Registration To Begin Sept. 7th.

Prospects are bright for the most successful year in its history as Cisco Junior College opens its 1954 fall term Tuesday, September 7, it was reported by Carlos J. Turner, who will begin his first year as president of the school.

Registration will begin on September 7 and prospects were good for a noticeable increase in enrollment despite the fact that the new classroom building will not be ready for use at that time. The possibility of an increase in enrollment was seen as the college was receiving the greatest number of inquiries in its history. The faculty is complete, and all faculty members hold a masters degree, or its equivalent. The employment of Miss Julietta Haynes as instructor of social studies and matron of the girls dormitory completed the teaching staff. Miss Haynes has been attending the University of Texas during the summer and has completed required work on her doc-

Four new teachers will be at the school during the coming year. In addition to Miss Haynes, Dulan Clegg will serve as registrar and teacher of mathematics; Joe Stephenson will serve as science teacher and assistant coach and Lawrence Bryan, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, will serve as Bible instructor. Other instructors include the following: C. J. Turner, president and teacher of education; Mrs. Minnie Hill; business administration; Miss Mamie Estes, librarian and teacher of library science; Jack Chambliss, head of the department of music; L. L. Lewis, coach and teacher of physical education; Robert Donovan, vocational education and agriculture and Miss Olga Ford, head of the English department.

Notice

Franklin D. Roosevelt, in 1904, voted against Alton Parker, the Democratic nominee for president and boasted about it. He also worked hard for years for La Guardia, the Rep-Mayor of New York, and for any other Republican who suited him. He also served 4 terms as president and we all thought it was all right. So why our complaint about Shivers?

We need to know how Mr. Yarbrough and ourselves will vote in the 1956 election if the Democrats nominate a man against Eisenhower who says he will work against our present tide land law as Stevenson had said he would. If you have children or grandchildren we know how you will vote and that is as Shivers did.

Yarbrough didn't lose his home voting box 3 to 1 because they were Republican. The Republicans had a candidate for Governor of their own. It was likely because his neighbors know him better than you do. The word, neighbors, does not apply to the entire county in which a person happened to be reared.

I believe a big majority of the Texas Employers are for Shivers because they know best. Only a small percent were appointed by Shivers or could be removed by Yarbrough. Most all are under Civil Service and the Governor has little to do with it. What can Texas expect from Washington if Yarbrough is elected!
