HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Everyone seems to be taking "polls" these days, so we decided to take one of our own. On two or three different occasions, and making sure we didn't contact the same people twice, we handed out "ballots" on which those being polled were asked to write down their preference in the three-way presidential race.

A total of 61 "ballots" were handed out over a period of time. Nine of these were not returned, so we don't count them in the final tally. Also, being new at this polling business, we figured that those "voters" who wrote names other than the three announced candidates should be listed as "undecided."

The following is a tabulation of those ballots returned:

For Nixon—18
For Humphrey—15
For Wallace—10
Undecided—9

Don't know how close this type of poll comes to meeting the "scientific" requirements of the so-called "legitimate" polls about which so many people are talking these days. But we do know this: we've never talked to anyone who has ever been "polled" by any of the big poll taking organizations; they must have certain segments of the population of certain localities which they call "typical" and to which they return each time they want to get some kind of an answer to a particular question. So those samplings of opinions, to most of us, come from a faceless and nameless part of the population. Not so with the poll we took these past few days. Although we do not know how any one of the several individuals we contacted answered the question, we do know that they are real live people—not percentage points—and we can step out the front door and shake hands with more than half of them within a half hour's time. Are any of the big pollsters in a position to make a similar claim?

Speaking of making predictions on the outcome of elections on the strength of how one little community or precinct votes and how their past action has always been in line with the final count, as been the case since the television industry installed big computers, it is going to be interesting next Tuesday night to watch the results come in. Conditions in all election years are always called "unusual," but this year is liable to be more so, what with all the chances and reasons for jumping about over the ballot. So when the votes in Podunk and Punkin Creek are counted, and the information fed into the big computer to figure out what the national outcome will be, what's the computer going to do when it runs up against votes for a third-party candidate? There's been no basic information previously fed into the big machine—and that's how it arrives at an answer—so how is it going to reach a decision?

Don't fail to vote next Tuesday. This privilege is rare on earth, and it came about and continues only because Americans in the past have recognized it as the only way available in which to have a voice in the operation of their government. Response has been ragged at times, admittedly, but the system (Continued on page 8)

MRS. FRANCES CAMPBELL... Homecoming Queen

Mrs. Frances Campbell Was Crowned Homecoming Queen Friday Night

Mrs. Frances Campbell, owner of The Fashion Shop in Winters, was crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime activities at the Winters-Merkel football game last Friday night.

The 1968 Homecoming Queen was escorted onto the field by Percy Ritch of Nevada City, Calif., a 1918 graduate of Winters High School. Mrs. Max Lewis presented her with flowers and the 1967 Queen, Mrs. Cal Mostad, presented the crown. James Gehrels was master of ceremonies for the crowning activities.

Mrs. Campbell is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lamberth, pioneer citizens, and was born and reared in Winters. She graduated from Winters High School in 1923, attended Abilene Christian College for a time, and also attended Draugham's Business College.

She was first employed by Farmer's Mercantile and then Gardner Brothers Dry Goods

"Good News" To Be Presented At First Baptist

The Christian folk-musical, "Good News," will be presented by the Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church, Sunday, November 2, at 7 p. m. at the church, Tommy G. Seymore, minister of music and youth, has announced.

"Good News" is "a presentation of the joys of living done musically in a very casual and contemporary setting," Seymore said. In slightly over a year, "Good News" has won fame and respect from critics throughout the southland. Its timeless message and music make it a "must" for all those who have the opportunity to see and hear it.

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church has presented the musical three times with very favorable response. Recently the local choir presented the program in a Baptist church in Fort Worth.

The choir is made up of 25 junior high, high school and college students, featuring Bill Grantz, soloist and guitarist, and Susan Grantz, pianist. The choir is under the direction of Tommy Seymore.

The public is invited to attend this final performance.

Boy Bitten, Police Looking For Dog

Winters police this week are searching for a dog which bit a small boy about a week ago, and are asking for help from the public.

Eric, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Seymore, was bitten on the arm and leg Wednesday morning of last week. The dog was caught and penned for observation, but escaped over the weekend.

The dog is a male, about 20 inches high, long curly hair, brownish-gray and white. At the time the dog was first picked up, it had no collar or other identification.

The dog was seen in the vicinity of the school Tuesday of this week, but police were unable to locate it.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of this dog is asked to contact the Winters Police Department or Mr. and Mrs. Seymore immediately. Under no circumstances should the dog be killed.

Blizzard Band Won Trophies At San Angelo

The Winters High School Blizzard Band, under direction of Kirke McKenzie, won two trophies for participation in the first annual Angelo State College Band Day in San Angelo Saturday. The Band Day was in conjunction with the Angelo State homecoming event.

The Winters band won a first division trophy in marching contests, and were also presented a trophy for being the "Outstanding Marching Band" in the contests.

Marching competition was held in downtown San Angelo Saturday morning, with band members attending the Angelo State-Eastern New Mexico University football game in the afternoon. Six bands participated in the events.

3752 Bales In

Winters Warehouse reported Wednesday morning that they had received 3752 bales of cotton from gins at Wingate and Winters.

Winters High School Exes Make Plans For Next Year's Homecoming

James Gehrels, incoming president of the Homecoming committee of the Winters Ex-Students Association, announced some tentative plans for next year's celebration at the business meeting Friday night in the school cafeteria after the football game.

