HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The Enterprise joins the rest of the community in extending best wishes to Dry Manufacturing Division, Wallace-Murray Corporation, during their open house, Sunday, November 12.

Everyone attending the open house affair will be given an opportunity to join a guided tour of all plant and office facilities, to see the many different steps required in manufacture of the many thousands of registers, grilles and diffusers, from cutting of the big rolls of metal to final assembly, boxing and shipment.

Families and friends of the many employees of the company will have an opportunity to learn a little about the work their husbands, wives and friends do.

For the entire community, this will be an opportunity to see the broadness of this backbone, home-grown industry, and perhaps gain a little insight into the position this company occupies in the overall picture of the community. Visiting in the plant and offices, and talking with the employees who will be on hand, we will recognize that this enterprise is not something separate and apart from the community, but is a part of the community. The people who are associated with this company are people who help make up the community, the same as the salesman, retailer, wholesaler, businessman, insurance man, serviceman, farmer and rancher.

Visiting the plants and offices during the open house, we should be able to recognize not only the contribution this firm makes to the economic stability of the community, but also the contributions made to the human part of the community—our churches, our schools, our organizations—in fact, to every level and facet of the community.

Winters is indeed fortunate.

There are three reasons for being a conservationist: 1. You will help prevent the destruction of the world as we know it. 2. You will save hundreds of endangered species from extermination. 3. You'll have a good reason not to buy your wife a fur coat.

Typical TV weather forecast: "Slightly cloudy, with flooding in low-lying areas."

When the powers that be started fooling around with national holidays, changing them so they would fall each year on Mondays, to conform to the wishes of some who wanted a few more shorter work weeks, very little attention seemingly was paid to the idea of the holidays in the first place.

Take, for example, Armistice Day, November 11. This was the day the shooting stopped to end World War I, and until World War II, and a few years thereafter, was set aside as a day to honor those who fought in that war. Some years ago, the name was changed to Veterans Day to honor veterans of World War I and World War II, and all other wars. Understandable. But the date itself was not changed. When November 11th rolled around each year, whether it fell on Wednesday, Saturday or Monday, this was a day specifically set aside for remembering. And whether we declared a "closing" holiday or not, there was something "different" about it—it was a special day, and most people considered it as such.

Many of us can remember when Armistice Day meant something special. It was a day when there was most always at least some little mention of the

Blizzards Travel To Anson Friday

The Winters Blizzards, following their comeback-style action against Haskell last Friday, however not enough to get them in the win column for District 6-AA competition, travel to Anson this Friday night for their fourth conference game. Kick-off at 7:30.

In workouts this week, the Blizzards have attempted to maintain the momentum they picked up in last week's close game with Haskell. There may be some changes in the Blizzard lineup, but work has not been advanced regarding what changes if any will be made for this game. Injuries are at a minimum, but lack of depth and experience in many positions continue to hamper the Blue squad.

Anson has not had a spectacular season, sporting only a 2-6 record for all year, while the Blizzards have a 3-5 record. The Blizzards have no win in district and the Tigers have only one, their 20-3 defeat of Stamford, to be Winters' final opponents this season.

New Directors Elected By C. of C. Members

Five new directors have been elected by the membership of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, in postcard balloting just completed.

Board members whose terms expire January 1 are Roy Young, Lee Harrison, Mrs. John Gardner, Homer Hodge, and Dr. T. L. Russell.

Holderover directors will be D. C. Bissett, Mrs. W. M. Hays, Bobby Mayo, Bill Griffin and George Beard.

Six Teams In ABCD Tourney

Six teams—24 players—were entered in the ABCD golf tournament held at the Winters Country Club Sunday afternoon. Tournament committee had planned to hold the contests later in November, but conflicting event forced an earlier tournament.

Winning teams were: 1. Pat Wood, Mary Bauer, Joe Emmert, Wayne Owens, 65 for 18 holes. 2. Ricky Dry, Gene Owen, Dale Whitecotton, T. A. McMillan, 67. 3. Lynn Billups, Coot Dry, Bret Billups, Marlene Wood. Herman Baker won the "Closest to hole" on No. 6 green.

Andrews Man Convicted Of Wife's Murder

A guilty verdict of murder with malice was returned at Andrews Monday in the trial of Roy Eugene West Jr., in the 109th District Court.

West was convicted in the slaying of his wife, Pam Gilbert West, 23, on Feb. 16.

Mrs. West was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gilbert of Winters, and was a former resident of Winters.

