HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Those who look for their fun in big doses, and who enjoyed the women's softball game a couple or four weeks ago can look forward to more of the same.

The Big Mamas and the Crazy Legs will meet again August 12, in a "grudge" game, which promises to be quite an affair. The Big Mamas won the first game, and the Crazy Legs will be out for revenge—and anything can happen. Make plans now to attend.

The women's softball games are sponsored by the Little League Women's Auxiliary, and all gate proceeds will go to help finance activities of the Little League.

Speaking of highway beautification and the apparent unconcern of automobile-driving Americans, and the unsightly messes they leave along the roads, an interesting paragraph was noted in a news article in a daily newspaper last week.

A herd of Texas "longhorns"—43 head—is being trailed to Dodge City, Kansas, from San Antonio, taking the approximate route of the old Western Cattle Trail of the 1800s. The cattle are being driven down the highway right-of-way, and were in Coleman County to the east of Winters last week. Several people from this area visited the trail drive last week.

The biggest problems faced by the some 14 drovers with the cattle, it's said, are not marauding Comanches, stampedes, the elements, cattle rustlers, or irate homesteading sodbusters along the way, or even unknown or unthinking automobile drivers on the highways. The biggest problems stem from the injuries inflicted on the hoofs of the cattle by broken bottles and sharp edges of tin cans scattered along the borrow-ditches. The feet of cattle and horses were not designed to cope with the manmade hazards of modern times.

Even in reenacting events of earlier days, modern man has to adapt to modern situations, or be overcome. In the early days—the cattle trail days—if the trails from Texas to Kansas had been strewn with empty bottles and cans and trash left by the traveling public—under the same conditions we face today—no herd of longhorns would have ever reached Dodge City. The old drovers and cattlemen, adaptable to the elements and even Indian raids, rustlers, cattle disease, and prairie fires, would have called the whole thing off and found some other means of getting their cattle to Kansas—or just plain wouldn't have gone—if they had had to wade through 1972-type piles of trash and broken bottles, and an entire chapter of American history might not have been written.

Whether or not this small herd of cattle ever gets to Kansas is of no practical importance to the eventual economy or culture of the country, and failure or success of the venture will be mainly noted only by history buffs. But it nonetheless is a shame that we, the American people, have allowed such conditions to get such a firm hold on us that there seems little can be done about it, except pay lip service to "beautification" and hand out "litterbags"—many of which themselves find their way to the miles-long roadside trash heaps. Millions of dollars are expended each year to clean up the roadsides, but it's difficult to even stay even.

We have become a nation of instant-consumers, and instant-discarders, surrounded by and dependent upon no-deposit, non-

City Council Will Investigate Further Request For Television Cable

Winters' City Council Monday night took under consideration a request by a Fort Worth-based television cable company for a long-term franchise to operate a tv cable service in Winters, and then voted to conduct a more thorough investigation of the proposal before taking official action.

J. M. McHan of Brownwood, representing Andrew Tower Inc., of Fort Worth, had submitted information regarding the proposed service, and also a request for a franchise. The proposal is that the cable company be granted a franchise, and construct a micro-wave tower and install cables throughout town. The company would use the city's light poles, for which they would pay annual rental, and also would pay a gross receipts tax to the city.

Although the proposal has been received favorably, city officials said, the Council deemed it necessary to conduct further study and investigation before granting a long-term franchise contract. They are requesting further information on the number of channels which would be available, the kinds of programs to be available, and the manner in which the service would be conducted.

After obtaining requested information, the council probably will take action on the franchise application at the next meeting, officials said.

Petition Circulated

County Judge Asked to Call Vote To Abolish County School Office

A petition is being circulated throughout Runnels County asking the County Judge to call for a special referendum question on the November general election ballot to abolish the office of the Runnels County School Superintendent.

The petition points out that in view of the fact there is only one county school—Olsen—over which the County Superintendent has jurisdiction, the office is not needed. All other schools in the county are operated by independent school districts.

County Judge Elliott Kemp said Monday that the petition being circulated would require approximately 700 legal signatures in order for the question to be put before the voters of the county in November.

Abolishment of the office of County School Superintendent would mean a slight monetary savings to Runnels County. However, it was pointed out, salary for the superintendent is paid from State funds.

