Talk

By E. C. THOMAS

It might be a good idea in this week of 1961 to remind everybody that this is not an "off" year, and that January is the month in which to pay poll taxes if you expect to express your opinion at any or all of the many important elections which will take place this year.

Locally, two seats on the City Council will have to be filled, and a man elected to the office of Mayor. Then there will be the important election to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Sen. L.B.J. Then there is a possibility that the person who wins at post may leave a vacancy to be filled—in fact, it could cause a chain reaction which could keep voters busy plumb up to cotton picking time. There may be many other elections as of now unknown.

The poll tax receipt, or exemption, is the only ticket which will be admitted to any of these events.

This year, 1961, is one of those upside down years, of which there are very few. Upside down or right side up, any way you look at it still comes out 1961. The next time this will happen, so far as we can figure out, will be in 1969, but we don't figure to be around to worry about that.

The new year has started out upside down, and crossways. Looks like the whole shebang is going topsy turvy, and if the next few steps aren't taken with caution, the TILT could be spelled in fiery hydrogen bursts.

Just heard it said that a man who has not, in the first week of the new year, broken at least nine-tenths of his New Year's resolutions did not make many to start with.

Don't forget the FFA-4H Stock Show at the school livestock barn Saturday. This is one of the biggest shows of its kind, according to most information, and the boys will exhibit livestock have been working for many days to get ready for it. They'll appreciate your dropping around to view the suits of their work.

Our red dirt-scratching farmer friend on Bluff Creek, who says he voted for both tickets last November so he wouldn't antagonize anyone, says he's been ticked for three weeks for a trip to Washington. Says that with all the appointments being made he's expected to be called, because he heard that many of the appointments were going to men who had been to a school called "hard work," and he didn't know anyone who'd be more qualified than he is. Claims that he may have been misinformed, though, because the only kind of notice he received was from a place called Internal Revenue. Couldn't rightly remember what the letter said—it was in the pocket of the overalls he'd traded in on a 1961 model—but it was either a notice that the Internal Revenue was going to send him some money, or else they wanted some. Said if it was the former, they might as well go ahead and send it on to Washington because after the Christmas spending he'd have a hard time raking up the four cents forward it on.

This is the year we all meant to start when we said "just wait next year." It's here, and it promises to be about the same as last year, if not a little more so. Lawmakers on both the state and national level will be working a good part of the year to bring into reality some of the things they promised last year. You can bet your last income tax blank, though, that there'll be little ease taxwise. The only direction they are likely to take is up. The state's larder is empty, and about every level of society is looking for more hands in one form or another. We're likely to get a state sales tax this year, although it will not be called that ugly name. And if all the promises made on a national level are kept, you may as well start digging deeper—it's got to come from some place, no matter what you've been told about how it's easier for government to pay the bills.

Soil Surveys Used By Runnels County Farmers, Ranchers

Soil surveys have many uses in the Runnels Soil Conservation District. They are most commonly used by farmers and ranchers, states James Barnhill of the local Soil Conservation Service.

Farmers and ranchers use soil surveys to learn more about the types of soil they have, according to Barnhill. Soils that behave alike when used and treated alike are grouped together. These groupings are known as land capability classes. With the results of research and experience, this information can then be used in developing a sound soil and water conservation plan.

He said another important way soil surveys are used is in conservation engineering work. Soils information can be used to determine how fast water will enter a soil and how fast it will pass thru it. This information is used in the design of terraces, irrigation and drainage systems and water retarding structures.

Investors, bankers and loan companies use soil surveys to help determine land values and future productivity.

Among the many other uses, soils information is very useful in carrying on research studies on crops and fertilizers.

The Time to Make a Will Is NOW! —Not "When I Get Around to It"

Babson Park, Mass. While Mrs. Babson and I were in Europe this fall, three of our intimate friends passed away. Two of these I knew had made no will, despite my urgings. One had promised he would do so "when he had time." He begrudged the expense and felt it really was not necessary. Let me discuss these three cases.

ate and then will it to their children. But she did not. Since her husband left no will, she was given only one third; the remaining two thirds was divided equally among the children. Nothing was available for the deceased's brothers or sisters or cousins. This is as it should be.

thers or sisters or other relatives. One child 23 years of age received the money outright; since the other was a minor, his share was entrusted to the guardian appointed by the Court.

The third man left a wife but no children; he did have brothers and sisters and cousins. His estate exceeded $100,000. The wife will be given the $25,000 which she would automatically receive from an estate valued at $25,000 or over. In this case she also will get a second $25,000. The remainder will go to the man's brothers and sisters or their heirs who are now springing up in all directions.

Wills Oldest Legal Documents
Originally when a man died all his property went to the oldest son. He was supposed to take care of his mother and to secure work for any other children. Then land owners sometimes died without leaving any children; anticipating this, the father left a written document outlining his wishes or "will" at his death. These wills were considered sacred by the Roman Courts, and their policy and purpose were adopted by the English Courts and carried to America.