The jury then spent 40 minutes before deciding on a sentence of 2 years. Formal sentencing is expected within the next 10 days, according to reports. West will remain in Andrews County Jail until formal sentencing.

The prosecution and defense gave final arguments Monday morning. The jury was charged at 1:30 p. m., and returned at 2:15 p. m. to hear previous testimony reread, and returned with the verdict at 3:15 p. m.

Bill Alexander, defense attorney, indicated a new trial will be sought. The defense had called for a mistrial during the first day of the trial last week, but the motion was denied.

Cancer Crusade Workshop Set For Next Tuesday

The North Runnels Unit of the American Cancer Society will hold a Cancer Crusade workshop Tuesday, November 14, from 3:30 to 5 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce office, Mrs. Earl Roach, president of the unit, has announced.

Jim Kramer of San Angelo, field representative for the American Cancer Society, will be present to help instruct Crusade workers.

Crusade workers from all of District 4, which includes North and South Runnels units, and Coleman, will be on hand for the workshop, Mrs. Roach said.

Blizzard Band In Uniform Last Time Friday Nite

Fans of the 130-member Winters Blizzard Band who like to see them march in uniform will have only one more chance to see this spectacle Friday night at Anson, during halftime of the Winters-Anson football game.

Kirke McKenzie, band director, said the band will perform during the Winters-Stamford game next week, but will wear shirts and jeans, saving their uniforms for the UIL contests to be held in Brownwood November 18.

Legion Auxiliary Contributed To Building Repair

The Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion, met Monday night at the Legion Hall, and contributed $125.00 toward costs of repairing the roof, ceiling, and on paneling for the hall.

The Legionnaires did all the repair work during spare time, working at night.

The Ladies Auxiliary also contributed $18.60 to the Veterans Hospital at Kerrville for Christmas, and $5.00 to the Winters Public Library.

Dry Manufacturing Plant To Hold Open House Sunday Afternoon

Dry Manufacturing Division, Wallace-Murray Corporation, Winters, will hold open house at the main office and in all plants Sunday afternoon, November 12.

The open house affair was conceived as a method of acquainting the public with the overall operation of the company, show the many different steps necessary for manufacture of registers, grilles and diffusers, and to give employees an opportunity to show their families something about their jobs, Hal Dry, general manager of the division, said.

The open house will begin at 2 p. m., and continue until 4 p. m. Guided tours will be conducted through all offices and plants. The main office, tool and die shop, and stamping department are located on North Melwood Street. Assembly departments, paint department, and warehouse and shipping are located on West Dale Street (old Wingate highway).

Personnel will be present in all departments to explain the different operations. Visitors may enter the main offices through the main door on North Melwood. Entrance to the stamping department and tool and die department will be at the northeast of the building, fronting on Melwood. At the big plant on the south side of West Dale Street, visitors will be asked to use the entrance on the west end of the building. The aluminum fabrication department, on the north side of West Dale, may be entered from the main door of the building.

Visitors to the Winters manufacturing plant will have an opportunity to see the entire operation, from the tool and die shop where master dies are made, through the section where the big rolls of metal are cut to desired sizes, the stamping department where the metal sheets are shaped, the spot-welding department where the separate pieces are put together, the final assembly lines, the paint department, and finally the finishing and shipping departments.

Refreshments will be served in several departments during the afternoon.

Everyone, whether they have friends or members of the family working at the Winters plant, is invited to attend this open house affair.

Housing Authority Seeking More Applicants For Housing Project

Ten families already have been assigned to units in the new housing development of the Winters Housing Authority, and the housing board is asking those who have indicated an interest in renting the units to contact the office and make formal application as quickly as possible.

The housing development, which includes 30 units for the elderly and 16 for low-income families, was accepted by the Authority several days ago. The project has been completed, except for landscaping work which has been held up by the weather.

Oliver Wood, executive secretary for the Authority, said he has several names listed as interested in the housing, and that these should come in at once and complete applications.

The 30 units designated for the elderly, near the downtown section, are all one-bedroom units. They have gas ranges and refrigerators. Panel heating heaters provide central heating units. There is a small utility room, and an off-street parking space at each unit.

A large 22x30 community room, including kitchen facilities, is available to any occupant of the downtown section of the development, for parties, family reunions, and meetings.

1772 Bales In

Weather continues to be a factor in harvest of the 1972 cotton crop. Many farmers still are waiting for a hard killing frost to defoliate their cotton. Foliage and stalks are so heavy, reports indicate in some instances, several heavy frosts will be needed to completely defoliate.

