

Who Pays the Bill?

FIRE PREVENTION is not just an abstract principle to think of once each year. Fire losses are anything but "abstract principles."

RESULTS OF FIRES IN WINTERS:

1. Higher insurance rates;
2. In some cases, un-insured losses by people who can't afford them;
3. Injuries,—and even death, might result from fires.

"Ladies in Love"

A quartet of Hollywood's most famous feminine personalities, Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young, Constance Bennett and Simone Simon, appear in the film, with the cast featuring Don Ameche, Paul Lucas, Tyrone Power, Jr., and Alan Mowbray. Of the four lovely ladies, one gambles for love and loses, one gambles and wins, one asks for love and gets it, love asks for the fourth—too late. Janet is in love with her doctor, but when the opportunity comes, incredibly for a job as valet to Alan Mowbray, a famous magician, she leaves the young physician. Loretta falls in love with Tyrone Power, Jr., a wealthy young man and is heart-broken when she hears that he is soon to be married. Constance is having a mad round of pleasure with Paul Lucas, a mining engineer on vacation from South America. Constance and Lucas have a creed—no good-byes, no tears when it is ended. Simone Simon, an appealing but determined young girl, is also in love with Lukas, who does not realize that she has grown to womanhood. All do not succeed in their love affairs. To two comes happiness, to the others heart-break. But all, in some measure succeed in making their dreams of real romance come true.

"Desert Gold"

The story deals with a young Indian chieftain, abducted and horribly tortured by a villainous mine promoter and saved from death by a young mining engineer. This rescue results in a lasting friendship between the young men which proves of great value when the engineer and his sweetheart are in danger. Attacked by desert bad-men, a terrific battle ensues between them with the Indians riding to the rescue. The young couple are themselves saved from death. The climax of the story makes a thrilling, fiery, romance.

"Green Pastures"

It is the perfect motion picture! It is perfect because it is simple, because it is rich in human values which have almost been obscured and because adult and child alike can understand it and react to its emotional appeal. For teachers, "The Green Pastures" can well be regarded as an important educational factor. The growth of the motion picture as a medium for advancing the cultural level of our school system finds this film more substantiation in fact. For students of English literature, it makes excellent study. For students of American history it is excellent source-material. For students of music, the Hall Johnson choir featured in the film singing 25 of our best-loved spirituals, affords a glimpse of artistic perfection. For students of the theatre, it is essential to a fuller understanding of the drama. "The Green Pastures" which Warner Bros. adapted from Marc Connelly's Pulitzer prize-winning play, is, in short, the motion picture which we have long awaited. And now that it has come, seeing it becomes a logical necessity.

HOUSE HOISTED

Eldon, Mo.—Mrs. Charles Caldwell thought she was in the midst of an earthquake when her home started to tip over and dishes crashed to the floor. She found, however, that her husband had started the engine of his dump truck in the basement of the garage, not realizing the hoisting apparatus was in gear. The house had been lifted six inches off its foundation.

Slight Confused

Customer (in music store)—I would like very much to get a copy of "The Stolen Rope."

Proprietor—I am very sorry, madam. I am afraid I don't know of such a song. Is it something very new?

Customer—Oh, no, they tell me it is quite old. Why it goes something like this—"Tum-tum-tum-pety-tum—"

Proprietor—My dear madam, you mean "The Lost Chord."

Customer—Oh, that's it. I got the name slightly mixed.

HUGE RACKET

New York.—It is said that the policy, or "numbers" racket is a $100,000,000 a year enterprise in New York. At that rate, petty gamblers paid out $3.50 a second, or $300,000 a day.

"The Bohemian Girl"

Something new in pocket-picking is introduced by Laurel and Hardy in this latest and greatest full-length fun feature. As Gypsy vagabonds, the boys indulge in a little light-fingered work on the side, but come to grief before they amass any considerable fortune. This sequence is one of the most hilarious in the entire picture and affords Stan and "Ollie" an opportunity to display their inimitable style of pantomime to advantage. Among others in the cast besides the stars, Oliver Hardy and Stan Laurel are Jacqueline Wells, Mae Busch and James Finlayson.

