HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Construction is expected to begin within the next few days on Winters' new post office building, according to Postmaster Rankin Pace. Completion date is about September 1.

Pace said plans have been made to purchase new post office furniture and fixtures. Equipment is being installed for use of mailmen who will be added if and when the City of Winters gets house to house delivery, he said.

If you haven't yet filled out the ballot to pick the "most Courteous Saleslady and Salesman" in Winters, make a special effort to do so this week. This contest is planned to give some recognition to employees of Winters businesses, and the winners will receive $50 Savings Bonds.

It takes little effort to fill out the ballot, and mail or bring it to the Chamber of Commerce office or the office of the Enterprise, where the only two ballot boxes are located.

There seems to be a lot of activity on the waters of the two Winters lakes. Which reminds us of the definition we read of a fishing hole: An uninhabited body of water surrounded by liars in old clothes.

One of the calf ropers who will compete for prize money at the Annual Rodeo next week is a Winters man who took up calf roping as a hobby about 14 years ago, and has become a roper to contend with in rodeos all over this part of the country.

Connie Gibbs, who started roping several years ago because he "likes to ride horses," won eight shows last year, with a top time of 10.5 seconds. He won six shows with a 22 second average for two calves per show last year, and had an average of 28 seconds for two calves in last year's Winters rodeo. At the Comanche rodeo last year, he averaged 24 seconds with two calves.

Gibbs, who started roping off plow horses in the Crews community, now has a string of five roping horses, but uses only two of them for competitive roping. For the 1959 season, he has won four firsts and one second place.

Mrs. Jack Harrison Elected President State Fire Auxiliary

Mrs. Jack Harrison of Winters was elected president of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association Auxiliary at a business meeting Wednesday for the groups state convention in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Harrison had been a member of the state organization since 1955 and has served on the executive board for four years. She assisted with the state memorial services held Wednesday at Will Rogers Auditorium in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Harrison served as president of the Hill Country Firemen's Auxiliary in 1955-6. The local Firemen's Auxiliary was organized in 1948 and Mrs. Harrison was elected as the first president of the organization. She also has served as secretary and treasurer, reporter and parliamentarian of the group. Next year's state convention will be held in Galveston.

WALTER THORMEYER

Walter Thormeyer Will Be Ordained As Lutheran Minister Sunday Evening

Walter Thormeyer will be ordained into the ministry of the American Lutheran Church Sunday evening in a service that will be held at St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. Vernon Mohr, President of the Texas District of the A.L.C. from Austin, Texas, will conduct the rite of ordination, and the Rev. L. D. Braun of McGregor, Texas, will preach the sermon.

Walter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thormeyer of Winters, graduated from high school here in 1951. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Texas Lutheran College in Seguin. After completing two years of theological studies at the Evangelical Lutheran Seminary of Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, he interned for a year, serving congregations in Wiedeville and Waller, Texas. He then completed his third year of ministerial studies, graduating from the seminary on May 31, 1959. Upon accepting the call extended to him by the Waller congregation, candidate Thormeyer was authorized for ordination by the officials of the American Lutheran Church.

Friends of Walter and his family are cordially invited to attend his ordination service. A reception will be held in the church parlors afterward.

$100.00 In Cash Offered For Rodeo Parade Floats

Cash awards in the amount of $100.00 is being offered the three floats to be judged in the Winters Rodeo Parades June 25 and 27, according to Floyd Grant, parade chairman.

First place will receive a $50 cash award; second, $30, and the third place will receive $20.

To be eligible for the prize money, floats must participate in both parades, the first on Thursday afternoon and the last on Saturday, the final day of the rodeo.

The parade will form in the usual place, on the Davidson Gin lot, and move to North Main street. From there, divisions in the parade will take the usual parade routes through town. The Winters High School Blizzard Band will lead the parade.

Also participating in the parade will be riding clubs from Winters and surrounding towns. Following the parade, the Round-Up Association will host the visiting riding clubs at a barbecue supper.

This year, according to Grant, local float entries will not be in competition with rented or professional floats. Only floats made in Winters will be eligible for the prize money, he said, although other floats are welcome to participate in the parade.

Rodeo Publicity Tour Planned For Next Week

A barnstorming group will make a tour of surrounding towns next Tuesday to advertise the Winters Annual Rodeo, June 25, 26 and 27, according to Ralph Lloyd, chairman of the barnstorming committee.

Several people have indicated they plan to make the tour. The Winters String Band, composed of several Winters string musicians, will go along to help advertise the rodeo.

The barnstormers will travel to Tuscola, Lawn, Novice, Coleman, Talpa, Valera, and Ballinger. Lloyd has asked that all who can possibly make the trip contact the committee and be on hand when the group leaves Winters next Tuesday.

Pony League Baseball Season Two-Thirds Gone

The Winters Pony League baseball season is two-thirds gone, and another successful year is anticipated, according to Raymond Cowan of Wingate, manager of the Wingate Redlegs.

Pony League sponsors have expressed the belief that with more encouragement there could be at least one more team in the league. Many boys leave the Little League each year, and should be encouraged to take part in the Pony League, they said. Any one who would like to see more boys take part in Pony League baseball activity, and is willing to take part as an official or to manage a team are asked to contact Tab Hatler.

