Marriage Vows Solemnized Saturday For Lynn Lacy and Arby Holbrooks

Marriage vows were solemnized for Lynn Lacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Lacy of Bradshaw, and Arby Holbrooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holbrooks of Pumphrey, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Church in Winters.

The Rev. Johnnie Smith of Abilene, pastor of the Pumphrey Baptist Church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with candles and greenery.

Mrs. Alvin Benson, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Wanda Dillard of Eden, who sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Janette Wade of Ballinger, niece of the bride, Donnie Salvato and Gary Lacy, nephews of the bride, both of San Angelo. Weldon Holbrooks of Stamford served his brother as best man.

Debbie Holbrooks of Stamford, niece of the bridegroom, and Frank Lynn Salvato of San Angelo, nephew of the bride, were ring bearers. Ushers were Harold Lacy and R. L. Lacy, brothers of the bride and Calvin Helm, all of San Angelo.

Nellie Lacy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. John Sowder of Abilene and Miss Winona Eoff of Abilene. The maid of honor wore a pink and the bridesmaids wore blue, crystalline dresses fashioned with low necklines, matching organdy butterfly bows and pleated bouffant skirts. They carried bouquets of matching carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chantilly lace over satin sheath, styled with a lace bolera. Her fingertip veil fell from a lace and net headpiece studded with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded with white feather carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and an arrangement of large daisies decorated the bride's table. Mrs. Frank Salvato of San Angelo, sister of the bride, registered the guests. Mrs. Raymond Wade of Ballinger, sister of the bride, laded punch and Mrs. John Sowder of Alpine served punch.

For a wedding trip to the Big Bend State Park, the bride wore a pink lace sheath with a matching sweater and accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Winters High School, attended Tarleton State College and at the present time is secretary for Halliburton Oil and Cementing Company in Abilene.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Winters High School, attended Texas A. and M. College and is employed with the El Paso Gas Company in Monahans, where the couple will make their home.

Laverne Bain Weds Ralph Hiller In Abilene June 17

Laverne Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bain of Roscoe, became the bride of Ralph Hiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hiller of Winters June 17.

The Rev. Charles Boaz, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church in Abilene, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Beacham and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hiller, all of Abilene.

The bride, a graduate of Highland High School, is employed at U. S. Time Corporation in Abilene.

The bridegroom attended Winters High School and is in the Navy. He returned recently to San Diego, Calif., where he is stationed with amphibious boat operations.

Lynn Lacy Honored At Gift Coffee Thursday Morning

Lynn Lacy, bride-elect of Arby Holbrooks, was complimented with a gift coffee Thursday morning in the parlor of the First Methodist Church.

Hostesses for the affair were Mesdames Wanda Dillard, John Sowders, Frank Johnson, Clarence Ledbetter and Misses Helen Howard and Winona Eoff.

Mrs. Ledbetter and Mrs. Johnson greeted the guests and Mrs. Frank Salvato of San Angelo and Mrs. Raymond Wade of Ballinger, both sisters of the bride-elect, alternated at the register.

The table, laid with white linen, was centered with an arrangement of pink daisies and white grapes in a milk glass epergne. Other appointments were of milk glass and silver. Mrs. Sowders and Mrs. Dillard alternated in serving coffee, punch and pink cake squares.

Approximately fifty-three attended.

Maurice Holle attended his brother as best man and ushers were Keith Ueckert and Robert Pruser, cousins of the bridegroom. Grooms men were Lawrence Jost of Wall and Luther Minzenmayer, brother of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and tulle over taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice and sabrina neckline outlined with deep scalloped lines of lace.

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

"Averages' Provide Much Needed Information for Stock Investors"

Babson Park, Mass. —Investors, like most of us, are getting lazier and lazier. This is partly due to our poor eyesight and the fine type used on the financial pages. Instead of hunting the quotations for a few stocks in which we are especially interested, we look at the average stock change, noting whether this is up or down, and then conclude that our own special stocks have acted likewise. If the Stock Average has shown no appreciable change from the previous day, most investors assume that his special stocks have not made any change either.

The Four Main Daily Averages

The most popular indexes are the Dow-Jones Averages. These are divided into three groups—(1) The average of 30 Industrial Stocks; (2) the average of 20 Railroad Stocks; (3) the average of 15 Utility Stocks; then a general average of all of these 65 stocks. Another popular Average is that of the Associated Press, which consists of 60 stocks mixed and weighted into one Average. There is a fairly constant relationship between these two Averages.

