Some weeks ago the students taking the course went to Ballinger to take the written portion of the driver's test. Upon passing this part of the test, each received a restricted driving permit, with which they are permitted to drive an automobile if there is a licensed operator in the front seat with them.

FROM SAN ANTONIO
Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hutcherson, Mrs. Erman Greer, Barbara and Valeria of San Antonio spent last week visiting in the home of Mrs. A. D. Lea.

VISITED SISTER
Hugh E. Richie of Plainview spent the week end visiting in the home of his sister, Mrs. Lora Coupland.

Next Monday, July 17, will be the first day of the week-long clean up drive in Winters. The drive will continue through July 21.

This annual clean up week is being sponsored jointly by the City of Winters and the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

Residents are asked to cooperate in cleaning up the town by picking up all trash and refuse on their property, mowing weeds and tall grass, and also clean up vacant lots.

To climax the drive, City crews will pick up all accumulated trash on Thursday and Friday, July 20-21. It is understood there will be extra trucks put to work hauling trash on these two days. Residents are asked to place trash in the regular pick-up places where it will be accessible to the pick-up crews.

Pick-up crews will load and haul away all trash, even tree limbs, if they are placed in readily accessible places.

City crews also will try to cut weeds and tall grass on city property, and residents are asked to take care of mowing on vacant lots and on their own property.

There will be a need for several men to work during the clean-up week. Mrs. B. B. Bedford, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, said. Men who are interested in working this week are requested to contact the chamber of commerce office.

In setting aside this "Clean-Up Week," Mayor H. D. Jones and spokesmen for the chamber of commerce are urging everyone to cooperate. "If all of us will work toward that end," they said, "Winters will be recognized as the cleanest and most pleasant place to live in West Texas. Outsiders mold their opinion of the progressiveness of a community by the cleanliness of a town. "It will take very little effort if everyone will do his share," they pointed out, "and the results will be a cleaner, more attractive community."

Roger W. Babson Discusses Trend Of Stock Market During Last 100 Years

Babson Park, Mass. Business was prosperous during the Civil War due largely to inflation, and started to boom directly afterward. The shooting of President Lincoln, however, caused stocks to tumble and a year of depressed business followed.

Unexpected Events

Again business began to boom with further inflation until the famous "Black Friday" in 1869, followed by another year of depressed business. Stocks quickly rebounded, and again investors were looking forward to several years of prosperity when, in late 1871, the Chicago Fire occurred. This was followed by the great Boston Fire in 1872.

The market had just about again recovered when the failure of the great banking house of Jay Cooke and Company was suddenly announced. For the first time, the leading Stock Exchanges closed for several weeks. There followed the great depression beginning in 1873; then higher stock prices finally returned as a result of another dose of inflation.

Important Banking Failures

Suddenly, on July 2, 1881, President Garfield was shot. A chain reaction of selling followed. During this period, the banking house of Grant and Ward, and the two leading "bulls," Henry Villard and James R. Keene, announced their failures. Depression followed.

1892 was a year of great prosperity; but suddenly the failure of the National Cordage Company was announced in May, 1893. This was then one of the ten biggest "blue chip" corporations.

Labor Strikes Begin

The following year the Pullman Strike—first serious labor strike—occurred and cast fear and gloom over the stock market. This was accompanied by a series of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures.

THIS IS IT!
BE TRIM WITH
the new effective vitamin-mineral reducing aid
SLIMETTE
MAIN DRUG COMPANY

Again in 1897 business steadily improved and permanent prosperity was prophesied, accompanied by stock splits, mergers, and large security offerings. Suddenly, in 1903, there came rumors of great quantities of "undigested" securities . . . accompanied by the investigation of large life insurance and traction companies. The crash came just following the San Francisco Earthquake.

Supreme Court Decisions

Up to this time the Supreme Court had decided questions only between the States. Suddenly, in the early 1900's, it issued its "Northern Securities" decision. This took the zip out of the stock market until the first World War began. After the closing of the New York Stock Exchange for several months, there followed some years of prosperity.

Then came the sinking of the S. S. Lusitania and our entrance into World War I. All went well with the economy until after the War when soaring interest rates and commodity prices brought on another collapse. This was quickly corrected and the stock market continued to advance until it reached an all-time high in 1929.

Speculation and the Crash of 1929
Then came the business collapse in Europe with the continued withdrawal of gold, climaxed by the very sudden failure of the Austrian Credit-Anstalt. This caused startling repercussions throughout the world. There followed several years of real depression.

Beginning in 1938 there was another recovery in business lasting throughout World War II, but this did not help the stock market much until 1942. With the exception of several relatively brief adjustment periods, our country has enjoyed good business for about 23 years.

What of the Future?