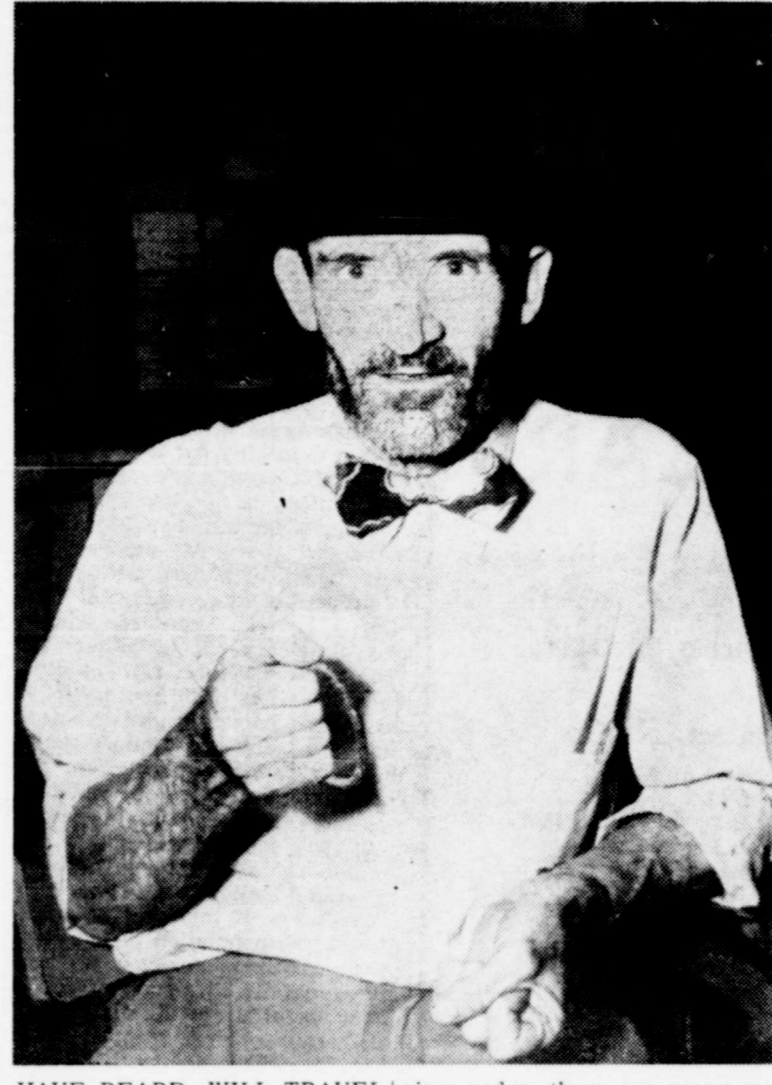

The Wingate Redlegs are leading the league with seven wins and no losses. The Redlegs would like to match outside games with other teams, it was announced. It is hoped that an all-star game can be arranged with Ballinger in the near future.

Redlegs batting average thus far in the season: Dunn, 250; Holder, 409; R. McMillon, 385; Carpenter, 333; D. McMillon, 348; Jackson, 333; England, 214; Gentry, 176; Rodriguez, 333; Colburn, 125; Lujano, 143; Belew, 143.

TO CARLSBAD CAVERNS
Mrs. J. S. Sanders and daughters, Elsie Lee and May Sanders, of San Angelo and Mrs. W. J. Yates have returned from a vacation to El Paso where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gideon. While there they made a trip to Juarez, Mexico and returned by Carlsbad Caverns and visited relatives at Jal, New Mexico and at Kermit.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Garner of Kermit were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young.

13th Annual Winters Rodeo Begins Thursday, June 25

HAVE BEARD, WILL TRAVEL—Ralph Lloyd, chairman of the barnstorming committee of the Round-Up Association, displays the form which might easily win the beard growing contest during this year's rodeo. Although this picture was taken during a previous rodeo, there are many men in Winters who might equal this wild and woolly appearance. Contestants will be judged at the Main Drug Store on the final day of the rodeo next week, immediately following the parade.

Young Man, Young Man! Go West-ern! Is Plea of Annual Rodeo Committee

The contest to choose the most representative woman and the most representative man of the west ends Saturday night, June 27, following the parade, according to B. G. Owens, chairman of the western committee of the Winters Round-Up, Inc., sponsors of the Annual Winters Rodeo.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners in the contest. Judges will make their final decisions at the Main Drug Co. immediately following the parade Saturday afternoon, Owens said. Names of the winners and awards will be given during the rodeo Saturday night at Blizzard Field.

The contest calls for a $10.00 cash prize for the most representative lady of the west, and another cash prize of $10.00 for the most representative man of the west. In the latter contest, the man must have a beard, according to the rules, Owens said.

Rev. E. L. Craig Re-Appointed As Methodist Pastor

Rev. E. L. Craig, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was re-appointed as pastor of the local church at a Methodist Conference held in Fort Worth last week.

Other pastors appointed for this area of the Brownwood District are Rev. Carroll Thompson, Ballinger and Rev. Louin Berry III, Novice.

Pastors for the following Methodist Churches will be supplied: Drasco-Wingate, Norton-Bethel and Talpa-Crews.

Rev. and Mrs. Craig, residents of Winters for the past three years, attended the conference in Fort Worth.

FROM ODESSA
H. W. Schwartz of Odessa was a visitor Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Boles. He visited other relatives a few days and was accompanied home Tuesday by Mrs. Jim Hood and children and Randall Boles.

A rip-roaring, high-riding three days of celebration is in store for visitors and Wintersites alike next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when the Thirteenth Annual Winters Rodeo will attract riders and viewers from all over this area of West Central Texas.

The annual rodeo, which has become known as "The biggest open show in this part of West Texas," will get underway Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock with the first parade through downtown Winters. Two parades have been scheduled, one Thursday, and another on Saturday, the final day of the rodeo.

Several special acts have been scheduled for the three nights of the rodeo, in addition to the regular competitive riding and roping events.

On Thursday evening, the Calhoun County Sheriff's Posse will perform the Quadrill on horseback in the rodeo arena.

Scheduled for all three nights will be a calf scramble, in which boys will compete for a top prize of a lamb. There will be a lamb awarded each night of the rodeo to the boy winning the calf scramble on that night.

Another added attraction for each night of the rodeo will be a dog and pony act presented by Portis and Mary Sims of Gainesville, and sponsored by the Winters State Bank. This act has received nationwide attention in Shrine Circuses.

Livestock for the rodeo is being furnished by Lloyd Woodley of Lampasas, who has furnished the stock in past rodeos in Winters. He also will produce the show, and direct events in the arena.

Rex Felker, well-known rodeo announcer, will call events for the three nights of the celebration. He has worked the Winters Rodeo in previous years.

Added to the list of events in which cowboys will compete for prize money will be steer wrestling. This event is expected to attract many contestants.

Other rodeo events include bareback bronc riding, jackpot calf roping, wild cow milking, bull riding and a girls' cloverleaf race.

A trailer race has been included as a special event for the second night of the rodeo, Friday. The trailer race has not been held in Winters in several years, and promises to be an exciting addition to the celebration.

The grand entry will be the starting signal each evening at the rodeo arena. Grand entry will be at 8 o'clock.

It is expected that cowboys from all over this area of West Texas will participate in the rodeo. Some participants and spectators are expected to come and spend all three nights camped out at the rodeo grounds.

Also included in the list of events for the three day celebration will be the judging of the most representative man of the west and the most representative lady of the west on Saturday, following the parade. Judging will be done at the Main Drug Co. and awards made on the final night of the rodeo.

The Band Mothers organization will operate the concession stand under the east stands at Blizzard Field. The Winters chapter of the Future Farmers of America will operate the concession on the west side of the grounds.

Blizzard Band Will Lead Both Parades

All members of the High School Blizzard Band, including next year's ninth graders are asked to report to the band hall at 4:00 p. m. Thursday, June 25th, to make preparation for the rodeo parade.

The Blizzard Band will be led by Drum Major, Nancy Roberts, Featured Twirler is Nell Lacy, Diane Buckner is the rank corporal and Nancy Benson is the assistant drum major. New majorettes are Lynnann Krusse and Pamela Bedford.

MOVED TO ODESSA
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Henson have moved from Munday to Odessa where he is an engineer for Wm. Cameron Company Oil Division. Mrs. Henson is the former Linda Bedford.

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

"Smaller Towns Ideal for Location; Bomb Destruction Much Less Risk"

With nearly 10 percent of our population changing locations each year, these people are faced with the question: "Where shall we establish our permanent home? I shall not recommend any one state. Every state has its advantages and disadvantages. Much depends upon the health of the parents and children,—whether they should go to a dry climate or a normal climate,—to a hot climate or a cool climate. This is something you should talk over with your local doctor before making a decision.