Personally, I like the New York Times Average over a period of years. It covers 50 well-diversified stocks, and is compiled for the investor rather than for the speculator. A fourth Average is Standard & Poor's, which covers 500 stocks. I am proud to say that this is operated by my loyal and able cousin, Paul T. Banson, who controls the Standard & Poor's Corporation.

These Averages also give the volume traded during the day. This the trained investor watches quite closely. He keeps in mind a normal volume figure, which today is about 3,000,000 shares. It is usually safe to assume that the change in volume of the specific stocks in which an investor is interested varies more or less proportionately with the Average volume. The Law of Averages is a very wonderful law and it is a great time-saver for investors who use it intelligently in studying the stock market.

Housing Bill Will Cost Taxpayers $3.7 Billion

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Last week the House approved a conference report, previously also cleared by the Senate, on a mammoth housing bill, described by observers as a real budget-buster. It may be vetoed.

The $5.1 billion measure (erroneously reported in the press to cost only $1.3 billion) was more than three times the size of the President's recommendation. It okayes 190,000 additional public housing units. These units cost the taxpayers $40 each per month for 40 years in subsidy. The federal subsidy for this public housing will total $3.7 billion. We already have a half million units.

For good measure the bill removes the present ceiling on what a public housing occupant can make and still be eligible to enjoy the subsidized rentals each month—that is, having part of the rent bills paid by the taxpayers each month even though the tenants may, under this new philosophy, make $10,000 a year or even more. This new policy gets away from the principle of housing for the needy, and would put Uncle Sam further and further into the field of housing which when not related to need is a form of state socialism. And if it becomes law will put the government deeper and deeper in the red.

A recent report by Congress condemns the Secretary of Labor for proposed regulations under the Wagner-Peyser Act, which would require farmers with respect to agricultural employment to submit to regulation and control by the Department over farm housing, transportation, wages and hours, and related matters. This action, contained in an appropriation bill report, directs that no funds be used to carry out any such proposal by the Secretary.

This is a victory for farmers and ranchers, if the Secretary abides by the wording of the report. It is believed he will hesitate to do other wise.

By VERN SANFORD

In May, a fellow up Tulsa way by the name of R. D. Hull observed the 10th anniversary of his invention of the closed-faced fishing reel.

His name probably won't go down in history along with the man who figures out a way to put a cannon on the moon. However, the man who gave the world a new fishing reel has made a great contribution to the contentment of the people who live on this earth.

Hull made the Zebco reel. He worked it out and made it work. Since then, practically every other manufacturer of fishing equipment has come along with some modification of it. The Zebco, however, continues to hold its own in sales.

The closed-faced spinning reel gets a lot of kidding from fishermen who are addicted to the use of open-faced reels and conventional reels. Some of them refer to it as the reel with the built-in bird's nest. One conventional reel fisherman even called it an ocean going coffee grinder.

Henry's Model-T had a lot of fun poked at it, too, but it was the forerunner of all good automobiles.

The closed-faced reel has spread in popularity. Today you'll see more of them in use than any other type of fishing reel. There are many others, but all built pretty much on the same principal.

You load them with 100 yards of 8 or 10 pound test line, set the tension just right and you are in the fishing business. They are especially liked by women, children and persons who didn't learn to cast first with the conventional reel. Many of the oldtimers also have turned to the closed reel.

You'll find them everywhere a crowd fishes. This is particularly true on jetties and at fishing docks and floating fishing barns. They are ideal for having a lot of fun either with a bass in open water or a big old carp around a baited fishing dock.

For that reason there are millions of fishermen who unconsciously pay tribute to the inventive genius of Hull.

And since we are writing of fishing, we might as well suggest that this is a good time of year to do a little work with the fly rod.

What you catch will depend upon what you are fishing for. For instance, if you just want to load up with pan fish, then a few small flies laid deftly under a willow tree at this time of the year are calculated to do the job.

On the other hand, if you want to have a little rough and tumble argument with a good bass, try your luck with a good popping bass bug.

A small bass on a fly rod gives you more fun than a big bass on a heavy casting rod. And since they are now rising to the lure, a good popping bug tossed into the right area can really produce some lun-ners.

Since you may not use your fly rod too often, check it over carefully first. Chances are it hasn't been out of the case since you got back from a trout stream last summer. It could stand a good coat of light varnish. The reel will need oiling and your leader checked. Be sure you knot it good.

You can use a fly rod from a boat, wade fishing, or by floating around on a rubber inner tube. Generally, unless you are an excellent caster, you'll need a little more casting space than with a casting rod.