The preceding one hundred years teach two lessons:
(1) That there has always been an economic race between inflation and production. These inflation were of different kinds, — stock market, commodity, political; but they always gave business a "shot in the arm." Fortunately, this . . . the great era of railroad building; opening of the South and West to farming; and finally increased commodity production due to inventions and advertising, accompanied by the electrical, chemical, and automobile eras.

(2) That when each prosperity period came to an end, it was from an unexpected event, — a great fire, an earthquake, or the failure of some banking house or large corporation. In wartime, inflation always has been resorted to. We expect it will occur again to provide funds for the "cold war." This should mean higher prices for stocks, commodities, and real estate. Yet the period of inflation we are now entering may be absorbed by the "space era," which is an unexpected event on the optimistic side.

Babson Park, Mass. In addition to my beloved father and mother there are four outstanding people who have guided my life. These are Joan of Arc of France, Sir Isaac Newton of England, Isabel Babson of Gloucester, Mass., and Cecil John Rhodes of South Africa.

Joan of Arc the Unexpected

In the center of the public square, facing the home where I spent fifteen youthful years, is a life-size statue of Joan of Arc riding a horse and holding a sword. The statue was chiseled by the famous sculptress Mrs. Anna Hyatt Huntington. Joan of Arc not only has inspired me with courage; but has taught me to expect the unexpected. Her life shows how an unknown eighteen-year-old girl can change the fortunes of two entire nations. One year France was in supremacy and all English fortunes were at a very low ebb; then in a few weeks the picture completely changed. England became powerful and wealthy—despite the wicked trickery of the English who caught Joan with a flag of truce and burnt her at the stake.

Sir Isaac Newton and Economics

In the late 17th century, Newton announced to the world his Law of Action and Reaction, later called the "Business Cycle." Isaac Newton — unlike President Kennedy and his advisers—stated that periods of unemployment and suffering were caused by previous excesses of economic activity, waste, and luxury. In fact, Sir Isaac Newton's teachings were the foundation of my business.

We now have the third largest Newtonia collection in the world. His actual library was brought by Mrs. Grace K. Babson from London and built into the Newton Library at the Babson Institute. My forecasts today are based upon the teachings of Sir Isaac Newton—in a way — founded Babson's Reports.

Isabel Babson of Cape Ann

Early in the 17th century a wonderful woman and her young son James left London in a sailing vessel for a six-weeks trip across the Atlantic Ocean to Salem, Mass. From Salem they came to Cape Ann where Isabel became physician, midwife, and pre-natal nurse to the sixty families then living on Cape Ann. From her son James all Babsons in America are believed to have descended.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE— Closer Look At Omnibus Farm Bill

It's about time for taking a close, honest look at the Administration's proposed long-range Omnibus Farm Bill.

What will it do? Is it a "dictatorial" bill as has been charged? How does it affect existing farm laws? What would it change, and why?

To begin with, the farm bill is a far-reaching measure designed to up-date the carrying-out of national agricultural programs by snipping away red tape and making the operation of such programs more democratic in nature. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman's bill is predicated on the principle of opportunity for the farmer equal to that of any other basic producer in the American economy, and he seeks to give the farmer himself a voice in insuring that opportunity.

The bill deals with all major program areas of American agriculture, but its major section relates to supply adjustment and price stabilization. This section provides the machinery whereby farmers can work together with the government to adjust their production to modern needs and conditions. Commodity advisory committees made up of farmers would work with the Secretary of Agriculture to set up referendum elections for the individual farmers themselves to decide on price supports and/or production controls, subject to approval by the President and the Congress.

Criticism of the bill has been most severe in publications where basic prejudice against any type of government assistance to farmers (the only producers in our economy who have no way to influence financial rewards of their enterprise) has overshadowed responsibility for reporting the facts.

They charge that the Secretary of Agriculture seeks "dictatorial powers" and "stiff controls" on farmers when, in fact, no powers or controls could be effected unless the farmers of individual commodities themselves asked for and overwhelmingly approved them. In addition, Congress would be required to approve such programs but would be spared the tedium of formulating them—having left that task to the Secretary and the farmers themselves.

An even bigger fact which critics have overlooked is that the Secretary of Agriculture now possesses most of the powers which he is charged with seeking. Existing agricultural legislation authorizes him to prescribe conditions of eligibility (such as required compliance with acreage allotments) before making producers eligible for price support. He can also establish nationwide marketing orders, after appropriate fact-finding, on any commodity. And he can do these things without consulting with any farmer and without referring such proposed orders to Congress.

The Secretary of Agriculture, however, has no desire to set effective programs for American farmers into effect by such arbitrary action—unless he is hamstrung on this current farm legislation, in which case he would have little or no alternative.