Large vs. Small Cities or Towns
 I, however, will take the responsibility of advising you to avoid big cities such as New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, New Orleans, Cleveland, Detroit, and perhaps San Francisco and Los Angeles. If you have young children, I would advise you not to locate even in any of the suburbs of these. With a total population of over 20,000,000 people, they could all expect destruction in event of World War III. Only a few cities might be destroyed; but no one knows which ones.

I do not expect to see a World War III for at least ten or more years, but the chances are that the United States will sometime be in some major war. Such a war will be fought by missiles of various kinds carrying atomic warheads. This means that one or more of the above cities will be wiped out during the first 24 hours of the war. No advance notice will be given. The surprise attacks will come as suddenly as that on Pearl Harbor. In the same way, our enemies will strike while our delegates and theirs are discussing possible peace.

Advantages of Small Cities
 Were I looking for a job today, I should choose some small city or town fifty to one hundred miles from one of the ten big cities mentioned above. My reasons: (1) Such smaller places will never be targets of intercontinental missiles. (2) Their churches, schools and clubs are much better for your family's future. (3) The cost-of-living is less than in a big city. (4) Your living conditions—whether in a small house or an apartment—will be much better for the rent you pay. (5) Your children will make better friends—especially if you join some church and the children attend Sunday School.

Land Prices and Profits
 The price of land varies largely with the population of the community. This means you will get more real health and joy for a dollar invested in a small city. Furthermore, land in most large cities is at its peak for this cycle; while land in smaller cities should still be on the way up. Be sure to settle in a progressive and growing location, not one that has seen its best days.

When buying a home be sure to get enough land. Buy a small house, but get an extra adjoining lot if possible. Buy them on the right side of a well-drained and growing city or town. Every community has its growing and most "aristocratic" portion. Start out with the prestige of living in the right section with the best neighbors—who own their homes.

Advantages of "College Towns"
 Personally, if my wife and I were a young couple, all else being equal, we would settle in a "college town." There are nearly 500 scattered throughout the nation. These small cities and towns have especially good families and attractive atmosphere. These always have concerts and lectures which you can attend. If you can find such a community on a lake or river, which will give you employment in the line for which you are best fitted, this may be the place to settle.

What about the subdivisions which are springing up from Richmond southward to Florida and from Atlanta westward to Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona? Many of these are attractive, but before buying see with your own eyes what you are to get for your money. Insist upon good drainage, a fireproof house built of sand blocks which is also termite proof. Visit several subdivisions before you buy. Spend at least a month looking about in the state which you select. One more thought: Buy a house near enough to a hotel or restaurant so that you can walk if you wish to get out for a meal.

New Fishing Reefs Ready Along Coast

A new artificial fishing reef, flanking a known natural reef, has now been completed near Freeport, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. The reef was constructed of 600 old car bodies, locked together with steel cable and dropped in approximately 60 feet of water. The new reef is adjacent to the natural reef some six miles off shore at Freeport.

Although the reef is close enough to permit outboards to reach it in favorable weather, the director warns against going there with equipment that is too light.

Work began this week on lowering 600 car bodies off shore from Port Isabel. The car bodies already have been assembled and barges are now being sent out as weather conditions permit.

This will complete the current reef building job. There are now 600 car bodies at Port Aransas also. Part of these were put in position last year. Fishing improved immediately in the vicinity of the new reef.

Difficulty right now is in keeping the reefs properly marked. Light buoys that will not be a hazard to navigation soon are washed away or removed. Fishing boat operators in both Port Aransas and Port Isabel have agreed to watch after the marking of the reefs.

No rest for this Chevy... round the clock the engine never stops!

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation Fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. Aside from occasional time out for the usual service, its Thrift-master 6-cylinder engine has been running 24 hours a day for the past 9 months!

Once you've got that kind of endurance working you don't worry much about lost job time. Breakdowns go out of style the day your Chevy goes into action.

The fact is, Chevrolet trucks are dead set on dropping the word "downtime" right out of the English language. And they just might, if precision engineering and top-quality materials have anything to say about it. Chevy trucks are put together to stay together—incorporating the most advanced chassis developments, the most efficient 6-cylinder and V8 engine designs. They're built to last, built to keep Chevrolet's hard-earned reputation for reliability flying high.

Going into the real heart of Chevrolet advantages is where your dealer comes in. He'll show you, in feature after feature, that you can't buy more truck dependability—in any weight class—at any price.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Catching catfish on a trotline is one thing, but taking them on a pole and line, or on a rod and reel, is something else.

We've talked about trotlining and have touched on other ways of catching fish, but here is some additional speculation about these fish that you can add to your store of information.

All this is going on the assumption that the more you know about fishing, the more you're going to catch. So you go out, loaded to the bold spot with piscatorial lore. Then, traditionally, the barefoot boy with cheeks of tan, and a worm can, fills up his stringer while you get skunked.

Or your wife outfishes you. Or some guy who came along for the ride is the one who furnishes meat for the frying pan.

Yep, it happens sometimes. But over the long haul, a guy who knows his fish and fishing is the one who gets the prizes.

Some years back, catfishing was a game strictly for trotliners and for the pole and line fishermen. But now, the sport is gaining favor as game fishing.

If you want to snag a big fish on a rod and reel, in fresh water, the catfish is as good a bet as any.

You can go for carp, but there are many who (wrongly) consider carp inedible.

You can try for gars, and they come in king sizes, but they are really no good for eating.

There's many an ardent angler who doesn't eat fish. He fishes for the sport. But it's likely that for most fishermen, the pleasure of eating what they catch adds to the enjoyment of the trip. I belong to the latter school myself. I want to take something home for dinner, if possible.

So all considered, the catfish is the best bet for the fresh water sportsman who wants to bring in a big, edible fish. Best of all, there is no limit as to how many the fisherman can catch and keep.

Construction of power dams in Texas has given catfishing a boost. When power is being generated, the turbines stun or kill thousands of bait fish, amounting to a giant chumming operation. Below the dams, catfish never had it so good.

If you want catfish, the waters below such a dam are good hunting territory. However, if there is no such dam near you, don't despair. There are catfish in nearly every river, creek, pond, and lake in Texas.

You should know about the three main kinds of catfish in Texas. They all look and taste pretty much alike, but there is a little difference in the way you fish for them.

Much has been said about "stink" bait. And especially about the smelly things that a catfish will eat.

It's all true, except that the yellow cat would prefer his food fresh and alive. If it's yellow cat you're after, a small, live bream, not more than two and one-half inches long, or a big minnow, would be your best choice.

It's the blue and the channel catfish that want their food ripe and odorless, with exceptions. They will go for fresh chicken entrails, or a fresh shad that has been mashed in two, and sometimes—fairly often, that is—blues and the channels will go for live bait.

So you see, there's no rigid rule in these matters. In fact, the right procedure when you go catfishing is to carry along a variety of bait. If they don't take one—maybe they will go for another.

Rig up your fishing equipment with a 1-0 long shank hook at the bottom, and a sinker about twelve inches above it. The weight of the sinker depends on the kind of tackle you are using. Above the sinker add a slip bobber. This, so you can regulate the depth where you think the cats are lurking. Put on your first choice of bait, and go to work.