If approved by the voters in the general election, closing of the office would take effect at the end of the present term of the incumbent School Superintendent, W. E. Elkins, of Ballinger, at the end of 1974. Elkins is in his second year of a four-year term of office.

County Judge Kemp said that in the event the office should be abolished, the county judge would become an ex-officio member of the county school board and acting school superintendent, with all present work now being done from the superintendent's office absorbed by the judge's office. Judge Kemp also emphasized that his office has had no active part in circulation of the petition, that this is being done by a group of independent citizens of the county.

Abolishment of the superintendent's office would have no effect on the county school board, which would continue to function as in the past, Judge Kemp said.

It has been pointed out that there is very little work required of the County School Superintendent's office.

Youth Council Formed At Meet Wednesday Night

A Youth Council, sponsored by the Community Action Program and the Office of Equal Opportunity, was formed during a meeting at the Humble Building Wednesday night of last week.

Mrs. Melba Emmert, director of the Winters Multi-Purpose Center, presided at the meeting, and Mike Zuniga Jr., assistant CAP director, explained some of the guidelines for a Youth Development Program.

Officers for the council were elected, including Ramon Rodriguez, president; David Hendrix, vice president; James Lockridge, secretary; and Wyman Burson, treasurer.

Others present were Angelina Smith, Eva Tischler, Mike Zuniga, III, Linda Rodriguez, Tony Johnson and Lawrence Lockridge.

The next meeting was scheduled for July 27. Membership in the Youth Council is open to all young people between the ages of 14 and 25. Programs are being planned.

Serving with this committee is a distinguished group with specialized knowledge in the field of oil well drilling and oil well servicing who will be serving as an advisory committee to the interim study committee.

Rep. Nabers has announced the following members of the advisory committee: Bill McIntyre of Dallas, president of RIMCO; D. L. McDonald of Abilene, president of McDonald Well Servicing; Bill Perryman of Athens; Joseph Shelton of Dallas, general counsel for the International Association of Drilling Contractors; and Jack Hellinghausen of Dallas, of Atlantic Richfield.

The committee will find and recommend the 63rd Legislature convenes in January 1973.

Runnels Students To FB Sem At Baylor

Three high school students from Runnels County will attend the tenth annual Students Seminar conducted by the Texas State Board of Education at Baylor University according to M. L. Dobbins, president of the County Board of Education.

Students selected from this county are Kitchens, daughter of Mrs. Albert Kitchger, Janice Heinzger, and Mrs. Richard Miles, and Walter Lange of Ballinger. They were among students from all 12th grades in the county who have been carefully selected as leadership candidates for the seminar.

Attendance is not mandatory for students from Farm families, but is optional for those who reside in town, as well as rural areas. The seminar was sponsored by the local county Farm Bureau.

Purpose of the seminar, according to M. L. Dobbins, is to convey to the students a better understanding of our American heritage and the capitalist private enterprise system "that has made ours the greatest of all nations."

They were also informed about some of the forces, both internal and external, that are eroding our way of life. The ultimate goal, he added, in addition to helping them to be better informed, was to cause them to want to pass on their experiences to others.

All Stock Sold

Housing Group To Meet Aug. 8

The necessary number of shares of stock in a proposed non-profit rental housing corporation have been sold, and a meeting of all stockholders has been called for August 8, at 7:30 p. m. in the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

At a meeting Monday of the steering committee doing the groundwork toward organization of the corporation, Nelan Bahlman, chairman, said 50 shares at $40 each had been sold. This $2,000 is the minimum suggested for organization of the corporation before applications are made for long-term loans from the Farmers Home Administration to build low-cost rental housing here.

At the August meeting, the stockholders will formally organize, elect a board of directors and officers, and begin work to incorporate as a non-profit organization to obtain loans and build the housing. Bahlman said the FHA had suggested that "about 10" directors be named.

Under the proposal, the non-profit corporation would obtain the loans, build the housing, and administer rental. None of the housing would be for sale, but would remain the property of the corporation.

It is not known how many rental units would be built at the start—this would be determined by the corporation directors.

The steering committee was named by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce several months ago to study ways and means of providing additional rental housing to relieve the serious shortage here, caused by the ever-increasing labor force in Winters' industries.

