HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

There will be a lot of kids—and adults—over the country lighting fireworks during this Fourth of July weekend, and there will be a lot of kids—and adults—who will show up on Monday morning after the Fourth weekend, minus a finger or two, a hand, an eye or two, or with dreadful burns, and many families standing in the streets staring at piles of ashes which were homes before the fireworks began.

As has been said over and over, the country around, shooting fireworks is one of the most dangerous "fun" activities ever to become attached to a holiday. Unsupervised shooting of fireworks by children is nothing more than groundwork for disorganized disfigurement and possible death. Even the most carefully planned and organized shooting of fireworks many times backfires, maiming and killing and burning.

But we'll go ahead and light the fireworks, anyway, thinking that the news reports of lost lives, limbs and eyes, which will be printed in Monday's morning newspapers will always be about "someone else," and could not happen to us. Perhaps we'll all learn, some day.

A step in a maybe-return to public "enthusiasm for country" will be the "Big Country Fourth of July Spectacular" Saturday evening in Abilene's Shotwell Stadium, which will feature patriotic speakers, fireworks displays, and a concert presented by a Big Country Band made up of band musicians from all over the area. Admission is to be "possession of a U. S. Flag."

The Abilene Spectacular is one of many such celebrations over the country, along with the giant "Honor America Day" scheduled in Washington, D. C., and is slightly reminiscent of Fourth of July celebrations of earlier decades. Those public expressions, which were, during the "growing years," probably the most important events of the year throughout the country, especially in the rural communities, have about died out. Why they died is just about anybody's guess. One reason probably has been the change from a rural to an urban-oriented society, better transportation and instant communications. The celebrations in earlier years in the rural areas provided about the only chance for people of the communities to get together, all at one time. Too, those of earlier years may have understood — and expressed — their "enthusiasm for country" (patriotism) more clearly, because they were closer to their country and to one another. A change in habits can create a greater change in cultural foundations.

Whether former generations were more patriotic than present generations is a moot question, anyway. We can use former circumstances and events (Continued on page 8)

COMING DOWN: For the last time, what is left of the old north water tower stands sentinel above the rock Scout Hut on North Main Street. Crews started Saturday to demolish the tank, which was built in 1912, to make room for widening of North Main Street (US83), and this was the scene about 9 a. m. Monday. Workmen were forced to leave the tower by high winds Monday afternoon. Tear down is being done by Walker Tank Service of Victoria, who submitted the lowest bid, $2400, for the job. The old tank tower has been out of service for the past two years, City Secretary Buford Baldwin said, so it will make no difference in available water pressure. The tower had a capacity of 50,000 gallons, while the south water tower, a newer structure, has a capacity of 100,000 gallons. (Staff Photo)

Valley Creek Watershed Project Recognized in National Magazine

The Valley Creek Watershed Project received national publicity and recognition in the June, 1970 issue of Soil Conservation Magazine, according to Woodrow Hoffman of the Runnels County Soil Conservation Service.

The article in the magazine, "Our Creek is Running Again," was written by Clyde W. Graham, State Conservationist and Dale Allen, information specialist, SCS, of Temple.

Hoffman said the article answers the question, What effect does upstream watershed projects have on downstream water supplies? This is done by use of photographs taken on the watershed, and by quotes from Charles Clifton, former mayor of Ballinger, and Hugo Velles, chairman of the Valley Creek Water Control District.

Sponsors of this watershed project include the Valley Creek Water Control District, three soil and water conservation districts — the Runnels, Upper Clear Fork and Middle Clear Fork — and Commissioners' Courts of Runnels, Nolan and Taylor counties.

Legion And VFW Present Flags To Little League

Two U. S. Flags, one for the regular Little League field, and one for the Pony League field, have been presented to the Winters Little League Association by the Winters posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. They will be flown in center field at each site during ball games.

Roy Paske and Jerry B. Whitlow of the City Electric Department made the poles and set them in concrete in center field of the baseball diamonds.

County Swine Producers Form Organization

At a meeting held in the court house on June 25th, the constitution and by-laws were adopted for the Runnels County Area Swine Producers Association. Neighboring counties producers, as well as local producers, were present for the meeting.

The first project of the group will be the establishment of the best market possible. Neighboring counties producers are urged to join this association. Contact Milton Heinze, Bill Colburn or C. T. Parker, Jr.

The Runnels County Area Porkette's Association was organized on June 25th at a meeting held in the courthouse in Ballinger.

The following were elected as officers:
President, Mrs. Gary Gallant.
Vice President, Mrs. Lester Glass.
Secretary - Treasurer, Mrs. Benton Cassidy.
Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Katie Priem.
Anyone in this area is invited to join this organization. One of the officers can be contacted and the $3.00 dues paid to them.

Runnels County Farmers Union "Fastest Growing"

The Runnels County Farmers Union is one of the five fastest growing county organizations in the Texas Farmers Union, Jay Naman of Waco, president of the state organization, told those attending the family night meeting in Winters Community Center last week. The local organization is to be commended for its growth in membership, he said.

The state Farmers Union official discussed national farm policy and bills now being considered by Congress. He said the increase in net farm income recently reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture could be attributed to the 1965 Farm Act. He indicated that he felt this was "strong indication that the present programs continue to work in the interest of farmers."

Radical changes in the farm program would be "a retreat from progress," he said.

Roscoe Morrison of Winters, president of the Runnels County Farmers Union, served as chairman of the meeting. Refreshments were served to attending families.

Water Usage Has Not Reached Daily Million Gallons

Although the weather has been hot, and most evaporative air coolers have been in operation and residents have been watering lawns and gardens quite frequently, consumption of water has not reached a million gallons a day, according to W. D. Waggoner, superintendent of the City Water Department.

Highest daily consumption has been a little more than 900,000 gallons, Waggoner said, but is expected to climb to a million gallons within a few days, if no rain is received.

The temperatures in Winters have hovered in the hot 90s for several days; the top — 100 degrees — was reached last Friday, June 26, following a 99 degree recording on June 25. Last year's June was somewhat hotter than this year, when the temperature jumped from 99 on June 19 to 106 on June 20.

Water Superintendent Waggoner said water is no longer going over the main spillway at Lake Winters, having dropped within the past few weeks.

