HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

In case you haven't noticed, there has been a lot of work going on down on the Abilene & Southern tracks during the past several weeks.

First, all track from Winters to Ballinger was pulled up some time ago—the line ends at FM 53 on the south edge of Winters, and there is no longer a railroad connection from Abilene to Ballinger, for the first time since the railroad was built around 1909. Winters is the end of the line. Then, the track of the main line, from Winters to Abilene, has been changed to heavier track, and new ballast and ties installed where needed. Workmen now are replacing all the light track in the Winters yard with heavier track.

J. C. Jarrell, Winters railroad agent, said the new track will allow use of heavier equipment on the Winters line. The line has been restricted to 220,000 pounds gross weight per car. This has not been enough for profitable hauling of grain, he said. Now the grain, and livestock feed supplements, can be shipped in bigger loads in bigger cars.

The old track was "50-pounds" per yard steel; the new track is 90-pound steel. Jarrell said, which still is lighter than that used on the big main lines.

Winters is fortunate to still have a railroad; many towns have lost their railroad a couple of weeks ago. But the presence of industry here—especially the grain and livestock feed industry, which takes a tremendous amount of grain and supplement—has been responsible for saving the railroad, even if it does stop here.

Situated as Winters is, in a rural, relatively quiet region, away from the heavily populated metropolitan areas, most of us most of the time tend to take a "far-away" attitude when we hear of the many troubles which beset the city folk. We have a tendency to look upon their troubles as only something to read about. We can't relate to them, perhaps because we have made ourselves believe that those troubles can happen only to someone else, in the distance, and that they have those troubles simply because they are in the metropolitan areas, while we live in the nice, quiet country, untouched—even unreachable. We make ourselves believe that a geographical barrier exists, which somehow prevents—or will prevent—their troubles from spilling over onto us.

How wrong we are! How mistaken we have been! Perhaps, in an age now evaporated, there did exist a geographical, even cultural, barrier which protected us to a great extent, separating the rural from the urban. Or

Blizzards Meet Haskell Tonight

The Winters Blizzards, now two down in district play, will meet the Haskell Indians Friday night on Blizzard field. Kick-off at 7:30.

The Blizzards had had a so-so season—3-2—in pre-conference play, but then fell to Hamlin in the first district game, only to see a repeat last Friday night as they fell 34-0 to the Ballinger Bearcats. Lack of depth in most positions, and inexperience have taken their toll.

The Haskell Indians, pre-season rated as one of the top Two-A teams in the state, also had a 3-2 record for pre-district contests. Entering district play, they defeated Anson 20-6, but then lost their second district contest 20-12 to Hamlin, which had lost four and tied one in non-conference games before beating Winters 7-6 at the opening of the conference season.

Friday night's game will be a crucial one for the Haskell Indians, who need a win, and still have to meet Ballinger and

The public is invited to watch the band in practice. Sessions are held at 6:30 each evening on the practice field north of the stadium.

March On Nov. 6 To Fight Muscular Dystrophy

Miss Estella Bredemeyer, vice president of the Winters State Bank, has been named campaign treasurer for the Winters 1972 March Against Dystrophy.

On November 6, Winters volunteer marchers will conduct a house-to-house appeal for funds to fight Muscular Dystrophy and related neuro-muscular diseases.

Miss Bredemeyer said, "The drive here in Winters is part of the annual nationwide effort to fight Muscular Dystrophy. In the interest of public service and for the convenience of the volunteer marchers and donors, the Winters State Bank will act as depository for the campaign.

Muscular Dystrophy is a devastating crippling of young adults, Miss Bredemeyer said. The thousands of Texas residents afflicted by MD need your help as the majority will not grow to maturity unless a cure is found.

O. C. Fisher Deserves Your Support

AN EDITORIAL

Congressional redistricting has returned Runnels County to the 21st Congressional District of Texas, the district to which this county was attached for many years before re-shuffling to the 17th District several years ago.

In the return to the 21st District, Runnels County is re-joining an old friend, Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, who so ably represented the county for so many years before the realignment. Even though he has not been a direct or official representative of this county for some years, he has in fact continued to be an able representative of the area, because this county's interests have continued to be his interests. During the past several years, while in the 17th District, Runnels County has been fortunate to have two representatives in Congress—Fisher and the official representative, Omar Burleson—with the interests of the county and the area at heart.

