Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Winters Volunteer Firemen are again complaining about the way many people follow the fire trucks on fire calls, and the manner in which they gather at the scene of a fire. Firemen say they have in the past experienced difficulty in reaching the fires in their own cars due to the congested traffic caused by spectators speeding to the scene. And once on the scene, there is also difficulty in performing their duties, firemen said.

Firemen are once more asking that spectators stay away from the fires, and are asking that motorists please pull to the side of the street and give right-of-way to fire fighting equipment on the way to fires and to firemen in their own cars rushing to the scene. After all, they point out, it might be your own home they're trying to save.

The police department has issued a warning to motorists that they will be fined on if they continually and habitually follow the fire fighting equipment.

Speaking of the fire department, we have noticed lately that all fire plugs in town are getting a new coat of paint, but this time, they are being painted green. We can't seem to get used to the idea of a green fire plug, and figure they might be hard to find if grass and brush is allowed to grow around them.

Also, we'd like to point out that we can find no basis for the story going around that some of the firemen, on a call a few days ago, had hooked up and prepared to start pumping water only to discover they'd tied on to a chinaberry stump.

New directories have been distributed to telephone subscribers, and we note that at last the telephone company is recognizing that strata of society to which the telephone means so much—the teenager.

On the front cover of the new directory, instead of a commercial and agricultural scene, there is a picture of what we suppose is a teenager, sprawled on the floor, probably telling her pal of a new dress or a new boy friend.

Paralleling that theme, we read somewhere recently that a big chunk of the economy is geared to the teenager these days, and that appeals to buy are aimed at that generation. It was claimed that production of many items is designed for the teenage desire, for more glamour, at a sacrifice of quality. We don't know about that, but we do think that any plans for the future include, and probably rightly so, the desires and anticipated demands of the young people of today who will be the older generation tomorrow.

To get back to the telephone company's salute to the teenage usage of the telephone by depicting one of them on the phone, who wouldn't rather see them tying up the phone lines for quite a while in place of joining mobs out to overthrow governments and endanger the safety of anyone and anything getting in their way. At least the teenagers and students of this country have not yet, to any great degree, staged wild demonstrations to show they think they know more about running governments than do their elders. They're still learning, and their action, or lack of wild action, seems to furnish proof that they realize that fact.

One we heard: "Well, Doc, you certainly kept your promise when you said you'd have me walking again in a month." "Good, I'm glad to hear it." "Yep. Had to sell my car when I got your bill."

Nominee Moore Has Not Resigned, Says Co. Chairman

Homer Hudgins of Winters, Runnels County Democratic Chairman said this week that as far as he knew W. B. (Bill) Moore, who won the Democratic nomination for State Legislator from the 77th District, had not resigned. The first report of Moore's possible resignation was made by other papers in the area last week.

Moore has been in a Dallas hospital several days, and had been in a San Angelo hospital earlier, it was reported.

Hudgins said that should Moore decide to resign the nomination, that his resignation would have to be given to the county clerks of the four counties making up the district, Coleman, Coke, Concho and Runnels. This is in contrast to an earlier report that such a resignation would have to be made to the secretary of state, and is reported to be a ruling from the Attorney General's office.

County Chairman Hudgins said that in the event Moore does resign, the executive committees of the counties involved would name a candidate to be placed on the November general election ballot. Hudgins said he had been approached by two hopefuls seeking to be placed on the ballot, but that nothing will or can be done until more information is received from Moore.

In the May 7 Democratic primary election, Moore defeated A. J. Bishop Jr. of Winters who was seeking his fifth term as representative from the 77th District. The vote margin was 351.

Moore also is mayor of the City of Ballinger.

Grain-ripening weather of the past few days has stepped up the tempo of harvest, and farmers are jubilant over the yield. Record production has been reported in many instances, surpassing the big crop of two years ago. Wheat yields of from 25 to 55 bushels per acre have been reported.

Elevators have been humming all day and into the night, and special trains have been hauling the wheat, oats and barley out of the local yards. Some grain has been shipped out by truck, and much has been stored in local warehouses.

About 135 carloads of wheat, oats and barley have been brought into Winters, and it is estimated that the harvest has just begun in earnest.

Some grain in the Drasco and Wingate communities was hauled out a few days ago, but the remainder of the grain fields in North Runnels County are surpassing all expectations. One farmer remarked that he is "making three crops in one."

Masons Elected Officers Thursday

Leon Brown was elected as master to head the Winters Masonic Lodge No. 743 at the regular meeting of the lodge last Thursday evening.

R. W. Balke was elected senior warden, and B. D. Jobe, junior warden. John Swatschue was named secretary of the lodge, and O. B. Raper and B. M. Smith were re-elected as treasurer and tiler respectively.

The new officers will take office at an installation service within a few weeks.

Blanket Drive Started By Local Ministers

The Winters Ministerial Alliance is asking each family in Winters to give one blanket and twenty-five cents in an Emergency Blanket Appeal on behalf of needy refugees around the world, according to the Rev. H. K. Flathmann, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, who is chairman of the Alliance.

The drive is under the auspices of the National Council of Churches and the Texas Council of Churches, the Rev. L. E. Ellison, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, said. Blankets which are collected will be distributed by the Church World Service, the service arm of the National Council of Churches and the World Council of Churches, the Rev. Ellison said.