I have recently been seeking copies of early records of the forty families who settled Cape Ann (which now comprises Gloucester and Rockport, Mass.). The very earliest documents are the wills of these inhabitants around 1620-30. The first Babson arrived in Salem from London after sixty days in a small sailing vessel. She was a widow named Isabel and she came to Cape Ann in 1637. She was very enterprising and—as there were no doctors—served as a midwife. Also, since there were no lawyers, she helped the fathers make wills. Although these were written on scraps of paper—perhaps on birch bark—they were held very sacred and history still records their contents.

Cost of Making a Will
To enable your life's savings to go as you would like, you should have your local lawyer make up your will. If it is simple, namely leaving all to your wife, he may not charge you more than twenty dollars. If it is more complicated, leaving property perhaps to your wife, in trust—allowing her the use of it and the income during her lifetime with provision for equal division among your children or their heirs—then your lawyer will charge more. He will charge more. He will charge according to the amount of his time you take.

Laws concerning the distribution of estates where there is no will are subject to change. The cases cited above are based upon the laws in effect in Massachusetts as of January 1, 1957. When the time comes for settling your estate, these laws may be quite different.

The best way to assure distribution of your property exactly as you wish is to have your will drawn now by your lawyer. This also enables you to make some donations to your local church and hospital, which everyone should do. To provide for the carrying out of your wishes, your will should name an Executor in whose efficiency, stability, and responsibility you have confidence.

Telephone Co. To Expand In the Coming Year

A record-high expansion program totaling over $9 million has been announced for 1961 by the Southwestern States Telephone Company.

The company serves 158 telephone exchanges in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana and has general offices in Brownwood, Texas.

D. T. Strickland, Vice President and General Manager, said $9,351,470 had been budgeted to expand and improve telephone facilities and to keep up with telephone demands in the growth areas it serves. This represents a 34 per cent increase over the 1960 construction program.

With 93 per cent of the company's 153,000 telephones already dial operated, the company will continue its dial conversion program in 1961 with dial cutovers at Llano, San Saba, Menard, and Leonard—all in Texas. Only six exchanges will be served on a non-dial basis by the end of 1961.

All of the company's Arkansas and Louisiana properties are now dial operated.

Major expansion is scheduled in 1961 in fast-growing Irving, Texas where equipment additions alone are estimated to cost about $1 million.

"Our 1961 expansion program is an indication of the faith we have in the future growth and development of the Southwest," Strickland explained.

The Southwestern States Telephone Company is the 16th largest of over 3,500 Independent (NON Bell) telephone companies in America.

Land Bank Reduces Interest Rate

The board of directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston has approved a reduction of 1-2 of 1 percent in the interest rate which the bank will charge on its new loans beginning Jan. 1, 1961. In making the announcement, Hal Weatherford, president of the bank, stated that the board also authorized a reduction of 1-2 of 1 percent beginning Jan. 1 and until further notice on some $24,000,000 of loans which bear an interest rate of 6 percent.

According to Weatherford, this is the third time the Houston bank has been able to voluntarily reduce the interest on loans already on the books. The Federal Land Bank makes its loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. It has over 235 million dollars of loans in force and obtains funds to make loans through the sale of bonds to the investing public. This reduction in interest rates will mean substantial savings each year to many farm and ranch owners in Texas.

Land Bank loans in this area are made and serviced through the Federal Land Bank Association of Ballinger which serves Rannels County. According to its manager, R. H. Emery, there are 315 loans in force for about $1,800,000.00. The officers and directors other than Manager Emery are J. E. Blackwell of Miles, president; B. M. Health Letter

There's a one to five chance your youngster needs a major teeth straightening job, since an estimated one-fifth of the nation's children suffer from "malocclusion," or improper alignment of teeth.

A generation ago, parents of young children with teeth which did not meet properly were usually advised to "let them alone and nature will correct the situation."

Today we know better. Malocclusion is a condition to be corrected by a dental specialist known as an "orthodontist." Nature by herself is a very poor straightener of crooked teeth.

Although the public is just now becoming aware of the health significance of malocclusion, experience has taught dentists that crooked teeth contribute to decay, faulty speech and malnutrition. One of the worst results of malocclusion is the psychological stress borne by a child singled out for ridicule by his friends because of "buck teeth."

A child with facial deformities such as those caused by misshapen teeth may develop traits of indecision and begin to doubt his ability to cope with problems in his environment, psychologists say.

What causes teeth to erupt irregularly? Dentists agree that heredity is probably one important cause. Another is persistent thumbsucking and abnormal pressures against the jaw. Living bone contrary to popular thought, is not always hard and unyielding. The entire jaw structure can be molded by gentle, persistent pressure.

In the case of thumbsucking, dentists believe that if the habit can be broken before age 5, there is a good chance the teeth may return to normal position without harmful effects.

Another cause of malocclusion is prolonged retention of baby teeth. Permanent teeth which follow are then prevented from arranging themselves properly.

On the other hand, when primary teeth are lost too early, adjoining teeth may tend to tip and "migrate," crowding into spaces where permanent teeth should erupt. There are different methods of bringing teeth into proper alignment. Sometimes it may be necessary to extract teeth to make room. In some cases a plastic or wire appliance may be fitted to the teeth to guide them into position by pressure.

Whatever the method, it is calculated to help the youngster avoid the fate of a "buck tooth."

