HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

There still are a few people who, from time to time, must remember the scourge of World War II — the forever-present Gremlins, those name-of-a-name unseen, unheard and untouched masters of trouble-making and unbeing. (A late dictionary lists the Gremlin as "a mischievous, imaginary creature jokingly said to cause mechanical trouble in airplanes.")

There are many, too, who will please to disagree with that dictionary's "imaginary" description part. They will argue that there was nothing "imaginary" about those little doers of ill... that they've stood flatfooted and watched them at work (or that is, watched the cratering results of their tireless work, even if they could not spot the culprits themselves.) They probably will agree, too, that the Gremlin originated and grew up on airplanes... but that their "population explosion" caused a shortage of room around and aboard airplanes and forced them to branch out into other areas, where they invaded every crook and cranny. They even sloshed over into the civilian field, where they continued to cause trouble. Nothing could stop them, once they got a foothold in a certain area.

With the end of World War II, the Gremlins slowly pulled back their forces and hibernated to some extent, to come out only once in a while to keep the unsuspecting on their toes. They may have been renamed, too, by this younger generation which is engaged in another war. But a Gremlin by any other name would still be a stinker. They'll pop up at the most unexpected times and places to create their own special brand of havoc, and then fade from sight before a bead can be drawn on them. But they're still around... you better believe it!

Every once in a while we've pleased by a visit from our dear old friends, the Gremlins. Just when we think we've got everything lashed down, they'll hit us in a direct assault. Take last week, for instance. Those little (nameless ones) fixed it so that we'll be lucky if we get to enjoy barbecue at the Firemen's Annual Barbecue: they changed the keys on the typewriter so that when we wrote the announcement of the barbecue, it turned out "August 22" when it was supposed to be August 15! Upon reading it that way, Fire Chief Marvin Bedford, Firemen T. Sprinkle, Floyd Sims, and — (the list is infinite) — declared then and there that we would have to wait until the following week for our barbecue—even though the rest of the people are going to get theirs August 15! In all innocence, we have tried to explain that it was the Gremlins which caused the error, but those hard-bitten firemen will have none of that!

We just read that there are eight reasons why a woman buys something: Because her husband says she can't have it; it will make her look thin; it comes from Paris; the neighbors can't afford it; nobody else has one; it's different; and because.

And: A class reunion is where you get together to see who's falling apart.
And: From what we hear,

Range Tour Being Planned By Soil, Water District

Ronald E. Rugh, range conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, reports that the supervisors of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District are planning a range tour for ranchers in the Runnels SWCD area, to be made during the latter part of September.

This tour, Rugh said, will be on a local level instead of going out of the county as has been the practice in the past.

Ranchers in the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District carry out as much conservation work as those in any other area, Rugh said, and continued, "I think it will be more interesting to see what is going on right around us."

All the details of the tour have not been worked out, Rugh said, but most of the ranchers will be contacted personally to let them know more about the date, time, and other plans.

A beauty and talent contest, sponsored by the Runnels County Archery Association, will be held in the high school auditorium Friday night, August 16.

Three young ladies will be competing for the honor of representing the Winters archers' association at the State Archery Association beauty and talent contest August 31-September 1 in Abilene.

Entered in the beauty and talent contest are Misses Theresa Meyer, sponsored by Spill Bros. Co.; Melba Lewis, sponsored by Heidenheimer's; Glenda Cooper, sponsored by Main Drug Co.

The winner of this contest will go to the State contest in Abilene. The State winner will compete in the national contest at a later date.

The beauty and talent contest will begin at 8 p. m. Archery Tourney Sunday Expected To Draw Some Top-Notch State Archers

The year's second archery invitational tournament in Winters, to be held Sunday, August 18, is expected to draw from 75-100 archers, among them some of the state and national tournament trophy winners.

The tournament, sponsored by the Runnels County Archery Association of Winters, will be held at the association's range at the new Winters lake area, and will begin at 9 a. m., according to Bob Wilson, president of the association. The local archery range has been noted as being one of the best ranges in the state, and archers who took part in a tournament there several weeks ago were enthusiastic in their praise for the range, and promised at that time to return and bring other archers with them to the next invitational.

