HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Far-flung Fame: Mary Bauer of Winters recently made a tour of Europe. While in a ladies' lounge in Paris, France, she became engaged in conversation with another American lady. The other lady, also from Texas, asked Mary where she lived.

"Aw, it's just a small place you've probably never heard of—Winters, in West Central Texas," Mary replied.

"Oh!" exclaimed the lady. "That's the place they have the good high school band!"

Most of Winters' pecan trees have been reluctant in giving up their leaves, and just a little stingy in releasing their fruit. Some, of course, have already let the pecans go and have shed most leaves, but for the most part, they've let Mother Nature take her time, and have released the nuts in a leisurely manner, as they completed the growth cycle. You don't rush things like that; they'll give up only when they're good and ready, and not before.

Until . . . the big wind hit Sunday night, that is. Then came the conflict between two elements of nature—the trees trying their best to hold onto their leaves and nuts until the proper time, and the winds howling and grasping and shaking. Then the trees gave up, releasing many of their leaves, and letting the wind strip the fruit Monday morning. There were few nuts left on any of the trees—they were scattered over a wide area, in the streets and across the lawns. Not all the leaves were blown off, but scarcely any pecans were left to fall naturally after the high winds had subsided.

It's surprising how far the strong winds can throw pecans. A neighbor across the street must have thought it was hail, as pecans from our trees were thrown more than a hundred feet to hit against the side of his house.

Pecan tree owners were busy Monday morning trying to gather what they could of their scattered crops, which were light anyway. But many of the nuts, which could have been saved, had been dashed against hard pavement of the streets by the high winds and ruined. And many more which could have been saved were crushed by early morning traffic before they could be gathered up.

It's the same situation every year, however, wind or no wind. Many of the nuts from trees lining the streets fall onto the pavement and are crushed before they can be picked up. It can't be helped. We wonder how many hundreds of pounds of nuts are lost each year in this manner? And we wonder if anybody could come up with a close estimate of the number of tons of pecans harvested from Winters thousands of trees in a normal year? We'd guess the total would be high.

If you can get loose, you would enjoy attending the marching band contests in Brownwood Saturday. The Blizzard Band will march at 3:40, and your presence there would give them a big boost toward winning a First Division.

Blizzard Band To Contests In Brownwood Saturday

The Winters High School Blizzard Band, 134 strong, under the direction of Kirke McKenzie, will begin their annual three-step quest for a band Sweepstakes Award Saturday, as they participate in marching contests at Brownwood.

The other two phases of competition, concert performance and sight reading, will be held sometime next spring.

The Winters band is scheduled to march at 3:40 Saturday afternoon. They will practice their maneuvers on the local practice fields earlier in the afternoon prior to going to Brownwood.

Director McKenzie said there will be 15 Class AA bands in the marching contests. Bands will not compete against one another, but will be judged individually on their performance, in trying for First Division honors. More than one band can receive First Division honors.

The contests will be held at the new Brownwood Stadium, on the south edge of Brownwood near the hospital. McKenzie said. All fans of the Winters band are urged to attend to boost the Blizzard Band. The Blizzard Band will be the last band to march in the Class AA division.

Judges for the marching contests will be band directors, Joe Rogers of New Braunfels High School, Dub Crane, and Douglas Fry, of Robert Lee High School.

In addition to the 15 Class AA bands, there will be 13 Class A bands, one Class B band, one Class C band, and three Class CC bands.

Stamford Team Here Friday Nite

The Winters Blizzards meet the Stamford Bulldogs on Blizzard Field Friday night, as the regular 1972 football season winds down. Kickoff at 7:30 p. m.

This will be the last game of a ten-game regular season for both teams; the first five games were non-conference games.

The Blizzards go into this game with a 1-3 record for district play, and 4-5 for the season. They won their first district game last week, defeating Anson 35-12.

This will be the first conference meeting between Winters and Stamford since they were assigned to separate districts for two years; they were returned to the same district this year for a two-year period.