Bahlman said Monday night that at the organization meeting of the corporation in August, all information the steering committee has obtained, which includes plans for housing, will be turned over to the directors of the formal organization.

Sale of shares in the proposed corporation was brisk, steering committee members said, and even a greater number of shares could have been sold had the need arisen. An indication, they said, of the interest local business and individuals have taken in trying to solve the housing shortage.

It Takes Trailer Care To Get You There . . . And Back Home Again . . . Safely!

Pulling a boat and trailer behind the family automobile can be a pleasure. But only if (1) the trailer is hitched securely to the car; (2) the boat is resting evenly on the runners and the rollers; and (3) the boat is hitched down properly to the trailer. There are numerous types of hitch connections to fit the trailer ball and all seem to work well. If there is a weakness at this point it must be with the installer.

Double-Check Hitch Ball
Usually his fault is in failure to double-check. He should make certain that the ball is well seated in the cap, that the grippers are beneath the ball, and that the lock nut is secure-screwed down as far as it will go. The nut should be tightened to the point where threads are visible above the nut.

On the snap-down type the clamp should be pushed down until it is horizontal. The safety catch should be inserted to prevent sudden lurching or bouncing of the trailer from snapping open the safety arm.

Use Proper Length Chain
For added security a sturdy clamp-on chain should be attached on each side of the hitch from trailer to hitch and long enough only to allow the maximum turning space needed. If the chains are too long they may catch on ground objects, stumps, etc. over which the trailer rolls, or worse yet whip, snap and break.

Don't use a hitch that merely clamps onto the bumper. One loose bolt and away goes your boat and trailer. Use a hitch that bolts firmly to the steel frame of the car at several points.
Also don't try to pull a heavy boat and trailer with a small, light-weight automobile . . . for your car could be flipped over by a sudden gust of wind.

Steel Cable A Must
Once the trailer is safely attached to the car, the boat should be tied down tightly on the trailer.

A good winch and a strong cable are essential. Many use quarter-inch or larger nylon rope on the winch. But nylon will rot, and you can't tell it by looking at it.

We strongly recommend using either 1-8 or 1-4 inch steel cable. Braided 1-8 inch airplane type cable is great if you want considerable length. It tends to bind in the winch more than the larger size, but is easier to handle and you can get considerably more cable on the winch . . . in case you need it.

So use steel cable on your winch and save the nylon rope for tie-downs at the dock, rescue purposes, and anchors.

Inexpensive Insurance

If you prefer nylon rope as your winch line, you'll need some insurance. In that case get one eyebolt, four small cable clamps, a three-foot length of 1-8 inch steel cable, plus a tiller cable clamp (or an eye hook). Then . . .

—Affix the eye bolt to the slanting beam that supports the winch pole. . .

—Attach one end of the 1-8 inch steel cable securely to the eye bolt, with two of the four cable clamps . . .

—Then, while the boat is in its proper position on the trailer put the tiller clamp into the bow eye and with the remaining two cable clamps attach this "Safety" cable securely to the tiller clamp—allowing just enough slack in the cable to permit easy release of the tiller clamp from the boat. . . and —Finally, cut off the excess cable.

Add Finishing Touch
For a real neat job wrap bounced off the runners and came into contact with the metallic ends rather than the soft sides of the rubber roller guides . . . or the rollers were not in proper position to begin with.

Protecting Transom

Those extra large rubber rollers on your trailer, directly under the stern of your boat, are not there solely to guide the center of your boat down the middle of your trailer. They are there also to withstand the heavy weight at the stern of the boat. See that the ransom rests directly on these rollers.

Lastly, raise your motor, tilt it across the transom and lock it in that position. This is essential if you are to drive through areas where there are high centers, rocks or other objectives that might damage the prop and also the transom.

Ready your boat and trailer carefully for the trip. . . feel safe. . . and have fun.

Mrs. C. L. Graham, Pioneer Resident, Died Here Tuesday

Mrs. C. L. Graham, 84, pioneer resident of Winters, died at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday in North Runnels Hospital after a month's illness.

Funeral was at 2 p. m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Harry Grantz, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Northview Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Mrs. Graham was born Eula Mae Cooke near Whitewright, Sept. 20, 1887. She came to Winters in 1889 with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Cooke one year before the town was named or the first school building erected.

