HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

It was hot the other Sunday—about 105 in a cool shade, if one could have been found. The air conditioning system at the First United Methodist Church had gone kerflooie. A miserable time was in store for the faithful who had showed up for the evening service.

Bob Sanders, pastor, suggested at the beginning that if the singing part of the service could be cut in half, he would cut his sermon in half, so everyone could go home.

From the audience, his son, Kevin, asked his dad if the singing service could be cut in half and the sermon eliminated altogether.

"If a man can make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, the world will make a beaten path to his door." Ralph Waldo Emerson said in 1871.

Since that time, and even before, mankind has exhibited unflinching ingenuity in relentless pursuit of either the elusive rodent itself or the shining promise of millions to be made from the invention of the "better mousetrap."

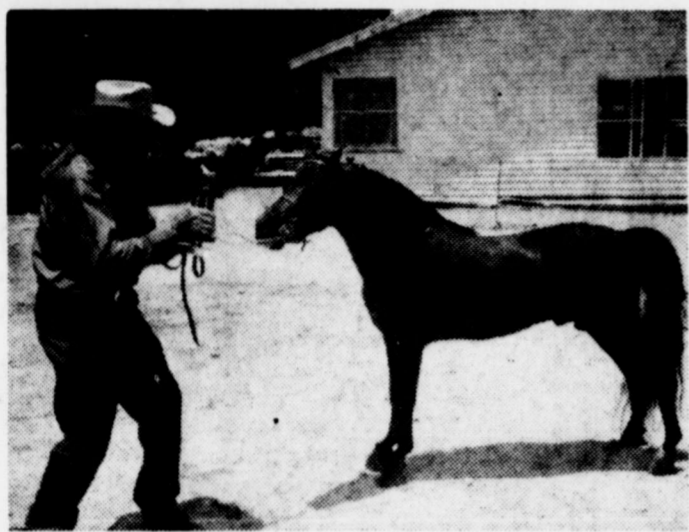

One of those early traps was the "guillotine," which the inventor, Monsieur Louis (Three Fingers) DuFarge, described in detail: "Our enemy, the rodent, spies the cheese which has been inserted in the trap opening. 'Aha,' he says, 'a delectable bit of Mozzarella. Of course, I would prefer Camembert or Edam, but at least it's cheese. Now I'll just poke my head in here and... Snick! Down comes the knife blade and friend mouse is suddenly a head shorter. He has made the fatal mistake, you see, of activating the trigger on which the bait was placed. I designed the guillotine in two models: The Marie Antoinette and the Anne Booleyn. One word of warning: use extreme care when baiting trap and setting knife in position."

Then there was the claimed superiority of the "drop-fall" traps, invented by a man who "always opposed the use of the guillotine in mouse eradication. I detest the inefficiency of having to remove each rodent in two sections." His invention eliminated that chore. The round drop-fall, the Colonial Crusher, had 24 pounds of wall-p! The greedy mouse goes after the cheese, trips the trigger, releases the cord, and... He also made the twin trap called the "Double Trouble," for mice traveling in pairs, and the large, economy family-size.

Then the "Cage" type, described by the inventor, who called other mousetraps crude, monstrous, barbaric contraptions: "I would have the mouse simply enter a door, seduced by the wafting odors of cheese. His nibbling of the suspended delicacy trips a lever, slamming the bars shut behind him. But, once inside the prison, he finds a small, rotating wheel... so the little fellow can get some exercise while he is held captive. You may later release the mouse in a neighbor's yard (the recycling method) or make a pet of him."

A later, gentler invention spawned a series of humane "prison" mousetraps during the late nineteenth century. It is interesting to note that, in a manner of speaking, the punishment fit the times. For this was the period when tranquility, as well as Queen Victoria, reigned supreme, when James Whistler fondly painted his mother, and Winslow Homer painted the serenity of fishing boats in Gloucester. It was a time when mice, if captured, were soon set free again to join the dancing in the streets.

Later, man revolutionized the (Continued on page 8)

When all prospective shareholders are contacted, and the shares sold, Nelan Bahlman, chairman of the steering committee, said, a meeting of the stockholders will be called for organization of the corporation and to formally begin procedures to incorporate and apply for loans.

