HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

This week, May 19-26, has been proclaimed Soil Stewardship Week throughout the nation, with Sunday, May 26, as Soil Stewardship Sunday. In view of this, and also that the economy of this area is substantially agricultural, the following from the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District is appropriate:

As you drive down our highways and farm-to-market roads, or fly over this wonderful country of ours, have you ever wondered what are those patches of green, those spots of blue, those curving bends of yellow, those brown places, or maybe what are those curling channels or ridges?

Harvey Kahlden, Soil Conservationist with the local Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, has said that whatever is going on has some effect on everyone. He said no one is far removed from the soil, its blessings and its demands.

Kahlden said those spots of blue may be large bodies of water, like one of the big western lakes behind dams—Hoover or Grand Coulee; or it may be a farm pond for livestock water.

Those curving strips of yellow, brown, and green are something new on our land. You didn't see much of this 25 or 30 years ago. Farmers call the practice contour strip-cropping. The strips are laid out on the level—or contour. The strips are green or yellow or brown—according to the season and the kind of plants. Those ridges are terraces—long ridges of soil built across the slope of the land to catch rain water.

You may see fields that are all in one crop with rows that are curved. Here the farmer is using contour rows without alternating the crops in strips. You may see rows plowed up and down the hill—not on the contour—where neither strip-cropping nor terracing is used. When you see this you usually see a field that is cut to pieces by gullies. The damage from erosion can take a sloping field clear out of production.

Wind can hurt land as much as water can. Where you don't have those green plants growing or litter of dead plants on the soil surface, you may have wind erosion. Dust blowing out of a field contains rich materials needed by plants for growth and reproduction. The soil left on the fields is less fertile, so crops don't grow as well as they once did. We all must be concerned with what goes on not because poor soils yield poor crops, but because poor soils make poor people. Poor people don't spend money in our communities. We must be concerned not only because of what soil erosion does to land, but because of what it does to men, women and children. In our crowded cities as well as in our developing rural areas.