The homecoming game will be on Saturday night with a Homecoming Queen from the High School and a "Coming Home" Queen from the ex-students. Plans are for a parade on Saturday afternoon with floats depicting "school days" or some phase of Homecoming, with prizes awarded for the best floats.

GENERAL ELECTION TUESDAY

How To Vote A Straight Ticket or A Split Ticket

To vote a "straight party" ticket, mark an "X" in one, and only one, of the boxes on the ballot's top line:

Candidates for:	<input type="checkbox"/> PARTY A	<input type="checkbox"/> PARTY B	<input type="checkbox"/> PARTY C
-----------------	----------------------------------	----------------------------------	----------------------------------

To vote a "split ticket" do not mark any box on the top line. Instead, mark "X's" in the boxes at the side of the individual candidates of your choice:

Candidates for:	DEMOCRATIC PARTY	REPUBLICAN PARTY	AMERICAN PARTY
Pres. & V. Pres.	<input type="checkbox"/> HUBERT H. HUMPHREY EDMUND S. MUSKIE	<input type="checkbox"/> RICHARD M. NIXON SPIRO T. AGNEW	<input type="checkbox"/> GEORGE C. WALLACE S. MARVIN GRIFFIN
Governor	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Lieut. Gov.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Att. Gen.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Comptroller	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
State Treasurer	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Two factors may cause some balloting confusion in the November 5 general election, election officials in Texas forecast this week. The two factors are:

1. A new State law has inserted a new top line on the paper ballots so that persons desiring to vote a "straight party ticket" may do so by making one mark. This new line is expected to confuse not only the "straight ticket" voters, but also the "split ticket" voters.

2. "Split ticket" voters are expected to be more numerous than ever before, especially since there is a third party, the American Party, and it has candidates for only President and Vice-President and no other offices.

Voters are cautioned to be certain that their ballots are properly marked so that their intentions will not be subject to interpretation by election officials.

The "scratch" method of voting, which some people prefer, is still permitted. However, voters using this method are cautioned to be certain to mark through all names in all three party columns for which they do not wish to vote.

C. of C. Directors Will Meet Next Monday, Nov. 4th

The November meeting of the board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce has been changed from Tuesday to Monday, November 4, because of General Election Day, November 5.

All members of the board are being urged to attend to discuss the upcoming Christmas program, and the Livestock Show, which will be held early in January.

Granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Wins "Miss Teenage" Ft. Worth Title

Debra Annette Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Duncan of Arlington, won the Miss Teenage Fort Worth title Tuesday evening of last week in competition at the Convention Center in Fort Worth. Twelve girls were being for the honor.

Miss Duncan is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mord Tucker of Winters. Her mother is the former Jannette Tucker.

Miss Duncan will represent the area in the Miss Teenage America Pageant in Fort Worth in late November.

The blue-eyed blonde from Arlington High School sang "Sunny" for her portion of the talent competition. She is five feet, five inches tall and maintains an A-average in school. She has a brother, Dan, 14, and a sister, Dee Dee, 10.

Debbie is 17 years old and a senior. Her hobbies include drama and singing. She has been a finalist in speech tournaments and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Her prizes include a weekend trip for two to San Francisco, a year's supply of Dr. Pepper, charm courses from Striplings of Fort Worth, and other gifts.

As Miss Teenage Fort Worth, Debbie will participate in the pre-pageant activities at the Inn of Six Flags during the week prior to the national event. Debbie's plans for the future include attending Texas Technological College and being a drama teacher in high school.

Four Winters Students In Cisco College

Cisco Junior College's record fall enrollment of 975 students includes four from Winters, according to figures released by the Registrar's office of the college.

Ahilene, with 155 CJC students, has the most of any city, followed by Cisco with 135. Third is Breckenridge with 66, and Eastland is fourth with 58.

Students from Winters attending Cisco Junior College are Beverly Briley, Thelma Brown, Ricky Dry and Gilbert Minzenmayer.

GIN SEASON—Charles Dodson, left, operator of the Winters Gin Co., and Dwain Johnson, ginner, stand before one of the saw stands of the local gin. This gin has been running 24 hours a day during the past several days, trying to keep abreast of the heavy inflow of cotton. As it is, trailer loads of cotton stack up on the gin yard. Scarcity of trailers has been one handicap to harvesters this year, too. With good weather, farmers are beginning to make inroads on the 1968 cotton crop, said to be one of the best in several years. Cotton is said to be of good quality this year, too. (Staff photo)

Winters area voting for nominees for county, district and many state offices will be merely a formality at the General Election next Tuesday, November 5, because of the lack of competition here for those elective positions.

However, voter turnout locally is expected to be heavy, due to the presidential election, and more-than-usual competition in the Governor's race. As in most other sections of the State and the nation, interest in the presidential race has been high in this area, and that interest has been heightened this election year by the presence of a serious third-party candidate for the office of President of the United States.

Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. In Winters, Precinct 7 voters, on the west side of town, will vote at the office of the Chamber of Commerce. Voters in Precinct 26, the east side of town, voters will go to the City Fire Station.

In an area of traditional Democratic party affiliations, where there seldom are candidates for county and district office from parties other than Democrat, voters have been known to jump party lines in Presidential elections. This happened in 1960, when then-Sen. John F. Kennedy was the Democrat candidate, and then Vice President Richard Nixon was the Republican candidate for President. In that election, more than 4000 Runnels counties voted, favoring Nixon by almost 200 votes. In the two Winters voting precincts, Nixon was the favorite by 102 votes.