This invitational tournament is being held just two weeks prior to the State tournament planned in Abilene August 31-September 1, and local organization members said this fact would help to increase attendance, as many archers will be getting ready for the state meet.

Trophies will be awarded to archers winning in several divisions in Sunday's tournament. The local range offers an excellent camping and picnic area and many archers are expected to arrive Saturday and spend the night there, and in the local motel.

There will be no admission charge for spectators at the Sunday tournament, and the public is invited to attend and follow their favorite shooters around the range.

A concession stand will be in operation on the grounds, with plans to serve a barbecue plate dinner Sunday.

No Answer To Question Of Norton School

As of Wednesday of this week, the fate of Norton's school was still in the balance.

After several meetings of the Norton school board and of the Runnels County school board, there still were no concrete answers to the question of what the future holds for that district, whose building and equipment was destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

A proposal to consolidate the district with the Bronte district was turned down by the voters of the Norton district last month; the school board approved plans to build for an eight grade school and send high school students to other districts, and then a petition was presented to the Runnels County board to dissolve the Norton district and annex to the Ballinger, Winters and Bronte districts. A counter petition then was presented to the county board, asking that they take no action on the annexation petition.

The county school board, in a meeting Tuesday, arrived at no decision, and planned to meet again Wednesday to continue deliberations.

The board of trustees of the Winters Independent School District has extended an invitation to the Norton school to annex to the Winters district; they also offered their assistance to the county school board in helping to solve the problem. In a letter to the county board the first of the week, the Winters board said, "Foremost in our mind is the fact that first consideration must be given to the assurance of a quality educational opportunity for the students of Norton." In addition, we fully realize that fair and just tax consideration must be given to the tax payers of the Norton district."

Further, the Winters board said in their letter to the county board, "In view of these facts, we respectfully submit that the Winters Independent School District has much to offer the citizens of Norton, and submit the information (listed) in supposition that it may aid you in reaching your decision."

"In the event an elementary school is not approved at Norton, we invite a complete annexation of the Norton Rural High (Continued on page 8)

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

The relatively new indoor-outdoor carpet already has a new twist-bulked yarn to give a plush, more luxurious carpeting, in the past, has been a little on the stiff side, Mrs. O'Connor stated. The bulked yarn has softened the surface, yet it wears like stiffer finishes.

The carpeting is easy to care for, highly stain resistant and resistant to mildew and rot. It has good acoustical properties, low static build-up and low moisture absorbency.

There are other new indoor-outdoor developments underfoot.

Patterned carpets are coming on the scene for more decorator versatility. These carpets, with special barriers to keep moisture such as spills from leaking through, especially are good for use over wood.

Two basic types of indoor-outdoor carpeting are woven or non-woven. The woven carpet is textured and in cut-pile, much like other carpeting. In the non-woven or felted construction, the carpet is somewhat like resilient floor covering. Generally, the felted types are cheaper. Aside from the price, there is no general advantage of one type over the other.

Another version of the non-woven is carpet tile. The tiles are 12 inch squares with soft rubber backs for use indoors or out.

Sharp objects, such as cleats on shoes, can damage the non-wovens. If some repair work is needed, then you could replace a few tiles and not the entire carpet.

The manufacturers of indoor-outdoor claim it will hold up for a long time in or out of the weather; on boards, cement, brick or even bare ground. According to extremely rigorous tests conducted by independent testers, the manufacturers do not exaggerate.

In tests it was found to have good bursting strength (important if the carpet is laid over holes or pebbles outdoors). It was rot resistant and resistant to shrinkage. It provided good footing dry or wet.

Water did not affect the carpet in any way. Some did tend to hold water, as a towel does. Mrs. O'Connor advises you to think twice about laying one of these on an outdoor porch with a wood floor; the dampness could accelerate the rotting of wood. On a cement floor a carpet might remain damp for a couple of days after a rain.

If the carpet will be exposed to moisture be sure to check the backing, she advises. If the backing is not a synthetic fiber also, it could rot from moisture trapped underneath.

The right care will keep indoor-outdoor carpet in its prime longer; the type of carpet is highly resistant to stains, but some foods, when allowed to set or to be ground into the carpet can cause trouble.