Stamford, usually a powerhouse in any district to which they are assigned, has fallen upon bad times this year. The Bulldogs have only one win in nine outings—they defeated Breckenridge 18-6 in their second game of the season, and have a 1-8 record for the year and a 0-4 for district play.

Former Wingate Resident, Wife, Teaching School In West Africa

A former resident of Wingate, and his wife, are serving with the Peace Corps to introduce practical farming and home-making techniques into the traditional elementary school curriculum in Cove, Dahomey, West Africa.

Fred Dooley, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Dooley, formerly of Wingate, teaches gardening, farming, animal husbandry and nursery practices to youngsters at 10 elementary schools near the town of Cove in southern Dahomey.

The Alfred Dooleys lived in Wingate for several years where he was superintendent of schools, and where Fred also attended school. They moved some years ago to Christoval, and this year to Quemada, N. M.

Fred's wife, Linda, 23, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Aaron Williams of Littlefield, teaches the school girls nutrition and cooking, based on local foods and the new vegetables her husband is introducing in the school gardens.

Both the Peace Corps Volunteers are graduates of Rice University in Houston. They were assigned by the Peace Corps to Dahomey's ministry of education in bringing basic agricultural and homemaking knowledge into the formal school system.

Only a minority of children in the French-speaking coastal country attend elementary school.

Dooley said the program is set up to give children an interest in agriculture and the "idea that it is not degrading to practice agriculture."

The Dooleys travel by truck or motorbike from their home in Cove to the ten schools within a 38-kilometer radius. Visiting each school at least once a week becomes a challenge during Dahomey's rainy season, when the red dirt roads are filled with ruts and puddles. When the rains wash out the roads leading to some of their schools, the Dooleys wade, carrying the bikes.

The children spend more time than required working in the gardens they plant under Dooley's teaching, and are working as models for the rest of the villages, Dooley said.

Mrs. Dooley works with the older girls at each of the elementary schools, teaching sewing, child care, cooking and nutrition. In her cooking demonstration she shows how to prepare vegetables grown in the school garden and how to boost the nutritional value of traditional foods. In child care classes, she teaches the girls to add protein-rich fish flour to cereal for infants.

The Dooley's both teach in French, the official language of Dahomey. The Peace Corps trained them in advanced French before sending them to Africa.

Turkey

He's courageous, freedom-loving, gregarious, vain about his appearance, boastful in the presence of ladies and inclined to over-indulgence and overweight. He's American through and through.

This might sound like your Uncle Fred—but actually it describes a typical Thanksgiving turkey. With all its faults, the turkey is still the best loved fare during the holiday season. Other things may change—the trimmings, the method of cooking the bird, even the family gathering place but the turkey continues to symbolize the spirit of Thanksgiving.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reports an abundant supply of the highly acclaimed "King of Thanksgiving" will be available for your Thanksgiving table. New crop turkey marketings in November are expected to be about 5 percent (14 million pounds) more than in November, 1971. Because of the seasonal aspects of turkey marketing, this represents a substantial increase in production and indicates abundant supplies at prices favorable to consumers. Since most Americans don't cook turkey quite as often as their families would like and since Thanksgiving Day is no time to blow your cool in the kitchen, here are some pointers to help assure a Thanksgiving success:

The successful Thanksgiving feast starts long before the oven is turned on. Take your time in selecting the right turkey for your family.

Two ways to thaw frozen turkey: All frozen turkeys should be thawed slowly; the slower the thawing the better the aging. Follow turkey bag directions, or: defrost on tray in refrigerator in original, partly opened plastic bag, allowing 2 to 4 days, or 24 hours' thawing time for each 5 pounds of turkey. Or thaw in original unopened plastic bag in cool water for 4 to 8 hours, changing water frequently. Allow about 2 hours thawing time for each 5 pounds of turkey. (Never use warm or hot water). Prompt cooking of a fresh or thawed turkey is best. However, it can be kept for 2 to 3 days, wrapped loosely in foil, in a refrigerator. Do not re-freeze.

