Another step toward eventual city mail delivery will be taken within the next few days, when the Winters Chamber of Commerce begins installation of house numbers on every house in town.

The numbers have been ordered, and are expected to arrive within a week, according to Tab Hatler, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee working on the project. The numbers will be furnished by the chamber of commerce, and will be installed by the chamber, Hatler said.

Work will begin on installation of the numbers immediately upon arrival of the material. Residents are asked to mark the front of their homes where they would like to have the numbers installed, to save as much time as possible. The men installing numbers will have a map of the city, with each house and lot identified. The map is official, and the number which goes on the house will be the same number which is listed for that house on the map, regardless of any previous number which may have been given the house.

There will be no charge for the numbers; all residents have to do is to indicate where they want the number installed, and the rest is up to the chamber of commerce.

This has been a week of "firsts." Besides being the first week of September, there was the first day of school, Tuesday; the first football game of the season will be Saturday night; the first day of the dove hunting season was Tuesday; and Tuesday also was the first day for smokers, and TV watchers and radio listeners and users of several other items, to start paying the new "selected sales tax."

The first day of school saw a record number of pupils enrolled in the Winters Independent Schools — and there are indications of more to come!

The first football game of the season will be Saturday night, when the Crane High School team visits the Winters Blizzards on the Winters High School football field.

The first day of the dove hunting season saw an unprecedented number of hunters take to the fields. Late in the afternoon of the first day, a walk up and down the streets proved that most everyone had gone out to try their luck; the old town was almost deserted.

All the other "firsts" this week somehow dulled the sharp edge of the new tax increases — or perhaps people just don't pay any attention to those things any more. Even though the new tax on television and radio repair, sets, and the new 3-cent-per-pack tax on cigarettes, and other new taxes, became effective Sept. 1, there was little conversation about it. Guess our tax-senses have become so dull another bite is as noticeable as a blow of a tack hammer on a slab of granite.

Some dealers did note a heavy buying of cigarettes by the carton during the last days of August, however. Heavy smokers taking advantage of the saving of 30 cents per carton by buying before the tax became effective.

Probably cigarette smokers will feel the biggest bite of the whole new tax set-up, paying 3 cents a pack more. But we haven't heard too many say they were going to quit smoking and take to snuff, which the special session of the Legislature refused to tax. Three cents per pack doesn't sound like a big amount, when it is paid out each time a pack of smokes is bought. But totaled up over a year's time, that's a whopping big increase. Take a light smoker — a one-pack-a-day man — he'll pay a minimum of $10.95 a year extra from now on just to fill his lungs with smoke. The heavy smokers go on from there.

Many of us pay no attention to those little increases, because they are so designed to spread out over a long period of time. If they were all lumped into one payment, maybe we'd pay more attention to what we were paying out, and what we were receiving in return. Perhaps it would be a good idea for dealers, instead of collecting the extra tax on cigarettes, gasoline, TV, etc., to issue a certificate of purchase each time. These certificates could be kept by the purchaser, and at the end of the year he could make his tax payment all in one lump sum. Maybe also

Electrical Contractor On New P. O. Thwarted Cisco Bank Robbers in 1927

By Harvey Little

"That was the richest I've ever been," Woodrow Harris, Rising Star electrical contractor, who is doing the electrical work for the new Winters Post Office now under construction, said, reminiscing about the time he thwarted the now famous Santa Claus Robbery of the First National Bank of Cisco.

The $150,000 loot from the robbery was left in his car, a 1927 Oldsmobile which the thieves attempted to use in their getaway. They were unable to do so because the then 14-year-old Harris had locked the ignition and steering wheel of the car. In the confusion of returning to their own car, the robbers left the money, and their mortally wounded comrade, Lewis Davis, in the Harris car.

Young Harris discovered the money about 20 minutes later and returned it to the bank.

"I probably could have kept the money," he laughed. "The thieves each thought another of their number had buried the money, until I told them when they were in jail. The police also felt one of the thieves had the money with them until I returned it to the bank."

Harris, now married and the father of two daughters, was driving the family car into Cisco 32 years ago to do Christmas shopping, when, about six blocks out of town, the bandits' car stopped on the left and the robbers forced him to stop. One of the thieves,

Robert Hill, the only living member of the quartet carried Harris' grandmother, Mrs. Sara E. Graves, to a nearby porch, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harris ran into a house.

"The man in the Santa Claus suit, (Marshall Ratliff) poked a gun in my face and said, 'Get out of there and make it quick!' Harris said. At that time cars were made so that when the ignition of a car was locked, the steering wheel was also locked.