Installation is easy since the carpet can be cut with a knife, razor blade or scissors. It is important to cut to size very carefully since the material can not be stretched. The felt types do not need binding, but the tufted types should be bound to prevent raveling.

When buying indoor-outdoor carpet be sure and get specific care instructions for stain removal and general upkeep. Then follow them.

Protecting Personal Assets Wellesley Hills, Mass. With living costs at record levels and headed higher, all of us should take time out to determine where we stand and how we can best safeguard our assets.

How Much Are You Worth? If you haven't made a recent check on the total dollar value of your personal assets, you'll probably be surprised how much they have appreciated. Even if you're in modest circumstances in our affluent society, you'll discover, in most cases, that your home is worth more than when you bought it—perhaps a good deal more. Also, that high interest and dividend payments have increased the total dollar amount of your savings and investments. And, if you own land, you'll likely find it too has gained in value.

A great many heads of families whose salaries are in the low-middle bracket — which ranges from $8,000 to $10,000 — find they actually have total assets of $50,000 or more. These may include their homes, cars, savings, investments, and their equity in life insurance policies and private pension funds.

MAINTENANCE AND PROTECTION COSTS

But there is another side of the coin: Our assets are indeed worth more, but a large and growing share of the gain must be earmarked for maintenance and protection costs that will preserve the value of the real property we own. The house you bought for well under $15,000 some years ago may now have a resale value of $25,000, but it is also costing you a good deal more to maintain it and to protect your investment. Perhaps, when you bought the house, you could have had it painted at a cost of $600-$700. Today the same job might easily run to $1,100 or even $1,500.

As for fire insurance: Are you covered for full value or merely for some sum which barely protects the bank's lien in the property? In this era of rapidly rising costs, your house and furnishings should be insured for full value. And your coverage should be reviewed by you at least every three years and upgraded when necessary to keep you abreast of expanding replacement costs.

STRONG BOX OR SAFE-DEPOSIT BOX

Indeed, all your insurance—life, health, accident, auto liability, theft, fire—should be reviewed at least every three years. . . . oftener if changing personal and family situations indicate new approaches. If you have children still to be educated, you may well be underinsured. If your children have left home and are on their own, could be you're overinsured.

Where should you keep your insurance papers and securities, the deed to your home, jewelry, or other items? Is a strong box at home preferable to a safe-deposit box in a bank, or vice versa? Fact is, for maximum safety and convenience, you need both. All your insurance papers, your bankbooks, and bank statements should be close at hand. So too should be your will, or a copy of it. Keep all these in a fire-proof strong box at home or in your office safe. Your securities, property deeds, contracts, savings bonds, jewelry, and other valuables which could easily be converted into cash if stolen should be held in a safe-deposit box at your bank.

Draw Your Will—Keep It Up To Date You'd be surprised at the number of people — many quite well-to-do—who die without having made a will. Most just never got around to it, but a good many decided not to bother because their personal and real property was held

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER FOUR ON THE BALLOT (SJR37)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding a new Section 52e to read as follows: "Section 52e. Bonds to be issued by Dallas County under Section 52 of Article III of this Constitution shall be for the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, gravelled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, may, without the necessity of further or amendatory legislation, be issued upon a vote of a majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of said county, and to provide that bonds heretofore or hereafter issued under Subsections (a) and (b) of said Section 52 shall not be included in determining the debt limit prescribed in said Section."

"AGAINST the amendment of Article III of the Constitution to provide that Dallas County may issue road bonds under Section 52 of Article III upon a vote of a majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of said county, and to provide that bonds heretofore or hereafter issued under Subsections (a) and (b) of said Section 52 shall not be included in determining the debt limit prescribed in said Section."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1968, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

The poet, John Donne, wrote "No man is an island." He also once wrote, "And, therefore, never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

There is no need for us to cry in our own town about conditions of the day. Pessimism, skepticism, alarmism—do not and will not solve problems besetting our Nation. To deny we have problems is much like the statement of a Member of Congress back in the 1800's when in debate with a colleague. This Congressman followed the other who had just made an impassioned speech on a certain subject, but who likely was speaking more for home consumption than to influence a point of view on legislation under discussion. He said, "The gentleman has just been engaged in repudiating what no one has asserted and proving what no one has denied."

