HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

People in North Runnels County, as in many other localities where redistricting has taken place since the last elections, should be concerned and careful in their voting Saturday. There still is some confusion regarding precincts of residence, and voting boxes to be patronized. A careful check of Commissioners' precinct lines, along with Voting Precinct lines, should be made—else many voters may find they are in the wrong polling place, and are tempted to just forget the whole thing, or have their ballot challenged for voting in the wrong box. There is too much at stake for any voter to lose his ballot through error.

In Commissioner's Precinct 2, there is only one voting box—at the Winters Community Center. (The Crews box was consolidated with the Winters box.) In Precinct No. 3, there are four boxes—at the Winters City Hall, the Wingate School, at Norton, and at Ballinger. Voters should check maps in polling places to determine where they should vote, if there is any question.

There will be one voting place—in the Winters Chamber of Commerce office—for Republicans of the north part of the county.

Voters are reminded, also, of the Precinct Conventions which will be held at each Voting Precinct at 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon. Much can go on in these local conventions which may have an effect on party policy—especially countywide—later on. It would be to your interest to attend.

Although many home gardens are off and growing, there still are many gardeners who are lamenting the lack of rain, and are not conducive to good okra growing. Okra needs a lot of sunshine, they say. This one problem should be solved, not that May 1 has come and gone. Daylight Savings Time should give the okra another hour of sunshine.

Since the Congressional districts have been changed, Runnels County has been transferred back into District 21, where it had been for many years before being attached to District 17 a few years ago.

In District 17, we have been well represented in Congress by Omar Burleson of Anson, a man whose philosophy has been as closely akin to that of the majority of the people of this area as is possible.

While we regret the forced severing of district ties with Cong. Burleson, who has always been ready to lend able assistance on any matter brought to his attention, and to work for the good of this area and the nation as a whole, the picture has not changed so much. We have been transferred back into the district represented by another old area friend, O. C. Fisher. The Philosophies of Cong. Fisher and Cong. Burleson are about as parallel as is politically possible; both men reflect the general views of most of the people in this section of West Texas, and their actions in Congress have been similar. In this redistricting action, the people of the area actually have only gained another Congressman. Neither Burleson nor Fisher have opponents in their bids for the Democratic nomination for re-election.

City Sales Tax Collection Will Begin October 1

Because of the extensive amount of work by the State Comptroller's office to set up machinery for collection and audit of the recently voted city sales tax for Winters, collection will not begin until October 1, Buford Baldwin, City Secretary, said this week.

It had been anticipated that collection would begin with the beginning of the third quarter—July 1—but Baldwin said the City had been notified that the State Comptroller would not be ready until the beginning of the last quarter.

Primary Elections Slated Saturday, May Sixth

After many weeks and months of hot campaigning and infighting among candidates for nomination for state and local offices, the election processes reach the people level Saturday, as voters turn out for the party primaries to select those candidates they favor for the ballot in the general election next November.

Locally, the races for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator, Governor, State Senator for the 24th District, State Representative for the 55th District, County Tax Assessor-Collector, and County Commissioner Precinct No. 3, are expected to contribute to a heavy turnout of voters in the Democratic primary.

Although there are hot races for other State offices, these contests have been the most publicized and have been considered the main factors for a big turnout of voters.

In North Runnels County, the race-of-interest is that for nomination as County Commissioner, Precinct No. 3. Incumbent Pat Pritchard of Wingate, seeking re-election in an enlarged precinct, is being challenged by Dalton Crockett of Ballinger.

County-wide, County Tax Assessor-Collector Pannell Legg Jr., of Ballinger, seeking return to office, is being contested by (Happy Jack) Farmer, also of Ballinger.

There are six candidates for County Commissioner, Precinct No. 1, which lies in the south portion of the county.

Runnels County last year was re-aligned to U. S. Representative District 21, and is no longer in Cong. Omar Burleson's District. Rep. O. C. Fisher of District 21 has no opposition in this primary election.

A State Senator will be elected in Senate District 24, made up of thirteen counties, with Waco and McLennan County on the eastern edge, and Runnels County and Abilene on the western edge. Representative Grant Jones of Abilene and Rep. Tom Moore of Waco are seeking that office.

Lynn Nabers of Brownwood, State Representative for the 35th District, is seeking to return to the Legislature. He is being opposed by Charles E. Spellman Jr., also of Brownwood.