In the 1964 General Election, local voters stayed in the Democrat column, with President Johnson receiving 710 in the two Winters boxes, and Sen. Barry Goldwater receiving 326.

Although no accurate polls on the Presidential race have been taken locally, observers have noted that indications are that local voters are about evenly split for Democrat Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Republican Richard Nixon, with the third-party candidate, American Independent George C. Wallace receiving much attention.

STATE RACES

Political observers also point out that absence of local activity in the races for State office indicates that most "split ticket" voting will be confined to the presidential race. Although there are Republican candidates for several high State offices, there has been little if any campaigning for anyone other than the Democrats. The most noticeable race is the one for Governor, with Democrat Lt. Gov. Preston Smith opposed by Republican Paul Eggers.

Other Democrats with Republican opponents in higher State office races are Speaker of the House Ben Barnes for Lieutenant Governor, opposed by Doug DeCluit; for Attorney General, Crawford Martin (D), and Sproesser Wynn (R); for Comptroller, Robert S. Calvert (D), John M. Bennett (R); State Treasurer, Jesse James (D), Manuel Sanchez (R); Land Commissioner, Jerry Sadler (D), Millard K. Neptune (R); Com. of Agriculture, John C. White (D), E. G. Schuhart II (R); and Railroad Com., Jim C. Langdon (D), Jim Segrest (R).

On the remainder of the ballot which will be marked by local voters, all Democratic party candidates have no opponent.

Strictly local Democratic party candidates, with no opposition, are Omar Burleson, U. S. Rep., 17th District; Frank M. Pool, Dist. 21, State board of Education; State Representative, Dist. 64, Lynn Nabers; District Judge, 119th Jud. Dist., Glenn R. Lewis; Dist. Atty., 119th Dist., Royal Hart; Runnels County Atty., O. L. Parish Jr., Sheriff, Don F. Atkins; Tax Assessor—Collector, Pannell Legg Jr.

Voters also will make a decision on 14 amendments to the State Constitution.

Metal Awning Being Installed At Swim Pool

The City Parks Department this week installed a new metal awning at the Municipal Swimming Pool. Multi-colored corrugated metal is being used. The new metal awning will be of a permanent nature, replacing the canvas awning which was used for a number of years.

Wellesley Hills, Mass., Oct. 31—Five days from now, the popular balloting for President of the United States will take place in every corner of the nation. But, conceivably, we may not know until some time in January who the next Chief Executive will be. It could be that close!

Forming A Consensus
Following the party conventions this summer, disaffection and dissatisfaction with the nominees was widespread among Republicans, Democrats, and others not normally hard-and-fast adherents of either party. Differences of opinion within the ranks of Democrats were more noticeable than among Republicans, though many staunch Republicans were dismayed at the choice of Governor Agnew for second spot on that ticket. And literally millions of Americans, of differing political persuasions, have been unhappy because they could detect little distinction in what they regarded as the "hawkish" views of Messrs. Humphrey, Nixon, and Wallace on the Vietnam issue.

Many citizens are reportedly so wrought up that they may not vote at all. But as each day passes, more and more undecided voters are reaching a decision. The spread between the two leading candidates has apparently narrowed and there is some reason to believe the third candidate reached a popularity peak some time ago. Right now additional millions of voters are swinging toward a choice.

Is A Deadlock Likely?
At this writing, no man knows how close this election will actually turn out to be. But we do know that the cleavage over law and order, Vietnam, foreign aid, civil rights, and the war on poverty will cause more cross-switching by voters than normally occurs. We also know that ex-Gov. Wallace has attracted more voter interest and support than any third-party candidate within memory.

The Wallace strength and these cross-trends within the major parties could make for a deadlock in the electoral college, even if one of the three candidates should attain a majority of the popular vote. For it is in the electoral college that the final decision will be made.

General Electoral Procedure
When we make our ballot choice for President and Vice President, we are actually electing a slate of electors who will presumably favor our chosen candidates. The electors from each state equal in number the Senators and Representatives from that state. Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, the Canal Zone, and Guam have no electoral vote; but the District of Columbia does have 3 votes. Hence, the full complement of the electoral college is 538, with 270 votes needed to elect.

The electors cast their votes in their respective states on the Monday following the second Wednesday in December (Dec. 16 this year). If no presidential candidate receives 270 votes when the ballots are opened by the President of the Senate on January 6, 1969 and tallied... in the presence of the Senate and the House of Representatives... the House then chooses a President from among the three candidates having the greatest number of electoral votes, with each state having but one vote and with 26 needed to elect. The Senate picks the Vice President from among the two candidates having the greatest number of electoral votes, with each Senator having one vote and with 51 needed to elect.

CREWS

Cotton farmers are real busy stripping their cotton and waiting for trailers to put more of the bountiful crop in, and head for the gin, all the time hoping that it will not rain for a few more days. There-by stands a grain farmer neighbor wishing for rain every day. One would readily conclude that it is best that man does not control the weather.

Blizzard "B's" Defeat Big Team From San Angelo Lakeview, 17-6

The Winters B team again was outclassed and outmanned by a San Angelo Lakeview Junior Varsity last Thursday night... but the desire and fight of the young Blizzards dominated the Chiefs.