There are, of course, dilemmas all about us. We did not get this way all of a sudden. Neither will our ills be cured overnight. Some say, "Pass a law; appoint a commission; establish another bureau." Fundamentally, the answer lies in ourselves as citizens of this great Nation. Perhaps we need to look inward as well as outward.

As someone has said, Democracy is not a spectator sport. There are many who, failing to put crimes against the State in their true proportion to righteousness in this great land, come to think of the Flag as having lost the stars of its idealism and the white stripes of its virtue, leaving nothing but a waving red blush of shame as a national emblem. But we can be thankful this is not so. To be sure, corruption gets the headlines but to one traitor to the Flag, there are thousands whose patriotism is as pure as that of the Founding Fathers. To one kid in trouble, there are the thousands, well trained and disciplined, growing into fine citizens.

The cynics say Democracy carries within it the seeds of its own destruction—that America is already way down the hill that leads to the graveyard of dead nations. It could be so if good men and women do nothing. This Nation can get anything it wants if it wants it loud enough. Democracy is not a spectator sport—it was never designed to be. It is based on the rule that each citizen should be. It is based on the rule that each citizen should form his own views and express them to the Court of Public Opinion where America makes its decisions.

None of us can ride the Freedom Train without paying the fare. We can not sit back on our saunas and hope that "somehow things will turn out all right." We all should come down out of the grandstands onto the playing field where the battle of the minds and hearts of men is being fought.

Daniel Webster expressed it this way: "God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it. Nothing will ruin this Nation if the people themselves undertake its safety. Nothing can save it if they leave that safety in any hands but their own."

A sign in a Hippie hang-out says, "God isn't dead, he just does not want to get involved."

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

With the Republican convention out of the way, Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls got back to his campaign for governor of Texas.

And his Democratic opponent, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, got started on a round of meetings with delegates to the state Democratic convention to see what they want in the party platform.

Smith's 31 meetings with delegates from each of the 31 senatorial districts is an unusual approach to the party grassroots. He is asking the delegates to tell him how he should campaign to offset the growing Republican threat.

Democrats recall that in 1960, when then Vice-president Richard M. Nixon was the Republican candidate for president, the unknown Republican candidate for governor, William M. Steger, got 609,806 votes without even making a campaign.

This time Eggers has been campaigning for months. He has been picking up support from dissident Democrats like Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and, with Nixon on the top of the ticket again, he is considered a real threat.

Eggers has been making a series of regional bus tours, campaigning in as many as 30 towns in four days, in an effort to duplicate the Smith success with personal campaigning.

During the primary campaign, Smith visited in 225 counties, some of which had never before seen a candidate for governor. This hard work showed up when he won the Democratic nomination easily.

LEGISLATIVE CONFERENCE
Texas House Speaker Ben Barnes will attend the National Legislative Conference in Miami, Florida, August 20-22.

Among the topics to be discussed by the state legislative leaders from all 50 states are bloc grants to states from the federal government, annual legislative sessions and others concerning the recent problems in state government.

Barnes is president-elect of the conference.

AG OPINIONS
Community Action Agencies handling poverty programs may not be under the direction of county commissioners courts nor may they be headed by persons designated by commissioners courts, according to an opinion by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Opinion notes that under the Texas Constitution, commissioners court power. Of the 55 CAAs in Texas, only five are handled through commissioners courts, so the effect of this ruling is not expected to be a major.

In another opinion, Attorney General Martin ruled that the governor may authorize spending of federal funds to build a residence for the superintendent of the Huntsville State Fish Hatchery.

Authorization does not constitute an increase in the appropriation but merely authorizes the expenditure of funds already allocated by the legislature. Martin said the superintendent's house burned after lightning hit it on May 19.

Governor Connally approved spending $25,000 in available federal funds to build a new residence.

SECURITIES APPROVED

State Securities Board received 22 applications for permits to sell $8,939,110 in securities in Texas last week.