For other District and County offices, officials seeking reelection have no opposition. These include:

Glenn R. Lewis, District GOP Primary Box In Chamber of Commerce Office

There will be a voting box in the Winters Chamber of Commerce office for the Republican Primary Saturday, Voting Box No. 3, according to Bill Cervena, County Republican Chairman.

Republican voting Boxes 4, 5 and 6 will be in the National Guard Armory in Ballinger.

Walter Onken of Winters is the Republican candidate for County Commissioner, Precinct 3.

Runnels County voters have been reminded of the re-alignment of the County Commissioners' precincts, and the shifting of voting boxes. Many voters will be changing voting places and Commissioners' precincts with this election. Voters also are reminded that published lists of registered voters are listed according to voting precincts or boxes, and not commissioners' precincts.

Council Favors Providing Water To Rural System, Will Study Contracts

In an informal poll of members of the Winters City Council Monday night, it was determined that the city's governing body favors a proposal for the city to provide water for the North Runnels Rural Water Corporation, when the system is officially organized and funded.

However, it was stated that the Council would have to study all contracts before official approval is made.

LaDell Davis, vice president of the Rural Water Corporation, and Pat Pritchard, secretary of the organization, met with the Council Monday night. It was understood that the rural water organization will obtain contracts and agreements from the Farm Home Administration, and other agencies which will have an interest in the proposed system, and present them to the Council for further study.

The rural water supply organization, as yet unincorporated, was formed last year to attempt to build a water distribution system throughout most of North Runnels County. The proposal was made to apply to the Farm Home Administration for a long-term loan with which to finance the project. Rural residents and landowners were solicited for initial sign-up on the system, with each signer making a deposit as a potential customer and member of the corporation. Funds collected for initial fees have been deposited in the Wingate Security State Bank, and will be used for administration purposes once the organization is officially incorporated and applications for loans are made.

An engineer was obtained to draw up preliminary plans for the distribution system, which will be presented at time of local application, it was said.

There still is time for residents of the area to be included in the system to sign up as initial members, if they have not done so, it has been stated. Once the organization has been incorporated and final plans are made, those who have not signed up probably would have to pay much higher sign-up fees, it has been pointed out.

The cooler the home, the warmer the marriage.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And you get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For love's sake.

Austin, Tex. — An estimated 1.85 million Texas Democrats are about to decide one of the most significant primary elections in years. Another 100,000 or more will vote in the Republican primary Saturday (May 6). Both parties will also conduct important precinct conventions May 6—first step in the presidential nominations process. With emphasis on the hard-fought gubernatorial primaries in both parties, little attention has been devoted to the conventions beyond a prolonged Democratic scrap over adoption of new procedural rules. Democrats almost certainly will go into June 3 runoff for both governor and lieutenant governor — and perhaps other statewide elections. Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and State Rep. Frances (Sissy) Farenthold of Corpus Christi are major contenders for the Democratic gubernatorial runoff spots. The lieutenant governor's field is also closely bunched in the stretch drive with State Sens. Wayne Connolly of Floresville, Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Joe Christie of El Paso and Houston newspaper executive William P. Hoppy the top contenders. Former Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough is favored to win the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination over Barefoot Sanders and face GOP Sen. John Tower in November. Republican gubernatorial candidates staging serious campaigns include State Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, Dave Reagan of Sherman, Al Fay of Houston and Tom McElroy of Dallas. John A. Hall of Weatherford has also put up a fight. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin is challenged for re-election by John Hill of Houston, and Comptroller Robert S. Calvert and Treasurer Jesse James have multiple opposition. A minimum of 58—maybe as many as 80—new state representatives will be elected and at least 11 new state senators.

FINAL TPA REGIONAL POLLS REVEALED
Political polls were taken at two regional newspaper meetings last week — at the South Texas Press Association meeting in Kerrville and the Panhandle Press Association meeting in Amarillo. These are the final polls before the Primary, May 6.