Of course, as Texas Congressman Bob Poage of Waco—a veteran in the field of farm legislation—has said, this farm bill, like all long and comprehensive measures, needs amendment to insure its fully democratic character. The Secretary has agreed to such changes, and argument on these points for the sake of controversy is nothing more than beating a dead horse.

The basic reasoning behind a change in the formulation of agricultural policy is obvious but not realized by most people: Agriculture directly influences but a small minority of American citizens—though a lot of Texans—today, and that influence is going to get smaller rather than larger to get smaller and more difficult each year for Congressmen from big cities to vote for farm programs in which their constituents are not interested and

April of this year marked the 300th Anniversary of Isabel's death. A small Pre-Natal College is being started in her memory. It will be located at 69 Main Street, Gloucester, Mass., where she had her humble log cabin hospital and became known as "Good Woman Babson."

The fourth character who greatly influenced my life was Cecil Rhodes of London who, broken down with tuberculosis, boarded a sailing vessel to South Africa. Since I have also been so afflicted, Cecil Rhodes is one of my "saints." He became the bold developer of Rhodesia and Africa's greatest statesman and financier—working toward the Congo about which we hear so much today. He died in 1902 at the age of 49. I visited his grave in Africa. His dying words were: "So much to do, and so little time in which to do it." He said this after developing the diamond and gold mines of Africa and leaving all his great wealth to international education.

Ancestry Studies Are Good Hobbies

The study of ancestry has been a hobby of mine and I recommend it to other businessmen as a change from collecting stamps and similar means of keeping one's mind employed. Studying ancestry is a most fascinating and surprising avocation. Furthermore, it means we are collecting new and permanent data which can be bequeathed to our heirs. All such work which we do is cumulative and can be carried on further by others after our death.

Those who have the time should interest their children and grandchildren in the laws of heredity, including genes and chromosomes and the new polymer sciences which may completely upset the orthodox theories of heredity. If we could interest our teenagers in the polymers, it might result in much happier marriages and more useful grandchildren.

tion—has said, this farm bill, like all long and comprehensive measures, needs amendment to insure its fully democratic character. The Secretary has agreed to such changes, and argument on these points for the sake of controversy is nothing more than beating a dead horse.

Identical Twins Repeated Vows In Double Wedding Ceremony

Wedding vows were solemnized in a candlelight double wedding ceremony Wednesday, June 30, in the Sundown First Baptist Church for Linda Rae and Glinda Fae Huffman, identical twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Huffman of Sundown.

Linda Rae became the bride of Richard Louis Stafford, recently elected football coach and teacher of Winters High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Shockley of Temple. Glinda Fae was the bride of Bud F. Rusk of Seminole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Rusk of Seminole.

The Rev. Gaston Green of Sundown officiated for the double ring ceremonies before a large arch decorated with greenery and pink carnations flanked with baskets of white gladioli and candelabras holding white tapers.

Miss Patty White, organist, furnished traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Glynn Lee, soloist, who sang "Bless This House," "Hand in Hand," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For the Huffman-Stafford wedding, Linda Shockley of Temple, sister of the groom was candlelighter, Kay Boles, flower girl and Ronnie Shockley of Temple, brother of the groom, ring bearer.

Ushers were Don Huffman, brother of the bride and Robert Foster, both of Sundown. Winston Bookner of Brady was best man. Glinda Fae Huffman served her twin sister as maid of honor and Cheryl Crabtree of Sundown was bridesmaid.

For the Huffman-Rusk ceremony, Nancy Huffman, sister of the brides, was candlelighter, Reshia Harris, flower girl and Aaron Harris, ring bearer. Bill Rusk of Plainview, brother of the groom, was best man and ushers were Don Perry of Midland and Charles Latch of Sundown. Linda Rae also served her twin sister as maid of honor and Mrs. Clifford Hart-sell of Sundown, aunt of the brides, was bridesmaid.

All attendants wore identical dresses of romance blue crystal soise designed with scoop necklines and brief sleeves. Cummerbunds at the waist enhanced the gathered skirts. They wore hats of blue organza petals tipped with pearls, white gloves, a single strand of pearls and carried a long-stemmed pink rose.

Given in marriage by their father, the brides wore gowns of misty white silk organza fashioned with fitted bodice of chantilly lace and silk organza, scoop necklines, and shirred elbow length sleeves. A lace inset dropping from the waist accented the bouffant ballerina length skirts. Their shoulder length veils of silk illusion fell from tieras studded with pearls and they carried a white orchid surrounded with tiny rose buds atop a white lace and satin covered YWA Bible. They wore single strands of pearls, gifts from their parents. The brides carried the old tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue and a sixpence in their shoe.

