HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The entire community has joined in extending congratulations to the Winters High School Junior Class for their production of the Broadway musical, "Bye Bye Birdie," Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Success of the performance is an example of what young people can do when they put their minds to it. These students put in a lot of time and effort, sacrificing practically all of their free time during the past several weeks—even months—and it paid off. They not only focused favorable attention toward their school, but upon themselves as individuals.

This was just one example of the kind of youngsters we have in this community. They work together and individually for the good of the group, their school and their community. Word is always getting back to Winters of the favorable impression Winters students leave when they are on group or individual trips connected with the school. No instance has been reported of rowdy or rough conduct on the part of Winters students when they are away from home.

Locally, these students work together. There have been many instances when they pitched in to help an individual or a project. And the results have been such that a good taste has been left in the mouths of us all.

The above was stimulated in the following manner: We had just been watching the news on tv: "Students"—and others—had been battling policemen. We saw the police trying to protect themselves from flying bricks, bottles and rocks, attempting to bring order out of growing anarchy, having to resort to tear gas in an effort to stop militants who were intent upon destruction of everything in sight.

So we were in a more-or-less black mood, resentful toward the revolutionaries and their leaders, and no less resentful toward those public figures who keep fanning the blaze with words of encouragement for the militants—for political gain or notoriety—or because of a simple and plain refusal to accept the situation for what it is. . . . And then we met someone on the street who helped to brighten the day; who suggested: "Why don't you mention the home-community young people?" Then the thought returned to us, as it always does, that the militants and revolutionaries are really a small minority (even though a dangerous minority); the majority of our young people are sensible and level-headed—although they do (and have a perfect right to do so) question some of the action of their elders at times. The majority—especially in the small communities such as Winters—may see need for change, but they realize the importance of the manner and means of attaining those changes. What a contrast!

Band, Choir To Present Spring Music Festival

The Winters High School band and choir, under the direction of Kirke McKenzie, will present the annual musical festival next Thursday evening, May 7, in the high school gymnasium. The program will begin at 8 p.m. Admission will be 50 cents, with all proceeds to go into the band fund for instrument repair and band activities.

Theme of this year's music festival will be "Stars and Stripes Forever," with band and choir presenting several patriotic numbers. Idea for the theme came from the students. They said that they "wish to express our deep appreciation for the opportunities we enjoy as American citizens. The best way for us to demonstrate our feelings and our patriotism is through music. What we primarily wish to say is that we're Americans, we're free, and we're proud of it."

In presenting this music festival, Director McKenzie reminded that "music is an important part of the school educational program. Instrumental and choral music offer an excellent medium through which participating students can develop the art of cooperation, self-discipline and democratic attitudes. An important aim of the Winters band and choir program is to help students develop an appreciation and lasting enjoyment of good music, resulting in each student receiving a background of culture and refinement that will provide advantages throughout his life."

Rep. Lynn Nabers Wants People To Be 'Concerned' Over Taxes, Spending

The last session of the Texas Legislature was a "taxing" and "spending" Legislature, and unless the people of the State grow more concerned and express their concern, the Legislature will continue to tax and spend, Representative Lynn Nabers, 64th Legislative District, said Tuesday.

Tuesday was "Lynn Nabers Day" in Winters, honoring the young Brownwood attorney who is serving his first term as State Representative. Nabers spoke to the Winters High School student body Tuesday morning, was guest speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of the Winters Lions Club, and then was honored at a reception at Huffman House at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Rep. Nabers said Winters is the first town or community in his district to promote such a special "day" in his honor since he has been in the Legislature.

Mrs. Nabers was to have accompanied her husband to this visit to Winters, and to be honored at a luncheon at Huffman House at noon, but because of illness of their children she did not make the trip from Brownwood.

Rep. Nabers told Winters Lions and their guests that the last session of the Legislature considered a "record number" of bills, and passed a "record number." There was much ado about taxes and education, he reminded his audience, including the pay raise bill for teachers, but legislators received very little mail from their home districts concerning any of the bills. He said he received "considerable" mail on the school consolidation question, and said that overall, residents of his district are more concerned.