South Texas editors were asked who "would carry their counties"—and for "whom will they vote." Results were (I believe the following will carry my county in the primary):

Governor's Race: Briscoe, 14; Farenthold, 14; Barnes, 7 and Smith 5 (Democratic). Fay, 12; Grover, 3. (Republican).
Lt. Governor: Connolly, 19; Hobby, 11; Christie, 3; Hall, 3 and Jones 1.
U. S. Senate: Yarborough, 24 and Sanders, 5.
On the question "I plan to vote for the following", editors voted:

Governor: Briscoe, 17; Farenthold, 11; Smith, 4 and Barnes 3 (Democratic). Fay 1 (Republican). (Primary).
Lt. Governor: Connolly, 13; Hobby 12 and Christie 3. (Primary).
U. S. Senate: Yarborough 14; Sanders, 13; (Primary); Tower, 21. (General).
Panhandle publishers voted on the question "I believe the following will carry my county in the primary" in this manner:

Governor: Briscoe, 48; Barnes 19; Smith, 18 and Farenthold 1 (Democratic). Grover, 17; McElroy, 16; Fay, 14 and Reagan 7 (Republican).
Lt. Governor: Connolly, 70; Hobby, 17; Hall, 5; Christie, 1 and Jones 1.
U. S. Senate: Sanders, 36 and Yarborough, 34.
The editors said they would "vote" for the following in the primary:

Governor: Briscoe, 37; Barnes 18; Smith, 16 and Farenthold 11 (Democratic). Reagan, 3; Fay 2 and Grover 1 (Republican).
Lt. Governor: Connolly, 54; Hobby, 10; Christie, 7; Hall, 6 and Jones 2.
U. S. Senate: Sanders, 39; Yarborough 24 and Cartledge 3. In the general election poll, they selected Tower with 47 votes over Yarborough's 20 and Sanders' 9.

NO MEDICAID EVICTIONS
No sick poor are going to be thrown out of hospitals before they are well due to new curbs on Medicaid, the State Welfare Department pledges. The new American Physicians Union claimed in advertisements that Welfare Department guidelines set a limit on hospital stays for each illness. A department spokesman said nobody will be thrown out who needs to stay in the hospital and that the guidelines were meant merely to suggest normal care periods for ailments and age groups. If additional hospitalization is needed, it will be paid for, a department official stated.

The Medicaid program, which cost $142 million for the current fiscal year, is paid two-thirds by the federal government and one-third by the state.

COURTS SPEAK
The Court of Criminal Appeals held defendants in criminal cases have the right to look at statements of witnesses against them. The High Court reversed an intermediate court and ordered re-trial of a Houston man's suit for damages as the result of a free can explosion. Grand Prairie cannot hold a local option liquor election since it is located in two counties, the State Supreme Court concluded.

A Vietnam war casualty's widow can contest his girl friend for his insurance, the High Court held.

RATLIFF QUILTS
Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford resigned his post and withdrew as a candidate for a House seat after disclosures that he had several relatives on legislative payrolls. Ratliff, 60, said his "past mistakes or bad judgment" should not reflect on other members of the Texas Senate.

His immediate resignation will allow time for election of a successor before the June special legislative session, Ratliff stated. Timing of his withdrawal from the House race will follow consultation with local party officials. Ratliff did not seek re-election to the senate when his district was merged with that of Sen. Jack Highower of Vernon.

MASS TB X-RAY SCREENING OUT
Texas State Department of Health announced skin testing has replaced the mass X-Ray screening for tuberculosis in Texas. X-Rays are recommended only for those persons testing positive in skin checks and those in high-risk groups.

TIPS FOR GROWING CACTUS IN THE HOME

Thinking of a plant to grow in the home? Try cactus. Cacti tolerate low humidity, high temperature and extended periods without water. You can enjoy their unique beauty throughout the year and leave on short vacations without bothering to arrange for their care while you are away.

The cactus family contains over 10,000 species varying in size from an inch to 65 feet tall. Most of them seem to have originated in Mexico and the southwestern United States or in the Andes Mountains of Bolivia and Peru. Many miniature forms are available which makes for fine indoor plants.

Cactus plants have fleshy stems which serve as moisture storage structures. They usually have ribs which give stiffness and permit shrinking during periods of drought. The plants are protected from water loss by a layer of wax.

Stems of most species are protected by small clusters of spines. These may be white, yellow, red, brown or black. Contrary to some belief they are not poisonous.

The attractive cactus flowers have a ring of waxy petals around a cluster of stamens (male parts of flowers). They occur in many colors including white, shades of yellow, pink, red, blue and violet.