"I was locking the car when he got back, and he said, 'If you weren't a — kid, I'd blow your brains out.' I got out of the car, taking the keys with me. He told me to stay where I was until he was gone, but I ran, and he started shooting. I ran a block and a half and hid under a barn," Harris said.

The bandits, unable to use the Harris car, were forced to transfer back to their original car, leaving behind Davis and the money. Davis later died. The others were captured three or four days later.

Two word-yellowed sheets of paper and a copy of a news picture are treasured by Harris. The paper is a statement and notarization of the statement made by Hill to Eastland County Judge Tom J. Cunningham. The statement credits Harris with having prevented the escape. "Woodrow Harris absolutely prevented out getting away with that money, and also taking Davis with us, and had it not been for him,

Enrollment At School Is 1,084

With about 50 more students expected to enroll in the Winters Independent School during the next week enrollment figures will reach an all-time high at the beginning of the school term, J. B. Nevins, superintendent, stated.

Thomas Sharp Injured In Two-Car Accident South of Here Tuesday

Thomas Sharp, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sharp of Bradshaw, who was taken to Winters Municipal Hospital early Tuesday following a two-car accident south of Winters, was transferred to a Dallas Hospital Wednesday.

Sharp received a head and neck injury and attendants at the hospital said X-rays showed no skull fracture but persistent headaches prompted his transfer.

The car in which Sharp was a passenger, driven by Joe Russell of Winters, was involved in a collision with a car driven by Jimmy Hoppe, also of Winters. Sharp was the only person injured in the accident which occurred on Highway 83 south of here.

VISITED IN IOWA

C. of C. Calls Meet To Discuss Xmas Program Here

A meeting of Winters merchants is being called for next Thursday afternoon, August 10, at 2 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce office, to discuss plans for the Christmas program. John Waddell, chamber of commerce director and chairman of the committee to plan the program, said Monday night at the meeting of the board, that postcards would be mailed to all the merchants, inviting them to meet with the directors to work out some plans for a program.

The board of directors also voted at the Monday night meeting to purchase the materials needed to number each house in Winters. Cost of the numbers will be $122.25.

Chamber of Commerce A. L. Libbe reported that he had talked with Charlie Chapman, of the Plant Quarantine office, Austin, concerning plans to set up in Winters an office from which to issue corn borer certificates. Chapman will meet with members of the chamber of commerce soon to discuss these plans. A corn borer certificate is required before grain can be shipped out of the state, it was said, and the establishment of an office in Winters would accommodate grain shippers in a wide area.

Present at Monday night's meeting were Al Libbe, Dr. John E. Griffin, John Waddell, Tab Hatler, Max Lewis, C. P. Alfrey, James Hinds, J. W. Bahlman, Gus Voss and Mrs. B. B. Bedford, secretary.

REV. CHARLES BOAZ ... to conduct mission

Winters to Hear Abilene Minister

The Rev. Charles Boaz, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church in Abilene, will be the guest speaker at a Bible Teaching Mission to be held at St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters, September 6-9.

Rev. Boaz decided to enter the ministry later in life. He had worked for fourteen years as an electrician and instrument technician in the aircraft industry. During this time he spent four years overseas during World War II as a civilian working with the Armed Forces. He spent one year on the Gold Coast of British West Africa, one year in North Ireland, and two years in South America at the head waters of the Amazon River.

In 1953 he entered Capital Seminary in Columbus, Ohio, graduating in June of 1956 as an ordained minister of the American Lutheran Church. His first call was to establish a mission congregation in Kenner, La., on the outskirts of New Orleans. He served there for two and one half years, when he accepted the call to become the pastor of Grace Lutheran Church in Abilene in March of 1959.

Rev. Boaz will preach in the morning service at St. John's in Winters on Sunday Sept. 6 at 10:10 A.M., while the Rev. Henry Flatmann, the local pastor of that congregation will preach at Grace Lutheran Church in Abilene. Each night through Wednesday Sept. 9 the Teaching Mission will be held at 7:30 P.M. Those attending will meet in three separate groups. Rev. Boaz to lead the adults in the church sanctuary, Rev. Flatmann the children in grades 5-8, and Mrs. Erwin Schroeder children in grades 1-4 as well as a nursery group for pre-school children.

The members of St. John's congregation cordially invite the public to attend this Bible Teaching Mission.

Mrs. L. T. Standley of Abilene was a visitor Monday in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Ellison at the Presbyterian Manse.

The Winters Blizzards will play their first game of the football season Saturday night, when they meet the Crane team on the local field.