Congressman Fisher's proven performance as an active, responsive representative of the 21st Congressional District, and an "unofficial" representative of Runnels, part of his old district, is a matter of record. Whether in Washington or in Texas, Congressman Fisher does his homework and his job responsibly. His 29 years in the United States Congress gives him a highly-respected stature called "seniority."

Congressman Fisher is a ranking member of the powerful House Armed Services Committee—an influential position which one does not simply walk into. He is a mover of legislation vital to the military and to defense, in addition to legislation vital to the farming, stock raising and industrial area which he represents.

We support his stands on issues which affect both domestic and foreign affairs. His approach to a balanced federal budget, cuts in federal spending, strict penalties to deter crime, are only a few of the reasons why he must continue the work already begun in these and other areas. Experience and seniority are not to be thrown aside. The dedicated service in government of Congressman Fisher must continue. We strongly support his re-election on November 7th.

YOUR VOTE IS MY GREATEST ASSET

Holding a public office in Runnels County is a great possibility. The salaries and expense of these offices are paid for by your tax dollars. I believe this entitles every person within the county to the most courteous, attentive service that can possibly be rendered.

I will personally see to it that all the office personnel and myself as well will give all the aid and assistance that can be offered.

With two tax offices in operation in Runnels County, it is impossible to be present in both offices at the same time. I plan to have competent personnel in each office. In addition to having certain times to be at the Winters branch office each month. I will also be available on call at times that I am needed by the deputy.

Thank you for your consideration as the Democratic nominee for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector in Runnels County.

kept undisputed the leadership in Division I with their 34-0 defeat of Anson Friday night, while the surprise was Haskell 20-12 to No. 2, as the other defeated team in conference competition.

As winning teams point to the scoreboard, many teams point to the game statistics as evidence of their prowess, regardless of the way the final score is recorded. This was the case in the Hamlin-Haskell game Friday night, and also the Anson-Stamford contest. Accord-published unofficial stats, Haskell had 16 first downs to Hamlin's 14, and a total yards-gained of 357, while Hamlin only gained 250. But Hamlin won. Stamford edged Anson slightly in total yardage—231-196—and chalked up 14 first downs to the Tigers' 9. But Hamlin won the ball game.

This week's games—the middle games of the UIL season—may serve to unscramble the situation a bit, and shed a little more light on what can be expected as the season begins to wind down from now until November 17.

Cotton Harvest Slowed In Area, 1742 Bales Here

Only 1742 bales of cotton from the 1972 crop had been brought in to Winters Warehouse by Monday afternoon from North Runnels gins, and expectations were that receipts would be light for several days, because of the fall rains which have covered a wide area during the past weeks.

According to the Consumer and Marketing Service Abilene office, harvest operations were well underway in Tom Green Runnels, and Haskell counties, but recent rains brought all harvesting to a standstill in the entire area, including Jones, Knox, Coleman, Scurry and Nolan counties.

To date 24,000 samples have been processed by the Abilene Cotton Classing Office. Only 412 had been classed at this time last season.

The quality of the crop is good. In the areas harvesting, the staple is the best ever, reports said. Grades are a little lower than usual, but this is understandable when the extra length of the staple is considered. Two other factors may cause lower grades. Producers are not getting the acid they usually use and perhaps are not used to the newer chemicals they are using, and in some areas the stalks are larger than normal.

The predominant grades processed this week were, 32 percent, grade 32; and 40 percent were grade 42. Predominant staples were 32 percent 30; with 40 percent, staple 31; and 20 percent, staple 32.

Micronaire readings were good with 87 percent in the premium range. Ten percent miked below, and three percent above the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9.

Prices range from 17.00 to 18.75 cents for the 52 Bark. Grades to 24.55 cents per pound for 3134, premium mike. Grade 3232 brings 20.00 to 21.50 cents per pound. Grade 4232 brings from 18.50 to 20.20 cents per pound. Only premium mike cotton is being bought. Prices and information were collected by the USDA's Agriculture Marketing Service.

Three Arrested On Marijuana Charges in County

The Runnels County Sheriff's Office, working with other law enforcement officers from Winters, Ballinger and Sweetwater, Friday arrested three persons, one a juvenile, for possession of almost 100 pounds of un-cut marijuana. One suspect was still at large the first of this week, according to officers.