Father's Day, June 19, has been designated as Blanket Sunday in Texas, and the collection center for Winters is in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church.

The twenty-five cents asked of each contributor of a blanket will go to help defray costs of packing and shipping the blankets, the ministers said.

Members of the Winters Ministerial Alliance are the pastors of the First Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church, First Presbyterian Church, and St. John's Lutheran Church.

Jaycees Pushing For Rodeo Wear And Whiskers

The recently organized Winters Junior Chamber of Commerce will add $50 to the cash prizes to be offered by the western committee of the Round-Up Association for winners in the western regalia and beard contest, it was revealed this week.

The Jaycees are going all out to promote the western wear and whisker growing, and will set up a "jail" in downtown Winters to confine non-conformists, they report. There is a way to keep out of jail, however, the Jaycees said. They will issue "shaving permits," at a cost of $1.00, and with this permit there will be no threat of being jailed for not being garbed in western wear or wearing a beard.

Proceeds collected by the Jaycees during the three days of the Annual Winters Rodeo will be used to build bleachers at the Little League baseball field.

The Jaycees also will have a "ball-stand" at the stadium during the rodeo.

Winters UT Student On Stamford Newspaper

Harvey E. Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Little, began work Monday on the Stamford American, a weekly newspaper, as a university intern under the Texas Daily Newspaper Association program.

Little has completed his junior year, majoring in journalism at the University of Texas, and will be working this summer under Publisher Roy Craig at Stamford. He plans to return to UT for his senior year next fall.

A graduate of Winters High School in 1957, Little attended Texas Christian University two years. At TCU he was photo editor of The Skiff, a student paper, during his second year. During his sophomore year he won an award for the best news photo of the year in the TCU paper.

Little was correspondent for the San Angelo Standard-Times in Winters for several years before going away to school. He also handled sports news and features for The Winters Enterprise while still a student in the Winters school.

A Year to Complete!

Work On Atlas Site Starts Soon

Excavation work on the Atlas missile base east of Winters will begin in three weeks, D. V. (Larry) Moore, project manager for the contractors told The Enterprise Thursday morning. Construction will take about a year, according to Moore.

The Winters Atlas site is one of 12 such missile bases in this area, all within a 35-mile radius of Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene. Construction on the base at Baird was started this week.

The first excavation will be about the size of a football field, sloping to a depth of about 40 feet, it was learned. First excavation work will take about ten days, the contractors said. After the surface excavation, for control areas, is completed a shaft of 58 feet in diameter and 180 feet deep will be drilled, which will contain the Atlas silo.

Excavation work will be done by the H. B. Zachry Co. and Brown & Root Co. They have a headquarters office in Abilene. The project is under a joint contract to Zachry and Brown & Root, with Zachry administration and supervision of the job.

Moore indicated that perhaps 30 or 40 families might desire living accommodations in Winters during the construction period.

Moore said a field office will be maintained at each of the 12 construction sites. He said a personnel office will be open at the company's Abilene office, and up to 650-700 workers will be hired from the area during the job. He said that many will be hired in towns near construction sites.

Rodeo Plans Are Nearly Complete

Officials of the Winters Round-Up Association, Inc., sponsors of the Winters Annual Rodeo, were preparing this week to receive what they expect to be a "deluge" of applications for entries in the main events of the rodeo set for June 23, 24 and 25.

Those ramrodding the event are expecting the biggest and best rodeo in the 14-year history of the annual affair.

There are six main events on the rodeo calendar, in addition to special attractions and competition. Leading the list is bareback riding, followed by jackpot calf roping, wild cow milking, girls' cloverleaf race, steer wrestling and bull riding.

One of the most spectacular events of the rodeo, which has been billed as the "Biggest and Best Open Show in West Texas," will be the nightly calf scramble, in which boys 12 to 17 years of age will participate. Half-wild calves will be turned loose in the arena, and the first three boys bringing calves back to a starting line will receive feeder lambs as prizes. Arrangements have been made so that boys who enter this contest will not be classified as professionals, and will retain their amateur standing for future athletic events.

Another special attraction for each night of the rodeo will be Levi Garrett, of Sterling City and his trained horses. He will present horses who are well-known over the territory for their intelligence and training. One of them has been in the movies.

A 14-year-old lass from San Saba, Miss Wharton, will thrill spectators each night with her trick riding and roping act.

To kick off the three-day celebration, a big parade will be staged in downtown Winters Thursday afternoon, June 23, at 5 o'clock, featuring many floats, riders and riding clubs from over the territory. Another parade is slated for the last day of the rodeo, Saturday. Big prizes are being offered for the winning floats, but to be eligible, floats must be entered in both parades, according to Floyd Grant, who heads the parade committee.

Two trophies will be awarded to the visiting riding clubs judged the best in the parade. Visiting riding clubs will be guests of the Winters Riding Club at a barbecue following the parade Thursday evening. Work has already begun to get the corrals ready for the big rodeo, and officials expect a big turn-out of spectators for all three nights of the annual celebration.

Red Cross Fund Drive Now On

The annual Red Cross Fund drive is now under way in Winters, according to J. W. Bahlman, chairman for North Runnels County.

Bahlman said he hopes to complete the drive by June 20. A quota of approximately $1300 has been set for this year.