As to depth, try the bottom first. That's where catfish are most of the time. If you don't get any business down deep, move on up in the shallow parts of the water.

Give your bait a long cast. Let it sink to the bottom and rest there for a minute or two. Then start a slow retrieve. When I say slow, I mean S-L-O-W. Turn the crank half a turn and wait awhile. Hum two bars of "Dixie" and give her another half turn. And so on like that.

It will take some time to retrieve, if you're doing it right. Fishing on the bottom like this, you're going to hang up once in awhile and lose your rig. But that is the way it goes. You can help the situation by the way you bait up. Covering the hook with bait, so that the point is not exposed protects you somewhat against hooking a rock or a submerged log.

It protects you somewhat—and that's all. Of course, you can save hooks, line and sinker, by fishing shallow all the time—with a bobber that lets your bait go down only about three feet. And you might catch some fish that way. But if the catfish are on the bottom, all you get is a sustan.

Another way to save hanging up is to let the bait alone, once you have cast it out there. You can catch fish that way, too. But you will catch more if the bait moves a little bit once in awhile.

I know this from my own experience. I have been fishing with a buddy who always keeps his bait moving, no matter how slowly. While he is doing this, I let my bait rest on the bottom, lean back, and enjoy life.

He lands three fish to my one. So, if it's fish you want, keep your hand on that rod and reel.

But do have patience. You need it for all kinds of fishing. But you need it especially for catfishing. Console yourself if nothing happens in the first hour or two. You are going to catch catfish after awhile. If not this trip, then the next, providing, of course, that you have selected a place where catfish are.

And as we said before, catfish are almost everywhere.

How about putting a little sunshine away for a rainy day?

State Capitol Highlights:

Cigarettes, Utilities and Autos Picked To Shoulder Most of State's Tax Load

By VERN SANFORD
When tax bills finally were passed by both the Texas House and the Senate, it was not dollars, but ideas that delayed agreement. House bill was designed to raise about $150,000,000 over the next two years; Senate bill, about $160, 000,000. Big difference was in where the money would come from. House bill was divided evenly between selective sales taxes and taxes on natural resources and corporation franchises.

Senate, which heard a long string of witnesses on the dangers of shutting prosperity-making industries out of Texas, changed the ratio. In its version, natural gas and corporations pay about 18 per cent of the tab; selective sales taxes, 82 per cent.

Senate voted a 15-15 tie on its bill, with Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey breaking the tie in favor of the bill.

Named to a free conference committee to adjust differences were Sens. R. A. Weinert, Seguin; Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo; Charles F. Herring, Austin; Jimmy Phillips, Angleton; Bruce Reagan, Corpus Christi; Also Reps. V. L. Ramsely, Beckville; W. T. Oliver, Fort Neches; Don Kennard, Fort Worth; Alonzo Jamison, Denton; George Cook, Odessa.

How They Stack
These items were hit, in varying degrees, by the House and Senate bills that went to conference committee.

CORPORATIONS—Senate, raise $10,800,000 by hiking the franchise tax from $2.25 to $2.75 per $1,000 capitalization. House, raise $12,000,000 by a new two-factor tax on interstate corporations.

NATURAL GAS Senate, raise $8,000,000 by increasing the production tax from 7 to 8 per cent. House, raise $36,500,000 by lowering production tax to 5 per cent and adding a 5 per cent severance beneficiary tax.

MOTOR VEHICLE SALES — Both houses agreed on increasing sales tax from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent to bring in an additional $7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

CIGARETTES — Senate, raise $31,500,000 by boosting tax 3 cents a pack. House, raise $10,500,000 (estimated) by a 1 cent a pack increase.

UTILITIES—Senate, increase the tax on water, gas and electric utilities by 20 per cent, for an estimated $2,600,000. House, increase all other utilities to the telephone company rate of 2.3 per cent, for an estimated $8,000,000.

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES — Senate, increase liquor tax from $1.40 to $1.65 a gallon, to raise $2,000,000. House, increase it to $2.25 a gallon for $7,000,000.

Wine, Senate increased tax by 20 per cent, for $201,000. House doubled it for $1,000,000.

Senate also tripled fees for selling beer and wine, doubled permits for liquor selling, for an estimated $1,600,000. House bill does not include this.

TOBACCO PRODUCTS Senate, would tax all such products, except snuff, by 12.5 per cent, to raise $5,400,000. House tax is twice this.

SULPHUR —Senate voted to retain present rate. House would reduce from $1.40 to $1.03 per ton. There is disagreement as to whether production increase would offset the tax increase in total revenue received.

THEATER ADMISSIONS — Both Senate and House lopped this by about $120,000 a year.

SOUND EQUIPMENT Senate added a 2.2 per cent sales tax on radios, televisions, hi-fi and stereophonic sets for an estimated $3,200,000.

BOATS —Senate added 1.5 per cent sales tax on boats and motors for an estimated $5,000,000.

Property Bill Nixed
For the second time this year, the House of Representatives has refused to sweep unclaimed property into the State Treasury.

The vote of 66-66 killed efforts in the Special Session. Vote that killed the bill earlier in the regular session was almost as close.

Gov. Price Daniel had urged the measure as a means of raising an estimated $25,000,000 for the State's ailing general fund. It would have required banks, oil and gas companies, insurance companies and others to turn over to the state any property belonging to persons who have been missing for more than seven years.

Bank lobbyists were blamed by Daniel for defeat of the bill. He said they must accept responsibility for the state's having to raise, through new taxes, the $25,000,000 the bill would have produced.

Bankers have contended the escheat procedure would undermine depositors' confidence in the safety of their deposits.

License Plan Studied
Economy forces are taking a good look at whether or not the state's licensing practices might be unnecessarily expensive.

Historically the state has issued licenses annually. There's now some thinking that a lot of the licenses could just as easily be issued permanently, subject to cancellation for cause. Fees would still be collected annually, but a lot of time and money possibly could be saved by not having to type out and mail a new document each year.

Such a procedure was authorized by the Legislature in regular session for insurance companies.

Some licenses probably could not be adapted to the permanent policy. Among these would be drivers licenses, hunting and fishing licenses, and auto inspection stickers.

Seven Run for Speaker
Now the count is up to seven in the House speakership race. Seventh man in the lineup is Rep. Frank B. McGregor of Waco. His announcement was made a luncheon sponsored by the Waco Chamber of Commerce.

Six already in the race are Reps. Ben Glusing of Kingsville, Wade Spilman of McAllen, W. T. Oliver of Port Neches, L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, Jerry Sadler of Palestine and James A. Turman of Gober.

Short Snorts
Radar traps must be test-checked for accuracy before a speeding ticket is valid, the Court of Criminal Appeals has held. Expert testimony in the case before the court had contended that as much as a 20 per cent error can occur if the radar machine is not set up properly. . . . Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Ben Ramsey's new daughter, Maribon, born June 8, officially became "princess of the senate" in record time. By unanimous vote, the honor was bestowed when she was just one day old.