Following the ceremonies, a reception was held in the Fellowship hall of the church with brides' parents serving as hosts. The brides' table, laid with white nylon net over blue, featured their bridal bouquets, attendants flowers, three pink candies and two identical white wedding cakes trimmed with pink roses topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Helen Taylor, Mrs. Glynn Lee, Louise Wilson, Lanell Phillips, Mrs. Joe Craddock, Mrs. John McInturff, Judith Storey, Sherry Bitton and Carolyn McLeRoy.

For traveling the brides wore white embossed taffeta sheath with white accessories and a corsage from the bridal bouquets.

The brides are 1961 graduates of Sundown High School, members of the 1961 Class "A" State Basketball team and majorettes for four years. Linda was band sweetheart and Glinda, homecoming queen.

Mr. Stafford, a graduate of Temple High School, is a graduate of Texas Tech College where he was a member of the varsity football team, Double "T" Association and Phi Epsilon Kappa Professional Fraternity.

Mr. Rusk, a graduate of Sundown High School, is a graduate of South Plains College and plans to enter West Texas State College this fall. He is employed with the Ortho Division of California Chemical Company in Seminole at the present time.

tening to what people said about a carpenter from Nazareth, he began to change. One day he fol- lowed the crowd and listened to Jesus. What he heard deepened the torment of his conscience. But he went again and again. Then the day came when he was ready. Jesus came to the tax office and said to him, "Follow me." And, as the Scripture says, "He rose and followed . . ." Quality of Hay Is Influenced By Time of Harvest

The haying season is in full swing in Texas. The quality of the crop harvested may well depend, says Geo. McBee, extension pas- ture specialist, on the stage of growth of the plants when cut and the length of the drying period.

McBee suggests early cutting when nutrients in the plants are near the peak but with adjustment for management practices to maintain stands and fast drying to conserve the feeding value of the crop.

From the standpoint of total di- gestible nutrients, plants accumu- late most nutrients during vegeta- tive stages of growth, points out the specialist. Some plants may lose up to 60 percent or more of their crude protein when harvest is delayed until they reach ma- turity.

Generally, McBee likes to time the harvest to catch the plant in the boot stage or in early bloom. Quality is best in the Sudan group at the boot stage.

Coastal Bermuda should be har- vested when it reaches 16-18 in- ches in height; native grasses in the boot to early bloom stage; alfalfa when a tenth to a fourth of the plants are blooming and lespedeza at the first bloom. As plants get older, continues McBee, the quality declines and the undi- gestible fibers increase.

After the hay is cut, the mois- ture content should be reduced to safe storage level as soon as pos- sible. Protein and other nutrients lost after the hay is cut often amount to 30 percent or more in some plants depending upon the length of the drying period. And finally, points out McBee, poor

Grandfather of Local Resident Died In Goldthwaite

Henry C. Ezzell, 95, of Goldthwaite, grandfather of Mrs. George R. Hill, died Sunday in the hospital in Goldthwaite following an illness of more than a year. Born June 21, 1866, in Lavaca County, he moved with his parents to Goldthwaite when he was five years old. Mr. Ezzell, a retired farmer, was a member of the Goldthwaite Church of Christ and served as sheriff of Mills County for four years.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Goldthwaite Church of Christ with burial in the Lower Big Valley Cemetery. Survivors include his wife, four daughters, one son, 15 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. Mrs. Hill and daughter Linda attended the funeral services.

Best To Know What Is In The Bag

Seed bargains, like other so-called bargains, can end up being very expensive. Farmers who buy untested or non-recommended varieties of seed may lose all or part of their investment in land, land preparation and fertilizer, warns R. J. Hodges, extension Agronomist.

In the overall cost of producing a crop, seed is a minor item, whether it is the cheapest seed or the most expensive. It generally works out in the end, however, that the cheapest seed is by far the most expensive. There is no possible way to justify the loss in yield and quality that results from using poor seed, when for only a few cents more per acre, good seed of known quality and performance, can be planted, says Hodges.

Will you look for a "bargain" or, more important, will you buy good quality seed. Before you answer, consider the time, labor and money you have invested in the preparation of your land. If you are going to plant poor seed, all of this other work and money may be wasted. Give your land a chance—plant only good quality seed.

Now you may ask, "How will

I be sure that I am getting good seed?" The Texas Seed Act requires that all seed offered for sale at a seed store must bear an analysis tag. This tag has the percent of weed seed, the germination and other data important to the buyer. These are the things that determine whether or not you are getting good or bad seed, explains Hodges.

STATE CAPITOL HIGHLIGHTS

Texas Legislators Back At Work To Solve State's Big Tax Problems

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Texas legislators, like students who failed to complete their work in the long term and have to come back to summer school, return to Austin this week to "get it over with."