Plans were made at a meeting of the steering committee working on the project three weeks ago to sell 50 shares in the non-profit corporation at $40 each. With this amount—$2,000—the corporation can apply for a long-term loan from the Farmers Home Administration to build housing rental units in Winters, to relieve a drastic housing shortage.

Area Milo Heavily Infested With Stink Bug, Fields Being Sprayed

Milo fields of most of the area of West Central Texas, including North Rannels County, have become heavily infested with "stink" bugs within the past several days, and heavy applications of insect poison have become necessary to combat them.

Farmers of the area have been fighting the pest, using ground and aerial spray methods, for several days, and have made some headway, but conditions are such that the situation could get out of hand at any time.

C. T. Parker, Rannels County agriculture agent, said, "Parker said at first reports were that the 'chinch' bugs had infested the milo, but that the 'stink' bug, a much larger bug and capable of more damage, had hit the area. He said the bugs have hit all ages of milo in the grain, and up to 50 percent loss—or even more—could be expected on fields left untreated. He also said that the 'stink' bug is a migratory insect, and that it will leave a treated field, if not killed, and hit an untreated field nearby. Therefore, he said, the proper chemicals should be used in field spraying.

Several thousand acres of grain in the area have been hit, Parker said. In some surveys taken, he said, up to 15-18 bugs have been found on one head of milo, and indication of heavy infestation. Also, it was pointed out, some of the fields have had to be treated the second and third times because showers following the spraying have tended to neutralize the poison.

City Council To Appoint Citizens' Committee To Study Phone Request

A five-member citizens' advisory committee will be appointed by the Winters City Council to study a request from General Telephone Company of the Southwest for an operating franchise within the city of Winters, and to make recommendations to the council.

The telephone company, which has been operating in Winters for a number of years without a franchise, recently had made one of several periodic requests for a franchise.

According to city officials, recommendations of the special committee will not be binding on the City Council, but will be used by the Council only to obtain a cross-section sampling of opinion and sentiment of residents of the community regarding issuance of a franchise to the phone company.

TV Cable Co. May Seek Franchise To Build Cable Service In Winters

A Fort Worth-based television cable company, now providing cable service in several locations in West Central Texas, has approached the Winters City Council with a proposal that the council study the possibility of issuing a franchise for such service here.

A formal request for a franchise has not been made, city hall sources said, but a representative of the cable company met with the council Monday night to explain operation of such a service.

J. M. McHan of Brownwood, representing a n d r e w Tower Inc., of Fort Worth, presented information regarding cable television service to the council. He said that if his company should be granted a franchise to operate here, they would construct a micro-wave tower, and install cables throughout town.

The company would use the city's light poles, for which they would pay annual rental, and also would pay a gross receipts tax to the city.

The cable company would offer several channels to customers.

May Soon Take Applications For Elderly Housing

The Winters Housing Authority may, within a few days, be in a position to accept formal applications from persons wishing to rent housing in the new housing development now being constructed in Winters.

Oliver Wood, executive secretary of the Authority, said this week representatives of the Federal Housing and Urban Development agency planned to meet with the Authority Thursday of this week and explain guidelines and procedures to be taken in assignment of the low cost housing for rent.

Wood said there already is a long list of persons who have left their names with the Authority as being interested in renting the housing, but that the formal application must be completed before assignment can be made. The board of directors of the Authority will act on all applications, he said.

The public will be notified, Wood said when formal application blanks are available.

Thirty units of the project, the segment which is designated for the elderly, will be completed by September 1. Wood said. This part of the project is located near the downtown area and consists of efficiency units, and one and two-bedroom units. Buildings of brick, are of duplex construction.

"Superbass" Hold Promise To Anglers

Jasper — At eight weeks of age the Parks and Wildlife's "superbass" more than live up to expectations.

A cross between a Florida female largemouth bass and a native Texas bass from mLake Murvaul in East Texas, the so-called superbass is a hefty six inches long two months after hatching.

The hybrid bass is the brain child of Bob Kemp, Region III fisheries supervisor in East Texas.

"Texas anglers," said Kemp, "have long wondered over the differences in size between native bass and those in the Southwest. The reason for the difference would make a lengthy thesis in genetics, but we hope to make genetics work for us and produce a superior bass for local fishermen."

"Earlier this year," Kemp continued, "we obtained a couple of loads of adult female

Florida bass and brought them back to Texas.