THUNDER, JR. — Against a backdrop of western rangeland, Thunder Jr. makes a beautiful portrait, monumental to his predecessors who helped open up the Old West. The horse, a thoroughbred Quarter Horse, owned and trained by Levi Garrett of Sterling City, will thrill audiences with his high IQ during the 14th Annual Winters Rodeo, June 23, 24 and 25.

Wheat Referendum Set For July 21

In line with currently controlling legislation, Secretary of Agriculture Benson has proclaimed marketing quotas on the 1961 wheat crop and set July 21 as the date for a referendum to determine producer approval or disapproval of quotas.

The Secretary also proclaimed a national wheat acreage allotment of 55 million acres, the minimum permitted by law and announced State shares of the allotment. Texas' share of the allotment was set at 4,047,136 acres. This compares with 4,092,251 acres in 1960. An announcement was also made that the minimum national average support price for 1961 production will be determined before the wheat referendum on the basis of the latest available supply information.

If producers approve marketing quotas, under the proclamation announced, the national average support price available to eligible growers in the commercial area will be not less than the minimum support to be announced before the referendum. On the basis of the present supply of wheat and present legislation, the legal minimum wheat support price for the 1961 crop would be at 75 percent of parity.

Individual farm marketing quotas will be the normal production or the actual production from the farm acreage allotment, whichever is larger. Growers in the commercial area who stay within their allotments will be eligible for price support on their entire production. Growers who exceed their acreage allotments will be subject to market quota penalties if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest.

Growers who sign applications for exemption under the feed wheat provision permitting 30 acres or less to be used exclusively for feed on the farm will not be subject to marketing quota penalties.

If marketing quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds of the voting producers in the July 12 referendum, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition of eligibility for price support at 50 percent of parity as required by law.

A huge sprawling oak tree stands proudly in the middle of a street in Columbus, Texas, west of Houston. It was beneath this tree that Judge Robert M. Williamson (Three-Legged Willie) held court in the Third Judicial district of the Republic of Texas, in 1837.

It is related that on one occasion an irate lawyer who was commanded by Judge Willie to "produce the law," imbedded his dagger in the Judge's table saying, "Here's the law!"

Judge Willie is reported to have laid his pistol calmly on the table with this retort: "Here's the Constitution which overrules the law."

Keep Grain Stubble On Top Of Soil For Water Control

Bill Minzenmayer, secretary of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, said "with the small grain crop coming off, plans should be made to keep their stubble on top of the soil as long as possible. Because an acre of small grain straw may contain as much as 20 pounds of nitrogen, 6 pounds of phosphorus, 30 pounds of potassium, and 400 pounds of humus."

Woodrow Hoffman, of the local Soil Conservation Service said that, if this stubble is handled properly it will protect the soil this summer from the hot temperatures and help control wind and water erosion this fall and winters.

Hoffman stated that no special equipment is needed to leave these small grain residues on the surface of the soil. He reports that Joe Anderle of the Norton Community has been practicing stubble mulching for seven years. And all that he uses is 30 inch sweeps. These sweeps are set will run under the stalks and cut them loose. This leaves the small grain stubble on the surface of the soil where it will pay off. This operation can be repeated for weed control without much loss of the stubble.

Egg Prices Due To Improve During Last Half of Year

Egg prices to producers for the last half of 1960 are expected to average considerably higher than for the same period a year ago, says John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A strong factor in the forecast is the likelihood that the number of layers will continue to decline during the months ahead. The production of egg-type chicks in the United States during the first three months of 1960 was 37 percent below the production for the same period in 1959 and the trend continued through April, the economist says. The production drop in Texas for this same period was 38 percent.

Egg production in the nation in March was 9 percent more than the previous month but 7 percent below March of 1959. In Texas March egg production was up 21 percent over February but 8 percent less than March of 1959. The number of eggs produced per Layer in Texas in March was 22 percent above February and this increased rate of lay, points out the economist, could have been responsible for at least a part of the price decline in March.

Supreme Court Recognizes Texas' 115-Year-Old Tidelands Title

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

In a period of deep gloom about state finances, Texans had to pinch themselves to believe the good news.

U. S. Supreme Court ruled that Texas does indeed own its tidelands for 10 1/2 miles out — just as Texans have been claiming for 115 years.

Financially, it's a long-range gain at best. But as a moral victory for Texas principles, it's the biggest thing since the Battle of San Jacinto.

Revenue from the publicly owned land will go into the permanent school fund. Problem of Texas' bankrupt general fund is unchanged.

How much money comes to the school fund will depend on how much oil is under the submerged lands and how good is the market. Money going into the permanent school fund—from mineral leases, royalties, bonuses, etc.—is invested, and only the income from these investments may be used for current school spending.

Thus far, the oil yield from Texas tidelands has been far from spectacular. There have been only 24 producing oil wells and 47 gas wells in 22 years.

But if conditions are promising, oil men undoubtedly will keep trying. As an immediate effect, the state will get some $29,000,000 in mineral payments that accumulated while the issue of state or federal ownership was being thrashed out.

POLITICKING VACATION

Gov. Price Daniel will spend his vacation politicking for U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

First stop will be the national Governors Conference in Montana June 26-29. After that, said the governor, he'll vacation and visit around with other governors where he feels he can do the Texas favorite son's cause the most good.

And after that, he will go on to the National Democratic Convention in Los Angeles, July 11.

Daniel predicted Johnson would lead on the first ballot at the convention.

ANTI-INCOME TAXERS

Voters who oppose the federal income tax and the United Nations will find a haven in the Constitution Party.