Her parents helped organize the First Baptist Church in Winters of which she had been a member 70 years. She held the oldest membership in the church.

Mrs. Graham served as a Sunday school teacher and pianist for many years. She graduated in 1905 from Simmons Academy in Abilene, and then taught school at Old Dewey in south Taylor County and later at Turner's Chapel north of Abilene. Among her pupils was Wiley Post, famous aviator, who with humorist Will Rogers, was killed in a 1935 air crash in Alaska.

She married C. L. Graham August 12, 1908, in North Park, Abilene, at the home of her parents.

Survivors are her husband; one son, George of Brazoria; two daughters, Mrs. H. E. Swoford of Clyde and Mrs. George Poe of Winters; one sister, Mrs. T. D. Taylor of Sacramento, California; one brother, Robert Cooke of Arlington; five grandchildren; and 10 great-grandchildren.

One son, Robert, died September 19, 1945.

Grandsons and great-grandsons were pallbearers.

Fix-It Tip

Keep power tools clean. This is more of a problem with outdoor tools. The accumulation of clippings and dirt not only makes for less efficient use but for rust. Wipe off cutting edges and coat with a light film of oil. Remove clippings from the underside of the lawn mower housing. Keep belts and chains free of dirt and grass clippings.

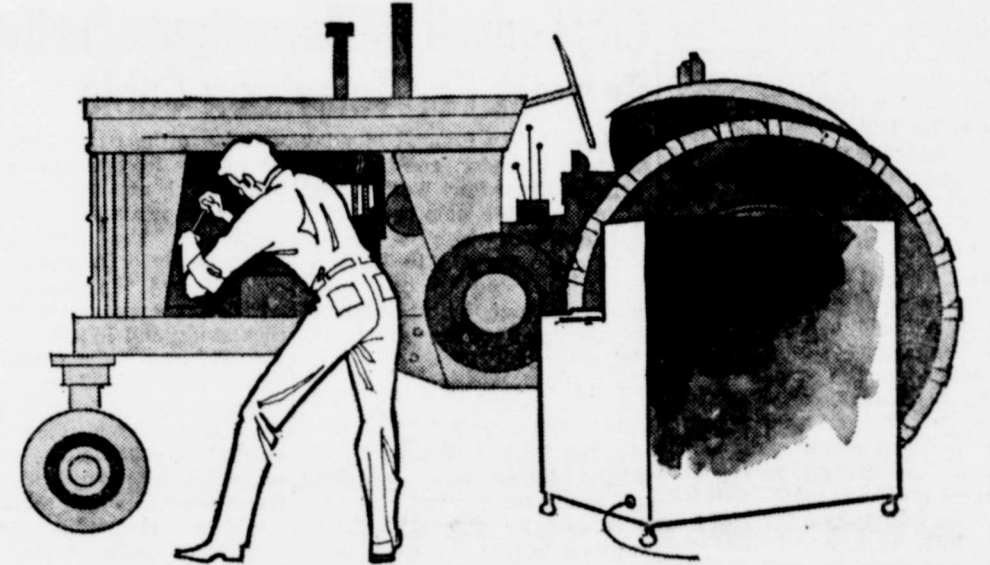

Clean off any rust as soon as you notice it. Metal surfaces should be sanded and painted with a rust-resistant enamel. Use a coating of oil where the metal cannot be painted.

IT'S THAT TIME again and these burly pro footballers are getting ready for another season at the training camp of the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League.

Persons of Spanish Heritage Make Up 18 Percent of Texas Population

Nearly one in five (18 percent) residents of Texas is of Spanish heritage, according to a report from the 1970 census by the Bureau of Economic Analysis, U. S. Department of Commerce. It shows that of the State's 11,195,416 total population, 2,059,671 were of Spanish language or had a Spanish surname.

The population of Spanish language is composed of (1) persons who reported Spanish as their mother tongue, that is, the language spoken in the home during childhood, and (2) all members of a household related to the head or wife reporting Spanish as mother tongue.