Occasionally at night I count my blessings, and feel good all the next day.

Everybody wastes nervous energy over worries that later appear ridiculous.

Why are women so possessive?

You don't have to go all the way to the North Pole to find Santa Claus—he has a home in Indiana. The Hoosiers named a small town after the plump gift-giver and put up a statue of him dedicated to "The Children of the World." In a typical year, some four million pieces of mail pour into the post office of the town, to be remailed with the postmark "Santa Claus." "Let's eat" are happy words.

Even if you lose your money prudently, it hurts just as much as if you lose it recklessly.

Everybody's ambition, including mine, is to work less and get more.

Changes Which Were Expected To Happen In the 60's Have Already Begun

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association Forecasters are fond of saying, "That which is going to happen has already begun."

If so, the first of the new decade, 1960, was strewn with weather-vances to point the course of Texas in the next nine years.

Among major Texas events in the opening year of the sixties were these:

1. PARTY PRIMARIES were held in May and June, two months earlier. New dates ended old traditions, like announcing with the dogwood, campaigning in the heat. For the first time in years, challengers toppled two incumbents from statewide office, a fact that's bound to encourage future activity from young men "waiting in the wings."

2. DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS, though temptuous as always, were held in control by the joint leadership of Gov. Price Daniel and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. Johnson won near-unanimous backing for his presidential bid at the June state convention, an event which marked the end of the left-wing DOT. After the national convention in July, dissension arose in the other wing. Many conservative Democrats bucked at supporting Standard-bearer John Kennedy and the liberal national platform. Enough became "Texans for Nixon" to make Texas a "doubtful state." Scars and divisions of 1960 will inevitably be reopened when Texas Democrats get together again in '62 and '64.

3. 1960 CENSUS reports confirmed predictions that Texas will be a metropolitan state in the sixties. Overall, population grew from 7,711,194 in 1950 to 9,579,677. Sixty percent of the increase was in the four largest cities. In addition, in every growth area, cities increased their populations at the expense of surrounding rural counties. This did not alter the state total, but changed the make-up of population—now 70 percent urban, 30 percent rural. Result will be a strong push for more urban representation in the legislature, more state-level sympathy for city problems.

4. STATE FINANCE PROBLEMS never were out of the news, as both public officials and private citizens circled the issue that will come to a boil in this year's legislative session. State Finance Advisory Commission, appointed by Governor Daniel in May, worked through the summer and fall. In December it recommended a one percent payroll tax to raise the more than $100,000,000 a year the state is expected to need in new money. Meanwhile, meetings were held by practically everybody — teachers, labor and business groups, all with a vital interest in future taxing and spending decision.

5. AUTO INSURANCE RATES, under a new merit rating plan, have for good or ill stirred more commotion than a back-firing Model T at a horse auction. Last Legislature turned down flexible rating and instructed Board of Insurance to consider safety incentives and driving records in setting statewide rates. Result was a plan begun last January 1, basing auto insurance rates on the driver's arrest record for the past three years including traffic tickets as well as accidents. Drivers whose rates jumped because of minor violations were generally happier. A number of lawmakers have promised to look into the matter thoroughly this year.

6. GAS TAX SUIT, begun in early 1960, probably will be in the courts another year. In the past year, gas pipeline companies won rulings that the severance beneficiary tax is unconstitutional in district court and the Court of Civil Appeals. In months ahead, the case will go to the Texas Supreme Court and the U. S. Supreme Court. If the tax is upheld, future efforts to raise the rate are certain. If, as in the case of the gas gathering tax in 1953, it is held unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court, it is unlikely that even the most ardent gas tax advocates will try again to raise revenue by this route.

7. RACE FOR SPEAKER of the House, as tight and uncertain as in 1959, brought renewed suggestions that "there ought to be a better way." Whether Rep. Wade Spillman of McAllen or Rep. James Turman of Gober wins in the secret ballot of House members on January 10, it will be several weeks before either can get committees organized and ready for business. To add to the confusion, prospective candidates for Speaker in 1963 already are jockeying for position. Some have suggested a constitutional amendment to permit representatives — elect to meet and elect a presiding officer a month or so before the session's actual opening. Another proposal is to let the people decide by making the post an elective one the same as in the Senate. Advantage besides letting the voters have a choice is the fact that the decision would be reached in November and the House could go to work immediately on the opening day of the session. Also it would eliminate all of the bitterness that is created under the present system.

8. TOURIST AND NEW INDUSTRY promotion got under way in 1960, despite penny-ante budgets. Highway Department brought out its first tourists' brochure, a 32-page booklet in four colors. This year it will ask the Legislature for $300,000 to place advertisements in national publications. Texas Industrial Commission also produced a brochure, but says it cannot compete with other states on a $23,750 a year budget. It will ask the Legislature for $420,000 a year. Both the tourist and industry seeking agencies contend that Texas cannot achieve its growth potential in the sixties unless it goes in with six-figure budgets comparable to those of competing states.

9. TEXAS TIDELANDS ownership, a paramount issue in the forties and fifties, finally was laid to rest in June, 1960. U. S. Supreme Court, to the surprise of many, ruled that Texas owns the submerged lands 10 1/2 miles out into the Gulf. If the land is as oil-rich as hoped and if there is a market for the oil, tidelands revenue will augment the permanent school fund in the years ahead.