Securities Commissioner William M. King said the applications included two Texas companies — Accelerators, Inc., Austin, and Electronic Data Systems Corporation, Dallas.

Deputy Commissioner, Truman G. Holladay, has ordered discontinuance of trade in the securities of Computronics Industries Corporation and Universal Computa-Data Corporation, both of 11111 N. Central Expressway, Dallas.

HEMISFAIR HUMPHREY

Vice-president Hubert Humphrey toured HemisFair Saturday as the guest of Governor Connally and a number of other state and local officials.

Humphrey was scheduled to tour the United States Pavilion, the Institute of Texan Cultures and the international sector of the World's Fair. At the U. S. Pavilion, the program included remarks by the vice-president, Connally and Cong. Henry Gonzales of San Antonio.

Humphrey was to meet with the heads of all international pavilions and to end his visit with a special Western Hemisphere solidarity program between the Mexican and Candian pavilions.

WELFARE REDUCTION

Some needy families with dependent children will be getting a reduction in state welfare aid effective September 1.

Reason is that a U. S. Supreme Court ruling (that needy children are entitled to assistance even though there is an able-bodied man in the house) will increase the AFDC rolls by an estimated 15 per cent.

Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney warns that unless the present $60 million welfare ceiling is raised to $75 million, as proposed in a consti-

Hunting and Fishing Licenses Shipped Early

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department shipped 1.9 million licenses for the 1968-69 season Friday (August 9, the earliest date in several years, according to C. L. Friou, assistant director of administrative service for the Department.

The licenses were mailed to more than 3,000 license deputies across the State and should go on sale Monday. However, the licenses will not become effective until Sept. 1.

Friou said the shipment was rushed so hunters planning to participate in the early deer hunts in Aransas National Wildlife Refuge could buy their license, fill out the free hunt application card and return it by the 5 p. m. deadline, Aug. 27, for the Sept. 3 drawing.

This initial shipment contained 718,000 resident hunting licenses and 895,000 fishing licenses with a total face value of $4.2 million. Altogether, there were 42 types of licenses in the shipment.

Size and space requirements for handling and shipping this many licenses would stagger the imagination of the average hunter who thinks of his licenses as two small pieces of paper. Austin Postmaster O. N. Bruck said the licenses left Austin in 400 canvas mailbags and weighed approximately 24,000 pounds.

Basically, there is little change in the new licenses—the cost and general appearance are the same except for the color and dates. This year's hunting license has four tags—the two on the left are for a bonus antlerless deer and a mule deer buck only in the Trans-Pecos Regulatory District.

TURKEY CROP IN EDWARDS PLATEAU LOOKS GOOD

Prospects for the turkey crop in the Edwards Plateau are good, according to Bob Cook, wildlife biologist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Cook said an incomplete survey of a study area has turned up 204 gobblers, 305 hens, and 826 poults so far this year.

Last year, 231 gobblers, 704 hens, and 54 poults were counted in the same area in the Edwards Plateau.

"This is cause for optimism, and we are delighted with the findings," Cook said. "But at the same time we want to stress that a lot can happen between now and hunting season such as hail storms, high water, invasion by predators, and diseases of epidemic proportions."

"However, landowners and old hands with the Department say this is the best turkey year they remember," Cook said.

tutional amendment to be voted on in November, there will be even further reductions.

Families receiving a maximum grant of $135 for four or more dependent children will get the biggest cut —$12 a month to $123. Those now receiving $124 will get a $1 cut to $123, those getting $125, a $2 cut, etc. In other words, $123 a month will be the new maximum. Reductions will be made only for those receiving more than that amount now.

POLLUTION JUDGMENT

State of Texas has won a judgment for $17,500 against International Minerals and The Chemical Corporation of New York after taking the company to court for polluting the air over Houston. Corporation operates a barite plant.

This is the second pollution suit won by the state.

STUDENT LOANS

Texas Opportunity Plan — a state program for making loans available to Texas college and university students — has helped 20,121 students since the program's inception in September, 1966.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System reports that 42,000 loans totaling $14,698,300 have been made, as of May 1, through 104 participating institutions.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT

Texas' draft call for September is 683 men, smallest since June, 1967.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said budgetary limitations will prevent pre-induction physical exams during August. July call was 695 men. Calls in 1967 ranged from a low of 674 to a high of 1,421. Monthly quotas this year have ranged as high as 2,378 (last April).