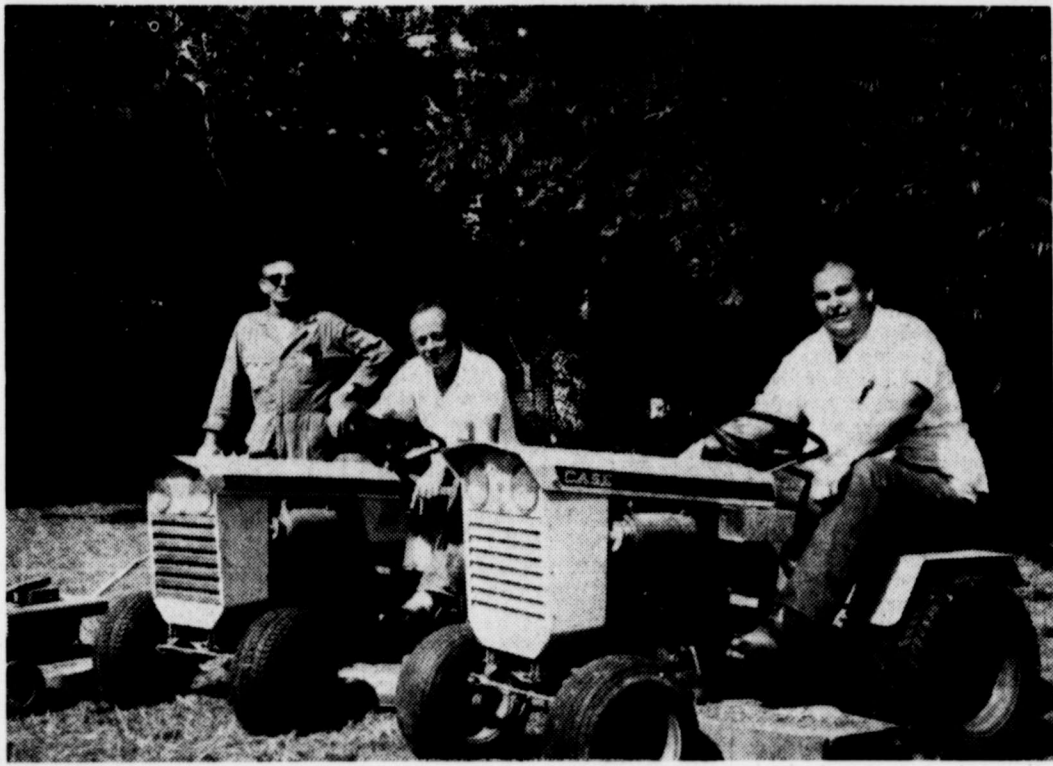

Dust rising from many fields can make a dust storm, just as runaway water from many fields can make a flood. Many people can still remember the thirties, when dust storms swept clear across the country from the Great Plains, across the corn belt and the eastern mountains.

NEIGHBORS—Eddie Little, Winters photographer and rural mail carrier, has been seriously ill in the Winters Municipal Hospital for several weeks, and has been unable to see to the tending of his yard; heavy rains helped to push the grass higher. Friends pitched in last Thursday and mowed the grass. Three grass mowers are shown in the above photo, left to right, George Ferrel Lloyd, Hal Dry and Charles Dry. Also helping on the project were Don Emert, Wayne Stone, Tommy Chapmond and Gary Dry. One of the tractor-mowers was furnished by E. E. Thormeyer of Farm Equipment. (Staff Photo)

Runnels County Churches Asked To Participate In Soil Stewardship Week

Jake Presley, chairman of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, said this week, May 19-26, has been designated Soil Stewardship Week throughout the nation, and that in thousands of churches across the country, clergymen of all faiths will ask their congregations to reflect on the blessings of land, water, trees, grass, wildlife and natural beauty that nourish the body and soul of man.

The Supervisors of the District, along with the other 3,000 soil and water conservation districts of the nation, encourage this annual observance by providing the churches that request it, background material such as bulletin inserts and booklets that are prepared by Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee to the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. Presley said this committee is made up of ministers from all faiths.

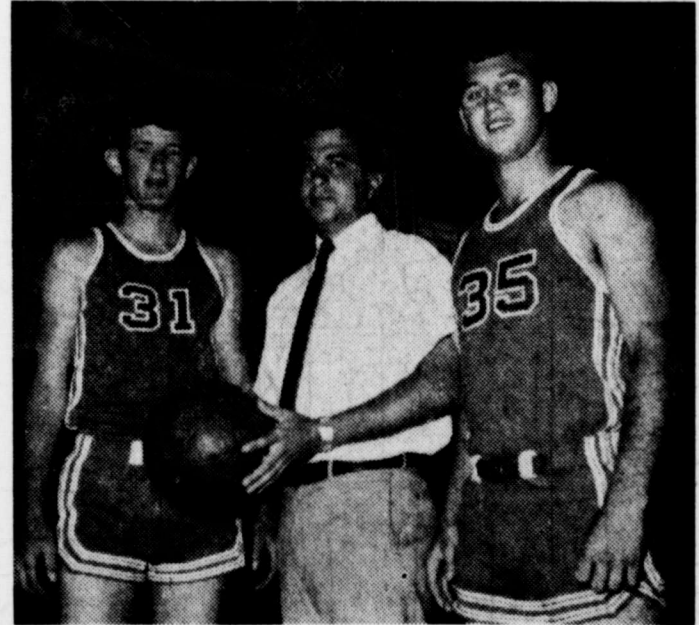

The theme of the 1968 observance is "A Time for Initiative," which emphasizes the need for action now to restore

Some Winters Streets To Receive Seal Coating, Locations Not Known

Some of Winters' streets will be seal-coated within the next few weeks, it was announced by the City Secretary, Buford Baldwin, following a meeting of the City Council Monday evening.

Baldwin said it had not been determined just how many blocks of the city's streets will receive the seal coating, nor just when the work will begin. Contractors will be contracted for bids on the seal-coating project, he said.

Many of the city's streets are in poor shape following the unusually wet weather during the first five months of the year. City spokesmen pointed out, and extensive work will be required.

In other business conducted by the City Council Monday evening, a resolution to annex a part of US Highway 83 south of the present city limits was approved. The area to be annexed will be the highway proper and the right-of-way, from the south city limits to a point about 400 feet south of the Chick Inn drive. Only the highway will be included in the city limits; no private property is involved in this annexation, it was pointed out.

