Style Shows Season's Most Brilliant Affair

The Pure Food and Style Show, staged by the Methodist ladies in the large new Pruser building on West Dale street last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, drew large crowds every day of the show and the exhibits of the merchants proved a revelation to home folks and visitors alike, because of the range and quality of the displays.

We understand the Methodist ladies cleared some where around $200 with the show which money will be used in the church work. The popularity contest was won by Miss Lavera Neely, the prizes being a large home-made decorated cake, and a box of Miss Saylor's chocolates, the latter prize being donated by the Main Drug Co. In this contest Miss Ruth Woodrow was a close second.

The Methodist ladies deserve quite a bit of praise for the staging of this show, which proves beyond a doubt that the town of Winters should perpetuate the show and add to it a display of farm products, stock and poultry, and give the people of this section something to look forward to at least once a year. It could be made quite an asset to the whole community.

Style Shows

Style shows were staged by Krauss Dry Goods Company, on Thursday evening and the Skaggs Dry Goods Company on Friday evening. Both firms exhibited rare and expensive merchandise as well as popular-priced ready-to-wear and millinery, and the shows each night were equal, if not surpassing those given in cities much larger than Winters, the models, with grace and dignity, exhibiting each garment and showing to best advantage the latest creations from the market center to be had in Winters.

Krauss Dry Goods Co.'s Style Show
The stage setting for the Krauss Dry Goods Company was an artistic showing of the latest draperies with decorations of baskets of flowers, many colored floor pillows and, to complete the picture, a beautiful living room suite and handsome rug furnished by Higginbotham Bros. & Co. made a pretty background for the living models.

Preceding the style show the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Nordyke, rendered several selections and during the entire show, Mrs. L. T. Smith softly played a march.

Tiny little June Francis Williams, wearing a dainty little pleated rose-colored georgette, introduced little Miss Sarah Lou Owens, dressed in a rose changeable taffeta with maline trimming, who danced the "Charleston," and later modeled a dainty green georgette. Both little ladies alternately announcing the approach of each model.

The first to appear was Miss Ethel Bob Montague who wore a black transparent velvet dress with orchid and lace trimmings, again modeling a black velour coat trimmed in Manchurian wolf and a dress of black satin face crepe trimmed in gold metal embroidery which was a Louie Grauer model and a hat of gold cloth with black lace trimmings. Again she wore a beautiful white satin evening gown in maline and sequins.

Miss Naomi Hunt appeared in a two-piece black satin crepe trimmed with monkey fur, later she wore a brown needle point coat with real fox fur collar and again modeled a Louie Grauer model of black crepe velvet trimmed dress with maline hat, sequin trimmed.

Miss Gladys Joseph wore a Grecian rose Elizabeth crepe dress with shaded velvet trim, and chic hat to match, appearing again wearing a black coat with wolf fur trimming, and again she wore a beautiful peach color embroidered georgette evening gown with Spanish shawl.

Miss Ethel Hendrix modeled a black velvet and brocade georgette combination with gold cloth hat heavily beaded. She also wore a coat of

6,281 Bales Are Ginned to Date

According to figures furnished by the local gins, there had been ginned in Winters up to 5 o'clock p. m. yesterday, 6,281 bales of cotton, counting round bales as halves.

Up to September 16th, according to W. A. Esmond, special government agent, there had been ginned in Runnels county 13,549 bales of cotton of the 1927 crop, as compared with 6,118 bales up to the same date last year.

Local gidders seem to be agreed on the estimate that about one-third of the 1927 crop has been ginned.

blue trimmed in grey fur and also a black velvet dress and hat with silver trimmings appearing again wearing a white satin elaborately beaded evening gown.

Miss Iva Modessett appeared wearing a blue chiffon velvet dress with rose flowers and tan velour hat of blue and rose felt trimming. She again modeled a tan coat fur trimmed, a Classy Jean dress of black satin face crepe and tan crepe romaine combination with applique trimmings and a yellow changeable taffeta evening gown with maline and rhinestone trimmings.