School Board Meeting Changed To July 7th

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of Winters Independent School District has been changed from July 14 to July 7, it was announced this week. This change in date is explained; regular meetings are scheduled for the second Tuesday night of each month.

Change in the school board meeting was made to permit Carroll Tatom, superintendent of schools, to attend the superintendents' annual summer meeting, which will be held in Austin July 12-15, under sponsorship of the Texas Education Agency and the Texas Association of School Administrators.

Second Band Nite Set Next Tuesday

A rehearsal has been scheduled for all interested band members from the 6th through the 12th grades, Tuesday, July 7, at 7:30 p. m., WHS Band Director Kirke McKenzie has announced. Ex-students and adults who play band instruments also are invited to attend.

Music to be read will include new popular tunes, marches and spiritual "rocks."

A big night of fun is planned, McKenzie said, and everyone is invited.

School Tax Office Closed July 3rd

The tax and business office of Winters Independent School District will be closed all day Friday, July 3, for the Independence Day holidays.

The office will be open during regular hours beginning Monday, July 6.

Electric Co-Op Refund Checks To Be Mailed Soon

Members who received electric service from the Coleman County Electric Cooperative in 1969 will be receiving more than $189,044 in patronage refunds this year, it was announced this week.

The amount each member will receive represents about 26 percent of each dollar spent for electricity by that member during 1969.

Because of a heavy work load in the CEC office this year, it was stated, the patronage refund checks, normally sent out in July, will be about two months late this year.

Patronage refunds that are returned to the Cooperative members simply represent any money taken in over the actual cost of delivering power to the members for that given year.

This is the eleventh consecutive year for the Coleman County Electric Cooperative members to receive refund checks, the manager stated.

Back To School Band Practice To Begin Aug. 10th

At 7 p. m., August 10, the 1970-71 Winters High School Blizzard Band will begin rehearsals for the fall football schedule and the Band Boosters back-to-school concert and picnic in front of the high school, Band Director Kirke McKenzie announced this week.

"A great deal of importance is placed on individual attendance at the pre-school clinics," McKenzie said. "All band students except those in varsity football are encouraged to make plans now and be at all of the rehearsals. Many new arrangements will be prepared the first week, so get in shape. If you are not able to make some of the rehearsals, contact me so that arrangements can be made."

McKenzie said marching positions and chairs will probably be assigned during the first week of rehearsals. Try-out material will be the chromatic scale and one other selection to be assigned at the first meeting.

"The Blizzard Band has a very exciting and interesting halftime 'line-up' planned for this year, including several pageantry performances," the band director said. "One will be a special salute to our war veterans."

The Blizzard Band will march in the "Aggie" tradition this year, using a military stride, McKenzie said. "Many new marching devices will be viewed as the 'Pride of West Texas,' the 90 marching Blizzards parade before the stands this fall." 107 members are anticipated for the concert band, he said.

Winters Riders Will Trail To Coleman Tuesday

Members of the Winters Riding Club will trail-ride to Coleman next week, to take part in the Coleman rodeo.

Riders will meet at the arena at 7:30 a. m. next Tuesday, and will leave the assembly area promptly at 8 a. m.

Everyone is to bring a sack lunch, and riders will stop at the roadside park east of Crews for lunch. In the afternoon, riders will trail to Hord's Creek Lake to spend the night, and will ride into Coleman in time to enter the downtown parade at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday, and on to the rodeo arena.

All members of the Winters Riding Club, and others, are urged to participate in this annual trail ride.

If anyone planning to go on the trail ride has not registered, they are asked to notify Mrs. R. C. Kurtz so that food can be provided.

No Mail Delivery Saturday, July 4

There will be no city or rural delivery of mail Saturday, July 4, Winters Postmaster H. M. Nichols, said this week.

Patrons holding boxes at the post office will receive first and second class mail, he said.

Little League Play-Offs Scheduled For Winters

STUDYING ART: Mrs. Shirley Porter, daughter of Mrs. Lillie Heath of Winters, has recently been enrolled in the Art Workshop at the Hill Country Arts Foundation in Ingram. She is studying oil painting and water base collage under Fred Samuelson, shown here going over one of Mrs. Porter's paintings. Mrs. Porter lives in Kerrville with her husband, and is also chairman of the Foundation's get-acquainted teas held each Sunday for the artists teaching at the Foundation.

Visiting Speaker Tells Lions How Snyder Became "All American City"

The story of how one town—Snyder — using its own bootstraps as lifting devices, pulled itself out of modern-day post-oil-boomtown doldrums and cleaned itself up, to become a town with the coveted title of "All America City," could be called "A Tale of Two Cities" — "before and after."

Henry Clark, manager of a Snyder power company, member of the industrial committee of Snyder, and a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, told the tale to members of the Winters Lions Club during a noon luncheon Tuesday this week.

Using colored slides to put emphasis on his talk, Clark told of a small-town Snyder suddenly becoming an oil boomtown of about 18,000 people almost overnight in the 1950s, with the resultant hodgepodge of construction and eventual debris, then hitting the skids of population loss, then setting to a substantial 11,000 within the past two or three years. And then using its own initiative to become one of the most beautiful cities in the country.

Clark explained that at the onset of the oil boom of the 1950s, Snyder found itself faced with the problem of providing space for everyone who flocked in, almost overnight. As a result, he said, "places to live" were constructed out of "everything from plywood to car tags." Then when the "bubble burst" — the promise of great oil production did not materialize — the exodus began, leaving Snyder virtually a "pile of rubble."

About 1965, Clark explained, started a "clean up, paint up, fix up" efforts, Clark said, Snyder has drawn at least one additional industry, and stands a good chance of getting others. It has meant money in the bank, he indicated — and besides, Snyder is a much nicer place in which to live.

FHA To Have Part Time Office Here For Loans

A representative of the Farmers Home Administration will be in Winters each Tuesday in July to help prospective home buyers make application for loans from the FHA, it was announced this week.

Foy Brown, of Coleman, county supervisor of FHA, will be at the Winters Chamber of Commerce from 1 to 4 p. m. each Tuesday, July 7, 14, 21 and 28, to discuss loans for new homes or repairs of existing homes.

Homecoming At Content July 5

A homecoming for former residents of Content will be held Sunday, July 5, at the old picnic grounds at Content.

Everyone is invited to attend and bring a basket lunch.