Goal is the passage of a two-year appropriations bill expected to run around $2,600,000,000. To pay for it, they will need to find some $350,000,000 more in tax money than now provided on the law books.

But if money is short, advice is not.

At least three committees have a word or two for the lawmakers. Two are unofficial. They are the Citizens for a Sales Tax, whose name explains its purpose, and the Citizens for Fair Taxation, which is pushing Gov. Price Daniel's plan for additional selective sales taxes, plus more business taxes, higher taxes on alcoholic beverages and others.

A third committee, appointed by the Governor, avoided a single, specific recommendation but pinpointed some sort of retail sales tax as the most likely source for the amount of money needed. This committee is composed mainly of the chairmen of governing boards of state welfare and educational agencies.

Committee suggested that either the retail sales tax passed by the Senate last session (a "General" sales tax with exemptions for food, farm supplies, medicine) or a "Pennsylvania-type" tax which affects only the items listed in the bill or a combination of the two might be the answer.

All of which leaves the Legislature just about where it was—with at least some support, and some opposition, for any course it might take.

AUTO INSURANCE RAISED
Beginning August 1, Texas motorists will pay higher premiums for automobile insurance. How high the premium goes will depend on the county in which the motorist lives and its accident record. In general, the big city counties have higher accident rates and insurance premiums than rural counties. In Travis County (Austin), the increase on a typical policy would be 15 per cent; in Dallas County, about 17 per cent.

This is the first increase in the base rate for auto insurance ordered by the State Board of Insurance since 1958. Reductions or increases for traffic accidents and violations under the Safe Driving Plan will continue as before.

Reasons given for the rate raise include:

1. More people than expected qualified for the 20 per cent premium cut allowed under the Safe Driving Plan for drivers with no accidents or violations. This caused a decline in premium income.
2. Generous jury awards for injury and damage claims.
3. Drop in the number of new cars sold last year.
4. Apparent dropping of insurance by some motorists who had previously carried it.

HIGHWAY COSTS UP
Cost of having good roads, the State Highway Department frankly admits, is going up.

Highway Commission has announced a highway maintenance budget for the next fiscal year (Sept. 1, 1961 to Aug. 31, 1962) of $51,300,000—which is up $2,100,000 from the previous year.

Reasons given for the increase: Texas had more than 1,100 new highway miles to care for and it costs more per mile to care for them. But proper upkeep, says the Commission, "stretches the taxpayer's dollar by increasing the life of the road."

Department now maintains 57,575 miles of highway at an average cost of $811 per mile for upkeep. Per mile upkeep cost has increased $19 since the last fiscal year.

HIGHER SPEED, HIGHER TOLL

Beginning September 1, higher toll charges will be made on the Texas Turnpike, linking Dallas and Fort Worth.

Beginning August 28, effective date of authorizing legislation passed last spring, the speed limit on most of the toll road will be raised from 60 to 70 miles per hour.

Toll charges for an end-to-end trip by passenger cars will be hiked from 50 to 60 cents; for heavy trucks, from $1.25 to $1.35.

Texas Turnpike Authority voted the higher fares after receiving estimates that the operation would have a $425,000 deficit at the end of this year unless revenues increased.

SABINE DAM UNDER STUDY
After a hearing on the pros and cons, State Board of Water Engineers has granted the Sabine River Authority's application for a permit to build the proposed Toledo Bend reservoir.

Sabine, for quite a stretch, serves as the boundary between Louisiana and lower East Texas, and the proposed dam is to be a joint Texas-Louisiana project.

Spokesmen for timber interests in the area told the Board the reservoir, slated to be 100 miles long, would put valuable timber under water and sawmill workers out of jobs. It would take 10 years, said a sawmill representative to get all the timber out of the area.

Advocates of the dam contended that the $54,000,000 project will ultimately benefit the area by attracting new industry and helping to offset future water shortage.

MORE JOBS, MORE JOBLESS

CAROLINE'S CAT—The White House cat, Tom Kitten, has new masters and a new name: Tom Terrific. Mrs. Kennedy decided the Executive Mansion was too lonely for the cat and gave him to her personal secretary, Mary Gallagher. Gregory, 3, and Christopher Gallagher, 4, find that Tom adapts easily.

Funeral Rites For R. H. Haupt Held At Lutheran Church

Rudolph H. Haupt, 77, resident of Runnels County since 1900, passed away at 6:30 Saturday morning at the Methodist Hospital in Dallas where he had submitted to surgery the first of the week. He had been a patient in the hospital for two weeks and in ill health for the past two years.

Native of Germany, Mr. Haupt was born March 26, 1884, and came with his parents to America at the age of four. The family settled in Williamson County near Taylor, Texas and came to Runnels County in 1900 and located near Ballinger. In 1907 the family moved to Valley Creek near Winters.