Mrs. Marshall Chapman wore a black Elizabeth crepe Apfelbaum, Stern dress, rhinestones trimmed, with hat to match, again appearing in a black chiffon broadcloth coat, fur trimmed.

Miss Virgie Penny modeled an Elf dress of black flat crepe with white satin trimming the collar and silver metal embroidery around the bottom of the flare skirt with black and silver hat. She again wore a black velour coat with Manchurian wolf collar also appeared again wearing a fallow color satin crepe with beautiful embroidered chiffon cape collar and chic hat to match, later she wore a pink and blue taffeta evening gown with smart new uneven hemline.

Miss Lucille Hartzog appeared first in a Louie Grauer model of crepe romaine and gold cloth, next she wore an Elf dress of black flat crepe with flesh colored trimming, hand-painted, with black velour hat trimmed in rhinestones.

Miss Louise Burton modeled a stunning sport suit of black and white velvet and satin combination, with Russian boots, appearing again wearing a sport coat and black velour hat to match, making a third appearance wearing a Louie Grauer model of black flat crepe with sand crepe romaine applique trimmings with beaded red hat and bag to match, and again she wore a charming evening gown of white satin heavily beaded.

Miss Freddie Edwards wore a sport suit of tan velvet combination with sport boots and tan velour hat to match, later modeling a tan sport coat, appearing again wearing a beautiful model of black satin face crepe with skirt elaborately hand-painted in blue and pink with bow at left side in harmonizing shades with hat to match.

Miss Norvene Cramer appeared in a blue sport sweater suit with hat to match, later wearing a nifty sport coat of combination of colors, next she wore a "Classy Jean" dress of black satin crepe, with removable cape collar and a hip band of pink velvet with rhinestones trimmings.

Little Miss Ray Krauss modeled the junior dresses and appeared first in a red sport suit of velvet and checked flannel and red boots, again she wore a two-piece dress of black and flesh satin combination and a party frock of flesh colored georgette.

All the models again appeared sleepily wearing beautiful negligees

Gas Showing in Oil Test at Miles

A slight showing of gas was truck in the Miles Oil Company's Lawhon & Sons No. 1, two and three-quarter miles northwest of Miles, this week at a depth of about 1,200 feet. This is the first showing of either oil or gas in this well, but drillers are looking for a show of both at about 1600 feet.

Scouts and all visitors have been excluded from the location, it was reported Monday.

Sillix et al. R. M. McMillan, No. 1, is making 200 barrels of 43.8 gravity oil daily the records show, in irregular heads. This well has been flowing since August 27, and has made more than 2,000 barrels of oil.

The well was put under pump last week, but for the purpose of keeping water, coming from a higher level, from the bottom of the hole. The hole is 2,545 feet deep. In a report to the railroad commission, made by the owners of the well, it was stated that there were three strings of casing in the hole: 8-inch casing set to 1,440 feet in shale; 6 7-8 inch casing set to 2,423 feet in shale, and 5 1-4 inch casing, set to 2,525 feet in shale, with a 6-inch packer at the bottom, some 45 or 50 feet from the bottom of the hole, put on top of the recent mud cavings.

Two shipments of oil have been made from this well over the Humble pipe line to Benoit, where the fluid was loaded on tank cars and shipped to Texas City over the Santa Fe.

of cut velvet, hand embroidered, hand-painted and ostrich trimmed, and in all the pastel shades and other colors.

Paul Rothemel, Robert Burton, Pete Allen, Buford Fisher and B. E. Harrison modeled Schloss Bros. suits and Yale suits.

P. L. Harrison, Bobbie Miller, Jno. Q. McAdams, Jr., and Graydon Nicholson modeled Knickerbocker suits for junior boys.

The last model was Miss Ray Krauss who wore a dress made of prints from the piece goods department.