Now is a good time to start cactus in the home since the plants begin their active period of growth in the spring.

Cacti may be started from seeds or cuttings. Seeds may be sown in spring or early summer in any good well-drained potting soil placed in a small container covered with glass or film to retain humidity. Cuttings may also be taken at this time using a sharp knife to leave a smooth surface. They form roots quite readily from cut surfaces, prostrate stems and individual small side shoots. The roots absorb water rapidly during showers, but cannot tolerate constant moisture.

Select shallow containers for cactus plants with a layer of coarse charcoal or gravel in the bottom to provide drainage. Use moist, light porous soil containing about one-half sand. Don't water for about two weeks to reduce the possibility of root rot developing.

Small specimens may be transplanted yearly and large ones about every three years when the plants fill the pot. Use leather gloves to protect your fingers.

Cactus plants need several hours of direct sunlight per day so locate the collection in a sunny southwest window.

Parker advises watering the plants two or three times a week during the spring growing period. Reduce watering to about once each week in July and August. Increase the frequency of watering during fall and decrease to none in November and during the winter rest period. Cactus needs little fertilizer. Young plants should receive moderate applications of a low nitrogen house plant fertilizer every two weeks during May June and July. Mature plants should receive this treatment weekly.

Goal Digger Club Meeting Monday
Members of the Goal Digger Club met in the home of Kim McMilliam Monday. Plans were made for a garage sale to be held Saturday.

Present were Karen Simpson, Ellen Sanders, Susan Byrne, Kerl Lynn Laughon, Kandy Rougas, Robin Sanders, Susie Spence, Robbie Morrison, Sherree Tekell, Keve Harrison, Ginger Fairrey, Kim McMilliam, Maurine Riess, and the sponsors, Mrs. Carolyn McKenzie and Mrs. Mary Lynn Presley.

Bride-Elect Was Honored Saturday With Supper

A pre-nuptial supper, honoring Miss Connie Peacock, bride-elect of Lanny Bahlman, was held Saturday at 5:30 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Middleton.

Room decorations were in yellow and white, chosen colors of the bride-to-be. Foursome tables were laid in green and white dotted Swiss, centered with yellow candles and yellow majestic daisies.

things to dress up your surroundings as well as putting food on the table. Many so-called vegetable plants make beautiful additions to the ornamentals around the house. Tomatoes were grown as ornamentals long before they were grown for food. Today, as long ago, red tomatoes on the vine would add to the looks of the home if they were "espaliere" (trained on a rail or trellis) along a well.

The Kentucky Wonder string bean can be used to put a nice green cover on a fence. Wires or stakes may be used to train the vines to the fence.

Many garden plants make excellent borders for the more conventional ornamentals. Asparagus spears may be used for the table in early spring and the remaining ferns make an excellent summer background for flowering petunias, zinnias and annuals.

In addition to its beautiful purple-blue flower, the large artistically designed leaves of the globe artichoke make it a beautiful foundation plant. The delicate foliage of the carrot makes an excellent border to place in front of taller, flowering annuals. Beets, swisschard and curly leaf mustard could also be used in this way.

PROPER CARE OF MILK

How do you keep milk at the peak of flavor and quality? Keep it clean, cold and tightly covered. Rinse off the bottle or carton and dry it with a clean cloth before placing it in the coldest part of your refrigerator. Keeping milk tightly covered will prevent it from absorbing the odors and flavors of other foods.

Milk should be put in the refrigerator as soon as you get it home. Then take it out only long enough to measure the amount needed for immediate use. Letting milk stand in the light destroys riboflavin and may cause some off-flavor.

Taste-wise, it's best to use fluid milk within three to five days. And don't mix new milk with old unless you're going to use it immediately. Don't put unused milk back in the original container once it has been removed. Store this milk in a separate container.

Spring is traditionally a time of high milk production. This spring, as in most years, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service has included milk on its plentiful foods list.

Milk is an excellent beverage for after-school snacks. Give these milk drinks a try:

Spiced Milk: ¼ tsp cinnamon, ¼ tsp nutmeg and ½ tsp sugar stirred into 1 cup chilled milk.
Maple Milk: ¼ tsp maple flavoring and 1 tsp. sugar into 1 cup milk.

Molasses Milk: 1tsp. molasses with a pinch of salt into 1 cup milk.