"As a back-up to the Florida fish we got some equally large ones from Georgia, home of the 22½-pound world's record bass. In case anything happened to the Florida bass we could fall back to the Georgia ones.

"The reason we chose male native bass from Lake Murvaul," Kemp explained, "is because the lake consistently produces the largest bass in Texas.

"In mid-June we compared our eight-week-old superfish with some native bass of about the same age which we seined from nearby B. A. Steinhagen Lake."

The superbass was a fat six-inch fish, and the slimmer native bass was only 2½ inches long.

"Now, it has to be pointed out," said Kemp, "that the superbass lived under almost ideal conditions in the hatchery and the native bass is from the wild. But I still feel that the comparison is valid.

"Back in May we felt sufficiently pleased with our initial progress and released some month-old fish in four experimental lakes not open to the public.

"At the same time, we released some Florida bass of the same age in four other experimental lakes.

"Of the eight lakes, two containing hybrids are in East Texas and two in Central Texas. We maintained the same geographical breakdown with the four containing Florida bass.

"Generally speaking, the waters of East Texas are acid, and those of Central and West Texas are alkaline. We can monitor both the progress of the hybrids as compared to the Floridas and get some idea of the superbass' tolerance to the two types of water."

The Parks and Wildlife Department has four-year leases on the lakes and hopes to see some preliminary results by this fall.

Kemp warned that this is only the start and conservatively estimates the project to be 10 years in the making.

"My personal goal at the end of 10 years is a 20-pound bass, and I hope to find a 10-pounder swimming around in some of those lakes in four years."

These are only the initial crosses, and next year the project will be turned over to a geneticist for control of selective breeding.

In addition to the largemouth cross, a hybrid of equally astonishing growth potential resulted from crossing female Florida largemouth bass and the native Texas spotted bass.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Federal government has money to burn—really it does!

Offentimes visitors to Washington are shown a small spiral of whitish smoke coming from a small stack in the center of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. They are told that it comes from the burning of old worn out bills. Actually, old currency is burned at each of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks and not returned to its source of printing for destruction as is usually supposed.

Since the country has become so environmentally conscious, other methods of doing away with unusable paper money are now being investigated.

Federal Reserve Banks are now beginning to grind up cash since the cities where they are located have anti-burning laws and, where enforced, are causing problems. Treasury officials say that grinding is the only way they know to dispose of old dollars. This, however, has its problems also. It is simply what to do with the fine, light green fluff left after it is pulverized.

One idea is to recycle it into stationery. This has been ruled out because of secret service regulations. They say someone might get the idea that because the special type of paper is fortified with the finest of filament it could possibly be used to reconstruct the bills for the benefit of counterfeiters.

The Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas is reported to have come up with a customer for ground-up greenbacks for a price of $10 a ton. In that form, of course,

Your President Needs You

By RALPH NOVAK

NEW YORK (CEP)

You always help the Girl Scouts or the Kiwanis Club or the Little League when they ask you for money, so how can you refuse your President? Even if he hasn't quite reached the point yet where he is selling elephant-shaped Phase II cookies, President Nixon is going around, asking for campaign funds via the Finance Committee for the Re-election of the President, whose chairman is Maurice Stans. Stans used to be the secretary of commerce, where he had to worry only about relatively trivial things like inflation and the balance of payments but now he is involved in something of really cosmic significance, heading the President's fund-raising drive and making sure Mr. Nixon has enough money to buy the hearts and minds of the American people.

Stans has written a "Dear Fellow Americans" letter to mailing lists all over the country asking them to help our country achieve four years of peace, prosperity, law and order, under Richard M. Nixon's continued leadership. Unfortunately, unless you have more than $14.99 to contribute, you can't help, since Stans says that "membership in our committee is open to any American citizen who makes a contribution of $15 or more." period.

So to enable those of you with only 47 cents, or $2.72, or $7.93 to raise enough money to make the committee cut-off point, here are some suggestions for ways you can raise the funds necessary to make Stans happy and save the country again:

Go to the city councils of all your nearby towns and tell them you would like to hold the National Communist Party convention in their areas this summer. They will be glad to pay you to go to Chicago, Miami, San Diego or anywhere else.

Threaten the local telephone company by saying you will write nasty letters to them, call for a boycott and maybe sue. This may not get you $400,000, but it ought to be worth something.

Hold a 49-cent-a-plate dinner in your backyard. Serve two cornflakes, a glass of water and a jelly bean to everybody who comes, and invite your most boring uncle over to speak after the meal.