The Blizzards struck first in the first quarter behind the running and passing of Hudon White. The extra point was good, leaving the score 8-0.

During the second quarter the Chiefs scored on a 60-yard drive with the big gainer on a 30-yard run around their right end. The hard running of their 200-pound fullback drove the ball on into the end zone, to put the score at 8-6. The extra point try was stalled on the 1-foot line.

The Blizzards came back again on a drive going to the 1-yard line on a run by Mike Mathis, but a clipping penalty nullified the run, and the ball went back to the 30.

The second half gave the Blizzards more trouble as the mighty Chief defense, led by a 243-pound guard and 210-pound tackle stymied the hometown boys momentarily. However, the true desire that each boy has on the team put down the oversized B team of San Angelo and the Blizzards scored again on a 35-yard run around left end by Mike Mathis. The final score was 17-6 with the final two points coming with the Blizzard defense pushing the Chiefs' offense into their own end zone.

As usual the B team defense was shining, with such standouts as Joe Ivey, Tommy Jones, Mike Wagner, Von Byrd, and Joe Lujano. However, the offense which had been missing for the last few weeks finally came alive this week, with a total of 243 yards. White was the leading ground gainer with 106, followed by Mathis and Byrd. Joe Pritchard was the main reason for many of White's yardage with his fine blocking.

The Winters B team travels to Colorado City this week to face another tough AAA team, then to Lakeview on Saturday, November 9, and then close with Coleman there on November 14. The record of the young Blizzards now stands at 2-1-1.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Black bass fishing is not expensive. Sure you can make any participating sport costly. A golfer with the most expensive clubs, a velvety leather golf bag, a golf cart and pockets full of super-duper golf balls can run up a big bill at the sporting goods store. And an even bigger bill on the links if he's inclined to wager.

Likewise with the angler who has to have diamond-studded reels and rods with golden guides and all the fancy-pantsy gadgets that the fisherman can buy.

But, listen while I tell you of the least expensive sport you can imagine. It's black-bass fishing with artificial worms.

Not live worms — they're a buck a can. Just plain ole plastic worms. You can buy 'em for a dime apiece at most bargain counters and sometimes "two-for." But even at 10-times the price they are still the most economical baits you can use.

And look what little you need to go along with them! One weedless hook will last a long, long time. Cost for hooks . . . about a dime apiece. Then you will need a sliding sinker (another dime), or you can use the clamp-ons that run a third as much. Besides your rod and reel, that's all you need — to have at it. Then if you lose a lure it's not a $1.50 popping plug but a ten cent plastic worm. And just think how many fish you caught on that artificial worm before you lost it in the brush or a lunker gobbled it and ran.

Doggone, man, there's just nothing that will beat plastic worm fishing. Besides, it's, the most productive way.

Takes a little patience, but not much. Shucks, you came out to relax, didn't you? Then take it easy. That's the way to latch onto bass when you're fishing with the artificial worm.

Another thing, man, you can cast right into the middle of a lily pond, at the base of a weeping willow tree, or into the darndest mess of weeds you've ever seen — and that ole worm-and-weedless-hook comes slithering gack, scratchin' bottom all the way, bumping logs and bouncing off rocks just like it was made to last forever.

Fact of the matter is — you sometimes get tired of looking at the ole gnawed-on worm and slap on a new one just for beauty's sake.

They're easy to put on — just like a live worm only they're not slimy. And if you're careful you can use the old wiggler again and again by cutting it shorter and shorter.

Now, how can you beat that? It's the best type of black bass fishing and as the ole peddler always says — "The best for less." To which we might add — the most productive, too.

If you haven't tried plastic worm fishing — call the ace angler in your town (the guy who brings in the biggest bass) — and ask him to rig up your gear. You can bet your bottom dollar he knows.

Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Scarcely a month now goes by without announcement of further curtailments in railroad passenger service in the United States. Already, direct passage for people by rail between many of the nation's leading cities is but a memory and further cut-backs are in the offing.

Challenge To Free Enterprise Decline of railroad passenger service is the result of a number of developments. These include: Wider acceptance of travel by auto; growth of long-distance bus service; competition from the airlines; sharply higher wage and other costs which impelled rail managements to favor the money-making freight sector of their business; and the heavy hand of government controls.

Each of these drawbacks is serious. Collectively, they have almost spelled the end of rail passenger service in the nation. Are they insurmountable obstacles, instead of a challenge to free enterprise? Time is running out, but perhaps it is not too late to save the railroads from extinction or from government ownership.

Need for Economy Concentration on their lucrative freight runs will not in itself assure the rails a profitable future featured by expanding business. Their break-even points are high and still moving up . . . hamstrung by government controls. Their competition from highway, water, and air transport is increasing by leaps and bounds — and hurting in a growing number of instances. Their need for expensive equipment and maintenance is continuing and expanding.

The only real hope for the railroads is a concerted campaign to reduce costs, curb the excess demands of labor, and improve productivity. Without this economy and more efficient management, it just isn't going to be possible in the long run to operate with a profit large enough to attract sufficient investor interest. And failure would probably bring government ownership.

In many instances the abandonment of passenger service was the inevitable result of circumstances beyond the control of railroad managements. But there have been quite a good many cases, too, where cutoffs and curtailments could have been avoided if the roads had exercised more responsibility and been less eager to divest themselves of passenger service.