Only 1772 bales had been brought in to Winters Warehouse from North Runnels Gins by Monday morning.

Sixteen Blizzard Band Students Seated In All-District Band

Sixteen members of the Winters High School Blizzard Band were named to the All-District Band in UIL contests in Ballinger Saturday.

Approximately 170 students representing eleven schools participated in the contests.

Dusty Nichols was named first chair baritone in the All-District Band, and others who placed in various chairs were Jay Henderson, Mickie Clark, Barbara Fairry, David Carey, Paul C. Gerhardt, Becky Bryan, Ricky Mathis, John Parramore, Bubba Brown, Donna Barker, Mary Beth Jacob, Kay Schwartz, Mike Hamner, Wesley Wharton and Trish Hill.

Alternates chosen included Marvin Clark, Lou Ann Cole, Glen Colburn and Teri Statham.

Phone Company Asks Rate Raise

An application for increased local telephone service rates has been presented to the Winters City Council by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Information concerning the application was delivered to city officials November 1, according to Goss.

The City Council, in a regular meeting Monday night, took no action on the request for rate increases. The matter will be studied, officials said.

The last rate increase in Winters was June 21, 1971, it was stated by the telephone company.

"The increase granted at that time was approximately half that which was needed to insure expansion of local facilities and continued efficient service," Goss said.

The rate of return on invested capital on telephone rates at the time of the 1971 increase was 5.15 percent, the company said.

The increase granted improved this figure less than 1 percent, or to only 5.72 percent, they claimed. The proposed telephone rates would raise the earnings to 7.30 percent, the company said.

"Steadily increasing operating expenses, along with increased investment in new facilities have made the rate increase necessary," Goss said. "We have been able to absorb most of the inflationary cost of doing business for the past year by greater operating efficiencies. However, in order to attract Bill Griffin, left, and Hal Dry look over plans for a new electro-static painting department which is planned for the West Dale plant, and is expected to be completed sometime next spring. Griffin is controller of Dry Division, and Dry is a Wallace-Murray vice president and general manager of the Dry Division.

Phone Company Asks Rate Raise

Without adequate telephone rates, expansion and improvement of telephone service is impossible," the division manager stated. "Good earnings and good service are inseparable. No business can succeed in meeting the expanding needs of its customers without good earnings to finance its ability to meet those expanding needs—and we are no exception."

School classes and organizations, church groups, clubs, businesses and individuals are being urged to begin planning now to build floats for entry in the big annual Winters Christmas Parade, to be held Friday, December 1. Early planning will give everyone plenty of time to be ready for the parade, the Chamber of Commerce said.

Big cash prizes will be offered for floats judged first, second and third in the parade. First place will receive $50; second, $30, and third, $20. A Christmas theme is required for entry in the parade competition.

There also will be a division strictly for children, with prizes of $15, $10, and $5. Kiddies may enter as groups, singles, with bicycles, tricycles, wagons, riding or walking. All will be judged in a single division.

Four bands from the Winters schools will be in the parade, which will begin at 4 p. m. Kirke McKenzie, band director, will parade the high school Blizzard Marching Band, the Junior High Band, the Sixth Grade (Cadet) Band, and the Fifth Grade Band. Last year was the first time a fifth grade band had appeared publicly in Winters, and probably in this section of the country, according to Director McKenzie.

Floats may be registered at the Chamber of Commerce office, and parade sponsors encourage early entry to insure a well-planned parade.

October's Rainfall Highest In Past Twelve Years; 6.41 Inches

Rainfall received in Winters during October, 1972, was the highest recorded for the past twelve years, in the same month, according to figures compiled by Roy Rice, official weather observer for the U. S. Weather Department.

A total of 6.41 inches was received in Winters proper, measured by the official gauge. Unofficial totals in the surrounding areas, and even in different sections of the city, varied, with upwards of 8 inches reported in some instances.

Next highest rainfall recorded during October in the past twelve years was in 1971, when 4.87 inches was recorded. In October, 1967, no rainfall was officially recorded.

October's 6.41 inches brings the year's total rainfall for Winters to 23.62 inches.

Schools Dismiss Early Friday For Anson Game

Classes at Winters Public School will be dismissed at 3 p. m., so the football team, band and students may go to Anson for the football game.

Buses will leave on regular routes at 3 p. m. in order to return to the school in time to take the team to Anson.