Skaggs Dry Goods Style Show
Again on Friday evening the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Nordyke, furnished music preceding the style show staged by the Skaggs Dry Goods Company, and Mrs. L. T. Smith played during the entire show.

The arrangement of the stage was ideal for showing to best advantage the styles modeled. With a beautiful background of soft folds of velvet draperies, ferns and flowers tastefully arranged combined with beaded fringe as decoration, and a long runway extending out into the audience, the arrangement afforded a close inspection of the garments modeled.

The pages, little Misses Athene Ramsel and Virgie Poe, wearing dainty pink and green taffeta dresses, entered first, taking their places at opposite corners of the stage and each model was announced through a loud speaker.

The first model was little Miss Mary Elizabeth Owens representing Ring Ting Hose, her costume being made entirely of hose of different colors.

A special feature of the show was the showing of the styles dating back to 1860 and the contrast of the styles worn by the 1927 flappers. Mrs. R. E. Bacon wearing a blue velvet basque dress of the period of 1860, featuring the bustle and hoopskirt, was first to appear, followed by Mrs. Howard Poe, dressed in a wedding dress of 1900, made of white organdy over white taffeta, lace and ribbon trimmed, and Mrs. G. C. Hill, who wore a light blue velvet dress of the period of 1872 and after show-

Lions Club Meet Tuesday at Noon

The Winters Lions Club met at the Hotel Winters last Tuesday at noon for their regular semi-monthly luncheon with President R. E. Bacon presiding over the opening exercises.

Mr. Haynie of Dallas was present as the guest of Albert Spill.

J. N. Key, secretary of the local Retail Merchants Association, was elected to membership in the club.

The club membership now numbers thirty-four, and by a unanimous vote of the directors, membership was limited to thirty-five. After that number is reached, applicants for membership will be placed on the waiting list and taken in as vacancies occur.

Jno. Q. McAdams was introduced as toastmaster. Mr. McAdams stated that he had not prepared a program as he did not know he was on the program committee, and then called on Rev. Gid. J. Bryan, A. H. Smith, J. Frank Paxton, Judge Strother and A. Krauss, who responded with short talks on different subjects.

Mr. McAdams enumerated a number of city conveniences Winters now enjoys and called upon each member of the club to lend every assistance to the movement to secure more pavement for Winters.

On motion and second, the club voted to retain the present program committee for the next meeting, composed of Jno. Q. McAdams, chairman; Dr. R. C. Maddox, and S. H. Nance.

Yanks Take Opener From Pittsburgh

In the opening game of the world's baseball classic the New York Yanks nosed out the Pittsburgh Pirates by a score of 5 to 4. P. Warner for Pittsburgh got two singles and a double in four times up, while Babe Ruth of the Yankees poled out three singles in four trips to the plate.

Blizzards Are Set For Eden at Fair

When the Winters Blizzards go up against the fast Eden high school delegation in the game of football tomorrow afternoon at the Runnels County Fair, at Ballinger, we are expecting that they will meet some opposition like none they have been up against this year. From the dope that we are able to uncover this team is going to spring some surprises on the Blue and White Blizzards that will unravel all the local boys have this year to overcome. It will well be remembered that this team scored more points against the Winters high bunch last year than any team that they played against and they are no doubt coming into the game this year with a determination to blot out the defeat administered them at the hands of the Blizzards team last year, and after they had piled up 13 points before Winters marked up a counter.

This will be a regular scheduled game and counts in figuring percentage for the district championship in the League football. So far Winters stands 1000 per cent. The last game played, we understand, figures as a win for Winters on account of having crossed the 20-yard line the greater number of times, although the score was 0 to 0. It was clearly evident that the Blizzards outclassed the Junction squad, but we are not so sure that the Eden boys will be an easy mark. Coach Smith says that his men are in fine shape and are going into the game with the right attitude that they will have to fight for it, and that in his opinion it is going to be a case of fighting to the last ditch, to bring home the bacon. We hope he brings it home.