A light, inexperienced team will take to the field to represent Winters this year, but Coach W. T. Stapler expressed the belief that what the team lacks in size will be made up in a desire to win against Crane.

The 1959 Blizzard team has only eight returning lettermen, with only four returning starters. The coach said three freshmen will suit out for the Saturday night game against Crane, and one may be a starter; the other two, he said, probably will play a lot.

Pre-season injuries have been comparatively light, although there have been injuries received by some promisers. Robert Marks will be out because of broken arm, and John Jackson will not see action against Crane because of an infected toe. A second string fullback, Vernon Poe, is still out because of a broken arm.

Co-captains for the season have been elected by the football team. They are David Burton, Jerry Dunnam and Junior Guy.

The four returning starters, who probably will be in the starting lineup against the Cranes Saturday night, are Jerry Dunnam, QB; James Williams, E; George Scott, C; and David Burton, T.

The Crane team is perhaps the smallest team the Blizzards will play this season, Coach Stapler said. And there are about six returning starters on the visiting team.

Jimmy Leo, 156-pounder from Crane, whom Winters fans have seen in action for about three years, will be in the starting lineup. He has been described as one of Texas' top backfielders, and has a reputation for good passing, and fast and quick evasive action.

After three weeks of intensive practice, the Blizzards will be out to beat Crane for the first time since the two teams have been in competition, Stapler said.

This year, the student section and the Winters High School Band section have been moved to the East stands.

Don Marks Hurt In Tire Mishap

Don Marks, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Marks and an employee at Ray Tire Company, received a head cut and a broken thumb early Tuesday when a tire rim snapped out of place.

He is a patient in Winters Municipal Hospital and his condition is reported satisfactory.

TO TENNESSEE

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Roberson and Mrs. Karla Nelson left Thursday for Nashville, Tenn., to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. (Marijohn) Wilkins, where Mr. Roberson and Mrs. Wilkins will be in collaboration on the song, "Union Suit," which is sung by Bill Carlisle and released Sept. 1, and bids fair to hit the top as did "Waterloo" in Western Country Music.

"The Peril of Pride" is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday school lesson. Illustration: "A crowd of people at the Franklin Park Zoo in Boston watched a peacock slowly spread its large tail and display its beautiful plumage. The bird held itself erect and strutted regally about the enclosure. Just then an old, drab-colored duck waddled slowly from a nearby pond and passed between the proud peacock and the admiring crowd. The peacock became enraged and drove the duck back into the water. The beautiful bird suddenly became ugly with anger. The plain and awkward duck, having returned to the pond, was no longer unattractive. He swam and dove gracefully in the pond, unaware that many eyes were watching him. The people who had admired the peacock loved the duck. They were reminded of the dangers of pride and that true happiness comes from being ourselves."

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

"HOUSE ON HAUNTED HILL." Patrons are in for a real treat when Allied Artists' "House On Haunted Hill," starring Vincent Price and Carol Ohmart, opens Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at the State theatre.

An out and out ghost story, "House On Haunted Hill" could easily be the chiller of the year, depending as it does on the supernatural and unworldly goings-on of lifeless and spooky creatures who both frighten and entertain.

Produced by the brilliant team of William Castle and Robb White, the duo who made "Macabre," "House On Haunted Hill" is from a screenplay by White. Castle directs.

Long overlooked as the source of great entertainment, the ghost story, if done right, can always be counted on for sheer enjoyment. In the able hands of Castle and White, plus a cast of great distinction, "House On Haunted Hill" promises a wealth of entertainment.

Vincent Price, who heads the cast with Carol Ohmart, Richard Long and Alan Marshal, has long been regarded as one of the nation's top actors. Whether cast in comic or dramatic roles, Price brings a sincerity and fluidness of his acting that has been the despair of less gifted thespians.

"WOMAN OBSESSED"

Oscar winner Susan Hayward, voted Hollywood's best actress by the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences, returns to the screen as the "Woman Obsessed" in Twentieth Century-Fox's heart-shattering story of a young widowed mother, her son and their involvement with a lonely backwoodsman, set against the rugged background of the Canadian Rockies. The Sydney Boehm produced and written CinemaScope-De Luxe color production opens...at the State Theatre, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

The flame-haired beauty, who stars in the picturization of John Mantley's best-selling novel, "The Snow Birch," with Stephen Boyd and Barbara Nichols, portrays a rugged farm wife in a rough-hewn frontier community, perhaps her most difficult role since becoming a star.

