergo an operation. The young man's friends here are hoping for him a speedy recovery.

In other words, Mr. Mellon plans to cut one.

Sills Scores Hit In First Star Film

Heart interest, pathos, tragedy, love, suspense, thrills, laughs, excitement—all these are found in "The Making of O'Malley," the big First National feature picture which comes at the Queen Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, November 16 and 17.

This is Milton Sills first starring vehicle, and he is seen at his best in the role of a New York policeman. The story is laid in New York and interweaves the lives of a society girl who has tired of her social position and the policeman. There is a beautiful love theme running through the plot, at the end of which the policeman wins the wealthy girl. But the refining influence of the woman has had its effect on this twofisted man of the force, and lifts him up to a higher and finer appreciation of life. In short, O'Malley is a re-made man when the picture ends.

Not even in "The Sea Hawk" did Sills battle more effectively than he does in this picture. But beneath the gruffness of the "cop" lies a kindly spirit. Within his breast is a heart softened by pity and sentiment.

Gov. Al Smith hints at retirement. It is often necessary to retire fast runners.

Howard-Payne College is the largest denominational senior co-educational institution in Texas but its life is threatened without endowment, for, Texas Association of Colleges has ruled that such a college must have at least $500,000 of endowment of its equivalent to remain standard.

As associational director of Runnels Association in the campaign and as one of the endowment committee, that is composed of pastors, Swindell, of Ballinger, Stokes of Miles, Stephens of Winters, DeWees of Bronte and Hickey of Norton, I appeal to the Baptist and other friends of christian education to have a part in the saving of this great institution for a great future. I have been a pastor in the association for three years and have held several revival meetings and know something of the great spirit of its people. I firmly believe that they will rally to this great cause.—R. E. Milam.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.

"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

"Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC-164

Excursion to Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas

(MAKE TRIP EVERY TWO WEEKS)

$25.00 for the round trip from Winters, which includes meals, transportation, sleeper, a day spent in Galveston or San Antonio, and shown over the Valley and all accommodations while there.

The only requirements are that you are able to buy land if you should desire to do so, with small cash payment down and the remainder due in three and six years, payable on or before at 6 per cent interest. Can sell you any sized tract of land desired.

We will leave on our next trip in the afternoon of the 22nd of November and return on the 27th. No better vacation can be had than this one. Take the wife and give her that trip you have been promising her so long. It will only cost you $50.00 for the trip for the two. You will be entertained. No unfair or high pressure methods used. An excellent trip and a square deal.

These lands are in Hidalgo county, Texas, all under irrigation from the great Rio Grande River, where you can have water within a few hours after you put in your order,—making it rain when desired. No droughts there. Crops grown all year round with no loss of time. HIDALGO COUNTY PRODUCES MORE COTTON THAN RUNNELS COUNTY. It costs about 1-2 as much to get cotton priced as here. The water system is owned by the farmers which it serves and the price averages about $5.00 per acre per year and you can have all the water you want when you want it.

The climate is excellent (no blizzards there) and the health is good. Refer to U. S. Weather Bureau Station reports at Brownsville, Texas, and note that it rarely ever gets as hot as here and rarely ever has frosts.

Crops grown: Cotton, Corn, all kinds of Truck, Oranges, Lemons, Grape Fruit (quality superior to California or Florida,) Dairying, Hogs, Cane, Sudan, Rhodes Grass, Broom Corn, Alfalfa and many other crops too numerous to mention. Go and see for yourself.

Schools and churches are unsurpassed. Excellent concrete highway clear through the valley. Railroad facilities are good, being served by the Gulf Coast Lines, (a part of the great Missouri Pacific System) and the Southern Pacific has asked for authority from Interstate Commerce Commission to build the gap from Falfurrias, Texas, into the Valley, thus connecting up directly with San Antonio, Texas, also the government is dredging the harbor at Point Isabel, Texas, to give deep water connection there.

Come in and ask us about the trip or anything you desire to know about the Valley or crops grown there, or phone us at No. 348.

Make arrangements to go with us November 22nd.

Burglars Make Raid on Norton

Burglars visited Norton Monday night and succeeded in breaking into two stores and making a getaway leaving no trace of a clue behind them. The store of J. L. Smith was broken into, the safe blown, and $97.00 in cash together with other loot was taken. Doors to a drug store at Norton which were locked, were forced, and a few items of stock are missing. The only things made away with at the drug store were some strychnine tablets and two kinds of serum. The proprietor of the pharmacy stated that the strychnine stolen was valued at about $5.00, but the serums had become too old and were of no intrinsic value.

Mr. Smith knows that he has lost $97 in cash, and thinks he possibly may have lost some other articles which have not been checked up yet. The robbery of the drug store may have been the work of "snow birds" who were seeking narcotics, it is pointed out, the burglars mistaking the strychnine tablets and the serums for opiates.

Officers are working on the case but the robbers left no tangible clues on which to work.
