Rev. Flathmann To Attend Church Convention In SA

The Southern District of The American Lutheran Church will hold its first annual convention at Christ Lutheran Church, San Antonio, on April 11-14.

Over 500 pastors and lay delegates of the church from Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana are expected to attend the convention that will be the first since three Lutheran bodies merged in the fall of 1960, and officially came into being on January 1, 1961.

Dr. Frederik Schlotz, president of the Church from Minneapolis, Minn., will be among the featured speakers at the convention.

Also due to attend on the program is Dr. Conrad Thompson, Director of Evangelism of The American Lutheran Church, plus other leaders from the headquarters of the Church in Minneapolis, who will speak on special programs on the Church and meet with standing committees of the District.

One of the highlights of the Convention will be on Wednesday evening, April 12, when The Una Sancta, a musical work for instruments and voices, composed especially for the Constituting Convention of the Church about a year ago, will be presented in Christ Lutheran Church, by their combined choirs.

Attending the convention from St. John Lutheran Church of Winters will be the Rev. H. K. Flathmann and Marvin Onken as delegates. A report on the convention will be given by these delegates to the congregation shortly after they return home.

The Rev. Flathmann, who recently attended a pre-convention briefing session in Austin, will be one of the seven Group Discussion Leaders, who will be in charge of the sessions in which the delegates will consider the Pre-Convention Reports of District committees, and the reports and resolutions of the Plenary Committee, before they come up on the floor of the convention for ratification or action. As Chairman of the District Stewardship Committee, The Rev. Flathmann will also present the 1962 proposed budget of the District to the convention, as well as other related matters from this committee.

"The Alamo" Starts At State Theatre Friday, April 7

"THE ALAMO"

There is something new under the Hollywood sun, a motion picture spectacle which not only has a message but which proclaims it, loud and clear—a message with monumental entertainment, a message of savage action and romantic tenderness.

This film is John Wayne's $12,000,000 Technicolor spectacle "The Alamo," a chapter of true-life history brought to completion on the parched plain of South Texas after 83 grueling days of shooting, and opening Friday at the State Theatre, through United Artists release.

John Wayne, who for 14 years cherished the dream of bringing this epic to the screen said of it, shortly after completing the climatic battle scenes, "This is going to shake hell out of people all over the world. And that is what I want most of all to accomplish."

"I want to remind the freedom-loving people of the world that not too long ago there were men and women in America who had the guts to stand up and fight for the things they believed in."

That is the message, and the inspiration, of "The Alamo." It is not subtle, indirect, or oblique. It is a message that is peculiarly applicable to today's world and to today's America, leading the fight for the preservation of man's liberties and his dignity.

"The people of the Alamo," said Wayne, who produced, directed and starred in the epic film, "realized that in order to live decently a man must be prepared to die decently. There were no namby-pamby pussyfoots, malingers or skeddaddlers in that brave band. They were rough, lusty, hard-fighting, hard-drinking, hard-loving men who held to one common conviction, that freedom is worth fighting and dying for, and they gave their last drop of blood to be true to it."

"In San Antonio, Texas, the Alamo is venerated as a sacred shrine, but it does not belong to Texas alone. It belongs to people everywhere who value the priceless treasure that has always been bought with blood: freedom."

Social Security Sets Dates For Quarterly Visits In Winters

Floyd B. Ellington, District manager of the San Angelo Social Security office reports that Paul McCowen, field representative will be in Winters at the Chamber of Commerce Building on the following dates: April 13 and 26; May 19 and 24; June 14 and 23.

"A chain is only as strong as its weakest link." This old, but true, saying well applies to efforts to provide effective social security insurance protection for household workers, according to reports from the San Angelo Social Security office. The "weakest link" is generally the housewife who fails to live up to or doesn't understand, her responsibility under the law.

"As little as $4 a week amounts to more than $50 a calendar quarter and must be reported to the Internal Revenue Service," states Ellington.

Domestic work is covered by the law if the worker is paid at least $50 in cash wages during a calendar quarter by one employer. If the housewife is the "weak link" and fails to report these wages, the worker will not receive social security credits and may not be eligible to receive retirement or disability benefits.

The social security tax is 3 percent of the wages involved for both the worker and employer. The employer should be certain that the worker's correct social security number is shown on the return.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	John	18	4-9
Monday	John	18	10-14
Tuesday	Luke	23	13-21
Wednesday	Mark	15	15-20
Thursday	Matthew	27	33-38
Friday	Philippians	2	1-3
Saturday	Timothy	2	1-6

Do you gain any real comfort from that old cliché about dark clouds having silver linings? Who can peel a cloud to find its happy lining?