Two Ways to Roast a Turkey

- Breast-Up Method: Place prepared turkey breast up in a shallow roasting pan. Cover breast and tops of thighs loosely with aluminum foil or a double layer of cheesecloth that has been saturated with melted butter. This keeps turkey from becoming too brown and aids in keeping meat moist. Brush with melted butter or drippings frequently during roasting.
- Breast-Down Method: For moister breast meat, place prepared turkey breast-down on V-shape rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast until done. While breast is up, protect with foil or cheesecloth as above to prevent overbrowning. Brush frequently with drippings.

To Tell When Turkey is Done: Test for doneness about 30 minutes before timetable indicates. When turkey is done, thickest part of the drumstick feels soft when pressed between protected fingers and leg joint moves freely when drumstick is twisted. For greater certainty use a roast meat thermometer! Insert into thickest part of breast or thigh muscle, being careful that bulb does not touch bone. Turkey is done when thermometer registers 185 degrees F. The successful Thanksgiving Day feast—with a little common sense and caution, your Thanksgiving feast will be fit for a king. After all, what would be more fitting for a king than the "King of Thanksgiving"—a delicious, plump and tasty turkey.

Pompage and self-satisfied are adjectives frequently attributed to that regal bird the turkey.

But turkeys have good reason to strut this fall. They are especially big supply, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Turkey, one of our protein foods, is appearing more and more frequently on the menu. Consumption has risen over the past few years. In 1960, we averaged 6.0 pounds of turkey per person. Last year, the average consumption was up to 8.5 pounds.

One of the reasons for the increase might be the many different sizes and forms of turkey we have available, points out Mrs. O'Connor. Frozen turkey rolls are becoming increasingly popular. And you no longer have to buy a large bird. You can select the size just right for your family.

If you're planning a party, this Turkey Salad Favorite might be just the thing.

2½ qt. (10 cups) cooked turkey—1-2 inch dice, chilled
2 1-2 qts. (10 cups) celery, 1-4 inch dice, chilled
5 cups mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. ground pepper
1-3 cup lemon juice
Salad greens

For garnish: toasted almonds, cranberry jelly, sliced eggs or fresh fruit.

Combine turkey, celery and mayonnaise or salad dressing. Season to taste with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Serve 1-2 cup salad on salad greens on chilled plate or in individual glass salad bowl. Garnish as desired. Makes 20 to 25 servings.

Hash-Wiches

1-2 cup minced onion
2 cups diced turkey
2 T. butter
1-4 cup milk
1 can undiluted cream of celery soup

Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in soup with milk. Add diced turkey and season to taste with black pepper. Heat to serving temperature and portion onto hot buttered toast, broiled English muffin halves, hot biscuits or cornbread. Garnish with a colorful cranberry relish.

Apples and Apple Products

It's not nice to fool Mother Nature—but it's sure fun and tastes great when it comes to fresh apples and apple products. Not so long ago, people cooked their own applesauce from fresh apples, but the only time they could enjoy its flavorful goodness was when apples were in season. The same was true about apple juice and apple cider—the finished product only lasted until the juice eventually turned to vinegar.

Thanks to a fairly recent innovation of the apple industry, controlled atmosphere storage is used to provide consumers with continuous supplies of fresh, high quality apples most of the year.

Canned apple products such as apples and good apple slices are available all year round. We also can buy clarified, pasteurized apple juice that won't turn to vinegar if kept in the sealed container, frozen apple slices, canned whole apples, and artificially colored, spiced apple rings—not to mention apple butter and apple jelly of consistently good quality.

If you are planning on making your own applesauce or apple juice this fall, right now is the time to select your apples.

Large quantities of fresh apples are moving to market from apple producing areas around the U. S. Although this year's forecasted apple crop of 149 million cartons is just under last year's total, there will still be an abundance of fresh apples available in November.

For those who prefer canned apple products—there is no need to worry. Stocks of canned applesauce and apple juice, one of the most economical of the fruit juices, are more than ample to supply consumer requirements in November.