The Federal government is "involved" in the financial operation of the Winters Independent School District, Superintendent of Schools Carroll Tatom told members of the Winters Lions Club Tuesday.

This "involvement" totals $52,529.00 for this year, Supt. Tatom said, and includes federal aid to the lunch program, grants for education assistants

Mike Dieke Gets Scholarship At A. & M. University

for underprivileged children, and grants for educational materials.

This amount does not include the federal aid for the vocational agricultural program or the home economics program, which have been in operation for many years.

Federal "control" of the local schools is non-emphasized by the fact that the federal funds are allocated by the State, which makes the necessary reports of requirements met to the federal agencies. The local schools in turn are responsible to the State for expenditure, it was pointed out.

One of the largest and most important benefits to the local school, Supt. Tatom said, is the federal assistance in the "hot lunch" program. The school is issued surplus commodities, valued this year at $10,336.95. This is under a program to make certain that all school children have a good noon meal during school time.

Large amounts of cheese, grapefruit, grapefruit juice, honey, dry milk, peanut butter and rolled oats are issued in the form of surplus commodities, the superintendent said, but beef and other meats also are issued. The school district furnishes a part of the food used in the cafeteria. Most children pay for their meals in the cafeteria, however, there are many who are provided free meals. Last month, 632 free lunches were provided, it was stated.

TITLE II Under Title II of the Primary and Secondary School Act of 1954, the Winters schools received $2517 this year. These funds are earmarked for "library materials," which includes many items not actually normally connected with libraries, such as maps, globes, visual and audio-education equipment.

Under the National Defense Education Act of 1959, the school received $1077 this year. Under provisions of this act, this amount is to be matched by the local school district for providing educational aids for

WANTED BY THE FBI

JAMES EARL RAY, also known as Eric Starvo Galt, Harvey Lowmyer, John Willard, James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron and James O'Conner.

James Earl Ray, a Missouri prison escapee, sought under the alias Eric Starvo Galt in connection with the gunshot slaying of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover ordered the special addition of Ray to the "Top Ten" list to insure widespread dissemination of Ray's photograph and description to speed his location.

Ray has been intensively sought since the murder of Dr. King on April 4, 1968, as he stood on the balcony of a Memphis, Tennessee, motel. An exhaustive FBI fingerprint search, comparing latent fingerprints uncovered in the Dr. King case against fingerprints of over 53,000 persons on whom wanted notices were posted, determined that Galt and Ray are identical.

A Federal warrant, issued at Birmingham, Alabama, on April 17, 1968, charges Ray, under the alias of Galt, with conspiring to interfere with a Constitutional Right of a citizen. Ray, who escaped on April 23, 1967, from the Missouri State Penitentiary, is also sought for unlawful flight to avoid confinement for robbery. His long criminal record also includes convictions for burglary and forging U.S. Postal Money Orders.

A white American, born in Alton, Illinois, on March 10, 1928, Ray is 5'10" tall, weighs 163 to 174 pounds, has blue eyes and short brown hair. He has a nervous habit of tugging at an ear lobe and his left ear protrudes noticeably. Known as a "loner" and "drifter," Ray has worked as a baker, laborer and color matcher. He has taken dancing lessons and completed a course at a school of bartending.

Consider Ray armed and extremely dangerous. Report any information concerning him to the nearest FBI office.

Oil and Gas Wells Produce About $11.5 Million a Year in Runnels County

Oil and gas wells provide approximately $11.5 million a year of Runnels County's economic output, according to statistics released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Based on most recent U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, the Association compilation showed that Runnels County produced crude oil valued at $10.9 million in 1966 and natural gas worth $600,000.

Texas oil production in 1967, responding to demands for more domestic crude as a result of the Israeli-Arab conflict, totaled 1,050,000,000 barrels, a state-wide increase over 1966 of about 5 percent. Production last year varied widely among state Railroad Commission districts, however, ranging from 3.5 percent below 1966 to 15 percent above.

"Production from Runnels County last summer helped prevent any oil scarcity for U. S. consumers at a time when one-third of the world's supply was cut off," said Corbin J. Robertson, Houston, Association president. "We must keep in mind, however, that it may be difficult for Texas fields to sustain production in future emergencies if the discovery of new reserves continues to lag, due to lack of exploratory drilling."