Little League All-Star baseball teams from several towns in the area will hold first round play-off games in Winters during the week of July 20-24, and the Winters Chamber of Commerce is planning an all-out welcome to visiting players and spectators accompanying them.

The entire week has been designated "All-Star Week" in Winters, with special activities planned for all week. The special week will get off the ground with a gigantic Sidewalk Sale, sponsored by the Retail Trades Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and participated in practically by every merchant in town. Special welcoming and sales events will be held during the week.

Baseball games will be held Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings during the week, with winning team in the major Little League and the Pony League to receive special plaques from the Winters Chamber of Commerce. Little League majors will play on July 20, 21 and 23, with the Pony League games scheduled for Friday night, July 24.

Towns to send teams to the first round play-offs will include Ballinger, Robert Lee, Sterling City, and Bronte. On Thursday night during All-Star Week, the winner of the area will play the winning team from Snyder, with the winner to advance to further play in Texas Little League.

Special concession stands are being planned for downtown during the All-Star Sidewalk Sale Monday, with various merchants expected to plan extra activities for the event. On Friday night, special drawings will be held, conducted by individual merchants, for cash or merchandise.

The Winters Chamber of Commerce is expected to forward special invitations to residents of towns included in the All-Star games, to come to Winters and take part in the special celebrations connected with All-Star Week.

Winters Young People To March In Fort Worth

Nineteen Winters young people of the First Baptist Church, and three sponsors, will take part in a different type of peace march and rally which is expected to draw more than 10,000 young people to Fort Worth from across Texas July 2-3.

On the evening of July 2, plans call for the lights in downtown Fort Worth to be turned off for 15 seconds and 10,000 flashlights to be turned on by young people.

The torchlight rally and parade are part of the 1970 Youth Evangelism Conference which will emphasize the "Peace of Christ" that illuminates the lives of people committed to Him, said Dr. C. Wade Freeman, director of the Texas Baptist Evangelism Division.

Attending from Winters will be Bruce Smith, Cliff Poe, William Russell, Steve Tatom, Gary Antilley, Greg Poe, Tobin Burns, Perry Poe, Donald Rogers, Stanley Tatom, Mark Harrison.

The Winters group will leave here about noon Thursday, and return late Friday.

Cliff Barrows of the Billy Graham evangelistic team will be the main speaker at the rally and at the opening session of the Conference in Tarrant County Convention Center the same evening at 7 p. m. Other sessions will begin at 9:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. July 3.

Dr. Freeman said "the Youth Evangelism Conference comes at a strategic time in history, both for the church and the nation. "Christian young people should have the same privilege of demonstration as the violent radical. We will be sharing how to have personal and lasting peace."

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In writing about the Secret Service last week, it was indicated the subject this week would be counterfeit money. The Secret Service, which has the responsibility of coping with counterfeiting, has a big job.

Counterfeiting is one of the oldest games in history and is today on the rise. One reason is the fact that large quantities can be produced by improvements in photography and printing equipment. The Secret Service says that the counterfeiter, unlike earlier times, need not be a master craftsman. Amateurs, working in legitimate print shops, have been able to produce passable currency.

Although our bills are produced from plates made by the finest engravers in the world, counterfeiters are able to fool the unsuspecting. The Treasury Department is now studying ways to make it even more difficult to copy our currency.

Counterfeiters usually stick to producing bills of $10 and $20 denominations although $1 to $50 bills have been in circulation.

The producer of bogus bills usually sells them to a dealer for 10 cents or 15 cents on the dollar. The dealer then sells them to a distributor for another reduction and finally to the passer who pays from 25 cents to 35 cents on the dollar, depending on the quality. These people are expert and the appearance of genuineness reduces the risk of being caught. The risk is great and counterfeiters are finally apprehended but not before a lot of people have been their victims. It is a very difficult task but the Secret Service is doggedly expert in its work.

The passer or "shover," as they are referred to, practices certain procedures to avoid detection. Large stores are usually passed up mainly because currency goes to a cashier and there is a waiting period to receive change. If the cashier is suspicious, the police may have been called in the meantime. The passer is constantly on the move.

People are cheated before the Secret Service learns of the spurious money. By careful observation, most anyone can tell good money from bad. A belief has been common that rubbing a bill on white paper is a test of its genuineness. This is not the case since ink on both good and bad will rub off.

A few pointers are helpful in identifying counterfeit bills. It is important to examine the portrait. The portrait is most intricate and an example of the fine art of engraving. Counterfeiters have never been able to exactly duplicate the picture. The fine screen of regular lines forming the background in genuine currency usually becomes broken and ragged on counterfeit. This is particularly true of the eyes. On the genuine currency they stand out, almost sparkling. They are clear and on a clean background. The PERU'S MOUNTAINS come right down to the shore near Lima. The Pacific beaches are lively, scenic places which come alive early in the day. The tropical sun is scorching, but the water has a bracing chill.

QUICK BITE with European flavor. This wagon offers New Yorkers gourmet foods such as Westphalian ham sandwiches and caviar instead of usual hot dogs.

counterfeit blends into a sort of a smudgy background and will likely be too light or too dark.

Another point is that the portrait distinguishes the bill's denomination. Some counterfeiters raise the denomination by scraping off the number on small bills and replacing a higher one. The denomination and the portrait always go together from the portrait of George Washington on the $1 to that of Chase on the $10,000 bill. This leaves nine in between and presents a pretty good game to be able to name the denomination which goes with the picture.

The seal on the bill is telltale, if examined carefully. On good currency the saw-tooth points around the circle are identical and sharp at the tips. Fake notes are likely to be irregular and broken.

Color is important. Federal Reserve Notes have a green seal and serial number while United States notes have a red seal. Should colors of the seal and serial number differ, it is an imitation. Unevenly spaced serial numbers should be a warning.

Counterfeiters have a difficult time in imitating the blue, silk threads imbedded below the surface in genuine bills. More often the threads in counterfeit are more coarse and the color not

Mrs. C. T. Conner Died in Winters Last Thursday

Mrs. C. T. Conner, 77, died at 1:20 p. m. Thursday in Merrill Nursing Home in Winters.

Funeral was held Saturday at 10 a. m. in Tuscola First Baptist Church with the Rev. W. I. Taylor and the Rev. Larry Bralvey, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Bradshaw Cemetery under the direction of Fry Funeral Home of Tuscola.