Like the Republicans and Democrats, the Constitution will hold a state convention June 14 to name delegates to a national convention.

At a preliminary meeting in Austin, delegates were selected and instructed to work for a ticket headed by J. Edgar Hoover for president and Tom J. Anderson of Nashville, Tenn., for vice president.

Constitution Party also nominated candidates for all statewide offices except governor. Gubernatorial nominee was omitted, because if he should receive 200,000 or more votes in the general election, state law would require the party to go the expensive primary nominating route next election year.

HOSPITAL NEEDS GROW

Deficit or no deficit, the State Hospital Board says the hospital system has increased money needs that must be reckoned with.

Board has voted to ask the Legislature for a $107,000,000 appropriation for the 1961-63 period. This would be $34,000,000 more than the present allocation.

Part of the extra funds, about $2,000,000 a year, would go to hire extra people so present staffers could change from the present 44-hour week to a 40-hour week. Board has recommended this change to put hospital employees on equal footing with those of other state agencies.

But the main problem, says the Board, is that the hospital system is getting more and more patients and needs more money to take care of them. In addition, it has the problem of caring for many oldsters who are not really mentally ill.

YOUTH NEEDS CITED

Another state agency with a story of urgent need for more state support is the Texas Youth Council.

Youth Council has the responsibility for trying to stem the tide of rising juvenile delinquency and also to provide homes for children who have none of their own.

For this task in 1961-63 the Council is asking for a $13,695,636 appropriation—up by $3,500,000 from the present.

Some of this would be used for new construction at the Gatesville Training School for Boys, Gainesville Training School for Girls, a state home for orphaned Negro children and for additions to the Waco and Corsicana State Homes for orphans.

It also would enable the Council to set up a parole supervision staff to follow up on the rehabilitation of youngsters released from training schools.

SHORT SNORTS

E. W. Killian has been named by the State Hospital Board to be superintendent of a new state school at Denton which will care for 1,050 mentally retarded patients. Killian has been superintendent of the Austin State School.

Rep. Frank McGregor of Waco withdrew from the race for Speaker of the House with a prediction that Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen would win. McGregor said his poll indicates Spilman has 67 pledges with good prospect to get the nine more needed to win.

Some of Texas' potential statesmen of the 1970's will gain early experience in practical politics when 565 senior high school boys come to Austin for a five-day Boys State meeting ending June 11. Group is divided in political "parties" and elects state officials from the governor down. American Legion sponsors the "laboratory in citizenship" for outstanding teenagers.

James N. Ludlum has left his post as first assistant attorney general to go into private law practice with Jake Jacobsen, former administrative assistant to Governor Daniel.

Texas farm prices, by mid-May were down two percent from a month ago and 10 percent from a year ago. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture noted that livestock and livestock products had the biggest drop — 7 percent from a month ago and 11 percent from a year ago.

Honest-to-godness fishermen really like to fish.

Every time we see a dyed-in-the-wool angler we are reminded of the two fishermen who were out on the lake bright and early one Sunday morning.

One fellow said to the other, "I feel mighty guilty out here fishing on the Sabbath when I oughta be attending church with the family." His buddy's comment was, "Well, my wife and I couldn't have gone anyway, 'cause she's at home sick in bed."

Which brings up another thought. Why don't you take that gal along on your next fishing trip? There are no better anglers than women, once they get the hang of things.

So, take the little woman with you next time. And I don't mean just for the car ride. Or simply to sit on the bank and watch flies.

I mean take her with you in the boat. Show her a good time. Teach her how to fish.

She'll probably outfish you inside of six months, maybe sooner, but it will make her love the outdoors more. And believe me, you'll get in more fishing trips yourself, because she will want to go often. More important still, it'll make a real pal of her.

But—don't treat her as a servant. Don't ask her to do anything you wouldn't ask of a male fishing buddy. And don't baby her, either. To you women, let me say this. Lots of times when the gal goes along she will just stroll along the bank, doing nothing.

That's a mistake, little woman, 'cause if you do, you'll spend most of your time climbing over rocks and through brush to rescue "daddy's" lure. Or to retrieve his landing net, or to return his paddle.

If you stay by the car you'll get eaten by mosquitoes, or chased by a bull, or rained on.

Furthermore, if hubby doesn't catch anything, you'll have to listen all the way home to reasons why.

He will tell you the water was too high, too low, too clear or too muddy. Or too cold or too hot, or too rough or too calm.

On the other hand, if papa does catch something you'll have to clean it and freeze it—and later on thaw it and cook it . . . and you missed the thrill of catching it.

So, gal, you might as well go along and enjoy the whole show, and be a pal while you're at it.

According to statistics there are 750,000 people in Texas who work 50 weeks a year so they can afford to go fishing the other two weeks.

Of this number, exactly 749,998 people arrive at their favorite fishing spots only to find the water too something or other for good fishing.

What about the other two persons?

Well, they go out, whether the weather is wet or dry, the day sunny or the night moonlit. AND THEY CATCH FISH!

How?

Next time you see a truly successful, old-time fisherman, just ask him how he does it.

Chances are his answer will be short and to the point—"Just fish for 50 years."

And that may be true, for experience certainly helps.

So, if you're going to be a successful fisherman, better start right now.

That's why I wanted to direct this column to the people who don't fish, to the people who live with the people who do fish. To the wives of fishermen.