BUSINESS and the STOCK MARKET

OPPORTUNITY FOR GROWTH STOCKS

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 30, 1970. The high level of interest rates, tight credit, and now the slowdown in business have caused the stock market to suffer a sharp decline since late 1968. With corporate profits already trending downward and with the outlook unimpressive for at least another several months, investors are naturally wary of making commitments in common stocks. But periods of market stress do provide opportunities to purchase reasonably valued issues, even though diligence must be used to select the best from the vast array of hard-hit stocks.

PROTECTING AGAINST UNCERTAINTIES

Despite the multitude of well-deflated stocks, care must be used to secure the best possible protection against the uncertain economic climate and the most advantageous position for benefiting from the eventual recovery of the market. Just because a stock has declined to a substantial extent does not automatically mean it is the best investment at the moment. Also, one can never be sure just how far a decline in business and a slump in the stock market will carry.

Hence, investors able to forego a high investment income can generally benefit growth stocks which can resist the adverse business and profit pressures and may be expected to pace the later revival in equity values. These would be issues of firms which are well managed and have shown above-average growth in sales and profits in the past, with prospects for further expansion.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING GROWTH STOCKS

Investment analysts utilize many different benchmarks for selecting growth stocks. For investors who are not specialists in the field, however, here are a few of the less sophisticated, but nonetheless fundamental, factors to be considered. Growth-type common stocks should be culled from companies which have displayed a n average annual growth rate in excess of 10 per cent in sales and earnings for at least the past five years. Moreover, the company should have shown an above-average return on its stockholders equity for the same span of time, and a substantial portion of profits should have been regularly plowed back into the business.

Growth-oriented companies are usually found among industries which are enjoying a faster rate of advancement than the overall economy. These are also likely to be firms which have some distinct advantage over competitors in the form of product development, marketing expertise, and pioneering

Other Growth Technology Characteristics

Investors should not necessarily fear concerns that reduce their dividend payouts, since many managements with a high degree of capability have preferred to temporarily cut dividends than to reduce funds put back into business to finance future expansion. This is quite a different matter from the elimination of dividends by firms on the skids because of management deterioration. As long as they are basically healthy issues, stocks which have slipped moderately from highs of the past year or so offer good rebound possibilities, as well as longer-term growth. Also, the better buys in the growth-stocks category usually are those whose current price-earnings ratios (based on projected earnings per share of the current year) compare favorably with those of past years.

RISK VERSUS OPPORTUNITY

There is, of course, an ever-present risk element in purchasing common stocks, even though a company's past record has been good. But this factor is lessened during a decline in the market. Stocks with real growth mettle have the capability of recovering and subsequently forging ahead. Thus, even though the stock market decline has not yet displayed sure signs of reversal, the market setback opens up a chance to buy good-quality growth common stocks.

Refreshments were served to approximately fifty guests. Danny Fenwick is in the service, stationed in Colorado.

Reduce Your Taxes With Good Records

Good records can save tax dollars at income tax filing time for Texas taxpayers.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue in North Texas, said good records help you get all the deductions and credits you were entitled to.

A good system for keeping records is to label envelopes or folders according to the types of income and deductions you have, Mr. Campbell said. Bills and receipts should be put in the appropriate folder as they are paid.

Nancy Parker Cabin To Receive Historic Recognition

The historic Nancy Parker Cabin, northwest of the old Cent townside, has been named a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark, significant to the history of this community and state, and worthy of preservation, Charles Woodburn of Amarillo, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, has announced.

As a result of meeting TSTSC requirements for this high official designation, the Texas Historical Building Medallion with interpretive plate giving a capsule history of the structure will be affixed to the structure.

Dedication of the marker will be announced by Rankin Pace of Winters, chairman of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee.

A certificate signed by Gov. Preston Smith, Charles Woodburn, and Pace, will be presented at the dedication.

The inscription on the marker reads: NANCY PARKER CABIN "Home of 'Grandma' (Mrs. John) Parker, local herb doctor. Here she brewed medicinal teas in a huge pot over an open fire; walked miles in Indian-infested country to visit the sick. Lived here over a decade. Sold cabin after eyesight failed, 1888.