TRAIL OF FORTS

Governor and Mrs. Connally led a group of West Texans by bus on a 680-mile "Trail of Forts" through Central West Texas.

Purpose was to publicize the Forts Trail which takes travelers to many of the historic points in the area where the Indians made their last stand against the U. S. Cavalry.

Two of the Forts, Richardson and McKavett, were acquired by the state and are to be restored and preserved as historic sites.

Highway 83 Unit Formed Here, Waddell President

A Winters unit of the U. S. Highway 83 Association was formed here Tuesday, with officers and a board of directors appointed.

John Waddell was elected president of the local unit, and George Garrett, secretary. The board of directors includes Buford Baldwin, W. M. Hays, F. R. Anderson, Melvin Mapes, Neal R. Oakes, Woodrow Watts, J. W. Bahlman and Roy Young.

The group immediately made plans and began working on a membership drive in Winters. Some of the purposes of the Highway 83 Association, Winters unit, have been quoted as follows: Work to get Winters on the special Highway 83 map; to work to get a future probable Interstate highway to follow the present route of US 83; promote tourist travel on US 83; and to work to get the several states involved to keep the route in good condition.

U. S. Highway 83 is a north-south highway, running from Canada to Mexico, and providing a direct route. A purpose of the organization, according to local unit spokesmen, would be to point out to Interstate Highway planners the feasibility of building any future transcontinental north-south highway over the route of the present US 83.

A meeting of the national organization will be held in Abilene sometime in September, it was stated, and a program planned to work for the improvement of US 83. John Waddell is a vice president of the national organization.

Funds collected in the current membership drive would, for the most part, remain here, it was pointed out. Only a national membership fee would be sent to national; the remainder would be used to promote the US 83 idea locally.

'TEEPEE' CHURCH is the name given to this chapel at Concordia College in Fort Wayne, Ind., designed by architect Eero Saarinen. Elegant, yet conservative liturgically, it was cited as a fine marriage of contemporary art and religion at the recent art and religion conference in New York City.

School District to the Winters Independent School District.

"If such annexation is effected, we would agree to detachment of portions of the Norton district to adjacent districts as deemed necessary and advisable by the Runnels County School Board, and would further agree to a sharing of the assets and liabilities of the Norton district with district(s) receiving land area.

"We agree to file with the Texas Education Agency application for incentive aid, and further agree to share with the Ballinger Independent School District any monies received from incentive aid on a 50-50 basis. Such funding would be paid Ballinger from the Winters Maintenance Fund on a yearly basis. (School officials pointed out that incentive aid would amount to $26,347 for Ballinger and $26,170 for Winters, for the first year; a difference of only $177.)

"We would agree to accept or grant transfer students to or from the Winters schools so that Norton students may attend the school of their choice."

W. E. (Buck) Elkins is Runnels County school superintendent. Members of the county board include Chairman E. E. King, and Herman Price of Ballinger; W. T. Billups of Winters; M. B. Folsom of Wingate; and Eugene Kasbert of Miles.

Home Town Talk--

there is a "Hippies Anonymous." If a member feels like taking a bath, he calls another member who rushes over and shuts off the water.

Every year as summer rolls along and the blackeye peas start coming off, we think on the role the blackeye has played, and its important contribution to the country. Time was when the home-grown blackeye, in duet with its cousin the old faithful brown, pinto or red bean, played the role of the "great sustainer." The blackeye even today still is known as the "good luck" pea, especially if eaten on New Year's Day. But there were times back there when the blackeye was considered "good luck" on any day!

There was another pea, perhaps not so widely publicized as the blackeye, which offered equal assistance in a sometimes unbalanced situation. That was what was commonly known as the "cream pea." In thinking out loud about that cream pea recently, we happened to mention that we hadn't eaten any in a good many years. Mrs. Pat Pritchard of Wingate overheard us; this week she brought in a sack of cream peas, all shelled and ready to cook. Delightful.