Highway Patrol Investigated 50 Accidents In Area

Property damage amounted to $32,790 in 26 of the accidents, and 39 people were injured and 2 killed. This is a decrease of 10 accidents and a decrease of 2 deaths for the same period of May, 1958.

During May, 1959, the patrolmen in the area made 638 arrests for the following violations: DWI 17; speeding, 403; improper passing, 5; wrong side of road, 17; defective equipment, 29; other violations, 167.

Karen Smith and Roy Leslie Austin Exchanged Wedding Vows Monday

First Baptist Church was the scene Monday evening of the wedding of Karen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Smith and Roy Leslie Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Austin of Anson.

The Rev. James N. Easterwood, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Anson, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with lemon leaves dotted with white flowers and wedding bells across the rostrum of the church. Large baskets of sunburst white gladiolus trimmed with white satin ribbon were at either side of the altar. A Swedish steel candelabra flanked with matching candelabras and white lace ornaments completed the decorations for the church.

Traditional wedding music was furnished by Mrs. L. H. Henslee, organist, who accompanied Molly Jackson of Odessa, soloist.

Kathy Smith of Gainesville niece of the bride, and Debby Adams of Abilene, niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Keith Poe, cousin of the bride was ring bearer.

Elizabeth Mitchell, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Kleta Gerhart, Jane Bedford of Abilene, and Molly Jackson of Odessa. They wore identical sleeveless dresses of blue organdy over taffeta styled with fitted bodices, matching cummerbunds and full skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of white carnations with white net puffs, blue satin ribbon loops and blue and white streamers. Their headresses were scalloped net circlets trimmed with blue ribbon bows.

Wayne Austin of Wylie, brothers of the bridegroom, John Adams of Abilene and Davis Smith, the bride's brother.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie and lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice and sequin-accented scalloped neckline. The bouffant skirt had a wide lace panel at the front and extended to a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses surrounded with jewel net puffs, white satin ribbon loops, pearl shells and white satin streamers.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents and members of the house party were Mrs. Wayne Austin of Wylie, Mrs. Billie W. Smith of Gainesville and Mrs. Hubert Austin of Lubbock.

For a wedding trip to Austin the bride wore a gold and white cotton suit with a white straw hat and white accessories.

After July 1, the couple will reside in Berkeley, California where the bridegroom will attend Golden Gate Baptist Seminary.

The bride, a 1958 graduate of Winters High School, attended Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, where she was a member of the dormitory council, Greater Council of the Baptist Student Union and the Life Service Band and was secretary of the freshman BSU. The Rodeo . . .

. . . is strictly an American form of entertainment, patterned after the workaday world of the cowboy of the present day and of frontier days. Those early pioneers worked hard and played hard, and built the foundation upon which our state and nation rest.

Those pioneers contributed their all to build this country into what it is today. The backbone of the nation, they slaved with few conveniences, to wrest from the earth abundant crops and ranging herds of cattle.

Likewise, it takes hard work to maintain that status. Without the constant vigilance of every citizen, life as we know it today would slip from our grasp.

The Winters Chamber of Commerce is ever alert, working to hold the present line of development, and always looking to the future in an effort to increase and build the industrial, oil and agricultural might of North Runnels County, to the betterment of all concerned.

EYES and VISION

By A. L. SPERRY, O. D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

In a recent column concerning use of the "master eye" we noted that the patient was often curious about why we ask if he is right handed or left handed. Evoking only slightly less curiosity is our question asking how long it has been since the patient had a dental checkup.

A very common response is "Don't see what you have to know that for, what do my teeth have to do with my eyes?" Actually a great deal. The eyes and teeth, aside from being very close together, share the services of several nerves and blood vessels. Any disruption in the normal function of these blood vessels and nerves will cause trouble along the line. The eyes very rarely cause trouble with the teeth, but the reverse is very common.

Abcessed teeth can cause a painless secondary eye condition known as Chorio-retinitis which may progress to permanent blindness in one or both eyes if not treated in a reasonable length of time.

Right here the patient always gives me to understand that it's easy to tell when a tooth is abcessed—it hurts! That where the catch is—the acute type abcess hurts, the chronic type can be present for years without your realizing it. In fact we have known of people whose general health was impaired to the point by the chronic type that they were confined to X-ray that those perfect looking teeth were all infected around the roots and were poisoning the whole body. "You can't judge a book by its cover—nor a tooth by its enamel." A periodic full mouth X-ray is a good idea.

Another way the teeth can affect the eye is through the sinuses. The roots of some of the upper teeth extend into the floor of the maxillary (cheekbone) sinuses. Any infection around the roots of these teeth can easily infect the membrane lining of this sinus and spread to the other sinuses around the vicinity of the eyes. Discomfort such as headaches, redness of eyes, and such common "eyestrain" symptoms caused by these sinus conditions often bring a patient in for eye examination. Results of such examination usually lead us to send the patient for a dental X-ray before we do anything for him in the way of visual correction.

Occasionally we see a patient who has taken care of his eyes and yet tells us that he has always had headache daily—"migraine" he usually calls it because it has never been explained or relieved. Investigation of his visual condition reveals nothing which indicates the eyes are causing the headaches. More than once in such cases we have found the "wisdom" teeth to be missing. The patient tells us they have not been extracted—"Never had any I guess, Doc." Subsequent X-ray of the area in question reveals that the teeth are there but are as to exert constant pressure "impacted"—grown in sideways under the gum in such a position against the roots of the rest of the teeth. It is this pressure which causes the patient's headache. When the impacted teeth are removed, no more pressure . . . voila! no more headache. I had one patient who had suffered with such a headache, daily mind you, for twenty years before, on our insistence, having the teeth X-rayed and discovering such a condition. She "felt like a new woman" once the offending teeth were out.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION THERE ARE LAWS

It is amazing that in the year 1900, no license to practice medicine, optometry or dentistry was required by the State of Texas. What's more, no license to practice any healing art was required until as late as 1907 when the first medical practice act was passed by the legislature. At that time a Board of Examiners was appointed to examine applicants.

For the last 38 years all the states have had laws for the protection of the public health and welfare regulating the practice of optometry. But Texans will be surprised to learn that all other states had given their residents protection in this field before Texas did! Only the possession of Cuba, the District of Columbia, and one other state were tardier than Texas in passing these protective laws.

People sometimes chafe at the restrictions imposed on some businesses and professions by our government. But the reason for the restrictions and safeguards is that these businesses and professions are so complicated that the public is easy to fool by the sharp operator. Too many people have died because of medicine show cure-all tonics. Too many people have lost hard earned savings in unsound insurance companies. The list could go on and on. We should be thankful for the protection already given us and demand more when the need arises.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Crop Damage From Weed Killers Is Running High

Early season reports of crop damage by careless handling or misuse of weed killing chemicals have already surpassed the number of complaints received in 1958.

Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors are working overtime checking out herbicide damage reports in Central and East Texas fields adjacent to sprayed areas. Most complaints thus far are on cotton damaged by Hormone-type Herbicides in Leon, Houston, Hayes, Caldwell, Travis, Bastrop, Dimmit and other counties.