Mr. Haupt was married to Alma Louise Frick of Winters October 17, 1912, and they farmed west of Winters, until they bought a farm near Bradshaw in South Taylor County in 1928. It was in 1956 they moved to Winters.

He was a member of the St. John's Lutheran Church and a progressive farmer of this area.

Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, Ernest of Winters and Hubert of Tuscola; a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Nailling of Dallas, four grandchildren and a great grand daughter; four sisters, Mrs. Annie Bulsterbaum of Abilene, Mrs. Emma Keifer, Mrs. Ida Casey, both of Winters and Mrs. Betty Hall of Sweetwater; two brothers, Paul Haupt of Winters and Albert Haupt of Rockdale.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters with the Rev. H. K. Flathmann, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Lutheran Cemetery.

Casketbearers were Herman Frick, Herbert Haupt, Alvis Waldrop, Fritz Deike, Walter Andrae and Norman Kiefer.

IN GUY HOME

Visitors Thursday in the W. B. Guy home were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Lahm of Ajo, Arizona and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Elders of Ballinger.

ment Commission reports. Employment increased 3,200 over a year ago, but unemployment was up by 30,800, indicating job seekers are increasing 10 times faster than job openings. Average weekly wage for Texas factory workers during May was $91.46, compared to the national average of $92.66.

Education Bill Stymied By Rules Committee

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
Adjournment prospects this year are uncertain. It will depend a lot on what happens in the Senate. If a civil rights hassle develops, as has been indicated, the Senators could easily kill from two to six weeks on that President Kennedy has urged that the subject be avoided this year, but some Senators from Negro areas are chomping at the bits. Just the effort makes good reading in certain radical newspapers.

Actually, the session could easily be concluded by the end of July. There remains on the agenda only a handful of bills which the leadership considers essential. Among them, not already acted upon, are Federal aid to education, foreign aid, extension of reciprocal trade and compulsory health insurance. The latter is being talked about less and may not be pushed at this session.

The education bill has already passed the Senate and is now before the House Rules Committee. But two members of that Committee, both Catholics, have rebelled and refused to report the bill unless another is reported at the same time containing aid for parochial schools.

Another strike against the federal aid to education measure developed the other day when a publication put out by the Office of Education came to light. Entitled "A Federal Education Agency for the Future," it is a blueprint for federal control. Published in April of this year, it has created quite a stir in congressional circles. It is interpreted to be a clincher against the argument that federal control is not intended. And it was prepared and released by an agency of the government that is sponsoring the school aid bill.

Mohair prices sold during the 1960 marketing year averaged 89.7 cents per pound, according to figures just released by the USDA. This is 7 per cent less than the 1959 average of 96.4 cents but is 3 per cent more than the 1950-59 average price of 86.9 cents.

Wool did not do quite so well. Prices received for wool during 1960 averaged 42 cents per pound, 3 per cent less than a year earlier and 23 percent below the 1950-59 average of 54.2 cents per pound.

"The Big Show"

The spectacle, pageantry and excitement of circus life sweep across the screen as 20th Century-Fox brings to the public "The Big Show," one of the year's most unique films blending the realism of life under the big-top with a stark intra-family drama of sadism, ruthlessness and tyranny.

The picture in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color opens Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive In Theatre with Esther Williams, Cliff Robertson, Nehemia Persoff, Robert Vaughn and a score of powerful performers in key roles. Here is double-barreled entertainment, so memorable on both counts that audiences will carry away from the theatre a sense of excitement on two levels: the drama and splendor of some of the most unique circus acts ever witnessed in this country, and the tense tale of a family brought to the brink of destruction by a father whose demand for implicit loyalty and obedience from his performing children culminates in his own death.

"Misty"

Millions of the young-in-heart who have delighted in Marguerite Henry's best-selling tales of children and animals, will hail the arrival of "Misty," 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Color film starring David Ladd, Arthur O'Connell, Anne Seymour and Pam Smith, opening Sunday and Monday at the Fiesta Drive In Theatre.

"Misty," the poignant story of two children and their love for a wild pony, answers the long-debated need for wholesome film fare which parents, educators, church leaders and even the youngsters themselves demand with increasing vigor. Bringing together the same four talents that made "A Dog of Flanders" a popular success, "Misty" combines the astute direction of James B. Clark, the sensitive writing of Ted Sherdeman, the gifts of young star David Ladd and the production know-how of Robert B. Radnitz, a sure-fire quadrumvirate. The result is pure delight, a new high in motion picture entertainment for the whole family.

"The Sins of Rachel Cade"

Primitive passions come into bitter conflict with civilization's moral codes in Warner Bros.' Technicolor production of "The Sins of Rachel Cade," starring Angie Dickinson, Peter Finch and Roger Moore, which opens Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Fiesta Drive In Theatre.

