HOME TOWN Talk

It's amazing how time changes things... or, to put it properly, how things change with time... and more often than not, a very short time at that. What was popular five or six years—or even months—ago, is now long forgotten, and a new interest has developed; that which is popular or common today will be old hat by tomorrow; ideas and objects, tossed into the rubbish heap in favor of something new... or something old, rejuvenated.

We saw a little item on a shelf of a local store this week which is a perfect example, a good piece of evidence of the changing moods which are reflected in hundreds of ways, every day. It wasn't the object itself which was "out of date"—this item could be popular for a long time to come; but it was the carton in which it was packed that was behind (or ahead?) of the times. There was a little notation on the carton that the item was built "especially for use in civil defense shelters."

Now how long has it been since you've thought of "civil defense shelters." To say nothing of reading about them and seeing items which were "built especially" for shelters? Time was—and that time was not very long ago—when there was a great hue and cry about the need for "civil defense shelters"—how everyone needed one in his back yard; what to store in a shelter; how to live for long periods in a shelter; and what to do when emerging. Nearly every publication in the country carried articles describing the need for these shelters, and plans for the "complete family-size shelter" could be obtained from many sources. Defense shelters sprang up all over the country. For a small down payment, and small monthly installments, one could have his own shelter built in his back yard. Build it now before it's too late! (It was never explained that if these shelters were really needed, how it would remain possible to continue those monthly installments through several years!)

During the "civil defense shelter" days, there was an attempt at organizing community "defense" units; block captains were supposed to be named, teams assigned to specific duties; there were supposed to be instructions released so that everyone would know just what to do and where to go in case the sirens sounded. Every town and city which could boast of being a town or city set up paper organizations against the coming emergency! There was a great hullabaloo about the whole thing, for a year or two or three.

We still see those little signs in certain places about the country, marking those places as "defense shelters," but no one pays any attention to them, it seems. They're there—if they haven't fallen down or been taken down during the past few years—but that's about all. There is still—a national civil defense department, but we never hear about it any more. Time was, a few short years ago, when every mail brought from one to a dozen pieces of publicity about what to do and where to go in case of emergency, about how to organize against attack, and what organizations would be in charge if such came about. How long has it been since we've seen anything like that? Six months? Two years? Six years? They have disappeared quietly, without too much fanfare.

What happened? The temper of the times has not changed, that's for sure! If there was that

The inscription on the marker to be dedicated reads:

Mr. Lockhart, first teacher); Post Office established 1892 in Wise & Broughton Store; first Postmaster, J. D. Wise. Methodist Church was organized in 1890; Baptist Church in 1894. Later 11 businesses were in operation; by 1930 school had 7 teachers. The doctors serving longest were F. M. Hale, C. A. Watson, R. E. Burrus.

"Post Office closed 1922; the school consolidated with others in 1948. The churches are still active, 1969."

WHS Graduate, Now At Stamford, Gets Vo-Ag Award

Weldon R. Holbrooks, vocational agriculture teacher in Stamford High School, was honored by the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas in Austin on August 6.

Holbrooks was recognized for his 20 years of service to the vocational agriculture program in Texas. He taught two years at Wharton before going to Stamford in 1951.

The award was presented at the annual awards breakfast of the association. The breakfast is held during the statewide conference of vocational agriculture teachers and the 1969 conference emphasized implementation of new approaches to the Vo-Ag education program.

Holbrooks said he has had approximately 600 students in his classes since he started teaching vo-ag, two who attained American Farmer degrees and 66 students who have received Lone Star Farmer degrees from the FFA.

$754.50 Collected For Red Cross

The total amount of funds which has been contributed in the special Red Cross drive here has been increased to $754.50.

Those who wish to contribute to this cause may do so by sending donations to The Enterprise or leaving them at the Winters State Bank. Checks should be made payable to the Red Cross.

The special fund drive has been conducted to augment Red Cross funds after the organization assisted about 25 families in repairing damage to their homes caused by the big hail-storm of June 12.

Principal Lists Needs Of Pupils In Winters Elementary School

The beginning of the 1969-70 school year is only a little more than two weeks away, and George M. Beard, principal of Winters Elementary School, reminds parents of children who will enroll this fall that there are a few preparations to make before the school doors open.

"Pre-School Roundup" was held last spring for parents of children who will enter the first grade this year, and many of the requirements were explained at that time. Principal Beard is re-emphasizing the requirements in the hope that transition from pre-schooler to first-grader will be less difficult for the pupil, and the parents.

One of the main requirements, Principal Beard said, is a birth certificate for each child entering school for the first time. The child must be six years old on or before Sept. 1 in order to enroll in school, and the parents must show proof of this in the form of a certified copy of the child's birth certificate.

This certified copy must be obtained from one of two sources: (1) the county clerk of the county where the child was born; (2) the Texas State Department of Health, Bureau of Vital Statistics, 410 E. 5th St., Austin.