Cool, creamy applesauce goes great with roast beef, baked chicken and pork chops. But don't forget applesauce as an ingredient to all kinds of luscious baked goods. Try this recipe for:

Fudge Applesauce Cake
1-3 cups softened shortening, butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sifted flour
1-3 cup cocoa
1-2 tsp. soda
1-2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. allspice
1-2 cup chopped nuts
1 cup applesauce
1-4 cup milk

Beat fat and sugar together until creamy; beat in eggs. Combine dry ingredients and mix well. Add nuts. Add dry ingredients to creamy mixture with the applesauce and milk. Stir only until blended. Pour into a greased 9 inch square baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees about 45-50 minutes or until surface is firm when touched lightly. Cool before cutting. Makes 9 servings (3 by 3 inches each).

Applesauce Rum Pudding
2 cups canned applesauce
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup broken walnuts
1 cup seedless raisins
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
1-2 tsp. allspice
4 egg whites, beaten stiff
½ tsp. rum extract
1 tsp. lemon extract
1-2 cup sugar

Combine canned applesauce, brown sugar, walnuts, raisins, rum extract, cinnamon, nutmeg, and allspice; heat. Pour into 1-2 quart casserole. Refrigerate 24 hours. Beat egg whites stiff; add lemon extract and gradually beat in sugar until mixture stands in peaks. Mound meringue in center of a ring or spread over top of applesauce mixture. Bake in 325 degree oven, 15 minutes or until meringue is delicately brown. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

By BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN—The State Legislature which convenes January 9 will be vastly different from the present one which has served through the 1971 regular and four special sessions.

There will be 77 new faces in the 150-member House and 15 new members of the 31-member Senate. (Five of the House newcomers have served before the 1971 session, and six present House members will be serving in the Senate.)

Dolph Briscoe, of course, will succeed Preston Smith as governor, and Bill Hobby will be president of the Senate, succeeding Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. Rep. Price Daniel of Liberty will become Speaker of the House, replacing Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine.

Texas has received $34.8 million in federal matching funds for social services to eligible citizens during the fourth quarter of the 1972 fiscal year.

Smith argues people involved received the same services throughout the year, and the state is entitled to compensation for the first three quarters of fiscal 1972, as well as the last quarter.

...about your SOCIAL SECURITY

Retirement is a most delightful time for many people. It is thought of as a time of leisure and freedom from day to day responsibilities of a job. Unfortunately, it is still necessary to comply with other responsibilities connected with retirement, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager. For example, the social security office should be notified promptly if any change occurs which may affect monthly payments—such as a change in mailing address or going to work for more than $1680 a year. Reporting is necessary when beneficiaries become unable to manage their own funds or die. Dependents and survivors receiving benefits under social security should also report marriage, divorce, adoption, change in school attendance, etc. Reports may be made by mail, in person, or by telephone. A "reporting card" may be obtained from any social security office.

"Failure to make these reports timely could result in overpayments which would have to be paid back to social security," Mr. Talbot concluded.

For more information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. Resi-

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Cure Guaranteed?

Gerald was a born skeptic. When a doctor suggested surgery for the stiffness in his left arm, Gerald demanded a flat guarantee of good results. The doctor, confident of success, gave the guarantee.

But the operation, through no one's fault, turned out to be a failure. Gerald duly sued the doctor on grounds of "breach of contract." And, even though the doctor had done nothing wrong medically, the court ruled that Gerald had a good case.

A doctor, like an engineer or a carpenter, can make a legally binding guarantee if he is so inclined.

Nevertheless, since medicine is not an exact science, this seldom happens. Courts point out that doctors often do—and should—give "therapeutic reassurance" to their patients without intending to make a positive guarantee.

"The doctor's reassurance that his patient will be all right" said one court, "must not be converted into a binding promise by the disappointed or the quarrelsome."

In another case, a doctor remarked to his patient that a certain treatment would "make a new man out of you." When the treatment was tried with less than complete success, this patient too claimed damages for breach of contract.

But the court found no basis for liability. The judge said no in connection with sterilization procedures that fail to prevent the later conception and birth of a child. Even assuming that the doctor has given a firm guarantee, has the patient actually suffered any harm by having a baby?

Some courts have simply recoiled at the idea that a baby is a liability—at least, if mother and child are healthy. Denying one such claim, a judge said: "The cost was outweighed by the blessing."