No estimates of actual losses are available but the number of cases are higher than in any recent year.

Farmers using 2-D or 2,4-D or 2,4-D-T Hormone-type herbicides for weed and brush control should use extreme caution, and especially in areas where highly-susceptible broad-leaved crop plants such as cotton are grown. These types of chemicals are beneficial to farmers when handled properly but they can be as destructive as dynamite without necessary precautions.

Use of herbicides is controlled by law in many Texas counties, although other counties are specifically exempted by the Legislature. The law forbids spraying of land within certain distances of susceptible broad-leaved plants, and wind and other weather conditions must be within definite limitations due to the high drift factor of the plant killers.

In regulated areas, permits are required from the Texas Department of Agriculture and in some counties an inspector must be present for the protection of surrounding crops. Mechanical spraying devices must also meet safety standards.

Much of the recent damage can be attributed to the anxiety of landowners to keep down weeds on idle or soil-banked land and to rid valuable rangeland of unwanted brush. Importance of cautious and skilled use of the chemical herbicides cannot be over-emphasized, both for their effective benefits and for their potential danger.

Farmers planning a weed control program can get full information on the advisability of using herbicides by contacting the nearest TDA office, and they are urged and welcomed to do so.

In absentia, some of us probably supply more conversational fodder than when present, since genuine hilarity is based on the stupidities and peccadilloes of one's friends, meaning you and me.

To be married and not in love would seem to be something that would drive one to consult an astrologer or a lawyer.

Talk, without courage to act and assume responsibility, is a typical characteristic of literary men and eloquent politicians.

To feel at home, stay at home. Some of us reach an age or a state of mind at which we disapprove of everything except eating and sleeping.

A momentary lull in the conversation is regarded by some women as a social blunder, and a signal to jump back into verbal high gear.

Wage earners in almost any field win respect, if among their other qualifications, they are capable of turning out a sizeable volume of work in a given number of hours.

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

AT THE STATE THEATRE
Saturday and Sunday "The Shaggy Dog"

AT THE FIESTA DRIVE-IN
Friday and Saturday "Gunmen of Laredo" and "Scared Stiff"
Sunday and Monday "The Naughty Girl!"
Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday "Stranger in My Arms"

"The Shaggy Dog"
The magic trick called shape-shifting has fascinated storytellers since time began. Homer told of Circe changing men into swine, the Brothers Grimm of a prince turned into a frog, Hans Christian Andersen of 11 princes changed to swans. Now comes Walt Disney transforming a modern teen-ager into a part-time sheep dog.

Walt's excursion into shape-shifting is a side-splitting comedy-fantasy called "The Shaggy Dog," which stars Fred MacMurray, Jean Hagen, Tommy Kirk, Annette Funicello, Tim Considine, and little Kevin "Moochie" Corcoran.

Tommy Kirk is the blundering schoolboy who falls afoul of a magic spell cast upon a ring by the Borgias, which causes him to assume the body of the pooch across the street, played by a mop-pawed canine comedian for whom Hollywood is predicting overnight stardom. And Kevin, previously teamed with Tommy in "Old Yeller," again plays his little brother. "Gee," says the younger boy, "we'll have great times together."

MacMurray returns to comedy, after far too long an absence, as the boys' father, a mailman scarred by the teeth of canine pets, who hates dogs and breaks out in a rash at the thought of one. And Jean Hagen is the rattle-brained mother who, somehow, never quite finds out what has happened to her eldest.

"Gunmen From Laredo"
A young Texas rancher hits the most desperate vengeance trail in Southwest history to get the "Gun-

Jeff Chandler, June Allyson and Mary Astor are pictured here in one of the tense scenes from "Stranger in My Arms," Universal-international's powerful new drama. The cast also boasts Sandra Dee, Charles Coburn, Peter Graves and Conrad Nagel. In CinemaScope, "Stranger in My Arms" is from novelist Robert Wilder, who also penned "Written on the Wind."

men From Laredo," in Columbia Pictures' outdoor action drama filmed in Columbia Color. Due Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre, the new film features Robert Knapp as the embattled rancher, exotic Ceylonese beauty winner Jana Davi as a fiery Indian girl, and Walter Coy as one of the gunmen from Laredo. As the rancher, Knapp battles such natural and man-made obstacles as the "chisera," or devil sandstorm, during a jailbreak flight; hostile Indians whose chief, Mangos Coloradas, engages him in a bloody tomahawk fight, and of course, the gunmen lying in wait in Laredo to finish off the man they once had framed for murder.

"Scared Stiff"
A new peak in comedy entertainment is sure to be reached when Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis live the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre screen with their funniest hit, "Scared Stiff."

In "Scared Stiff" Dean, as a night club singer, and Jerry, as his bumbling bus boy buddy, have to get out of town in a hurry when Dean incurs the jealousy of a trigger-happy gangster. They meet lovely Elizabeth Scott, heiress to a haunted castle off the coast of Cuba, and join forces with her. On her magic-plagued island, things pop a laugh a minute, with zombies, ghosts, hidden passages, chills and thrills contributing to hilarious entertainment.

"Stranger in My Arms"
Universal-International's production of "Stranger in My Arms," in CinemaScope, based on the popular novel "And Ride A Tiger" by Robert Wilder, presents an impressive cast headed by June Allyson, Jeff Chandler, Sandra Dee, Charles Coburn, Mary Astor, Peter Graves and Conrad Nagel. The picture arrives Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

Produced by Ross Hunter and directed by the distinguished award winning German film maker, Helmut Kautner, the screenplay offers a drama in which Miss Allyson is torn between her faithfulness to the memory of a husband lost in war, and the flesh-and-blood appeal of a man who was her husband's war time companion. She is seen as Christina Beasley, a young widow whose entire life is dominated by Miss Astor.

A general meeting will be held the first Tuesday in July at the church.

SO OLD, IT'S NEW—Ultramodern version of the medieval crossbow is tested by Helge Branberg, of Stockholm, Sweden. Crossbow archery is enjoying a revival in Sweden, with introduction of the new, old weapon. Steel arrows, each about six inches long, are used for ammunition. The powerful bow can drive an arrow through a thick telephone book at a range of 30 yards.

Hound Chase Can Result in Fawn Loss

Now is the time to keep dogs penned or at least prevent them from chasing deer, according to the director of wildlife restoration, Game and Fish Commission. Right now all over Texas does are preparing to drop their fawns. Possibly some fawns already are trotting along with their mothers. In either case, the does are in no condition to have foot races with energetic dogs.

Possibly each year many fawns are lost because of pregnant does being chased by dogs. Several reports already have been made of occasions where dogs were seen running does. Most of these dogs have not been trained to chase any one species of animal.

"When a doe is heavy with young," the director said, "she is slow on her feet. Fast dogs would have very little trouble catching many of them. When they do catch a doe, they kill her, destroying both her and her young."

These dogs usually do not eat the deer once they are caught. It is just a hunt for sport and the carcass is left for the free-loading

Health Letter

According to the calendar, summer doesn't start until next week. But according to the weather, summer has been here for quite some time now.