Mrs. Conner was born Ada King, February 28, 1893, in Covington, and married C. T. Conner Aug. 31, 1908. They moved to Runnels County in 1925 and lived at Wingate and Bradshaw.

They moved to Tuscola in 1950 and to Merrill's Nursing Home in Winters in October 1969.

Mrs. Conner was a member of Tuscola Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband of Winters; one son, Robert of Winters; one daughter, Mrs. Jessie Harrison of Bradshaw; three grandsons, Eddie Harrison, David Harrison and Randall Conner; one sister, Mrs. Willie Guber of Fort Worth; three brothers, Earl King, Crit King and Curtis King, all of Cleburne.

One daughter and two grandchildren preceded Mrs. Conner in death.

Pallbearers were Albert Lewis, K. C. Roberson, Mayfield Forster, H. B. Pettus, W. L. Falwell and Truett Loudany.

true. Some manage to imitate these threads with pen and ink lines but they are detectable on close examination.

To be profitable, large batches of bogus money must be produced. Swindlers smuggling counterfeit out of the United States to people in foreign countries run a double risk but it has been done. Right now Ireland is experiencing a wave of fake U. S. bills. Since American money is acceptable most any place in the world, foreigners are likely to be easier prey but Americans, somewhere, are swindled about every day.

F. U. President Spoke Here Tuesday Night

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco, addressing the Family Night Meeting of the Runnels County Farmers Union at the Winters Community Center Tuesday night, praised the organization for its membership growth. Naman said that the Runnels County Farmers Union is among the five fastest growing county organizations in Texas Farmers Union.

Naman discussed farm policy and the farm bill which is under consideration in Congress. He said the increase in net farm income recently reported by USDA was largely attributable to the 1965 Farm Act, and that he felt this was strong indication that the present programs continue to work in the interest of farmers.

"It is a retreat from progress which we have made since 1965 for consideration to be given to radical changes in farm program concepts. That the Nixon Administration would insist on turning away from the programs which work is beyond logical understanding," Naman said. Turning to the specific provisions of the cotton program which has been given favorable consideration by the House Agriculture Committee, Naman said, "If the Administration's recommendation for cotton passes the congress, it will reduce net cotton producer income immediately by a minimum of $10 per bale. Since it does not assure parity relationships and includes a maximum payment that is not related to parity, cotton farmers would have no way to cope with inflationary trends," the state farm organization leader said.

Naman praised the 32-member Farm Coalition for putting together a unified voice for improved farm income. He said, "The recent merging of the 150,000-member Southern Cotton Growers Association into the already powerful Farm Coalition effort will considerably improve our opportunities to achieve a good farm program."

A Day To Be Proud Of . . .

How could anyone predict what that document being posted would mean to mankind? Since then, the Declaration of Independence has changed history for the better. For the message of that document was destined to enter the hearts and minds of freedom-loving men everywhere. Let us all, as Americans, pause today and be thankful for that declaration that allows us to live in a free nation. A happy Fourth of July!

Catfish Application Deadline Nearing

Fort Worth—The Aug. 1 application deadline for channel catfish and hybrid sunfish for stocking purposes is drawing near, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reminds. Each year, the Department distributes more than three million fingerling channel catfish for stocking throughout the state.

The deadline for largemouth black bass, which spawn much earlier than catfish, was April 1.

Department spokesmen said many applicants applied for catfish shipments at the same time they applied for bass. Application forms may be obtained at the Department's Austin headquarters or in the various regional offices.

The deliveries ordinarily are made during October and November.

One hatchery superintendent indicated this year's crop of incubator catfish is going to be a good one. "We're in good shape right now," said James C.

(Jake) Searcy of the Eagle Mountain Lake hatchery.

He said the incubators are racked up, the brooders have been returned to the holding ponds and about 430,000 young catfish are growing well.

Searcy said this year might possibly be the best for catfish raising at his hatchery, and the demand for the fingerlings will be met.

At Eagle Mountain, 57 pairs of channel catfish produced 47 spawns, and 37 pairs rematched for additional spawns. As spawns were found in the jars, the eggs were transferred to the incubators until the young hatched.

Searcy said this year's spawn was "pretty good," despite continued cold weather in the late spring. He added that he feels he is able to grow a greater number of freshly hatched catfish to fingerling size now because of the use of wooden holding troughs and more effective control of predatory water bugs.

Happiness is a way station between too little and too much.

Per capita consumption of meat this year is being estimated at 165 pounds . . . including 100 pounds of beef, five pounds of veal, 3½ pounds of lamb and 5½ pounds of pork.

Our doubts are traitors and let us lose the god we oft might win by fearing to attempt.

Consumers now spend less than a nickel of every quarter of their disposable income for food. Of this amount, the farmer gets less than 2 cents.

by VERN SANFORD

Austin, Texas — A governor's committee has come up with proposals to withhold state money from segregated school districts and to create a Texas fair employment commission and department of housing.

Far-reaching recommendations in other areas were offered by the 50-member Governor's Committee on Human Relations which also urged that a permanent commission with increased funds and power be set up in the civil rights area.

A sub-committee panel was told there are 36 Texas school districts which have at least one all-Negro school. State funds finance about 80 per cent of school operations.

Dr. Abner McCall, president of Baylor University, Waco, led an unsuccessful fight to defeat the recommended cut-off of funds, arguing that the action would "punish children," not segregation.

Current G. I. Bill Marks Fourth Anniversary

June marks the fourth anniversary of the current GI Bill education and training program, and the Veterans Administration has examined its tally sheet.

According to Jack Coker, Director of the Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office, 1,652,537 veterans and 132,695 servicemen trained under this program between its starting date of June 1, 1966, and April 30, 1970.

In Texas, more than 50,952 veterans and 4,717 servicemen have trained under the GI Bill. Some 32,263 of these veterans and 725 of these servicemen received college-level training, the VA Regional Office Director observed.

In addition, 17,362 veterans and 3,992 servicemen in Texas entered schools below college level. Coker said 1,327 veterans have received on-the-job training since this benefit went into effect October 1, 1967. Servicemen are not eligible for this type of training.

This spring, enrollment reached the highest level in the history of the four-year old GI Bill. Coker said, with more than 22,420 Texas veterans and 1,984 servicemen enrolled.