Recorded Texas Historic Landmark, 1970"

The aluminum markers with Swedish steel effect are handsome and require practically no maintenance. More than 3,300 Official Texas Historical Markers have been awarded throughout Texas since 1964 when the Texas State Historical Survey Committee initiated its 5-year RAMPS program. This program is designed to Record, Appreciate, Mark, Preserve and Survey the history of Texas.

This marker and its location will appear in the next edition of the "Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers," in tourist guides and on maps to stimulate tourist interest in this area, to provide interest on historical tours, and to acquaint the people of Runnels County with their own unique historical past.

Mrs. Patricia McClish Doing Practice Teaching

Some are teaching in area schools all day for eight weeks and others are training half a day for 16 weeks. A third group will spend all day of the last eight weeks of this semester.

Some 1,200 NTSU students have participated in the teacher-training program during the 1969-70 school year, according to Dr. C. M. Clarke, director of teacher education.

Included in the three teaching groups this spring are 448 students preparing for secondary teaching positions and 261 for elementary. In the secondary group are 65 seniors who will receive all-level certificates for both secondary and elementary teaching in music, art, physical education, speech therapy or library service.

Cancer Crusade In N. Runnels Said Successful

The recently completed Cancer Crusade has been termed "successful," with North Runnels County going past the goal set prior to the campaign.

The North Runnels County Cancer Society met Thursday to discuss the progress made in the recent Crusade. Mrs. Bill Bell, chairman for North Runnels County, reports more than $1270 has been received to date, and more than $100 received in memorials. These funds, plus funds yet to be reported, will put North Runnels over the goal of $1440 for the current year.

In addition, 1200 "send a mouse to college" envelopes and 1300 book markers have been distributed.

The board of the North Runnels County Cancer Society has expressed appreciation for the donations of funds and the efforts of the Crusade workers.

A new board and officers for the Society will be elected in May, and committees appointed.

Attend District Teen Age Library Association Meeting

Mrs. Charles Kruse, Jr., Winters High School librarian, attended the spring executive meeting of District III Teen Age Library Association at Sweetwater High School last Saturday.

The group, which included district officers and advisers, discussed present problems of the district and planned the 1970-71 District III TALA convention, which will be held at Eastland in October.

Because of the resignation of Big Spring from the association, it was necessary to choose another school to provide a district president and a corresponding secretary. Winters club was elected to fill the offices.

Winters will host the annual Fall District II Workshop, which will be held early in September.

One of the largest districts in Texas, District III TALA covers an area of 31 counties.

AUSTIN—Experts on moods of the voters think that fewer than half the 4,100,000 Texans who registered to vote will take part in the primaries, Saturday.

Precinct conventions, also slated for both parties Saturday haven't produced a ripple of controversy.

Since there is no contest for the governorship in the Democratic primary for the first time since primaries were begun, less attention is being given to statewide races. The Texas Election Bureau is estimating that 1,800,000 Democrats will vote.

Main attention has been going to two contested races. Lloyd Bentsen Jr. of Houston is trying to oust Sen. Ralph Yarborough. State Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin and Fred Williams of Houston are trying to defeat Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

The Yarborough-Bentsen race has proceeded at a fairly cool level.

Little attention has been paid to the effort of David Brown of Sherman to defeat Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, or to the campaign by Connie Lawson of Taylor against Railroad Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey.

Lawyers are taking an active part in the two high court races. Hawthorne Phillips of Austin, Judge Matt Davis of Texarkana and Judge James G. Denton of Lubbock are seeking an open seat on the Texas Supreme Court. Judge Truman Roberts of Hamilton and Earl Smith of San Angelo are candidates for an open place on the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Other statewide offices are uncontested.

Saturday's Republican primary is expected to draw about 150,000 voters. U. S. Representative George Bush of Houston is favored to win the U. S. Senate nomination over Robert Morris of Plano. It is Bush's second try for the Senate. Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls, although he was ill and unable to campaign for nearly two weeks, is favored over Roger Martin of Gainesville in the gubernatorial race. It's Egger's second race for governor.

TUITION RAISE PROPOSED
Coordinating Board of Texas College and University System is urged legislation to boost tuition fees in senior institutions from $50 to $125 a semester.

Spokesmen said students should pay at least 25 percent of the cost of education, and that is what the tuition fee hike would produce.