But frustration has been a blessing to many men. It has driven self-centered souls to seek a new fulcrum for life. It has brought men to God . . . acknowledging human failure . . . seeking divine strength.

And as they have found in the Church comfort and courage they have learned anew the spiritual meaning of defeat and victory.

The One that this world crucified is King of kings. Beyond a cross and a crown of thorns our greatest aspirations await us.

miner was receiving $27 a day for his work, thanks to John L. Lewis? Has the coal been replaced by cheaper gas or fuel oil? Taxes too high? Hundreds of textile mills moved south from New England because labor costs got too high, taxes excessive, featherbedding and what have you. In some areas of the south all ad valorem taxes were suspended on new textile plants for five or more years.

Maybe the new legislation will help a bit here or there. But think of the cost. And like a habit-forming drug, think of this new incentive to go to Uncle Sam with hat in hand to alleviate a problem that can and should be handled by local people. At least the States should shoulder the major portion of the job, if local people can't handle it.

Even when the light is electrically lighted, they light lamps fastened to their caps. This light allows them to walk in dark places, to examine the face of the rock, and to operate their machinery.

"We place in our hearts and minds the promises of God to light our way past ignorance, the darkness of doubt; the uncertainties of our minds. God alone knows what should be done; He alone knows what we can do.

"The Bible contains the concrete guidance of God. It is there that we learn the work of God. In the teachings of Christ, we learn what the mind of God is."

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car, outside all the rest, the way this new Chevrolet is doing—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-lined look of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "pep" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-carbure Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-Smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a first class car.

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

AND JUST ONE JET-SMOOTH RIDE WILL SHOW YOU WHY!

Official R. L. Polk & Co. registration figures show Chevrolet earned the second-highest market share in 1960—18.4%—and Chevrolet continues to set the pace for the industry this year!

BABSON SAYS

ing of Both Wages and Prices e Only Way To Win Cold War"

Mass. — Unfor- gerous paradox in the present situa- tion of "getting used to the cold war." Surely, full employment depends now on continuation of the cold war. This is resulting in a new attitude on the part of both conservatives and liberals, Republicans and Democrats. It has become as popular as cocktail parties. No one yet has had the courage to check it.

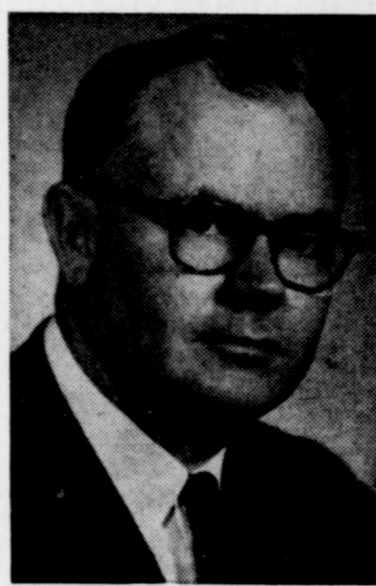

What About John Birch?
It now looks as though the only way to combat the present contentment with the "cold war" with its spiraling wage and upward price movements—will be through the arbitrary "freezing" of both wages and prices. This is the first step toward making President Kennedy an economic dictator . . . which I expect to see. He is now preparing the ground for such a move by appointing so many of his family and intimate friends to important posts. Watch his future moves.

Another movement to watch is the John Birch Society, which has "Americanism" of the DAR type as its watchword although it favors a semi-dictatorship for the nation. It is named after John Birch, who was a Christian missionary in China and later fought with the Nationalist Chinese in their war against the Japanese. Birch was promoted to a Captain and worked in the Intelligence Division under General Chennault. On August 25, 1945, Birch was killed by the Chinese Communists. The present national leader of the Society is a neighbor of mine, Robert Welch, of Belmont, Mass.

MR. AND MRS. GUS GERHART

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gerhart Observed Golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gerhart, pioneer residents of Runnels County, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with open house from 2:30 until 5:30 p. m. Saturday, April 1, at their home at 212 West Pierce.

Hosts for the affair were the children of the couple, their husbands and wives. They are Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Gerhart, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gerhart of Lometa, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hoppe and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Presley.

Hosts assisted their parents in greeting the guests and Mrs. Delbert Kruse, a granddaughter, presided at the register. The tea table, laid with lace over yellow, was centered with an arrangement of gold mums. Ann Presley and Charlene Gerhart, granddaughters, presided at the table. Rhanae Hoppe and Brenda Presley assisted in showing gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart were married April 5, 1911, in St. John's Lutheran Church. Their attendants were her brother, Ed and his sister, Ellen, now Mrs. Rino Voss. The couple met when Mr. Gerhart visited her brother, Ed, at their home on a ranch northwest of Ballinger.