The census report, released by the Department's Social and Economic Statistics Administration, shows that 1,723,531 (84 percent) of Texas' population of Spanish heritage lived in urban areas. Among the 23 urbanized areas, the El Paso area had the greatest number, 190,582 or 56 percent of the total population. However, Brownsville urbanized area with 45,115 persons of Spanish heritage and Loredo with 60,084 had the highest proportion, 86 percent in each.

Of the 336,140 rural population of Spanish heritage in Texas, 18 percent lived on farms. Eighty-nine percent (1,840,214) of the State's Spanish heritage population was born in the United States; 563,877 were of foreign or mixed parentage (514,058 of these persons had one or both parents born in Mexico).

The median age of the Spanish heritage population was 19.3 years, compared with 26.5 years for the population of Texas as a whole. Persons of Spanish heritage 25 and older averaged 7.2 years of completed schooling, compared with 11.6 years for the total population 25 and older. Among the 600,425 persons of Spanish heritage 16 and older who were employed in 1970, 8 percent held professional, technical, or similar jobs; 14 percent were clerical or kindred workers; 15 percent were in crafts; 16 percent were operatives (mostly machinery); and 14 percent were service workers other than private household.

Median income in 1969 of the 423,780 families of Spanish heritage amounted to $5,897, as

The Javelina season in the Permian Basin is Sept. 1, 1972, through Jan. 31, 1973 with a bag limit of two.

The combined daily bag limit of rainbow trout and brown trout in the Possum Kingdom, Permian Basin, Edwards Plateau and Trinity Brazos Regulatory Districts is five per day with no possession limit. The fish must be at least eight inches in length.

The waters of Lake Fairfield are closed to the use of all nets, and in the above regulatory districts catfish are deleted from those species which formerly could be taken by nets.

In Atascosa County the season on javelina runs concurrent with the deer season which is Oct. 1-31 for archery and Nov. 18-Jan. 1 for the regular season. Bag limit is two per season.

In the Southeast Regulatory District catfish may not be legally be taken with nets, and Walker County is closed to netting.

Austin.—Property tax reform may be one of the big issues before the 1973 session of the Texas Legislature.

This is the prediction of Texas Research League in a newsletter analyzing the subject.

The property tax, notes TRL, is the largest source of revenue for support of the government in Texas. Collections exceeded $1.4 billion in 1970 and rose $220 million between 1968 and 1970.

Recent federal and state court decisions holding public school finance systems based on locally-imposed property taxes unconstitutional focused new attention on such taxation. The decisions stimulated interest of House and Senate committees on extensive reforms.

Criticism of the revenue source and proposals for reform may center on these factors as pointed up in the TRL study: —Administration is inequitable. Different standards apply to different type of property.

—There are too few professionally-trained assessors, and many tax offices lack even the most fundamental tools such as tax maps, and appraisal cards on each parcel of property.

—Furthermore, there are far too many tax offices and districts. (Given an "impossible tax law" to administer, local officials do remarkably well, according to a Tax Policy Committee study.)

—Personal property—tangible and intangible—is particularly difficult to assess. Some states have given up attempting to tax all property, and recognize this fact in basic laws.

—Taxpayers are at a marked disadvantage in redressing grievances over illegal or inequitable assessment in the courts.

"ABOLISH BOARD"
Former State Insurance Board Chairman Larry Teaver says the best way to promote insurance regulation reform is by the drastic remedy of abolishing the Board.

Teaver was rejected for Board membership by the state Senate, and apparently has returned to Governor Smith's staff.

He told an interview panel that insurance industry influence cannot be removed from regulation without getting rid of the Board which he charged is industry-dominated.

The former chairman suggested the present three-member Board should be made a nine-member, part-time citizen board or that an elected insurance commissioner be chosen to head the regulatory agency.

DEATH PENALTY REVIEW SOUGHT
Texas and Georgia will ask the U. S. Supreme Court to review its decision declaring the death penalty as it is most often applied unconstitutional.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has received a request from the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles for an official interpretation of the June 29 Supreme Court decision. The board also wanted to know if the death penalty actually had been declared unconstitutional. Some justices hinted a constitutional death penalty provision may be possible.

The Board will continue to follow the procedure of not recommending commutation for the 45 inmates on death row until it receives a formal request from the prisoner, judge, district attorney and sheriff in each case.