Before her Oscar-winning performance, Miss Hayward appeared in a myriad of films, became one of Hollywood's biggest box-office attractions and received four Academy Award nominations. In 1947 she was up for the coveted award for her role in "Smash Up," and two years later she again scored with a dynamic performance in "My Foolish Heart."

Plant Supplemental Pastures Now For Winter Grazing

"Now is the time to plant supplemental winter pastures," states Jake Presley, supervisor for the Runnels Soil Conservation District.

"Supplemental winter pastures are valuable to the farmer and rancher," says Cecil L. Drake, technician of the Soil Conservation Service. Livestock make rapid gains on succulent, green pastures, increasing the pounds of livestock produced on the place. While grazing supplemental pastures, permanent pastures can be rested. At this time they are largely dormant and close grazing can do severe damage to the plants by reducing their vigor. Spring growth will be weak and late, and often the weaker plants fail to recover.

Small grains, such as oats, barley and wheat, furnish large amounts of nutritious grazing most years. Rye is usually successful on the sandy areas. Italian ryegrass and rescue grass are also adapted to this District. Canada wildrye and Texas wintergrass are perennial grasses found in our native pastures which will furnish a dependable supply of winter grazing when established in fields.

House Approved Housing Bill, Inviting Veto

By Congressman O. C. Fisher INVITING A VETO the House nevertheless last week approved a new omnibus housing bill. With but a few changes from the old measure that was vetoed last month as "excessive and inflationary", a majority of House members chose to risk killing FHA in order to get other new spending and loan programs included. The new $1.8 billion bill includes the following:

1. Authority for 37,000 additional public housing units, costing $720 million in direct Federal subsidies. (This despite the fact more than 100,000 such units are already authorized).

2. Initiates a brand new loan program of $50 million, as a starter, for college class room construction. This is in addition to $250 million for continuation of college dormitory loans, contained in the bill.

In his veto message the President objected to inaugurating a new Federal loan program for class room construction, but favored the dormitory item.

3. Continues for one year FHA insuring authority, favored by everybody, whereas the President had requested it for at least two years.

4. Sets up a new loan program (never before undertaken) for housing construction to provide rental units for elderly people.

5. Authorizes additional $650 million for one year of urban redevelopment. The President had requested only $250 million.

From this recital of the various items (and there are others), it is evident that the bill is but little improvement over the one that was vetoed.

It is still a Christmas tree bill, calling for more and more Federal spending for more and more new programs. This fact has caused it to be dubbed a "budget buster".

Instead of including extension of FHA insuring authority (which everyone favors), the college dormitory loan items, which is also generally acceptable, and other admitted essentials, with a certainty the bill would be promptly enacted, sponsors chose to load the bill down with a vast number of new ventures in government spending, all of which once begun mushroom in size and demands from year to year.

Boiled down, this is just one more example of why it is so difficult for us to achieve balanced budgets up here, and live within our income.

Sue Gibbs Married William P. Brown In Lubbock Friday

White lace veiled bridal satin and blush pink tulle fashioned the wedding dress Miss Sue Gibbs wore when she pledged wedding vows with William Paul Brown at 6 p.m. Friday in Second Baptist Church in Lubbock. The couple married in a double ring service read by the Rev. Robert J. Hearn.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Nail of Winters and Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Gibbs of Bradshaw. Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Gibbs of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Brown of Abilene are parents of the newly weds.

Gibbs escorted his daughter and presented her in marriage as Miss Martha Key played traditional wedding marches. Miss Janice Cobb was soloist.

The bridal gown of French lace was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and brief sleeves. White wrist gloves complemented her gown which was styled with a billowing floor length skirt. A circlet of pink and white blossoms echoed the shadows in her wedding gown and caught her fingertip veil of illusion. White roses formed the bridal bouquet.

In keeping with chosen bridal colors of pink and white Miss Yvette Gibbs, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore white chiffon over white taffeta trimmed with pink velvet ribbons. Pink accessories accented the gown which was detailed with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. A pink velvet bow clip in her hair matched the tone of a pink rose with pink velvet streamers which she carried.

Gerald Brown of Abilene, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Bill Anderson of Bryan and Quincy Vandervort.

The bride's parents hosted a reception in the church parlor. Members of the house party were Mrs. Ann Biles, Miss Anita Holt, Miss Sharon Holt, Miss Janice Cobb and Miss Carolyn Horschler.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico, the bride wore a dark cotton suit with black and white accessories and a white rose corsage. After the wedding trip the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

Are you ready for dove hunting?

In the North Zone dove season runs from Sept. 1 to Oct. 20.