Isn't it about time somebody said a word or two about them?

So it is that we dedicate this column to the people whom fishermen marry—to the wives of fishermen.

And to the fisherman husband we say—"Take the wife with you on your next fishing trip . . . as a true fishing companion."

WANTED BY THE FBI

JOSEPH CORBETT, JR.

Corbett, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for escape from the California Institution for Men, Chino, Calif., where he was serving a 5 years' life sentence for murdering an Air Force sergeant. A Federal warrant was issued at Los Angeles, Calif., on March 21, 1960, charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for murder.

A white American, born on October 25, 1928, at Seattle, Wash., Corbett is 6 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 160 to 170 pounds. He has light brown hair, hazel eyes, a fair complexion, a medium build, and has worked as a clerk-typist, laborer, warehouseman, laboratory technician, and alkyd-resin cooker for a paint manufacturer. His two upper front teeth slant inward and he wears glasses, reportedly being extremely nearsighted and capable of seeing only close objects without them. He has a mole under his chin and a C shaped scar on his right thumb.

Corbett, once a premedical student, is interested in scientific matters, avidly reads technical and travel books, and is intensely interested in firearms and target practice. He reportedly has a superior general intelligence and generally lives quietly and neatly but becomes erratic when drinking alcoholic beverages.

Convicted of second-degree murder, he is considered armed and dangerous.

Anyone having information concerning him should immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which can be found on the first page of local telephone directories. 660 651900-1 discipline ourselves daily to live up to the highest and the best we know. After Fritz Kreisler had played one of his finest violin recitals, an excited young woman approached the famous violinist and said to him, "I would give my life if I could play like that." She was silenced when Kreisler replied, "My dear young lady, that is just what I gave." Because Fritz Kreisler had disciplined himself to practice daily, he later was able to achieve mastery on the violin and to play with inspiration. Likewise, the abundant life is achieved by self-restraint, discipline and dedication."

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

"Beloved Infidel"

"Beloved Infidel" Jerry Wald's CinemaScope, DeLuxe Color production of Twentieth Century-Fox of the story of the love of famous writer, F. Scott Fitzgerald, for columnist Shelia Graham, will have its local premiere on Thursday at the Fiesta Theatre. Starring Gregory Peck as Fitzgerald and Deborah Kerr as Miss Graham, from whose autobiographical best-seller the film was made, the handsomely mounted motion picture was directed by Henry King and co-stars Eddie Albert.

The Alfred Hays and Sy Bartlett screenplay follows Shelia Graham from her arrival in New York with her titled English suitor, thru her successful efforts to become a newspaperwoman, her assignment to Hollywood as a correspondent and finally to her meeting with the brooding, alcoholic genius whom she came to love.

From the moment those two passionate, talented people meet they are caught up in a whirlwind of emotions and conflict which are detailed in the picture with accurate and dramatic impact.

Everything is here: Fitzgerald's attempts at rehabilitations; his education of Miss Graham who reveals herself to be not the British aristocrat she had pretended to be, but an untutored orphan; their fight and their magical moments of love; Fitzgerald's disappointments with his later writing attempts, and with his suicide attempt.

However, the main aspect of the film is centered on the loving moments these two needful people shared, and with the effect upon Miss Graham's life of her love affair with Fitzgerald.

"Thunder Road"

The moonshiners of the southeastern mountain area, descendants of Elizabethan Englishmen, believers in the divine right of every man to make his own whiskey, sworn enemies of the Treasury Department revenue men — these are the people who are the heroes and villains of "Thunder Road," opening on Tuesday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre through United Artists.

A bang-up suspense melodrama dealing with the modern aspects of the billion-dollar whiskey war between moonshiners and revenue officers, "Thunder Road" was filmed on location in the environs of Asheville, North Carolina.

Robert Mitchum is starred in "Thunder Road," and Gene Barry and Jacques Aubuchon are costarred. Heading the featured cast are Trevor Bardette, Keely Smith, Sandra Knight and Jim Mitchum, the last three named all making auspicious film debuts. Rounding out the cast are such players as Betsy Holt, Francis Koon, Randy Sparks and Mitch Ryan.

"Toby Tyler"

Freckled-faced Kevin Corcoran, one of a family of seven movie youngsters, has been called Hollywood's most appealing child star. This opinion is supported by Kevin's magnetic performance as a big top star in "Toby Tyler," Walt Disney's Technicolor tale of a runaway boy's adventures with a traveling circus and his friendship with a mischievous monkey.

There is only one way to describe Kevin. He is "all boy." When at the age of six he joined Walt Disney, the pug-nosed moppet was so unprofessional and genuine that Walt dubbed him "the typical American kid." This phrase still fits him.

Kevin began his career at the age of two when he payed what he calls "little kids" in motion pictures. Before he was four, he had appeared in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "The Glenn Miller Story and in several television shows.

Kevin's greatest ambition always had been to work for Walt Disney. From the beginning he was an ardent fan of the famous Mousekeepers on Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse Club television series. Early in 1956 he auditioned for a part in one of its segments, and Disney chose him to enact "Moochie" in "Adventure in Dairyland."
"Toby Tyler" will be seen at the Fiesta Drive-In beginning Sunday.