Chocolate Cooler: Combine 1 c. chocolate milk, 1 cup cracked ice, ¼ cup heavy cream and 2 tablespoons malt. Blend until smooth. Serves 2.

Peanutty Chocolate Drink: Combine 2 cups chocolate milk and 2 tablespoons cream-style peanut butter. Beat to blend. Serves two.

Chocolate-Mint Shake: Add 1 scoop chocolate or vanilla ice cream and 2 tablespoons crushed peppermint stick candy for each glassful of chocolate milk, and whip until foamy. Serve with a shaved chocolate garnish.

Two-Tone Parfait: Prepare chocolate and vanilla flavored pudding mixes, using chocolate and whole milk respectively for the liquids needed. Alternate layers of the two puddings in parfait glasses. Garnish with a whipped topping and chopped nuts.

Strawberry Milk Shake: 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen strawberries, 1 cup instant nonfat dry milk, 4½ c. whole milk, 1 quart strawberry ice cream, slightly softened. Thaw strawberries until soft, but still very cold, then crush. Add nonfat dry milk and whole milk to strawberries and blend thoroughly. Pour into tall glasses and serve immediately. Makes six servings of 1 1/3 cups each.

MEAT PRICES MAY RISE

This year's spring drought may again cause meat prices to rise, Agricultural Commissioner John White warns.

If the drought continues, said White, cattlemen will have to reduce their herds.

"Meat prices should come down, but this will be only temporary," said White. "After those cattle are sold, there again will be a shortage of livestock which will result again in higher meat prices."

"Sometimes A Great Notion"

A fast-moving, modern adventure drama dealing with the lumberjack in Oregon's timberlands—one of the last of America's pioneering industries—"Sometimes A Great Notion" shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre. Paul Newman, Henry Fonda, Lee Remick, Michael Sarrazin, Richard Jaeckel, Linda Lawson and Cliff Potts star in the Universal-Newman-Foreman picture which was photographed on the actual Oregon locales in Technicolor and Panavision.

In addition to playing the demanding lead role of the working head of a lumbering family trying to deliver contracted Timbers during a labor dispute, Newman also handles the directing chores. While he had previously directed his wife, Joanne Woodward, in "Rachel, Rachel" to great acclaim, he has never before acted under his own direction. The filming of complicated scenes working near to tons of falling trees required Newman's painstaking attention to every detail.

"Sometimes A Great Notion" has been rated "GP" — All ages admitted. Parental guidance is suggested. This picture contains material which may not be suitable for pre-teenagers."

TO THE VOTERS
NO. 3:

I have filed for a place on the May 6th Primary ballot as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Precinct 3.

In the past weeks I have tried to see each of you personally, but that has not been possible, so to all the voters of Precinct 3 I would like to say:

I was born and raised in the Norton Community of Runnels County, where for the last thirteen years I have farmed and operated a cotton gin. The people of Runnels County have helped me be successful in my business and I feel if I am elected Commissioner that I can help them with the operation of the county's business so that it too can be operated on a sound, efficient basis.

I am for any change in our County Operations that would offer a better and more economic form of County Government. I will work with the other commissioners on all matters to improve the county as a whole and if utilizing our efforts and operations can save our tax dollars, then I think it is time that we do so. If elected, the people of Runnels County can call on me at any time with their problems and I will, to the best of my ability, try to make them a commissioner they can depend on at all times.

Please take this as a personal request for your vote and influence, and if you feel that you cannot vote for me, do vote for the candidate of your choice.

Revenue Is Shared, Winters Would Get $28,562

If the General Revenue-Sharing Bill, which was approved by the House Ways and Means Committee, should be passed in its present form, according to Governor Preston Smith, Winters would stand to receive $28,562 during the first year of operation.

Gov. Smith said that, "Based on information we have received from the House Ways and Means Committee, the revenue-sharing bill approved by the Committee will provide a total of $202 millions during the first year to cities and counties of Texas. Allocation of Funds will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1972."

Initial estimates, Gov. Smith said, indicate that a total of $158,458 would be allocated to all governmental units in Runnels County. Of that amount, the county would receive $85,011; the City of Winters $28,562, and the City of Ballinger, $38,808. The balance would be distributed to other cities and towns within the county.