In the South Zone it begins Oct. 1, and runs through Nov. 19, except in the counties where there is a special white-winged dove season. Here it closes three days earlier.

That's because you also can shoot mourning doves during the three days of the white-wing season. This season is Sept. 11-13-15, three alternate days, from 2 p.m. until sunset.

You are not likely to forget your gun when you go dove hunting, but you might forget your license. Tie a piece of string around your trigger finger right now and get your hunting license today. It will cost you $3.15.

It can be bought from the County Clerk, any game warden and from most sporting goods dealers. Some drug stores and service stations also have them. They are good for one year.

And incidentally, you'll need a new fishing license at the same time. That is, unless you are more than 65 years old, or unless you fish in your home county with a cane pole.

If you use a rod and reel anywhere, either in the fresh water or on the Gulf coast, you will need a fishing license.

Perhaps the next most important thing is to have a place to hunt. This year the law is pretty stiff on fence climbers. New legislation makes it even more important for you to have permission whenever you take your gun into anybody's pasture.

From all indications this will be one of the best seasons in years. Reports come in from every part of the state that doves are plentiful. We see them along the highways, on the utility lines, sitting on the fences and in the trees.

Of course, shooting on the highway is illegal, and so is shooting at a bird on a utility pole.

It's a rather dangerous and costly piece of unsportsmanship to shoot at the glass knobs on telephone poles.

Check That Gun Now
If you haven't already checked your shotgun, do so right away. If it is a repeater, be sure it has your three-shot plug. Having a gun afield that shoots more than three shots while hunting migratory birds is a federal as well as a state offense. In fact, any violation concerning shooting doves is a federal offense.

Most hunters know these things, but it is surprising how many pay fines for violations.

Your old scatter gun should be wiped out, and a good grease job done on it. Every part should be working smoothly. Chances are if it was put away carelessly last year it may have a rust spot or two.

And be sure you don't try a rifle for doves. That's against the law, too. If this column sounds like we are trying to tell you all the things you can't do, you're right. You can buy a lot of shotgun shells for what one fine will cost.

And besides, it's poor sportsmanship.

Shells Are Cheaper

We've noticed in the newspapers that a lot of shotgun shells are being advertised a little cheaper. Some of these may be carry-overs, but most of them are fresh shells caught in the web of competition.

It's always a good idea to shoot fresh shells, unless you're sure the old ones have been stored properly. Ammunition stored under unusual heat conditions usually loses much of its power, resulting in a great many cripples. No one likes to cripple a bird.

When birds are knocked down it also is a good idea to retrieve them immediately, especially if you are shooting where weeds and grass abound.

We can't always hunt in ideal spots, like shooting over a water hole, or on plowed ground. When hunters are lucky enough to get a water hole shooting place, they usually fill their bag limits of 10 in a short time, if they can shoot at all.

You also can burn a lot of ammunition in this manner.

I talked with a number of dove hunters last year. Most of them agree that it takes pretty close to a box of shells to get the limit of birds. Of course, some get their limits with 15 or 20 shots, but there are others who average three or four shots to a bird.

Get Out Early
Another thing I've noticed is that usually the best shooting is done on opening day.

There are several factors entering into this. Perhaps some of the doves are not quite so wild. Then, too, you are starting out fresh. Although you may not have fired a shot since last season, your nerves are in good condition and you are not pushing yourself. You just know you are going to get your limit.

As the season rolls on, the percentage of misses usually becomes greater and you wonder what the trouble is. It's difficult to become more alert and more relaxed at one and the same time, isn't it?

Doves are good eating. At first, some of them are pretty small and must be cleaned with care. birdshot, however, the birds attain after about two weeks of dodging good size and ten of them will fill the fry pan quite well.

So don't forget...buy your license right now. Find a place where you careful where you shoot, and then can hunt with permission. Be real careful where you shoot, and then have a good time.

RETURNED HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lindley returned home recently after visiting their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kuykendall and Johnny in Fort Worth, who accompanied them to Bokoshe, Oklahoma where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Shores. They also visited in Fort Smith, Arkansas.

ROGER BABSON SAYS

"Nation Which Controls Gravity Can Eventually Conquer the World"

When I was at Cape Canaveral, Florida, in the spring, I was convinced that the nation which first discovers a partial insulator for gravity can conquer the world.

Winning World War III

I have kept well acquainted with the progress which has been made along such lines in this country through the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire, but I am not familiar with the state of development abroad, especially in Denmark and Germany. In Copenhagen, where I have been invited to visit the Mayor of Copenhagen, is located the Bohr Institute. I therefore am leaving for Copenhagen on the nineteenth of this month via Swedish American Line.