If parents write to Austin, they should include the child's name, place of birth, date of birth, and the parents' name (including the mother's maiden name). There is a fee of $1.50 for each certified copy of the birth certificate.

Hospital or baptismal records are not legal birth certificates and may not be accepted as legal proof of the child's age, Principal Beard pointed out.

Another requirement is that the child be vaccinated for smallpox, it is added. If the child has not had this vaccination, school authorities are suggesting that it be done within the next few days so that scars will heal before the start of school.

Other recommendations, but not concrete entrance requirements, are that children have all essential immunizations, especially polio, whooping cough, and diphtheria.

Gas, Oil Wells Big Boosters To County Economy

Runnels County wells pumped some $10.5 million in gas and oil money into the county's economy last year, according to a study just released by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Value of production from oil wells was $9.9 million and from natural gas wells $558,000, based on the most recent U. S. Bureau of Mines figures compiled by the Association. The county ranked 93rd in the state in value of production.

"Output from Runnels County is part of this country's domestic oil supply which is endangered by some of the proposals now before Congress," commented Corbin J. Robertson, Association president. "Attempts to destroy percentage depletion provisions of our income tax laws and to nullify present controls over imported oil could discourage further development of Texas oil resources. Eventually oil markets now shared by the county would be given over to foreign producers."

Last year, the county produced 3.4 million barrels of crude oil and 4.3 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Of this total, county landowners and others with mineral interests received royalty payments of $1.3 million. The state received $496,000 in production taxes with crude oil accounting for $457,000 and natural gas $39,000. A number of school districts in the county lean heavily on oil production for ad valorem tax support, such as Wingate, 86.4 percent.

Drilling expenditures were an estimated $8.2 million. Of the 102 wells drilled in the county, 33 were completed as oil wells and three as gas wells, according to Ira Rinehart's Yearbook. The 66 dry holes cost $5 million. There were 58 wildcats drilled. The Texas Employment Commission lists 170 workers on oil and gas payrolls, which totaled $1 million.

Also adding to the county's economy, the Oil and Gas Journal shows two natural-gasoline processing plants with a daily capacity of 31.1 million cubic feet.

Pumphrey Farmer Finishes Terrace System On Farm

Truitt Smith has just completed a parallel terrace system on small grain land on his farm near Pumphrey.

Smith said technicians from the local Soil Conservation Service surveyed, designed, laid out and checked the terrace system. This kind of system gave him an even number of rows between his terraces. He said this eliminated most of the point rows, and made it easier to farm.

Smith said this parallel terrace system, constructed in 1968, reduced the slope of the land between his terraces so that water impounded above the terrace spreads over most of the area in between them, thus giving him a lot better distribution of his water.

Smith received cost-share assistance on construction of the terrace system through a Great Plains Conservation Program contract.

Glen Green, of the local Soil Conservation Service, said some of the cooperators of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District who plan to construct parallel terraces on small grain and maize land at this time are Audra L. Mitchell, Pumphrey; Paul Gerhart, Norton; Joe Vancliff, Hatchel; E. P. Talbott on his farm west of Winters and Merle Proctor of Wilmeth.

Youth Rodeo Saturday Tamed Success; Now Planning For 1970

Thirty contestants from the Winters-Wingate area participated in eight events during the Winters Youth Rodeo Saturday night in the Riding Club arena. The event was sponsored by the Winters Riding Club, and was termed a big success. Plans already are being made to sponsor another rodeo next year.

Spectators lined the arena in parked cars, on quilts and blankets on the ground, and on benches to watch the performance of the youthful rodeos.

The three girls' events were cancelled due to lack of entries, and the lone girl contestant, Shelly Hamner, decided to compete with the boys in the barrel race, goat tying and pole bending—and took one first place.

One of the highlights of the rodeo—the one with the biggest "kicks"—was the wild cow race, when three teams of four contestants each attempted simultaneously to saddle a wild steer and ride him across the finish line. There was a question for a while of who won the ribbons, but a team of John Sims, Richard Sharpes and Ricky Marks, with Dennis McBeth aboard, managed to saddle their steer and get him across the finish line.

Events and places for contestants were:

BARREL RACING
1. Beni Aldridge, 26.3; 2. Randall Kurtz, 27.4; 3. Dennis Ray Heathcott, 27.6; 4. Shelly Hamner 28.3; 5. Ricky Dunlap, 32.5; 6. Glen Gray Jr., 29.6.

RIBBON ROPING
John Sims, 8.8; Lanham Bishop, Randall Sneed, Tommy Antilley, Maxey Sheppard, Richard Sharpes, no time.

POLE BENDING
1. Shelly Hamner, 36.8; 2. Darrell Kurtz, 34.5; 3. Dennis Ray Heathcott, 39.5; 4. Ricky Dunlap, 43; 5. Glen Ed Gray, 43.7; 6. Roger Kruse, 45.3.

GOAT ROPING
John Sims, 19.5; Lanham Bishop, Randall Sneed, Richard Sharpes, Tommy Antilley, all no time.