Miss Dickinson, playing the title role, is seen as a beautiful woman in her mid-twenties who ought to be married to a good man and have lots of children. Instead, she is a spinster missionary in the Belgian Congo.

Her desperate struggle between God's work and the weakness of her own flesh—and the ultimate resolution of her emotional turmoil—provide the thematic material for the motion picture, based on the best-seller novel by Charles Mercer.

Scenarist Edward Anhalt has dealt with the sensitive and frequently delicate subject matter in straightforward fashion, approaching the young missionary's problems with candor and honesty.

The Rachel Cade that emerges from celluloid is a many-dimensional creature, one whose lofty ideals and indefatigable labors stamp her as a dedicated person ready to give her very life, if need

Be Busy Sewing Club Met Monday In Mills Home

Regular meeting of the Be Busy Sewing Club was held Monday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Mills. Hand work was done for the hostess.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames W. H. Cain, Bill Millhorn, G. T. Shott, S. P. Gray and George Seitz.

The next meeting will be held July 24, in the home of Mrs. H. L. Parks. Pollyannas will be revealed.

Established by law, he added. Payment of the "special" dividend was based on consultation with VA's own insurance specialists.

The study of contingency reserves, Mims said, indicated such a dividend could be paid in consonance with sound insurance practices and with no jeopardy to the GI insurance funds.

First Checks For GI Insurance Dividends Mailed

First checks to about 261,680 Texas veterans sharing in the "special" GI insurance dividend began going into the mail today, P. J. Mims, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said.

He estimated that the total amount of "special" dividends to be paid in Texas would be about $11,902,100. Processing of the "special" dividend payments should be completed around Labor Day.

Veterans can help speed receipt of their "special" dividend checks by not making inquiries since payment is automatic, Mims said. Answering inquiries would divert personnel time from the dividend project, he explained.

About 13,520 Texas veterans holding United States Government Life Insurance (World War I) will receive $1,050,800 in "special" dividends while 248,160 holders of National Service Life Insurance (World War II) will get $9,978,100.

The "special" dividend amounting to $230,000,000 is being paid to 5,000,000 GI insurance policyholders throughout the nation.

A "regular" annual dividend of $258,500,000 was paid to veterans earlier this year. Both the regular and "special" dividends are primarily a refund to veteran-policyholders of part of their premium payments.

The refunds are made possible principally because the death rate among policyholders continues to be much lower than the rates upon which the premiums were

Buffalo Clover Festival

Buffalo Clover is what the old settlers called it. Now it's known as the state flower of Texas.

Most likely you prefer the modern name of this beautiful lupine plant for it does look more like what it is now called . . . the bluebonnet.

You haven't seen much of Texas either if you haven't seen the fields of sky-blue bluebonnets.

Every April the town of Marlin in Central Texas (Falls County) holds a "Bluebonnet Festival." Beautiful models are provided to pose for the amateur photographers who travel from all over the nation to see the festival and to compete in the annual photo contest.

Side-Wheelers at Jefferson

Old side-wheeler boats used to churn up from New Orleans to Jefferson, Texas, in the northeast part of the state.

In 1874 a natural barrier in the Red River was removed. This resulted in a lowering of the water level seven feet in Cypress Bayou, thus making it unnavigable for boat transportation.

This ended Jefferson's standing as the principal river port and gate-of-entry to Texas.

Richmond Honors Fighting Secretary

An impressive statue of Mirabeau Buonaparte Lamar, valiant military hero and acclaimed Father of Education in Texas, stands in Richmond, Texas, southwest of Houston.

Lamar served as Secretary of War and was the commander of the cavalry at the Battle of San Jacinto.

He was well known for his service both as President and Vice-President of the Republic of Texas and was instrumental in securing a public endowment for Texas schools.

Weatherford Walls Bullet Scarred

A double log cabin stands at Holland's Lake just a few miles east of Weatherford, Texas, west of Fort Worth.

Its east room is where George McCleskey was killed by Indians in 1873. This room still contains its bullet-scarred walls.

The cabin was a popular spot for old settlers reunions. Now it is a monument to the pioneers of Parker County.

Nacogdoches Was Battleground

You could write a book about the battles that were fought for Nacogdoches. Also one about the armies and expeditions that captured this East Texas town.

Two expeditions bent on freeing this land from the Spanish were those of Magee-Gutierrez and Dr. James Long. Both were ill-fated excursions.

As a reminder of this stormy history, one of the oldest of the many historic homes still in Nacogdoches today is that of Adolphus Sterne, the Alcalde at the city when it was under Spanish rule.

Sam Houston once lived in this same house.