Board at the same time postponed action on a staff recommendation that it place new enrollment ceilings for the University of Texas at Austin (35,000) and for Texas A&I University at Kingsville (7,500).

Private and independent college spokesmen, meanwhile, called on the board for aid, including a "tuition equalization program" to place them in a better competitive position with state-supported schools.

Tuition recommendation calls for $500 a semester fee for out-of-state students. Junior college local board would set their own tuitions but not at more than 75 percent of senior college fees for in-district students or 90 percent for out-of-district enrollees.

GRANTS APPROVED
Gov. Preston Smith approved a $124,996 federal grant to the Kleberg county Community Action Committee in Kingsville.

Grant involves $4,169 in unexpended funds, making a total of $129,165 for a 12-month program beginning May 1. Bulk of the funds will go to Neighborhood Service Centers.

Smith earlier approved a $10,090 state regional planning assistance grant with the Golden Crescent Council of Governments. Council serves Lavaca, Jackson, DeWitt, Goliad, Victoria and Calhoun Counties. It is based in Victoria and includes eight cities and seven special purpose governments.

Texas Criminal Justice Council, meanwhile, announced it has $4.6 million available in action grant money to strengthen law enforcement. Money will be used by the state and allocated to units of general local government to fight crime and improve police work.

CONSERVATION GROUP MEETS

New Texas Conservation Foundation was charged by Governor Smith to work toward providing the state with a top system of parks, scenic points, refuges, scientific and recreational areas.

This Foundation was authorized by the Legislature last year to facilitate state acquisition of lands by gifts or purchase and to accept money or property for parks, educational and scientific purposes.

Smith urged the group at its initial meeting here to function as the "strong right arm" of governmental departments and particularly the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Foundation named Glenn Biggs, formerly of Abilene, chairman, Reagan B. Cates of Victoria vice chairman and Ralph D. Churchill of Dallas to head a committee mapping definite projects for the group to undertake.

EXPLOSIVES

Texas is one of 32 states where anyone can freely buy dynamite from anyone willing to sell it to him, but state and national officials are trying to put a stop to such easy access to the high explosive.

There is a state law to stop sales or possession of bombs or dynamite, but the list of exemptions to the law is so broad that almost anyone can fit as a legal dynamite buyer. Attorney General's office is working on a law to curtail the sale of explosives. Proposal will be submitted to the next session of the Legislature.

A bill is in Congress, supported by the Nixon Administration, that also would pose a federal ban on possession.

SHORT SNORTS

Dr. John Kinross-Wright, commissioner of mental health and mental retardation, has resigned his position.

University of Texas at Austin President Norman Hackerman has resigned his position, and will become president of Rice University on Sept. 1.

Governor Smith's Criminal Justice Council has been notified that its $4,617,000 application for 50 percent law enforcement matching funds has been approved by the U. S. Department of Justice.

Out-of-state tourism dropped one percent in 1969 from the 1968 high of 22.5 million, but spending by the tourist increased from $1.5 billion to $1.6 billion, reports Texas Tourist Development Agency, but adds that most states experience a much more substantial decline in visitors the year after a world's fair such as HemisFair.

Governor Smith approved establishment of a residential manpower center in El Paso. Republicans plan a $500 a plate dinner May 22 at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston with Vice President Spiro Agnew as the speaker.

Governor is polling district judges for their views on penalties for marijuana violations. Public hearing will be held on May 4 by the Texas Occupational Safety Board on safety standards for explosive-actuated tools, mechanical power transmission apparatus and conveyors, cableways and related equipment.

Attorney General's office, Texas Association of Defense Counsel, Texas Municipal League, Texas Trial Lawyers Association and UT Austin Law School will sponsor a conference on the new Texas Tort Claims Act April 30-May 1 on the University of Texas-Austin campus.

Adult Driver Training School In Ballinger In May
The Texas Department of Public Safety in co-operation with Runnels County Officials, Ballinger Police Department and Winters Police Department announced that an Adult Driver Training School will be conducted in Ballinger beginning on May 11 at 7:00 p.m. Classes will be conducted May 11, 12, 13 and 14 from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. at the Runnels County Courthouse.