"Human Cargo"

A vicious new crime ring that couldn't be smashed and a startling new mystery that couldn't be solved—until a deb who wants thrills and a reporter who wants headlines plunge into the exciting plot and in a series of breath-taking events smash the new menace that threatens the nation. That's the high-tension entertainment promised in the new Fox film, "Human Cargo" showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lyric Theatre, with Claire Trevor and Brian Donlevy heading the cast. Claire Trevor is seen as the deb who is determined to have her share of excitement. She obtains a job on a newspaper and her first assignment sends her to a night club with ace reporter, Brian Donlevy. That first story is almost Claire's last for before the evening she is eye-witness to a murder, is in the midst of a thrilling fight, and is mistakenly arrested and forced to spend the night in jail. She is more than game for her new job, however, and to help Donlevy trap the criminals he is trailing she accompanies him to Vancouver where they obtain passage on a boat that is illegally transporting another group of aliens to America.

"The Big Noise"

The story concerns the ousting of the head of a big corporation because he refuses to produce inferior products. Retired in middle age, the business man is restless and fretful and finally pulls the wool over the eyes of the doctor and his wife, who insist he is ill, by buying a partnership with a young chemist in the Checker Club Cleaning establishment and pretending to spend his time playing checkers. There is a triangular romance between the business man's daughter, his partner and the son of the villain who ousted him from the organization he founded. Guy Kibbee has the featured role of the business man while Alma Lloyd and Warren Hull are the young lovers. Dick Foran is the young romantic villain and William Davidson, his arch-villain father.

"Treachery Rides the Range"

The picture is the story of the Old West, in which frontier battles are waged between the U. S. troops and the Indians, and is said to be crammed full of action, thrills and suspense. There also is a background of romance and music, Dick Foran singing catchy songs of the West especially written by M. K. Jerome and Jack Scholl. The drama evolves about the plot of a band of evil white traders, who, saturated with greed, murder the son of the Creyenne Chief so that the Indians will go on the warpath. This they know will keep the troops stationed at Fort Douglas so busy they will not be able to interfere with their plans to slaughter the buffaloes on the forbidden territory of the Indian Reservation.

On Texas Farms

College Station — The Bankhead certificate pool is being wound up, which will bring Texas cotton producers several million dollars in the near future.

Checks are being turned out in Washington at the rate of 40,000 a day to disburse the money received for certificates sold prior to the repealing of the Bankhead Act. The rate of payment to individual owners of certificates will be four cents a pound on about 17 per cent of the poundage submitted to the national pool since many of the certificates were still in the pool when the sale was closed.

College Station — Though Texas cotton contracts totaled about 735,000 for the years 1933, '34 and '35 there now remain unpaid only about 5,000 contracts. The principle cause for delay in clearing these contracts has been the getting of legal papers of estates in shape.

It is the intention of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to get these papers in shape as rapidly as possible and adjust all claims which call for payment and cancel all others so that the record of the crop control program may be closed with no cases in suspense.

College Station—Cotton price adjustment work is almost finished. Texas cotton producers filed 258,686 applications for payments adjusting the price received for their 1935 cotton crop; 258,103 of these applications have been certified for payment to the general accounting office on the A. and M. College campus. This represents 975,919,187 pounds of cotton and payments will amount to $9,783,627.25.

College Station—Payments of ginners' compensation for work in connection with the Bankhead Act is another job which is grinding toward the end.

Applications amounting to 3,215 representing 2,738,026 bales of cotton have been received. Of these 3,077 representing 2,574,433 bales have been certified for payments amounting to $643,607.19.

The remaining 138 applications representing 163,593 bales have not been certified because payment of ginner's compensation can only be made for the number of bales reported to the Bureau of Internal Revenue on Ginners' Report Form GT-103.

It is expected that all applications will be cleared one way or another in the next 10 days. Final date for accepting applications for ginners' compensation was September 1.