Only Alto Site Remains

Texas expelled the Neches Indians from the state in 1839.

The site of one of their old villages is just five miles southwest of Alto, in Cherokee County, in the central portion of East Texas, near Rusk.

This village was active in the lives of the Neches at the beginning of the 18th Century.

The Neches River was named for these Indians, as was a nearby mission established by the Cherokee Indians, the Mission San Francisco de los Neches.

Hot Brings Cold

Hot water heaters are used to cool water in Smiley, Texas.

Sounds outlandish to say the least, doesn't it?

This happy sounding town in Gonzales County, in the central part of South Texas, has a powerful artesian well that pours forth its own hot water.

The town of Smiley pipes this hot water right into the homes. These fortunate Texans have all the hot water they need. But the residents use hot water tanks, not connected for heating purposes to store the water long enough for it to cool for drinking purposes.

So, when in Smiley, remember to turn on the hot water faucet for a cold shower.

High and Mighty

Naturally it's taller! The Texas State Capitol at Austin is taller than any other state Capitol and reaches higher into the atmosphere than the capitol building in Washington, D. C.

Next time you're in Austin, be sure and make a trip through this majestic domed granite capitol. You'll notice something different on every visit.

Take a look at the door hinges, for example, and the inlaid flooring. They were made especially for this building, but often are overlooked by many of the visitors to this great capitol.

Austin is quite a recreational center too; so you'd better plan for a long stay at this Central Texas beauty spot.

Longhorn Vain?

At Gonzales, Texas, they have the most unique weather vane in the state. It is perched atop the firehouse where all can see it.

Residents of this Central South Texas town are ready, willing and able to tell you about the vane and the impressive history behind it and the T41 brand.

What makes this weather vane so different from others?

In the first place it's made of gold-plated copper. Second, it's the same size, shape and weight of a real Texas longhorn steer.

For further realism, this 2,000 pound longhorn vane always faces into the wind, just as did the real longhorns in their trips from Gonzales up the Chisholm Trail.

Health Letter

Women residents in Texas nursing homes and convalescent care institutions outnumber men residents two to one, State Health Department year end records show.

Almost 13,000 elderly Texans presently reside in care homes which have passed State Department of Health scrutiny and are licensed under provisions of the home licensure law administered by the health agency.

Despite the fact that Texas was one of the most recent states to spell out regulations aimed at protecting the health, safety and welfare of nursing home patients, the standards now enforced in this state equal or exceed those of other states, department officials believe.

That this is true is borne out when the beneficial aspects and the results obtained under Texas' standards are compared with the situation in other states, says J. W. Hornburg, director of the Texas licensure program.

The Texas law has been in effect since June 1953.

Hornburg said 321 nursing homes with a capacity of 9,512 beds, and 241 convalescent care homes with a capacity of 4,833 beds, are currently licensed — after having proved the humaneness of their operations.

Average age of home residents is 80 years. About 60 percent of them are recipients of old age assistance checks.

Nursing homes are distinguished from convalescent care homes in that they are required to have supervisory nursing personnel on their staffs. This requirement does not pertain to convalescent care homes, although they must have a physician's statement concerning the physical condition of each patient.

Nursing home bed needs for any given area are calculated on the basis of a widely accepted formula of three beds per 1,000 population. Applying it to the Texas situation shows that approximately 30 percent of the Texas need has so far been met.

The Texas law covers all establishments which furnish "food and shelter to four or more persons unrelated to the proprietor, and in addition provide minor treatment or services which meet some basic need beyond the provision of food, shelter and laundry."

Exempt from the regulations are regularly operating hospitals and homes maintained for adherents to church groups or religious orders which depend entirely on prayer or on spiritual means of healing.

IT'S THE LAW— IN TEXAS

ROVER'S LAST ROMP

Rover, a Great Dane weighing 135 pounds, was owned by the people down the street. One evening Rover entered Mr. Brown's yard and savagely attacked his 35 pound Cocker Spaniel. It looked as if Rover was about to kill the smaller dog when a quick thinking neighbor frightened the larger dog away by firing a shotgun in the air.

Mr. Brown put his badly injured dog in the car to rush him to the veterinarian's office. He had just left his driveway when he noticed Rover heading toward a small child. Thinking that the dog was about to attack the child, Brown drove his car into Rover, killing him.

Rover had been an expensive dog, and his owner sued Brown for damages for what he claimed was the wrongful killing of his pet.

Did Mr. Brown have the right to kill Rover?

Yes, he did. The court held that a person can kill a dog for the purpose of defending himself or third persons against harm threatened by the animal. Rover's actions led Mr. Brown to know, or reasonably believe, that he could prevent an attack on the child only by killing the dog.

Brown also could have legally killed Rover at the time that he was attacking his dog. A land-