A. C. Clawson, who was a teacher in the Liberty school, six miles southwest of Winters the past term, was brought to Winters from Blackwell yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, suffering from a wound inflicted by a 22-calibre rifle. The shooting took place about 7 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The bullet entered Mr. Clawson's body at the right side, just below the ribs, and the intense pain from the wound has caused local physicians to defer any attempt to locate the bullet by X-ray at this time. It is the opinion however, that it is lodged in the liver.

Leslie Moore, deaf and dumb brother-in-law of Clawson, is alleged to have done the shooting, trouble arising over a dispute about the sowing of some grain. It is alleged that Moore struck Clawson in the face, after which there was a short struggle. Moore went to the house and Clawson thinking the trouble all over, went about his work, when Moore appeared with the rifle, shooting his brother-in-law in the side as stated.

The wound is a serious one, and local physicians state that time alone will determine the full extent of the injury.

Winters-Junction Game Deadlocked On Muddy Field

On a sea of mud last Friday afternoon the Winters Blizzards battled the Junction high school eleven to a scoreless tie, in one of the hardest fought games of the season so far. Winters made seven first downs, and the visitors one, while the local boys trounced the pigskin down the gridiron ankle deep in mud to within shooting distance of the goal twice. At no time in the game was the Junction team in scoring distance.

Bedford made some nice returns for a muddy field and with the aid of the other backs was able to follow a yard at a time through the holes that were melted again into a ball of muddy men before much yardage was ever made. It was impossible to get a footing or apply cleats on the shoes to the mud because of the gummy surface of the gridiron.

The visitors put up some excellent defensive work which was probably aided by the mud. Albert Becker of Junction featured in tackling for the Schreiner high team.

It just looks like to us that we have another real team this year. What they need now is some backing by gate receipts to be able to put over the year's program in football. Friday's game has been predicted to be a turning point in football for this season, and we believe that although the score was 0 to 0, that the local boys, without any bias, was the better of the two teams. Mud means that a powerful offense sometimes is halted in its tracks. That was the case in Friday's game. All efforts to score were hampered by traction or a muddy ball which was impossible to pass. Several passes were tried but only two were completed.

If you don't believe some men suffer loss of memory, lend them money.

S. S. Workers of Baptist Church Given Banquet

On Tuesday evening twenty general officials and department superintendents of the Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a banquet at Hotel Winters, given by the pastor, H. H. Stephens, and associate superintendent, G. E. Nicholson.

The purpose of the banquet was to outline plans for the Enlargement Campaign of the Sunday school, to begin on Sunday, October 16th. E. A. Shepperd was toastmaster for the evening and, while talks looking to the enlargement of the Sunday school were made by all present, the principal speakers of the evening were Rev. H. H. Stephens, G. E. Nicholson, and the toastmaster, Mr. Shepperd.

Visit the One Thousand Club At County Fair

The Winters chamber of commerce instead of having the usual display of farm products at the Runnels County Fair this week, is using the booth as an office where they are having visitors fill out a questionnaire dealing with some farming or live stock and poultry experience of those filling out these questionnaires, and the information thus secured will be classified and placed in the files of the local organization to be used in furnishing information to farmers of the Winters country on different farm problems.

Through this method it is hoped to gather a large amount of tried and proven data, that will prove valuable to the people of our trade territory.

If you visit the fair, be sure to register at the Winters booth and fill out the questionnaire, and then when the information secured has been classified it will be placed in the local offices for your benefit.

Chevrolet Truck Caravan to Visit Winters Oct. 11

A caravan of twenty-two Chevrolet Commercial Cars, including the full Chevrolet line from Fire Truck to School Buses, Grain and Stock bodies, trailers, panel bodies, as well as open bodies, will visit Winters on Tuesday, October 11 at 2 p. m.