The two adults, both under 25 years of age, were in custody and the juvenile had been released to his parents, Chief of Police Joe Stevens of Winters said Tuesday. Two of those arrested were from Winters, and one from Fort Hood, Stevens said.

Chief Stevens said the marijuana was found in two different caches, about 20 pounds found at a site east of Winters, and about 50 pounds found in the Wingate-Shep area.

The haul included one large plastic bag of marijuana, and several containers filled with the weed, as well as a pipe used for smoking. Value of the drug on the retail market is estimated between $5,000 and $6,000, according to information from the police department.

He showed a film, "Please Call Us."

AUSTIN—Rising welfare costs will demand another $60.9 million in the state budget during the next two years, the State Board of Public Welfare concluded last week.

The Board also approved a budget request asking an additional $71.1 million in federal matching funds for the 1974-75 biennium.

State Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell blamed the increase on congressional regulations and a two percent cut in the federal government's share of welfare program costs for Texas.

Welfare Board member Louis Sarazan of Corpus Christi also pointed to increases in medical care for welfare beneficiaries.

Even with the increase recommended, benefits would be cut at least temporarily next fall. State funds for welfare totaled $212.5 million in 1972 and $267.8 million in 1973.

The Texas constitution limits money actually paid to welfare recipients (not including medical assistance, operating costs, special services, food stamps, counseling, child care and job training) to $80 million a year.

Voters last year rejected a proposal to remove state aid to the aged, blind and disabled from the ceiling.

If President Nixon signs the revised welfare reform bill, only aid to families with dependent children would be left under the state ceiling by Jan. 1, 1974. The federal government would assume the cost of aid to the aged, blind and disabled, although the states would administer programs until July 1, 1975.

The federal act, if signed, would also phase back into the Medicaid program 19,000 old folks who lost their eligibility when social security benefits were raised October 1.

UNITARY PRIMARY URGED

Secretary of State Bob Bullock recommended unitary primary elections to replace the old system of separate primaries for Democrats and Republicans.

At the same time, the state chief election officer advised a Senate election law study committee that unless the legislature enacts new legislation next year there will be no laws on the books for financing 1974 elections.

Bullock estimated the state could save at least $800,000 under the $2.8 million spent on dual primaries this year if it uses the same polling places and officials for both major parties.

The Secretary recommended state and local officials, rather than county political party chairmen, be designated to hold primaries. He also urged re-evaluating the whole Texas Election Code's provisions on political advertising and campaign expense-financing reporting. He said the election code should be recodified.

RURAL AID HEARINGS SET

Texas Industrial Commission will hold public hearings in four cities during November to determine which areas are eligible for industrial development aid under a new law.

Hearings will be held in Austin November 9, Big Spring November 14, Kingsville November 16 and Henderson November 21.

The program provided under the Texas Rural Development Act will help 230 non-profit industrial foundations get up to 40 percent of cost of financing a new or expanding industry in rural areas.

REVENUE SHARING PLANNED

Gov. Preston Smith formed a council to plan for orderly administration of the new federal revenue sharing act.

The law provides an estimated $244.5 million for Texas state

ODOMETER ABUSES HIT

Fifteen hundred car dealer and leasing companies in Texas signed voluntary agreements not to "roll back" odometers (mileage indicators) on used cars, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said.

Earlier, the attorney general's Consumer Protection Division obtained 39 permanent injunctions against El Paso firms and individuals for turning back the odometers so used cars would seem to have "low mileage."

Martin claimed substantial progress in the odometer control area after the 1,500 who handle the bulk of used car business in Texas filed voluntary compliance assurances.

COURTS SPEAK

An Austin district court denied former West Texas State Sen. David Ratliff's Plea to have his trial for two state paycheck thefts moved from Travis County.

Texas Supreme Court set arguments December 6 on whether Denton County Judge Tom Todd could cancel an election he set earlier to incorporate Corral City in the county.

Supreme Court upheld lower court decisions that Houston was liable for damages for injuries to a child who fell on sharp rocks in a drainage ditch.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Martin said an 82-acre tract of land owned by the Church in the Hills, Inc., in Kerr County is not exempt from taxation.