Railroad managements could have fought harder to preserve economically useful and feasible segments of their passenger service. They can still make a mighty contribution to medium-haul passenger service, which needs to be restructured to relieve the burden placed on air-line facilities in recent years.

Government's Role While railroad passenger service will never again be as pervasive and extensive as it was in the early decades of this century, it can and should be a vital link in our over-all transportation system. Public convenience demands this and there are economic benefits that will flow from a rejuvenation of such service in sectors of the country where the need for it can be shown and where government and public support for it will be forthcoming.

The federal government must play a leading role in any such move. The Department of Transportation already has broad responsibility in this area, and in the years immediately ahead we may expect to see that responsibility expanded. We are a nation of 200 million already, and still growing. There is a place for every type of transport within our borders. Instead of the hodge-podge we have to-

Methodist WSCS Had Program on Prayer Tuesday

"Call to Prayer and Self-Denial" was the topic of the program when members of the WSCS met Tuesday morning in the parlor of the church.

The president, Mrs. John Shaffrina, presided for a short business session. Mrs. Clarence Ledbetter announced the program and followed by Prelude—John 10:10. The call to worship was given by leaders and audience.

The group sang "In Christ There Is No East or West." The songs, prayers and familiar verses all stress on word "life." The call to prayer and self-denial is to acknowledge our entire dependence on God.

The program continued by Mrs. Nichols on "Educational Work and Building Fund." Mrs. Bowman spoke on "Human Rights and Responsibilities." Numerous quotations and ideas on "Vietnam Tomorrow," were presented by Mrs. Ledbetter.

The offertory, "The Presentation of Sacrificial Offerings," was followed by the benediction in unison.

day with its self-defeating inadequacies and unhealthy competitiveness, we can have a well-integrated system beneficial to all—in which rail passenger service will have its own secure and profitable niche.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — Lawyers and news-men of Texas have jointly formed a special committee to establish guidelines to protect the right of the free press in covering arrests and trials while at the same time guaranteeing fair treatment of accused persons.

This combination state-bar and news-media panel includes representatives of the State Bar of Texas, Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association, Texas Association of Broadcasters, AP and UPI Managing Editors Associations and Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism fraternity.

Committee is the outgrowth of controversial recommendations made by the Reardon Advisory Committee on Fair Trial and Free Press (American Bar Association). Reardon Committee suggested tight restrictions by courts and law enforcement agencies on information to news media concerning arrests and pending criminal cases. American Bar adopted the restrictions then urged state and local groups to make them effective.

Purpose of state committee, said Texas Bar President Ralph W. Brite of San Antonio, is "to promote a better understanding between the Bar and news media, particularly in their efforts to support the constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press and the right of a fair, impartial and public trial."

Brite said guidelines will be established for both lawyers and newsmen in release of information related to criminal proceedings.

Bar representatives will include a prosecutor, a defense attorney, a general practitioner and one of the bar's judicial section which is made up of trial and appellate judges.

ABA already has formed a national committee on "guidelines for arrest and trial coverage."

Bar directors also okayed a 13-point legislative program for 1969. One important item is an act to reform the bail bond system. Others high on the list call for revision in statutes governing marriage, annulment and divorce, the Marital Property Act of 1967, and an amendment to the State Bar Act to suspend an attorney convicted of a felony. Conviction would disbar the attorney. The bail reform act is to do away with the present system which generally forces a person charged with a crime to pay a bondsman fee.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS

Contractors and repairmen learned with relief that they will not have to absorb the sales tax on materials they use in their work.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert had held that changes in the sales tax law required them to absorb the tax. But Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held that the Legislature did not mean to do that, so the repairmen will continue to collect sales taxes from their customers on parts they use for repairs, or the materials they use.

In a variety of other recent opinions, Martin ruled that:

—Comptroller may issue warrants from appropriated funds without regard to invalid restrictions in an appropriations bill.

—Initial terms of members of the Judicial Qualifications Commission terminate November 19, 1967, 1969, and 1971, respectively.

—Special temporary agricultural permit for truck movement of farm commodities does not permit transportation of equipment such as combines.

—Drive-away in-transit license plates are authorized only for transportation of new vehicles moving under own power—not truck trailers and mobile homes. Holder does not have to be a state resident.

—State Securities Commissioner is authorized to see copies of franchise tax reports made to the comptroller by corporations.

—Parks and Wildlife Commission can amend a bond resolution to substitute another copaying agent for park development bonds without re-advertising or new bids.

—Whether pipeline rental is subject to the sales tax is a fact issue for the comptroller to determine.

—A county attorney could serve as a professor for a college class, but could not accept pay for both jobs.

ANTI-TEEN DRINKING PROGRAM PUSHED

Liquor Control Board has launched an educational program to curb drinking by teenagers.

Acting Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr. said the main objective is to show youngsters problems a single violation of liquor laws can cause them. LCB statistics show 10,672 violations involving minors and 10,184 convictions in the first eight months of the year.

LCB proposes distribution of literature explaining liquor laws to parents and teenagers; lectures in churches, schools and clubs; distribution of informational films and a new reporting system to keep tabs on liquor law violations involving minors (as a guide to areas where education needs to be concentrated).

A single violation, Humphreys warned, can mar the record of a youth for life.

PARKS & WILDLIFE

Expenditure this year of $1.9 million under the $75 million park development problem has the approval of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Bulk of initial expenditure will go to purchasing and developing Dinosaur Tracks State Park near Glen Rose in Somervell County and other parks within two hours driving time of Houston.