Not only would a partial insulator of gravity add greatly to the safety of all airplane travel, but it would add greatly to the power, the range, and the guidance of missiles by which World War III will be fought. Hence, all nations are now desperately at work seeking to find a partial insulator of gravity.

Gravity Insulators Must Not Depend Upon Power

You may think that an elevator is an anti-gravity machine, but it is not. An elevator needs outside power with which to operate. Therefore, I eliminate all schemes to overcome gravity by any form of electrical rays so long as they must be developed by an outside power which man must produce. If some natural power—such as magnetic rays from the skies, or possibly the sun's rays—could be used, these would be satisfactory for the harnessing of gravity.

An anti-gravity patent would be ideal. Now, while so many synthetic products (from antibiotic medicines to anti-flammable paints) are being made from petroleum, it seems possible that an anti-gravity coating will some day be developed from petroleum. The metallurgists are also carefully watching for some anti-gravity product. Personally, I feel that gravity will be harnessed in conjunction with the sun's rays. I have recently returned from Phoenix, Arizona, where Mr. Walter T. Lucking, President of the Arizona Public Service Co., has gathered together a group of men to harness the sun's rays.

Everyone Should Own Some Very Cheap Land

When a partial gravity insulator is some day discovered, there could be a great jump in the price of all vacant land, especially land in a semi-tropical region such as Florida, or in any of our Southwestern States which have long days of sunshine. Persons buying such land should insist on very cheap acreage and not buy land which might be desirable for possible later subdivision. For harnessing gravity, — swamp land, mountain land, wood land, or even desert land could be equally valuable. Such land should be property that is no good for anything else and which now sells for a few dollars per acre.

Of course, when buying acreage for possible subdivision or farming there are many other considerations. The nearer such land is to a city or town, the more one can afford to pay, — probably up to $100 per acre. Let me finally add that a person should never buy any land—in Florida or elsewhere—without first seeing it. Moreover, the best bargains may be within a few miles of where you are now reading this column. Remember the story of the man who hunted all over the world for a certain large diamond, then finally found it in his own backyard!

Grain Sorghum Offers Farmers Good Cover Crop

Edwood Brown, Rt. 2, Ballinger; Robert Conner, Rt. 4, Winters; Ira McNeil, Rt. 3, Winters; Albert Workman Hatchel and Bill Urbanek, Rowena, are a few of the many farmers in the Runnels Soil Conservation District who have found that dead or alive cover crops protect the land against wind and water erosion. Woodrow Hoffman, of the local Soil Conservation Service, said that the district's large acreage of grain sorghum will offer the farmers an opportunity to manage a good dead cover crop. Grain sorghum stubble will protect the soil from wind and water erosion this fall, winter and early spring if it is left on the surface of the soil.

He said that two important factors have been learned from the experience of farmers and research work. The first is that burning crop residues is one of the worst mistakes that can be made and the other is that too much tillage will wear out the stubble. To keep from wearing out the crop residue, many local farmers use sweep-type equipment. The sweeps are run below the surface of the soil. This disturbs the soil surface and stubble very little, but it does cut the roots of the sorghums and weeds and stops growth and leaves them on the top of the ground where they belong.

The management of crop residues not only protects the soil from erosion but it helps develop a soil condition that will take in moisture faster and keep it longer. These stalks and straw also put organic matter in the soil something sorely needed in all cultivated land.

WEED

When it comes to sheer intrigue, I say dandelions are the world's cleverest weeds.

First they hide beneath their yellow blooms, figuring I'll mistake them for flowers.

Then when I have spent most of the summer rooting them out, the last cunning survivors always enlist the help of my own youngsters to plant a bumper crop for next year.

But there are weeds more serious than dandelions—weeds which like the tares in Christ's parable are planted by an Enemy. These are my real concern when I think about my youngsters. I want no evil to choke or twist the character of my sons and daughters. Nor do I want them to spread the spores of evil that will undermine the character of others.

I believe that God meant me to seek truth and moral courage through the teaching, preaching and fellowship His Church provides. Every Sunday I share these blessings with my family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
 ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

About 250,000 First Graders Will Enter Texas Schools For First Time This Year

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

During the next few weeks young Texans by the thousands will troop back to their classrooms.