College Station — A turkey grading school will be held November 4 and 5 in Ft. Worth sponsored by the Texas Extension Service, George P. McCarthy, assistant Extension poultry husbandman, recently announced.

Thomas W. Heitz, senior marketing specialist of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be in charge of the practice classes in grading of live birds, killing, dressing and packing and will also give lectures. The turkey grading school is one of a series being held in 12 turkey growing states. Other turkey grading schools will be held in the various sections of Texas throughout the year to Longview—From a total expenditure of $67.05, L. P. Guice of Gregg county has had a gross income of $268.75 during the past three years from 65 vines of Concord grapes.

R. F. McSwain, county agricultural agent, reports that in the winter of 1932, Guice planted these 65 three-year-old grape stocks over the sewage disposal well. In the summer of 1934, he harvested five pounds of grapes per vine. By correct pruning, he harvested 20 pounds of grapes per vine in 1935.

In 1936, Guice spent $42.50 to build a trellis of concrete posts and No. 12 wire, using 2x4's as cross arms. This year, he harvested 3,750 pounds of grapes. Guice expects to increase his vineyard to an acre this winter.

Edna—A plan whereby he can harvest his own Dallis grass seed to plant additional pastures on the ranch has been devised by D. A. James, foreman of the Bennett Ranch in Jackson county, according to D. I. Dudley, county agricultural agent.

Dallis grass seeds freely in this section, often maturing as many as three crops of seed in a season, Dudley reported. In an effort to save these seed, James has constructed a canvas basket which he attaches immediately back of the sickle on his tractor mower. The seed heads fall into this as they are clipped, and are emptied into other containers as the basket fills.

The sickle is run high so as to clip as little of the plant other than the seed shoot as practical. Tests run on germination of this locally grown seed show that it compares favorably with that of seed obtained from other sources.

James has found that he can practically double the carrying capacity of his native range by the use of Dallis grass. Where the native grass required five to five and one-half acres per cow, the Dallis grass pastures are carrying a cow to three acres, and apparently in better flesh.

Stinnett—"Since we use gas for lighting, the problem of having a light in the closet was one of the things I had to solve," Mrs. E. H. Guinn of Hutchinson county told Miss Lucile Chance, home demonstration agent.

"For $1.15 I bought a three cell flashlight which now hangs just even with the top of the door which throws a light all over the reach of the children, it is not used for a toy and is always in place," Mrs. Guinn added.

Weatherford—At a cost of 50 cents for seed and fertilizer, Miss Justine Staggs of the Spring Creek home demonstration club in Parker county produced 50 bushels of tomatoes on a half-acre plot, according to Miss Annie Mae Donaghey, home demonstration agent.

Miss Staggs kept the table supplied with fresh tomatoes and tomato juice, sold 11 bushels of tomatoes, and canned 502 containers of tomato products.

"I think my tomato production was largely due to the thorough preparation of the soil before the plants were set out," she said. "This land was flat broke first, scratched with a Johnson grass harrow, listed, and then scratched several times more," she said.

Father Invented First Gas-Driven Car

M. J. Duryea, son of Charles E. Duryea, inventor of the first gasoline-driven automobile in America, 1891-1892, is pictured here beside a 1903 model Ford, which is shown in the Ford exhibit at the Texas Centennial in Dallas. Mr. Duryea was especially interested in the history of transportation as depicted in the various exhibits. His father is living and soon will pass his seventy-fifth birthday in Philadelphia. The son lives in Springfield, Mass.

M. J. Duryea, son of Charles E. Duryea, who invented the first gasoline-driven automobile in America, 1891-92, stopped in Dallas to visit the Texas Centennial Central Exposition and to increase his knowledge of the early history of transportation as depicted at the Ford exhibit.

Mr. Duryea's father is living today in Philadelphia and at 75 years of age is still intensely interested in the automobile industry, which he helped to create in the United States.