Commission adopted a policy requiring its own formal approval of any land purchased by P-W department for state use.

Commission also amended the Tropical Fish or Fish Eggs Importation Proclamation to include the Asian "walking cat fish." Fish has been noticed in some pet stores, but isn't popular because it leaves the tank and kills other fish. Amendment calls for a permit to sell or import the aggressive fish to prevent its spread to Texas waterways because of its menace to other fish.

COURTS SPEAK

Supreme Court has scheduled arguments for December 4 in a suit challenging the Fort Worth school district's authority to curb high school fraternity and sorority membership. Lower courts have upheld the school district.

High court refused a motion for rehearing by the Houston Legal Foundation in a suit by four lawyers who claim it is economically harmful to attorneys. Foundation was set up under Economic Opportunity Act. High court has held lawyers should be permitted to maintain suit.

Motion to reconsider holding that cities are immune from most damage suits was rejected by court.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered Clifford Darrell Carroll released from death row for retrial (in view of a U. S. Supreme Court finding) in the scalding death of a two-year-old girl.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. John Connally named nine state agency members and 12 representatives of local governments to a new state council to plan and coordinate law enforcement activities to implement provisions of the federal omnibus crime control and safe streets act of 1968.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION REVAMPED

Vocational education, a critical area of learning, will get a new direction before 1973, according to the Texas Education Agency.

Change will begin next year with new state plan designed to coordinate efforts of schools and industry. Federal funds will be available in eight different areas, for improving home environments and family life in depressed areas, for expanding vocational homemaking programs, to work with those with physical handicaps and to aid cooperative industry-school training plans.

SHORT SNORTS

Sixty-two breath analysis devices to sniff-out drunk drivers now are in use by highway patrolmen.

Unemployment in a survey claims shrank last month to 90,783 reports the Texas Employment Commission.

Fort Worth newspaperman Wallace Sheppard, publisher of the news-Tribune, a suburban newspaper in Haltom City, has announced as a write-in candidate for state representative on the American Independent Party ticket with George Wallace.

Dolores Ranch near Laredo will open to gun hunters November 9-January 1 for low-cost deer hunting sponsored by the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas.

Former Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin heads the new Texas Democrats for Nixon organization.

Texas Education Agency said that growing interest in sex education, health hazards of smoking, drug abuse and alcoholism may change the health education program bulletin now being used in Texas schools.

College Coordinating Board approved creation of a junior college for Orange County, subject to voter adoption of a $6.1 million bond issue.

Richard Puckett In "Who's Who Among Students"

Named in this year's national listing of America's most outstanding university and college students is Richard Lee Puckett of Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Puckett of Winters.

His name is included in the 1968-69 edition of Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges, a listing of the campus leaders from more than 1,000 of the nation's institutions of higher learning.

Puckett is currently a junior student at McMurry College, Abilene.

Flavorful Turkey

Refreshing autumn weather should create an especially warm welcome for turkey on the menu.

This favorite bird, traditionally honored at Thanksgiving and Christmas, has spread its usefulness to include any day of the year. One of the reasons for its widening popularity has been the many different sizes it comes in nowadays.

You can still get the large birds weighing under 12 pounds, allow 3-4 to 1 pound per serving. With turkeys weighing over 12 pounds, 1-2 to 3-4 pound should provide an adequate serving.

Most of the whole turkeys you find at your grocer's are fresh-frozen and ready to cook. Raw, boneless roasts weighing from 2 to 8 pounds also are handy. And you may like boneless turkey rolls which already have been cooked. Too, you'll find many markets selling cut-up turkey parts, including wings, legs, thighs and breast meat.

About 90 percent of all whole-carcass turkeys are retailed "fresh-frozen" — frozen immediately after processing and chilling. Freezing prolongs the freshness, decreases costs of handling and results in a superior product at a lower retail price.

Fresh-chilled turkeys—cooled but not frozen—have a shorter shelf life, are more susceptible to spoilage, and are usually more tender due to the aging process. They must be kept below 45 degrees F., however.

When planning to cook turkey on a rotisserie, you'll probably want to select a bird weight of 12 pounds or under. Preparation for turkey to be cooked on an outdoor-grill rotisserie is about the same as for roasting. Flatten wings over breast and tie securely. A 6 to 8 pound turkey generally takes 3 to 3 1/2 hours to cook, an 8 to 10 pound bird, 3 1/2 to 4 hours.

If oven cooking is more your style, here's a tasty recipe for Barbecued Turkey.
3 to 6 lb. cut-up young turkey
1 cup flour — 2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons paprika — 1/4 teaspoon pepper — 1 stick butter
1-4 cup shortening
Spicy Barbecue Sauce

Dip turkey pieces into mixture of flour, salt, paprika and pepper. Melt butter and shortening in a shallow baking pan in a 400 degree F. oven. Remove baking pan from oven. As pieces of floured turkey are placed in pan, turn to coat with butter, then bake skin-side down in a single layer. Bake in 400 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Turn turkey; pour spicy barbecue sauce over top. Bake about 30 minutes longer, or until tender.

Spicy Barbecue Sauce:
1 medium onion, sliced
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1-2 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup catsup — 1-2 cup water
Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Simmer for 15 minutes.