"Kansas City Bomber"

"Kansas City Bomber," spotlighting Raquel Welch as a determined Roller Games skater on the rise to stardom, shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. Kevin McCarthy also stars in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer action-drama filmed with the cooperation and technical assistance of National Skating Derby Inc.

Jerrold Freedman, award winner for his work on "The Senator" TV series, directed new motion picture for which Miss Welch underwent extensive training in order to perform the required skating stunts and falls.

Helena Kallianiotis, who played the tough-talking hitchhiker in "Five Easy Pieces," and veteran actor Norman Alden co-star as two of the Skaters the Kansas City Bomber copes with as she speeds to notoriety on the dangerous banked track of the fastest-growing body contact spectacular in the world.

The Levy-Gardner-Laven — Raquel Welch — Artists Entertainment Complex Production was produced by Marty Elfand, with Jules Levy and Arthur Gardner as executive producers. The screenplay was written by Thomas Rickman and Calvin Clements from a story by Barry Sandler.

Roller Games teams represented by top skaters in "Kansas City Bomber" are the Los Angeles Thunderbirds, Philadelphia Warriors, Baltimore Washington Cats, Cleveland Bucks, New York Bombers and Northern Hawks, plus Japanese and Australian skating superstars.

Personally, we no longer think that the fellow with the fastest car in town is the outstanding citizen of the community.

A QUESTION OF TAXES
Wellesley Hills, Mass.—At this time of year investors are wise to review their financial holdings in order to determine if changes should be made for '72 income tax purposes before the year end. It is also appropriate to review the tax rules in order to utilize every possible deduction. Briefly, here are some of the high spots. More complicated situations will require the assistance of a tax adviser.

identified separately as already entirely or partially exempt from ordinary income tax. Where joint tax returns are involved, each spouse owning stock is entitled to the $100 deduction including instances of joint ownership.

CAPITAL GAINS
While not everyone necessarily incurs capital gains or losses in every tax year, this is an important category. The most direct approach is to itemize sales into (1) long-term gains and losses (securities held for longer than six months prior to sale), and (2) short-term (held for six months or less). Combining the net long-term gain or loss with the net short-term result will determine the total net capital gain or loss for 1972 as a whole.

An excess net longterm gain

DIVIDENDS
Almost everyone holding stocks probably received dividends during 1972. The rule here is direct and simple: The first $100 of total dividends received from all companies combined is exempt from federal income tax. It should be noted that some dividends are considered a return of capital, hence will be may be reduced by 50 percent, with the balance only taxed at ordinary income tax rates. An excess short-term gain is fully taxable at ordinary rates. Thus, if practicable, it is more advantageous to take long-term gains.

CAPITAL LOSSES
If long-term capital losses exceed capital gains, the excess may be used to offset up to $1000 of taxable income, with the provision that $2000 of long-term losses is required to offset the $1000 of taxable income. Any remaining excess of capital losses may be "carried over" into future taxable years and applied in the same manner.

If a sale of securities is made deliberately to establish a loss, the law will disallow the loss if the same or essentially identical security is purchased within 30 days prior to or after the sale. However, there would be no objection to the purchase of another security in the same industry or near the price range of the one sold. Timing of sales for losses or gains is critical. This year, December 29 is the last day to sell to establish a loss, while December 21 would be the last day to sell in order to establish a gain in 1972.

GIFTS
A method of accomplishing several goals is the granting of a gift of cash or securities which might have accumulated a heavy potential capital-gains tax liability. Tax-free gifts of up to $3000 in value may be made annually to an unlimited number of persons. This is an addition to the lifetime exemption of $30,000 of gifts to one or more persons.

THE TAXMAN COMETH
These, then, are some tax facts to be kept in mind as the year draws to a close. Intended to be general in nature, the foregoing comments may serve to remind investors of tax savings possibilities. Such savings are important, but investors should also remember to place emphasis on the broader picture of investment goals and personal considerations, with savings through tax adjustments secondary.