10. SENATOR JOHNSON'S ELECTION as vice president opened the door for more lively politicking in 1961 to decide his Senate successor. Field is already crowded with the likelihood of a dozen candidates before the filing deadline passes. Conceivably, someone who already holds an office would be elected, setting off a chain reaction of moves up the political ladder.

FARM PRODUCTION HIGH
Texas farm production in 1960 tied with 1958 for the second highest year in history, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported. Total production was 138 percent of the 1946-1956 average. Combined value of the principal crops was $1,400,000,000. This was three percent less than last year, largely because of drops in cotton and sorghum grain prices. Cotton is still the leading crop. Texas farmers produced 4,350,000 bales in 1960 for an income of $711,000,000. Improved conditions and methods were reflected in the 329 pound average yield per acre, up 79 pounds per acre from the 1958-59 average.

How can the family budget be balanced if the wife is a spendthrift and the husband a nitwit, or vice versa?

Study Made Of Farm And Ranch Purchases

What is happening in the purchase of farm and ranch land by city dwellers in Texas has been amply demonstrated in a study made not long ago in Dallas.

It is figured that more than 25,000 Dallas County families own farm and ranch land adding up to some 3,000,000 acres, most of this acreage is located outside of Dallas County. Holdings include wheat farms, the Panhandle, irrigated croplands out on the South Plains elsewhere in West Texas, citrus groves in the Rio Grande Valley and pastures and grazing land in sections of the State.

The vast majority of these owners are week-end farmers, ranchers, maintaining their homes in Dallas and its suburbs where they make their living. Real estate dealers agree that the growing systems of super-highways and excellent roads out of Dallas have brought about definite changes in the demands of the city-dwelling farmers and ranchers.

It used to be that a radius of about 40 miles outside of the limits of Dallas was as far as these buyers wanted to go to maintain their rural retreats. But vast development of the highway system has changed all this. The circle has been greatly expanded, moving out to a 100-mile radius and now spreading out still farther to 150 and 200 miles.

One Dallas real estate dealer reported that out of 321 farm ranch sales he has completed since 1951, all except three of buyers lived in Dallas. All one of the farms and ranches sold were located outside of boundaries of Dallas County.

Aside from the facts reported on week-end farming and ranching, the same survey brought to light the existence of Dallas, Texas, Dallas County — one out of four workers in the county — and their livings either directly or indirectly from agribusness. Total earnings amounted to $410,000,000 in the year under study, with processing along accounting 11,000 workers.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY WAYNE DUNNAM (Photo by Little)

Dorretha King and Jerry W. Dunnam Repeated Wedding Vows December 31

Wedding vows were repeated Saturday, Dec. 31, at 6 o'clock in the morning at the First Baptist Church unitarian, Dorretha King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. King of Winterville, and Jerry Wayne Dunnam, director of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Dunness, of Winters.

Miss Lelia Harter, pianist, played wedding music and the Rev. Charles Carter officiated for the double ring ceremony before an arch decorated with greenery and white mums. Two baskets of gladsties were at either side of the altar.

Mr. G. Dunnam of Big Spring served as best man and Jimmy Dunnam, brother of the groom, was groomsman.

Mrs. Bobby King Merck of Winters, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Gloria King of Winterville, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Merck wore a black velvet street length sheath with a boat neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a white feathered hat and a pink carnation corsage. Miss King wore a blue brocade street length dress with a fitted bodice, a cummerbund and full skirt. She wore a white bandeau and a corsage of white carnations.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Jim King of Winterville, the bride wore a street length white brocade satin dress fashioned with a fitted bodice, a large sailor collar, three-quarter length sleeves and a pleated skirt. She wore a hat of sequin leaves and carried a bouquet of white split carnations atop a white Bible.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church. The bride's table, laid with white linen, featured a three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. R. G. Dunnam and Mrs. Dennis Dunnam, both of Big Spring, served cake and laded punch. Kay Byrd poured coffee from a silver service. Mrs. Bobby Joe Dunnam of Graham presided at the register.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Winters High School where she was an outstanding basketball and volleyball player. She was a member of the Student Council and class secretary. She attended Nixon Clay Business College in Austin and is now employed at the State Comptroller's office in Austin.

The bridegroom is also a 1960 graduate of Winters High School where he was tri-captain of the football team in 1959-60 and a member of the basketball team. He was also a member of the Future Farmers of America and the Spanish Club. He is now a private first class in the Marines and is stationed at Camp Pendleton, California.

Ever watch a bunch of ants at work? Man, what a lesson in cooperation they teach!

Try to interrupt their progress and see what happens. They will make a detour quicker than the Texas Highway Department.

Returning from a recent newspapermen's convention in Oklahoma, we stopped for a chat with a long-time friend in the drug store business in Anadarko. His name is Albert Connel.

We became friends when I was an adman on the Anadarko Daily News. As a lover of the great outdoors, you'll be interested in what he has done.