The annual study showed that Runnels County ranked 88th among Texas counties in total value of its production of some 3.7 million barrels of oil and 4.6 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas oil men, according to Rinehart's yearbook, drilled 120 wells in the county risking some $9.3 million. Fifty-three percent of them were dry holes, costing about $4.7 million.

County landowners and others with mineral interests cashed royalty checks totaling about $1.4 million during the year. Likewise the county's flow of oil and gas generates $543 a year in production taxes paid by producers and royalty to the state treasury.

Reports from the Texas Employment Commission show some 179 persons directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county, with an annual payroll of $1 million.

Plants which convert crude oil and natural gas into useful products also add to the value of a county's output. The Oil and Gas Journal lists two gas processing plants, with a total capacity of 32 million cubic feet a day for the county.

CORNERSTONE — Grand Master of Texas Masons J. W. Chandler from Houston trowled the mortar to level a great triangular piece of limestone at cornerstone leveling ceremonies for the Lee Lockwood Scottish Rite Library and Museum in Waco recently. About 850 Scottish Rite Masons from the seven Texas Consistories joined the principal officers of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas as the stone, which will become the main entrance of the Library and Museum, was lowered into place. "Today is a proud day in the life of every Mason in Texas," Chandler said at the ceremony. "Today we are leveling the cornerstone of a building that will serve as a monument to the high ideals of Freemasonry." The Museum and Library is located in Waco, the "capital city" of Freemasonry in Texas. "The monument will belong to all the Masons of Texas and to all people who are dedicated to the high ideals of our form of government," Chandler said. Horace K. Jackson Sr. of Gatesville and Centennial Committee chairman for Scottish Rite Masonry in Texas, traced the tradition of the cornerstone, and pointed out that "constitutional government and Freemasonry have ever been linked. We are beginning a new era with our 67,000 Scottish Rite Masons in the State."

Mrs. Effie Dietz, 63, of the Crews Community, remained in critical condition Wednesday in the intensive care unit of Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, after having received injuries in a two-car smash a few miles east of Winters on FM 53 Monday evening.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

State legislators will return to Austin on June 4. This time to complete the budget-year chore they put off last year. . . and to pass a new $125,000,000 tax bill.

Indications are strong that the bulk of the funds will come through the sales tax route.

Gov. John Connally told reporters he is "fairly certain" he will suggest raising the two per cent sales tax rate to three per cent, then refund the increase to the cities on the basis of their 1960 populations. This would replace the present local option city sales levies adopted by 267 cities since last September.

Proposal would provide incorporated cities with $125,000,000 a year overall in state aid. State would gain $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 from the increased rate due to sales in unincorporated areas.

Other recommendations expected in Connally's sales tax package include: removing of some sales tax exemptions; taxing of services like laundry and haircuts; and increasing the auto sales tax rate to three per cent.

Governor also stated he might suggest a liquor-by-the-drink bill as part of his tax program. Legislative sources say he will suggest local option authority to sell liquor in small, one-drink-size bottles under still state tax and strict regulation.

Connally told reporters that overall revision of the liquor laws also may be proposed. He intends to submit no other business until financial necessities are handled.

He expressed confidence that the budget and tax bill can be passed within the 30-day limit. If lawmakers vote the same way their constituents did on the liquor-by-the-drink referendum (May 4) the governor may have a chance with the small bottles bill. At least 82 of the 150 state representatives and 17 of the 31 senators live in districts which voted for mixed drinks, with varying enthusiasm.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas' law banning mass picketing in labor disputes withstood another State Supreme Court test when lower court rulings in favor of the statute were affirmed. High court agreed with intermediate Four Court of Civil Appeals, however, that the display of Mexican strike banners in a Laredo dispute should not be enjoined.

Question of whether voter registration applications must be submitted individually has been taken to the Texas Supreme Court.

High court said Texas statute which allows unlimited damages to survivors cannot be applied to fatal accidents involving Texans in other states.

An Abilene man should get a full trial on his $185,000 malpractice suit against two doctors, Supreme Court held.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for wealthy Houston tobacco wholesaler Mair J. Schepps, who received a seven-year prison sentence on a charge of counterfeiting tax stamps.

Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a district court decision denying a $98,626 sales tax refund to a New York firm which claimed it received notice of deficiency more than three years after the date taxes were due.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT

Texas draft quota for June has been reduced by nearly a third, says Selective Service Director Col. Morris S. Schwartz. State quota of 1,416 men has been trimmed to 961 on the basis of a new order by Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director. National quota, all for the Army, was reduced from 29,500 to 20,000 at the direction of the Department of Defense.

Call for July is expected to be only 15,000, meaning a Texas share of 700 to 750. May call was increased 4.3 per cent late last month (to 2,233) in order to provide some manpower for the Marine Corps, as well as the Army.

Draft boards will forward 8,500 men to examining and entrance stations next month for pre-induction physical and mental examinations. May total is 9,000.

SPEIR HEADS DPS

Texas Public Safety Commission officially designated one-time high school principal Wilson E. (Pat) Speir as acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir succeeds the late Col. Homer Garrison Jr. who headed the DPS for nearly 30 years. He had been Garrison's top assistant for six years.

Speir is a veteran of more than a quarter century of service with the state police. He was born and attended schools at Gilmer, graduated at East Texas State College in Commerce and was principal of Harmony High School for a year.

CAMPAIGN COSTS

Top spenders in the governor's race, Dolph Briscoe

($696,179) and Eugene Lock ($678,063) finished fourth and fifth. Leading candidate Yarborough reported he spent only $162,854. Runner-up Smith reported spending $385,537.

PARK SITES ADDED

Parks and Wildlife Commission has accepted 85 acres of land containing four early military posts which played important roles in the development of Texas.

Sites include Fort Leaton near Presidio, Fort McKavett near Menard, Fort Lancaster near Ozona and Fort Richardson near Jacksboro.

PWC Chairman Will Odom says the sites will be added to the state park system and facilities will be restored and preserved as an historical heritage for future Texans.

Odom also announced that a $14,275 federal grant has been approved for development of recreational facilities at Fort Griffin State Park 15 miles north of Albany. PWC will match the federal grant for a 503-acre park.

POLICE TRAINING SCHOOL
House Speaker Ben Barnes says he will ask Governor Connally to include in the special legislative session agenda a bill to create a statewide police training school to be called the "Homer Garrison Jr. Law Enforcement Academy."

Barnes believes the school is needed and "would be a fitting memorial to the late Homer Garrison who did so much to build a fine state police system."

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

School boards can order a trustee election recount if the candidate was defeated by less than five per cent of the votes cast even though a district court will order a recount under a different law (as in Starr County case), says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

In another recent opinion, Martin said that Bee County commissioners must provide for competitive bids on the purchase of a new electronic voting system that costs more than $2,000.

ALLOWABLE REDUCED AGAIN

Texas Railroad Commission slashed the statewide oil allowable for the third month in a row.

June factor was set at 45.2 per cent of potential, permitting top production of 3,485,366 barrels a day. This compares with 3,512,874 barrels during May when 45.7 per cent market demand factor applied.

Major crude oil buyers submitted written nominations to purchase 3,025,126 barrels a day during June, a decrease of 46,143 from May. This was slightly more than forecast for June demand as submitted by the Bureau of Mines.

CANDIDATE TALK

Runoff campaign between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Don Yarborough is warming; Smith boasts of his long service and slams at Yarborough's liberal record. Yarborough counters he offers new leadership and specific, progressive programs. Voters still show little interest.

SHORT SNORTS

Railroad Commission placed a production limit in the East Texas field on an old order permitting transfer of oil allowable from one well to another.

Some 3,866 Texas anglers were cited last year for failure to have a $2.15 fishing license, reports the Parks & Wildlife Department, and were subject to fines ranging from $10 to $100.

State Securities Board issued permits to 74 corporations to sell $105,800,000 worth of securities last month—a gain of $61,000,000 over April, 1967.

CARE OF UPHOLSTERY

If the children head for your new cotton upholstery with drippy ice cream cones, don't panic. Even if the upholstery doesn't have one of the stain-repellent finishes, the fabric is washable. To remove food stains from cotton upholstery fabric, first scrape off excess with a dull knife. Then gently rub area with a sponge dipped in a mild detergent solution. Wipe with a dry terry cloth towel.