CARD OF THANKS
We cannot express in words the many thanks for each act of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our loved one. We offer a special thanks to those who sat with Grover and visited in the hospital. Thanks to Bro. Grantz and Bro. Tierce and the choir for the beautiful memorial service. The food that was prepared and served for our nourishment was so appreciated. The flowers, memorials, cards and every expression of sympathy gave us the strength to face our loss. We pray that we may in some way show our love and appreciation to each of you. —The Family of Grover Davis. Itp

HEALTH COLUMN
Smoking And Weight Gain
Does quitting smoking trigger weight gain? Millions of men and women are finding out their own answers. Millions more are waiting in the wings. Weight gain is a complicated, individual business. But a National Health Survey shows that, in general, men gain weight progressively until the age of 45. From 45 to 65, there is little change. Then at age 65, some weight gain begins again.

For women, the picture is different, rounder. They gain weight progressively at each age bracket until the age of 75. Keeping a svelte figure isn't a result of individual carelessness and continued use of worn or defective equipment, points out the agent. He lists these suggestions to follow to avoid electrical accidents:

1. Don't use a "cube top" or "octopus" outlet to make more circuits. This usually leads to an overloaded circuit and possible trouble. Have additional circuits installed.
2. Frayed or damaged cords should be discarded. Do not run a cord under a rug or from one room to another.
3. Pull cords from receptacles by the plug, not by the cord.
4. Do not use radios or other portable electrical appliances in bathrooms or damp places.
5. Any appliance which gives you even a slight shock should not be used until it is repaired. If it is not repairable, discard it.
6. Equipment should bear the label of a recognized safety testing laboratory such as Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) as evidence that it was manufactured to meet certain safety standards.

It's a good idea to check older appliances and equipment regularly for worn parts.

COUNTY AGENT'S WEEKLY NOTES

Prevent Chain Saw Fires
The chain saw is becoming more and more popular around the farm and home, and use of this tool usually increases as cooler weather sets in. Therefore, when operating a chain saw, County Extension Agent Parker urges the handler to use extreme care.

The agent lists fire prevention as a major item to consider in the safe operation of a chain saw. By taking certain precautions, many chain saw fires can be prevented.

First of all, don't smoke while refueling or adjusting a chain saw. Let the saw cool off before refueling it and don't let the fuel tank overflow. Use care to avoid spilling gas. It's best to use a funnel and a safety metal gasoline can equipped with the proper spout.

After refueling, make sure the gasoline can is some distance away from the saw before starting its engine. Also, check the machine and wipe off any spilled gas before starting it.

Don't operate a saw that is overheated or backfiring, cautions Parker. The action of its backfiring might throw sparks onto the surrounding materials or ground and a fire could start.

Furthermore, a cooler running saw is less likely to catch on fire. For this reason, the saw should be cleaned regularly to rid it of accumulated oil and dust particles.

To reduce carbon build-up, use a proper oil and gas mixture, suggests the agent. Follow the recommendations of the chain saw manufacturer. Examine the muffler occasionally for carbon build-up. Excessive carbon build-up can cause sparking.

By following these precautions, the danger of chain saw fires can be reduced.

Meddling with Merchandise

To lift her spirits, Virginia decided to become a bleached blonde. She stirred two bleaching products together and applied the mixture to her hair. Result: scalp burns.

In short order, she demanded damages from one of the manufacturers. But at the trial, the company pointed out that its directions warned against mixing the product with anything else. "The fact remains," said Virginia, "that a bleach should not become dangerous merely by being mixed with another bleach."

However, the court turned down Virginia's claim. The judge said she had meddled with the merchandise at her own risk.

With increasing frequency, manufacturers are being held liable for harm inflicted by their products. But if the consumer had substantially tampered with the product before using it, that usually will let the manufacturer "off the hook."

This is true even if there is no specific warning against tampering.

Another case involved a ladder which collapsed under a man's weight, throwing him to the ground. But before using it, he had nailed strips of wood along the bottom in hopes of giving it greater stability.

Because of this alteration, which changed the ladder's distribution of weight, a court ruled that the man could not hold the manufacturer liable for his injury.