Tell your richest friends that President Nixon has promised to make you secretary of state if he is elected again and you will make your friend ambassador to Mongolia unless he kicks in.

Finally, if all else fails, go on television—being sure to take your honorable discharge, dog and/or children on with you—and ask every viewer to send in a little something. Be sure a tear glistens in your eye as you sign off.

It would make no difference whether it was a George Washington $1.00 bill or a Grover Cleveland $1,000.00 bill—the intrinsic value would be the same. Thus far only one sales outlet has been developed to buy the finely chopped up cash. This customer is a well-drilling company in Kansas.

The David Mud and Chemical Company is experimenting with using the ground-up currency, turned into a thick slush, as mud in well-drilling process.

Another idea not yet tested to the extent of approval, is converting the old greenbacks into a roofing material. Offhand one would suppose that there would not be a supply adequate for commercial use but 2,500 tons a year could cover quite a few roofs and mud-seal quite a few wells. Incidentally, this amount destroyed represents about two billion Federal Reserve notes with a face value of about $12 Billion. This statistic doesn't particularly mean anything except that, to make a pun—it could become quite a slush fund and go quite a way to putting money on the roof for over-head protection.

There seem to be other problems connected with the disposal of old bills such as trying to get the ink out which affects other proposed uses. In the first place, it seems it is about impossible to wash it out and the color for whatever use remains money-green. There have been experiments in making ceramics. If this purpose were proved to be successful, the color might add to the value of the product.

The Dallas Federal Reserve Bank is the only one of the 12 Reserve Banks now grinding but in the next few months the banks at Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Minneapolis will shift from burning to this method of disposal.

If our government continues to crank out more money, there will probably be more to dispose of as time goes on. At most, the individual's worn out bills are

SUMMER SUFFERING

A hot July day. Some people are swimming and surfing, camping in cool woods, or sailing along with a soft breeze. Summer is to enjoy. But millions are miserably with summer colds.

Actually, young children have the most colds. Preschoolers get replaced by new bills printed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing here in Washington located at 14th and Independence Avenue and on down the street at 12th and Constitution Avenue is the Internal Revenue Service. An old joke still stands—"They issue it here and take it away down there."

an average of 6 to 12 colds a year. Parents of young children have about six colds a year, whereas other adults have only two or three. People over 45 have the fewest colds.

According to the Common Cold Research Unit at Harvard Hospital in Britain—where they have injected more than 11,000 healthy volunteers with cold viruses—most people have their own specific cold "personality." Some almost always have head colds. Others get congestion in the chest. Some ache all over and have scratchy symptoms in the eyes. The one almost universal complaint, though, is a runny nose.

There are at least 80 different known cold viruses, and scientists think there are many more. Immunity to one virus is no asset against fending off the other

79. As a result, nobody is too optimistic about the future of cold vaccines. The best protection is staying as healthy as possible and avoiding crowded places.

Watch out for anyone with sniffles and sneezes. And cover your own. To find out more information about colds and how to live with them, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

AUSTIN—The Parks and Wildlife Commission handed one controversial issue back to the Attorney General and was handed another one by the Legislature. PWC voted four-to-two to ask Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin to review and reconsider a May 26 ruling that a 1970 contract to purchase 3,965 acres of Mustang Island property for park development is a "binding obligation."

Martin's opinion, according to PWC Chairman Jack Stone of Wells, is expected in about a week.

The Mustang Island battle has raged from Austin to Washington and back through the federal courts and has figured in battles over Senate confirmation of PWC members.

Legislators, in special session, thwarted long-standing plans of the State Highway Department to build a 10-story, $20 million headquarters building on a block near the capitol and governor's mansion.

Instead, the Legislature decreed, the Parks and Wildlife Department would purchase $1.5 million from its cigarette tax the barren, dusty block in downtown Austin and convert it into a park.

The highway department was directed to consider placing its plush new building elsewhere.

Neither agency, conceded legislative leaders, was delightfully happy with the arrangement.

Under the circumstances, however, neither seemed to have much choice.

DEMOCRATS AT MIAMI BEACH
One hundred and 30 Texas Democrats—most of them new to the party wars—are busy at Miami Beach this week, helping nominate a candidate for president.
Another 70 alternates were named to the convention.
The Texas delegates, headed by gubernatorial nominee Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, are closely divided as to supporters of George Wallace, George McGovern and Hubert Humphrey.