Albert is not just an ordinary businessman. He likes to live in a small town. He loves the close contact with the people. He may reside in a small town, but it doesn't mean that he doesn't think big. His thinking is reflected in everything he does. When he buys an ad, he buys a big ad. He buys page ads when most other merchants are thinking in terms of quarter pages or less. And the success of his business proves the wisdom of his thinking.

But this isn't a testimonial on successful advertising. It's a story of soil conservation, water conservation, and outdoor recreation. It concerns cooperation, determination, thinking big.

Albert, as we said, is that kind of a man. He's the type who rides polo ponies and swings a big mallet, while other buddies are content to walk a golf course and push a putter.

If action is needed, in connection with any community project, he'll grab the ball and run with it whenever there's a job to be done. And he doesn't claim credit for anything. Thanks largely to Albert's efforts and his inborn ability to enlist the aid of many people, he has accomplished great things for the little city of some 7,000 population . . . a city built around an Indian reservation.

His latest project was to provide a brand new lake for the city. With it came not only abundant water for Anadarko and nearby Fort Cobb, but recreation facilities for the entire area.

Today it's an outdoorsman's paradise—with boating, swimming, skiing, scuba-diving, fishing and camping for thousands of people. And this is just the beginning.

A feature of the new lake, which especially appeals to this writer, is the fact that the upper half is reserved for fishing and the lower half for skiing. No argument there between skiers and fishermen.

It all goes to show what can be done, whether it's ants following a leader, or people following a thinker—it's cooperation that makes the impossible possible.

That's why Fort Cobb Reservoir, built upstream from Anadarko, Oklahoma, became a reality. And it's no wonder that people of Anadarko want to designate the $12,051,500 project as Lake Albert Connel.

There are lots of Albert Connels in Texas, in large towns and small towns. We just hope that his experience will encourage more people to assume the leadership that is necessary in building additional recreation facilities in the Lone Star State.

ONE LURE DOES IT
It sure sounds strange, but there's a fishing lure manufacturer who is trying to convince you that you need only one lure, of

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

With one year of the new decade now past, the question of just how high the 1960's will soar in the United States of course remains to be answered.

There have been many forecasts, most of them optimistic, and one of the most optimistic of all is a study published by the U. S. Department of Labor, entitled "Manpower Challenge of the 1960's."

The main thesis of the study is that American manpower potential is great enough, with an improving technology, to increase the production of goods and services by about 50 per cent from 1960 to 1970. In other words, beginning the decade with a gross national product of $500 billion, the study purports to show how a level of $750 billion can be achieved by 1970.

This would mean that by 1970 the expanding U. S. population could be provided with a 25 per cent increase in its standard of living. The population is expected to increase from 180 to 208 million over the decade, a growth of 28 million, or 15 per cent.

It is predicted that employment will continue to grow faster in the service industries than in the production industries. As U. S. technology advances, proportionately fewer workers will be needed to produce the goods we need. More workers will be needed to provide the increasing services required as the standard of living goes up.

The forecast is that biggest in-only one size and shape.

He's the maker of the new "Keel Fish" lure. His firm is appropriately named A-Lure Inc. It's located in Portland, Oregon. John A. Arff, owner, does have a fascinating lure and it's made in 12 standard colors.

The "Keel-Fish" gets its name from its metal keel, which acts as a stabilizer and keeps the lure from spinning, no matter how fast it's retrieved.

Included in the lure box are three different sizes of interchangeable treble hooks. Idea is to change hooks rather than carry around many different sizes of lures.

creases in demand for workers will be in occupations requiring the most in education and training. It is also foreseen that the shift from an agricultural economy to one that is predominantly industrial will continue.

By 1970, according to the study, there will be about 30 million women workers, six million more than in 1960. This would represent a 25 per cent increase for women, as compared with a 15 per cent increase for men. One out of every three workers will be a woman.

During the past decade, professional, office and sales workers as a group exceeded for the first time in U. S. history the number of workers employed in manual occupations, in skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled jobs. During the coming decade, this trend is expected to continue. The fastest growth will occur among professional and technical occupations, especially engineers, scientists and technicians.

Such predictions are of major importance in planning for the future of agriculture as well as the future of U. S. business and other activities.

Despite the past three years of favorable rainfall conditions, irrigated acreage in Texas has continued to show a slow but steady increase instead of a curtailment.

This was brought out in the latest biennial survey completed last year by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The survey was compiled from information gathered by county agents from each Texas county, and the results have been carefully checked with figures from previous surveys.

The total irrigated area in Texas in 1959 amounted to 7,140,443 acres. In 1957 the total acreage under irrigation was 6,962,234 acres, and in 1955 it was 6,208,022. The increase in acreage from 1957 to 1959 was markedly lower than in the preceding two years, and this was attributed to conditions of favorable rainfall which were generally in nearly every area of the state.

Reports by counties show that there is at least a sprinkling of irrigation in 239 of the 254 counties in Texas. Areas of heaviest irrigation, of course, are in the Rio Grande Valley and in the High Plains.

The 1959 survey showed that some 6,445,155 acres are irrigated by surface methods and 695,283 acres by sprinkler systems, and indications are that the sprinkler method is growing steadily in spite of the heavy expense involved in installation.