"Seven Thieves"

Perhaps no other actor in the history of motion pictures has been so closely identified with a role as had Edward G. Robinson, one of the stars, along with Rod Steiger, Joan Collins and Eli Wallach of Twentieth Century-Fox's "Seven Thieves," which opens Sunday at the State Theatre.

The role that is indelibly stamped with Robinson is, of course, "Little Caesar" filmed in 1930. Through the years Robinson has been the "Little Caesar" of motion pictures to his countless millions of fans, a lasting tribute to his acting ability considering that he has made close to a hundred pictures since then. These have run the gamut of fine motion picture emoting from gangster roles, biographical interpretations to comedy parts.

Robinson comes to "Seven Thieves," after his two most acclaimed performances... in "Middle of the Night" on Broadway and "Hole in the Head" on the screen. No two roles could be more divergent; from the compelling, moving drama of Paddy Chayef-sky's stage presentation to the light-hearted, breezy atmosphere of Arnold Shulman's "Hole in the Head." Only an actor of consummate skill could carry off such a tour de force.

Clean-Up Drive Postponed By Winters C of C

The clean-up drive which had been tentatively scheduled for this month by the Winters Chamber of Commerce has been postponed because of the shortage of trucks, Robert Everett, streets and highways committee chairman, told members of the board Tuesday night.

So many trucks are being used to haul the big crop of small grain in this area it was decided to postpone the drive, according to information from the Chamber of Commerce office.

A. W. Libbe, president of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, reported that the membership drive is progressing, and that he would like to end the drive in the near future.

Present for the board meeting were A. W. Libbe, Bob Loyd, John Norman, Dr. John Griffin, Harry Herman, Robert Everett, G. S. Voss, Russell Mote, Homer Hudgins, and Mrs. B. B. Bedford, secretary-manager.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

COTTONSEED MARGINS OF COOPERATIVE GINS

Cottonseed, once a waste product of the cotton industry, has become an important agricultural product, which contributes to our economy in the form of human food, animal feed and other valuable products.

The competitive market position of cottonseed has been improved by major developments in processing along with improvement in cotton production. In 1959 the Texas cotton crop was valued at almost 737 million dollars at the farm level, and cottonseed accounted for over 72 million dollars of this total. Seed normally contributes 10 to 15 percent of the total value of the cotton crop.

More seed go to the crushers every year and fewer seed are returned to the farm for feed. The modern cotton producer prefers to feed cake and hulls and to plant certified seed.

Cotton gins are practically the only market available to farmers for their cottonseed. The prices which gins receive from cottonseed oil mills presumably determine the price farmers receive from the gins for their cottonseed. However, the margins between the mill prices and the prices paid farmers are affected by the operating methods of the gins and their buying and selling practices which in turn affect the costs of handling cottonseed.

A recent study by the department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology at College Station shows that seven factors in the cottonseed buying and selling practices of cooperative gins affect the margins directly and two are minor or contributing factors at all gins; one factor affects only cooperative gins. Seasonal price changes, purchase weights, mill grading and transportation allowances affect margins directly. Seasonal movement of cottonseed is correlated with seasonal price change. Harvesting methods contribute to gains or losses in the purchasing weights at the gins. At cooperative gins, the oil mill patron dividend on cottonseed purchases affects the margin.

By evaluating these factors, ginners should be able to improve the efficiency of operations, thus lowering costs and enabling the gins to pay a greater proportion of the mill price to farmers.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful during my recent stay in Winters Municipal Hospital and since I have returned home. Your cards, flowers and visits were greatly appreciated. A special thanks to Dr. C. T. Rives, Dr. H. H. McCreight and the hospital staff for their services. Mrs. J. O. Sanford. ltp

Sees Eventual Control Of Horse Fly In Southwest

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Last week I reported on efforts to advance the plans for the fight against the blow fly in the Southwest. In response to my inquiries, Dr. E. F. Knipping, Director of Entomology Research Division, USDA, informs me there being over 100 different species of the horse fly in the U. S., and due to their long life cycles, it is not considered feasible to apply the sterile male fly technique to their elimination. But there is some hope of eventually doing something about the horn flies and stable flies.

"In the future," he reports, "we hope to study, in the laboratory, the possibility of using the sterile male technique through irradiation of male horn flies and stable flies. With these two insects, the difficulty is primarily that the males are also blood suckers and care must be exercised so as not to increase the problem by release of blood sucking males. However, it may be that released of comparatively small numbers in the early spring might not create much added distress to livestock and could conceivably depress the native population sufficiently so as to obtain good control." The phenomenal success achiev-

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Our future presidents and prime ministers — from what spiritual heritage shall they arise?

The ultimate giants of science and industry — what faith will they profess?

The fathers and mothers of our grandchildren and great-grandchildren — what convictions will be taught in their homes?

All this we are deciding today . . . in our churches . . . in our families.

For one generation can bequeath only to the next that which it, itself, possesses.

Our own religious life, our own determination to provide our children with thorough spiritual training, our own faithfulness in filling our churches with families — these positive purposes, expressed Sunday after Sunday, will mold TOMORROW'S LEADERS.

The Rev. H. K. Flathmann, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with potted greenery, baskets of white gladiolus and candelabras.