On the other hand, not every alteration will increase the chance of an accident. In another case, a hunter widened a cartridge slot on his rifle. Later, during an outing, he was hurt when the gun exploded in his hands.

Here too, when the man brought suit, the gun manufacturer relied on "tampering" as a defense. But a firearms expert testified that the explosion was due not to the widening of the slot but to an original defect in the steel.

Accordingly, the court held the manufacturer liable. The judge said that in these circumstances, the hunter's alteration simply made no difference in the eyes of the law.

BUSINESS and the STOCK MARKET

BANKS FACE BRISKER BUSINESS

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Bank stocks have displayed a considerable degree of disparity in their performances for the greater part of the current upward phase of the business cycle. This has been a reflection of the lack of uniformity in operating earnings because of the spotty economic climate. Even though the nation's Gross National Product (in terms of constant dollar value) and industrial output have both been trending steadily higher, there has not been an upthrust of sufficient intensity to stimulate business borrowings.

PROFITS SQUEEZED

In the case of many commercial banks, much of 1971 and the first nine months of the present year saw quarterly operating results (profit before gains or losses from securities transactions) either unimpressive or downright disappointing. Except for a few individual exceptions, the prime motivators of inventory stockpiling (buying to hedge against strikes, vigorous consumer spending, and full capacity operations in key production areas) simply were not in evidence to boost corporate demand for working capital funds.

In addition, since the year 1970 many corporations have floated long-term debt and equity financing. Part of the proceeds have been used to repay short-term borrowings and to rebuild working capital. Bank credit requirements have also been lessened considerably by the increase in corporate cash flow as a result of the tax incentives established as part of the economic revitalization program. At the same time, of course, the operating expenses of the banks themselves have continued to rise.

MORE REWARDING TIMES AHEAD

As of now, however, prospects favor a more uniformly favorable environment for commercial banks. After a long laggard spell, both consumer spending and the accumulation of inventories are exhibiting new-found strength. Hence, the demand for bank loans and the rate structure for such borrowings should evidence increasing firmness as this fall season moves along. For the balance of this year, moreover, neither the Fed nor the Administration is likely to adopt measures that would tighten credit to any extent.

The regulatory authorities have also clarified the "letter and spirit" of the Amended Bank Holding Act which had been adopted in December 1970. Although recent interpretations of the revised ground rules restrict bank holding companies solely to subsidiaries which engage in banking-related activities (except in the case of non-banking subsidiaries acquired prior to 1968), there still remains sufficient latitude to permit moves into more profitable fields. Also, in view of the increased emphasis by the leading banks on expanding overseas operations, timely benefits should be derived from the current efforts to boost the nation's exports of goods and services.

LONG-PULL INVESTMENTS

Investments in bank stocks tend to find a long-term haven in most portfolios. This is particularly true in the case of commitments made in a local or regional bank. However, those investors who are conscious of performance should bear in mind that bank stocks can become over-priced relative to near-term growth. At this time, however, the Research Department of Babson's Reports recommends holding such bank stocks as Chase Manhattan and First National City in N. Y., and Continental Illinois, which have performed especially well over the past two years. Also, bank stocks of institutions in rapid-growth areas should be retained, including Wachovia and Citizens & Southern (Atlanta).

COUGHS, SNEEZES, AND TB

Today, TB can be controlled and cured. If the disease is detected.

The trouble is that anyone can have TB without knowing it. And anyone with live TB germs in his or her sputum can spread the disease by coughing and sneezing.

In the early stages of the disease, there may not be any symptoms. Common symptoms that come later are coughing a lot, feeling tired all the time, spitting up blood, and losing weight. Any one or all of the symptoms can mean TB. Only a doctor can tell for sure, by giving tests to determine whether or not TB germs are active in the body.

Once the disease is diagnosed, effective drug treatment can begin. For some patients short hospital stays may be necessary. More and more TB patients are now treated in general hospitals. One of the first things patients learn is how to avoid spreading germs; by covering their coughs and sneezes with disposable paper tissues and putting them in paper bags to be burned. Fast-working drugs make TB patients non-infectious to others in a matter of weeks.