In other recent opinions, Carrin concluded:

- County tax office motor vehicle license receipt records are public records and must be preserved for five years. They may be examined by interested persons, and telephone questions about them can be answered at discretion of the tax office.
- A water supply corporation establishing a drinking water supply for public use is subject to State Department of Health jurisdiction.
- Unexpended balance of a Ford Foundation grant for a state legislative intern training program which has been terminated must be returned to the Foundation. Interest earned on investment must be deposited to the state's general revenue fund.
- An act to abolish the Hutchinson County school superintendent's office is unconstitutional.
- Texas Cosmetology Commission does not have authority to renew licenses, and can't issue two separate renewal licenses together for combined time span of more than one year.

... about your SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are still under the impression that they cannot apply for social security disability benefits until they have been disabled for six months, noted J. M. Talbot, social security manager. This is not correct.

A claim can be filed anytime after a person becomes disabled. In fact, early filing for these benefits allows ample time to process the claim and assure payment at the earliest possible time. Delayed applications may well result in a delayed first check.

The social security office will not only assist a disabled person in applying for benefits, it goes one step farther, said Mr.

Talbot, by helping the disabled person secure evidence of his disability. However, Mr. Talbot cautioned, although we will help get the evidence (usually a physician's report), some doctors charge for these reports and it is the claimant's responsibility to pay for the report.

For more information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

SHORT SNORTS

State Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin will serve as acting governor December 2 in ceremonies at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation near Livingston in his district.

Governor Smith traveled to six cities — Palestine, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Kingsville, Houston and San Antonio — to sign acts of the special legislative session important to those communities.

Col. Wilson E. Spier, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, was named general chairman of the division of state and provincial police, International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock estimated Texas voter registration will soar to an all-time-high of 5.5 million this year — nearly two million above the previous record.

Nineteen seventy-two is the peak year in history of the Texas securities industry, according to a University of Texas publication. The total volume rose to $323.5 million.

Why You Should Re-Elect President Richard Nixon Nov. 7

LET'S LOOK At AGRICULTURE And STOCK RAISING

WE HAVE one of the most abundant supplies of food in history. Our exports of livestock, fresh meats, grain sorghums and grain are going to add many dollars to the general economy.

WE'RE SELLING COMMODITIES of which we've had surpluses—and we're helping provide jobs on trucks and ships at the same time.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

PRESIDENT NIXON'S AGRICULTURAL ACT OF 1970 gave producers more flexibility and freedom in operations.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S ADMINISTRATION has turned around the farm situation that saw farmers get an increase in income of 6 per cent between 1951 and 1969 while wage rates went up 6 per cent every year.

PRESIDENT NIXON gave agriculture one of the most effective spokesmen in recent history by appointment of Earl Butz as Secretary of Agriculture.

Changing U. S. — Japanese Relations

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., November, 1972, Japan is on the threshold of a new era that promises to bring many changes in her relations with her Asian neighbors and with the United States. She is rapidly emerging from American protection and domination to assert herself more positively in the fields of foreign affairs and foreign trade. The U. S. rapprochement with Mao's China has presented Japan with the chance to make new choices — many of them undreamed of even as recently as a year ago.

Trade With U. S.
Japan's trade with the U. S. is in serious imbalance and thus far we are low man on the totem pole. Actually, the imbalance threatens to get worse before it gets better, for recession in Japan (i.e., a measurable downturn from the long-term economic upturn she has been enjoying) has dried up domestic demand, making it necessary for Tokyo to beef up her exports in order to avoid more serious weakness in business at home. As a consequence Japanese foreign exchange reserves have been increasing, to the alarm of the U. S. and some of the other Western countries. The U. S. wants Japan to import more U. S. Goods, and give greater aid to the developing nations of Asia. So far, Japan has made no concrete move to do this on any continuing scale. However, she has agreed to buy $1.1 billion worth of U. S. farm, fishery, and aircraft products and has hinted that she might decide to cut tariffs unilaterally sometime before fiscal 1974 which begins April 1, 1973. The Ministry of International Trade and Industry is reported to be studying a plan by which Japanese tariffs would be reduced uniformly. Washington thinks Tokyo means business and looks for relief via tariff cuts.