This caravan, headed by sales and service officials of the Chevrolet factory will visit approximately two hundred Chevrolet dealers' towns during the three months they will spend in Texas, covering approximately ten thousand miles. The trip is not designed as a speed or endurance test, but as a means to acquaint the public with the wide adaptability and completeness of the Chevrolet commercial line. Chevrolet has achieved the reputation of being the largest manufacturer of gear shift trucks in the world, having made a gain of 58 per cent in 1926 sales of commercial cars over the figures for 1924.

Demonstrations of the different trucks will be possible while the caravan is in Winters, and M. S. Patrick of the local Chevrolet agency, invites all those interested in trucks to accept this opportunity to make a close inspection of these models.

problems of farm life in a real and practical way. The old adage "that if you would build for the future, begin with the child life," is being followed.

The club movement has found especial favor with the people of the Winters territory, and the work being done by community club composed of boys and girls and a goodly number of the women. The exhibits of these clubs at the Runnels County Fair this week speak louder than any words of the keen interest being taken and the vast amount of good that is being done through these organizations. Of course, much of the credit for the success of the club movement must be given to the efficient officials of the county who are the guiding spirit—C. W. Lehmborg, the farm agent, and Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, home demonstration agent. A trip to the fair at Ballinger this week will be well worth your time—it will demonstrate that money spent in this direction will soon be returned a hundred fold through the medium of better methods of farming, stock and poultry raising, and the efficient solving of many problems met in the farm home.

A WORTHWHILE PLACE

We have many reasons to feel justly proud of our little city, with its fine churches and excellent schools and other institutions that make for the happiness and prosperity of us all. And our educators are not the least of the factors that are helping to make Winters a worthwhile place for a home and a business. We want our teachers to know that The Enterprise appreciates their services and cooperation in the training of our youth.

Times and customs change, and many there are who are ready to say that the world grows worse with the passing of the years. But these are hard put for an argument to prove their assertions. All civilization centers around the home—and the most precious things in the home are the youth thereof. Parents are still concerned about the environments with which these youths are surrounded. They prefer a town in which there are good churches, good schools, and a law-abiding citizenry. This concern for their children is one of the strongest arguments against the fallacy that the world is growing worse. Far above the average is the rating of schools and churches in Winters. A natural result is a law-abiding, prosperous community and territory which comes under their influence. These are facts that Winters people should be proud of. It accounts for the enviable reputation of Winters all over the State.

FIRE PREVENTION

October 9 to 15 is Fire Prevention Week. This is an annual institution, and the reason is that, in spite of the preachments of those who would prevent the tremendous yearly loss by fire, the disastrous figures mount higher and higher—loss of property and human life. The actual figures of fire loss would stagger you, but more so would the loss from downright carelessness, a total disregard of the simple rules of safety for self and others. Were the damage that is caused by one's carelessness confined to the careless one it would not be quite so terrifying, but often the innocent parties suffer heaviest in loss of life and property. To eliminate carelessness is the main object of fire prevention week, for, regardless of the utmost vigilance, fires will happen to destroy both life and property. Every day should be fire prevention day—people should never be careless about the matter of fires. It is well, however, that this phase of safety be emphasized one week in the year, and during that week some effort should be made to direct the attention of the community to fire and its dangers.

At a number of the leading state fairs this fall the feature of the exhibits has been the remarkably fine showing made by pig club boys and vocational training students. It is a fine thing and the youngsters should be encouraged. The boys' and girls' club movement has gone a long way toward furnishing the answer to the question "How can we keep the boys on the farm?" Furthermore, it has laid the foundation for continued improvement of our domestic meat animals by fostering thousands of intelligent youngsters a love for better livestock and an ambition to make a record as breeders of the same. The club movement is meeting the

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is calling attention to this observance in line with their aim to show that fire insurance companies should reduce losses and physical fire hazards rather than attempt to raise insurance rates.

CHRISTOVAL—Christoval will be host to the 35th annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans and sons of Confederate Veterans of Texas on October 7. The three day convention meets at San Angelo beginning October 6, but their second day session is to be held in this scenic beauty spot of the West.