They made the trip with two heavily loaded wagons and a hack and were on the road eight days. The family settled on two sections of land eleven miles east of Winters.

Mrs. Gerhart was born September 16, 1889, in Bell County, and came to a ranch northeast of Ballinger.

New Grass Variety, Premier, Released

Foundation seed for Premier, a new variety of side oats grama, were released to Texas certified seed growers in the spring of 1960 by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Seed should be available through commercial channels for general planting in 1961.

Premier is superior to available commercial strains of side oats grama because of its ability to grow and produce seed under limited moisture conditions. In a limited number of tests, this new variety has produced more seed than the commercial strains, Coronado, Uvalde and Vaughn. A desirable characteristic of Premier is its tendency to retain its spikes after maturity, which permits all of the seed to reach full maturity before harvest.

Another advantage of Premier is the forage it produces. The stout, upright stems produce an abundance of long, broad leaves. Also, the seed of Premier germinate readily, and the seedlings develop into mature plants in approximately 120 days.

No major problems were observed concerning Premier's susceptibility to insects and diseases. Some leaf and stem rust has been observed at all test locations, but the degree of infection was no greater than with recognized commercial strains.

Premier is recommended for the area bounded by Lubbock, Sonora, Stephenville and Marfa. It should be planted in sandy loam, loam and clay loam soils at the rate of 1 pound of pure live seed per acre. Seeding should be done in early spring, and competitive plants should be controlled by spraying or mowing.

For further information on Premier, write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, and ask for a copy of L-504.

Southwest GROWTH

KEY TO INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITIES

We send this free booklet to industry leaders as another step in our area development program

THE business of West Texas Utilities Company is growing because the area we serve is growing. But our plant expansion is growing faster than our business. That's because we work hard to stay ahead of the additional area growth we are convinced is coming. To stimulate even more growth, we are engaged in an extensive program designed to invite new industry our way. The campaign includes an advertising schedule in national publications, personal visits to industrial areas, development of statistical data, and area booklets such as the one shown above. This is one of the ways we work with and for our communities to assist in local development. We do so with enthusiasm and vigor because of our conviction that this area faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Tax Bill Passed By House Broad Enough To Add Other Money Raising Plans

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Texas Senate now has a tax bill—one designed to wipe out about half the deficit that is expected to be about $63,000,000 when the new fiscal year starts September 1.

Revenue-raising measures must be passed by the House before they can be considered by the Senate, and the upper chamber has waited with polite impatience for the House to send it something to work on.

Number Families Receiving Extension Aid Sets Record

The number of farm and urban families, homemakers, and youth receiving assistance from the Co-operative Extension Service of the U. S. Department and Land-Grant Colleges and Universities last year set a record.

As 1960 nears its close, the Extension Service said that nationally more than 13 million people took advantage of the agency's "out-of-school" educational program to help solve farm, home and community problems. This was an increase of 7 percent, about a million people, over the previous year.

County agents estimated they answered over 8 million requests for assistance on problems related to agricultural production and marketing. Home economics workers helped almost 8.5 million families solve home and family living problems involving home management, foods, nutrition, housing, clothing and financial planning. Enrollment in 4-H Clubs reached 2,301,722. All are records, the Service said.

Demands from nonfarm families for assistance in gardening, landscaping, consumer buying and related subjects continued to grow. Extension workers also assisted large numbers of farm co-operatives, agricultural supply and marketing firms and county and community groups.

Rural Development—an inter-agency program for assisting low-income counties—received increased emphasis. The work centers on making fullest use of local resources and community and area improvement projects. Extension helps bring together farmers, business and civic leaders and representatives of farm organizations and Government agencies to work as a team and provides technical knowledge and educational skill for developing effective programs.

More families asked for Extension's help in acquiring managerial skills and knowledge to cope with today's agricultural problems. Farm and Home Development—an intensive educational effort which considers the farm and home as a unit—is being used in many states as an aid for solving the adjustment problems.

Consumers continued to benefit from Extension work. Their educational work on the proper use of agricultural chemicals to insure supplies of food and fiber required to feed and clothe the growing population was cited as one example. Extension workers last year received about 10 million calls for assistance in insect control. Some 56,000 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H entomology projects received training in the safe handling of pesticides.