AROUND THE 6-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

Ballinger and Hamlin are the only undefeated teams in conference play in District 6-AA, following Ballinger 33-0 win over Anson Friday night, and Hamlin's complete 45-0 rout over the Stamford Bulldogs.

Haskell is a 2-1 third placer, with Anson holding a 1-2 and Winters and Stamford yet to come up with a conference win.

The Ballinger Bearcats, who had little luck outside their 20-0 win over Brady in non-conference play, have been making their weight felt where it counts, in district competition. They almost ran Anson off the field Friday night, 33-0, gaining more than 500 yards to about 118 for the Tigers, according to the published stats, to come out 33-0 winner.

Hamlin, without a win in non-conference, also has showed muscle in counting games, rushed and passed for more than 300 yards against Stamford Friday night, holding the Bulldogs to about 166 yards total. Hamlin scored in every quarter, without allowing Stamford to cross even once during the night, for a final 45-0 score.

The exciting game in the district Friday night was the Winters-Haskell get-together on Blizzard Field. It was nip and tuck all evening, with the Blizzards playing one of their best games of the season. The two teams were very close in yards gained and first downs, on the stat sheet, but Haskell got that extra oomph for a touchdown and two point conversion to sew it up in the fourth. Winters held the edge for three quarters, but the final 21-14 kept the Blizzards in the no-win column for district thus far.

The game of the week for this week will be the Ballinger-Hamlin tilt, to be played on Bearcat ground. One of the two district leaders is going to have to lose this one, and take the No. 2 spot.

Winters travels to Anson this week, for another stab at getting in the win column, while Stamford hosts Haskell.

Blizzards Edged 21-14 By Haskell In Conference Game Friday Night

Haskell's Indians came from behind in the fourth quarter to best the Blizzards 21-14 Friday night at Blizzard Stadium.

Winters, showing more offensive sparkle than in their past four games, put together a 65-yard scoring drive early in the first quarter. Quarterback Oscar Torres effectively varied the calls to his three backs, Fred DeLaCruz, Jerry Mack Jackson, and Lee Choate. It appeared that the Blizzards would have to settle for a field goal when their drive bogged down on the Indian eight yard line. But two successive penalties against Haskell moved the ball to the two, and from there Jackson took it in for the score. Choate's kick was good for a 7-0 score.

Haskell immediately retaliated with their own 60-yard scoring march for a tie score of 7-7. The Indians scored again early in the second quarter; the attempted two-point conversion was no good, and the scoreboard read 13-7, Haskell. Later in the period the Blizzard defense had their backs to the goal line at their own three yard line and were able to keep the Indians from tallying the score.

The Blizzards came on strong in the third quarter, capping a 63-yard drive with the go-ahead touchdown. Jackson and Choate were the main ball carriers, as the Blizzards moved with precision. Torres took it the final yard for his first touchdown of the season. Choate's kick was good, and the score at the end of the third quarter was 14-13, Winters. But Haskell got it on again in the fourth quarter for the final touchdown of the game and a 21-14 score. The final Blizzard offensive effort bogged down on two motion penalties and an intercepted pass.

High defensive marks go to: Torres, Mitch Davis, Rickey Mathis, and Glenn Hoppe. Mathis and Barry Marks are credited with good work on the offensive line.

Postal Service Sets Guidelines For Christmas Parcels, Letter Mail

Because total mail volume is increased about 50 percent during the Christmas mailing season, and such an increase is bound to cause some delay in delivery, the U. S. Postal Service has issued guidelines to be followed in sending parcels and letters during the period, especially to overseas addresses.

One recommended date already has passed, for mailing of surface mail to the Near East. November 1 was the suggested deadline date for such mail, but even though that date already has passed, the Postal Service will do everything possible to see that deliveries are made on time.

Some domestic mail, may be sent as late as December 21, and still probably will be delivered, according to the guidelines. This would be air mail to all points within the U. S., excluding Alaska and Hawaii. Surface mail to these points would have to be sent no later than December 21 for letters, and December 10 for parcels.

The following condensed schedule lists dates recommended for consideration by customers of the Postal Service in sending mail and parcels before Christmas:

Mail for armed forces overseas: Canada, Arctic Greenland, Labrador, Newfoundland: Airmail, Dec. 8; Parcel airlift (PAL), Nov. 30; Space available mail (SAM), Nov. 24; surface, Nov. 24.

—South and Central America: Airmail, Dec. 1; PAL, Nov. 17; SAM, Nov. 11; Surface, Nov. 11.