CITRUS BLACKFLY THREATENS
Agriculture Commissioner J. C. White warned that the citrus industry in the Rio Grande Valley may be wiped out unless the citrus blackfly is brought under control.

White said the fight against the insect has been going on for more than a year, and that eradication measures are a nuisance to Brownsville area residents.

Ground spraying of infested trees is necessary every two weeks. If not controlled, the fly can defoliate and kill a citrus tree within two years. The insect is now contained in trees in Brownsville. There have been only two outbreaks of the pest in the U. S., once in Texas in 1956 and once in Florida.

GRANTS AWARDED
The Moody Foundation of Galveston recently approved almost $2 million in grants for 26 worthy projects in 11 Texas communities.

The 26 projects came from a total of 58 requests for funds totaling more than $17.6 million. The foundation has awarded nearly $3.7 million to 62 projects this year. During the last 11 years, the Moody Foundation has awarded more than $58 million in grants to 450 agencies and institutions all over the state.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The House of Representatives had a fierce attack of reality last week and defeated by a narrow margin an ill-conceived public work measure which would have duplicated several programs already on the books and two others now pending in the U. S. Senate.

One day of hearing was held in the Banking and Currency Committee to produce a $5 billion bill to be spent within 18 months on public projects. Ordinarily, this type of legislation is handled by the Public Works Committee, but since the Banking and Currency Committee has jurisdiction over Housing and Urban Development, it decided to outdo and pile on yet another big spending program to those already in existence.

In a year when politics is so absorbing, the idea of worrying about budget responsibility has about as much appeal as small-pox, but the action last week offers some encouragement.

In the fiscal year just ended the Federal Government spent more than $27 billion more than it took in from taxes. The estimated deficit for the coming 1973 fiscal year is about the same but the guesses are usually on the low side of both how much will be spent and how much revenue will come in. A guess of a $40 billion deficit for the fiscal year just beginning is probably more near to truth.

In an election the wishlist gets longer and longer until it seems to obscure responsibility. As an example is the appropriation for the Health, Education and Welfare recently passed by the Congress. The Administration's request for $27 billion is a full $7 billion above last year. Not content with that, the House of Representatives added another billion. The Senate then called and raised to $2 billion over the budget. It is a dizzying whirl but amid warnings the situation continues to worsen.

The Congress wants to show its concern for the Country by pouring out Federal funds for every conceivable purpose. The President threatens a veto over some of these actions but not too loudly. It's an election year everywhere.

On the one hand Federal spending is supposed to get votes. On the other, inflation brings criticism and loses votes. It just doesn't seem we can have it both ways. Huge outlays of money are bound to contribute to higher prices but, of course, some of this may be offset by stimulating more tax payments. Credit spending by the Government has no offset and can have no other effect than to increase the cost of everything.

Who wants all this spending? The question is often asked. It has got to be those who benefit from a particular program and who fail to see all the hundreds of others for a multitude of purposes. Right now a number of Governors and Mayors are in Washington lobbying for the $30 billion Revenue Sharing Bill. Can't blame them in a way if the Federal Government is going to assume obligations for everything. The money the Federal Government can't get from taxes it borrows. Many states and cities are broke but can not issue more money like the Federal Government—so—please refer to the last sentence of paragraph 7 above.

"HILE" Grazing System Viewed By Runnels County Stockmen Recently

Several ranchers in the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District are planning a High Intensity-Low Frequency (HILE) grazing system, according to Gerald Merz with the Runnels County Soil Conservation Service office.

A field day was recently conducted on the Lucky Ranch in Shackelford County to observe the results of HILE in operation. Attending the field day from this area were two directors of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, Bill Minzenmayer of Winters, and Cone Robinson Sr. of Norton, and Douglas Cole, a Winters rancher. Harvey Kahlden and Jerry Merz of the SCS also attended.

The HILE system was begun in Shackelford County in July, 1969, when the stocking rate for the ranch was one cow for every 23 acres. Today that ratio is one cow for 11.5 acres. Other conservation practices contributing to this rapid increase were brush control and native grass seeding.