On the home side, Extension workers continued to get more requests for help on family economics. They gave assistance on such problems as family budgeting, to provide for financial security and when and how to use credit. From 1952-58, there was a 125 percent increase in the number of families adopting Extension recommended practices in family economics.

Passed 5-to-60 by the House was the co-called "lookhole bill" by Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger.

It is a sort of catchall bill that (1) plugs up some leaks in the revenue bill passed last session, taxing central air conditioners, juke boxes, etc., (2) provides for a transfer of 1 percent of the permanent school fund to the available school fund, (3) sets up a two-factor formula for corporate franchise taxes and (4) levies a state gift tax of one-half the federal gift tax.

Captain of the Ballman bill is broad enough that a variety of other money raising plans could be added to it should legislators be able to agree to them.

Meanwhile, the House Revenue and Taxation Committee still has a lot of other tax bills in the mill. Three sales tax bills were sent to subcommittee, as well as a hotly debated proposal to levy a 10 percent tax on trading stamps.

A trading company spokesman said there is only a three percent profit on the operation and that a 10 percent tax would put them out of business.

On the other hand, stamps were attacked as "counterfeit money" and an unnecessary burden on both merchant and consumer.

STRIKE THREE

Texas Supreme Court made short work of a 1959-passed tax law that many lawmakers had hoped would be a potent future revenue raiser.

Without issuing an opinion, the high court agreed with the trial court and civil appeals court that the severance beneficiary tax on gas is unconstitutional.

Although three state courts have turned thumbs down on the gas tax, the last chapter remains to be written by the U. S. Supreme Court. As passed in 1959, the gas tax was low (1-1/2 percent of market value), but supporters had indicated that if the law survived its court battles, the rate would be raised to bring in more money.

LADIES SCORE IN HOUSE

House has passed and sent to the Senate a proposed constitutional amendment that would automatically erase all statutes that treat women differently from men.

Rep. Ben Atwell's very brief amendment states that "equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of sex." It passed the House 135-to-10.

Senators have misgivings about causing such sweeping changes in the law. Some 44 statutes would be affected.

LOAN FIGHT SHAPES UP

House members are coming to grips with one of the session's toughest issues—regulation of small loan companies.

House Committee on Banks and Banking reported to the floor a bill authored by Rep. Criss Coie of Houston. It is being subjected to widespread criticism, but Coie, long-time veteran of the loan regulation effort, declared that no bill was going to satisfy all the interested factions.

Cole's bill sets up a sliding scale that would allow interest rates of just under 40 percent on loans of $100 and dropping gradually to about 11 percent on a $3,000 loan. It also allows for "reasonable insurance charges," at rates set by the State Board of Insurance.

Abner McCall of Waco, spokesman of a statewide committee for sound loan laws, said the interest rates were too high and that the limit on credit insurance charges should be clearly defined.

BREWERIES (PRO AND CON)

Legal restrictions on breweries and the desirability of having breweries at all came up for spirited discussion before the Senate State Affairs Committee.

Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth is author of the House-passed bill that would give brewers of ale the privilege, as beer makers, to continue their operations in a territory after it is voted dry. It would also increase from one year to three years the time allowed a brewery to begin production after it got its license.

A large out-of-state manufacturer of ale is planning to build a $20,000,000 plant in Tarrant County. Any change would, of course, affect the whole state.

Supporters of the bill emphasized the new jobs and payroll it would create. Opponents, mostly ministers and church leaders, declared it would contribute to the problems of alcoholism.

PHONE RATES STUDIED

House State Affairs Committee is studying a bill by Rep. Dan Struve of Campbellton that would place regulation of telephone service, within the state's borders, in the hands of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Representative Struve says Texas is one of two states that do not have this sort of regulation and that other states have lower rates.

Other witnesses testified that a long distance call within Texas borders costs more than one of the same distance that crosses the state line.

PRE-PAID FUNERALS DEBATED

Funeral directors and cemetery operators clashed before both House and Senate committee over a bill to restrict pre-paid funeral arrangements.

Funeral directors declared that their only desire was to protect the public by requiring that money paid in advance for funeral expenses be put in a trust fund.

Cemetery and mortuary operators retorted that the funeral directors wanted to discourage pre-paying of funeral expenses. They contended that families who make funeral arrangements at the time of bereavement spend more money than if arrangements are made in advance.

SHORT SNORTS

A test vote in the Senate indicated that Sen. Dorsey Harde-man's proposal to abolish the Court of Criminal Appeals and transfer its duties to the State Supreme Court, is short of enough support for passage. . . . Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston says he will introduce a bill to allow nurses registered in other states to practice in Texas, thus to help alleviate the shortage of registered nurses.