TEXAS EXHIBIT PLANNED
A special Texas exhibit is planned at the fifth annual El Salvador International Trade Fair November 3-20.
The fair is one of the top trade exhibitions in Central America and attracts commercial firms from surrounding Central American states. Several Texas manufacturers have indicated an interest in sponsoring exhibits. The International Trade Division of the Texas Industrial Commission and the Texas Department of Agriculture are sponsoring the Texas exhibit.

FARMWORKER GRANT APPROVED
A $2 million federal grant will provide classroom instruction and one-the-job training for migrant farmworkers.
Trainees from 19 counties will benefit under the one-year contracts with five project sponsors.
Local agencies participating include Economic Opportunities Development Corporation of San Antonio (Atascosa, Bexar, Frio, Medina and Wilson counties); Community Action Agency of South Texas (Starr and Zapata counties); Coastal Bend Migrant Council (Duval, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Nueces and San Patricio counties); Middle Rio Grande Development Council (Dimmit, LaSalle, Maverick, Uvalde, Val informed Louisiana Atty. Gen. William J. Guste Jr. Texas will keep its commitments in the disputed areas of the Gulf south of the Sabine River mouth.

The area was recently found by a Supreme Court-appointed master to belong to Texas, but Louisiana appealed the decision.

INFLATION STILL THREAT
Inflation is still a strong threat, though Texas is recovering from economic recession, according to a University of Texas Bureau of Business Research study.
Unemployment remains high, says UT BBR, but estimated personal income rose nine percent in the last year and bank debts 10 percent.

The unemployment level, frowned on by the Bureau, was 3.8 percent in May which is lower than the 4.1 percent of a year ago and considerably below the national 5.9 percent rate.

Consumer spending and residential construction were seen as strong. The rate of the consumer price index rise slowed somewhat after the presidential price freeze, BBR found.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT WINS AWARD
Texas Highway Department received the National Safety Council Award of Honor for an outstanding occupational safety record during 1971.

"Less than five out of 1,000 of the national's total number of work units meet the award of honor requirements," said Howard Pyle, National Safety Council president.

The Texas Highway Department got the award for a 52 percent decrease in frequency and 42 percent decrease in severity of accident rates of its employees last year.

TEXAS BEEF CATTLE LEADER
Texas is the nation's leader in all major categories of the beef cattle industry, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White states.

The livestock industry in Texas is a $2 billion industry, accounting for almost half the total agricultural income of the state. There were 12.8 million cattle and calves in Texas in January, more than five million head above second-ranked Iowa.

Rankings by counties for livestock categories include the following (1 through 10):
All cattle and calves: Deaf Smith, Parmer, Hansford, Castro, Swisher, Sherman, Randall, Ochiltree, Hale and Hopkins.
Texas ranks second in the nation in number of slaughter, plants, third in cattle and calves slaughtered during 1971, third in sheep and lamb slaughter and 15th in hog slaughter.

BUSINESS and the STOCK MARKET

by BABSON'S REPORTS INC.

THIRD-QUARTER STOCK PROSPECTS

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—With the midpoint of 1972 now behind us, the stock market is still dogged by a good deal of uneasiness. As a matter of fact, the Dow Jones Industrial Average for most of the second quarter of this year. In the spring months, investment psychology was upset by a number of disturbing developments abroad and by the continued overhanging pall of inflation affecting the domestic economy. Even the incoming tide of general business, highlighted by a favorable corporate profits picture, failed to generate enough investor buying interest to bring about a good market advance. The same applied to the apparently favorable Peking and Moscow summit talks. So, the DJIA has as yet been unable to challenge its previous all-time high.