WILD COW RACE
1st place team: John Sims, Rickey Marks, Dennis McBeth, Richard Sharpes; 2. Lanham Bishop, Maxey Sheppard, Randy Bredemeyer, Randy Sneed;

3. Charlie Brown, Tommy Antilley, Gary Antilley, Johnny Pritchard.

GOAT TYING
1. Rodney Kruse, 32.2; 2. Troy Norman, 32.9; 3. Glen Ed Gray, 33.7; 4. Rickey Dunlap, 34.5; Shelly Hamner, 35.8; 6. Beni Aldridge, 45; 7. Dennis Ray Heathcott, 51.3.

JR. STEER RIDING
Benji Aldridge, 5 seconds; Mike Meyer, 3 seconds; Dennis Ray Heathcott, 2 seconds and Jimmy Nesbitt.

SR. STEER RIDING
Charlie Brown, 43; Johnny Pritchard, 40; Tommy Antilley, 46; Freddie Grohman, 43; Gary Antilley, 46; Dennis McBeth, Johnny Cathey, Lanham Bishop, Randy Sneed, Rickey Marks, John Smith, Timmy Meyer, Richard Sharpes and Randy Bredemeyer, no time.

The Winters Riding Club has expressed thanks to the spectators who turned out for the rodeo. They also wish to thank Rodeo Clown Jerry Gibson, announcer Jackie Richards of View; Judges, Luther Parker and D. V. Cook of Ballinger, and Ben Parrish of Ballinger, who helped work the arena.

The club also expressed thanks to John Grohman, who furnished the steers; Connie Gibbs and Richard Chambliss, who furnished the calves and Bill Hoppe, who furnished the goats, and the many volunteer workers who worked almost a month preparing the arena for the rodeo.

Rev. Bankston Will Speak At Southside Baptist

The Rev. M. W. Bankston, evangelist, of Dallas, will speak during the morning worship hour at the Southside Baptist Church Sunday, August 10.

The Rev. Bankston will be representing Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE). TANE representatives also will be visiting several other churches in the area Sunday.

Installation Of Phone Cables Is 50% Completed

Installation of new telephone cable for Winters is approximately 50 per cent complete, according to Jack Goss, division manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The project is of major proportion, involving placing of approximately 9 miles of new cables of varying sizes throughout the city. Goss stated, and when completed, will be used to provide service to new customers, upgrade the service of existing customers and replace deteriorated cable in some areas.

Goss added that additional construction personnel have been working in Winters the past few weeks placing the new cables.

Railroad Prospects

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass. Creation of a Department of Transportation at the Cabinet level in the Federal Government is symbolic of the growing awareness of the need for a unified transportation industry to meet the requirements of an internationally oriented industrial nation.

The important role that American railroads see themselves playing in this new concept of a total transportation facility is indicated by the high priority that railroad management has given during the past twenty years to incorporating advances in mechanical and electronic technology to their operations; integrating as much as possible with the trucking air freight, and ocean-going cargo industries for their mutual benefit; and at the same time, satisfying the increasingly complex demands of shippers.

Help From Electronics

Maintaining a current location status report of its rolling stock has always presented problems to rail carriers. At one time, it frequently took a matter of days and even weeks to locate a misdirected shipment. Furthermore, one railroad may have had a freight yard of uncommitted tank cars, for example, while another carrier a few hundred miles away was in dire need of such equipment.

These problems are being solved today by the development of Automatic Car Identification (ACI) and Tele-Rail Automated Information Network (TRAIN). The electronic computer is the basic component of both of these systems. ACI will provide instant information as to location and destination of every car in its system, together with pertinent data concerning its cargo. This information is available not only to the railroad concerned, but through TRAIN — basically a central electronic storage bank—to all Class I railroads which carry 99 percent of all our rail freight and passengers.

and Far Eastern markets see the savings to them in the use of this route, vital new revenues should accumulate to the railroads. The potential market seems important enough to justify intensive development of this concept.

A major factor in the realization of this "land bridge" has been the many mergers of American rail companies. These have been consummated only after months and even years of waiting for ICC approval and, in many cases, approval by the Supreme Court. Perhaps the next step will be a relaxation of Federal regulations governing the extent to which the various increments of the transportation industry can participate in joint ventures. If this happens, it would represent a revolution in the overall transportation industry.

Hold The Leaders

Because of the improving status of the railroads and the much brighter long-range outlook, we are maintaining "hold" positions on the securities of the leading companies. Babson's recommends buying Norfolk & Western common for income and growth potential. Penn Central common is also recommended for longer-term appreciation. Although most of the issues have not fared well in this year's downtrending market, the industry does have a brighter hue: Patient holders could be well rewarded as the railroads begin to reap worthwhile benefits from the many forward steps they have taken in late years.