BATH MATS

Make bath mats reversible and get longer wear from them. Sew two cotton terry cloth mats together, back to back. Use coordinated mats, one in a solid and one in a floral print.

Less Work Needed To Qualify For SS Hospital Help

The 1967 amendments to the social security law reduced the amount of work needed to qualify for hospital insurance benefits.

People reaching age 65 this year now need only 3 quarters of social security work to qualify for hospital insurance. Persons who became 65 prior to this year qualify for hospital insurance without any social security work.

Any person needing information on this or other social security matters may see a representative of the San Angelo Social Security office when he is in the area.

VOTE ABSENTEE

Absentee Voting is May 22-28. PLEASE VOTE at the courthouse and take several friends with you.

A most serious choice is facing the voters. Question is: Do we switch from a sound, constructive, conservative and progressive Texas with experienced and qualified leadership to an ULTRA-LIBERAL, totally inexperienced in government, backed by union bosses in Texas and in the East?

The most important vote of the decade faces Texans now. If you can't be here June 1, vote absentee - just be sure to vote.

What do you say to 1968 graduates in a commencement address? Since time immemorial, graduates have been addressed pretty much along the same lines. Some speakers will tell them that the world is wonderful; that all is good; that opportunities abound all about them. Others have said that everything is bad; that there is great upheaval with all sorts of trials and tribulations ahead. Some exhort; others admonish. Some will wrap up the universe in a ball and hurl it at students and tell them to go out and clean up the mess.

It was said that Pericles on annual occasions took the youth of Athens up on the hills overlooking that great city and recited to them the glories of Greece. Socrates was probably the earliest commencement speaker over 2000 years ago. He seemed to be the Dean of advisers to the youth of that age. In these times it seems justified to stray from the conventional type of address to graduating students. We, as Americans, have seemingly always believed that we could swiftly solve all problems and set about to accomplish the task. It now appears that one thing we must learn is to have the maturity to live with problems which cannot be readily solved but rather contained and lived with. It may be a little painful for us as individuals to come to this conclusion but, living in a more complicated and a more complex society than any age in which man has ever lived, this attitude, although hesitantly arrived at, seems to be a real fact.

THANKS

"I would like to take this means to express my very deep appreciation to the over 5,000 voters who went to the polls on May 4th, and cast their votes for me for State Representative. Of course, mere words cannot express the gratitude I feel toward the countless numbers of friends who worked so diligently for us throughout the district. I am especially proud of the tremendous confidence in me that was expressed by the people of Brown County; for in Brown County, my home, where people know me best, I was substantially in the lead. I shall always have a warm place in my heart for all my fine Brown County friends, and for my friends throughout the district, many of whom I met for the first time during this campaign.

I want to make it very clear that I would not presume to attempt to influence the votes of those who supported me in the first primary by publicly asking them to support either of the two candidates in the run-off. Therefore, I will not publicly endorse either candidate, but rather I will go to the polls as each voter should, and cast my vote for the candidate of my choice. It is my sincere hope that, as I have urged from the beginning, the next State Representative from the 64th District of Texas will be selected on the basis of ability and on the issues in this campaign. Thank each one of you so much.

Junior Culture Club Met In Colburn Home

Members of the Junior Culture Club met Thursday evening, May 16, in the home of Mrs. Billy J. Colburn, with Mrs. Gayland Robinson serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. O. O. Funderburg Jr., president, presided, and Mrs. Gayland Robinson led in the Club Collect. Mrs. Jim Cox, secretary, called the roll.

The club voted to give $100 to the Winters Public Library to purchase books.

Mrs. Bobby Blackwood was elected treasurer for next year. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Paul Michaelis presented the program on Carl Sandburg. She played the guitar and sang some of the songs he had written.

Members present were Mesdames Nelan Bahlman, Tommy Russell, Wayne Solomon, Bobby Blackwood, Lynn Billups, Jim Cox, O. O. Funderburg, Dennis Rodgers, O. J. Murray, Douglas Cole, G. K. Beall, Paul Michaelis, and the hostesses.