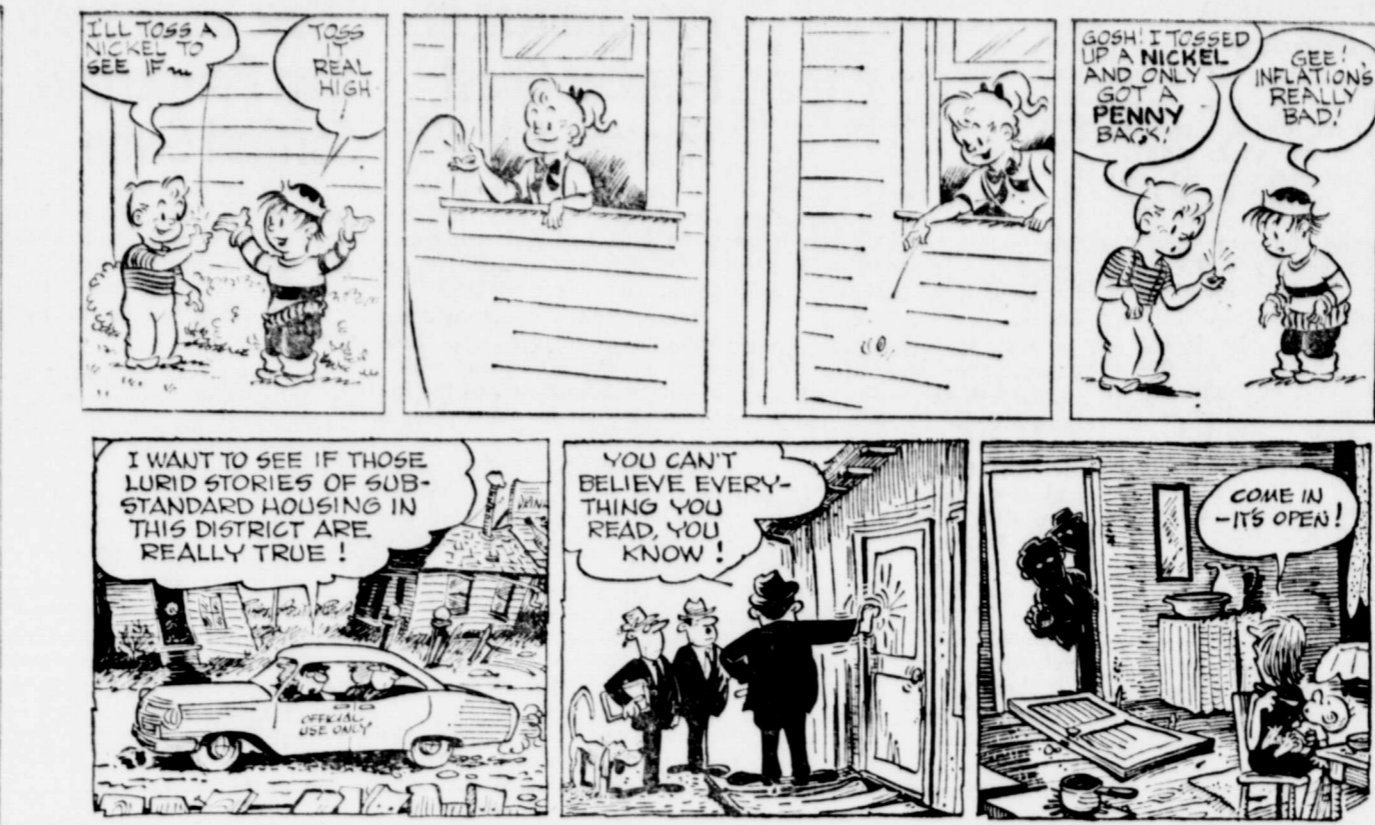

DIRECTION STILL UPWARD
Checking back on recent developments, there does not seem to be evidence enough to indicate that the market has reverted to a major downward trend. While the nagging erosion of recent weeks could conceivably evolve into a more positive selling wave, the strength of the economy should be able to support the upward trend in the market.

A technical consideration is the pattern of the Dow Jones Transportation and Utility Averages. The former has been weak since early April, while the beleaguered Utility index, until mid-June, had been in a near-steady decline for months with little correlation to the Industrial Average. The plight of the two groups, however, appears to be due to rate problems rather than to corporate vulnerability.

ON THE BRIGHT SIDE
Throughout June the Dow Jones Industrial Average was able to resist a testing of the psychologically insignificant 920 support level — an encouraging sign. With the traditionally strong summer season at hand, the third quarter should see firm to higher stock prices.

In recent months investment buying interest has been bolstered by expectations of better economic conditions, favorable corporate profits, and hopes favorably in Wall Street. Thus far, only the profits picture has come through as expected. Industrial production and retail trade have made only modest headway, and capital outlays and inventory buildups have been restrained.