Nuclear Armament, General Rearmament?
It is widely speculated that Japan is on the verge of undertaking nuclear arming. While Japanese advocates of such a course are not lacking, the Research Department of Babson's Reports does not feel that such a move is imminent. The issue will be hotly debated over the next two or three years, but unless Japan turns radically leftward or is made to feel isolated, there is a good chance she will eschew nuclear armament. Her 100 million people crammed into an area smaller than California, Japan is uniquely vulnerable to nuclear attack. Hence, she would require a huge nuclear potential for an adequate deterrent. This she cannot mount without inviting economic disaster.

More likely, instead, she will decide to rearm along traditional lines, placing emphasis on naval strength which many Japanese politicians and businessmen contend is already badly needed to protect Nippon's far-flung commerce. A naval building program may also be spurred by the end of the Vietnam war, withdrawal of the U. S. fleet from South Asian waters and eventually from the Taiwan Straits.

Mutual Security Treaty
However, a U. S. naval withdrawal from the Straits of Taiwan will not happen soon, and may not occur for two or three years or more. Thinking in Washington and in some circles in Tokyo is that Chairman Mao and Premier Chou will not insist on this or on reabsorption of Taiwan until they have neutralized the Russian threat in this offshore area and to China generally. The U. S. will not be pressured to sever diplomatic relations with Nationalist China or to abrogate its treaty with China or to abrogate its treaty with Chiang's government. That would create a vacuum that might beckon Russian naval intervention.

Japanese rearmament may also be hastened by growing dissatisfaction on both sides with the present Japanese-American Security Treaty which will likely force big changes within the next couple of years. The days of U. S. bases in Japan are clearly numbered. Scrapping of the whole treaty would not be surprising. The big question: Can it be done intelligently, imaginatively — without a nasty confrontation?

CATV AND TWO-WAY COMMUNICATION
Wellesley Hills, Mass. — A decision last spring by the Federal Communications Commission allowed cable TV (CATV) operators to originate television programs and sell commercials. While this was a breakthrough for the industry, it places a heavy financial burden on the operators, since large systems with 3,500 or more subscribers must originate local programming and provide for a two-way communication service. Also, the ruling carries with it certain restrictions in order to protect major network broadcasters.

BROADBAND COMMUNICATION
A big plus for the cable TV industry, the Research Department of Babson's Reports believes, is the oncoming broadband or two-way communication. The technology for such interacting services as computer time-sharing, facsimile, fire warning, burglar-alarm hookup, banking services, and library and information retrieval has already been developed. Two-way conversations can also be conducted between the viewer (at home or in the office) and the studio featuring local educational, stock market, and other public service programs. With a terminal, the viewers can ask questions and get additional information. While these capabilities are now feasible, economically they are not yet practical. But the industry feels they will soon become a reality.

TREMENDOUS MARKET POTENTIAL
There are some 2,600 cable TV systems in operation, serving an estimated six million homes in around 4,500 communities. Cable TV professionals foresee 15,000 more cities hooking up to the systems. Despite the substantial growth rate of 22 percent in the number of subscribers and 13 percent in the number of systems in the past three years (even with the FCC freeze on entry into new markets), only 9 percent of TV households are wired for CATV. The saturation rate will be exceptionally low, with industry experts expecting it to reach only 15 percent by 1975 and 20 percent by the end of the decade. The tremendous market potential is revealed by the fact that over 60 million homes have TV sets, with some 20 million of these having two or more sets.

Total industry revenues for 1972 are estimated at around $360 million. By 1975, some $600 million is expected, and by 1980 $1.3 billion. Projected equipment sales, advertising, channel renting charges, and other ser-VICES could increase the total to $5 billion by 1980. A goal of 25-30 million subscribers in ten years seems attainable. With the permitted entry into the top one hundred television markets where 90 percent of the viewing audience is located (mostly in the unexploited metropolitan areas), the importation of distant signals allows for lucrative advertising and pay TV via cable.