"SWEETEST DAY" IS LATEST SET FOR OUR OBSERVANCE

"Sweetest Day," an event that bids fair to become one of the great nationally-advertised days, is the latest scheduled for national observance. Saturday, October 8, is set aside for the event this year, and on that day custom will prescribe that we remember all of our near and dear ones with a gift of delicious candy.

Several weeks ago the Main Drug Company told our readers that Miss Saylor's delicious chocolates were appropriate for this day, and now the Smith Drug Company joins the ranks of those featuring this day and calls the attention of the members of the sweet tooth club to their fine line of Elmer's and Pangburn's chocolates.

Miss Ruth Jones left the latter part of the past week for Kennedy, Texas, where she will teach English in the high school of that city this school term.

Mrs. S. H. Nance was visiting in Abilene yesterday.

Justice of the Peace J. T. Brown has been suffering considerably from rheumatism the past few days.

S. P. Floyd was a business visitor in San Angelo Tuesday.

J. H. Hodge was in Sweetwater yesterday, viewing the movies of the Tunney-Dempsey fight. Mr. Hodge will make an effort to secure this film to run in one of the local theatres.

Earl Carroll is now a trusty on the prison farm at Atlanta. Guess he's joined the farm bloc.

The Students' Association

Some time in the near future there is to be a students' association organized. The officers of this organization will be chosen from the student body, and this will include a president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, two sergeants-at-arms, and a reporter. In addition, there will be chosen two councilmen from each class, which, together with the above-mentioned, will compose what is termed the Students' Council. It shall be the duty of the councilmen to work with the student association and their respective classes, to secure complete cooperation in school activities. Every student is a member of the "Students' Association."

The purpose of this association is to bring about the proper school spirit on the part of the students; to initiate and discuss problems of school progress that may be more closely associated with each other, and to foster and encourage school loyalty. This will also encourage proper student conduct and more effective training, and actual experience of citizenship in a democracy.

Many have said that training for democracy by autocratic methods is a failure, and indeed it is. The teachers may instruct and teach a pupil the true significance of democracy, and then when he gets out of school he may live by autocratic methods; in other words, he will not live up to the teachings of his instructor. By this we mean general training and obedience on the part of the student.

"If democracy is to live in the world, America must justify its existence. If democracy is to be safe for the world, its safety must first be assured here. The educated mind in America is responsible for that safety."

The purpose of education is to discover, to develop, to direct, to perfect and to utilize all the capabilities of every soul. The main purpose has been neglected—discover the child. The child discovers himself, and the child must discover the truth for himself, for the discovery element in education is letting the child discover himself.

The students association will prepare a student for leadership. It will teach him the main and most important principles of being a leader.

The president, secretary and two councilmen will come from the Senior class, and the remaining officers may come from any class. It will take lots of grit and hard work to put this over; however, if every student will join forces and cooperate with each other, this can be accomplished and will pave the way in making Winters High School one hundred strong.

Winters Hi Parade

All day Friday the school was almost too excited to attend classes, so anxious were we for 3:30 to come when preparations for a parade was to begin for the purpose of advertising the football game between the Winters high school and Junction. All day talks concerning the parade took up most of the students' time. As time drew near for the start it began to rain and many faces looked as if the rain had been upon them. Many hoped it would quit before time. The principal announced that it seemed unfavorable, and told us to continue our studies, and if it cleared at all he would see about the parade. A very few minutes before school should turn out it stopped and, to our joy, we heard that we would have the parade after all.

The pep squad came first in the blue packets and caps with white skirts (they were white before we hit the mud). Then came the dignified Seniors, who, I am sorry to say, acted very much like children in the first grade who had never been in anything so exciting before. Next were the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Junior class, who had all been in parades before, and were very, very well behaved. There were several banners held by members of this class, and held very nicely. After the very fine looking bunch of Juniors came the poor little Sophomores, who were just beginning to learn how to walk straight and act as much as they could like the Juniors, they waved several banners proudly.