At this point, the tempo of the business upswing seems to be quickening. Thus, we would see more buying for inventory plus a pickup in consumer spending. If a healthier economy persists, it is more than possible that the Dow Industrial Average will

COUNTY AGENT PARKER'S COLUMN

Farmers and ranchers are encouraged to make a special check of their operations during the upcoming National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, with "Safety First!" in mind. Farm and ranch accidents continue to be a major problem. In fact, agriculture continues to be the nation's third most dangerous occupation with an estimated 2,300 deaths and 19,000 injuries in 1971.

Farm accident studies conducted in eight states show that personal protective equipment is essential to reduce the number and severity of injuries due to farm accidents. Thus, the theme for this year's Farm Safety Week is "Protective Equipment—Your Defense Against Injury."

Some of the kinds of personal protective equipment useful on the farm or ranch include safety glasses or goggles, hard hats and bump caps, ear muffs and plugs for lengthy exposure to excessive noise, filter and cartridge respirators for work in heavy dust and chemicals, and protective clothing and safety shoes with metal toe caps and puncture resistant soles.

Farmers and ranchers should become more accustomed to protecting themselves from head to toe. Actually, the agricultural worker may have need for more types of protective equipment than the average construction worker.

All farmers and ranchers are challenged to run a safe operation. First, determine the need for personal protective equipment. Select the proper type for the hazards involved. Then train family workers and employees to know why, where and when they should wear it and how to wear and care for it.

National Farm Safety Week is sponsored each year by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is designed to focus attention on farm and ranch accidents and to suggest preven-

Your Social Security

Social security beneficiaries need not apply for the 20 percent benefit increase signed into law by President Nixon on July 1. Social security manager J. M. Talbot said that all social security beneficiaries who are on the benefit rolls in September will receive the increase automatically. The increase is effective beginning the payments for the month of September.

The average monthly benefit for a retired worker goes up from $134 to $162; for a retired couple from $224 to about $271. A widowed mother with two children will receive an average social security benefit of about $386, up from $322. For a disabled worker with a wife and one or more children, the new average monthly payments will be about $354, increased from $295. The special monthly payments that are made to certain individuals age 72 and over and who are not insured for regular social security benefits will also be increased by 20 percent, from $48.30 to $58 for an individual and from $72.50 to $87 for a couple. The new law also includes a provision automatic annual increases in social security benefits as the cost of living rises in the future — a recommendation made by President Nixon in his 1969 message on social security.

Under the new law the contribution and benefit base — the maximum amount of annual earnings that is counted for benefits and contribution purposes—will rise from the present $9,000 a year to $10,000 in 1973 and to $12,000 in 1974. Thereafter, this amount would be adjusted automatically to keep pace with rising wages. This means that as earnings rise workers whose earnings are at or above the level of the maximum earnings base will pay contributions on higher earnings—but they also will have those additional earnings counted toward the benefits that will be payable to them and their families in the future.

Hickory Worm and Bag Worm Hitting Area Pecan Trees

"It's a good year for insects, and a bad year for tree owners," C. T. Parker, Runnels County Agriculture Agent, said this week.

Although some publicity has been given the presence of bag worms in pecan trees in the county, Parker said, another worm, which has not been given so much notice.

Parker said that where the bag worm can be located almost immediately by the big web in pecan trees, the hickory worm is harder to locate, because it "can eat half the leaves off the tree before it is noticed."

Tree owners should make frequent inspections of their trees, the county agent said, and take steps immediately to kill the pests. He said several pesticides can be used, but inexperienced owners should check with the county agent's office or a licensed pest controller on the type to use.

Home Town Talk--

mousetrap industry, with spring devices of various designs being introduced, ranging from the primitive heavy-duty style (for rats) to the light-weight graceful type. And along the way have come such interesting variations as the cricket-type, a delicate little-mouse affair, and the four-tunnel variety, designed for mouse communes.

And so it goes... who among us does not recall the famous spring-type trap, with its simple efficiency, with the little notched trigger for cheese? Who does not recall at least one day of childhood when that spring snapped upon a finger? Who does not appreciate the fact that it was always ready for service in back of the kitchen stove or in the attic?

The battle of man-against-mouse goes on, as surely as the sun rises and the moon wanes. But even as man's arsenal of weapons grows more sophisticated, history seems to make one lesson undeniably clear... never bet against the mouse.