MAJOR COMPANIES AND RECOMMENDATIONS
Babson's Reports' research staff has recently completed an appraisal of the industry and the companies involved. From the ten top system operators (ranked by numbers of subscribers), we have selected Warner Communications (currently No. two) for a growing stake in the entertainment field. WCI has a solid position in amusements, publishing and cable TV, the latter business with 360,000 subscribers. The firm has an excellent growth record, and we anticipate further substantial progress. Our chief recommendation in the electronic equipment and components field is General Instrument Corp., a diversified producer of electronic components and the largest supplier of hardware to the cable TV industry. Besides being a top manufacturer of entertainment electronic devices, General Instrument is fast becoming

MGM's "Skyjacked," an exciting suspense drama of hijacking aboard a 707 jet liner, starring Charlton Heston and Yvette Mimieux, shows Saturday and Sunday night at the State Theatre, John Guillermin directed for producer Walter Seltzer.

James Brolin, Jeanne Crain, Roosevelt "Rosey" Grier, Walter Pidgeon and Leslie Uggams co-star in the Stanley R. Greenberg screenplay, adapted from David Harper's novel, "Hijacked."

Among passengers and crew members whose lives are effected when a skyjacker terrorizes the flight with a bomb threat are Claude Akins, Susan Dey, Mariette Hartley, Ken Swofford, Ross Elliott, Nicholas Hammond, Mike Henry, Jayson William Kane, Toni Clayton, John Hillerman, Kelley Miles, Maureen Connell and John Fiedler.

This is producer Walter Seltzer's fifth film starring Charlton Heston. Previously they were associated on "The Omega Man," "Number One," "Will Penny," and "The War Lord." Director John Guillermin's recent credits include "El Condor," "The Blue Max," and "Guns at Batasi."

Seltzer and his production team carefully designed "Skyjacked" with a keen sense of responsibility to society. While maintaining the most dramatic entertainment values, at no time is hijacking ever viewed as anything less than reprehensible and criminal.

"Skyjacked," filmed on various locations in the west, boasts some of the most beautiful aerial photography ever accomplished.

Blizzards 0, Ballinger 34, in Second District Game Friday

The Ballinger Bearcats avenged their 1971 loss to the Winters Blizzards Friday night in Blizzards Stadium by a lopsided 34-0 victory. The Blizzards never had good field position throughout the game and were unable to mount an effective offensive drive.

Winters took the opening kickoff and were quickly in trouble, when Kirchmann's fourth down punt was blocked on the Winters 29. The defense rose to the occasion, however, and held Ballinger to three incomplete passes on this possession. The ball went over to the Blizzards, and a five yard carry by Oscar Torres and a three-yard carry by Jerry Mack Jackson showed promise for the Blue. But a busted play on third down and a fourth down punt good for only five yards gave the ball over to the Bearcats on the Blizzards 31. It took five plays for the Bearcats to score, Johnny Slaughter carrying the final five yards up the middle. The kick was good for a score of 7-0.

The Blizzards chalked up their first down of the game on their next possession on carries by Fred DeLaCruz and Jackson, but the drive was subsequently killed by a lost fumble, as was the next Blizzards possession.

In the second quarter Ballinger put their passing game to work and scored twice. The first touchdown of the period came on a one-yard run, set up by pass completions of 20 and 12 yards. The attempted two-point conversion was unsuccessful. Then the Bearcats connected on a 38-yard pass for their next score, and the kick was good for a halftime score of 20-0.

Ballinger had to punt on their first possession of the second half, and the Blizzards got a quick first down on carries by Torres and Lee Choate, but could not sustain the offense and had to punt. Ballinger's Slaughter scored late in the third quarter from five yards out. Then in the fourth quarter the Bearcats scored on a 48-yard bomb from Billy Jernian to Frank Mata for the final score of 34-0. The final quarter Blizzards offense was still trying to come to life, but four times in the period their efforts were stifled by fumbles.

Credit for good defense goes to Blizzards Torres, Ricky DeLaCruz, Rex Pritchard, Fred DeLaCruz, Ricky Mathis, Mike Moore, and Glenn Hoppe.

November Plentiful

In many kitchens across America, a calendar is as common as a coffee mug or a soup spoon. Chances are that if the calendar is illustrated with big, semi-glossy photographs there is a picture of the Horn of Plenty above the month of November.

The "Turkey Month" just wouldn't be November without a cornucopia. It's the traditional symbol of a bountiful harvest and reminds us to be thankful for our many blessings.

During November, there will be "plentiful" reasons to be thankful. Rice and turkeys are two very good reasons. They are the featured items on USDA's Plentiful Foods List for November.