Turkey Patio Salad:
2 cups diced, cooked boneless turkey roast
11 ounce can mandarin orange segments, drained
1-2 teaspoon seasoned salt
1-4 cup mayonnaise
No. 211 can pineapple tidbits, drained
1 cup diced celery
1-4 cup roasted pecans, chopped
Lettuce

Combine turkey, pineapple, orange segments, celery-seasoned salt and pecans. Moistened with mayonnaise. Serve on bed of lettuce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Not long ago a man filed suit for divorce on the ground that his wife had committed adultery — 20 years earlier. But his case was dismissed because of too much procrastination. The court noting the difficulties of finding out what really happened that long ago, commented:

"A husband cannot wait to make his charges until the years dim the proofs to the contrary."

Like most lawsuits, a divorce suit too long delayed may be barred automatically by a state statute of limitations. But even if there is no automatic bar, the courts are usually skeptical of divorce suits in which the complaining spouse has postponed action for an excessive period of time.

One reason, mentioned above, is the problem of evidence—of dredging facts out of a distant past. Another reason is the feeling that a grievance, if acted upon so slowly, could not have been too serious in the first place.

Thus a woman failed to convince the court that two blows by her husband, inflicted 40 years before, had ruined her marriage.

"There must be some limit to judicial credulity," said the judge. "We think it has been reached here."

Nevertheless, there may well be a legitimate reason for delay. For example, a man who put off a divorce suit for a number of years, after learning of his wife's infidelity, gave an excuse that satisfied the court: he wanted to spare his young children from scandal as long as he could.

In another case a husband was held justified in waiting gallantly, before suing for divorce, while his wife recovered from a severe illness.

Perhaps the best reason for delay is that the wronged spouse continues to have hope that the marriage may yet be preserved. Thus, a court found no fault with a man who waited seven years—in recurring hope of a reconciliation — before finally seeking a divorce on grounds of marital cruelty. The court felt it would be unfair to blame him for wanting what the law itself encourages: the saving of the marriage.

Mrs. Jess Drake Died Saturday, Funeral Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. from Spill Memorial Chapel for Mrs. Jess Drake, 84. Officiating were the Rev. F. R. Cole of Abilene, and the Rev. J. S. Tierce, retired Baptist minister of Winters. Burial was in the Wingate Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Mrs. Drake died in Merrill Nursing Home in Winters early Saturday morning, following an illness of several years.

She was born Effie Josephine Newsum, April 27, 1884, in Arkansas. When she was ten years old her mother died and she came to Texas to live with her brother in Bell County. She later moved to the home of her sister in Fisher County.

She was married to Jess Drake in 1903 in Fisher County. Following their marriage they moved to Rannels County, settling near Norton where they lived until 1933 when they moved to the Pumphrey Community northwest of Winters. Mrs. Drake died in 1935. In 1949 Mrs. Drake moved to Winters and had lived here for the past 19 years.

She was a member of the first Baptist Church in Winters. Survivors include three children, Marvin Drake of Sudan; Mrs. Vada Edwards of Bluff Dale, and Mrs. Charlie Sprinkle of Winters; a brother, Alvin Newsum of Ballinger; five grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. Grandsons were pallbearers.

Plan Early — The Williamson County Crops Committee has their plans for 1969 about ready to go. Losses of $15 per bale or more on the current cotton harvest were reason enough for the early plans, reports County Agent John Wakefield. The 1969 educational program — being planned will include daily radio programs which will emphasize humidity, ginning and harvesting conditions. The early push however, will deal with land preparation, early planting and insect control in order to produce a crop that will be harvested by mid-September.

Mrs. Earl Roach presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Paul Cozy, and Mrs. Rayburn Merrill displayed a sample fruit cake. The club will sell fruit cakes during the holidays.

Mrs. C. R. Kendrick presented a paper on "Federation's Challenge." Mrs. Kendrick asked, "Why should we belong to a Federated Woman's Club?" She pointed out the many advantages to the individual as well as to the club and that 75 years of achievement has been brought about by women who have the foresight of understanding and tolerance.

Mrs. Roach led a safety quiz, and handed out pamphlet from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The following members answered assigned roll call: Mes-

James C. R. Bellis, Roy Crawford, George Garrett, Z. I. Hale, C. R. Kendrick, Joyce Krause, M. E. Leeman, Rayburn Merrill, Earl Roach, J. B. Whitlow, Roy Young and the hostesses. ## Burleson Says Funds Allocated For Rural Water

Congressman Omar Burleson announced today that the U. S. Farmers Home Administration has allocated loan and grant funds to launch construction of 9 more rural community water and sewer systems in the 17th Congressional District.

Burleson said the reservation of funds has been confirmed following action by Congress and the Administration to increase the budget for these community improvements in the rural section this fiscal year.

In addition to $158 million originally scheduled in the fiscal 1969 budget, The Congressman said, the Administration has given the Farmers Home Administration authority to insure an additional $50 million in privately-funded loans to small municipal governments and public service districts. The additional authorization follows recent passage by Congress of a bill removing a fixed limit on the agency's insured loan authority for the rural community water and sewer program.

Burleson said the action helps ease a backlog of project applications far exceeding the amount of loan and grant authority originally budgeted for this fiscal year.

"All pending projects have been moved up on the waiting list," Congressman Burleson said. "More than first expected can be funded this fiscal year. We also have new hope that projects for which there was no financing in sight can now be considered for funding in the fiscal year beginning next July 1."