The VA further revealed more than 15,246 of these veterans and servicemen were studying in colleges in Texas, while 6,298 veterans and 1,732 servicemen pursued below college-level training.

In addition, a total of 876 veterans took on-the-job training in Texas this spring.

To be eligible for education and training assistance under the current GI Bill, a veteran must have at least 181 days of Six other grants to be made later will increase the total to $196,000.

SHORT SNORTS James R. Hill of Corpus Christi is the new president of the 4,000-member Texas Restaurant Association.

George C. Lowrance of San Antonio is state coordinator of Lloyd Bentsen Democratic Senate campaign.

Cities levying a local option sales tax received $30.9 million for the first quarter of 1970.

Shoreline development may pollute the state's cleanest body of water—Amistad Reservoir—Texas Water Quality Board engineers warned.

A member of Alcoholic Beverages Commission has called for simplified agency auditing procedures for breweries and liquor wholesalers.

A federal grant of $251,880 will finance Project Late Start projects to help 608 persons over 55 re-enter the job market in Brownsville and three cities in other states.

Cameron and Jefferson counties were approved for state grants ($26,387 and $25,972, respectively) to aid in beach cleaning and maintenance.

AG OPINIONS Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System has no statutory authority to fix enrollment limits for public colleges and universities, Attorney General Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: —Texas Department of Corrections is authorized to make application for a permit to conduct a barber school and receive a license on meeting rules. —Sheriff of Harris county is authorized to seize goats running at large in the county and impound them at fee.

PATROLMEN STAY Governor Smith concurred in the Department of Public Safety's recommendation that Highway Patrolmen Jerry Byrd and Kenneth Stafford be retained on duty in the Mathis area.

Mathis City Council had asked that the patrolmen be removed for beating prisoners. San Patricio County grand jury later found the officers guilty of no wrong and handed them commendation for "excellent work."

Smith produced a thick file of eyewitness affidavits stating the officers were trying to restore peace and that the prisoner who was "slapped" was struggling and cursing.

Mathis Mayor Winston Bott took strong exception to the finding and said he would appeal to federal agencies for investigation.

FUNDS ALLOCATED Criminal Justice Council has received another $5.3 million for anti-crime work in 1970. Council promptly granted $134,900 to be divided among 14 regional councils of government for training teachers for drug instruction program.

Grants of $9,600 each went to: Golden Crescent Council of Governments, Victoria; Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council, McAllen; South Plains Association of Governments, Lubbock; East Texas COG, Tyler; Coastal Bend R. P. C., Corpus Christi; Nortex R. P. C., Wichita Falls; Permian Basin Law Enforcement Planning Committee, Odessa; Brazos Valley Development Council, Bryan; Southeast Texas R. P. C., Beaumont; Panhandle R. P. C., Amarillo and the Heart of Texas COG, Waco.

North Central Texas COG, Arlington, will receive two grants of $9,700 each and El Paso COG one for $9,800.

He also reminded Post-Korean and Vietnam era veterans in Texas that they must complete their training by May 31, 1974, or eight years after separation from service, whichever is later.

Let the Cattle Do the Work

Beef and dairy cattle, including lactating cows, can treat themselves with safe, approved insecticides to control the troublesome horn flies that attack during warm weather.

All that is needed, advises Extension Entomologist Weldon Newton, is a self-applicator bag properly stocked with dust containing either three percent Clo-drin or a one percent coumaphos (CO-Ral) and located so the cattle will contact the bag as they go about their daily routine.

For dairy cattle, the most convenient location for the dust-bag is in the exit chute leading from the milking parlor.

For beef cattle, it may be located in the gateway to a fenced off watering trough, a salt box or in the entrance to a resting area, says Newton.

Commercial, ready-filled bags can be purchased from livestock supply outlets or they can be inexpensively made. All that is needed are a few medium to fine mesh burlap bags to hold the dust, some hardware, including hooks on which to hang the bags, and a few grommets to serve as hook eyes.

A roof to protect the device from rainy weather is strongly recommended. Newton suggests using double strength burlap by placing one bag within another to better hold the dust.

Stock each double-layer bag with 5 to 10 pounds of the selected insecticide and hang them in pairs in such a way the animals will be forced to walk between the pair.

For best results, Newton says the bags should overlap each other by four to six inches. The bottoms should be about 18 inches from the ground for small cattle and 24 inches for the larger breeds.

Each time an animal walks through the self-applicator it will brush its head, neck, back and shoulders against the bags and pick up enough of the insecticide to keep the horn flies under control. Weekly maintenance is suggested.

A big share of the food dollar goes to labor. Of the total cost of moving food from the farmer to the housewife, wage earners in the food industry get an estimated 50 percent.

Forage Test Changes Are Announced

July 1, 1970, was "change day" for the Texas A&M University Forage Testing Service. Analytical changes, shown to be more reliable and which will enable a more accurate prediction of a forage's nutritive value went into effect, A. C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist, reports.

"The equation for estimating digestible protein has been refined so as to more accurately estimate this component," Novosad said. "Also the determination of crude fiber will be replaced with a determination of cell walls."

In addition, calculated digestible energy will be reported with total digestible nutrients (TDN) and net energy, he said.