It was the Classic Summary by Charles Dickens at the beginning of "The Tale of Two Cities," who wrote, "It was the best of times; it was the worst of times; it was the age of wisdom; it was the age of foolishness. . . ." and then he continued, "It was the epoch of belief and doubt; the strength of hope; the weakness of despair," and we may add of our own time, it is an era of brotherhood and hate, of courage and of fear.

The 1968 Graduate is presented a world of opportunity and of advantages never experienced by any generation. He is given a goodly land whose frontiers were pushed back by others, who dared to move out ahead of their day, to make this Nation the wonderful place it is in which to live.

Visions of men and women of generations before, were those who believed in improving conditions around them by work and industry and with a devotion to leave a legacy for those to follow. They did not have a Federal Treasury to fall back upon and depended on no Government paternalism to destroy initiative and individualism.

On the other side of the coin, we hand to those graduates a huge public debt, all of which is not invested in capital improvements. True enough part of this debt has been, and is presently, for the defense of our Country. A part of it is for the building of institutions, for the advantages of future generations, for the preservation of our natural resources, and for scientific developments coming out of Government research, which makes life easier.

The fact means, however, that a part of this debt has passed on to those who will soon have the responsibility of building a stronger society. At this very moment the internal security of our Nation is being threatened by the greatest wave of lawlessness and criminal activity in the 192 years of our existence as an independent Nation. Our very form of Government that is a free-enterprise structure is threatened by the insistence of conformity in the individual which fosters sterility of thought and behavior; a loss of a sense of personal responsibility, which has been the hallmark of the people who made this the greatest Nation in the world.

In Sir Walter Scott's Marmion are these lines:
"When Prussia hurried to the field,

Is it possible that we are hurrying on the field with spear but leaving behind the shield of our national strength?

The True Shield of America is not alone in its armaments and far-flung forces; nor is it made up entirely of the ingenuity, inventiveness and economic potential of our people. Rather the True Shield of America consists of the rights and freedoms, and the duties which go with them, of its citizens. Rights, duties and responsibility are but two faces of the same shield.

In the face of the Graduate, who may point his finger at those of us of another generation and say, "What have you been doing about it?" the question becomes difficult to answer.

We can, however, say to him that I will join in pledging: "I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cower before any master nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect and proud; to think and act for myself; to enjoy the benefit of my creations and to face the world boldly and say, this I have done and this is what it means for the privilege of being an American."

HENRY FONDA and JAMES STEWART star in the blazing shoot-out Western, "Firecreek," showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theater. In the Panavision-Technicolor release from Warner Bros.-Seven Arts, Fonda

MOVIES

"Firecreek"

Warner Bros.-Seven Arts' "Firecreek" teams two acting giants — James Stewart and Henry Fonda—along with beautiful Inger Stevens, in an action-filled drama of the Southwest of the early 1870's. Producer Philip Leacock and director Vincent McEveety also cast as co-stars Gary Lockwood, Dean Jagger, Ed Begley, Jay C. Flippen, Jack Elam, James Best and Barbara Luna.

The screenplay for the Panavision-Technicolor Western was written by Calvin Clements and features some of the most beautiful scenery in the world, the rugged terrain of Oak Creek Canyon near Sedona, Arizona. The town of Firecreek was designed by art director Harold Hollander and was built at the Alberston Ranch in Thousand Oaks, California, about 40 miles from Hollywood. Hollander recreated a once-prosperous settlement crumbling into a ghost town.

In the film, showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theater, Fonda portrays an embittered outlaw who, with his gang, brings terror to the small sleepy town of Firecreek. The sheriff of the town, played by Stewart, is forced into a single handed battle with the lawless gang.

GRADUATE TO TOTAL ELECTRIC OPERATION

"You'll have to hunt a long time to find a better banking facility," President Lowell Littleton says of the modern all-electric Ozona National Bank. All of the employees like it very much. From 2,700 square feet of space to 6,300 on the first floor and 4,300 square feet in the basement is a considerable jump in space. "Per square foot—the cost of operation is reasonable," Littleton says.

VISITS DAUGHTER

Mrs. Myrtle Harkins spent last week in Grapevine visiting in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil Overman.