There are many who like to wade the flats in the early morning and late evening. My own choice is to fish from a boat close around log jams. I just like the scenery.

Drop a good popping bug alongside one of these logs. Let it rest a moment or two, and then yank it just a little so that it will cause a slight disturbance. Then just let it rest for a few minutes.

Chances are that some ambitious little bream will hit at it a time or two, while a big old bass is looking on. Then the perch will leave it just as quick as he hit it and by that time that bass has decided it wants the bug. If you are all ready to set the hook, you have a nice little fight coming on.

Even a 2-pounder will double your fly rod. It takes some adroit playing to bring him in. And when you get close to the boat, have your net ready. It's not a good idea to try to lift a bass into a boat with a fly rod or a light leader.

There's a lot of fun in taking pan fish with fly rods, too. You can use lures, minnows or worms. Any of them will do, depending, of course, upon how hungry the fish is, and how you present the meal.

It's a real education to watch an adept fly fisherman. Usually

EYES and VISION

By A. L. SPERRY, O. D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

NOTHING LASTS FOREVER

This includes the prescription for glasses. It would help people who wear glasses if they would realize that while the prescription in that new pair of specs their optometrist has just set on their nose is correct for the condition of their eyes NOW, their eyes will change with time like the rest of the body. But the prescription in those lenses will not—it stays just the same. Therefore eyes should be checked periodically to determine the amount of change in them since the last examination. Our new patients many times tell their last doctor told them that they should have their glasses "changed" ever two years. We believe that usually they are misinterpreting the doctor's statement. What he probably said was that they should have their eyes checked again in two years. This doesn't mean that the eyes will have changed enough to warrant a change in glasses.

Another statement we occasionally hear from a patient is that their last doctor told them that this prescription (the one he provided) is the last change of glasses they will ever need . . . that their eyes will not change anymore so there is no need to have them examined again. Consequently this patient will, many times, have stayed away longer than he should and cannot understand why he is having trouble, and he needs to be here now for another examination. Personally I don't know how any doctor claiming to know anything about the eyes could make such an untrue statement. But we hear it too often to believe that the patients have misunderstood. Besides the consideration of the possible change needed in glasses prescription, there is the possibility that an eye condition requiring medical treatment may creep in without the patient's being aware of the fact that a serious condition is forming until it has gone much further than it should have without treatment. Any thorough eye examination will include an inspection of the interior of the eye for evidence of eye disease. Many people believe that such a condition will be recognized by themselves due to the pain it causes . . . NOT SO! Many eye conditions of abnormality and diseases are painless or so nearly painless that the individual attributes the discomfort to any some condition such as "sinus," "migraine" etc. and delays having the eyes checked.

All this brings us up to the question: How long should a person go between eye examinations? Of course this can vary with the individual case, but the advice of the National Society for Prevention of Blindness is "Your child's eyes should have a thorough professional examination before reaching school age, and regularly once each year while in school . . ." and further, "as we grow older, we become more likely to be attacked by such diseases of the eye as glaucoma, cataracts, uveitis, and others. We can protect the golden years of life by having regular eye examinations every two years . . ."

MR. AND MRS. JACK W. GRAY (Photo by Strickland)

Patricia Yvonne Edwards and Jack W. Gray Married In Ballinger Friday

Patricia Yvonne Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Edwards of Ballinger, became the bride of Jack Weldon Gray of Lovington, N. M., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gray of Winters, in the Seventh Street Baptist Church in Ballinger Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony was Rev. O. D. Carpenter, pastor. Mary Carpenter, organist, played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned with a sleeveless bodice and a waistline accented with a wide lace cummerbund which had satin ribbon woven throughout it. Her fitted lace jacket was designed with a high neckline fastened in the back with two pearl buttons, and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore white gloves.

Her waist length veil of silk illusion, edged with lace, fell from a halo crown of lace and satin embroidered with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and lily of the valley atop a white Bible.

Rosie Legg of Abilene, the bride's only attendant, wore a street-length dress of pink organza over matching taffeta with white accessories. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mr. Gray served his son as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Serving were Mrs. Aline Legg aunt of the bride, Mrs. Dale Jones and Shirley Kurtz. Jane Newsom registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., the bride wore a white sheath linen with a red jacket. Her accessories were red and she wore a corsage from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a spring graduate of Ballinger High School and the bridegroom is a 1958 graduate of Winters High School.

The couple will live in Lovington, N. M., where Mr. Gray is employed by an oil company.