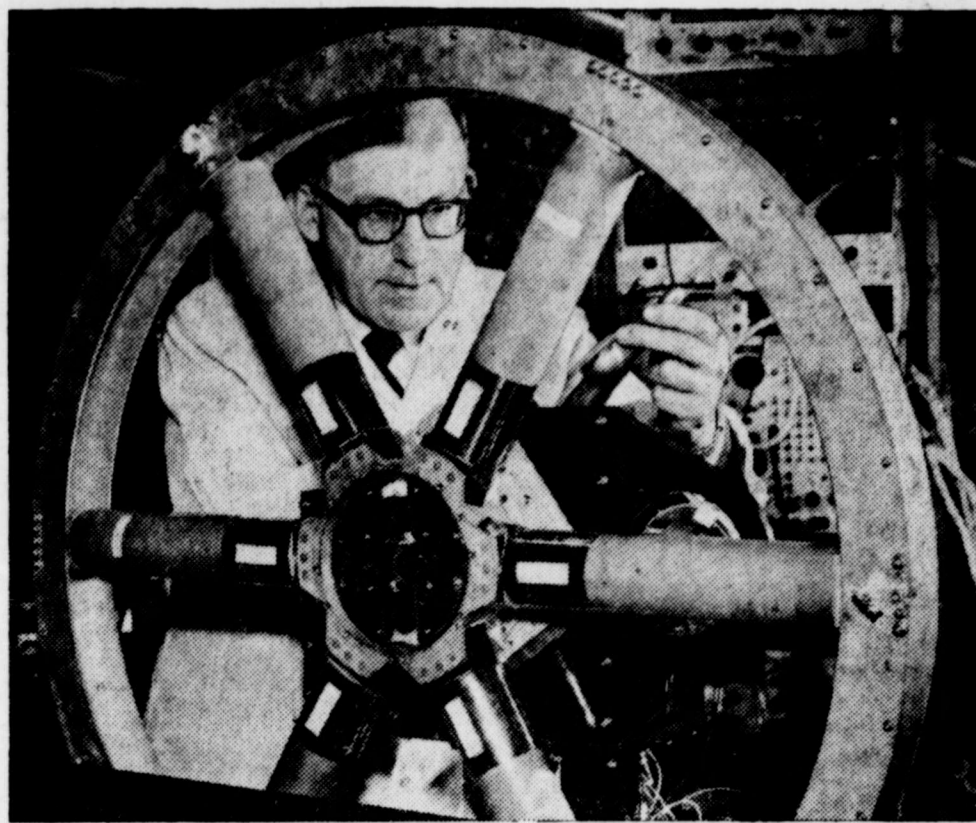

"This is in accordance with the recommendations of the National Research Council encouraging the increasing use of digestible energy so as to ultimately replace TDN as an expression of nutritive energy," Novosad said. "Crude protein determination will remain the same as in the past, as this test has been determined to be adequately reliable."

The cell wall content value will then be used in estimating the forage's content of digestible energy, TDN, and net energy, he said.

"It has been determined that the percentage cell walls, in comparison to crude fiber, is more reliable for use in predicting the nutritive energy in forages," Novosad explained. "Also, the prediction equations to be used have been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station using forages common to Texas, and therefore, considerably more confidence can be placed in the digestible energy values calculated by these new procedures."

When the farmer receives the forage test report, he should note that crude fiber has been replaced by total cell wall content and other changes, and have more confidence in the results since the testing methods have become more accurate, Novosad said. Local county agricultural agents have information concerning the new testing procedures.

County Agent's Notes

Landscape Notes
Garden Calendar for July:

1. Fertilize lawn—water thoroughly after applying. If soil is dry, Mr. Parker suggests watering the evening before applying fertilizer, as well as watering again after the application.
2. Check mulch on flower beds and shrub borders. Add or replace where needed.
3. Keep close check on recently transplanted plants. The combination of inadequate root system and drought conditions can be damaging.
4. Watch for spider mites, thrip, aphids, and leaf eating insects. Apply controls as outlined in L-199.
5. Continue preventive measures for black spot on roses and for mildew on clematis, euonymus, and roses. Karathane is good for this.
6. If you have chinch bug problem, make second application of the insecticide in early July.
7. Make last pinch on chrysanthemums no later than mid-July. Continue to fertilize and water.
8. Dig, dry, and store Gladiolus corms after foliage has turned brown.
9. Continue to fertilize, water and spray roses to assure maximum fall flowering.
10. Clean iris beds but do not cut off foliage until dead.
11. Sow seeds of the following annuals for fall flowers: Cosmos, Zinnia, Marigold, Periwinkle, Petunia, etc.
12. Water lawn, flower beds, and shrub borders as needed. Remember a few thorough soakings are much better than frequent light applications of water.
13. Fight off Summer Garden Slump. A little care and attention now will pay great dividends this fall.
14. Turn compost pile, keep moist.

15. Spade up beds where plants have finished blooming and prepare to replant with potted mums or fall flowering annuals.

New Roses For This Fall
 On June 6 the All American Rose Selection winners for 1971 were released to the public. They are as follows: Aquarius, a pink and red grandiflora; Command Performance, bright orange hybrid-tea; and Redglow, a yellow-orange floribunda. These new award winning roses have undergone an intensive period of testing and observation by leading rosarians in 23 AARS test gardens in the United States. They are selected not only for beauty and color but also on quality of the plant, quantity of blooms, disease resistance, hardiness and vigor.

Proper Lawn Care
 Don't let lawn mowing get you down. There's work and satisfaction in a good lawn. When grass is at the peak of its growth you should double your efforts to mow frequently so no more than 1 inch is cut off each time; frequent mowing makes for easier mowing. Hand mowers don't push as hard and power mowers run easier, and there is no problem with clippings.

Think of mowing as a pruning process to encourage a tighter sod and discourage annual weeds. Cutting grass back from 3 inches to 2 inches results in a one-third loss of leaf area and this can be tolerated. However, if a 4½ inch growth is cut back to 1½ inches, your lawn will suddenly lose two-thirds of its leaf area and go into shock. Lawns cut too close have stunted root systems and may be too weak to survive periods of no moisture.

Best mowing height for St. Augustine lawns at this time of the year is about 2 inches. In dry weather, consider raising the cutting level to 2½ inches. Bermuda grass and zoysia should be maintained at a height of 1 to 1½ inches.

Care of Summer Annuals
 A few pointers to aid you in keeping your annuals looking attractive throughout the summer include:

1. Removal of all faded flowers to prevent seed production. If plants are allowed to produce seed, the period of flower production is usually shortened.
2. Water thoroughly, soaking the soil to a depth of six to eight inches during dry weather. Allow beds to become fairly dry before watering again. A good mulch will help conserve moisture and serve as an aid in reducing soil temperature.
3. Some annuals such as petunias will respond to severe pruning and send out new shoots from the base. Cut back to 6 inches to 8 inches above the soil line.
4. Mildew becomes a troublesome disease in mid and late summer. Consult MP-574 for materials to use a preventative measure.
5. Stake tall-growing plants to prevent wind and rain damage.

Wingate Gator Tops Club Met
 Monday, June 29

The Wingate Gator TOPS held their regular meeting Monday, June 29, at the Humble Recreation Hall. Mrs. Wayne Owen was Queen of the week.

Members present were Mmes. George Cave, W. O. Middleton, Joe Bryan, Alpheus Hill, Bill Hamilton, M. E. Donica, Wayne Owen, Richard Beck, and Pat Pritchard.