—Europe: Airmail, Dec. 11; PAL, Dec. 1; SAM, Nov. 27; surface, Nov. 11.

—Africa: Airmail, Dec. 9; PAL, Nov. 17; SAM, Nov. 11; surface, Nov. 11.

—Far East, Australia, Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Philippines, Taiwan, Thailand, Vietnam: Airmail, Dec. 1; PAL, Nov. 27; SAM, Nov. 20; surface, Oct. 27.

Domestic mails: Surface Parcels, Dec. 10; letters, Dec. 15; airmail, parcels, Dec. 20; letters, Dec. 21.

Alaska and Hawaii: Surface, Parcels, Nov. 30; letters, Dec. 15; airmail, parcels, Dec. 20; letters, Dec. 20.

Postal Service patrons with questions concerning types of mail, and expected delivery time, may contact the local post office for additional information.

City officials have been provided detailed information in the rate brochure which explains the price commission criteria for increases in utility rates.

Goss said the criteria an increase must meet includes: that it is cost justified and does not reflect future inflationary expectations; it is the minimum required to assure continued, adequate and safe service; and it will achieve the minimum rate of return needed to attract capital at reasonable costs and not impair the credit of the utility.

HEIDENHEIMER'S

November Is Special Food, Fiber Month

To recognize the contribution made by the agricultural industry in Texas, the month of November has been designated as Food and Fiber Abundance Month.

This celebration was the idea of many people involved in the agricultural industry including farmers, ranchers and agribusiness people, according to Charles G. Scruggs, editor of a farm magazine, and chairman of the state organization sponsoring the celebration. Scruggs said, "Never in the history of the world have so few fed so many so well with such a selection of foods. The average farmer in the U. S. today raises enough food to feed himself and forty-five other people."

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, Home Demonstration Agent of Runnels County, will serve as chairman of the Food and Fiber Abundance Month activities in Runnels County. Mrs. O'Connor said "While telling the story of agriculture it must also be mentioned that no nation provides the consumers with food as cheaply as we do in the United States for the average family spends only sixteen and one-half percent of its income on food."

W. H. Meischen, executive director, Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas and State coordinator for the celebration, commented, "Perhaps the most significant fact is that we need only five percent of our entire population to provide this food and fiber. The other ninety-five percent are free to pursue other vocations that in turn help to make our standard of living something that every other nation can very well envy."

Dry Plant Employs About 400 People In 3 Buildings

Approximately 400 people are employed in the offices and three plants of Dry Manufacturing Division, Wallace-Murray Corporation, with peak employment reaching about 530.

The Winters division manufactures grilles, registers and diffusers used in residential and commercial air conditioning and heating systems, and ships its products to practically all 50 states, with some export.

The company annually produces from 3.5 to 4 million individual units, 14,757 sizes in 138 types of grilles, registers and diffusers. More than 9 million pounds of aluminum and steel are used annually.

The Winters division owns its own fleet of trucks to transport products from the plant to distributors over a wide area, even into California. In addition, common carriers are used to move hundreds of thousands of the units.

Main offices of Dry Division are located on North Melwood, in the same building housing the

The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Winters High School.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1971 graduate of Winters High School and attended Western Texas College.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Shott Will Celebrate 65th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Shott will be honored at a reception Sunday, November 12, at their home, 560 East Wood Street, in observation of their 65th wedding anniversary.

The children of the couple will host the affair, and friends of the family are invited to call between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

tool and die department and the metal stamping department. A larger plant is located on West Dale Street, which houses fabrication, assembly, painting and warehouse facilities. The shipping department also is located in the West Dale plant. During the past several months, extensive additions have been made at the West Dale plant, with additional floor space, new painting facilities, extra assembly lines, and covered shipping docks.

The aluminum section is located across the street north of the big West Dale plant. Here, all aluminum units are assembled and prepared for shipment.

The Winters division started as Dry Manufacturing Co., in 1958. First plant was located in a building on Tinkle Street, just off South Main. That building is now occupied by part of general Aviation Industries. In January of 1959, the plant was moved to a small building on North Melwood. For some years, offices and plant were located under one roof, until a larger plant was erected on West Dale, and then later another building constructed on the north side of West Dale. That building, too, has undergone enlargement in the past several months.

In January, 1970, Dry Manufacturing Company became a division of Wallace-Murray Corporation, a nationwide company with several manufacturing divisions.