Not so long ago, TB patients went to sanatoriums and spent interminable years in isolation. Today, there is no need for long stays in hospitals. In fact, most patients do not have to go to hospitals at all for treatment of

TB. They can be treated with drugs in outpatient clinics or in doctors' offices.

Today's drugs can cure—even prevent—TB. And Christmas Seals help fight TB, emphysema, and air pollution. Answer your Christmas Seal letter right away. It's a matter of life and breath.

Blizzards Return To Win Column With 35-12 Victory Over Anson

The Winters Blizzards got back into the win column to the tune of a 35-12 score over the Anson Tigers at Anson Friday night.

Anson received the opening kickoff and fumbled on their third play of the game Ramon Ortiz recovering to give the Blizzards possession on the Anson 10 yard line. It took Winters only two plays to score, Jerry Mack Jackson carrying the first three yards and Lee Choate taking it in for the score. Choate's kick was good for the extra point and a 7-0 score.

The next Winters drive began on the Anson 12 yard line after Jackson returned a Tiger punt 35 yards to that point, Oscar Torres and Jackson alternated carrying the ball until Torres took it the final yard on a quarterback sneak. He kept for the two-point conversion also. The score was 15-0. Only a minute later Johnny Ray Liggins intercepted a Tiger pass and ran it back 25 yards for the third Blizzard touchdown. The attempted two-point conversion was no good and the scoreboard read 21-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Early in the second quarter a carry of 13 yards by Fred DeLaCruz and a 13 yard pass completion from Torres to Scott King put the Blizzards in scoring position, and Torres got his second touchdown of the evening on a 22-yard run. The two-point try failed.

Anson managed a touchdown also in this period, using the passing game against the Blizzards, their scoring play being a 37 yard pass. Mike Moore blocked the extra point kick attempt, and the scoreboard read 27-6 at halftime.

Anson's quarterback went 56 yards up the sideline on a keeper for a score in the third quarter. The try for two extra points failed.

Also in the third quarter Lee

Choate and Jackson alternated carries starting from their own 22. Jackson took it the final three yards for the score. Choate's run around right end was good for the two extra points. The score was 35-12.

This was all the scoring in the game. Winters' second offense was in for most of the remainder of the game and were able to move the ball on occasion.

A Stanley Tatom-Jim West pass was good for a plus seven-teen yards late in the third quarter. In the fourth period Ricky DeLaCruz carried for six, then another Tatom-West pass covered eight yards for a first down. Torres came back in to complete a pass to Ricky Gonzales for seven yards, and Choate carried for 13 yards for a first down. This drive was terminated by an intercepted pass.

Throughout the fourth quarter the Blizzard defense was able to shut down the Tiger offense, forcing nine incomplete passes in the period. Moore recovered an Anson fumble, and Liggins got his second pass interception of the game.

Defensive credit goes to: Rickey Mathis, Torres, R. DeLaCruz, Rex Pritchard, Liggins, Fred De La Cruz, Ortiz, and Moore.

AROUND THE 6-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

There's no way for the Hamlin Pied Pipers to be dethroned—they've locked up the District 6-AA championship, no matter what they do this week, and will represent the district in bi-district play.

The Pipers sewed up their championship by walloping the Ballinger Bearcats 21-0 Friday night.

Winters took their first win in district Friday night, defeating the Anson Tigers 35-12 at Anson, to move to fourth place on the 6-AA ladder.

Haskell defeated luckless Stamford 46-0 Friday night at Stamford to mark up 6-3 for the season and 3-1 for district.

This week, Hamlin plays Anson at Hamlin; Ballinger goes to Haskell; and Winters hosts Stamford in the wind-up of the 1972 football season.

DISTRICT STANDINGS
	W	L	Pts Opp
Hamlin	4	0	93 18
Ballinger	3	1	111 30
Haskell	3	1	99 40
Winters	1	3	55 74
Anson	1	3	47 91
Stamford	0	4	3 155

Life becomes nothing more than a wrangle for those who think they must make friends and family do as they say.