Lance Bradford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Obie D. Bradford who was shot in the eye a few weeks ago was rushed to Hendrick hospital and then to Dallas where Dr. Visea did surgery on his eye. The bullet has been in the eye ball since the accident and was not removed in surgery. They are doubtful about saving his eye. This surgeon just does surgery on eyes and it is thought that there is just one other in this part of the world. Obie D. had recently moved to Goldsmith.

HEALTH LETTER

With a summer heat wave scorching Texas, there is the possibility you could become a victim of sunstroke or heat exhaustion during the blast-furnace weather ahead, advises the Texas State Department of Health.

The combined effects of the sun, exercise, heat and excessive perspiration with water and salt loss can produce serious symptoms and may even be fatal.

Sunstroke is caused by over exposure to the hot sun while heat exhaustion is due to prolonged exposure to high temperatures indoors or outdoors. In sunstroke the body overheats. Usually the victim has a severe headache and everything looks red to him. Often the victim becomes unconscious.

Heat exhaustion is caused by prolonged heat and high humidity, but it is very different from sunstroke. The victim is usually conscious but weak and dizzy. His temperature falls instead of rises, and he feels cold and clammy.

In either case call a doctor at once. The victim should be moved into the shade and any tight clothing loosened.

Simple, common-sense precautions will nearly always prevent these conditions. During hot weather:

Don't expose yourself to the heat when you don't have to.

Don't go out in the hot sunshine without a hat.

Don't wear heavy or tight clothing.

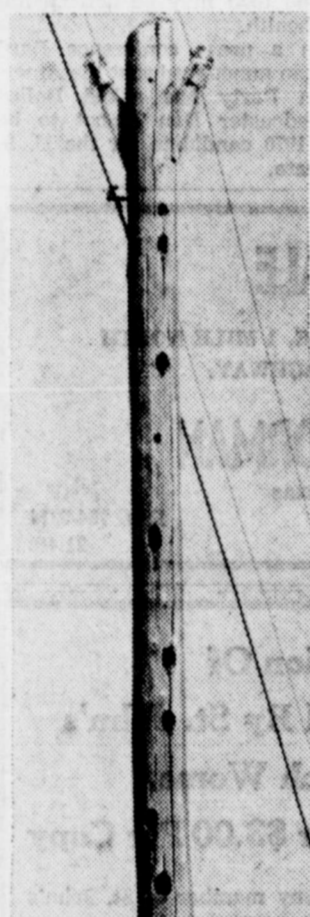

Don't exercise strenuously in the sun or heat.

Don't overeat.

Don't overindulge in alcoholic drinks.

On sultry days, keep the air circulating to help the evaporation of perspiration. Keep shaded windows open and use an electric fan.

If you perspire freely, you may need extra water and salt. Drink water often throughout the day, one glass at a time. The amount of salt needed depends on how much you lose through perspiration. Office

A CHAMPION of the proposed antiballistic missile system is Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard, who says that an ABM system is practical, will work and should not provoke the Soviet Union into stepping up the nuclear arms race. He noted that he once favored an even more extensive ABM system, but conceded that this "would have been much more provocative."

workers probably get enough in their food, but others doing heavy labor may need salt tablets periodically or a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt dissolved in a glass of water every hour. The aging, the very young, alcoholics and people with heart trouble are easily affected by sun and heat.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

Austin, Tex. — Legislators hit the ground running in their unwanted special session on finance.

Gov. Preston Smith was ready for them on opening day (July 28) with tax recommendations which included a one half of one per cent boost (to 3.5 per cent) in the sales tax. He also suggested raising the car sales tax to 3.5 per cent, raising the cigarette tax three cents a pack and the corporation franchise tax 50 cents per $1,000 (to $3.25) on a temporary, two-year basis.

By the end of the first week, both houses had passed appropriations bills, and by start of the second, a 10-member House-Senate conference committee was busy trying to work out differences.

Senate recommended more than $100 million more in spending than the House version. The House members thought $5.749 billion for the biennium was plenty, but senators figured $5.852 billion was needed. General revenue amounts to $1.188 billion in the House bill, $1.230 billion in the Senate measure.

House would require at least $286 million in new revenue, Senate about $288 million. Neither figure included the $30 million in additional public welfare spending proposed in the constitutional amendment on the August 5th ballot.

Speaker Gus Mutscher indicated he hoped for House agreement by the end of the second week on a tax bill to cover the budget which he said would be close to that recommended by the governor.

But such a bill stands little chance in the Senate, at least in the near future.

TREASURE WAR CONTINUES

The long controversy over General Land Office handling of treasure remains from a Spanish Galleon off the Padre Island coast turned physical when Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio tried to look at what the General Land Office is holding in its vaults.

An angry confrontation occurred when Johnson showed up with reporters and a three-man commission appointed by a District Court in Nueces County to examine the artifacts. The 400 year old treasure has been the cause of friction between Johnson and Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler for some time.

Sadler thrust an open hand towards Johnson to prevent him from entering. Johnson says he was hit in the throat. Sadler says he grabbed Johnson's necktie.