The last Mexican War veteran survived for 81 years after that war; the last Civil War veterans, Union and Confederate, lived on 90 and 93 years, respectively.

Rites Wednesday At Shep For Mrs. Carpenter

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 4 p. m. from Shep Baptist Church for Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, 75, who died at 12:10 p. m. Monday at Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, following an illness of several months.

Officiating were the Rev. T. L. Nipp Jr., of the Second Baptist Church in Abilene, and the Rev. Melvin Byrd of Nolan. Burial was in Shep Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Born Zephyr Grooms, March 21, 1895, at Blackwell, she married C. C. Carpenter at Hylton Dec. 31, 1909. The family lived at Blackwell until 1919 when they moved to the Shep Community where Mrs. Carpenter lived until 1951 when she moved to Abilene.

Mr. Carpenter died in 1950. Two sons and two daughters also preceded her in death.

She was a member of the Second Baptist Church in Abilene. Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Ruby Busher of Abilene; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Carpenter of Shep; six grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeralbearers were Bill Lilly, Jessie Reagan, Wardell Shedd, Leck Byrd, Milton Jackson, J. V. Hurt, Wesley Dean and Norville Henson.

CARD OF THANKS
 The children of Mrs. E. W. Patterson wish to express our many thanks to the friends who sent cards and flowers and who attended our mother's funeral. When sorrow comes to you we pray we can be helpful. —Johnnie, Marion, Walter, Hollie and Families. 1tp.

Grasshoppers are causing damage to rangeland as well as cultivated crops in Runnels County. Control should start when grasshoppers become noticeably abundant.

Signs of threatening infestation of grasshoppers can be found along roadsides, canals and ditch banks as well as in and along the sides of idle fields.

Field margins are usually the hatching places for grasshoppers that damage row crops. Early treatment of such areas before the young grasshoppers move into the field will reduce the acreage that might otherwise need treatment.

Insecticides in the form of sprays, dusts or baits can be used to control grasshoppers. Sprays give higher initial kills than dusts and continue to kill for a longer period of time.

One that I like to recommend is Sevinuse, 2 pounds per acre-wettable powder.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR DRUG COMPANIES

By Babson's Reports Inc.,
Wellesley Hills, Mass.—By the end of this year the Food and Drug Administration, under its new leadership, intends finally to complete its review of the effectiveness of several thousand drugs. So far, it has acted on only about 15 to 20 percent of the approximately 4,300 drug products subject to the study which was authorized by Congress in 1962.

What drugs will eventually be affected is, of course, anyone's guess. Indications are, however, that the industry will be faced with a tremendous job of relabeling and restricting promotional claims for hundreds of products considered to be ineffective. A few products will probably be banned, a step which has already been taken in the case of certain antibiotic combinations found wanting.

Sales and Earnings Trend Upward

The result of the aforementioned review of the efficacy of drugs is likely to be the major negative element in the total drug picture this year. The industry, however, has been the subject of government pressures for a long time and still has succeeded in wrapping up good gains every year. We have no reason to suspect that there will be a sharp letdown in 1970.

The Research Department of Babson's Reports looks for sales and earnings of most of the leading drug companies to record some further progress in 1970 just as they have for many years. However, the strong growth rate of the past may be tempered somewhat due to the slower pace of the economy. As far as the longer term is concerned, growth prospects are generally optimistic.

FAVORABLE FACTORS

This year as well as in the future most of the outstanding drug companies should benefit increasingly from their previous diversification efforts. The foremost pharmaceutical producers now have broad product lines encompassing cosmetics, chemicals, hospital equipment and supplies, both ethical and proprietary drugs, veterinary items, electronic medical instruments, pollution control products, etc. Because of this wide diversification they are not so adversely affected by a slowdown in one particular segment.

Overseas expansion and increased foreign demand should be big factors in bringing about further gains for the domestic drug companies. Most of the firms are represented in—and are achieving substantial benefits from—the leading foreign markets.

Other Pluses

A possible step-up in the introduction of new products may occur this year and over the near term. The new FDA Commissioner has expressed hope that the agency will be able to speed processing of new drug applications. Furthermore, research in the industry is beginning to shift to more basic activity in heart disease and other areas which could result in some important breakthroughs.

Expansion of hospitals, nursing homes, and extended care facilities as well as more inclusive government medical programs should all increase demand for products of the drug companies. Other plus elements include the elimination of the surtax, benefits from measures designed to reduce costs, and further increases in sales of many promising newer products that have been introduced in recent years by several of the most important firms in the field.

Some Attractive "Buys"

The stock market decline this year has opened up some good buying opportunities among the drug issues. Currently, the Research Department of Babson's Reports favors such conservative grade stocks as American Home Products, Bristol-Meyers, Merck, and Sterling Drug. Another attractive purchase, though of somewhat lower quality, is Rorer-Amchem. As a speculation we favor Cutter Laboratories.

USE OF CHOPSTICK

Rice is nice—especially since it's plentiful, says Mrs. O'Connor. But sometimes rice isn't so wonderful, as well eating with chopsticks.

Most people accept rice as rice, and give little thought to different types and qualities. Actually, the rice family boasts more different types and qualities than do the potato and apple clans together.

United States consumers prefer long-grain, translucent, mil-ed rice. They go for its ability to separate freely after cooking into attractive, individual bits of fluffy goodness.

Japanese, Korean and Chinese consumers, still guided by the food habits of their ancestors, prefer the short-grain glutinous types of rice which stick together after cooking. And here in is revealed the secret to the age-old art of eating rice with chopsticks.

In Oriental countries, the people eat the type of rice which has real stick-togetherness, and can easily be balanced, in mass, on a pair of chopsticks. While most Americans, when trying to master the art of "chopstickery," find themselves faced with a chopstick-defying mound of individual rice kernels.

So with fork in his hand, enjoy some of these tasty rice-laden dishes:

Hot German Rice Salad
3 cups cooked rice
1 cup diced celery
2 Tbs. instant minced onion
Hard-cooked egg slices and parsley for garnish
2 Tsp. prepared mustard
Salt and pepper to taste
1½ Tbs. flour
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup milk
Combine rice, celery and onion. Blend flour, mayonnaise, mustard, seasonings and milk. Stir into rice mixture. Turn into a buttered 1½ quart casserole. Cover and bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Garnish with hard-cooked egg slices and parsley. Makes 6 servings. Serve with meat, poultry, fish.