For those of us who must battle the heat, a few simple health rules will go a long way in making the hot Texas summer a little more bearable.

First of all, avoid heavy meals, they are difficult to digest in hot weather. Fewer protein foods such as eggs, fish and meat should be eaten, with more emphasis on and vegetables.

Perspiration causes much fluid loss during the day and must be replaced. Fruit juices — two or three glasses per day—make a pleasant way to make up the loss. But don't gulp down large amounts of ice water when overheated.

The body also loses salt through perspiration, so that if your work or exercise causes you to sweat profusely salt should be replaced with salt tablets—about one every half hour with a glass of water.

Parents can place extra salt in the children's diet with salted nuts or crackers plus a little added salt during meals.

Clothing plays an important role in keeping cool. Loose, light clothing highly recommended for summertime wear. Normal body temperatures are dependent on the evaporation of sweat. Clothes which inhibit evaporation should be avoided. Also, it is well to remember that white or light colors are cooler than dark, since they do not absorb hot sun rays so readily.

It's smart to get some exercise all year round. But it can easily be overdone in the summer. Long periods of hard yard work or active game of tennis should be confined to the cooler parts of the day.

Swimming is one of the best summer sports, provided the proper safety rules are followed—including not swimming alone, getting chilled, waiting at least an hour after meals, and avoiding tiredness.

This Year's Rodeo . . .

. . . is going to be the best show ever!

Let's encourage the men and women who have labored diligently and long to make this occasion the success equal to or excelling former years by attending every performance.

This show is to be filled with excitement and entertainment — we are promised thrills with outstanding specialty acts where dogs and ponies will be put through their "paces" at the bidding of their master. There will be parades through the streets, followed by a performance at the rodeo grounds which will excel all others, so they say.

Let's encourage this annual show with our presence all three nights. Our town needs more entertainment; it has been truthfully said "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" — this is a chance to play for three nights.

Garden Club Will Begin Campaign For New Members

Winters Garden Club, under the leadership of the new president, Mrs. Floyd Sims, is planning to launch a drive for new members. Membership in the club is open to all who are interested in creating municipal beauty.

Mrs. Sims pointed out that a person does not necessarily have to belong to a garden club to be a good gardener, but if they belong to a garden club and work, a person can be a better gardener. Some of the most civic-minded men and women of America are members of garden clubs.

They are those who are most interested in city and rural beautification, wild life, soil and water conservation, program for juniors to find an outlet for their time, rehabilitation therapy for the handicapped and disabled through education and experience in good horticulture practice; and in the correct placement of color, texture and variety in the artistic arrangement of blossoms and greenery in garden design and cut flowers.

Mrs. Sims stated that there are more than 1100 garden clubs in Texas and more than 32,000 individual members. "The Winters Garden Club needs you and your neighbor to become a part of it," she stated.

The new president is planning to distribute a bulletin to the members at each meeting suggesting what to plant, spray for different diseases, when and what to feed lawns, flower beds, trees, how and when to water and an extra bulletin will be on planting in the proper moon sign which is designed to be a challenge for every one.

For those who are interested in becoming a garden club member, Mrs. Sims is opening her garden for a brunch Tuesday morning, June 23, at 9:30 o'clock. If there are enough women interested there will be separate groups organized for young gardeners, teachers and juniors, as well as the regular garden club.

The Garden Club has one meeting each month on the first Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Piggly Wiggly

By VERN SANFORD

Every once in awhile a newspaper reporter or columnist or a press association manager receives a letter from a Linotype operator who works on some newspaper that publishes his material.

For you who do not know the duties of a Linotype operator—he is a typesetter who sits at a huge machine and types out on a keyboard, much like the typewriter, a message which has been sent him by a reporter. This message is converted by the machine into metallic type on what are known as slugs, made from molten metal—a line at a time. Hence the name Linotype.

Every so often, a Linotype operator will dash off a note on one of these machines to a friend. Then all he has to do is pull a proof of the type and mail the proof to the person. We like to get these letters because they are different and so individually manufactured.

We have such a letter from Floyd McKnight, Linotypist on the Bishop (Tex.) News. Here is what he says:

"We use your column in our newspaper every week. Since I run it out on the Linotype each week and just happen to be one of those habitual fishermen, I'd like to tell you what has been happening up at Lake Corpus Christi on the Nueces River the past few weeks.

"This writer is not a fresh water fisherman. All my fishing is in salt water in the bays and the surf.

"However, I took my family to the lake last weekend for a camping trip and saw something I did not believe possible. Men, women and Negro kids were catching bass in every slough I drove by. They told me the fish had been hitting that way for several weeks.

"Believe it or not, they were catching most of the bass on my favorite salt water spoon—the No. 5 Tony Accetta. Occasionally there was a good catch made on some kind of humpbacked wiggler.

"I saw a ten-year-old boy catch seven bass in eight casts with a Tony.

"Guess I will have to take my salt water outfit and go up this weekend for a try at it."

Thank you, Floyd, for the letter. I'd like to answer the same . . . in type . . . as I'd like to mention something that is developing.

First, salt water fishermen and inland lake fishermen are learning that fish will hit all types of lures. A lure that is good for salt water fishing often is equally as successful in still water fishing, and vice versa. So it looks like the rig you already have will serve well in both instances.

Second, I have been told that Lake Corpus Christi really should not be fished this year as the fish still are small.

Third, I am also told that if Lake Corpus Christi is not overfished this year, it should be as "hot as Falcon" next year. And Falcon, as you know, has gained the reputation of being one of the top fishing spots in Texas this year.

Anyway, best of luck to you—and may you take them large and often.

Skinning the Catfish That old saying that there is more than one way to skin a cat must have originated with an old-time trotline fisherman.

TAKE A GOOD LOOK—FOR FREE—Pictured, above, is Sweden's heavyweight Ingemar Johansson, working out in Goteborg, Sweden. To see him take on world heavyweight Floyd Patterson June 25 at Yankee Stadium could cost you $100 for a prime ringside seat.

SUMMER OLYMPICS SITE—Sports palace, foreground, and Olympic soccer stadium, background, in Rome, Italy, will be the site of the 1960 Summer Olympic Games.

Actually, there are several ways to do the job. However, here's one way that certainly makes for more tasty meals.

First, hang the catfish while still on the stringer, from a tree limb or from a nail driven into the tree or a post.

Next, cut off the tail, just above the tail fin, so that the fish will bleed freely. Then leave the fish hanging until all blood drains from the body. This should take but a few minutes.

Your next operation is to cut through the skin, around the head and below the gills. Then take a pair of sharp-pointed pliers, grab the skin, and pull downward, so as to peel the skin off the fish, all around its body.

After all the skin has been removed, your next operation is to gut the fish. In performing this operation, you'll find that all blood has drained from the fish's insides, and the cleaning problem is not nearly so messy.

Removal of the blood from the body, before cleaning the fish, seems to add a much better flavor to the fish.