Johnson took the floor of the House for a personal privilege speech and asked "older and wiser" members for guidance on what to do, charging it was a slap at the House and not just at him.

Rep. Neil Caldwell of Alvin and Don Cavness of Austin introduced legislation—"an antiquities code"—to set state policy for future treasure hunts. Their bill can be considered only if Governor Smith officially submits it. Sadler sent out a press release saying he was defending the vaults from intrusion. The three-man inventory commission and reporters were allowed to enter. Commission completed its check and sent the state archeologist off to Gary, Ind., to bring back 300 coins and artifacts still in the hands of Platoro, Ltd., Inc., the exploration firm which brought the treasure up from the Gulf floor.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court decided that the Alice National Bank will remain as the independent executor of the $300 million Sara Kenedy East estate.

Court adjourned until October 1 without taking action on the Sunday closing law challenge.

In other new decisions, the High Court: —Agreed with lower court prohibition against Granary Independent School District's implementing a 1968 tax "equalization" program which would have brought about tax increases up to 700 per cent.

—Upheld a lower court's view that the City of Vidor had full authority to enact 1960 ordinances providing for warrant financing of a new city hall and levying city taxes.

APPOINTMENTS

Senate elected Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock its president pro tempore for the special session.

Governor Smith appointed Judge George Rodriguez of El Paso as district attorney for the 34th judicial district, succeeding Barton Boling who resigned.

Senate confirmed Rodriguez and also C. B. Maynard as district judge of 21st judicial district and William Baber of Orono to the State Board of Veterinary Examiners.

Donald Paul Katz of Dallas has been named deputy director of planning in the office of foreign investment of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Three new members of Texas Industrial Commission have taken oaths of office. They are C. L. Cooke of Fort Worth, Lloyd L. Davis of Plainview and C. Truett Smith of Wylie. New T. E. C. staff members are L. B. Smith of Brady and James H. Havey of Wichita Falls.

Lone Star Medal of Valor went to SP4 George D. Webb of New Braunfels, a National Guardsman, for his attempt to save the life of William A. Maxwell of New Braunfels who was knocked to the ground by a high voltage transmission line.

GAS RATES

Texas Railroad Commission has taken under advisement a request of Lone Star Gas Company for a raise in gas rates sold to local systems in 512 Texas cities.

Health Column

Without wash-and-wear fabrics, vacations could be a drag. Especially travel vacations. But there is a wrinkle in some of these miracle fabrics.

The wrinkle is formaldehyde. This chemical, used to produce some synthetic finishes on clothing, can cause skin eruptions—on patients' extremities, thighs, and buttocks. The lesions cleared up after these patients stopped wearing wash-and-wear garments treated with formaldehyde. So far the eruptions have only affected a limited number of people.

Dr. Rudner found that these patients often complain of a laboratory odor to their newly purchased synthetic garments. They can, in a sense, "smell" trouble ahead.

Skin eruptions are not only health problem created by the switch to some synthetics. Workers in clothing manufacturing plants—where formaldehyde is used—also report distress. Their complaints are similar to those of persons exposed to high levels of air pollution. Respiratory problems. Eye irritation, fatigue, and psychological depression.

These complaints were documented in a recent government study conducted by the Environmental Control Administration of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. In the survey, up to ten percent of the employees in eight permanent-press clothing plants—which used formaldehyde for finishing—had symptoms serious enough to seek medical attention following normal operational exposure to the gas.

Watch out for the wrinkle in your wash-and-wears. And be concerned about the air you breathe. It's a matter of life and death. Ask your local tuberculosis and respiratory association.

Older Driver Has Good Reputation On the Road

The current reputation of the older driver is a myth. A national study shows that the older driver has less than his proportionate share of "all accidents," "fatal accidents," and "injury accidents." Even in highly populated areas the older driver has low accident involvement.

Minnie Bell, Extension specialist for aging, reports these findings from a recent national study by Judge Sherman G. Finesilver, University of Denver College of Law. Judge Finesilver is an authority on safety and the older driver.

The older driver refers to those persons 65 years and older, Miss Bell explains. The study is significant in regard to insurance, licensing and general acceptance as competent drivers.

Fatal accidents are a real problem of the elderly. Judge Finesilver believes this is due to the inability to withstand injury. The older driver is more likely to have a fatal accident than any driver from ages 35 to 64.

The two youngest groups of drivers, those under 24 and those from 25 to 34, have a higher rate of fatal accidents.

Korean Pheasants Released In Texas

The season's first release of exotic game birds was made recently just south of the Red River near the Bowie-Red River County line, according to Biologist Joe B. Davidson of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Approximately 200 10-week old Korean pheasants along with a few adult breeders were liberated adjacent to large grain fields in the Red River bottomlands in the general vicinity of existing populations of other pheasants, the results of initial releases in the fall of 1968.

The young pheasants released were hatched and reared at the Department's Management and Research Station near Tyler.