The Congressman said the rural water facilities program "deserves the highest priority, even in these times of severe pressure on the national budget. Modernizing water and sewer services is an indispensable first step toward reviving rural communities and making them more attractive places to live, to work and locate new industry. Benefits of this program are measured not only in terms of rural progress, but in easing the flow of distressed people to the cities."

The rural community facilities programs are carried on through the Farmers Home Administration, a Department of Agriculture agency, for rural towns of up to 5,500 and areas of the rural countryside. Projects are developed through Farmers Home Administration county offices.

Congressman Burleson said the Farmers Home Administration has reserved funds to be available this fiscal year for the following projects, as they come to the stage of readiness for construction.

AROUND THE 7-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

At this stage, Stamford is the undisputed leader of the league—but the Bulldogs still have three more disputes before the windup of the regular season November 15. They still have to play the Blizzards, which they will do this week in Winters; Hamlin next week; and then the wrap-up against close-trailing (at this time) Ballinger Nov. 15.

If the Stamford pack stubs their toe in any of these games (and it could conceivably happen), Ballinger could be in a position to make things rough for them. And Ballinger has to play Winters yet, too.

Stamford ran off and left Anson last Friday night, literally. Not only did they leave the Tigers sprawled with 229 to 23 yards on the ground, they snagged four of Anson's aeriels. Anson did make 164 yards in the air to Stamford's 77. Each team lost a fumble, too.

Stamford visits Winters, and Anson goes to Hamlin this week.

Ballinger slid past Haskell 17-15 last Friday night in a rough and tumble event at Ballinger. Nothing countable happened in the first, then the Bearcats went across . . . and then the Indians chased a kickoff 85 yards to get back in the game . . . then the Bearcats kicked a 32-yard field goal to end the half 10-7. Ballinger scored again in the third period, for the last time of the evening. Haskell kept trying, and in the last 18 seconds of the game went across for 6, then PATed for 2, to end the game 17-15.

Coleman hosted Hamlin, and took the game 10-0 Friday night, in a ground attack which left the Pipers groggy. The Bluecats chalked up 300 yards on the ground to Hamlin's 125, in a game which saw scoring only in the second quarter. Coleman got a TD from the 2, and then again in the second, booted a 12-yard field goal to get their night's score—10-0.

Coleman goes to Haskell this week.

The Winters Blizzards scored once in the first, twice in the second, against Merkel Friday night—then didn't get a chance to repeat during the second half. But they held the Badgers down, allowing Merkel only one criss-over in the second quarter, and another without PAT in the 1st.

Merkel meets Ballinger this week at home, while the Blizzards are at home to Stamford.

DISTRICT RESULTS	W	L	T
Ballinger	3	0	1
Winters	2	2	0
Haskell	2	2	0
Coleman	2	2	0
Hamlin	1	3	0
Merkel	1	3	0

The 1968-69 yearbooks were distributed. The new yearbooks are dedicated to the memory of the late Mrs. Grace Parker, a long time worker at the Winters school cafeteria.

Mrs. J. B. Whitlow of Winters, reminded the ladies of the State Convention to be held in San Antonio next June. She urged the group to start now to make plans to attend this convention.

Two films were shown on the proper care in preparing and serving food.

The next meeting will be November 23, at the Rowena school cafeteria.

★ MOVIES ★

"VILLA RIDES" stars Yul Brynner, Robert Mitchum and Charles Bronson. This Paramount Picture, in Technicolor shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre.

One of the most important aids to the production of Paramount Pictures' "Villa Rides," a look at a brief period in the life of the Mexican revolutionary Pancho Villa, was the helicopter. So vital was it that it is doubtful that the film, showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre, could have been completed as effectively without it and only then at considerably more time and expense.

In "Villa Rides," Robert Mitchum plays the pilot of a pre-World War I "Flying Jenny" bi-plane. For sequences of Mitchum aloft, scouting and even bombing, the helicopter was used to carry a camera to film the plane itself and the events in which the plane was participating from Mitchum's point of view.

Blizzards Clinch Second League Game, Bouncing Merkel 20-13 Friday

The Winters Blizzards leveled their league record to 2-2 Friday night on Blizzard Field, cooling the Merkel Badgers 20-13.

Winters lit the scoreboard in the first quarter, with a 40-yard drive which was climaxed by a one-yarder from Reese McCuiston to James Greer, and then kicked for the PAT.

McCuiston then made a one-yard line plunge for the second score, in the second quarter, and then the Blizzards quarterback took it over again from the two, after a 60-yard drive.

Johnny Thompson, Merkel tailback, scampered 67 yards for a counter in the second quarter, following recovery of a Winters fumble.

Merkel scored again in the final period, after a 52-yard drive which took 12 plays.

The Blizzards outstripped the Badgers, with 16 first downs to 6; 157 rushing yards to 125; 113 passing yards to 36. They completed 9 of 15 passes, allowing Merkel 3 of 10 attempts.

We all need someone who will make us do what we are capable of doing.

Home Town Talk—

(Continued from page 1) tem is basically good and is about as near perfect as any the human race will ever come up with. We may not agree with any of the candidates on the slate, nor with any of the propositions put before us. But to refuse to voice an opinion in either direction is a refusal to accept our share of a great responsibility. If enough of us failed to voice an opinion long enough, it stands to reason that before long we would not be given the privilege of expressing ourselves when we really felt like it.