At last, but not least (not the least bunch) comes our baby fish, Freshmen and "minnows," who did not know when to open or close their mouths, but kept shouting throughout the parade.

Leading this handsome line was the flag of our country and the flag of our school, the dear old Blue and White, and our pep leaders, Buster Roberts and Mildred Spill. The parade went through the streets of the town and stopped on Main to give a few yells, after that, still with singing and in step, we went to the Blizzard Field to help our boys win. The successful for it was the cause of many to come out and witness the game.

Hurrah for our Hi Skule Bunch!
—Leta Rountree.

The Pep Squad

Blue and White,
Blue and White,
That's the stuff for which we fight. You can tell us by our actions, We're Winters' chief attraction!

This is only one of the numerous yells that can be heard each Friday morning during the chapel period. Pep! That's what every one in high school has!

The pep squad has for its leaders this year Miss Joseph, Mildred Spill, and Buster Roberts. At all the games, unusual pep has been shown by the pep squad and student body, as a whole.

Last Wednesday morning Mildred Spill announced that she wanted a meeting of every girl in high school who wanted to be in the pep squad. About thirty girls met with her. The pep squad is to have a uniform this year. They are to have a blue jacket and a white skirt. Each girl is supposed to wear one. This is the first time in our high school that the pep squad is to have uniform dress.

Last Friday afternoon at about three-thirty, the student body paraded town, boosting the football game. Most of the girls were dressed in their uniforms. At the ball game, the best pep of the season was shown. Everyone was full of pep and was boosting his team to the best of his ability. Our pep squad is a winning pep squad.

If you do not believe our pep squad is the best pep squad near here, just come to our next football game and hear us yell.

Gale Staff to Be Elected

Winters high school long ago discovered the fact that no high school was complete without a school paper. Consequently, she set to work to establish this lacking point of efficiency. She did it.

This year The Gale is expected to go over with double force. The plans are that some time in the near future the Gale staff is to be elected

Music Club Organized

The high school students who are taking music from Mrs. L. F. Smith met last Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Smith for the purpose of organizing a club. We intend to meet once a month and study the lives of different music and song writers.

The following officers were elected: Katherine Hill, president; Ina Mae Owens, secretary; and Victoria Dry, reporter.

Since we were to study the life of Schubert, we answered the roll call with quotations from Schubert. We had a very interesting program, after which we had a discussion over a name for our club. We decided to name it the "Schubert Club," after the writer of whom we had just studied.—Reporter.

A Thought for the Week

"The task most worth doing is generally the hard task. The greatest achievements have always been difficult ones. If you tackle a hard job and a little voice inside of you seems to be coaxing you to give it up, don't quit. Just say 'What for?' and keep on trying. It takes spirit and grit to keep winning."—Selected.

Tom Mix Hero of Grey Thriller

Tom Mix, playing the role of Tom Dane in his latest Fox Films drama, a version of Zane Grey's famous western novel, "The Last Trail," rescues a white girl from the camp of the Sioux Indians on the war path, in their last efforts to drive the white man from the buffalo hunting grounds of the Dakotas.

The film is coming to the Queen Theatre Friday and Saturday, October 7 and 8.

Mounted on Tony, his sure-footed horse, Mix, followed by Lee Shumway, playing the army scout, dashes into the camp gets the girl and races away.

The white men keep up a running gun battle as the Indians start pursuit. The sure fire of the white men picks off the foremost of the pursuers, but other Sioux press on, determined to recover their prisoner.

The race and the fight continues to the very gates of the scouts' stockade, where soldiers see the dash of the gallant horseman, open the gates and turn their rifles loose.

The heroic rescuers dash in as the savages turn and ride away. The girl becomes the wife of Joe Pascal, the scout, who moves to an Arizona mining camp and becomes a sheriff as soon as the Indians have been subdued and peace restored to the Dakota hills.

Mrs. Schneider is Laid to Rest Here Sunday Afternoon

Mrs. Schneider, who was sixty-six years of age, had been in feeble health for a number of months, but death came like sleep to bring rest and freedom from pain.