In all, irrigation is used on 48,110 farms out of approximately 292,000 farms enumerated in the state. Ground water supplies, obtained from 60,708 wells, are used to irrigate 5,914,753 acres.

The leading irrigated crop is cotton, which shows a total of 2.2 million acres, and grain sorghum is second with slightly more than two million acres. Wheat comes third with 637,000 acres, and other top-ranking irrigated crops include rice, with 436,000 acres; vegetables, 375,000 acres; and pastures 200,000 acres. There is also irrigated acreage in lesser amount for corn, forage sorghum, alfalfa, oats and various other types of production.

While irrigation did not expand as rapidly during the past two years, any increase at all during a period of highly favorable rainfall was taken as a sound indication that irrigation is being widely accepted by farmers as a practice of good management instead of simply as an emergency measure used to maintain production in drought periods.

Replenishing ground water supplies, of course, is one of those problems yet to be solved along with many others in the Texas water outlook.

Everybody we know who has any big money seems to work hard at his job. Our question is why do they work so hard if it's so easy to make big money in the stock market?

The government requests that Social Security checks be cashed promptly, and recipients are said to be astoundingly cooperative.

Jesus Brings Joy is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson. Scripture is John 2:1-11. Meditation: "The miracles of Jesus are an integral part of the Gospel. They are not something added, to be considered apart from the total revelation of God in Christ. Once accepting Jesus as the supernatural Son of God, He is the basic miracle. If He is the Eternal Son of God as John witnessed, we should not be surprised when He exercised supernatural powers. We do not prove His deity by His miracles but we accept His miracles because we believe in His deity."

"At first thought this miracle seems a strange initiation for His ministry. It saved a young bridegroom from embarrassment. Perhaps His coming to the wedding with His disciples placed an unexpected strain on the resources of the house. Clearly the miracle shows Jesus' concern for the common, everyday problems of the home. It gives us courage to bring our troubles to Him in prayer, however minor they seem. The test of faith is not alone in the great life and death issues, but as truly in the day by day problems of living."

Special days next week are for: Barbara Talley, the 8th; Floyd Milliam, Mrs. Mattie Jackson and Rhonda Sneed, the 9th; Mrs. Melvin Ray Williams, Lit Moore, Bobby Yoes and George Franklin Scott, the 10th; Kermit Foster, J. Every time we talk to a fisherman we get another good idea. We are some tips, picked up at a fishing camp. You may find them interesting and perhaps helpful.

Polish the metallic parts of your lures especially at all times. A dab of silver polish on a soft flannel cloth will do the trick to brighten your lures.

Use a few moth balls in your tackle box. They will help preclude other metallic parts of your lures from rusting. Use a rod that is dark—either black or dark green. This will prevent light from reflecting off the metal parts.

the water has only the possibility of diving deep and becoming entangled in brush or rocks, and then pulling himself free.

Work an area thoroughly before moving your boat to another location.

Many fishermen recommend that casts be made short at first, then a little longer, then distant. Suggested procedure is to cast boat from left to right, so that all along the bank and around the area is covered before moving to a new location.

Reason given for making a short cast first is that if you hook a fish, you will not disturb those beyond that catch. Then you have an opportunity to cast farther out and retrieve more fish.

One tip from a top-water angler—when the fish misses your lure (and you, of course, miss your fish) let the lure rest right where it is for a few moments. Then jerk it slightly so as to give it a "live" effect.

Try that two or three times, then reel in, light a cigarette and wait for four or five minutes before casting again. Then lay the lure right back in the exact spot where you had it before. There is a good chance that the bass is, by that time, back in his lair and ready to try again.

Another suggestion: If you land a lunker and seem to get no follow-up strikes, move around to the other side of the spot and try it from there. Very likely you'll find another big one lurking nearby.

Many fishermen feel that a bright, sunny day is the best day to fish.

Not so with one angler. He contends that he had much rather fish when the sky is cloudy, and the sun's rays do not fall directly upon the water. That's when he likes to work around stumps, logs, brush piles, or fallen trees—especially if they are in from two to six feet of water.

Ordinarily, he says, stumps, logs, brush piles, and windfalls will outproduce any other kind of bass cover five to one.

Another angler says that you should fish on the shady side of any lake or stream—which means working one side in the early morning and the other side in the late evening.

Middy is regarded by many as the poorest time to fish.

One angler who heads for the lake at least once a week reports that he never has any success fishing unless there is a ripple on the water.

Also he has discovered that the clarity of the water must be such that he can see his hand at least eighteen inches under the surface. Otherwise, it is his contention that the bass cannot see his favorite lure—a top-water spinner—even though the popping sound does attract their attention.

We repeat—every fisherman has some good ideas.

In laying down the law, we like some indication that what we are saying is understood, but young children are too crafty to do us the honor.

The women who wait on you in candy and cake shops are an especially nice lot of wholesome femininity.

When you look at your small grandchildren you sometimes wonder how they can face the decades ahead, and then you reflect that you got through your own years and decades so fast that you are dismayed by the flight of time.