The HILE system, Merz said, is in operation on several ranches across Texas and in most cases results are far exceeding expectations, with the main objectives being to get the most pounds of meat from the maximum forage with minimum expense. Under HILE, Merz said, livestock from several pastures are all put into one pasture. This one herd is then moved from pasture to pasture as the forage indicates. The same method was used by the buffalo for hundreds of years before the barbed wire fences, as they grazed one area short, then moved on to the greener pastures, he said.

Increased grass and beef production, improved wildlife conditions, lower operating costs, reduced internal parasites in cattle, longer rent periods, no spot-grazing, more efficient use of annual crops, more flexibility, easier-to-find re-sprouts in grazed pastures for follow-up control, fewer bulbs, and less need for additional cross fences over other systems were some of the advantages given by H. R. Stasney, owner of the Lucky Ranch and other ranchers who have initiated the HILE system.

Many of the two hundred ranchers and conservationists who attended the tour, barbecue and panel discussion, were so impressed, Merz said, they were making plans for a HILE system on their ranches before the tour was over.

Parks and Wildlife Completes Long Agenda At Last Meeting in Austin

Austin — Land acquisition, game and fish proclamations and a long list of routine matters occupied the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission at their last meeting in Austin.

The commission adopted without change proclamations proposed by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department staff concerning seasons and bag limits on migratory birds other than waterfowl.

Bag and possession limits for the birds are the same as they were last year, but seasons are different from last year's for mourning doves, white-winged doves, teal, woodcocks, and Wilson's snipe.

The mourning dove season was split into two parts. In the North Zone the season will be Sept. 1 through Oct. 14, 1972, and Jan. 6 through Jan. 21, 1973 from 12 p. m. until sunset.

In the South Zone the season will be Sept. 23 through Nov. 5, 1972, and Jan. 6 through Jan. 21, 1973 except that in counties having an open season for white-winged doves, the open season for mourning doves ends Nov. 2 during the fall segment of the season. In counties with a white-winged dove open season mourning doves may also be taken from 12 p. m. until sunset.

The white-winged dove season will be Sept. 2, 3, and 4 from 12 p. m. until sunset.

The commission established a sanctuary for white-winged and mourning doves south of a line extending along U. S. Highway 281 between the city limits of Hidalgo and Brownsville during the whitening season.

The woodcock season will be Nov. 18 through Jan. 21 from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Hunters may shoot Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe Nov. 18 thru Jan. 21, from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

All species of teal may be hunted Sept. 9 through Sept. 17 from sunrise to sunset.

The season on rails and gallinules remains the same as it was last year.

Stockholders of Housing Corporation To Meet, Organize Next Tuesday Nite

The fifty shareholders in the non-profit corporation being formed to build low-cost rental housing in Winters will meet and organize next Tuesday, August 8, in the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

A board of directors will be named from the membership, and the board will in turn elect officers, adopt a constitution and by-laws, and begin proceedings to apply for a corporate charter.

The corporation then will make application to the Farmers Home Administration for a long term loan to construct low-cost housing for rental purposes. The houses built by the corporation would not be for resale, it was explained.

The new non-profit organization is the outgrowth of a study made by a steering committee named several months ago by the board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce to study ways and means of providing additional low-cost rental housing to meet the ever-increasing demand here. After months of investigation, the committee recommended formation of a non-profit corporation here to secure loans from the FHA to build the housing.

The FHA had suggested that such a corporation be formed, with stockholders to provide a minimum of $2,000 to be used for administrative purposes in the process of incorporating. Fifty individuals or companies purchased shares at $40 each to raise the minimum $2,000.

Representing the State Board of Insurance on the interim committee will be E. C. Chamness. Robert B. Orton will be representing the National Weather Service. Orton is knowledgeable in the area of weather patterns covering Texas, and Chamness has considerable experience in the field of extended coverage insurance.

The committee will make its recommendations and proposals to the 63rd Legislature at the regular session in January, 1973, to the State Board of Inurance, and to the Governor. Representative Rosson is activating his committee immediately and has already contacted the committee representatives of the Insurance Board and the National Weather Service. He emphasized the shortage of time and the pressing need for equitable solutions to all aspects of extended coverage insurance. He said, "Our committee will be studying statistics on weather zones, premiums on extended coverage insurance policies, losses due to natural disasters, and insurance companies' payment under the provisions of such policies."