Emma Henniger, organist, cousin of the bride, accompanied Mrs. Johnnie Wilson, soloist, who sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Beth Spill and Sally Spill, both cousins of the bride, were candlelighters and Dawn Flathmann was flower girl. Johnny Spill, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Archie Austin served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Fred Austin of Abilene, brother of the bridegroom, and Jimmie Hoppe, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Walter Spill, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Eugenia Voss and Nancy Spill, both cousins of the bride. All of the bride's attendants wore chapel blue polished cotton dresses designed with scooped necklines and short sleeves. The maid of honor wore a variegated blue chiffon sash which scooped with the neckline, tied and extended in the back. The bridesmaids wore royal blue sashes of silk organza, tied in bows and extended to the hemline. The candlelighters wore royal blue silk organza cummerbunds and the flower girl's dress was designed similar to those of the other attendants with a smaller sash. The attendants wore nylon flowered headpieces topped with circle net extending over the face. The candlelighters circle net draped in the back. The flower girl's headpiece was of light blue net and flowers and she carried a white net basket. The attendants carried long stem blue carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length wedding gown of imported lace and bridal satin fashioned with a lace fitted bodice, scalloped neckline accented with bugle beads and rhinestones and long sleeves extending to a point at the wrist. Her waist length veil of illusion with lace appliqued flowers centered with rhinestones fell from a tier of pearls. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses atop a lace covered Bible featuring the same bugle bead design as the wedding dress.

She wore a blue butterfly wing pendant and carried a white lace handkerchief, both belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. August Spill Sr.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church. The bride's table, laid with white cutwork linen with gold threads, was centered with a four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Robert Spill ladeled punch from a crystal punch bowl and Mrs. L. R. Hoppe served cake. Members of Girl Scout Troop 3 also were members of the house party.

For traveling the bride wore a navy blue linen two piece dress with a short jacket trimmed with navy blue lace. She wore a corsage of white roses and her accessories were white.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Winters High School where she was Future Homemakers of America Girl of the Year, 1957 Gold Star Girl of Runtels County. She also is a graduate of Abilene Beauty College. The bridegroom attended WHS and has served 23 months overseas with the United States Air Force.

Weed Control Is A Must In Grass Planting

"Weed control is almost a must for successful grass plantings," stated H. Giesecke Jr., Runtels Soil Conservation District Supervisor. He mentioned that weed control during the first growing season after planting is most important. The young grass seedlings are most likely to survive during the dry summer months, he said. James Glynn, local Soil Conservation Service technician, says that "after grasses are well established the weeds are seldom a problem."

Control of weeds is being done successfully by mechanical and chemical means. Some mechanical methods which have been used successfully are—mowing, shredding, chopping, rotary hoe, rod weeders, sweeps and various forms of cultivation.

Chemicals may be applied in several forms and combinations with different types of equipment. These are usually applied in dust or spray form, using ground spray equipment, or by airplane.

When chemicals are used, care should be taken in using the proper amounts—applying at the correct time. Be sure no other crops will be affected.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Galatians	5	1

Our future presidents and prime ministers — from what spiritual heritage shall they arise?

The ultimate giants of science and industry — what faith will they profess?

The fathers and mothers of our grandchildren and great-grandchildren — what convictions will be taught in their homes?

All this we are deciding today . . . in our churches . . . in our families.

For one generation can bequeath only to the next that which it, itself, possesses.

Our own religious life, our own determination to provide our children with thorough spiritual training, our own faithfulness in filling our churches with families — these positive purposes, expressed Sunday after Sunday, will mold TOMORROW'S LEADERS.

In a candlelight ceremony Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran Church, Ruth Elaine Hoppe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoppe, became the bride of James Turner Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Austin.

The Rev. H. K. Flathmann, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with potted greenery, baskets of white gladioli and candelabras. Emma Henniger, organist, cousin of the bride, accompanied Mrs. Johnnie Wilson, soloist, who sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Both Spill and Sally Spill, both cousins of the bride, were candle-lighters and Dawn Flathmann was flower girl. Johnny Spill, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Archie Austin served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Fred Austin of Abilene, brother of the bridegroom, and Jimmie Hoppe, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Walter Spill, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Eugenia Voss and Nancy Spill, both cousins of the bride. All of the bride's attendants wore chapel blue polished cotton dresses designed with scooped necklines and short sleeves. The maid of honor wore a variegated blue chiffon sash which scooped with the neckline, tied and extended in the back. The bridesmaids wore royal blue sashes of

The candle-lighters wore royal blue silk organza cummerbunds and the flower girl's dress was designed similar to those of the other attendants with a smaller sash. Her waist length veil of illusion with lace appliqued flowers centered with rhinestones fell from a tier of pearls. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses atop a lace covered Bible featuring the same bugle bead design as the wedding dress.

She wore a blue butterfly wing pendant and carried a white lace handkerchief, both belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. August Spill Sr.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church. The bride's table, laid with white cutwork linen with gold threads, was centered with a four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Robert Spill ladeled punch from a crystal punch bowl and Mrs. L. R. Hoppe served cake. Members of Girl Scout Troop 3 also were members of the house party.

For traveling the bride wore a navy blue linen two piece dress with a short jacket trimmed with navy blue lace. She wore a corsage of white roses and her accessories were white.

Weed Control Is A Must In Grass Planting

"Weed control is almost a must for successful grass plantings," stated H. Giesecke Jr., Runnels Soil Conservation District Supervisor. He mentioned that weed control during the first growing season after planting is most important. The young grass seedlings are most likely to survive during the dry summer months, he said. James Glynn, local Soil Conservation Service technician, says that "after grasses are well established the weeds are seldom a problem."