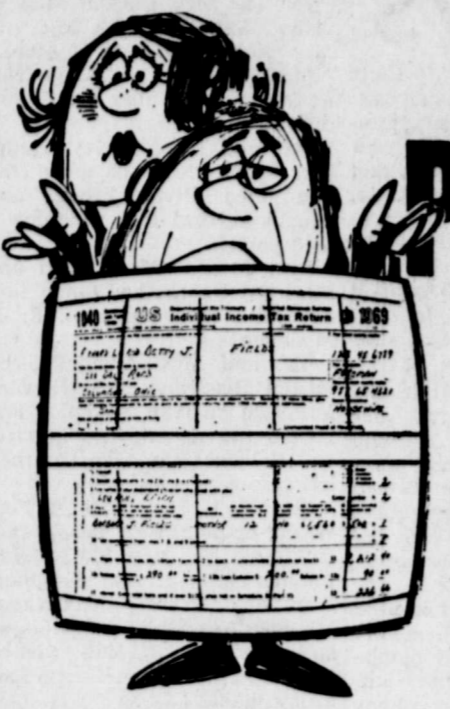

There is no fee for these classes. There will be two classes, one taught in Spanish and one taught in English, limited to 65 persons in each class.

Major E. K. Browning, Jr., Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, states Adult Driver Training Schools are being conducted in several areas of the state. He also stated this is a joint project with local officials to assist the unlicensed drivers 18 years of age or older who need more knowledge and skill in order to qualify for a Texas Driver License.

Persons interested in attending this school should register at the Driver License Office located in the Runnels County Courthouse or the Driver License Office in Winters on Friday, May 1.

Those registering will be required to furnish proof of birthdate.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Now that conservation used in connection with pollution has become more popular, everyone is climbing aboard the bandwagon. The only thing wrong with it is the "crash program" approach.

Good men have been turned back in their efforts for conservation for years. Now the public has really gotten environmental religion. Some of our most prominent magazines appear to have just discovered that pollution is happening and even the young protesters seem to think it just started yesterday. They say it is time to stop raping our environment, killing our citizens, degrading life, destroying human values—and, of course, they are right.

It is acknowledged that more cleanup is going on now than ever before but that it is not happening fast enough. It is charged that the ratio of lip service to the pollution problem to action is more disproportionate than ever before. Again, they are probably right.

It is charged that the "system" is largely to blame for allowing our environmental degradation to reach the present level.

Here, again, they are probably right in some respects but the system did not make the mess. We, as human, individual persons, made it.

There is not much use to blame anyone particularly. There is not much use to blame the so-called system, which in this context means industry. There is not much need to charge the fault to progress—whatever that is.

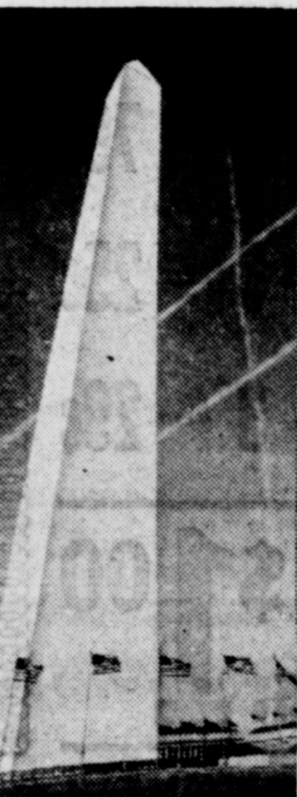

Since 1899 under a law known as the Refuse Act, there has been a prohibition against depositing "refuse" into navigable waters except under a permit issued by the Corps of Engineers. The definition given "refuse" is broadly interpreted to include all foreign substances and pollutants other than municipal sewage from streets and sewers in a liquid form.

Under this Act there is a sort of a bounty involved. Individuals who find industry refuse being discharged into navigable waters without a Corps of Engineers permit, may inform proper Federal officials whose duty it is to prosecute offenders. As interpreted, the law provides that one-half of a maximum fine of $2,500 for each instance or day of violation may be paid to the person who gives information leading to conviction. If, in a reasonable time, the Government fails to prosecute a violator, the informer himself may sue in the name of the United States to collect his reward.