Burleson Announces Summer Job Exams

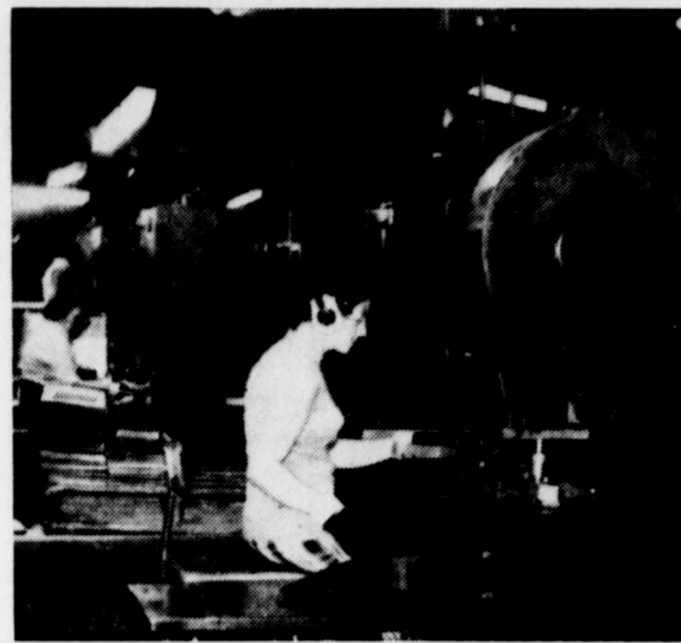

Washington, D. C.—Congressman Omar Burleson (D-Tex) said today that the Civil Service Commission is now receiving applications for the 1973 competitive examination for summer employment with the United States Government. The examination leads to eligibility for appointment to most temporary summer jobs at Grades GS-1 through 5, and also Postal Service Clerk-Carrier PS-5.

Those who are interested in the summer jobs covered may apply to take the written test on or before three filing dates—November 24, 1972, December 29, 1972 and January 26, 1973. Representative Burleson stressed that applications for the written test postmarked after January 26, 1973, will not be accepted. If you miss the last test, you can not be considered for jobs filled by this application and for maximum consideration, you should apply as soon as possible.

The Congressman noted that applicants rated eligible in 1972 need not take the written test again unless they wish to improve their scores. They will automatically receive a special form to update their qualifications and indicate their availability for employment in 1973.

Any application forms needed to apply for jobs described in Civil Service Announcement No. 414 may be obtained from most college placement offices and U. S. Civil Service Commission Area Offices.

Copies of Announcement No. 414, entitled "Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies," which provides complete information about summer job opportunities in Federal Agencies, are currently available on request through Congressman Burleson's Washington office, located in Room 2369 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Stamping Department

These big machines, equipped with dies, stamp component parts for registers and grilles from sheets of metal. Operators wear ear covers for protection against the constant crashing sounds of the machines in the stamping plant on North Melwood. Steel is received in large rolls, and is cut to specified sheet sizes by special trimming and cutting machines. The flat steel then is hauled by forklift trucks to designated stamping machines.

New Paint System Being Planned By Dry Manufacturing Division

A new "electro-deposition" painting system is being planned by Dry Manufacturing Division, Wallace-Murray Corporation, to be erected at the big West Dale plant. The new system will be in operation late next spring.

The new system will use electricity to paint all grilles, registers and diffusers manufactured by the division, actually electroplating each unit, and electrically drying and baking each piece. The system will do away with the present spraying method.

Units to be painted will be hung on a traveling chain 1164 feet long, travel through several washes, and then into the electro-deposition ovens. Every exposed area of each unit will be charged with electricity, making paint particles cling permanently to the metal surface. The system will eliminate excess paint loss and prevent pollution of air and water. The water used for the several washes will be re-used after paint particles are removed.

With this system, there will be no need for paint department workers to wear protective masks while spraying paint. Each paint oven will be inaccessible while in operation, and a door being opened will automatically cut off all electrical contact in the painting compartment, eliminating danger to workmen.

Company spokesmen said the installation of the electro-deposition painting system will increase production and provide a better-painted product.

Farmers Losing Crops and Stock May Get Help

Texas farmers and ranchers who have suffered crop, livestock, or property losses from a natural disaster since June 30, 1971, may be eligible for benefits from Public Law 92-385, J. Lynn Futch, State Director of Farmers Home Administration—Texas, announced today.

Provisions of this law, signed by President Nixon on August 16, 1972, are now fully operative, Futch said.