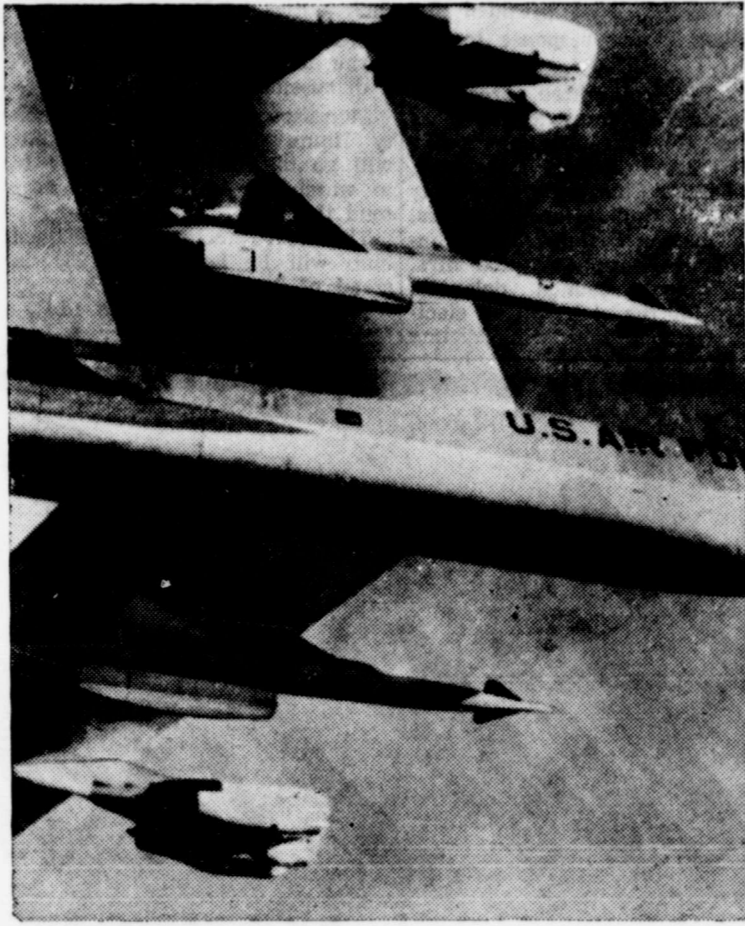

Many will be entering a brand new world. There'll be some 250,000 first-graders, some 28,000 college freshmen. In cities and towns across the state, children will take their last swim in the city pools. Parents will re-set their alarm clocks and re-figure their budgets.

Parents of the incoming college freshmen—most of whom got their own schooling at rock-bottom depression prices—face what most will regard as an appallingly expensive future. Average cost for a Texas college student is $1,100 a year—not including a car, clothes, dates, etc. In the larger cities it may run $1,500 a year.

For four years the average is about $5,000. But hardly any other investment can be expected to return such handsome dividends. Statistically, the college graduate can expect to earn $100,000 more in his lifetime than the non-graduate.

Aside from the students and the parents and teachers who are affected, "back to school" has a wider impact on the economy. Employment will jump as many of the jobless are absorbed into the operations of the dormitories, boarding houses, lunchrooms. Retail stores look to the brisk sales since Easter in the annual re-outfitting that ranges from blue jeans to book satchels, calicos to cravens.

Real estate, customarily, also has a flurry as families try to "get located before school starts".

WHY GO BACK?

Why go back to school when you can stay out and earn some money? Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles has some sobering answers. Its annual report shows that of 1,186 prison inmates released during the past year, only 119 had completed high school. Only six were college graduates.

Percentage is about the same for those persons still in prison. Overall, the Board feels that people who complete their educations and are therefore able to get useful, better-paying jobs are much less likely to run afoul of the law.

ALL BUT THREE

Gov. Price Daniel signed the huge new state appropriations bill, but he exercised his constitutional prerogative to scratch out some items.

Daniel vetoed appropriations for (1) a $216,000 home for old folks; (2) a $200,000 tourist advertising program by the State Highway Department; and (3) $1,033,500 for interim legislative expenses.

He vetoed the old folks home, said the governor, because "the hospital board does not have responsibility for seniles and state policy should be to get these unfortunate people into private rest homes near their families rather than making them permanent patients of the state hospital system."

As to tourist advertising, the governor said that the Highway Department already is spending twice this much from other funds, and the appropriation would reduce activities.

Daniel said he saw no need for the interim legislative expense money inasmuch as $330,000 had been appropriated in a separate bill for future legislative expenses. Legislative leaders replied that perhaps the state isn't supposed to be responsible for housing the aged, but the fact is it has some on its hands. They're now housed in the 50-year-old Condeedate Home in Austin. It has been labeled a fire trap.

Legislative expense money was to be used to put a new carpet in the House, refinish desks and provide offices for House members. Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah said he felt it was "unprecedented for the executive branch to tell the legislative branch how to finance itself."