WHITE ELEPHANT CLEAN-OUT

This WHITE ELEPHANT SALE is the craziest kind of a sale you ever heard of! To tell the truth, there is not a thing that is worth shouting about. It's just a conglomeration of odds and ends, slow-movers, buyer's mistakes, and things that you would not even think of buying — not if you are in your right mind! If you want to have some fun you might come on in and join the crowds; but if the weather is disagreeable and cold you'll be better off to stay at home and play with the kids. There is no use wasting your money!

72 PERCALE SHEETS

81x108 full double size irregulars . . . but the trouble with them is that you would have trouble finding two alike. Stripes and solids and there are no pillow cases to match. $1.98 each.

SPARTAN BB DOMESTIC

Here is the bait to get you in to our White Elephant Sale. 36 inches wide. 6 yards for $1.00.

72 inch NYLON NET

Really the best season for selling net is during the time you are making your holiday dress — up dresses. How about the holiday season for 1961. Really why not at 19c yard.

ONE GROUP OF MEN'S JEWELRY

Tie Pins and Cuff Links that were $1.50 to $3.50, but after one quick glance you'll realize why we have cut the price to 99c including tax.

FOAM RUBBER PILLOWS

Yes sir, so-called luxury, but to tell you the truth the size is a little small. So is the price, $2.88 ea.

BABY DEPARTMENT STUFFED TOYS

If you are fond of the little one or even if a gift is a must these toys might be the answer to "What to Give." They are only $1.00 now for toys that sold up to $3.98.

ONE GROUP OF GIFTS

If you want to get ready for someone with an early birthday or get a prize for the next time the bridge club meets it might be worth a passing glance at this gift table all at one-half price—

ELECTRIC FIRE STARTERS, BARBEQUE APRONS, ASH TRAYS, NAIL CLIPPERS, STRETCH SHOE BAGS, PASS CASES, GOLF CASES.

BOYS' JACKETS

22 of them—Boys' Motorcycle and nylon (100%) washable jackets that we supposed had been reduced enough for the January sale to really move them but we will confess we did not sell one of them last week—so here goes — we won't keep them over—first come, first served at the low low price of $5.00.

MEN'S TYROLEAN FELT HATS

You wouldn't wear one of these on the golf course, you wouldn't wear one to town but you might wear it while watching your favorite T. V. Program—if no one else is at home . . . the crowns are high and the brims are small—THAT'S ALL. Values to $7.95 — $2.98.

22 MEN'S ROBES

If you go home feeling tired and worn out you'll feel even worse if you slip on one of these — and what's more you'll look awful. Why do you think we would sell regular $9.95 and $12.95 values for only $5.97. (That's right we can't get anymore)

WOMEN'S HEADWEAR

Warm wool and orlon caps in the widest variety of styles . . . Beanies, scarf caps and clip caps. — In fact just looking at these makes us feel like we have been clipped . . . you may feel the same way if you only pay $1.00 for your choice of these warm caps.

LADIES ROBES

If you want to look glamorous and exciting when your husband comes home you certainly won't want one of these old picked over robes. We have several styles and different fabrics but you won't like any of them—were 5.95 to 12.95, now $3.99 and $6.99.

10 BUNNY FUR COLLARS

The style is nice but we didn't sell them at $1.98 and now we doubt if they will sell for 98c.

ITEMS FOR THE BABY

CARTER'S SLEEPING BAGS AND SLEEPERS

We didn't sell these last season but a new baby should not be able to tell the difference . . . if you think that you can use these — they did sell for up to $3.98 and now are only $1.00.

QUILTED 2-PIECE SETS WITH FEET

What an item . . . not a pajama and not a sleeper — in fact I don't see why we bought them in the first place—they are worth $3.95 according to the tag but we wonder . . . maybe you will buy at $1.98 but we doubt it . . .

BIBS

It's a definite fact that these bibs are older than any baby you would buy them for—we don't object, however, to what you do with them — 25c each

IVY LEAGUE PLASTIC LINED PANTS

These were ohooooo — so cute when we bought them to sell for $1.98 but now after a season or two we doubt that you will even look at them for $1.00.

4 DIAPER BAGS

We guarantee that you will not recognize these even though you have seen them before as we have brushed the dirt from them so much that they are fuzzy now — however they might serve the purpose at 1-2 price—$1.49 and $1.98.

3 ONLY LASSO WESTERN COATS

In 1959 we thought these were the best at $22.50. 1960 we tried to sell 'em at $18.95. In 1961, who knows, $13.90.

WOMEN'S COATS

We have sold the best of these already. However, they are a few left at $15.00.

WOMEN'S SUITS

7 Betty Rose ($50.00) Suits, now $25.00.

WOMEN'S BULKY SWEATERS

We can't figure why we bought some of these to sell for $10.95 — We will take the loss now — only $5.00 each.

LA. VELVETEEN SLACKS

Supposed to be the better grades —$9.95 and $10.95 — Now $5.00.

34 MEN'S LONG JACKETS

The only thing good that could be said about these long jackets is the price—$12.95 wool plaids, $16.95 Nylon fleeces "supposed to be 100 percent washable." 1 suede Leather Coat, size 34. Take our pick at $7.90, as we are sure you wouldn't pick one.

COSTUME JEWELRY

You will wonder as we do how one buyer could be so wrong — but the evidence is here— help us out on them, $1.00 values, 59c, $1.98 values, 99c.