We commend our local and state police authorities for their vigorous enforcement of the law. We denounce with equal vigor lawlessness and civil disobedience. We deplore the fact that the new Code of Criminal Procedure tends to overprotect the offender and hinder law enforcement.

We urge adoption of a criminal code which will strengthen law enforcement rather than weaken it.

MRS. ROY W. TAYLOR, JR.

Dora Olivia Snell and A-1C Roy W. Taylor, Jr., Married Tuesday, May 21

Dora Olivia Snell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Snell, became the bride of A1C Roy W. Taylor Jr. of Houston when they pledged their marriage vows Tuesday May 21, in the Hopewell Baptist Church at Crews, at 7:00 p. m.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Taylor of Houston.

The Rev. J. E. Barnwell, minister of the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Houston, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Carl Pearson of Crews, organist, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. John L. Schlagal of Midland, aunt of the bride, who sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Flower girls were Dorella and Johnnie Myers of Kingsland, cousins of the bride, Paul Myers of Kingsland, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Best man was Mike Faubion of Houston. Ushers were Jim Vaughan and Gene Templeton, both of Winters. Groomsman were Larry Taylor of Houston, brother of the bridegroom, A1-C Dennis Setzer, A1-C Steve Schneider, both of Dyess AFB and David Konkle of Houston.

Maid of honor was Dianne Snell, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Lenda Fuller, Beverly Foster, both of Winters; Mrs. David Konkle and Dora Taylor, sister of the groom, both of Houston.

The brides attendants wore street-length dresses of china blue, designed with yoke and elbow length sleeves of blue flowered lace, and pill box headpieces of china blue satin with illusion veils dotted with tiny blue bows. They carried Colonial bouquets of white gladiolus with blue satin ribbon and net.

Presented in marriage by her father the bride wore a wedding gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace, fashioned with long sleeves edged with pearls. Nestled in lace flowers were pearls outlining the high rise bodice, A-line skirt with Watteau chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of pearls. She carried atop a white Bible, a cascade bouquet of white orchid white satin and net streamers tied with love knots.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall at the church hosted by the bride's parents.

The house party included Mrs. L. C. Fuller Jr., Mrs. Pete Mathis, Mrs. A. R. Spence, Mrs. Chuck Richardson, Mrs. Johnnie Mathis, Miss Kay Orr, Miss Eileen Faubion, Mrs. Judy McNeil.

Guests were registered by Martha Brown and Mrs. Johnny Mathis ladeled punch. Cake was served by Miss Kay Orr.

The bride changed to a three-piece pink suit with shoes to match for her wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School and plans to enter the College of Guam in September.

The bride groom is a graduate to Reagan High School of Houston. He is a member of Pararescue unit at Anderson AFB, Guam.

Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will return to Winters and later will fly to Guam and make their home at Anderson AFB, Guam.

The rehearsal dinner at the Fellowship Hall at the church was hosted by parents of the bridegroom.

Next time you take that trip, look around. Whatever is going on will affect you as well as future generations. Remember, rural and urban people both benefit from accelerated soil and water conservation programs. With better income, farmers can not only afford better education and medical care but can purchase more of the products and services offered by urban people. Urban water supplies are improved, flood threats diminished, and the entire community . . . and thus the nation . . . benefits and prospers.

Government

science, mathematics, and language instruction. There are plans to provide a special "language" laboratory for next year.

Under Title I of the Education Act, the Winters school has received $38,598. This amount was allocated in proportion to the number of "educationally" deprived children in the district according to the 1960 census.

Under this act, with the funds provided by the federal government, the school conducts remedial reading courses, and a school nurse program. It was explained that a big percentage of the primary and elementary children in the local school are Latin-American, and that a language difficulty affects their reading abilities. An attempt to rectify this is being made under the remedial reading program, with three teachers and one teacher aid provided in the program, with three teachers and one teacher aid provided in the program. Salaries for these instructors take a big part of the federal funds provided.

Robert Simpson, principal of the Primary School, explained the remedial reading program and the periodic tests made to determine the development of pupils in the courses.

One of the most important programs at least partly financed under provisions of Title I is the school nurse program. Mrs. Fred Young, the school nurse, will explain her program in a future meeting of the Winters Lions Club.