DIVIDING IT UP

Now that all state agencies know how much money they'll have for the next two years, governing boards have been busy deciding how to make the most of it.

STATE HOSPITAL BOARD, with an appropriation that jumped 8.9 per cent to $83,142,340, plans to spend $4,500,000 for new buildings. This will include a new 300-bed unit at the Denton State School and a new home for older patients at Denton, a new ward building at Terrell State School, a new recreation building and warehouse at the Austin State Hospital and numerous road building and renovation projects.

with a kitty that jumped from $7,767,441 for the 1958-59 period to $10,112,450 for the new biennium, plans to add both dormitories and personnel to the two correctional institutions. Gatesville School for Boys and Gainesville School for Girls. Some new construction and personnel also are planned for the homes for orphaned children.

TEXAS A & M BOARD OF REGENTS has allotted a substantial portion of the $1,969,666 increase in its $44,174,865 appropriation for salary increases on a merit basis. All in all, some 10 branches and services are a part of the A&M system. New student apartment buildings on the main campus are in the offing.

VET LAND PROGRAM SLOWS

Texas Veterans Land Program will have to be stepped down to a trickle from now until after November, 1960.

State is running low on money for this program. It has authority to sell bonds to raise more money. But with the interest rate on the bonds limited by the law to 3 per cent nobody wants to buy the bonds. In the general election in 1960, the voters, may, if they choose, raise the interest the state can pay to 3½ per cent and make possible the sale of more bonds.

Of course, if the state has to pay more interest on its bonds, it will have to go up on the interest it charges veterans—probably to 4 per cent.

Under the plan, the state buys land and re-sells it to the veterans on a long-term low-interest contract. It's the only "bonus" to Texas veterans. But it has resulted in the purchase by veterans of 1,997,404 acres of Texas land at an average price of $69.39 per acre.

SUIT OVER HAY SEEN

In the midst of pletuous rain, State Agriculture Commissioner John White has a problem arising from the 1953 drought-relief program.

White says the U. S. Department of Agriculture plans to sue Texas for some $162,670 which the USDA claims it overpaid for shipping hay to Texas farmers and ranchers.

White says the federal government agreed to pay 50 per cent of the cost of shipping the hay. About that time the railroads and truck lines reduced their rates 50 per cent for the drought relief feed shipments. White felt that this would mean that the federal government would then pick up the remaining 50 per cent of the tab. But USDA charges it should have paid only 50 per cent of the reduced rate.

Bank Robbers--

Ratliff was lynched two years later after slaying the jailer and his daughter in an attempted escape from the Eastland County jail. Hill received 99 year sentences, but is now out on parole. According to Harris, who as corresponded with him at times, Hill has now reformed, is in business, and is doing well for himself.

Another keepsake of Harris' dating from the holdup is a gold pocket watch given to him by the insurance company. The inscription states, "Presented to Woodrow Harris by the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York for his foresight and courage in frustrating the robbery of the First National Bank of Cisco, Texas, December 23, 1927."

Following graduation from Rising Star High School, Harris attended Baker College in Brownwood. After that for ten years he was a beauty shop owner and operator. He was married to Evelyn Stacy at Cross Plains in 1933. During the war he was electrical inspector for the government at Kelly Field, Texas.

He now operates his electrical contracting business in Rising Star, catering to oil field work. He farms and raises cattle on the side. Over the years, many stories have been written on the famous bank robbery, Harris said.

All of the original story is in the "History of Eastland County," a book published a few years ago. Also, "True Detective," which has magazine rights to the story, comes out with the tale every now and then, and television stations in New York and the east have been running the story. Harris says he picks up a royalty check every so often from a TV version of the story. Harris has two daughters, Sammie, now Mrs. Jimmy Turner, wife of a Baptist minister at a church near Anson, and Johnnie, 16. He also has two grandsons, Dave Harris Turner, 5, and Stacy Mack Turner, 1.

Home Town Talk--

It would be a good idea to print on the reverse side of the tax certificate the final destination of the tax money collected. Say, for example, on the extra 3 cents on cigarettes, the certificate could state that 1 cent would go to the schools; 1 cent to highways, and 1 cent to the administrative personnel who keep the books on the whole shebang.

Just been reading about a man in Arizona who lined his new Cadillac with blue mink skins. Our farmer friend, who tills a red-dirt farm on Bluff Creek, says he has been hard put to keep his old car lined with burlap, and if the tax-raiders take a couple more sashays, he probably won't have an old car to line.