Benefits are divided into two time frames:
1. Farmers and ranchers who received loans from Farmers Home Administration as the result of losses due to a natural disaster that occurred between June 30 and December 31, 1971, may be eligible for a cancellation of up to $5000 of the principal of the loan. Interest on the remaining loan would be three percent.

2. Those who received loans as the result of losses from natural disaster that occurred after December 31, 1971, are also eligible for a cancellation of up to $5,000. Interest on the outstanding balance would be charged at one percent.

Futch emphasized that it is not necessary for those who are entitled to benefits to contact the local FHA office. These are blanket provisions applicable to all who have received loans, and each will be contacted and told of the action he should take.

Futch also advises that any farmer or rancher who receives an Emergency Loan from Farmers Home Administration between now and June 30, 1973, may have up to the first $5,000 of the loan cancelled, with the balance at one percent interest rate. The amount of cancellation is limited to the loss or damage not compensated by insurance or otherwise.

SHORT SNORTS

State Bar of Texas proposed to establish a clients' security fund to repay people bilked by dishonest lawyers.

Ninety-three graduated from the DPS Law Enforcement Academy and received state patrolmen's commissions.

Texas Animal Health Commission placed portions of Kleberg and Nueces counties under quarantine against movement of cattle and horses, soil and hay due to a cattle fever tick outbreak.

"Good Morning!"

Mrs. George (Cleo) Brown is the first person to greet visitors to the main offices of Dry Manufacturing Division on North Melwood. The receptionist handles the telephone switchboard, in addition to distributing mail and preparing outgoing invoices.

End of the Line

These completed grilles have just completed a long journey through the cleaning and painting department in the West Dale plant. They are removed from the conveyor chain and sent down a moving belt to be wrapped and prepared for shipment. Several types of grilles and registers may be on the conveyor chain at one time, loaded just behind the photographer.

by BABSON'S REPORTS INC.

FUTURE OF RUBBER INDUSTRY

Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Most of the outstanding tire companies experienced an encouraging rebound in sales and earnings during 1971, and a continuation of this uptrend has been seen thus far in the current year. Looking across the threshold into 1972, the Research Department of Babson's Reports expects still another period of good business for the rubber industry. There are a number of compelling reasons for this optimism. One factor is the heartening outlook for the automobile market next year, with the probability of another record for car and truck production. More cars on the road mean heightened sales of tires, not only for vehicles just turned out but for those older models requiring replacements. More stringent state auto inspections also result in increased tire sales. Demand for higher-margined and higher-priced tires is on the upward track, due at least in part to the safety-oriented attitude of today's consumers. In addition, there are the natural repercussions of the greatly improved economic climate.

NO NEW RUNAWAY EXPENSES

A few years ago tire makers suffered the high costs of changing over to production of bias-ply tires. While profits were temporarily marred by these heavy outlays, the companies involved knew they were going to reap the rewards later on from this pace-setter. And this has taken place. Some observers fear that another costly change-over is on the way to establish facilities for producing radial tires. We do not, however, anticipate such need. Rather, we expect that the alteration will be gradual.

Thus far, radial tires are featured as standard equipment only on certain luxury-model cars. They are, in fact, largely restricted to the optional-

A labor force is the key to any enterprise, especially one the size of Dry Manufacturing Division. equipment category. The bias-ply construction is still the standard tire turned out by companies today and used by the auto manufacturers. This type is getting the bulk of the new and a fair part of the replacement markets. The phase-in of radials will, in our opinion, take time, depending on the eventual desires of the auto manufacturers than on the rubber firms.

INVESTMENT CHANGES COMING

Even the favorable financial results of this year and last have not brought about comparable strength in the equities of tire companies. This is due to a number of unanswered questions bothering investors. One of these in the aforementioned change-over to radial-ply tire production, a possibility we find overstressed as we have indicated. Other concerns include effects of long-wearing tires on replacement markets, the cost of government-mandated tire registry, and the likelihood of increased labor costs when present union agreements expire next year and are replaced by more expensive provisions.

Babson's Research Department finds these problems less menacing than some investors do. As earnings and sales gains continue, we anticipate a healthier uptrend for the stocks of major tire firms. Even the longer-wearing tires should not hurt the future of the industry since the increasing mileage, horsepower, and speed of today's cars are resulting in heavier tire wear. And the tougher safety regulations are forcing more replacement sales. The net effect should, in fact, be to the benefit of the tire companies.