Control of weeds is being done successfully by mechanical and chemical means. Some mechanical methods which have been used successfully are—mowing, shredding, chopping, rotary hoe, rod weeders, sweeps and various forms of cultivation.

Chemicals may be applied in several forms and combinations with different types of equipment. These are usually applied in dust or spray form, using ground spray equipment, or by airplane.

When chemicals are used, care should be taken in using the proper amounts—applying at the correct time. Be sure no other crops will be affected.

Roger Babson Says

"Increased Cost of Labor Is Keeping Commodity Prices From Breaking"

Babson Park, Mass.—The Dow-Jones Industrial Stock Average has declined from a high of 685 on January 5, 1960 to under 600, from which it is just rebounding. Manufacturers are wondering why commodity prices have not broken correspondingly. The main reason is the increased costs of labor. All the basic industries are well organized and producers are timid about cutting wages for fear the union leaders will call strikes.

Price Stability
This over-all price stability does not apply to all commodity quotations. We have seen widespread declines in wholesale prices for foodstuffs, and farmers expect to receive less for 1960 crops.

However, owing to the demand by consumers for small quantities of foodstuffs which they purchase at the supermarkets, retail prices have remained high. It not only costs retailers more to sell small items, but the cost of packages and displays is greater. Supermarkets present a fine show which appeals to consumers, but in reality their prices are not as low as is generally supposed.

Supplies Adequate
In most cases, supplies of raw materials are sufficient or can be increased rapidly if prices should rise. Therefore, changes in most commodity prices may be downward rather than upward for a while. An analysis of price trends should consider foreign demand and supply also. Not only will competition become more severe within this country, but foreign imports are crowding us more and more.

When I was in Europe recently, I was astounded at the low prices which are being paid there to labor. Japan does not produce many basic commodities, but confines her exports to manufactured products. Wages are very low in Japan. Reports from China vary, but presumably wages there are even lower than in Japan. If I can get a visa, I will visit China and get the facts about China's wages and her exports, which now go largely to Russia.

Outlook for Copper and Oil
Copper production in the U. S. is affected by gradually rising wages; hence the price of copper should be well maintained. Copper producers are, however, handicapped by the fact that the metal has a long life; some of that now being used in the electronics industry once existed in the form of trolley wires or our grandmothers' kettles.

In the case of oil, gasoline, and other petroleum products, there is no such problem; when these are used up they are totally consumed. However, the world now faces a surplus of oil. Not only have the Arab States large supplies which they are anxious to sell, but the production of the Sahara Desert must be considered. France is very much interested in this Sahara production. President DeGaulle is striving for self-sufficiency in order to regain world status.

Exceptions To The Above
The main bullish argument for oil is that Nasser, President of Egypt, may succeed in becoming the "sales manager" for all the Arab countries and stop them from cutting prices or giving special favors.

USDA Now Has A Packers And Stockyards Division

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has announced establishment of a Packers and Stockyards Division in the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, effective July 1.

"The scope of expanding activities resulting from the amended Packers and Stockyards Act, and its importance to livestock producers and the processing and marketing industries serving livestock producers, makes it advisable to concentrate the responsibilities and functions under the Act in a separate division," the Secretary said.

The Packers and Stockyards Act was amended in 1958 to bring under Department regulation all livestock transactions in interstate commerce. The Act also requires investigation and regulatory functions dealing with unfair, deceptive, discriminatory or monopolistic practices on the part of packers.

Howard J. Doggett, currently Agricultural attaché in Belgium, will head the new Division.

Ronnie Huddleston Shows Slides For Winters HD Club

Ronnie Huddleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Huddleston, narrated and showed color slides of a scenic tour from Baylor University in Waco to California for members of the Winters Home Demonstration Club at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The tour began on the campus of Baylor University with the group traveling across the state of Texas and arriving in New Mexico for a western sunrise. They saw the desert country of Arizona, an Arizona copper mine and the mountains. After a colorful trip through the mountains the group arrived in the suburbs of Los Angeles, Calif.

In Southern California they saw Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm and the recreational areas of Anaheim. From there the group went to San Francisco where they found different ideas in architecture and transportation. They then caught a west bound bus to the century old Cliff House where they admired the pounding surf and watched great ships pass under the Golden Gate Bridge. They went to Telegraph Hill where they could see the Golden Gate Bridge, the Bay Bridge and Alcatraz Prison. They returned to Southern California and viewed the famous Rose Parade.

Local Man To Dallas Foot Comfort School

Bill (Jet) Chapman is leaving June 12 for Dallas to take a weeks resident course of study at the Regional Scholl Training School, to be held at the Baker Hotel starting Monday, June 13 for five days, it was announced today by Heidenheimer's.

The Scholl Training School is a nationally-known course of study under the direct supervision of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the world-noted foot authority. Dr. Scholl established the school many years ago in the interest of foot sufferers in all parts of the world.

The course covers many phases of the care of the feet and scientific shoe fitting and is widely recognized as one of the most thorough of its kind in the world. It is condensed from the Dr. Scholl Resident Training School in Chicago. In the years it has been in existence thousands of men and women have attended, and today many of them attribute their success to the training they received.

When Chapman returns he will then be fully qualified to render Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Service to the many foot sufferers of this city.

This would be a better world if we had more wild life in our forests and less in the big cities.