"It would appear from these early estimates that the bill, if finally enacted, will provide substantial fiscal relief to the hard-pressed cities and counties of Texas," the Governor said. "At the same time it will af-

District 2-A1 Lions Will Meet At Brownwood

Lions Clubs of District 2-A1 will hold the annual District Convention in Brownwood May 5-6. District Governor Homer Hodge of Winters, has announced.

What has always been so special about age 21 as a qualification for voting? No doubt some 18, 19 and 20-year-olds are more qualified to vote than some of us who are older. On the other hand how are qualifications measured. It really comes down to human judgments and judgments differ widely.

Be this as it may, the exercise of voting is a serious obligation as well as a privilege. No doubt the fact that 18-year-old males are subject to the draft greatly influenced the outcome of lowering the voting age from 21 to 18. Often heard was that if a boy is old enough to serve in the military he is old enough to vote. Now that the "Women's Rights Amendment" may be ratified by the required number of States, girls may also be subject to the draft unless the draft is eliminated.

Under this reasoning, should it follow that if 18-year-olds are old enough to serve in the military and old enough to cast their ballot in elections, they are old enough to hold public office, buy liquor, buy and sell property, enter into contracts, be held accountable in courts of law and to enjoy and be responsible for all the prerequisites of adults? These are questions which will be facing State legislatures as time goes on. Some are already tackling ways and means of extending these rights commensurate with the lowered voting age. Wisconsin recently lowered the "age of majority" across the board. Nine other States have likewise completed legislative action in this regard with Vermont, Michigan and Tennessee legalizing the sale of liquor to 18-year-olds and older. Iowa made 19 the age for buying hard liquor.

Several other states have lowered the age of majority but not across the board.

What has been special about the age of 21 goes back over 700 years of English common law. The distinction was originally made in the common law between being "an infant" and being "of full age." In this reference "infant" meant "minor" father than baby. In medieval times a merchant's son, or "burgess," was of full age when he could count money and measure cloth. But the "military tenant," which simply meant one subject to the draft, became of full age at 21. Why? Because it was assumed he would not be strong enough to wear heavy armor at a younger age. Gradually, the "knightly majority" became the standard in the common law. The "knightly majority" continues to have a mystique, and is embedded in many parts of statutory law, especially where business is involved.

Qualifications for voting are a two-way street. First there appears a lack of communication between government and the people it purports to represent. There is need for greater emphasis on what Federal, State and local governments are actually doing. Second, the citizen voter should find out how he is being served and relate that service to quality and costs. All ages of voters are affected by these two propositions.

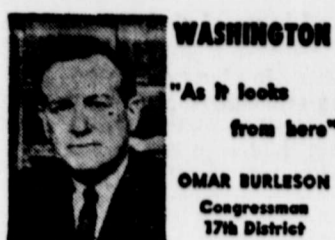

Incidentally, of the 122 million eligible voters, 36 million fail to exercise the privilege.

It is fascinating to contemplate that after 700 years there is somewhat of a reversion to the ancient British rule of common law, recognizing the capacity of the young "burgess" the freeman in a town, who was of full age when he could count money and measure cloth. In those times this qualification constituted the essentials of adulthood. Things are a bit more complicated nowadays.

Wallace-Murray Announces Big Earnings Increase

Wallace-Murray Corporation announced today that first quarter earnings per share on a fully-diluted basis were 36 cents or 56 percent ahead of the 23 cents earned in the first quarter of 1971. On an outstanding basis, earnings per share amounted to 44 cents compared to 23 cents in the prior year. First quarter earnings were $1,718,860, a 53 percent increase over the $1,124,019 earned in the first quarter of 1971. Sales for the first quarter were a record $61,263,756, up 17.4 percent from the $52,198,422 volume attained in the prior period.

Fred R. Raach, president and chief executive officer of Wallace-Murray Corporation, said that the building products group which accounts for nearly 40 percent of the company's volume, made the major contribution to the increased earnings.

"However," he said, "the earnings of the cutting tool group (30 percent of volume) improved and we are particularly pleased that the power components group (approximately 20 percent of volume) which operated at virtually a break even point during 1971 has made a major turnaround."

Commenting on 1972, Mr. Raach said "while it is too early to make definite projections for the entire year, it is safe to say that we are off to an excellent start and are optimistic. If the economy holds up, 1972 will be