Duryea's first motor car came to public attention in 1895, the son said, when it won a race sponsored by the Times-Herald in Chicago. This race was run in the snow. In the following year the elder Duryea entered four of his cars in the Cosmopolitan race held in New York City. His cars finished one, two and three. The fourth entry, the son explained, collided with a bicycle rider and the traffic officer on duty at the time hauled the motor-car driver to jail. The officer said he thought bicycles had more rights on the road than did the automobile.

The oldest Duryea model is now the property of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington. Another of the first Duryea cars is on display now in Radio City at the Museum of Arts and Industry.

M. J. Duryea is now in the paper manufacturing business in Springfield, Mass.

Murals Portray Texas Life

Expressive of the four sections of Texas, their bountiful natural resources and historical background are the elaborate murals which adorn the walls of the $1,200,000 Hall of State, the dominating building of the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas. At the top a section of one of the giant murals found in the great hall portray two of Texas' foremost natural resources, oil and cotton. On the extreme left may be seen the prow of a sea-going freighter, representing the vast shipping industry of East Texas and the lower Gulf Coast. In the center mural, which hangs in the North Texas room, Old Man Texas is the predominant figure. The lower is unmistakably typical of the nearby West. The paintings adorning the walls of the Texas Building's great hall are reputed to be the largest in the world. They portray the story of Texas, both in the days of the republic and after statehood.

Although opened but a few weeks ago, the magnificent Hall of State has won a place as one of the nation's foremost memorial edifices.

Gridiron Hero Now a Film Comedian

At the wheel of a 1903 model Ford is Andy Devine, Hollywood comedian, who stopped in Dallas to visit the Texas Centennial and inspected the Ford Exposition. Devine's companion is Ann Gordon, an information girl in the Ford building. Devine is on his way to New Orleans to appear in a new picture, "Murder on the Mississippi."

Andy Devine, Universal Pictures comedian, who is kept very busy in Hollywood appearing in featured roles, visited the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas and attracted considerable attention in the Ford building, where he autographed everything that the fans offered him.

Devine entered motion pictures several years ago after making a name for himself in one of the larger universities as a football player. His peculiar voice attracted immediate attention and shortly he had parts in many prominent productions. His last part was that of Peter in the Romeo and Juliet version starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard.

From Dallas Devine goes to New Orleans to be featured in a new picture, "Murder on the Mississippi."

"I visited the Ford exhibits in Chicago and at San Diego, California," Devine said, "and it seems the building here is up to par with anything the Ford Company has done to date."

Texas Hall of State is Magnificent Structure Made Basically of Native
Materials; To Enshrine Heroes

Classic magnificence characterizes the Texas Hall of State now open to the public at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Towering aloft from an eminence at the head of the beautifully landscaped Esplanade, it challenges a world of modern architectural confusion with its dignity and restraint.

Pre-eminently designed to enshrine the heroes of the Lone Star state, it holds also a thrilling concentration of Texas life. Its arts and exhibits cover the entire period of transformation from pioneer chaos to agricultural and industrial security.

Fashioned of Texas limestone without, and walled with shellstone, another limerock of the state, inside, the building is made basically of native materials. Not only have the builders drawn heavily upon the resources of Texas to produce it, but they have gone across the seas for lovely marbles and woods with which to enhance it.

The floors of the Hall of Heroes and of the five front entrances are of peach-colored Tennessee marble, with borders of St. Aubern's red marble from Vermont. Small inlaid squares in the floor are red marble, also from Vermont. The wainscot of the Hall and the walls of the stairway leading to the lecture room below are Rosetta marble from Italy. Over the doors are horizontal panels of multi-colored marble quarried in Lanquedoc, France. Dark marbles from the Pyrenees Mountains in Spain and mammoth marbles, symbolizing the struggle of elemental and social forces in the commonwealth, line the walls of the Hall of Heroes.

In the four regional rooms that serve as two wings extending backward from the central mass, are depicted not only the history of Texas, but also the life of the people. This pageant is told in four major scenes, grouped into the four geographical areas of the state.