Director Stresses Care With Fires

Sparse rainfall and high temperatures have turned most of Texas' 67 State parks into tinder boxes, according to Mark Gosdin, director of park services for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Gosdin says fires have been reported in at least four of the parks, and park supervisors are keeping a close watch on campers and their open fires.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON Congressman 17th District

Washington, D. C. At the risk of sounding like a broken record, it is time to refer again to our situation in Vietnam. As has been mentioned a number of times in this space, the argument as to whether we should or should not be in Southeast Asia at all can go on and on. As a matter of fact, it has and does.

The fact also remains that we are there. The question all along and continues to be, is how to get out with honor and how we keep all the sacrifices made from going down the drain.

Negotiations to end the Vietnam conflict have taken on tragic aspects, if it was ever anything else. Among our people the debate goes on as to the number of troops to be withdrawn. At the same time, there is not the slightest sign of response from the communist government of North Vietnam.

During President Nixon's visit to Southeast Asia, vague references were made to "optional measures" which might be found necessary if agreement is not reached at the Paris Conference. It is anyone's interpretation as to what this means. There is a hope it means that the hands of the military commanders of our forces in Vietnam will be untied to use the forces at their command to bring the enemy to terms. The Conflict cannot be won by trying to satisfy every critic in the Congress and what is theorized to be public opinion throughout this Country.

Appeasement has never worked. It has always resulted in bigger wars. It is easy to say, "Let's use the money for domestic purposes," and it would be a great thing if we could.

History proves otherwise. Indifference as to what was happening in Asia in 1939 made possible the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Virtually the same thing happened in 1916 when President Wilson won re-election on the slogan "He kept us out of war." The enemy at that time was encouraged to believe that the United States would not enter a war in Europe. Unarmed ships were torpedoed in 1915. In an exchange of notes, the Germans promised not to do it again. By 1917 German submarines were preventing American vessels from traveling on the high seas and finally there was no choice but to enter World War I.

But the British and the United States tried again to appease Hitler by the well-known representation of Neville Chamberlain.

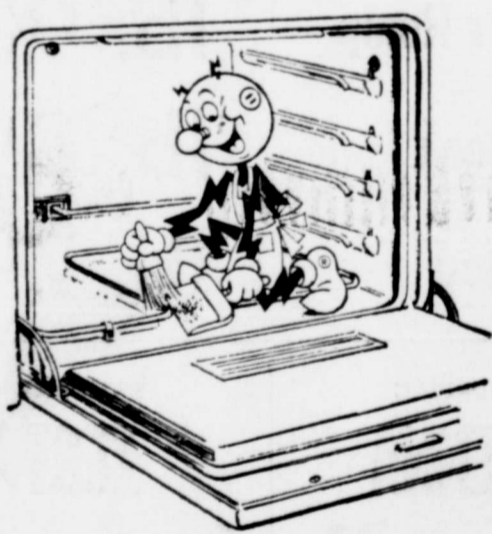

While thousands of American boys were being killed and wounded, the enemy in Vietnam continues to thwart all peace efforts. Their talks appear to be meaningless and without purpose.

Because of the communists' ambition to wield power everywhere in Asia is apparently motivated by the same ruthlessness of purpose as the recent increase of Soviet armies in communist bloc countries in Eastern Europe and the emerging threats to the independence of West Germany, make these questions highly pertinent.

One does not have to be militaristic or a so-called "hawk," but only a realist to view the present situation with the deepest concern.

The United States has the air-power to impress Hanoi with the necessity of seriously seeking terms for peace. Such action would inform the World that America has not made the sacrifices in vain but intends to get this business over with and get out.

Since we are there, and everyone must ardently wish we were not, it seems our choices are narrow. In fact it appears there are only two. We either continue to bog down and lose American lives or we do what we are there to do. The latter, simply put, is to say to the aggressor that if he pulls his troops back in his own country, the conflict will be over. Otherwise, the "optional measures" mentioned by the President on his visit to Southeast Asia means the use of our air-power to the extent necessary to stop the enemy's aggressive capability.

H. D. Agent's Column

You can tell a watermelon by its cover. A light greenish-grey cover on a long shaped watermelon indicates it is a Charleston Grey, a favorite in Texas. A Charleston grey will continue to ripen after picked. The melon is crisp, deep red and has a sweet flavor.

To buy watermelon, Mrs. O'Connor suggest that you check characteristics that tell quality. Good quality melons are firm and well shaped, fresh and attractive in appearance.

There is a bloom over the surface of the rind, giving a good melon a velvety appearance. The lower side of the melon usually is yellow compared to a white or pale green on an immature melon.

Watermelons are fragile and they should be handled with

The Family Lawyer

FINDER SKEEPERS?

"Finders keepers, losers weepers" is a good rhyme, but it is bad law. In a legal confrontation between finder and loser, it is the loser—the original owner—who generally wins. As one court put it:

"The title of the finder vanishes when the owner is known." In fact, if you find something and you know who lost it, you have an affirmative duty to return what you found. Take this case:

On the sidewalk near his home a man found a wallet containing several hundred dollars. However, it also contained the name of a neighbor. Disregarding the identification, the finder proceeded to pocket the money and throw the wallet into a trash can.