To kill a cat most fishermen take a sharp-pointed icepick and thrust it through the soft part of the head, above and between the eyes, into the brain. This kills the cat quickly.

Others prefer to drive a large nail through the fish's head and into a tree or pole. This latter procedure not only kills the cat quickly, but it also provides a firm anchoring base for the skinning operation, as well as the gutting process.

After gutting the fish, cut completely through the meat, under the gills and around the head. Then sever the head with a sharp snap of the wrist or by means of a meat cleaver or a sharp butcher knife.

Final operation before washing thoroughly is to remove the fins so that all that is left of the fish is meat and backbone.

Some fishermen—as a matter of precaution against finning—either break or clip the sharp points off of each of the fins. This eliminates the possibility of injury to the fisherman, from a wildly flipping catfish—while boating, stringing, or cleaning.

We've seen some pretty careless fishermen get badly finned while cleaning a catfish they already had killed. And we've seen plenty more who were finned while the fish was flopping around in the bottom of the boat.

I know one fisherman who clips the sharp points off the ends of the fins of every catfish he catches on his trotline—even before taking the fish off the line.

Furthermore, we've seen some even more careful souls who don't even make an effort to remove the hook from a well caught cat until they have it on the cleaning block. This means cutting the stageon, after the fish is netted, but it also brings greater assurance that there will be no personal injury from that member of the finny tribe.

Health Letter

Why should we be concerned about diseases in animals? What relationship does animal disease hold to humans? Often people wonder what veterinary medicine has to do with public health. The answer is, it has much to do with it.

The fact is that animals, birds, chickens, and man plus the go-between vectors such as mosquitoes, ticks, flies and lice are capable of sharing hundreds of diseases common to one another. Recently World Health Organization officials listed 110 animal diseases transmissible to man.

Take rabies! At the recent conference on Diseases in Nature Transmissible to Man, in Austin, a national public health authority stated that there were about 3,750,000 cases of rabies throughout the Americas.

What about brucellosis? This is the number one problem in some countries. It can cause dire economic consequences because of its effects on goats, hogs and cattle. In humans it is called undulant fever.

At the same meeting mentioned above, it was brought out that so-called shipping fever, a bane to cattle buyers and shippers, has its parallel in the illnesses suffered by students going off to school for the first time or recruits entering the army or navy.

The probably cause for such illnesses is the exposure to new infectious agents the individual has not been exposed to previously. Therefore, he has not built up an immunity and falls prey to the strange infection.

It is known that many diseases of animals have their counterparts in humans. Ringworm, rapidly spread among children, is shared by animals. It is not unusual for Fido to pick up the ringworm parasite during his wanderings.

Little Johnny or Suzie romps and plays with Fido and the next thing we know, they have contracted the unsightly and embarrassing disease.

These minor illnesses we can live with. We can cope with most of them. But a constant vigil by public health authorities is necessary to prevent more serious diseases of domestic and wild animals from attacking humans.

For instance, a recent study of dogs (all house pets) uncovered salmonella organisms in 10 percent of the animals tested. Salmonella causes dysentery. Now they must discover how the dogs got the organisms and remove the cause.

This, in essence, is the problem confronting public health veterinarians, an important and growing public health program.

TO NEBRASKA
Mrs. T. A. Meadows left Monday morning for Lincoln, Nebraska to spend a month visiting her father-in-law, W. D. Meadows in the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Holcomb.

All women like to feel sorry for themselves, whatever their fate, good or bad, and to deny them a reason for their tears is cruel.

Questionable Mail Congress' Target

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A concerted drive against the half billion dollar a year traffic in obscenity and pornography by mail is taking shape. The Postmaster General recently appeared before a House committee to urge stronger laws, both state and federal, and more public cooperation in reporting to officials receipt through the mail of indecent literature.

Last year the congress strengthened the law against the merchants of filth. I have joined in a drive for even stronger laws, particularly as applied to habitual offenders.

The states share an important role in this drive, if it to be fully effective; After all, intra-state traffic in this field can be dealt with only by state laws. Several states have recently strengthened their laws; others are already quite adequate.

Talk is not cheap when abuse of it occurs in the Congress where every word and insertion is printed in the Congressional Record each day. One Senator last week surveyed the Record as it applies to the pros and cons on the Admiral Strauss confirmation issue. The President nominated conservative-minded Strauss last year to be Secretary of Commerce. Already, according to the Senator, 597,000 words have been printed in the Record about Strauss, mostly by opponents, at a cost of five and one-fourth cents a word. And there will be a lot more.

Permanent-type immigration from Mexico has averaged 50,000 a year during the past five years, according to a report given me by General Swing, Commissioner of Immigration. The preceding four years — 1949 - 52, inclusive — the average was only 7,000 annually. The big increase is obviously due to the extreme difficulty farmers and ranchers experience in obtaining Mexican contract labor on a temporary basis. Since they have difficulty in coming in on work contracts, Mexicans by the thousands are swarming in as permanent immigrants. I have urged that this immigration move be reduced.

Coast Fishermen Asked To Send In Tags From Catch

Cooperation of Gulf Coast fishermen has been asked by researchers in the attempt to find an answer to some of the fishing problems.

The U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service has planted a number of shrimp in the Gulf with blue and green heads. Some 24,000 shrimp with the tinted headdress have been released near Galveston. In this way the researchers hope to follow the movement of the brown shrimp from the Galveston bay.

Previously 12,000 tinted shrimp were released off the Florida shore. It is expected they will migrate to the Texas area during the year.

Persons finding these colored shrimp are asked to turn them into the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service at Galveston, with information as to where they were taken. The service will pay 50 cents each for such shrimp returned.

The Game & Fish Commission has tagged several hundred Spanish mackerel in the Port Aransas-Rockport area. If you catch one of these fish having a plastic tag, deliver it to your game warden, or send it to the Marine Laboratory of the Game & Fish Commission in Rockport.

Amendments To Social Security Law Affect Many

According to Floyd B. Ellington, manager of the San Angelo Social Security office, an important provision in the 1958 amendments to the social security law will affect many beneficiaries whose annual earnings are more than $1200.

Effective with months beginning January, 1959, benefits are payable for any month in which a beneficiary does not earn over $100.00 in wages or render substantial services in self-employment, regardless of his total yearly earnings. This means that even those who earn more than $2080.00 a year can receive benefits for some if the new test applies to them.

Ellington said all social security beneficiaries can be classed in 3 general earnings categories. These categories and how they affect entitlement to monthly social security checks are as follows:

1. Annual earnings of $1200.00 or less. Checks are payable for every month of the year.
 2. Annual earnings of more than $1200.00, but less than $2080.00. As a general rule checks are forfeited for each $8.00 or fraction of $8.00, of the total earnings which exceed $1200.00.
 3. Annual earnings of more than $2080.00. As a general rule no checks are payable. However in both 2 and 3 above, benefits are payable for any month in the year in which the beneficiary does not earn over $100.00 in wages or does not render substantial services in his business if he is self-employed.
- Further information about the new earnings test may be obtained from your Social Security Office located at 204 Continental Fidelity Building, San Angelo.