He Never Knew the Value of His Discovery

In America's tribute to Columbus, there is true appreciation of his achievement. His daring and his genius changed the course of world affairs. Others who followed had his example as a guide.

But Columbus himself could not have known the real value of his feat. His voyage, 435 years ago—his defiance of superstition and ignorance—his winning to this hemisphere—were great accomplishments.

Columbus showed that vision and faith can overcome all obstacles and accomplish wonders. Here is a lesson for each one to day—in business, in home making, in life itself.

SERVICE

eleven children were born, all living except one, Mrs. Roy C. Miles, who preceded her mother to the grave several years ago. Her life was a sacrificial one, serving her family, her neighbors in need, and her God in the ways of His commandments. Her service to others was a beautiful service and this good work she kept up until ill health incapacitated her for these Christ-like duties to the world around her. She had been a faithful member of the Church of Christ for fifty-two years, making a profession of faith at the age of fourteen years. Her church meant much to her and as long as health would permit, she was in regular attendance to the services. She and her husband were pioneer citizens of

Falls county, and moved from there to Abilene where they reared their family, and in 1920 they moved to Bradshaw where they lived on a ranch until five years ago when they came to Winters to make their home. Surviving her besides her husband are ten children and thirty-three grandchildren. All the children visited their mother during her illness and were all present at the funeral except three who were unavoidably detained. The surviving sons and daughters are: Mrs. Edward Jones and Mrs. B. George, San Antonio; William H. Schneider, Mart; A. C. Schneider, Abilene; L. L. Schneider, Roscoe; Mrs. Ben Nesbitt, Bradshaw; Mrs. M. Luther Owens, and James Henry Schneider, Winters; Edward

C. Schneider, Houston, and Mrs. W. E. Fairless of Stamford.

Impressive funeral services were held at the Church of Christ Sunday afternoon, conducted by Elder R. L. Colly, after which all that was mortal of this grand old mother in Israel was tenderly conveyed to our Silent City where she now sweetly sleeps to await the resurrection morn.

Tenderest sympathy is extended the lonely grief-stricken husband and children in the loss of one so dear to their hearts.

No extra session of congress is to be on the program.

Description of the New Ford Model

The new Ford product will be known as the Linford, taking its name from Abraham Lincoln, its founder, and Henry Ford, its manufacturer. Some other name may be substituted.

The car will be equipped with a running gear, engine, body, gasoline tank, radiator, and other accessories usual to other automobiles.

The wheels, of which there will be four, will be set on axles and will turn round and round, forward or backward, depending on the choice and skill of the driver.

On the extreme front end the car will be equipped with a radiator serving as a reservoir for water with which to water the road. The front of the radiator will be meshed so as to be an excellent smasher of bugs, insects, other people's chickens, and the like.

Situated somewhere on the car will be a gasoline tank which will contain a certain number of gallons of gasoline, or any liquid sold as gasoline by filling stations. A lesser number of gallons can be used if desired. No wobble pumps will be used.

All seats will be equipped with cushions of more or less softness. On the touring and sedan models the front seat will be placed directly in front of the back seat and the back seat directly behind the front seat. Both seats will be protected from the sun, rain, etc., by a top.

In front of the front seat and behind the radiator will be placed a windshield which will serve as a barometer. When it is raining the windshield will become smeared with mud, water, etc., from passing vehicles.

The car will be guided by a steering wheel which will turn the car to the right or left, but never both ways at the same time.

Entrance to the car may be gained through doors cut somewhere in the body, or, if desired by climbing over.

The sedan and coupe models will be closed cars, and the touring cars and roadsters will be open cars.

The engine of the car will be usual in design, and equipped with gears, rings, rods, pistons, cylinders, spark plugs, wires and other doodads that frequently get out of whack, as in all other cars.

The car will be equipped with pneumatic tires, which will be placed over the wheels, tending to give the car a soft, airy, easy-riding feeling.