Unfortunately for him, another neighbor happened to be watching. The story got out, and the finder was taken to court on a charge of theft.

"I'm willing to return the money to the owner," he told the court, "but I certainly have not committed any crime. After all, I didn't take the wallet out of his possession. It was just lying there on the sidewalk."

Nevertheless, the court found him guilty as charged. The judge said that, in view of his knowledge of the owner's identity, this was a sufficient "taking" to constitute theft.

On the other hand, if the original owner is—and remains—unknown, then the finder does usually have a better claim than anyone else. For example:

A woman found a diamond ring in a hotel lobby. When all efforts to locate the owner failed, she and the hotel got into a dispute as to who should keep possession of the ring.

After a courtroom battle, the woman emerged victorious. Pointing out that she had found the ring in a public place, the court commented:

"The finder of lost property has a valid claim to the same against all the world, except the true owner."

care to prevent bruising. Mrs. O'Connor says. They should be refrigerated at home. About 12 hours is required to chill a melon to serve.

Halves or pieces should be wrapped tightly in waxed paper or plastic to prevent the cut surface from drying and also to prevent the aroma of the melon from spreading to other foods.

Drouth Severely Damaging Native Grass Lands

Woodrow Hoffman of the local Soil Conservation Service said the continuous hot dry weather we have had for the past several weeks has pretty well halted the growth of our native grasses. He said these high temperatures quickly cooked the young tender leaves and bleached them out white rather than their normal reddish brown fall tinge.

Because of this set back, Hoffman said, it is important that every effort be made to permit grass growth this fall when we normally get some rain. How can we do this, he asked? First, it is a known fact that the leaf is the part of the plant that manufactures food for the plant to grow and reproduce itself by seed and root development. So livestock grazing should be light enough to permit the development of a lot of long leaves.

Some pastures, Hoffman said, should be completely rested in order for the better grasses to regain their health and vigor after the set back they experienced this summer. If the grasses are grazed too short this fall, they will be weakened and killed and then next spring, production will be greatly reduced.

Proper grazing and resting are the only two range practices that improve grassland, Hoffman said. Other practices such as fencing, brush control, water development and salt distribution are helpful in livestock management but these practices alone do not help grasses to improve because the only help to bring about proper grazing and resting.

Hoffman said ranchmen in the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District should check up on the condition of their grasses from now through September, so if this fall is dry, livestock adjustments can be made early. Then if good moisture does come this fall as much of the rangeland should be rested as possible to permit a good fall growth and seed production. Hoffman said if these things are done it may save a heavy winter feed bill and avoid heavy overuse of the better grasses.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

No creature is shrouded in as many myths and half-beliefs as the rattlesnake.

Yet there are a couple of honest-to-goodness facts about this common reptile that are not falsehoods.

It has been established, beyond doubt, that the truculent western diamondback rattler accounts for more deaths than any other species of snake in the United States. Also that more people die from snake bite in Texas than any other state. Specifically, 10 to 15 deaths annually.

These facts, among others, come from "A Guide to Texas Snakes," authored by Gerald G. Raun and published by the Texas Memorial Museum in Austin. In his book, Raun points out that the annual national death rate from snakes (about 40) is less than that caused by stings of bees or wasps, or surprisingly, that caused by lightning.

As for rattlesnake myths, he debunks the much-told one that a mama snake swallows her young when threatened by danger.

"This old folk tale has been around for as long as European man has been familiar with rattlers," Raun writes, "and will probably persist for a long time to come." He continues, "I have met no fewer than six eye witnesses to this miraculous vent in the past five years! The odd part about it is that I would not hesitate to accept the word of these persons on any other topic and I doubt that any were consciously lying to me."

Attending were Mrs. Katherine Mills, San Mateo, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Neely, San Benito, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Gattis Neely, Winters, Texas; Rev. and Mrs. Auburn Neely of Pleasanton, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Benton Neely, Garland, Tex.; Mrs. Lucille Prince, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Paul and Tommy, Tyler, Tex.; Living in Denver and attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Courvisier, Don, Suzanne and Sandy. Also attending were Mrs. Mary Neely Capps, Estes Park, Colo., and Snyder, Okla., and her daughter, Mrs. Sue Mullin, Boulder, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hitt, and three daughters, of Abilene.

Unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Neely of Cherokee, Iowa.

prompt and proper treatment it seems quite likely that less than three per cent of the people bitten by poisonous snakes would die. Many of the deaths in Texas, he feels, occur among uneducated field hands who often fail to get medical attention.

Actually, according to Raun, there is no excuse for an adult to be bitten by a snake.

"If you are in an area where there are apt to be snakes, look where you step, sit, or stick your hand," he cautions. "Anyone who steps over a log or sticks his hand in a hole without looking, is asking for trouble."