To view the magnificence of the building is worth a second trip to the Centennial, it is said, and many Texans have gone to Dallas a second time since the opening of the building.

Dallas.—An elderly lady visited the crime show on the Texas Centennial Exposition grounds. She proceeded to tell attendants additional details of the life of Clyde Barrow, late Southwestern desperado. She spoke with authority. She was his mother.

In various parts of the world it is being noted that while the market basket grows lighter, the ammunition bill grows more and more burdensome.

HARMONY

The Harmony school opened Monday, October 5, with Mrs. W. T. Knowles, and Miss Camille Hoseager as teachers. Mr. Knowles, who had been elected as principal, resigned and has entered North Texas State Teachers College and will receive his degree at the close of the fall semester.

Mrs. Roy Pumphrey who submitted to a major operation at Hendricks Memorial hospital in Abilene last Saturday is reported to be doing nicely.

Mrs. Edna Dunlap and son, Wayland, of Abilene, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Billups last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cox and children of Winters visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Cox Sunday.

Edgar Branham and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lucas and family were visitors Sunday afternoon in the Alfred Eoff home at Antelope Sunday afternoon.

The Associational B. T. U. will meet at the First Baptist church in Winters Sunday afternoon.

TOO MUCH MONEY

Midland, Mich.—Believe it or not, here's a township which has more money than it knows what to do with. It rolls in at the rate of $150 a day, as Porter Township is where more than half of Michigan's oil is produced. First, officials built a new town hall and thought that would solve their problem but now they find they have a surplus of $40,000 in the treasury.

Interesting

It would be interesting to find out what the people are doing who six months ago were spending most of their time worrying about inflation.—Boston Evening Transcript.

FIRST SHOT KILLS 2

Chicago.—When two Negroes broke into the home of the Rev. Edward Wainwright, a Negro Baptist preacher, Rev. Wainwright fired a revolver for the first time and killed both men.

WON'T CUT WAGES

Lawrence, Mass.—Bursting into a "workers' meeting, called by labor executives to discuss a voluntary wage reduction, Nathan Brindis, 45-year old shoe executive, told them he couldn't consider their proposed sacrifice. He said, "The present is no time to cut wages, because of the recent sharp increase in the cost of living."

PUBLIC INVITED TO INSPECT THE NEW MODEL.

Messrs. Light Hoover and Jess Wetzel, of the Hoover-Wetzel Motor Co., local Plymouth dealers, returned home last Wednesday evening from Fort Worth where they attended a meeting of Southwest Plymouth dealers.

Dealers were shown all models of the new 1937 Plymouth automobiles, which are now being placed on sale over the nation, and the local concern was fortunate in securing one of the new models for display here, bringing in the new model with them when they returned from the Fort Worth meeting.

Mr. Hoover stated yesterday that over a half million 1936 Plymouth automobiles were sold last year, and the factory will increase its production of 1937 models over last year by twenty per cent.

Messrs. Hoover and Wetzel have an advertisement elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise, inviting the public to call at their place of business on North Main street and inspect the new 1937 Plymouth, which is of better quality and is the most beautiful Plymouth ever manufactured by Chrysler.

Dallas.—Texas school children have had a break. They are to be escorted in groups for a visit to the Texas Centennial Exposition — and will receive full credits on their studies. "The Centennial is educational," explains Governor Allred.

SEES GREATER RAIL SPEED

Philadelphia.—I. Lamont Hughes, president of a steel company, predicts that within the next ten years regular passenger train schedules based on speeds of one-hundred miles an hour and freight schedules of sixty miles will be common.

Trench sios are on the increase in Wood county. Five new ones have been dug and filled as well as two old ones. Six more new ones are scheduled if late feed crops turn out well. All are being used as demonstrations, and it is believed by the county agricultural agent that there will be 50 new trench sios in Wood county in 1937 if a now growing interest in dairying in the county continues.

A contemporary claims that the average span of human life has lengthened. It looked that way for a while but we think the automobile has taken up the slack.