TIRE STOCK PROSPECTS

Among the tire fabricator stocks supervised by Babson's Reports, retention is recommended for the common issues of Goodyear, Goodrich, General, and Armstrong. For those interested in taking on representation in the rubber industry, we recommend purchase of the common stocks of Firestone and Uniroyal for capital appreciation. Both these firms are leaders in the production of tires, and should reflect the expected improvement in this field.

Tool and Die

Monroe Boles, tool and die maker, sets up machine for making a die for a grill. In most instances, several dies are made for each register or grille, to speed production. The hard steel dies are installed on the big stamping machines, and must be milled to fine specifications so that all parts fit perfectly once all pieces of a specified model are assembled and spot welded. The tool and die department is located in the North Melwood complex. Stamping department is also in this building.

source of the hog cholera virus and is unlawful.

Parker outlines the hog cholera eradication procedures as follows:

1. Destruction of all infected and exposed herds, with indemnities paid to owners.
2. State and federal quarantines of areas where infection is discovered.
3. Investigation and traceback on all cases of hog cholera to locate and eliminate the source of the disease and any possible spread.
4. Tight enforcement of shipping rules and market regulations. This will include veterinary inspection at markets and inspection of garbage-feeding operations.

Significant strides have been made in recent years to eliminate hog cholera from this county, notes Parker. However, as long as a trace of the virus disease remains, the potential and danger for continued outbreaks of hog cholera remains. Nothing less than an all-out effort by the entire pork industry and state and federal governments is essential to eradicate the costly swine disease.

COUNTY AGENT'S
WEEKLY NOTES

Cold Weather Needed to Curb Screwworms

Colder weather can't come soon enough for most Texas livestock producers. A change to cold weather would be a big help in slowing screwworm outbreaks across the state.

But until a hard freeze comes—and it may be weeks away in some locations—checking animals and treating all wounds is still as important as ever, says County Extension Agent Parker.

Approved screwworm remedies are available as dusts, smears, and aerosols. Coumaphos and ronnel water sprays are also effective in protecting wounds against screwworm invasion and in killing worms in infested wounds.

The importance of checking animals regularly cannot be overemphasized, contends Parker. Each and every type of wound should be treated because one drop of blood will attract a screwworm fly. All punctures such as those made by ear tags or biting insects such as ticks should be treated.

Parker cautions livestock producers against performing any surgical operations on animals until after cold weather arrives. Castrating, dehorning and other similar operations are an open invitation for the screwworm fly.

Since horn flies, ticks and lice are attacking livestock in some locations, he suggests using the coumaphos or ronnel spray when treating animals for these pests since either will also provide protection against screwworms.

As long as screwworm flies remain active, livestock producers must keep their guard up, says Parker. This is no time to relax and wait for cold weather. It will come in due time.

National Emergency Declared On Hog Cholera

Swine producers in Rannels County should take special note that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has declared a national emergency due to hog cholera. The action was taken to protect the consumer's supply of pork products, points out County Extension Agent Parker.

To provide further protection, the USDA also recently banned imports of live hogs and fresh pork from countries where the disease exists.

Recent outbreaks of the swine disease in a number of mid-western and southeastern states threaten the nation's $4.5 billion pork industry. However, there have been no outbreaks in Texas since July 28 and all state and federal quarantines have been lifted.

Yet the USDA still lists Texas along with Nebraska, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, New Jersey, North Carolina and South Carolina as those states that are not "hog cholera free."

As part of the emergency action by the USDA, regulations have been changed to increase the federal share of indemnity from 50 to 75 percent in infested states, provided these states maintain an adequate identification system for feeder and breeder swine. State indemnity is set at 25 percent for infested states.

Parker points out that by declaring a national emergency, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to acquire funds and people necessary to carry out an all-out disease eradication campaign against hog cholera.

The agent calls on all swine producers to lend their full support of the eradication effort by promptly reporting any sickness in their herds to their local veterinarian.

He especially cautions producers against feeding raw garbage to swine. Feeding of uncooked garbage is a prime

Each member will automatically have protection on the effective date provided he has properly posted his property. Signs will be available from the County Farm Bureau at a cost of seventy cents each.

In addition to the sign, the member may elect to purchase name plates that may be attached to the sign. These cost an additional seventy five cents each. Decals for automobiles, trucks and other vehicles will be provided at no cost to the member.

The county Farm Bureau will be responsible for completing a form furnished to them for the purpose of reporting information leading to the arrest and final conviction under the program.

The Farm Bureau insurance adjuster will investigate and send the report with further information to the state office. The $200 check will be sent