For an Elegant Dinner, Serve Rice Romanoff With Your Entree

3 cups cooked rice
¼ cup finely chopped green onions
1½ cups large curd cottage cheese
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup sour cream
½ cup milk
¼ Tsp. hot pepper sauce
½ Tsp. salt
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Combine rice and green onions. Blend cottage cheese with garlic, sour cream, milk, hot pepper sauce and salt. Stir in rice mixture. Turn into a buttered 1½ quart casserole. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Delight your family with this easy, but delicious

Slick Chick Casserole
1 can (10½-oz.) cream of mushroom soup
1 can (10½-oz.) cream of chicken soup
½ soup can chicken broth or milk
2 Tbs. chopped pimiento
4 cups cooked rice
3 cups cooked, boned chicken, cut into large pieces
1 cup shredded cheese
1 Tsp. onion powder

Mix soup and broth. Heat and stir until smooth and hot. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into a buttered 2 quart casserole. Bake at 375 degrees 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

Winners Named In 4-H Horse Show Held Saturday

The Runnels County 4-H Horse Show held Saturday at the Ballinger Rodeo Arena was a family affair, with Edgar and Anna Artecona, Lenis and Cheryl Moonen and Rickey and Leslie Dunlap taking a large percentage of the honors.

W. W. Henig of Glen Cove was judge for the day-long event during which Edgar Artecona, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Buxkemper, compiled enough first places to win the belt buckle trophy at the show's end.

In the halter classes for registered mares under three years old, Cheryl Moonen of Ballinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moonen, won first place, while Clay Earnshaw, son of Ballinger residents Mr. and Mrs. John Earnshaw, was second.

In the same class for mares over three years old, Edgar Artecona was awarded first place.

Leslie Dunlap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dunlap of Winters, won first place in the grade mares under three years old category.

Annette Cervenka of Ballinger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vervenka, won first place in the same category for grade mares over three years old, followed by Anna Artecona.

Cheryl Moonen showed the grand champion mare and Edgar Artecona rode the reserve champion.

In the registered geldings three and under, Glenn Ed Gray of Winters won first place. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gray.

Lenis Moonen won first place in the gelding category three and over followed by Jack Earnshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Earnshaw, and Eddie Yocham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Yocham.

There were no entries in the three and under grade gelding category. Rickey Dunlap and Scott Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Parker of Ballinger, won the two awards in the grade geldings three and over slot.

Lenis Moonen showed the champion gelding and Rickey Dunlap showed the reserve champion. Other placings were: Clay Earnshaw, 3rd; Glen Ed Gray, 4th; Anna Artecona, 5th; and Edgar Artecona, 6th.

Cheryl Moonen won the award for overall showmanship during the day. Jack Earnshaw was reserve champion.

Lenis Moonen won the junior western pleasure riding category, followed by Edgar Artecona.

Sherill Alexander of Winters took the senior western pleasure honors.

Lenis Moonen was grand champion of western pleasure and Edgar placed second.

In the junior reining category, Edgar was first followed by Scott Parker and Rickey Dunlap.

Another first for Edgar came in the junior pole bending contest. He edged out his sister, Anna, 25 seconds to 31.5. Rickey Dunlap was third with 35.5.

Anna turned the tables on her brother in the next event when she beat Edgar in the junior barrel racing with a ride of 25 seconds to his 25.1. Rickey Dunlap was third with a ride of 35.5.

"Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here"

An unusual western drama starring Robert Redford, Katharine Ross, Robert Blake and Susan Clark, Universal's "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here," photographed in Technicolor and Panavision, shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre. The Jennings Lang production is the story of a young Indian whose search for romance and identity leads to murder, and sets off a manhunt unparalleled in Western history.

Redford, who portrays under-sheriff Cooper assigned to bring white man's justice Willie Boy, guilty only of following tribal dictates, is one of filmland's most versatile performers. He moves to "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here" from his performance in "Butch Cassidy and The Sundance Kid" where he also teamed with Katharine Ross who portrayed his schoolteacher-mistress.

Katharine Ross, currently one of the screen's most popular personalities, nominated for an Academy Award for her performance in "The Graduate," portrays Lola Boniface, the bride by capture, whose love for her man ends tragically in "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here."

George Garrett Is Re-Elected To Home Town Talk-- Road Ass'n Board

G. M. Garrett of Winters has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Texas Good Roads Association. His re-election came at the annual meeting of the organization in Austin last week (June 22-23).

Discussions focused on environmental problems related to the construction of highways highlighted the Annual Convention.

State Highway Engineer J. S. Dingwall promised delegates that the Highway Department was doing everything possible to meet today's environmental demands—and that within a few months the Department would add an archeologist, a sociologist, an ecologist and a noise expert.

"Times have changed," James D. Pitcock of Houston, TRGA's public relations committee head," pointed out, "and the highway planning, location and design must be made responsive to the social and environmental, as well as to the economic, values of a community."

Federal Judge Hal Woodward, former Chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, urged that women be recruited to help solve today's problems. "If you want your story told, tell it to a woman," he said, pointing out that women, rather than men, were more involved with automobiles, safety and traffic problems.

Resolutions adopted by the TRGA, whose mission is to promote the construction and maintenance of an adequate highway system to meet the transportation needs of the people of the State, included: (1) Endorsement of a Constitutional Amendment, to be voted on in November, that would lower to a simple majority than a two-thirds approval, in road bond elections; (2) continuation of the present Federal Highway Trust Fund System so that Texas can complete the Interstate system on schedule. (Unless Congress acts, the trust fund will run out in 1972, and the Interstate system in Texas will not be completed before 1975).

Richard A. Holder Distinguished Student at A&M

Richard A. Holder, a freshman engineering major at Texas A&M University, has been designated a Distinguished Student, and included on the Dean's Honor Roll for the spring semester. He had a 4.0488 grade point average for the semester. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, honorary fraternity.

Holder, a 1969 graduate of Winters High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holder of Winters.

ment majority may be experimenting to find its voice again. We would all do well to take note of that probability.

We can also all hope that once begun again, celebrations such as the Big Country Spectacular will continue, and perhaps even return to our individual communities. We need to return to a more readily expressed and public acknowledgment of faith in country.