Although pollution of various sorts and kinds has been with us since we took over from the Indians, just now is it becoming popular to be against it. Soil and water conservation, a very real victim of pollution has had a difficult time over the years in selling its efforts. Air has not been a part of it until recently because we could not see it. For a long time people in the cities could see what the air was carrying but really did not know what it was. Actually there is a greater emphasis on air pollution than other types, mainly because there are more victims of it than those denied benefits from other conservation measures.

All sorts of remedies are being championed. Some are proposed by real experts who have been in the business and had the concern for many years. Others are more recent self-appointed experts who find fault with about everything. Among the recommendations of the more recent professionals in the field of eliminating pollution, is a return to the Stanley Steamer, which must have been a pretty good automobile in its time. There is one being developed now in Ambler, Pennsylvania, which uses water and kerosene and reportedly produces 80 percent less harmful residuals than today's cars.

A United States Senator says that it will be the American consumer, and particularly the American woman, who can bring significant influences by buying selectively products that cause less damage to the environment than others. He said the woman shopper should buy soft drinks in returnable bottles, spurning the throw-aways. She should also buy substitutes for the high-phosphate detergents which contribute to the pollution of our lakes and streams. The Senator said that each year this country is massively cluttered with 78 Billion throw-away bot-les, cans and jars, which averages 30 containers for every man, woman and child in the world.

To somewhat repeat, appropriating dollars by the Federal Government alone is not the total answer. Qualified scientific efforts in an orderly fashion should result not only in savings but will come nearer getting the job done, along with the consciousness of the problem now on the minds of so many individual citizens.

Tomatoes: The tomato enjoys a lot of prestige in the culinary world. It passes all taste tests with its matchless flavor. It scores again on food value, since it's an inexpensive source of vitamin C. Then its bright red coloring gives it special eye appeal—adding color to the dinner table.

The tomato is so colorful that seventeenth century Englishmen grew it purely for its ornamental value—before they found what good eating was. Tomatoes had a rather difficult time being accepted by the civilized world. The Italians broke the superstition of this being inedible and became connoisseurs of tomato cookery. Gradually, other European countries followed suit. American resistance finally gave way during the 1800's. Thanks to the French influence in New Orleans, when creole foods popularized the versatile tomato.

Savory Bean Stew is a tasty way to use tomatoes.

1 cup dry beans or peas, 1-4 cup diced salt pork, 1-3 cup chopped onion, 1-2 lb. ground beef, 2 to 2 1/2 cups canned tomatoes, salt and pepper.

Soak and cook beans or peas as usual. Fry salt pork until crisp, remove from pan and brown onion in fat. Add meat and stir and cook slowly for a few minutes. Combine all ingredients, season and simmer until meat is tender and flavors are blended. Makes four servings. Serve with squash, a shredded raw vegetable salad and pudding.

1 cup dry lima beans, 3 cups water, 3-4 tsp. salt, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 1-2 cup chopped onion, 4 slices bacon.

Wash beans. Add water, boil two minutes, then remove from heat and let soak one hour. Or add water and let soak overnight in a cool place. Add 1-2 tsp. salt to the beans and boil gently in the same water for 45 minutes. Drain.

To bake, put onion and beans in a greased baking dish. Add tomatoes and rest of salt. Arrange bacon strips on top. Bake at 350 degrees F. until beans are tender and most of the liquid has been absorbed—45 minutes to one hr.

To cook on top of stove, soak, boil and drain the beans as above. Chop bacon and brown it with the onion in fry pan. Add beans, tomatoes, and salt. Boil gently until beans are tender—about 30 minutes—stirring occasionally to keep from sticking. Add a little water or more tomato if the mixture gets too dry. Serves four.

Tomato Juice Cocktail
3 1-2 cups (No. 2 1-2 can) tomatoes, 1 cup chopped celery, 1-4 cup chopped green pepper, 1-2 bay leaf, 1 T. chopped onion, 1-2 ts. salt, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 1-2 tsp. horseradish, if desired.

Low Level Flying Routes Announced

The world wide commitments of the 516th Tactical Airlift Wing (TAW), Dyess AFB, require continuous low level flying training. The highest possible degree of proficiency must be maintained and the 516th TAW aircrews must be current in all modes of aerial delivery. As a result, C-130 Hercules and C-7A Caribou aircraft are flown at low level altitudes over the Big Country on a daily basis.