Other foods on the list are broiler-fryers, eggs, apples, applesauce and apple juice, cranberries, cranberry sauce and cranberry juice cocktail.

Eggs

The art of cooking has come a long way in the past few centuries. Take for instance—modern egg cookery. In ancient days, a far Eastern shepherd was accustomed to placing a raw egg in his sling and whirling it round and round until the heat produced by the rapid motion had cooked the egg.

It's difficult to imagine the modern homemaker out in the backyard whirling raw eggs round and round as if she were getting ready to slay Goliath. And what about the neighbors? The slightest slip of the wrist and it could be scrambled eggs on her neighbor's back porch!

Modern egg cookery takes less energy, but it's just as simple. That's one reason why eggs are so popular. Eggs are quick to cook in a variety of ways for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Eggs give a smooth performance in casseroles, fancy omelets, fondues, and in desserts such as custards and pies. Hard-cooked eggs, stuffed with special mixtures, make a colorful and easily-prepared snack for parties and buffets.

If you want to practice the "David and Goliath" method of cooking eggs, there'll be plenty of ammunition. USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service has included eggs on its Plentiful Foods List. Here are some serving suggestions featuring plentiful eggs to help satisfy your family's "Goliath-like" fall appetites.

Eggs Benedict with Hollandaise Sauce

4 poached eggs
4 slices Canadian bacon, grilled lightly
2 large English muffins, split, toasted and buttered
Hollandaise sauce
To poach eggs, have enough water in shallow saucepan to cover the eggs by at least 1 inch. Bring water to boiling point, then reduce to hold temperature just below simmering. Break eggs one at a time into a cup. Bring edge of cup to the surface of water and slip egg into water quickly. Hold below the simmering point 3 to 5 minutes, depending on the firmness desired. Remove egg with slotted pancake turner, or a skimmer. Drain thoroughly on absorbent paper. To serve, place atop bacon slices on toasted muffins. Top with Hollandaise sauce.

Hollandaise Sauce

2 egg yolks
Dash of cayenne pepper
1-8 tsp. paprika
Dash of salt
1-2 cup melted butter
1 to 1 1/2 T. lemon juice

Place yolks in small bowl. Beat until very thick. Add seasonings. Pour in half the butter, slowly, beating constantly. When well thickened, beat in remaining butter and lemon juice, alternately, adding lemon juice to taste. Sauce may be prepared in advance. Just before serving, place bowl with sauce over warm water. Heat carefully, not over 3 to 4 minutes. Stir during the heating. Makes 4 servings.

Broccoli Cheese Souffle

1-4 cup quick-cooking tapioca
1-3 cup milk
4 egg whites
1 tsp. salt
1 cup shredded process Cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Combine tapioca, salt and milk in a 1 quart saucepan. Stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Add shredded process cheese and stir until melted. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold in cheese mixture until well-blended. Pour into six individual souffle cups or a 1-2 quart casserole in a pan of hot water. Bake until knife inserted in center comes out clean—about 1 hour.

as many of us are still wanting to feel, separating the "good" (rural) from the "bad" (city). If this situation ever did actually exist, however, it is no longer true. We have the same troubles, the same problems, if we only care to recognize the fact, rather than ostrich-like, bury our heads in the sand and pretend they are not there. Perhaps our problems are not of the magnitude the metropolitan folk experience, but we have them, nevertheless.

We're talking about the drug and dope situation. We may not have the wild-eyed, falling-down addicts we read so much about, but we have the dangerous threat staring us in the face, if we only take the trouble to notice it. And our problems, small as they might appear at the moment, could multiply overnight, and we could be faced with a serious situation. Why? Because people are the same, the nation over, regardless of their geographical locations. Our so-called rural isolation is a myth—today's communication situation, for one thing, has brought everyone closer together, regardless of locality. Our young people are more knowledgeable than ever before in history, more inquisitive, they have the same desires, the same pressures, along with the same opportunities existing in other areas, and are just as susceptible as the "metropolitan kids." And the so-called social levels have nothing to do with it. If we don't recognize that fact, if we refuse to accept the presence of this threat, we are in for trouble.

The trick is to accept the fact that the threat does exist, and to act accordingly. Not with impulsive, unthinking "reaction," but with a calm and studied attitude. If we don't . . .