Many people falsely believe that the rattlesnake gives birth to young just as a mammal, like the human, does. "Not so," says Raun. "All snakes produce eggs. In some species like the rattlesnake the eggs are retained within the female's body until hatching."

Another myth that Raun debunks is that the forked tongue of a snake is poisonous. "Purpose of the tongue," he says, "is as a device for chemoreception ('smell') which aids the snake in relating to his surroundings."

Methodist WSCS Met At Church

The meeting opened with the members singing "O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing" and "How Great Thou Art."

The Rev. Glenn Bowman gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. Schaffrina was leader for the program on "Looking Ahead" taking Heb. 10:19-25 for her devotional.

Material for the coming year was on display and was discussed by the leader toward studies and programs "Looking Ahead" for the coming year.

Rev. Glenn Bowman gave most interesting information concerning changes in the future on the local church level as well as the conference.

Mrs. Nan Wright gave the benediction by reading Saint Francis prayer in unison. Those present were Mesdames Roy Crawford, Gattis Neely, H. O. Abbott, W. F. Lange, J. D. Vinson, W. T. Stanley, E. H. ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL... A happy ending is in the film for MICHELE LEE and DEAN JONES in Walt Disney Productions' "The Love Bug."

"The Love Bug"
It looked like a gathering for the Indy 500. Some of the greatest names in race driving were present, but not with the idea of setting new speed records. They were helping in the filming of Walt Disney Productions' latest comedy film "The Love Bug," in which a VW named Herbie shows his exhaust pipe to a passel of Corvettes, Porsches, Alfas and Ferraris. Along the way Herbie scoots across a stream, rides in a mine shaft, elevator, skids, careens and nearly flies.

Based on "Car-Boy-Girl," an original story by Gordon Buford "The Love Bug" was expanded by Walsh and writer DaGradi with appeal to all generations. "We want a good audience spread."

Walsh then discussed casting for the film. "I wanted Dean Jones because he's a personality actor who understands comedy and he reacts well. In addition he has an all-American look about him that makes the nutty shenanigans all the more convincing. Buddy Hackett was also signed for the film because he's a good actor," said Walsh. As on most of his previous films, Walsh used illustrated story boards on "The Love Bug."

"Past experience has shown that we can complete a picture under schedule and under budget by the use of these boards which outline every scene in the film," said Walsh.

"We only shoot the angle that the story board shows; there are no cover shots," he said. "We pick the angle in advance and this means we sometimes do not have to construct a complete set, rather just a portion of a room."

The producer stressed that he does not become too rigid. "We always leave a little leeway. There is usually time to improvise and still bring the picture in $400,000 under budget."

Filed in Technicolor, "The Love Bug" also stars David Tomlinson. Buena Vista releases.

"The First Time"
"The First Time" is a story of three sixteen-year-olds at the moment of almost equal boy-man division.

Brought to the screen as a Mirisch Productions, Inc. — Rogallan presentation, it is released by United Artists, an entertainment service of Transamerica Corporation. The film was co-produced by television star Roger Smith and his long-time business partner, Allan Carr, and directed by James Neilson. The picture will show Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre.

Home Town Talk--

much danger back in the greatly publicized "Civil Defense" days, why is there not as much danger now? World conditions have not changed—if anything, they've worsened.

Perhaps it is because we can get excited over something new, and the "Civil Defense" idea was something new. We were bombarded on all sides with advice on how to save our necks if something happened, and we were warned that that emergency was just around the corner. So we all played the game... for a while. Then the novelty wore off, and we became bored with the whole bit. Perhaps the publicity experts who dreamed up the whole idea changed jobs. And now the many "shelters" which were constructed about the country gather dust and spiders; or are covered over and forgotten. Were we naive? Or were we just playing the game—all the while knowing it was just a game? Was there real danger then, and we were reacting normally to the danger? Does that danger still exist and in the face of it have we grown calloused and unmindful?

...Millions still watch the launching of a capsule into space—but not as many millions as watched the first two or three! Millions watched man's first step on the moon... but chances are millions fewer will watch the flight of Apollo 12!

We have an appetite for the "new"—and we quickly eat to filling. We'll need a new menu by tomorrow morning! Give us something we can sink the teeth of our imagination into...!

Fresh Pineapple—Attract less summer appetites with fruit in family meals, suggests Extension consumer marketing specialist Gwendolyn Clyatt. Fresh pineapple is sure to make a hit, and is available in local market at moderate prices. One cup of fresh pineapple furnishes almost half of the daily requirement of vitamin C. A two-pound pineapple will yield about six servings.

Fruit Drinks — Garnished ice cubes add a gay note to many fruit drinks. Fill an ice cube tray about two-thirds full of water. Boiled water tends to make the cubes clear. After the water freezes slightly, add an orange, lemon or lime wedge, or a pineapple tidbit, fresh berry, cherry or grape. Finish filling with water and freeze again.