These low level flights may be scheduled between 8 a.m. and midnight, Monday through Friday, and less frequently on weekends. Daylight missions are flown at an altitude of 500 feet above the terrain while night low level activities are conducted at least 1,000 feet above any obstacle, man made or geographic, within three miles of the prescribed track of the aircraft. Airspeeds will vary from 115 to 290 miles per hour.

All flights are made along specific routes which are approved by the Tactical Air Command, only after coordination with the Federal Aviation Administration and local airport managers. Minimum disturbances of farms, ranches and communities is the primary consideration in selecting low level routes. Towns, local airports, resorts, hatcheries, and stock pens are avoided when planning the routes and will not be overflown by C-130 or C-7A aircraft under any normal circumstances. 516th officials would like to emphasize that, even though training must be conducted at low altitudes and high airspeeds in order to be realistic, all possible precautions are taken to prevent disruption of local agriculture and community activities.

The areas affected by these training flights are: Abilene, Merkel, Rotan, Aspermont, Hamlin, Throckmorton, Haskel, Rule, Winters, Ballinger, Coleman, Talpa, Cisco Eastland, Comanche, Carbon, Albany, Anson, Nolan, Christoval, Paint Rock, Tuscola, Tye, Sylvester, Roby, Girard, Buffalo Gap, Baird, Leuders, Seymour, Benjamin, Knox City and Old Glory.

Planning Now For Head Start Program In June

The 1970 Head Start program of Winters Independent School District will begin June 8, according to James Jones, director, and plans are already being made. The program will continue through July 31.

Jones said from 45 to 48 5- and 6-year-old pre-school children of underprivileged families will be served in this program. These will be children who will be entering kindergarten and the first grade next September. Registration is now going on, he said. Parents of children who are qualified for the program may contact Jones, or Mrs. Fred Young, School Nurse, or George Beard, the Elementary School Principal, for information.

Total costs of this year's program will be $19,185, Jones said. Of this total, a federal grant of $10,846 has been allotted, through Central Texas Opportunities, Inc. The school will provide $8,339 of the cost, classified "in kind" share—furnishing facilities, for classroom work, cafeteria facilities, and buses for transportation.

Jones said there will be three teachers, three aides, a school nurse, a custodian, and cooks. These will be paid personnel. In addition, non-paid volunteers will work with the children. Jones said a high school FTA student would receive points toward State Convention by working voluntarily in the Head Start program.

Classes will begin at 8:30 a.m. each day. The children will be served a mid-morning snack, and at noon will receive a hot meal, with dismissal at 12:30.

Home Safety Campaign Set By Lone Star

A home safety campaign sponsored by Lone Star Gas, was announced this week, with the proclamation of May 3-9 as Home Safety Week in Winters by Mayor Wade White.

Lone Star manager Marshall Wharton said that "with more than 42 percent of all accidents occurring in the home, we're all involved with home safety. This home safety campaign in Winters is a part of a system-wide effort by Lone Star to promote basic safety habits to help reduce that figure."

A key feature of the campaign includes distribution of a recently published booklet, "Home Safety—So Much Depends on You!" The booklet offers home owners a handy course of safety tips ranging from poisons to a special section on child safety.

As a part of the campaign, demonstrations by Lone Star home economists will include discussions on home safety tips. The home safety booklet and other materials will be available for civic organizations, Wharton said.

Lone Star is also promoting home safety within the company through employee discussions and monthly articles in the employee magazine Blue Blaze.

Whereas: The home exposes a person to more hazards in a routine day than he or she is likely to encounter anywhere else, and

Whereas: Accidents in the home annually kill nearly 29,000 persons and injure some 4,400,000 more, and

Whereas: Home safety is both an individual and a community matter, and

Whereas: Lone Star Gas Company is sponsoring an accident prevention campaign designed to call attention to home hazards and ways to correct them,

Therefore: I, by the power vested in me as Mayor of Winters, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of May 3-9, 1970, to be "Home Safety Week" and urge that all public spirited citizens and organizations support this program wholeheartedly.

Mayor of the City of Winters.

And gas air conditioning is worth installing. It has fewer moving parts to break down, longer service life and lower month-to-month operating costs.