Ladies', Misses', Childrens WOOL GLOVES

These did not sell last year and this year the sales are less. They should be $1.00. How about 49c?

LEOTARDS

Comfo tights by Clausner —the worst mistake we made — $2.95 values $1.00 pair.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S SWEATERS

Dupont Orlon in Cardigans or slippers. These are selling at $1.98.

WOMEN'S SWEAT SHIRTS

Warm cotton slipover sweat shirts with 2 pockets. Not good, not bad, $1.00 each.

MEN'S $1.95 WOOL SOX

Too heavy, too hot, too something — They didn't sell. How about $1.00 pair?

MEN'S $1.00 INTERWOVEN INITIAL SOX

We never have the right initial. 2 pairs for $1.00.

LADIES' HOUSE SHOES

You never like the "last" pair so they are left. 50 pairs, "Last of the lot." Values to $3.95, $1.00 pr.

JARMAN SHOES

60 pairs left, just odds and ends. No real good ones, however they sold up to $13.95 and are now only $5.00.

WOMEN'S SHOES

We are probably crazy to reduce these shoes so much but here is a lot of 135 pairs of late fall shoes we don't need. Shoes like these sold as high as $7.95. You can take your pick of what's left at $1.98 and good riddance we'd say.

BOY'S CORDUROY SHIRTS

These are nice, warm washable corduroys but they have been slipping in sales so we are slipping the price down. 2-6, $1.69, 8 to 16, $2.49.

ARROW WHITE SHIRTS

Discontinued numbers — These have been unfolded, tried on and anyway just don't look up to snuff. They are $4.50 values (Maybe) for only $1.98.

Men's Women's Children's SLIPPER SOX

The left overs from 2 seasons— You will buy for $1.98. Children's Flannelette Pajamas 2-piece sleepers of warm flannel-ette. You bought knits so we are stuck with these. Maybe you will buy them for $1.00.

BOYS' ROBES

We always buy 12 and sell 2. We are on the same go-round this time. Sizes to 16, $1.98 each.

TEA TOWELS

36-in. tea towels. Not a white elephant but worth the money. 5 for $1.00.

LADIES' DRESSES

We have some in this group that just came in—they were late on delivery. We need them out of the way to make room for new spring stuff. You will be amazed at the terrific values at ONE - HALF PRICE.

RIPON STRETCH SLIPPERS

It will pay you to buy these for next Christmas. $1.00 each.

EAR MUFFS

We bought too many and all too dark. 59c quality, 39c.

SHEETS

Garza or Cannon white muslin. Fitted or 81x108. The lowest price we have heard of! $1.68 each.

Lawtex Chenille SPREADS

These are supposed to be double size but just to be honest they are a little skimpy. So we are offering them at a skimpy price: $2.98.

BLANKETS

You will be amazed at this table of blankets. The styles are not exactly what you would pick but the values are here — $3.88.

Asst. GROUPS OF FABRICS

You'll swear off of sewing when you see these Fabrics. Frankly instead of wasting you time and money with fabrics like these you'll probably be happier if you just keep on wearing last year's dresses. One group of 36 inch assorted cottons in faded prints, checks and stripes, 43c yard.

CORDUROY IVY PANTS

Snaps in front, snaps on side with snap tabs on back pockets. Finest Wale corduroy. Maybe we are prejudiced as you did not buy them for $6.98. As a starter how about $3.98?

BLIZZARD HOODED SWEAT SHIRTS

Warm white hooded sweat shirts flocked in Royal blue "Winters Blizzards" Boys and Girls, a n d larger sizes. $3.95 values. Why not buy 'em at $1.98?

MEN'S SLIPOVER SWEATERS

The way they take to Bulkies we should have known not to buy these long sleeve Orions or Banlons. Do you know better than to buy 'em at $2.98?

MEN'S WESTERN HATS

We goofed again. Every time we try something different in color or style in Men's Western Hats we get stuck with them. Do you want an everyday Big Brim? — 3 1-2 or 4 in. that is worth $10.95 for $5.00. See these if you think you might.

AMERITEX QUILTED

Fine patterns in quilted cottons. "We may be bragging a bit," as the patterns might not be as good as we think. Anyway, the price is only $1.00 yard. Matching cottons, 59c yard.

DRAPERY

54-in. wide drapery that at one time we thought was good at $1.98. We want it out of our way, 88c yd.

WOMEN'S WATER REPELLANT COATS

Not enough rains so we have 7 left. Take your pick, $5.00.

WOMEN'S SKIRTS

Donovan, Bobbie Brooks, Catalina, and all the odds and ends from fall in wool and velveteen skirts—They should have sold for up to $14.95. If you want a good buy, pick one now for $5.00.

FANCY FABRICS

If you want to be a well dressed wall flower at the next party just pick out some of these brocades, failles, peau de soie, etc., 36 and 48 inches wide that were regularly $1.98 and $2.98 per yard. Now 98c yard.

COMFORTS

Too late, too late — they were 30 days on the road and nearly missed Christmas. We don't want them till next year, so buy 'em. 1 big lot, values to $10.95 — $6.90.
